Last year the Panhellenic organization realized enough profit from a usual dance to enable it to award two $125 scholarships to the girls of the group. The girls to whom these awards were given were Sue Griffin, junior, and Debbie Stewart, junior.

RUSH WEEK starts Monday, Sept. 14 and lasts until Saturday, Sept. 20 for both men and women students. Don't forget! Open House for everybody on Sunday, Sept. 13.

President Wm. H. Gill

MEET YOUR PRESIDENT FROM SOLDIER TO EDUCATOR IS GEN. W. H. GILL'S CAREER

Shortly after his retirement from a brilliant army career, General William H. Gill was appointed by the board of trustees of Colorado College to temporarily fill the chair of Thurston Davies, then president of CC. Mr. Davies had been forced to take a leave of absence due to ill health and General Gill relieved him on December 12, 1947. At the end of his sick leave, Mr. Davies retired and Gen. Gill was appointed permanent president on August 7, 1948.

In 1950, Denver University awarded General Gill, along with President Eisenhower, an honorary degree of Doctor of Law. Denver University called him "a first citizen of our democracy in both war and peace". In that same year, the Gazette Telegraph newspaper named him as "Man of the Year" in Colorado Springs.

Graduating from Virginia Military Institute in 1907 with a Bachelor of Science degree in civil engineering, General Gill joined the National Guard of Virginia in 1910, serving as captain until he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the regular army in 1912. General Gill then held various military posts until he was appointed to the rank of major general and given the task of reactivating the 89th Infantry Division at Camp Carson.

In February of 1943, he was personally called for by Gen. Douglas MacArthur to fly to the South Pacific and take command of the 32nd Infantry (the famous Red Arrow) Division. General Gill had previously served under General MacArthur when the latter was Army Chief of Staff. Fighting with his men, island by island, to the recapture of the Philippines, General Gill had the honor of personally receiving the surrender of General Tomoyuki Yamashita, supreme Japanese commander in the Philippines. Among General Gill's war souvenirs is General Yamashita's own sword.

Know Your Fraternities And Their Leaders

There are five national fraternities located on the campus of Colorado College. Here is a list of them along with the president and rush chairman of each organization. It will benefit each freshman man to become acquainted with these men. Sigma Chi fraternity, Howard Kelly, president, Marty Marquart, rush chairman; Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, Terry Burke, president (also president of the Inter-Fraternity Council), Bill Fritz, rush chairman; Kappa Sigma fraternity, Bill Hogan, president, Kipp Herold, rush chairman; Beta Theta Pi fraternity, Bob Kroehneck, president, Duncan Eyre, rush chairman; and Phi Delta Theta fraternity, Ed Craig, president, Ned Pfeiffer, rush chairman.

THE TIGER IS YOUR SPOKESMAN; CONSULT AND HELP IT OFTEN

WELCOME FRESHMEN! You're probably thinking that this phrase has been well worn out since your arrival here at Colorado College, and you're probably right. Nevertheless, the TIGER does wish you one and all a hearty welcome to our college. We have a good school here and one that we're all very proud of, and pride which we hope you will one day share with us by helping us to maintain the basis for that pride.

Each one of you can do just as much as he or she thinks he can and no more. It will take much hard work and probably a few embarrassing moments before you become familiar with us and our methods here at CC. But if you will all pitch in and make an effort to do what is expected of you, you will find no trouble at all in adjusting to your new way of life.

One of our strong points here at CC is a strong extra-curricular program. (One which we hope you will assist us with in helping to maintain our great traditions here at CC. Learn as soon as possible what is on the campus so you will not be embarrassed by your ignorance when in conversation with upper classmen. Join the organizations, which you are interested in, when you feel you have the time to devote to them.

This is the first year that the TIGER has ever gone to press in a special edition for freshman week. It was recommended last spring in our leadership conference. So please let us know how you feel about this issue. Send us a letter or talk to some member of the staff, after it has been organized for this year, and let us know whether you liked seeing the TIGER come out during freshman week or not.

The TIGER is normally published every Friday during the school year, excepting for holidays. We will need some help this year, so if any of you are interested come on up to the TIGER office Tuesday afternoon at 1:30. Coffee and refreshments will be served. Anything you have in mind during the year that you would like to see in the print, please have it in the TIGER mail box on the 3rd floor of Lennox or in our mail box in Cutler Hall. Again, WELCOME TO CC, FRESHMEN!

Praxies and Rush Chairmen of Four Sororities Listed

Here is a list of the four national sororities on campus along with the names of their presidents and rush chairmen. It is a good idea to know these people:

Delta Gamma sorority—Marion Johnston, president, Martha Kirtley, rush chairman.
Kappa Alpha Theta sorority—Peggy Root, president, Marcia Manning, rush chairman.
Gamma Phi Beta sorority—Claire Byrmaster, president, Sally Powell, rush chairman.

287 FROSH EXPECTED TO BEGIN THEIR COLLEGE CAREERS HERE

Since the regular school directory will not be published for several weeks, this list of the prospective freshmen students at Colorado College for this fall will aid you new students in finding out who your class mates are.

A fifth sorority is currently being planned for Colorado College. It is hoped that this sorority will be properly installed on the CC campus by September of 1954.

Panhellenic Rushing Rules for Coming Year

Fall Rushing

When arriving on campus, counselors and Panhellenic members will be there to help you. The counselors and newcomers will help you get acquainted; Panhellenic members will be available to answer any of your questions about sororities and rushing. This handbook and the two meetings held by Panhellenic Council during Orientation Week for all new girls should answer most of your questions. Any further questions, however, must be taken to Vicki Hann (Advisor) or to a Panhellenic member. Although counselors and newcomers are on their honor to avoid mention of sororities, they will be glad to help you contact a Panhellenic member or advisor.

During the latter part of Orientation Week, the rest of the upperclassmen will arrive. The following rules will apply from their arrival until the end of Formal Rush Week.

1. Sorority girls may talk to new girls as long as more than one sorority is represented in the immediate group. However, at no time shall there be any mention of sororities except at formal rush parties.
2. If only one sorority is represented in the immediate group, sorority girls will limit their conversation to a greeting.
3. At no time are sorority members to enter new girls' rooms or are new girls to enter sorority girls' rooms, regardless of sorority representation.
4. Sorority girls shall have no prearranged meetings with new girls.
5. Sorority girls shall spend no money on new girls.
6. Sorority girls shall not arrange dates for new girls.
7. A sorority girl and a new girl and their escorts cannot double-date. Triple (or more) dates are allowed if more than one sorority is represented in the same group (same car, etc.).
8. Sorority girls will wear their pins at all times. Glance at these to make sure that more than one sorority is represented before you engage in a long conversation.
9. There shall be no written communication, wires, or phone calls between sorority girls, their relatives, or alumnae, and the rushes.
10. Sorority girls are not allowed to make friends or give invitations to parties, luncheons and oral bidding are the most serious violations of Panhellenic rules.

Exceptions:

Because of the special function of counselors and newcomers, they are excepted from some of the above rules:

COUNSELORS:

1. A counselor may talk to new girls in her dorm when another sorority is not represented.
2. A counselor may visit in new girls' rooms in her dorm and have new girls in her dorm in the counselor's room.
3. A counselor will not wear her sorority pin except at rush parties, nor have any sorority decorations in her room.

WELCOMERS:

1. During Orientation Week a welcomer may talk to new girls when another sorority is not represented.
2. During Orientation Week a welcomer is allowed to visit her newcomers in their rooms and have her newcomers in her room.
3. During Orientation Week a welcomer may not wear her sorority pin nor have sorority decorations in her room.
4. During Orientation Week a welcomer will follow the rules listed for all sorority girls.

36 GRIDDERS TURN OUT AT CC, NEW CROP LOOKS GOOD

Colorado College opened the doors of its athletic building Tuesday morning, September 1, to 36 football candidates, including 19 letter men and five non-letter winners returning from last year's squad. Coaches Bill Heiss and "Red" Eastlack were pleased with the turnout and revealed Tuesday that at least four more outstanding gridders are expected. Included in the turnout were six promising freshmen prospects and eight junior college transfers. Brightest of the transfer group was a crew of five stalwarts from the LaSalle-Peru-Oglesby Junior College in Illinois.

Numbered among this group were Ed Fieck, 6-3; Joe Daley, 200-pound tackle; Frank Derango, 180-pound guard, and Gene James and George Van de Wyngaerde, fleet halfbacks.

The backfield presents little problem at the present—at least as far as quantity is concerned. Heiss noted that he has 18 backs out for the squad, including three lettermen quarterback, four lettermen halfbacks and two letter-winning fullbacks.

Back at quarterback are Lou Elder and Jerry Engleson, plus Wally Prebis of the 1952 squad. Veteran halfbacks include Ned Pfeiffer, Dick Holoubcek, Lowell

Slocum and Ron Zier—all award winners in 1952—plus Doug Swail, Dick Parris and Bob Deyo. Tony George and Roger Bilestein return at fullback.

Heiss looked at the line candidates and could only predict that any and all injuries to linemen would be crippling to the CC team. Kenny Baird, Marty Hammond and newcomer Bill Riley are set to handle the center's chores.

Dick Pearson and Terry Burk return at the guard slots, with four newcomers from Chicago set to try their luck on the Tiger eleven—Derango, Wayne McKee, Ted Blume and Bud Green.

Three 1952 letter-winners provide a nucleus of tackle talent. Paul Sims and Art Elder, two 200-pounders, and Tom Lux, 190, will be battling for berths with Daley, Charles Huber of Miami, Fla., and Frank Bell of Chicago.

IFC Presents Rushing Rules for Coming Year

General rules concerning the summer rushing:

1. There are no specific rules concerning this period except the following:

a. No hiding of rushees.

b. No pinning of rushees.

General rules concerning the weeks preceding Rush Week, September 1-14:

1. Any fraternity man may meet incoming freshmen at the train, plane, etc.

2. No fraternity may serve meals, or buy the same, to prospective rushees.

3. No rushees may enter any of the fraternity houses during this period, except:

a. College conducted tours, &

b. All fraternity Open House, Sunday, Sept. 13.

4. No fraternity shall carry on any organized rush parties. Any unorganized rushing shall be confined to the following:

Seven men, all over six feet, will be seeking the end slots. Walt Bennett, Jack Knight and Rocky Anderson, all offensive ends last year, are back. Dave Brown and Marty Marquardt are back after limited action as freshmen last year, while Fieck and Wendell Osborne of Ft. Morgan provide new competition.

The Tigers will continue to be on a rugged two-practice-daily schedule until school opens at CC on finned to the following places:

Oddones, V.F.W. 101, Pappy Jewett Country Club, unless approved by I.F.G. by a vote of three-quarters of the members.

Rules concerning Rush Week (September 14-20):

1. Rush cards will be filled out by freshmen or transfer men at registration. This is the official registration.

2. Each fraternity will have two rush parties between Monday and Friday inclusive: one evening, one afternoon.

3. The afternoon party will run from 2:15 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. The evening party will run from 7:00 p.m. to 12:00 p.m.

4. Silent periods shall be observed by fraternities during the time of rush parties not held by said fraternity.

5. When the silent period is not in effect, rushees may enter the fraternity houses.

6. Saturday, September 19, will be preference day. A silent period will take effect between 2:00 a.m. on Saturday and run to 3:00 p.m.

7. All rushees will go to the Dean of Men's office in Cutler Hall on Saturday between the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. to indicate their choice of fraternities.

8. A three-week period shall lapse before further men can be pledged or rushed.

 All students interested in working on this year's Nugget, please meet with Rich Hayes in the Nugget office in Lennox on Tuesday, Sept. 22, at 3:00 p.m.

 Students attending the Colorado College-Denver University football game will be admitted through gates No. 3 and 4. Four hundred seats have been reserved in Section E for Colorado College students. Student activity tickets must be presented at the gate to gain admission.

Vol. LVI, No. 26 Colo. Spgs., Colo., Friday, Sept. 18, 1953 Colorado College

NEW TIGER POLICIES

It will be the policy of the TIGER this year to give as complete and accurate coverage of the happenings on and about the campus as possible. To do this, we will need the help and cooperation of every student on the campus, especially the assigned publicity chairman of the various organizations.

We will attempt to reflect, as accurately as possible the views of the students and the faculty on key issues, while remaining ourselves as unbiased as possible. We shall make every effort to print every newsworthy article and worthwhile comment submitted to us. We will welcome and print every letter to the editor or such other similar comment as we may receive, providing such articles or letters are signed.

Naturally, there are space limitations to each issue. Thus, if we receive a flood of material for a specific issue, it will be up to the editor to decide which items shall be held over for future use. However, if your organization feels that a specific item absolutely must make a certain issue, we will give the utmost consideration to such requests, if they are clearly marked on the story submitted to us.

Thank you all for considering us and our problems. We are sure that by mutual cooperation, we all here at Colorado College can look forward to a very fine and successful year.

CC Grad Receives Full-Tuition Award To Duke Law School

Paul Vernon Evans, who just received the bachelor of arts degree from Colorado College August 8, at the end of the 1953 Summer Session, has been awarded a full-tuition scholarship to the law school of Duke University.

Evans, who lives at 414 E. Washington in Colorado Springs, earned the B.A. degree in political science while studying under Professor J. Douglas Mertz.

The scholarship winner came to CC from Fountain, Colo., and attended for four years. A veteran of navy service from 1944 to 1946, Evans is married and the father of a three-year-old daughter.

He left for the Durham, N. C., campus Tuesday, August 25, and may have his large scholarship renewed each year as long as he maintains an above average scholarship record.

During his years at CC Evans was president of Crown and Lance, the independent mens' organization, and was president of Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary debating fraternity. He maintained an overall school average of 3.3 and an average of 3.4 in his major of political science. A perfect average is 4.0. Evans hopes to return to Colorado Springs to practice.

Professor Mertz said in announcing the award that two former CC graduates, who had won lucrative scholarships were now graduated near the top of their class and successfully located in law practice. William Barton and Auburn Benton, class of 1950 at CC, received their law degrees from Yale in June, 1953, after receiving tuition and expense scholarships in 1950.

Jack Pfeiffer, class of 1951, won the prized Root-Tilden scholarship in 1951 and attended one year at New York University, his second year at Denver University and is slated to graduate from DU in June, 1954. Richard Pfeiffer, class of 1950, also won a Root-Tilden scholarship in 1952 and has completed one year of law school at NYU.

Students Have Chance To Express TV Interest

An interest in television has been expressed by many CC students. Those students who desire to learn something about TV either on the production or talent sides are requested to contact Tom Freund either at KRCC-PM between 2:15-3:00 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday or Friday, or at home, ME1902-2-9573. If there is enough interest expressed there will be great possibilities for both a TV club and a series of shows over one of our local TV stations.

Remember, if you have any talent, or know of anyone who does, no matter how slight, and if you are interested, please contact Tom Freund.

Several students wait to be served in the new Tiger's Lair.

NOTICE

Faculty-Student Directory
 If your address on the campus, or your home address, has changed since registration day, please notify SECRETARY'S OFFICE in Cutler Hall at once, Phone ME1902-4-3771, Extension 30.
 The directory containing the names, addresses and telephone numbers of all students and faculty, together with other helpful information is in process of preparation and your promptness in reporting changes will be greatly appreciated.

LAST CALL!

Jack Geary, business manager of the Nugget, has announced that any student, who did not receive his 1953 Nugget, may pick it up in the Nugget office in Lennox from 2:00 p.m. to 5 p.m. from Monday, Sept. 21, through Thursday, Sept. 24. These will be the last chances to get your last year's Nugget.

Considerable progress is being made on the new men's dormitory on the corner of Cache la Poudre and Nevada.

"No Profit, No Loss" Plan For the New Lennox Grill

A streamlined private club for the CC students and their friends is the aim of Homer D. Kaats, Diagnostician of the Food Service Control Plan. The Food Service Control Plan is a professional advisory service operating nationally in colleges and universities. The modern Fountain Luncheonette will serve the best quality food at the lowest possible price. With a "no profit, no loss" plan. All excess profits, if any, will be returned to the students in free cokes, etc.

This year, bridge, chess, and checkers will be offered in the grill. In addition, students may hold, free of charge, jam sessions, smokers and dances in the room next to the grill.

The success of this plan depends upon the students' cooperation. Committees recommendations for entertaining activities will appreciate suggestions for improvements.

Hours of operation:
 Monday thru Friday—7:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.
 Saturday—7:30 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.
 Sunday—4:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.

List Names, Addresses of Honor Council Members

Below are listed the names and addresses of the honor council members. All students are reminded that it is their duty to turn in to the honor council the names of any student caught cheating on exams.

Tom Danton, president—1123 W. Cascade, ME 4-3111.
 E. J. Trotter, secretary—Slocum House.
 Gail Lund—Slocum House.
 Mose Harrison—1123 N. Cascade.
 Charles Hawley—115 E. Del Norte.
 Jack Geary—106 E. San Rafael.
 Bill Howell—106 E. San Rafael.
 Marcia Manning—Hershey House.
 Jane Carroll—Bemis Hall.
 Ned Pfeiffer—1105 N. Nevada.
 Rule Olson—1122 N. Cascade.
 Lewis Austin—Gregg House.

Register All Cars Now And Avoid Fine Later

All students, faculty, and employees of Colorado College owning cars must have them registered with the college no later than the end of the late registration period. All registered cars must display the office college registration decal on the lower right hand side of their windshields. Failure to have cars duly registered will result in a fine for the car owner.

The primary purpose behind the registration of cars at CC is to insure that persons not connected with the college do not use parking space provided for the college personnel. With the increased number of cars at CC such a step has become necessary in order to determine which cars rightfully belong in college parking areas.

By the same token, certain traffic rules have been set up to insure the safety of the students on the campus. Violators of these traffic rules face fines with possible loss of driving privileges on the campus. Profits from these fines go into the college campus chest.

TRAFFIC FINE SCALE

Illegal Parking—$1.00
 Stop Sign Violation—1.00
 Driving Wrong Way—2.00
 One-Way Drive—3.00
 Speeding—2.00
 Excessive Speeding—$3 to $10
 Vehicle Not Registered—$1.00

SO THIS IS A NUGGET!

Everyone undoubtedly has seen the '53 Nugget. We are sure that many of the graduates of the class of '53 are disappointed in the Nugget publication of last year. The contributions and activities of many of these people were completely ignored and the attitude of those responsible should not be a mere shrug of the shoulders, but a determined effort to watch that the same mistakes are not made again this year. All fraternities, sororities, and independent organizations, as well as the Publications Board and the student council should be informed of the progress of the Nugget staff and should be prepared to comment intelligently on any seeming negligence.

There are many people in the class of '54 who are outstanding in academic achievement and extra-curricular activities. They must depend upon the Nugget staff to record these events of their college days with accuracy and completeness. As for some obvious errors—the independent men's organization is Crown and Lance, not "Crow" and Lance as is published in the annual. Perhaps these people were misinformed and only realized their ignorance when they read the Nugget, however, I seriously doubt it.

Last year's publication of the Nugget is one that can be exposed as poorly managed and one that is definitely not the type of publication that any college campus can be proud of. The mistakes made in the write ups and lay out of the book are proof that the Nugget was definitely understaffed or it proves gross negligence on the part of the student editor. No one likes to be criticized for a job that he feels has been well administered but it is the consensus of opinion, not only on the part of this writer, but other students, that the Nugget is not the publication that we wanted—is not the publication that we expected. It is true that the Nugget is a student organization and as such should be surveyed by the students in an effort to achieve the best results.

The class, which graduated last June, is as much to blame for the mistakes as any other students. It was their year book, too; and they should have seen to it that all was going well by appointing some one to take periodical checks to inquire into the progress of the Nugget. However, since the Nugget has a paid editor and a staff of competent students for the job, there should have never been the mistakes made in lay outs, write-ups and proof-reading of such a publication.

No one is perfect and everyone must take into consideration the element of human error, but I hardly think that any Publications Board or any student body can ignore this issue of the Nugget with apathy. The ratio of error is far greater than the ratio of success and that in itself is the proof that the members of the Nugget staff either were not competent, or were grossly negligent.

Let's all pitch in with the members of the Nugget staff and see to it that they have student cooperation and interest that will make the '54 Nugget an annual that we can all point to with pride. The dye is cast and the damage done, but we can and must learn from mistakes, so here's hoping that the new staff will assure us of a good publication—one that is well-planned, efficiently managed, accurately proof-read, and one that will stand up as proof that a better job can be done.

I for one wish these people the greatest possible success and smooth sailing for the coming year, but this can only be done by close cooperation between these people and the student body. There is no easy road to producing a good publication. The new staff will surely have the best wishes of us all.

These comments will undoubtedly meet with a vigorous rebuttal accompanied by weak-kneed excuses, all of which cannot dispose of the fact that the Nugget, as it stands, is a poorly organized publication. I hope that the campus response to this editorial will settle this question. It is one of controversy and should be out in the open where public opinion can decide it. Let's hear from you, each and everyone. Don't hesitate to speak up! It's YOUR NUGGET!!!

—Ed MacGuire

NUGGET REVIEWED

Congratulations to Frank Florey and company on their outstanding performance in the engineering of our 1953 Nugget. This masterpiece of journalistic incompetence illustrates, at student expense, such widespread carelessness and prejudice that it becomes little more than a classic failure. The misspellings, omissions, and general mix-ups are too numerous to list. To someone who didn't know differently, the Nugget, through its intramural sports and social sections, would indicate that there are only two fraternities, Phi Delta Theta and Beta Theta Pi. The Nugget should not be the publication of those on its staff.

For the $500 editor's salary we should have had an annual of which we could be proud. Well, we haven't, but let's look to the future. YOU, the individual, must insist on getting competent, interested ASCC representatives and officers; students who care what the Publications Board does and who is selected by the ASCC to edit and manage our publications. YOU MUST CARE — or expect a repeat performance.

—Nick Ferris

College Band Makes Good with Record

HOLLYWOOD — (Special) A comparative rarity—a commercial record by an undergraduate college dance band—went on sale late this summer in campus record stores in all parts of the country.

The record, "Cream Puff" and "September in the Rain," was made for Capitol by the Los Angeles City College "Collegians," winners of a contest sponsored by Metronome Magazine to find "the best college dance band in the land."

Making a popular record under a major label, which will bring the band to the attention of the "big time" in short order, was a prize in the contest, in which runners-up included Fred Dale's Band (Indiana University), Charlie Scott's Band (University of Richmond), and Ed Gerlach's Band (University of Houston).

Fronted and mentored by Bob MacDonald of the LACC music faculty, the "Collegians" are a seventeen-piece swing group which features original, modern arrangements. MacDonald, a veteran dance musician, has been arranger for Red Norvo, Benny Goodman, and Bunny Berigan.

A pretty girl, Sonya Euer, plays bass fiddle in the group.

The winners were selected on the basis of private recordings submitted to the judges: Bandleaders Stan Kenton, Ray Anthony and Billy May; Alan W. Livingston, vice-president of Capitol Records; George Simon and Barry Ulanov, editors of Metronome Magazine.

"Cream Puff," feature side of the new record (No. 2536), is an original piece of "progressive" jazz written by the LACC band's pianist, Bob Florence. A second record made by the "Collegians" is tentatively scheduled for release this winter.

ASCC NOTES

By BILL HOWELL

With school now in full swing, your student council had its first meeting Monday. Most of the work was confined to the clearing up of old business such as the foreign student program and A.S.C.C. publicity. It was stressed that we all should give every courtesy to these students so that their stay here will be a memorable one. On the publicity angle a committee meeting is to be held to discuss ways and means of publicizing campus activities.

A discussion took place on the subject of new set up at Lennox Grill. It was brought out that Lennox is now on a trial basis devised to benefit the students.

All suggestions should be given to Frank Florey or any member of the Lennox House Board. If there is anything that you would like to see done or improved be sure to voice your opinion, don't just stop patronizing Lennox Grill. Give your suggestions and we can have a real student union.

FORMER PRESIDENT OF CC RETIRES FROM CARLETON COLLEGE FACULTY

Three Carleton College faculty members with a total of 67 years of service to the college will retire this year. The three are Dr. Charles C. Mierow, professor of biography, Miss Bertha R. Linnell, associate professor of music education and theory, and Miss Ruth F. Eliot, assistant professor in English. Dr. Mierow has been at Carleton since 1934 as professor of biography on the Ambrose White Vernon Foundation in Biography. Before coming to Carleton he had been at Colorado College for eighteen years as professor of classical languages and president of the college. He received his B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees from Princeton University.

Dr. Mierow has received honorary degrees from the University of Colorado, University of Denver and Colorado College. He is the author of a large number of articles and books, the latest being "The Deeds of Frederick Barbarossa," the first English translation of a Latin work by Bishop Otto of Freising which was published by the Columbia University press this year. Nationally known in the field of classical scholarship Dr. Mierow is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, the American Philological Association, the American Historical Association and the Classical League.

Professor Mierow has been very active in Northfield community life. A Congregational minister, he has been one of the officers of the Northfield church and has been active in the local Lions club. An all time favorite of the students, he was presented with a plaque at Homecoming of 1951 and this spring was the honored guest at a farewell banquet attended by some 275 Carleton students.

Training Program Set Up For New CC Cheerleaders

Traditionally CC has a crew of seven cheerleaders to lead the student body at all the Tiger games. There are seven vacancies to fill this year. So all you pepsters get to your practicing.

A training program will be set up to teach interested freshmen the new yells and the old way of doing them by two of last year's cheerleaders—Sue Pfeiffer and Brook Kindred.

After a week of training there will be a tryout period conducted by the Tiger Club. The final election will be held after chapel in front of the whole CC student body. Each potential cheerleader may try-out alone or with a group. The student body will vote by secret ballot.

The cheerleaders work with and for the Tiger Club and Growlers at all games and pep rallies. Uniforms are provided by the school.

Cheerleading for CC requires work and time but yet there's a lot of fun connected with it. You upperclassmen and freshmen—men and women—brush up on your hand springs, splits and flips and give CC some good cheerleaders.

Civil Service Offers Examinations to Fill Federal Agencies

Examinations have been announced by the U.S. Civil Service Commission for Cartographer, Cartographic Aid, Cartographic Technician, and Cartographic Draftsman, for filling positions in various federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and vicinity. Some field service at large positions throughout the United States may also be filled. The salaries of the positions range from $2,750 to $10,800 a year.

No written test will be given. Appropriate education or experience, or a combination of education and experience is required.

Applications will be accepted until further notice and must be filed with the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Application forms may be obtained from the Commission's Washington office or from a civil service regional office.

First Barnes Award Goes to Blanpied

The first annual Otis A. and Margaret Barnes scholarship to Colorado College has been awarded to Robert H. Blanpied of Ogden, Utah, college officials announced today.

Established in January of this year, the scholarship carries full tuition for four years.

William H. Gill, CC president, has acclaimed the scholarship as a most unique and exemplary demonstration of faith in the college by one of its own professors. Dr. Barnes is chairman of the chemistry department at the college and has been a professor at CC since 1925.

Dr. Barnes and his wife set up the trust fund this year to provide for the award. The award stipulated that the student be above average in scholarship and display a special interest in chemistry, physics and mathematics.

Blanpied, who entered CC Sept. 14, when the college begins its 80th year of instruction, ranked 44th in a class of 600 at Ogden High School. He plans to major in chemistry.

An active participant in extracurricular activities, he played football, basketball and golf for two years, serving as captain of the golf team in 1952. He received the Athletic Achievement Award in golf and served as secretary of the Boys' Association, president of the Golf Guild, secretary of the Swimming Guild, and was vice-president of the Young People's group in his church.

Donald B. Stone

Don Stone Graduates From NavCad School

Recently graduated from the U. S. Naval School, Pre-Flight, was Naval Aviation Cadet Donald B. Stone, son of Mrs. Bernice Stone of 19 North Fifth Street, Grand Junction, Colorado.

Cadet Stone graduated from Durango High School in 1950. He attended Colorado College at Colorado Springs from 1950 to 1953, and entered the Naval Aviation Cadet program in April of 1953 at the U.S. Naval Air Station, Denver.

He is now assigned to the U.S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Whiting Field, Milton, Fla.

Urge Club Members To Check Bulletin Board

The Geology Club would like to remind the students to periodically check with the club's bulletin board located across from Room 116. We promise you some interesting trips into the mines of the Colorado Rockies and also some interesting talks. We intend to keep this promise and have already started on plans for some of these events. If you are interested in "The Diamond and West Africa", you are urged to watch the TIGER and also the Geology Club bulletin board.

NEW Student Union Opens Thursday Night!

So you want a REAL STUDENT UNION?—well, LET'S SEE IF YOU CAN SUPPORT ONE!

For the last few years CC has been without a STUDENT UNION except in name alone. At the close of the '52-'53 year a movement was initiated by Vicki Hann to find a remedy to this situation. A board was established, composed of two members from each class, whose purpose was to help plan, promote and supervise a "student choice" program at Lennox House.

During registration you received a questionnaire on which you were to select your choice of activities. At the present time this is the guide the board is using to plan your series of programs.

The first of this series of organized activities will take place at LENNOX HOUSE, THURSDAY NIGHT, starting at 7:00 p.m. It will consist of a JAM SESSION with the "BOYS from PATTY JEWETT" and free refreshments for all.

From here after I will try to keep you informed a week or two in advance of the coming activities.

Anytime during the year you have any suggestions, complaints or ideas, by all means please contact one of the following board members. We must have suggestions in order to act!

THIS IS YOUR UNION. ONLY CAN MAKE IT WORK!

COACH HEISS LOOKS TO AVERAGE YEAR; I.S.C. SEEDED FOR CROWN BY EXPERTS

Colorado College Coach Bill Heiss expressed confidence in Tiger grid prospects for the 1953 campaign in an interview with the TIGER September 15. Heiss frankly admitted, however, he wasn't looking forward to as favorable a year as the 1952 season when the locals compiled a 7-2 record for second place in the Rocky Mountain Conference.

The former Illinois star, class of '47, complained the squad looked "fairly effective on the offense but not so good on defense". But he qualified this statement, declaring that team morale was sharp and could compensate for the deficiency.

Heiss commented that there were not particularly outstanding stars on the '53 squad, but said some of last year's stalwarts were looking good in the pre-season drills. Among these were Lowell Slocum, Ned Pfeiffer, Art Elder, Kenny Baird, Dick Peterson, Maury Hammond, Wally Peckis, Lou Elder and Jerry Engelson. Freshmen are also under close observation by Heiss for varsity spots.

Jack Murdock, who hails from Penn., is a tackle, Guy Lungo, an Illinois boy, is seeking a halfback spot, Norman Spears, also from Illinois, figures in the coach's plans as a quarterback while Bill Riley from Kansas City and Jim Trees who comes from Arizona, will help stiffen the CC forward wall. Graduation crippled the Tiger offense somewhat with the loss of fullback Wes Boucher who rolled up 1007 yards rushing for a spectacular 8.6 average. Also missing is right half Andy Gambucci, a top scorer in '52 with 96 points.

When asked about conference play Heiss stated that Idaho State had been given the favorite spot in the race for the crown for the second year. State finished one game in front of CC on the virtue of their 17-6 win over the Tigers.

Inter Squad Game Ends In a 19-19 Tie

Colorado College brought their practice to a high pitch last Saturday morning as Coach Bill Heiss sent his charges through a inter-squad game. The Whites came back to draw a tie with the Gold on the last play of the day.

With time running out and one play to go the White team connected on a 30 yard pass which was good for six points. The Whites tried for the extra point, and the victory, on a pass which was blocked, thus spoiling their effort.

Lowell Slocum was the hot boy for the Gold team as he contributed the longest run of the day for a score and then passed for two touchdowns.

End Walt Bennett did a stellar job at the end post as he shared two passes to aid in the Gold effort.

The Whites, quarterbacked by Jerry Engelson, scored as fullback. Rog Bildstein and Wally Parus broke through the Gold men inside the ten yard line to score. Engelson tossed to end Ed Fick for the third counter.

Both teams played well and the team as a whole did well on both offense and defense even though most of the veterans had played only offense and defense.

The first meeting of the soccer team will be held Tuesday, Sept. 22, at Stewart Field from 3:30 to 6:00 p.m. Every one interested either come to Stewart Field or call Bud Krause at the Beta house.

Tigers Travel to Pioneer Field; Lux and Swail Lost On Injuries

Colorado College will open the 1953 football season with Denver University on the Pioneer's home ground tonight at 8:00 p.m. Coach Bill Heiss's squad drew their preparatory practices to a close last night after several weeks of grueling workouts. The Tigers will be out to whip their big brothers from the North, rivals of long past. Last year the Tigers lost a rugged battle to D.U. but continued the season with seven wins against one more loss. Denver ended their season with three wins and seven losses.

The Tigers boast an all lettermen team this year, only having trouble with working on both defense and offense. CC will be hampered by a spotty defense which is slowly taking shape. The new collegiate rule which makes all players play both defense and offense will hamper D.U. also but not nearly as great as it will CC.

Denver's coach, Bob Blackman, stated last week that he would continue his two a day practices plus chalk talks in preparation for the CC game which he wasn't accepting as a breather.

As of last Saturday, few of the starting berths had been named. Jim Bowen and Rusty Fairly will be alternating duty at the quarterback slot for the Pioneers. The backfield is pretty well picked but the line is still undecided.

Probable starters for this year's Tiger club will be Jerry Engelson in the quarterback position, Ned Pfeiffer and Lowell Slocum at the halfback slot, and Tony George at fullback. Engelson saw quite a bit of duty last year as he sent the Tigers thru their paces. Pfeiffer, a very fast, deceptive runner, will also prove his ability this year. Slocum was one of the better defense men on last year's club and on occasion last year, pulled off some long runs. He has shown well in practice this year. Tony George also saw action last year and will add to the running power of this year's squad.

In the line most likely will be Rocky Anderson and Walt Benny at the ends, at tackle will be Paul Simms and Art Elder. Dick Pearson and Terry Burke will be at guards and the center slot will be awarded either to Maury Hammond or Ken Baird. All have looked very good in practice with most seeing much action last year.

The second backfield will see Dick Houlbeck, Lou Elder, Bob Deyo, Rog Bildstein, and Wally Parus. In the line will be Ed Fick and Jack Knight at ends, Frank Bell and Joe Daley at tackles, Marty Marquardt and Frank De-range at guards.

Next week the Tigers will travel to New Mexico A&M. CC suffered two losses this season, which definitely hurt the squad. Tom Lux, lineman, and Douglas Swail, first string quarterback, were lost because of injuries.

The first Intramural meeting to draw up all fall schedules will be held in the "C" Room, Cossitt Hall on Thursday, Sept. 17, at 7:30 p.m. Please have your official Intramural manager present.

Army Orders Four More Men To Colorado ROTC Detachment

Four new members have been assigned to Colorado College's ROTC Detachment by Department of the Army orders. Named as Executive Officer and Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics is Captain Thomas H. Devlin. A graduate of the United States Military Academy, Captain Devlin served in the Far East Command from 1945 to 1948, and the Free Territory of Trieste from 1949 to 1952.

Captain Devlin is a graduate of The Armed Forces Information School, located at Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania, as well as The Advanced Officers Course at The Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga. He replaces Major George W. Nicols, who has departed for duty in The Far East Command.

Master Sergeant William F. Rowland is the new sergeant major. A veteran of 19 years of service, the sergeant has served in Hawaii, Europe, and Korea. Sgt. Rowland replaces Master Sergeant Howard E. Adams, who retired after 30 years of service on July 30, 1953.

Newly assigned enlisted instructors include Master Sergeant Orville J. Hughes and Master Sergeant Franklin J. Barry. Master Sergeant Hughes saw combat in World War II in the South Pacific, and served two tours of duty in Japan between 1945 and 1948, returning to the Far East in 1950 as a member of the 2nd Infantry Division to enter combat in Korea. Sergeant Hughes, acting as an infantry platoon sergeant and platoon leader, was wounded four times in the Korean Action. In addition to four Purple Hearts, he wears the Bronze Star with V Device.

Master Sergeant Barry is a veteran of World War II—action in Europe, and also served on European Occupation duty from 1948 to 1952. He was a member of the 31st Infantry Division, stationed at Camp Atterbury, Indiana, before being assigned to ROTC duty. Sergeant First Class Russell W. Johnson, who instructed Weapons courses last year, has been re-assigned to Japan.

Lt. Colonel Herbert B. Heyer, who activated the ROTC unit last year, is the Professor of Military Science and Tactics.

Dr. Stabler Gives Parasitology Reports

Dr. Robert M. Stabler, professor of zoology at Colorado College, again attended the annual meeting of the American Society of Parasitologists just prior to the opening of this school year, and while there presented two research papers.

Stabler, recognized as an authority in his field of parasitology, is serving his eighth year as treasurer of the society. The Society of Parasitologists this year met in Madison, Wisconsin, where some 15 associated societies gathered with the American Institute of Biological Sciences.

Together with Wallace Harmen, CC student, Stabler appeared to present two papers on the "Observations on the Passage of Virulent Trichomonas gallinae through 119 Successive Domestic Pigeons."

His special research is concerned with a tiny protozoan parasite which lives in the mouths and the crops of birds. This parasite frequently invades the blood, liver, lungs and brains of the birds. It causes serious outbreaks in pigeons and wild doves and is a most important wildlife problem, particularly in the Southeast.

Dr. Stabler's first paper dealt with extensive research done on 119 domestic pigeons. An extremely virulent strain of the disease was placed successively in each of the pigeons and their progress was carefully reported both before and after death.

A second report was presented to the society on work done by Stabler and Josephine Kihara, CC graduate student, on the same parasite.

Growlers Reorganize; Plan Initiation

At its first meeting of the year, the Growler's Club, in an effort to revitalize the organization and to better accomplish its aims, has reorganized, and adopted new policies for participation and membership. As a result of this, the whole club, come next Monday, will begin totin' buckets of flour in a self-imposed initiation. After bearing these burdens for a week, there will be a free-for-all between all Growlers with what's left of the flour, with just enough water to make things interesting.

Another important matter taken up at the meeting was eligibility for membership. In this change of policy it was decided to review applicants, who are selected by the Growler members in each fraternity, more thoroughly, and to vote on them before they are notified, to assure the club of members who are enthusiastic and willing to work. Under the able leadership of Dave Becker, president, Bill Howell, Veep, and Dick Courroy, secretary-treasurer, the Growlers are looking forward to a floury next week, and a successful year.

Bill Prescott and Lillian Fly, assistant librarians; Reginald Burger, operator and remotes; and Lowell Slocum, sports.

Dancing Classes for Children to Begin Soon At Colorado College

Children and teenagers interested in modern dance will be treated to the second consecutive year of special classes at Colorado College, it was announced today by Molly Lynn, CC dance director.

Registration for all children's classes in dance will be held on Saturday morning, September 19, from 9 to 12 o'clock in the dance studio in Cossitt Hall.

The instructor, Molly Lynn, has been dance director at CC for the past two years and has been a performer and choreographer for the summer dance festivals, as an assistant to Hanya Holm.

The work of the children's classes is planned according to the needs of the respective age group. Stress is placed on creative use of the mind and on understanding the muscular control of the body.

In last year's classes an informal performance was given for parents in Perkins Hall at Christmas time. This season CC plans a Christmas performance and a final recital in May, both in Perkins Hall, for parents and friends.

Molly Lynn also pointed out that last year's children made tom toms and beaters for use in rhythm work. The project was enjoyed by all ages and will be repeated this year and enlarged to include more children. A workshop for making a wider variety of instruments is also planned.

Those interested in children's dance program should call MEIrose 2-7981 or MEIrose 4-3771, Ext. 50, to contact Molly Lynn.

METHODISTS ORGANIZE GROUP ON CAMPUS

The new Methodist Church organization, under the direction of the Rev. Mr. James Kepler, will meet every Tuesday at Lennox. The first meeting is at 7:15, Sept. 22. Mrs. Leo Santerre and Mrs. Max Bowen, representatives of the sponsoring committee, will serve as hostesses. Pianist Paul Ferrin will be on hand for entertainment.

The principle purpose of this first meeting is to discuss minor business and to elect a council. Methodists who signed up for this group will be contacted later. This group was organized in order to bring about better church cooperation. The group will work with similar college groups and will also work for the local church. The Campus-Church Relations Committee, which is the sponsoring committee, is made up of interested people in town.

CANTERBURY CLUB SPONSORS OUTING

Canterbury Club is planning a treat for all students interested on Sunday at 2:30. Everyone is welcome. The group will meet at the Monument Street door of Grace Church and then go on an outing into the mountains. There will be volleyball, hiking, and supper. The charge is 50¢ per person.

AWS Fall Conference Studies Problems of Changing Campus

By MARION SHAW

The board of the Associated Women Students held a conference at Star Ranch on September 10th to discuss plans and suggestions for the coming year. The theme of the conference was "The Challenge of the Changing Campus". The viewpoint of the upperclassman was considered in the morning meeting, and in the afternoon the freshman's situation was examined. The changes in the campus were those between high school and college, and between each year in college.

During the morning session the social, personnel, publicity, service, welcoming, and song committees made their reports. The emphasis of each report was on changes in each committee's program over programs of previous years. Inter-dorm "spreads" with boys included, Activity Night, a Newsletter, personnel committee activity blanks, a school song, the "Bumblebees" and a baby-sitting plan were some of the major points of interest in the reports.

Several items were brought out during the discussions following the reports, and some of them were made into resolutions. A major problem of the college is getting news about the students into their home towns, this being one way of publicizing Colorado College. It was resolved that a board member find out from the college publicity office what is being done about this problem.

This year the Lennox House Board is making plans for setting up an activity center at Lennox, and in conjunction with this idea, it was suggested that Lennox might be used as an outlet for publicity.

After lunch board members and their guests heard a panel discuss ways in which AWS can help freshmen gain a place on the campus and ways in which the campus can utilize their new talent and ideas. The moderator of the panel was Marcia Manning. Panel members were Judy Clave, Dee Thaxton, and Marilynn Clark.

Judy Clave's topic was communication between the AWS board and freshmen. Judy suggested that each dorm select a girl to keep the hall residents informed of all campus activities and to bring them the organizational information which they would like to know. Judy felt that better use should be made of the bulletin boards.

Talent Needed for Campus Variety Show

Here's your chance! If you can sing, yodel, or whistle—WE NEED YOU! If you can soft-shoe, Charleston or just plain shuffle your feet—WE WANT YOU!

The annual CC Campus Chest Drive Variety Show is well underway. Plans for the Variety Show promise a bigger and better production than previous years.

The purpose of the Variety Show is to support worthwhile charitable organizations by the student body. In past year's CC's annual production has been a financial success and has provided a much needed help for certain charities.

The cast of the Variety Show is composed entirely of students in individual groups, solos or organizational acts. Skits, dances, songs or plain horsing around can be very effective in a show such as this. The capable staff of the show will help materialize ideas and give aid with the music and staging.

If the Variety Show is as successful as the staff anticipates, there is hope to put part of the show on tour to La Junta, Lamar and Trinidad. A few acts from this year's production will be given at the Broadmoor Hotel and the Chief Theatre. CC's television program, "Tiger Review", is planning to use most of this year's show throughout the year. The best part of the show will be given for the Alumni and parents during Homecoming Week. As you can see there is more than fun connected with this year's production.

Previous casts have found working in the Variety Show not only worthwhile but enjoyable. Begin preparations for your act and consult next week's TIGER for details of CC's 1953 Campus Chest Drive Variety Show.

LEST WE FORGET—

Leadership Conference Forms Resolutions for Improving CC

By TOM PANKAU

"Accentuate the Positive" was the slogan adopted by the 1953 Colorado College Leadership Conference held in La Foret May 16 and 17. This slogan was first suggested by Dr. Glenn Gray in his initial panel discussion on the morale at CC. Dr. Gray indicated that CC had plenty of good qualities but most of the students were intent on playing up the negative side, thus inducing more griping and lowering the morale of the student body. In his conclusive remarks at the end of the conference, Dr. Gray pointed out that Colorado College possesses an unlimited potential in what it could do and challenged the students to work together to make the most of the opportunities they have here on this campus.

Sixty-four members of the student body, faculty and administration were on hand to present their views in this two-day session. There were panels and discussion groups covering such subjects as the Aims of the Conference, the General Traits of a Leader, Campus Communications, the Foreign Student's Role on Campus, Communications in Relation to Freshman Week, and Class Assemblies, and Discussion Groups for Presidents, Secretaries and Treasurers of Campus Organizations.

Dean Howard Burkle pointed out that the general aims of the conference were: (1) To foster a sense of responsibility in student leaders, (2) For students to explore and find techniques for leadership, (3) To ferret out imagined or real tension between student and administrative leadership, and (4) That it should be educational, inspirational and analytical.

The general traits and qualifications which all leaders should possess, were pointed out to be dependability, punctuality, tolerance, humility, ability to work for the group, tact, be a follower, familiarity with all aspects of the organization, to be able to take helpful criticism and to be sincere in his desire to help the organization.

A sincere interest in the conference was shown by most of the members and participation in the discussion groups was excellent. A recommendation was made to provide for a wider distribution of leadership positions on the campuses to insure that more people receive an opportunity for a leading role, and to allow those students in responsible posts to devote more time to their jobs. A committee was established to explore the advantages and disadvantages of a point system. This group, composed of Joyce Lind, chairman, Jane Carroll, Russ Laechelt, Sue Beer and Kathy Smith, will report its findings directly to the ASSC.

other so that we may live in closer harmony in a world diminishing in size. With the loss of financial aid from the college in this program, it now becomes the responsibility of every individual and every organization on the campus to get behind and support our foreign student program.

From the discussion group attended by the presidents and vice presidents at the conference, it was learned that parliamentary procedure was little known at CC. This procedure is necessary for efficient, well-balanced meetings. Thus, three motions were passed: (1) to ask the committee on instruction to incorporate a course on parliamentary procedure into the Freshman English course, (2) that parliamentary procedure be discussed in class meetings, and (3) that CC student executives meet during the year, whenever necessary, to discuss their common problems. Georgiana Shaw was appointed chairman of a committee whose function it is to see that these executive meetings are held this year.

The secretaries agreed that keeping an accurate, detailed account of the happenings of the meeting is the most important function they have. In addition, it was recommended that they be thoroughly familiar with the constitution of the group and to work in close unity with the president.

Care should be taken to elect organization treasurers on the basis of ability and desire for the job, rather than the usual popularity. A treasurer need not necessarily be a business major nor have had accounting, although these qualifications are highly desirable. He should make frequent reports to his group on their financial status and let the group know if they have enough money or not to do the project they are planning. Accurate bookkeeping was stressed as one of the most important aspects of a treasurer's job.

These are the general highlights of the conference. A full detailed report will be submitted to every organization on campus and posted on all bulletin boards this fall now that school is in session. The purpose of this is to start the school year off right by having these ideas fresh in mind at the beginning of the year instead of the end.

Gen. W. H. Gill was an honored guest at the conference. Other administrative members who participated in the conference were Deana and Mrs. George Adams, Dean H. E. Mathias, Dean Juan Reid, Dean Sally Morgin, Mr. R. T. Siscock, Miss Martha Campbell, Miss Lorena Berger, Miss Vicki Hahn, Miss Miriam Grant, Miss Betty Groom, Miss Joyce Charles, and Mrs. Robert Barklow.

Faculty members participating were Dean and Mrs. Howard Burke, Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Gray, Dr. Evan Scott, Dr. Thomas Ross, Dr. Thomas Brandt and Miss

CC Grows with Purchase of Home

Colorado College, continuing to increase its physical plant, has purchased the home of Miss Bertha F. Field, located at 1106 N. Cascade Ave., it has been announced by President William H. Gill.

Known to Colorado Springs residents as the former home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Peabody, the 12-room, three-story house adjoins the campus property at the entrance to the college on Cascade Avenue and San Rafael Street.

The large and spacious house became the property of Miss Field, long-time friend of Mrs. Peabody, prior to Mrs. Peabody's death in 1940. Miss Field indicated that in selling the home to Colorado College she was carrying out a wish of the former owners.

President Gill said Saturday that the house is tentatively scheduled to provide additional classroom and office space. He pointed out that with the removal of Tenney Hall, at the corner of Novada Avenue and Cache la Poudre St., the college will be short of classroom space until the completion of the new men's dormitory in the summer of 1954. The new men's dormitory calls for the inclusion of two large classrooms.

President Gill announced that the college's latest acquisition will be known as Peabody House.

and Marion Shaw headed publicity for the meet. A conference is being planned for this year with the idea that this will become an annual event at Colorado College.

The conference was financed through the efforts of Mr. Charles H. Collins, one of CC's trustees.

Exploring the role of the upperclassmen in integrating the freshman, Dee Thaxton gave the board three suggestions. She thought the problem could be met by extending a hearty welcome to new students, by providing them with direct, clear answers to their questions, and by setting a good example for them.

Marilynn Clark presented ways in which the enthusiasm of the freshmen can be utilized. She told of suggestions from last year's freshman class which are being followed this year and reported the formation of seven committees for freshmen—a social committee and a dramatics committee, for example.

Guests at the conference were President and Mrs. Gill, Dean and Mrs. Adams, Dean and Mrs. Mathias, Dean Sallie Payne Morgan, Miss Evaline McNary, Frank Florey, Tom Dunton, Mrs. R. V. Barkalow, Miss Miriam Grant, Miss Vicki Hann, Mrs. Dorothy Wing, Miss Lucy M. Smith, Miss Cecelia Livingston, Miss Joyce Charles, and Miss Marty Campbell.

Annual Convocation
Begins School Year
In Chapel Service

The first Chapel Service for the academic year, 1953-54, will take place Tuesday morning at 10 a.m., September 22. This will be the annual Convocation, at which time the beginning of the college year is formally celebrated.

The procedure for attendance will be the same as that followed last year. All students are required to attend. You are at liberty to sit anywhere in the chapel that you choose, although you are urged to sit as far forward as possible. The ushers will pass out attendance slips, which you should sign and turn in to the ushers, as you pass out of the building at the end of the service.

This year there will be an Interdenominational Religious Council, composed of representatives from the various religious organizations of which college students are members (Newman Club, Canterbury Club, Jonathan Edwards Club, etc.). This group will help plan the chapel services. We will appreciate suggestions and constructive criticisms.

There will be a band meeting and practice for all members on Monday, Sept. 21, 1953, at 4:15 in Perkins Hall. It should be noted that Mr. Juhas desperately needs any and all horn tooters!

Museum Hours for New Year Announced

W. W. Postlethwaite, director of the museum at Colorado College, returned recently from the annual meeting of the Managing Board of The School of American Research.

Postlethwaite announced on his return that the CC museum, located on the second floor of Palmer Hall, was once again open to the public for the regular college year.

Open without charge to local school children and to townspeople, the CC museum is open from 8:30 to 12 o'clock in the mornings, and from 1:30 to 4:30 in the afternoons, Monday through Friday. Saturday hours are from 8:30 to 12 noon.

Wanted: New C.C. Cheerleaders!

New Reign of Spirit for CC; Cheerleader Election Oct. 6

Okay, you pepsters, here's the details you've been waiting for. The program by the old cheerleaders to help train prospective cheerleaders will begin Tuesday, Sept. 29, from 4:30 to 5:30 in Perkins auditorium. These practices will continue through Wednesday, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1. This training program is set up merely to help all students who are interested in becoming cheerleaders. It is by no means a weeding out period. Each person who wishes to try out will be given this chance to become familiar with our school yell.

The election will be held Tuesday, Oct. 6 after the chapel program. The whole student body will vote by secret ballot for three boys and four girls or vice versa. You may try out individually or with a group.

CC now has the chance for some real spirit. The Growlers are proving this by their self-initiation in revitalizing their organization and adapting new policies. The Tiger Club is also well on their way toward giving CC a new kind of spirit. It's up to the Tigers, Growlers and cheerleaders to help them maintain their spirit.

CC is heading for a new reign of spirit and we need good cheerleaders. It's all up to you—so don't fail us.

Bradley to Broadcast 'Melody Corner' As Part of the Student Union Program

A record session with Colorado Springs' number one disc-jockey, Wes Bradley, will be held at the Student Union on Friday, Sept. 25, at 4:00 p.m. Walter Amment's, the sponsor of "Melody Corner", has been gracious enough to consent to this remote-control broadcast. With this co-operation plus the co-operation from KRDO and Wes Bradley we are able to bring you this special event as a part of the Student Union program.

As I promised you last week I would try to keep you informed a week or two in advance about the coming activities—here they are:

To follow the record session we have a CURRENT EVENTS on WORLD AFFAIRS Sunday, Sept. 27. We have dragged some political science and history professors out of their classrooms where they have a chance to roll-up their sleeves and give you some straight answers to their political standings on current issues.

The following week, because of a previous planned activity for the girls, we will have an ALL MEN'S SMOKER with the faculty. This will take place on Thursday, Oct. 1, at 7:00. There will be BRIDGE and CLASSICAL MUSIC for the afternoon sessions in this week. I will tell you more about these activities next week.

Anytime during the year you have any suggestions, complaints or ideas, by all means please con-

Counseling Center Opens Next Week

The Counseling Center will begin its services to students this year with a program of remedial reading and study help for freshmen or upper-classmen who wish to avail themselves of this assistance.

Groups will be formed next week for these purposes, so any student who wishes to sign up for them, or desires more information about this work, should leave his name at the Center either this afternoon or some afternoon next week. The Center is located at the south driveway entrance to Ticknor Hall, and is open 1:30 to 4:30 p. m. Monday thru Friday.

In addition to this help, the usual services of vocational testing and counseling are available. The TIGER will carry more information about this work in later issues.

NEW POINT AVERAGE IS NECESSARY FOR PARTICIPATION IN CC ACTIVITIES

The Faculty, the A.S.C.C. Council, and the Committee of Undergraduate Life passed on May 18th a bill stating a new point average necessary for participation in Colorado College activities starting September, 1953. In order to participate in all intercollegiate athletics and other activities designated by the Council of Associated Students, freshmen must have a point average of 1.40; sophomores, an average of 1.60; and juniors and seniors, an average of 2.00.

The Director of Athletics is responsible for checking the eligibility of the intercollegiate squad while the Director of Physical Education checks the eligibility of women participating in intercollegiate athletic activities. Faculty advisers of other group organizations check the eligibility of their participants. A roster of eligibility must be presented from time to time to the Committee on Undergraduate Life.

Other activities stated by the Council of Associated Students are: council and officers of Associated Students of Colorado College; board membership and officers of the Associated Women Students; board membership and officers of Quadrangle Association; membership in and officers of the Honor Council; all staff members, and departments of the following publications: Tiger, Nugget, Kinship; cheerleaders; chairman of the Tiger Club and Growlers Club; Intercollegiate Athletics; dramatics; choir, and chorus, when not for academic credit, and rifle teams.

Applications Available at Selective Service Board For Qualification Test

Applications for the November 19, 1953, and the April 22, 1954, administrations of the College Qualification Test are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country.

Eligible students who intend to take this test on either date should apply at once to the nearest Selective Service local board for an application and a bulletin of information.

Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application and mail it immediately in the envelope provided to Selective Service Examination Section, Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 586, Princeton, N. J. Applications for the November 19 date must be postmarked no later than midnight, November 2, 1953.

According to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test for the Selective Service System, it will be greatly to the student's advantage to file his application at once, regardless of the testing date he selects. The results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student.

Five Candidates Vie For Miss CC At Annual Tiger-Nugget Ball

Commencing this year's agenda of all-school dances will be the annual TIGER-NUGGET Dance, which will be held Friday night, Oct. 2, at the Antler's Ballroom. Highlighting the dance will be the crowning of "Miss CC of 1953". Due to numerous, uncontrollable difficulties, it is necessary to have the dance on a Friday night instead of the traditional Saturday night. Hours for the dance, which will be to the music of Ray Kranz, will be from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Tickets will go on sale Monday, with Chip Shaw, business manager of the TIGER, and Jack Geary, business manager of the NUGGET, in charge of ticket sales. Tickets will cost $2.00 per couple and entitle each person attending the privilege of voting for "Miss CC". The dance will be semi-formal.

The candidates for this honor have been selected by the sororities and Independent Women. She must be active, have good grades, and be an all-around CC co-ed. Voting will take place at the dance with Tom Paukan, editor of the TIGER, crowning the lucky girl.

The candidate from Delta Gamma is Martha Kirtley, a junior from Des Moines, Ia. Martha is DG rush chairman, a member of Par-Hel, a dorm counselor and is majoring in English literature. Gail Lund, a senior from Oak Park, Ill., was nominated by the Thetas. Gail is QA president, a member of the Honor Council, a member of Tiger Club, a class commissioner and a member of last year's women's ski team. Chosen by Gamma Phi Beta is Barbie Canon from Dodge City, Kans. Barbie is a junior, a member of Tiger Club, a dorm counselor, AWS song chairman, assistant G-Phi rush chairman, Junior Gamma Phi member on Par-Hel. She is a hasher, a music major and is very active in Canterbury Club. The Kappas selected, Les Sherman as their candidate. Hailing from Winnetka, Ill., Les was a freshman class commissioner, a member of AWS Board and Winter Carnival Queen last year. The Independent Women's candidate is Sue Flenniken, a freshman from Denver, Colo.

Any one of these outstanding girls would be proud to have as "Miss CC."

Ray Werner to Form Forensic Team Soon

Ray Werner, debate coach at Colorado College, has announced that all students interested in debating this year contact him, as soon as possible, in Room 9 of West Hall.

Resolved: That the United States should adopt a policy of free trade," will be the topic for debate this year, according to Mr. Werner. The discussion questions, which will be used this season is, "How can the present procedure and practice of Congressional investigations be improved?"

These subjects were picked on August 15, 1953 by the Committee on Inter-Collegiate Debate and Discussion of the Speech Association of America. This committee is composed of representatives from schools affiliated with the following national speech and debate groups: Tau Kappa Alpha (of which CC is a member), Pi Kappa Delta, Phi Rho Rho, Delta Sigma Rho, The Speech Association of America and the American Forensic Association.

Would You Like to Name Lennox and Win a Prize?

In his reorganization of Lennox, Mr. Kantz has temporarily given a new name to the grill, that of the TIGER'S LAIR. Numbers of students have indicated that they do not like this name. Now you students have the opportunity to select a brand new name, one which you want; to keep the current name; or to revert to the old name of Lennox Grill.

To do this we will place the ASCC ballot box in a convenient place leading down to the grill. You students place a piece of paper in the box with the name you prefer, whether it be the old, the current one, or a brand new one thought up by you. Sign your name to this paper. If the majority of students vote to keep either the names of Lennox Grill or Tiger's Lair, then that name will be continued and the contest will be dropped. The ballot box will be in Lennox from noon today until noon Monday, Oct. 5.

However, if the majority of students desire a brand new name, then the Lennox Board will go through the ballots and choose what to them appears to be the five best names. These five names will then be placed on an official ballot, printed in the TIGER. Then all students will have the opportunity to vote on one of the five names selected. The winning name from this ballot will become the new name of the grill in Lennox and the person submitting the name selected will be awarded valuable prizes to be announced later by the Lennox Board.

More will appear in the TIGER about the naming contest next week. But for now, GO TO LENNOX AND INDICATE THE NAME YOU PREFER FOR THE GRILL IN DOWNSTAIRS LENNOX.

Any one interested in doing photography or layout work for the Nugget this year, please be at Lennox House next Tuesday, Sept. 29, at 4:30. If you can not be present at that time, please contact Dick Hayes or Jack Geary.

Was Our Leadership Conference A Success?

Last spring when plans for Colorado College's first leadership conference were announced an old cliché was echoed in many segments of the campus; namely, "It won't work. You can't get students together on such a dull pretense. Why even try such a program?"

Even the strongest objectors to such a move must certainly be aware that the CC leadership conference did not fail. However, they may not be aware of its success. Of course, many of the resolutions were long range programs, which will take time to realize success. But the important thing is that something is being done about the problems on the campus as brought out in the confab last spring.

For instance, it was admitted that campus communications were one of the weakest elements on the campus. What has been done about them? First, a special issue of the TIGER was printed for the first time this year to help orient the new students of Colorado College. Second, every organization on campus either had appointed or will appoint in the near future a publicity chairman, whose duty it is to see that news of his or her clubs activities is disseminated, not only in the TIGER, but wherever else it may be deemed desirable. Bill Howell has been appointed by the student council to work with and coordinate these chairman.

In addition, plans are underway to see about installing a mail box in Cutler Hall for every organization on campus, which does not now have a mail box in Cutler. These programs, along with the new policies of the TIGER, will certainly alleviate many of the campus communications problems.

Only last week in the student council meeting, action was taken on the remaining resolutions drawn up and recommended by the CC leadership conference. Of course, these plans will take work, if they are to be a success. The leaders on this campus are doing their best to help the students at CC solve their problems. However, the leaders cannot do all the work alone. They must have full support and cooperation from every student on this campus.

Now, in order that we may profit even further from each other's experiences and help to unify this campus into one solid, cooperative body of students, a second leadership conference is currently being planned for sometime during the month of November. All students be thinking about worthwhile topics for discussion or points to be brought up before this council when it meets this fall. Anyone with an interest in student life and its problems at Colorado College will be invited.

Remember just one thing. If you compare our school with others, you will find that we are more than holding our own for quality. So, let's all work together for our school. Minimize the negative side of life; ACCENTUATE THE POSITIVE!!!

FRANK FLOREY SAYS:

Last week's editorial section carried two rather venomous criticisms of the 1953 Nugget. As the former editor I feel it my responsibility to inform the student body of the actual reasons for the Nugget's condition and to clear up any misconceptions they may have. From the very first I wish it understood that this is not a "vigorous rebuttal accompanied by week-kneed excuses" as Mr. MacGuire expects. I will make no excuses for they are unnecessary.

Mr. MacGuire's letter was, I believe, a serious attempt at critical analysis of year book production. I am sorry that Ed didn't bother to contact me before writing his letter for I might have been able to clear up some of the false impressions he seems to have gathered.

First of all the copy was not only poor, it was miserable. This however, was not the fault of myself nor any member of my staff. The original edition of the book was proof-read by an adequate staff before publication and the corrected copy sent to the publishers. The publisher, for some reason, seems to have neglected consulting the corrected proof and proceeded to produce the original edition. I have in my possession the original proof of the book in which all the misspellings, placements, and omissions are clearly marked and corrected. Anyone interested may examine it at their leisure.

Next, I disagree with the accusation that the layout was inferior. Though the arrangement of photos and copy is purely a matter of individual taste the layout has been rated as excellent. An examination of the Nugget produced during the last five years will show that the reproduction of the photographs in this year's book is the best so far.

Perhaps the book was mismanaged, though I can hardly agree for, thanks to the efforts of Gil Weiskopf, last year was one of the very few years that the book operated at a profit. The small size of the staff was regrettable and I do wish more people would have worked. To those who work for the Nugget I shall always be grateful for they had a thankless task. As always, those who are the first to complain are the last to offer any actual help. I noticed the two gentlemen who showed an astonishing amount of interest in the Nugget have not signed up for this year's staff.

Frankly, I was amazed by the lack of senior activity lists in the final edition. Our publisher seems to have thought them unnecessary. Needless to say this year's book will have a new publisher. I should mention that less than sixty percent of the senior class turned in activity lists though they had ample time to do so. I would also like to point out the fact that the Nugget file of senior activities was more complete than that of the college publicity department.

I am sorry that so many student's photographic contributions were not accepted. The reason for this is that in order to make a good reproduction a photograph must have qualities usually not found in the typical Brownie prints.

The second letter appears to be a little better than a shabby attempt at character assassination. The abundance of Beta and Phi Delta photographs in the intramural sections can be understood since those two organizations won most of the intramural sports last year. Any further implications to be drawn from the statement? . . . The Nugget . . . would indicate that there are only two fraternities . . . are too ridiculous to warrant any answer. The mention of my $500 editor's salary brought to mind the fact that on an hourly basis I made about forty-nine and a half cents an hour.

I could go on and on with explanations of just what happened but there are space limitations and I'm afraid I've already been too wordy.

—Frank Florey

ASCO NOTES

By BILL HOWELL

At the student council meeting last Monday the publications board reported that the 1953-54 Nugget will be published not later than May 15. It was pointed out that last year only four pages of the Nugget were not ready for publication by May 1. In this way the Nugget will be in the hands of the students by the end of the school year.

The leadership council reported on its activities and these resolutions were brought up and passed:

1. That the Committee on Instruction install a course on Parliamentary Procedure into the freshmen English courses.
2. That Parliamentary Procedure be discussed in class meetings at the first of the year in order that the upperclassmen can learn the rudiments.
3. That the presidents of all organizations meet when necessary to discuss common problems.
4. That the committee be assigned to keep centralized bulletin boards posted with events of interest to the students and be certain to keep them free from commercial advertising.
5. That a committee be set up to check into the possibilities of inaugurating a point system for closing leaders on campus.

The committee will consist of Joyce Lind, chairman, Jane Carroll, Russ Laechelt, Sue Beer, and Kathy Smith.

It has also been suggested that there be another leadership conference to be held sometime in November.

The meetings closed with the following resolution: Student Council meetings are held at 4:00 on Mondays and that any organization that is not represented at these meetings will lose its vote for the rest of the semester. That class elections will be October 12, and all petitions for class commissioners must be in by Sept. 28.

Administer Grad Exam Four Times Thru Year

The Graduate Record Examination, required of applicants wishing admission in some graduate school, will be administered at examination centers throughout the country four times this school year.

Full candidates may take the GRE on Saturday, November 14. Other dates are January 30, May 1, and July 10. ETS advises each applicant to inquire of the graduate school of his choice which of the examinations he should take and when.

The GRE tests offer a test of general scholastic ability and advanced achievement tests in seventeen different subjects. Candidates are permitted to take the aptitude test and/or one of the advanced tests. Applications and a Bulletin of Information may be obtained from the college advisors. Completed applications must reach the ETS office fifteen days before the date of testing.

Colorado College Grad Completes Navy School

At graduation ceremonies on June 12, 1953, E. B. Taylor, USN, Commander Destroyer Flotilla Two presented officer's commissions to 850 students who successfully completed the four-month course at the Navy's only Officer Candidate School in Newport, R. I.

Dave Barsotti

Among the graduates was Dave G. Barsotti of Colorado Springs. Dave received his BA degree in Political Science in 1951 from Colorado College in Colorado Springs.

During the four months of intensive instruction the officer candidates have received thorough indoctrination in a curriculum of naval subjects designed to equip them for their responsibilities as junior officers. The subjects taught include Engineering, Navigation, Operations, Orientation, Seamanship, and Naval Weapons.

Applicants for the programs at Officer Candidate School must be graduates of accredited colleges or universities with baccalaureate degrees. Unrestricted Line and Staff Corps Candidates must be between the ages of 19 and 27; specialists for Restricted Line Billets between 19 and 33.

Four Sororities Take 84 Girls; Rush Ends After Week of Parties

Four national sororities at Colorado College Saturday released the names of 84 girls' pledge, following a week-long activity of rush week. Rushing for the many freshmen and new students began with open houses at the respective sorority lodges on Sunday, September 13, and continued with gala parties each afternoon and evening of the past week. Pledge period for the girls will last the entire first semester, with sororities due to initiate the new group following the opening of the second semester at the college, February 1, 1954.

Open rushing begins again for the sororities on Tuesday, September 24, after which time more girls are expected to be added to the following lists. Sororities this year had relatively small quotas, while the number of girls going through rush was exceptionally large—152. The freshman class of 170 girls is one of the largest at the college in the past five years.

Kappa Alpha Theta and Delta Gamma took the greatest—25. Kappa Kappa Gamma took 22, and Kappa Phi Beta took 12. Pledge lists released by the college are as follows:

ASK STUDENTS TO JOIN CANTERBURY CLUB

Episcopal students and those interested in Canterbury Club were welcomed with quite a round of festivities. Events began with a buffet supper on Sept. 9th, given by Rev. and Mrs. Scott Franz at their home. The next morning everyone was up bright and early for a picnic breakfast at Austin Bluffs, Sunday, the 13th, everyone was treated by the church to dinner at the Broadmoor Tavern. On Wednesday morning, the weekly Holy Communion service began at seven o'clock in the Pilgrim Room of Shove Chapel, followed by breakfast at the Franz's. Last Sunday the group spent the afternoon on a picnic in Manitou Park. This coming Sunday, everyone interested is invited to meet at Grace Church at 2:30 for an afternoon of fun in the mountains, followed by a supper at Franz's cabin. Please don't forget the weekly communion and breakfast every Wednesday morning at seven o'clock.

PLAN JONATHAN EDWARDS CLUB ANNUAL PICNIC

The annual September picnic of the Jonathan Edwards Club will be held this Sunday, Sept. 27 beginning at 2:30 p. m. The meeting place is Gregg Memorial Library located just west of Tejon and St. Vrain. Each individual should make provision for his own supper, but transportation will be furnished at no expense. Members, prospective members and the curious are invited to be present.

JEANNE MEMUROUGH FOR TIGER FACULTY SPONSOR

Tiger Club has chosen Jeanne McMurrough for its new faculty sponsor. She is the new head resident for Howbert House, and teaches at North Junior High school. We welcome Jeanne, and hope she will enjoy working with Tiger Club.

INDEPENDENTS LET LOOSE AT MAD HATTER PARTY

This year the IWA activity ball began rolling with a Hedda Hopper mad hat party which was held on Sept. 16. What imaginative milliners the Independents are! Our next event was the picnic held at Lazyland on the 19th. The girls had a wonderful time singing, rock climbing and eating a delectable dinner. On the 21st we held our first meeting in the Observatory. Sue Flenniken was elected to be our candidate for Miss CC at the annual Tiger-Nugget dance. Codie Fletcher was named our candidate for the Sig Chi Watermelon Bust.

GAMMA PHI BETAS HOLD OPEN HOUSE

The Gamma Phis will hold open house Sunday, Sept. 27 from 7:30 till 10:00 in honor of their new pledges and their housemother, Mrs. Herman Cast. The G-Phis cordially invite all students to drop in for fun and refreshments.

PHI DELTS HONOR PLEDGES AT INFORMAL DANCE

An informal dance was held at the Phi Delt house last Saturday night in honor of the new pledges. Refreshments were served and dancing was in the basement.

Work for Panhellenic Continues After Rush

Rush Week is over but Pan-Hel's duties do not end. Their weekly meetings are held every Monday at noon to discuss sorority problems and projects. During rush week penalties were imposed on individuals who violated Pan-Hel rules and regulations. Sorority open rush began Tuesday, Sept. 22 and will continue until November 15. Any girl who was not pledged during rush week or has indicated her interest to Vicki Hann is eligible.

BUZZBEEES

The Buzzbees, sponsored by A.W.S., will take place in the women's dorms at 8:30 p. m. on October 1. All new girls invited to these informal discussions of the academic side of college between the new girls attending and one or two faculty members with each group. Watch for posters with further details.

Listen to the Colorado college radio station—KRCC-FM from 7:00 until 10:00 p. m. on Monday thru Friday. Classical music will be featured from 8:00 until 10:00 on the same evenings.

I.D. cards processed at registration for other new students will be laminated and delivered within the next three weeks. Watch the TIGER for the date these cards will be ready.

Mother Bruce, the Phi Delt housemother, acted as chaperone. From all reports, the party was a great success and enjoyed by all who attended.

SIGMA CHI'S SPONSOR THEIR ANNUAL WATERMELON BUST; ALL ARE INVITED

Like watermelon, pretty girls, an afternoon of fun? All that and more will greet you at the Sigma Chi house Saturday, September 26, from 3 'till 5, the Annual Watermelon Bust for everyone; students, faculty, and staff, will be an occasion you can't miss. There will be 5 prominent men to pick the watermelon queen from among the campus organizations. The sororities will each sponsor a booth, which will be on the order of a side show. One and a half tons of watermelon will make plenty of eating for all, and there will be eating contests between faculty and students, and between campus organizations. Entertainment by OCs lively combo, headed by Bob Bell, will keep you jumping.

A LETTER TO MOM

Dear Mom,

I realize I'm a little late in writing, but the last two weeks have been so busy and so much fun. I just love the school, and I have met some of the greatest kids.

I know you want to hear about what I have been doing, so the following is an account of the Freshman Week activities. Monday night there was a freshman mixer. We danced to the music of a small school band and started introducing ourselves to various people. It was really a lot of fun, and I met a darling boy. After the dance he took me to J's for a coke; he said he would call, but as yet I haven't heard a word.

The highlight of the afternoon will be the judging of the Watermelon Queen. Billie Jean Andrews will represent the Thetas, Carolyn McConnell the Kappas, Barbara Jorgens, Delta Gamma, Willa Freeman, Gamma Phi Beta, and Codie Fletcher, the Independent Women. Judging will be by the local fire chief, the police chief, President Gill, William Lilly, a prominent business man, and Judge Miller.

A fifteen minute on the spot radio broadcast by KRDO is planned. This is one activity you can't miss, so EVERYBODY COME—you won't regret it. Plan to be there, this ball promises to be the best yet.

J.C.'s do a fine branding job at Chuck Wagon Dinner.

Tuesday morning we started taking the freshman tests; I never realized before how little I knew. During the afternoon there was a freshman meeting sponsored by the ASOC. President William H. Gill gave an address of welcome in which he told about the school. The Chuck Wagon dinner that night was held on Stewart field and was a lot of fun. We had a wonderful dinner, plus great entertainment provided by the Colorado Springs J.C.s. It was really an experience sitting around a huge campfire and singing songs.

Wednesday during the morning we finished the tests. In the afternoon there was a meeting informing us of our academic requirements, registration procedures, and the Honor System. The picnic which was to be held outside was held in Cossitt hall, because it rained all afternoon. There was also a free movie at the Fine Arts Center.

Thursday I met my adviser, and we planned my schedule. In the afternoon we checked in the infirmary, and were given our physical classifications. The plans for the evening were canceled (rain, of course).

Registration was Friday and believe me, it was a mess. I finally got everything straightened out after making a few mistakes—for instance, standing in the ROTC line for a half hour! I don't think I have ever signed my name so many times in my life; in fact I signed one list that was headed ASW, and strangely enough there has been no dating problem since then.

Last week it was impossible to write with all the excitement and getting used to college studies. I now think I know a "few of the ropes" and know that I want CC for my home the next nine months.

Love,
Betty Jo Staples.

REVIEW OF MR. FERRIS

If I were a man I would treat your letter to the Tiger in the manner it deserves—privately and personally. Since such is not the case, I shall take the same advantage of you by addressing you publicly, as you took of "Mr. Florey and company".

One expects more of criticism than sour grapes, undignified and unethical behavior. You do not know where of you speak and apparently have not taken any pains to discover the causes of what we all admit, Nugget staff included, that the Nugget was a poor production. You see, Mr. Ferris, it just so happens that the majority of the misspellings, the omissions, and general mix-ups of the 1953 Nugget were the direct faults of the publishing company and the printers.

My personal experiences on the Nugget staff leads me to contradict in toto every comment that you made. You are in short, as wrong as it is possible to be. I, personally can vouch for the quality of work, the interest and competence of every member of the staff and particularly that of Mr. Florey.

We have a right to expect restraint, intelligence and dignity from each member of the student body—and particularly from one who has sought an office of this student body. Mr. Florey won his office by democratic process and that should end the matter. But apparently it doesn't because this display of unfairness, unkindness, ignorance and bitterness on your part, suggests two things—that you've never learned to lose gracefully and that the outcome of the election was in the best interests of all concerned.

I suggest, Mr. Ferris, that in the future you confine your criticism to the positive side rather than the negative, also, it might be helpful if you earned the right to criticize.

Newman Club Meets Sunday to Plan Year

With a carefully planned program, followed by a coffee hour, the Newman Club of Colorado College will hold its first annual meeting in Lennox at 7:15 p. m., Sunday, Sept. 27. Committees will be formed and plans laid for the year with the program being highlighted by a brief address on Newmanism, given by Rev. Robert Freudenstein, chaplain of the CC Newman Club.

It is planned to have the meetings at the above announced time and place on the first and third Sundays during the year. On Sunday afternoon, Oct. 4, the Newman Club will hold its annual picnic at the Hi-Up Ranch. A three-piece combo will play for those who wish to dance. There will also be games and refreshments.

All students on campus, whether Catholic or not, are invited to attend these meetings.

CC Riding Club Holds Reorganization Meeting

A get-acquainted and reorganization meeting will be held Tuesday, September 29, at 7:30 p. m., in room 214 of Palmer Hall to renew the activities of the CC Riding Club.

Dr. Robert Stabler, faculty sponsor of the club, has volunteered the use of his ranch as a centralization point for the club's activities. Mr. Strauss, operator of the Mesa Springs Horse Ranch, has offered members new and lower rates for renting horses.

Plans for the year include trail rides, over-night trips, barrel racing, sparring the ring, jumping, and plenty of good instruction in the caring, training, and handling of riding horses. The members will also ride horses in the annual homecoming parade.

For further information contact Dr. Stabler, Lee Pankau, or see the bulletin board in Palmer Hall.

Carter Replaces Van Diest In Sociology Dept.

On leave of absence this year, because of illness, is Miss Alice van Diest. She has been replaced by Mrs. Ruth Carter, who was graduated from de Pauw University, has done graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania, and holds a master's degree from Colorado College. Our best regards to Mrs. Carter, and we hope that this year at CC will be a memorable one for her.

Miss van Diest has been at CC for a number of years in the sociology department, and the students wish her a speedy recovery and hope that she will be seen again soon on the CC campus.

Today's automobiles require up to seven miles of wire for their electrical systems, with more than 8,300 parts forming as many as 180 different electrical assemblies.

The U.S. Census Bureau estimates that 198,000,000 Americans will be operating 65,000,000 automobiles in 1975—one-third more than in 1952.

KRCC Opens This Week with Varied Programs Scheduled

Colorado College's own frequency modulation radio station, KRCC, 93.1 megacycles on the dial, began its third year of operation Wednesday, Sept. 23. Broadcasting again from studios in South Hall on the CC campus, the CC radio station has just received a renewal of its FM license from the Federal Communications Commission. The license was first awarded the college in 1951 for a two-year period, with the renewal dependent upon the two-year performance.

Because of the superiority of frequency modulation transmission of music and the signal sent out by the college station to regional sets, the station specializes in music programs. Two hours of classical music, from 8:00 to 10:00 o'clock Monday through Friday evenings will be on the program this year.

An addition to this year's schedule will allow Colorado Springs opera lovers to hear a complete LP recording each Wednesday night over KRCC-FM. There is also one of these complete opera recordings each Friday night over KCMS-FM in Manitou Springs.

Prof. Woodson Tyree, director of drama and radio at CC, said today that his radio classes had shown a steady increase in enrollment, with this term being no exception. Many students from the advanced classes have returned this year to fill key positions in the campus radio station.

One platoon system will hurt large teams, aid small

Two platoon football is dead. No longer will there be the offensive and defensive specialists, the extra point specialist is gone. How will schools be affected by this sudden change? We have formed an early season answer for the question by noting the loss of power by the big schools and universities—as to the smaller colleges which have seemingly lost little power. Colorado College's near victory against Denver University is a very good example of this.

In our area, Idaho State, a sports writer's favorite for this year's RMC crown, was drubbed by little Washington State, 14-6. Once again we notice the bigger teams giving way to the smaller schools. In the conference this year we will pick Idaho State regardless of their loss.

Colorado College and Western State also will hold an edge in the run for the crown. Western State decisively and impressively dumped Western New Mexico, 54-20.

The Tigers looked very impressive against Denver University, even though losing 13-19. Sparked by the hard driving Lowell Slocum, the Tigers surprised all with two quick touchdowns in the opening minutes of play.

Slocum scored both touchdowns, one from inside the ten yard line and the last on a very colorful, long run over the center of the line.

Denver was obviously hindered by the switch from two platoon system ball to one team football. They could not use the many spe-

Slocum Scores Both CC Counters Passing Aids Denver in Victory

Denver University's slow starting Pioneers overcame a first period Colorado College two touchdown lead to take a hard-fought 19-13 battle from the visiting Tigers on Sept. 18th at the D.U. stadium.

Paced by the accurate throwing arm of sophomore quarterback Jim Bowen, the Pioneers recovered from the initial shock to score a touchdown in each of the next three stanzas.

Colorado College gained the first scoring opportunity of the evening when a Denver fumble was recovered on the D.U. 35 yard stripe. Six plays later Lowell Slocum cracked over from the seven. Knight converted to put CC ahead 7-0. A short time later Ned Pfeiffer intercepted a Pioneer aerial on the Tiger 47. On a quick opening play Slocum broke loose and raced 53 yards for the counter. Knight failed to make the extra point but CC lead 13-0.

We noticed, in regard to CC, that a very poor pass defense prevailed through out the evening, in fact, the defense as a whole was rather spotty. The offense was good but near the end of the first half the boys were tiring.

Credit should go to spunky little Ned Pfeiffer who played a bang-up game both offensively and defensively. Quarterbacks Engleson and Prebis looked good on many occasions and as a whole, the team did very well against the bigger D.U. squad.

On the national scene, Alabama, earlier rated fifth in the nation, was the victim of the first and possibly the biggest upset of the year, losing 25-19. Alabama met Mississippi Southern in their annual first game breeze and left the field a few hours later with their first defeat behind them.

One other large upset last week was the 25-0 debacle handed to the University of California by Baylor University. Underdog Baylor fielded a very polished team which should surprise the experts this year.

Football will be in full swing this week with the much-talked about Sooner-Irish tilt. From where we sit we will give the nod to Notre Dame, 21-13. The Sooners lack Notre Dame's depth and experience. We will pick U.C.L.A. over Kansas and Purdue on top of Missouri. Northwestern will draw our bid over Iowa State, 27-6. Nebraska will be tough after their defeat to Oregon but Illinois should be a two to three touchdown favorite.

On the local scene we will pick CC over New Mexico A&M, Montana State over Colorado School of Mines, and Western State over Colorado State College of Education.

Bowen took charge of the Pioneer offensive in the second period to pass the hosts to their initial touchdown.

The D.U. quarterback shined again in the third canto with tosses of 14 and 13 yards to set up Denver's second six pointer.

Denver's winning margin came in the final go with Fred Tesone climaxing a 40-yard march, plunging over from one yard out.

Soccer Practice Begins; Schedule to Be Formed

Within the next few weeks there will be a meeting in Golden, Colo., of the directors of athletics of the various colleges to form a soccer schedule for this coming season.

Under the direction of Coach Bill Boddington, a soccer squad was organized with Mild Gammell and Bud Krause as co-captains. Among the outstanding players on the team are Mort Forster, Kenny Smith, and Jack Sibilla, each with at least one year's experience.

The team will practice on Stewart Field Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 4:30 p. m. So far there are 17 men out for the squad and more are urged to join whether they have had experience or not. New uniforms will be issued to this year's team.

SEVEN CC PROFESSORS PROMOTED; EFFECTIVE CURRENT YEAR, SAYS GILL

The promotion of seven professors at Colorado College, effective for the current academic year, was announced today by President William H. Gill. Three men have been promoted to associate professor and four to assistant professor.

Robert L. Koons, J. Douglas Mertz and J. Victor Hooper were awarded associate professorships. Koons, head of the department of civil engineering at the college, received the Delta Pi and Phi Delta Kappa. Dr. William A. Fischer, Edward Sampson, Jr., Wallace C. Boyce, and Dr. Thomas W. Ross were promoted to assistant professor. Dr. Fischer came to Colorado College as an instructor in geology in 1949. He is a graduate of Beloit College, and earned the Ph.D. at the University of Colorado in 1953. He is a member of Sigma Xi and Sigma Gamma Epsilon.

Sampson has earned bachelor's degrees from Utah and Princeton Universities, and obtained the M.S.E. degree from Princeton in 1950. An expert on soil stabilization and a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, he came to CC as an instructor in civil engineering in 1950. Sampson

Hopper, a specialist in elementary education, came to CC in 1951 as assistant professor of education. He earned the bachelor of education at Western Illinois State College and did his graduate study at Stanford University and Harvard University. Before joining the faculty at CC he was a professor at San Francisco State Teachers' College in California. Hopper is a member of Kappa has also served as engineering consultant to firms and individuals in the Pikes Peak Region.

Boyce, instructor in French, came to Colorado College in 1950. He is a graduate of Williams College and did his graduate work at Middlebury, Columbia, and Princeton Universities, respectively. He is currently writing a dissertation on "Novelistic Techniques of Francois Mauriac."

Dr. Ross is a native of Colorado Springs and an alumnus of Colorado College. He received the BA degree from CC in 1946, graduating Magna cum laude, the master's degree from CC in 1947, and earned the Ph.D. degree at Michigan in 1951. He joined the faculty of Colorado College in 1951 as an English instructor. He was recently appointed assistant Dean of the College. Ross is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, Sigma Chi, and the Medieval Academy of America. He is the son of Mrs. T. Wynne Ross, 908 1/2 S. Cascade, and the late "Scoop" Ross, a prominent Colorado Springs newspaperman.

Auto dealers provided more than 6,000 new passenger cars for high school driver-training programs in 1952. The cars were valued at 12 million dollars.

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

From the performances which the RMC teams landed in this last weekend, it is apparent that there will be several teams which could rate the 1953 crown. Western State's Mountaineers, using Coach Willard Peterson's split-T, trampled New Mexico Western for a 54-20 non-conference victory. With this win to serve as a warning to other conference contenders, the Mountaineers are off to a good start.

Though CC lacked the manpower to retain their early 13-0 lead over Denver's Pioneers, the good account they made of themselves makes them a definite conference threat.

Idaho State, undefeated RMC champions of 1952, lost prestige when they lost to lightly-regarded Eastern Washington College of Education, 14-6. This was their first loss in two years and for this reason alone, they cannot be omitted as possible champs.

The Colorado Miners' inability to score gave Washburn College of Topeka, Kansas a 13-0 victory.

Montana State's defense failed to hold College of Idaho, ending in a 38-26 victory for C. of I.

The first conference games slated for Sept. 26 between Colorado State and Western State at Gunnison and Montana State traveling to Golden for a battle with Colorado Mines.

This Saturday Colorado College will play a night game against the New Mexico Aggies at Las Cruces. This should be CC's first win of 1953 against the Inept Aggie team. New Mexico A&M's 47-0 loss to Wyoming University helps strengthen this prediction.

CC's first conference game will be October 3rd at Pocatello, Idaho. This game could mean the crown with both Idaho State and Colorado College bidding for the title.

An eighth of all local, state and federal taxes, more than 7.5 billion dollars a year, come directly from the manufacturer, sale and use of motor vehicles, and automotive equipment.

Tigers Travel to N. M. To Play the Aggies

With one game under their belts the Colorado College Tigers travel to Las Cruces, New Mex., tomorrow for a tussel with the home team New Mexico A&M Aggies.

The Aggies, victim of a 47-0 wallop by the Wyoming Cowboys, will be seeking their first triumph of this early season as will the Tigers who lost to Denver, 19-13, last weekend.

A&M coach Joe Coleman has 22 lettermen back from last year's squad and has expressed confidence in the remainder of the campaign despite the loss to Wyoming. Ed Boykin, a former Las Cruces high star, is at the quarterback this year and should prove a great deal of trouble for the Tigers. Top Border Conference passer Charles Sanford is expected to pace the Aggie aerial attack. Other outstanding backfieldmen include Al Herbert, Jimmy Hayes and Dick Holmes. The Aggie line will average over 210 pounds, backed up by such lettermen as center Clyde Wicker, guards Drew Christie and Jesus Esparanza, tackles Dale Canzo and Jim Tyre.

Coach Bill Heise's Tigers have been running through extensive drills in preparation for the A&M battle. Colorado College's ground attack ground out 150 yards against DU but passing yardage was woefully low. Pass defense is major falacy in the CC defense and will have to look sharp if the Tigers hope to stop Sanford.

There are more automobiles than telephones on American farms, U.S. census figures show.

Maytag Foundation
Offers Scholarships
To Worry Students

Scholarship awards and college grants with a total full value in excess of $45,000 are being made available to sons and daughters of the Maytag Company Foundation, Inc., and Newton, Ia., high school seniors.

The awards cover the full cost of tuition, special fees, and cash grants to help defray costs of such items as books, supplies and travel. In addition the Foundation is giving to each college or university which the scholarship winners will attend a special grant of $500 yearly per student.

Factors involved in making the selection of winners include high school grades, extra-curricular activities, evidences of leadership in the student body of the high school, work experiences after school and during vacation, apparent financial need and college entrance board examination results. A scholarship will ordinarily be renewed each year for four years upon a report from the institution that the student has maintained satisfactory scholastic averages and good standards of personal citizenship.

The Maytag Company Foundation, Inc., is a non-profit corporation founded in 1952 for religious, charitable, scientific and educational purposes.

Offer Exams to Fill
Dietician Positions

A new examination for filling dietetic inter positions in Veterans Administration hospitals in Los Angeles, Calif.; Bronx, N. Y.; Hines, Ill.; Memphis, Tenn.; and Houston, Tex., has been announced by the Civil Service Commission. The pay is $1,800 a year. Interns who successfully complete the 12 month's training course will be eligible for the position of staff dietitian paying $3,410 a year. Appropriate college study is required; no written test will be given. The age limits, waived for persons entitled to veteran preference, are 18 to 35 years.

CC Grad in Geology
Accepts Spot in Oil Firm

A Colorado College graduate in geology, Olan Shockley, son of Mrs. Pearl Shockley, 908 West Cucharras St., Colorado Springs, accepted a position with Cities Service Oil Company.

During his one-year training period in the company's junior engineer training school, he will be assigned to various divisions within the company, becoming familiar with its integrated operations, after which he will receive permanent assignment. His initial assignment is with the Oil Production Division at Lindsay, Okla. Shockley served with the United States Marine Corps from 1942 to 1946, previously attending high school in Colorado Springs.

A former student engineer for KRCC-FM, the college radio station, Bill Tyree, enlisted in the United States Army for three years. He is taking his basic training at Aberdeen, Md., as an electric fire control repairman. Then he expects to be transferred to Ft. Monmouth for 17 weeks of work on guided missiles. From

Crown Miss CC for 1953

DANCE AT ANTLERS HOTEL BALLROOM WILL FEATURE MUSIC BY RAY KRANZ

CC's all-school social activities begin in earnest tonight, October 2, at 8:30 with the Tiger-Nugget Ball. This traditional dance is being held in the Antlers hotel ballroom with Ray Kranz furnishing the music. As it is necessary to have the dance on a Friday night the dancing will end at 11:30. Freshmen and sophomores have been granted 12:00's. Highlighting the dance will be the crowning of Miss CC of 1953. Candidates for the crown this year there are five lovely co-eds. Barbara Cannon, Martha Kirtley, Gail Lund, Sue Flenniken and Les Sherman.

Tickets went on sale Monday and can be obtained from Chip Shaw, business manager of the Tiger or Jack Geary, business manager of the Nugget. They may also be obtained at the door. The tickets are two dollars per couple and will entitle each person attending to vote for Miss CC.

The chaperones for the dance will be Vicki Hann, Dr. Leech and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Chickles. Dress for the evening is semi-formal including anything from a cutaway to a sports jacket.

Let's all turn out for an evening of fun and dancing tonight.

Q.A. Grants 12:00's To Underclassmen For Dance Tonight

Q. A. has granted 12:00's for all freshmen and sophomores attending the Tiger-Nugget dance on Friday, Oct. 2. Juniors and seniors will have their regular 12:30 hours.

In an effort to promote better communication around campus, Q. A. has authorized each dorm to elect a Pep and Morale chairman. It will be the responsibility of this girl to keep her dorm informed on all campus activities and events each week.

Q. A. would like to remind the boys that girls be allowed in fraternity houses only when the housemother is present.

Kinnikinnik Staff Seeks New Talent

Has the literary bug bitten you? Do you feel the urge to write the Great American Novel and then sit back and watch the royalties roll in? If so, then the Kinnikinnik staff is looking forward to meeting you.

The 1954 Kinnikinnik is to be revitalized through the use of a new format and improved layout and fresh, new ideas are needed. Any sort of creative work will be welcomed—art, poetry, short prose, fiction, radio scripts, cartoons, even music manuscripts. No matter in what field your creative talents lie, Kinnikinnik will be very happy to publish some of your work.

If you are interested in the production end of the only student literature publication at Colorado College, then please contact Olga Yuklich at the earliest possible date. She is looking for additional staff members and your ideas will be welcomed.

Please remember, Kinnikinnik is a compilation of YOUR creative work and your participation is needed for an outstanding literary work. Let's make this the best one Colorado College has ever produced! With your help and talent it will be.

ELECT COMMISSIONERS OCTOBER 13TH; BALLOT BOXES TO BE IN PALMER HALL

Below are listed the nominee's for class commissioners. Elections will be October 13. Ballot boxes will be placed in Palmer on this date.

Sophomore nominees include Rule Olsen, Marylyn Smith, Carol Northcutt, Ed Beatty, Sue Stearman, Lowlie Sharpe, Mort Forester, John Price, Tom Lowry, and William B. Pollard.

Juniors included Carol Witter, Harold Cowen, Bill Howell, Sue

Initiate CC Council On World Affairs

The first meeting of the Colorado College Council on World Affairs will be held on Thursday, Oct. 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the Associated Students Room of Lennox House. Professor Douglas Mertz, chairman of the Political Science Department and faculty sponsor of the organization, announced today.

This will be an organizational meeting, at which the program for the coming year will be outlined and discussed, officers of the organization will be named, and the plans will be laid for representatives of the group to attend the Rocky Mountain International Relations Clubs Conference. This conference will be held at the University of Denver, Oct. 30-31, and the local club has been invited to send a delegation.

Membership in the group is open to all interested students, and the active participation of everyone on campus is cordially invited.

Music Dept. Forms Opera Laboratory

One of the progressive features of this year's program in the music department, Colorado College, is an opera laboratory now in the process of forming. The laboratory is open without charge to students of the college, as well as residents of Colorado Springs who are interested in studying operatic roles and participating in future productions.

It will be under the direction of Louis Hans Huber, new faculty member of the Music Department, who has coached and conducted opera in New York. Mr. Huber has studied opera repertory and conducting with such eminent maestros as Max Rudolf, Leon Barzin, and Dr. Ernst Knoch, and was on the conducting staff of the LaPuma Opera Theatre in New York City.

Mr. Huber believes that the enthusiasm displayed by the students over the project is a spark from the general conflagration of enthusiasm evidenced in opera workshops all over the country, and with the era of opera in English upon us, the colleges are pointing the way to an American Renaissance of the music drama.

Those interested in participating in the laboratory are requested to phone Mrs. Frances Pond, secretary of the Music Department, before October 10th at ME 4-3771, Ext. 41, for an appointment.

When CC Gives a Variety Show Everybody Can Get in the Act

The annual CC Campus Chest Drive Variety Show this year promises to surpass any previous productions. The staff is making early preparations for a successful show. The managers for this year's Variety Show are Sue Pfeiffer, production manager; Jack Geary and Rich Hays, business managers; Lynn Wigley and Bill Peters, music; Bob Kicklighter, Brook Kindred and Tom Freund, stage managers; and Ed MacGuire, house manager.

Auditions will be held Oct. 5th through the 17th at Perkins Hall. Acts which are being prepared now must be ready for auditioning at this time.

Each individual group and organization must be sure to contact Sue Pfeiffer on or before Saturday, Oct. 3. It is not too late for anybody who has not yet begun preparation of an act to start immediately.

As most of the students know, the purpose of the Variety Show is to support worthwhile charitable organizations chosen by the student body. In past years this CC annual production has been a financial success and has provided much needed help for certain charities. Previous casts have found working in the Variety Show to be not only very worthwhile but also very enjoyable. Remember that interested groups must contact Sue Pfeiffer by Saturday, Oct. 3.

Organize Drama Club For Campus Production

A dramatic club is in the process of being formed and everyone interested will please be at South Hall on Saturday, Oct. 3, 1953, at 3:00 p.m. for a short meeting. The purpose of this meeting will be to discuss possibilities for future productions. The Variety Show is soon, so if you are interested in show business, now is the time to show it.

This will be your own organization, so it is up to the group to select and produce the entertainment for the school year. Remember! Saturday at 3:00 in South Hall!

MEET FRIDAY

The Inter-denominational Organization will meet Friday, Oct. 9 in Lennox House at 4:15 p. m.

ELECTIONS TUESDAY

Cheerleader elections will be held after chapel Tuesday, Oct. 6.

69 Colorado College Students Maintain Place On Spring Semester Dean's List

The second semester 1953 Dean's List was recently released by Dean Adams. This semester a total of 26 freshmen, 20 sophomores, 23 juniors, and 46 seniors were recognized. The list shows very little change in the individual percentages of the classes. The second semester class percentages are as follows: freshmen, 9.5 percent; sophomores, 12.2 percent; juniors, 12.1 percent; and seniors, 30.3 percent.

CC is showing improvement in percentages over the previous years, although the sophomore percentage still remains slightly larger than the freshman. The senior percentage of 30.3 is the largest class increase. Last year's senior percentage was 25.45.

Those making the Dean's List are as follows:

Crown and Lance Plan Activities for the Year

Crown and Lance, the Independent Men's organization, held its first meeting of the year Monday night at its usual meeting place in Lennox House. The group's aim is to provide some of the advantages which fraternities offer, but to do away with what the group considers to be disadvantages in fraternity life.

Naturally, the group is more informal, and it also is smaller in numbers. The cost of membership is low, $3 a semester, or $5 a year. The group is subsidized by the ASCC, with a budget this year of $415, with which three all-school dances, the Winter Carnival, and other functions are held.

The group participates in intramural athletics and plans were set up Monday night for an intramural football team. All unaffiliated men, whether members of Crown and Lance or not, may play. Naturally the group wants to get as many new members as it can, but Independents who prefer not to join are still eligible to play intramural sports. Contact "Smitty" Smith in Hagerman Hall for info on practices and coming games.

All men who haven't joined fraternities are cordially invited to join, but Independents who don't want to join are still eligible to play intramural sports. Contact "Smitty" Smith in Hagerman Hall for info on practices and coming games.

Special Disc Program For College Students

Gerry Sparks, disc jockey on radio station KFEL's "Kiloycle Club"—an all-request record show broadcast Monday through Saturday from 10:30 p.m. to 12:00 midnight—announces a show designed for college and university students. Music will be dedicated and played upon response to telegraph and letter requests. In addition, Sparks reports school and student activities between records.

BRIDGE, CLASSICAL MUSIC, SOCK HOP, LEAD SCHEDULE IN STUDENT UNION MEET

Beginners Welcome at All Programs

Now's the time for all of you "intellects" to prove yourselves at the bridge tables. Oh! you can't play bridge? Well that doesn't really matter. We are going to have skilled players over at the STUDENT UNION, Friday, Oct. 2, at 4:00 p.m., so that anyone can either learn the game from the start or improve their present game. If this is met with as much enthusiasm as were the events of last week, we will endeavor to make this a permanent feature on Friday afternoons.

To follow up this bridge session, Professors Buyse will present his favorite classical records on Sunday at 4:00 p.m. Now if you are a person like myself—one who shies away from the "heavy music"—please don't! I promise you that the approach to these records won't be just serious in nature, but entertaining as well. Come stag or drag!

Next Thursday, Oct. 8, at 7:00, there will be a Sock Hop with prizes for the best pair of socks and for the best dancers. Chess, cards, a discussion on religion or science, and a jam session will be coming up in the next few weeks.

Because of the success of last week's programs I would like at this time to thank the many people who were responsible for this outcome. There were over 350 students at the jam session alone! For this support I certainly want to thank you and also to remind you that any time during the year you have any suggestions, complaints, or ideas, by all means please contact one of the following board members. We must have suggestions in order to act!

Don't forget the contest on this naming of the Lennox Grills.

THIS IS YOUR UNION. ONLY YOU CAN MAKE IT WORK!

SUC members: Gwen Jude, Mary Ellen Cruthirds, Martha Daily, Ed MacGuire, Bill Peters, Mort Forster, Vickie Hann.

Bemis Prexy; Varied Curriculum Mark College Life of Pat Hand

By CONNIE BROWN

"A specific program of positive action, accompanied by effective communication, is the keynote to a successful, smooth-running organization", says Pat Hand, president of Bemis Hall. Pat, a vivacious, blue-eyed New Englander from the coastal town of Darien, Connecticut, has managed to keep herself in the background of campus life; doing a prodigious amount of work but receiving little notoriety.

After spending two years at the Art Students League in New York City, Pat returned last year to CC to complete her junior and senior years. In recognition of her high scholastic ability, CC has awarded her the Cowles tuition scholarship for three years.

In the past, Pat has done illustrations for the Kinnikinnik, made decorations for a Sadie Hawkins dance and been a member of the stage crew at Fine Arts Center productions. Last year, this artistic gal made a great hit in the variety show with her drawings to music. Heading up the committee from the Delta Gamma Homecoming float is only one of many posts she has held in her sorority. In general, her duties as Bemis Hall president can be listed as follows:

1. She is responsible for the general leadership of Bemis and carrying out suggestions made by her council.
2. She must delegate work to committees and proper officers.
3. She presides over hall meetings which are held every Monday night after closing hours. She also holds a hall council meeting after the hall meeting is over.

This cut and dried summary does not acknowledge the individual counselling she does. Pat knows by name each and every one of the 90 girls in her dorm. Each girl is her friend and knows that she can come to Pat with any problem, however great or small, at almost any hour of the day or night.

During the past two weeks (Freshman Week and Rush Week) duty was doubled for the officers of Bemis. There were new girls coming in, who needed help in getting settled in their strange surroundings. There were Hall Council meetings every day. Pat worked closely with all her seven counselors to carry out the established Freshman Week program.

This hard-working girl told me, "This year we organized our own Bemis Hall welcoming program with parties on each floor to enable the girls to get to know each other quicker and more informally." In addition to all this, Pat personally contacted each girl in the dorm.

Throughout the year, the job of any hall president on campus is to try to promote unity, once having achieved a unified dorm, keep it that way. One of the ways Bemis Hall administration has tried to do this in the past is to have a

DAISY MAE IS OUT FOR LI'L ABNER; GALS PAY AS THE GUYS GET WEIGHED

This ain't Dogpatch, but it will be on Saturday night, Oct. 10. The marriage license bureau will be open, and Marryin' Sam will be on duty from 8:30 until 11:30. But look out for Wolf Gal, 'cause she'll be on the loose that night for sure! Red hot music will be provided for all you dancin' Daisy Maes and leavin' Li'l Abners. hill project on which all the girls work together.

This project may be collecting used clothing to be sent abroad, or making dolls for the Child Day Care Center of Colorado Springs.

These projects, all of a charitable nature, serve to make the girls more conscious of their oneness as a dorm, regardless of their campus affiliations.

Pat seeks to make good use of the groups which girls normally form among themselves during the year as they become closer acquainted.

"We have devised a system of spontaneous gab sessions that will take place at no particular time or place but just when a counselor notices that the girls seem to have something on their minds."

On each floor, these small groups can come together in a counselors room and hush over any ideas, negative or positive. Valuable and workable plans have come from groups like this. Pat plans to keep in regular contact with her counselors about the results of these gab sessions. Then, when some really novel and original ideas are brought forth, she will see that they reach the people or organizations on campus that they concern.

It wouldn't be fair to Pat to forget to say that she thoroughly enjoys her job. As a future art teacher, she loves people. She enjoys being with people and working in close contact with them. Pat says, "It's a real education to be with Bemis Hall girls. You learn something new and interesting about people every day."

For the two couples wearing the most outlandish get-ups, prizes will be given. Pick out any character and put on yo' Sunday best. Don't forget, we need a few Mummy and Pappy Yokums to chaperone all them young folks. Cider and donuts will take the place of Li'l Abner's pork chops for the evening. So—grab yourself a skinny guy and come to Cos-sipatch Saturday night!

All the proceeds will be given to the Campus Chest, so come on, all yo' Abner fans, and support our Campus Chest!

Christian Science Campus Organization Holds Reception

The Christian Science Campus Organization held a reception last Sunday afternoon in the ASCC room of Lennox House. The group was privileged to have as its guest speaker, Mr. Arthur P. Wuth, of Denver, on the Committee of Publication for the state of Colorado. Mr. Wuth's stimulating talk was followed by refreshments and an informal discussion.

The organization will hold meetings every week on Thursdays at 7:15 in the library of the Hayes House. Anyone who is connected with Colorado College and is interested in Christian Science is welcome to attend these meetings. It is hoped that those who are not Christian Scientists but who wish to know more about it will feel free to come to the meetings.

There will also be an election of officers. Everyone is welcome!

CC Delegates Meet With Other College At AWS Conference

A delegation from Colorado College conferred with representatives of other colleges from the vicinity at a regional A.W.S. Conference at Bailey, Colorado, Sept. 26-27.

Sue Beer, Marcia Manning, and George Shaw, Colorado College A.W.S. officers; Jane Carroll, W.P.A. executive; and Miss Sallie Payne Morgan and Miss Martha Campbell, advisors, presented the viewpoint of Colorado College in discussions with conferees from the Universities of Colorado, Wyoming, and Denver; Colorado Women's College, Lovett Heights, Colorado A.E.M., and Colorado State College of Education.

The topic which the CC panel, moderated by Marcia Manning, presented was "how to interest freshmen in college activities." The final discussion of the afternoon was "how to prepare college women for civic responsibility."

Sunday morning's discussion centered around "what A.W.S. can contribute to other organizations for women, to the dormitories, and to the college as a whole".

CC Religious Clubs Plan Full Schedule

CANTERBURY CLUB

The Canterbury Club will meet at Grace Church this Sunday at 2:00 p. m. From there they will go to Woodland Park for a horseback riding trip through the mountains. The group plans to be back at the church by 6:00. For further details and reservations please contact Molly Bishop at ME 3-0150.

METHODIST ORGANIZATION

The first meeting of the Methodist Student Movement was held September 22nd at Lennox House. Twenty five students were present and the following officers were elected: Rosie Santerre, president; Ardron Wolfgang, veep; Pat Pierce, social chairman; Evelyn Cummings, program chairman.

JONATHAN EDWARDS CLUB

A meeting of the Jonathan Edwards Club is slated for Sunday, Oct. 4th at 7:15. It will take place in the Gregg Library just west of the Congregational Church.

AWS ACTIVITIES

By MARION SHAW

The first A.W.S. board meeting of the year was held in the A.W.S. room in Ticknor on Sept. 25.

First on the agenda was unfinished business from the A.W.S. Conference at Star Ranch. Plans for the A.W.S. Assembly suggested at the conference were discussed. Anne Pinkney, vocational guidance chairman, gave the report which she did not make at the conference because of her absence.

According to this report, the vocational guidance committee will manage the bulletin board in the A.W.S. room, will post vocational guidance center notices on other campus bulletin boards, and will describe functions of the vocational guidance center to hall meetings. Also, Anne's committee will be in charge of publicizing the rules, etc., of the "Prix de Paris" and "College Board" contests. As usual, this committee will continue other phases of its close work with the college vocational guidance center.

Mary Ellen Cruthirds was appointed to be the new scholarship chairman of A.W.S. She is taking the place of Jane Ellis, who did not return to CC this year. The scholarship committee will collaborate with the vocational guidance committee.

Sue Beer reported progress of the baby-sitting plan to be offered to the faculty and announced the success of the A.W.S. Book Store. The success of this project is largely due to the efforts of Patsy Carter, co-chairman of the service committee.

Members of A.W.S. committees who are not doing committee work at present will be contacted in the future by their committee chairman, for there are a number of A.W.S. projects in the offing which require help. Service and publicity committee members will be needed in particular.

The next meeting of the A.W.S. board will be on October 8. Mr. Kay Freyschlag will visit this meeting to tell the board something about the college publicity program, its problems and techniques, and to inform the board members how they can be of service to the publicity department.

Willa Freeman Named Queen At Sig Chi Watermelon Bust

Last Saturday at the Sigma Chi house, from amidst a shower of pits and watermelon rinds, a new campus queen emerged. She is Willa Freeman of Houston, Texas, a Gamma Phi pledge. Willa plans to follow a career of journalism. She is on the staff of the Kinnikinnik, a CC student publication, and is an official TIGER-NUGGET photographer. Before attending college, Willa was president of a creative writing society at her high school in Houston.

Miss Freeman was crowned Miss Watermelon of 1953 after a close contest between five campus beauties, each representing a women's organization. To the music of Bob Bell's lively combo, the girls were called to a platform erected in the middle of the back yard. There they participated in a watermelon eating contest, followed by the judging by five prominent officials.

Among the highlights of the afternoon was a watermelon eating contest between the various housemothers on campus. Well covered, the "girls" dove into the watermelons with the fervor of veterans.

When the spray cleared, Mother Brusse, the Phi Delta housemother, was declared winner. The prize for this feat was a plaster of Paris Angus bull with appropriate inscription.

To complete the festivities was the judging of the booths built by the various women's organizations. For their theme, "lights out", the Delta Gamma's received first prize.

HERE IS WILLA FREEMAN (center), Sigma Chi Watermelon Queen for 1953, and her melon-holding court. Major League All-Stars to Clash Here;
CC to Face Big Test Saturday for RMC

Baseball fans of this immediate area will have just enough time to recover from the series when the Major League All-Stars clash here in an exhibition game to be played in Memorial Stadium at 1 p. m. on October 10.

Some of baseball's greatest names will be teamed against each other under the director of Paul Richards and Ed Lopat. After their season-long tour here and in Denver, Lopat's squad will fly to Japan for an exhibition.

Some of the ball players making an appearance will be Robin Roberts, Bob Lemon, Billy Pierce, Dave Philley, Mickey Mantle, Nelson Fox, and many other National and American League stars.

Tickets for the attraction will be on sale at Memorial field at regular prices.

While on the subject of baseball we will pick the Dodgers in this series over the Yanks in six, possibly seven games. The Yanks have a slight edge in pitching but the Dodgers' power hitting will tell the tale in this year's series.

FOOTBALL—CC will have their biggest test this weekend as they meet Idaho State in their conference opener. Idaho State has been picked by the sports writers to take the conference crown but Colorado College and Western State also look good for the title from where we sit.

CC has lost their first two games but both times have been the underdog while Western State won their first two games, beating New Mexico Western and Colorado Mines in decisive victories. Idaho State has been in action only once, losing to E. Washington State, so on this basis we will give Idaho State the nod in this game.

One of the bigger upsets last week was the Purdue-Missouri game in which Purdue fell to Missouri in a 14-7 thriller. The big upset in our area was the Colorado A&M-Kansas State game in which Colorado was the victor, 14-13.

Another surprise was the Illinois-Nebraska game in which the Illini had to fight from behind to gain a tie with a fired-up Nebraska squad. The week before Nebraska dropped at the hands of Oregon.

Last week the power teams of the nation were Wisconsin in victory over Penn State, Army over Furman, 41-0, and Michigan over Washington, 50-0.

In the game of prediction last week we picked six of nine games for a percentage of 66 2/3. We muffed on Illinois, CC, and Purdue. This week we will pick Missouri over Colorado U by six points, another close game in this area will be the DU-Colorado A&M game. A&M is a bit more polished and should win the game.

In the RMC we will give bids to Idaho State, and Western State. Western and Montana State should be close but we will give the game to Western State by six.

On the national front we will pick Army over Northwestern, Illinois over Stanford, So Cal should have no trouble with Indiana, and Maryland should walk away with Clemson. Michigan, a

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By Karl Holz

The RMC football title may be decided this coming Saturday when Idaho State defends their 1952 title against Colorado College at Pocatello, October 3. This will be the first conference game for each team and it should be an even match. Idaho State has lost one game while CC has suffered two losses, both to teams with a definite weight advantage.

Western State, 25-7 victor over Montana State, Montana State dropped Colorado Mines with an identical 25-7 score in their first conference game of the year. With Western's fleet backfield and Montana's hard charging line, this will be a good contest.

Colorado State's unimpressive appearance against Western State has put them in a bad position for any title hopes. Their next game is against Adams State in which the Bears are favored.

Colorado Mines dropped their first conference game to Montana State, thus giving them two losses. Their coming game with New Mexico Military Institute may be their first win of the season.

Colorado College's first home game will be played under the lights against Omaha University. The date is October 10 at 8:00 p. m.

Frosh Lose to Pueblo; Replay Indians Monday

The Colorado College freshman football team was handed its first loss of the 1953 season by the Pueblo Junior College Indians, 19-6, at Pueblo last Monday night.

Pueblo tallied its first six pointers in the initial stanza with Selestino Elizondo driving it over to climax a 60-yard give. Quarterback Leroy Pexoldt passed to end Bernie Brown for the second Indian T.D. midway throughout the second period.

CC came to life in the final quarter when Emelao Mascarenas hit paydirt from the eight yard line. Pueblo wound up the evening's scoring as Pexoldt accounted for another Pueblo tally, cracking over from the six.

Tigers Out After First Victory, ISC to Protect Title Saturday

The two top contenders for Rocky Mountain Conference football honors will battle it out Saturday afternoon when the home team, Idaho State Bengals, clash with Colorado College at Pocatello's Stud Bowl. Coach Babe Caccia's Bengals will be facing probably the worst threat to their drive for the school's second straight RMC pigskin title. CC took runner-up honors in 1952 with only a 17-6 loss to ISC, marring its conference slate. Both squads will be seeking their first win of the 1953 campaign. State lost its opener to Eastern Washington State College 13-6 two weeks ago while Coach Bill Heise's Tigers have dropped two in a row—Donner University and New Mexico A&M.

With only 12 lettermen back from last year's crew the Idaho aggregation is figured to be somewhat weaker than last year. All three of State's all-conference selections have transferred to other schools while the military draft claimed four outstanding lettermen. Scholastic difficulties and marriage accounted for the loss of five others. One encouraging point for the Bengals is the array of talent in the freshman class, who are expected to fill the gaps.

Idaho State's forward wall will include letterman Vern Ravston, a transfer from Southern Idaho College at center; Vern Herzog and Percy Christiansen at the guard posts; 205 pounder Howard Green and Paul Lemon, a transfer from Eastern Arizona State, will hold down the tackle positions, while senior and three-year letterman Nolan Ford, along with Ed Cathcart should see a great deal of action at the end slots. In the backfield Larry Brackenbury will be back at quarterback; Doran Conner, an outstanding freshman in '52, and Merlin Howard will be at the half positions. Clarence Han and Merlin Felton are expected to alternate at fullback.

The Tigers have gotten off to a slow start but should be up far what is probably the most important game of the season. Colorado College picked up 168 yards on the ground against A&M, but again fell short in the passing department. Defensively the line showed little improvement over the Denver game.

Next week CC opens a three-week home stand against Omaha University. Following that game Montana State and Western will invade Washburn Field for conference tilts.

Tigers Drop to New Mexico, 12-7

New Mexico's A&M's massive forward wall effectively throttled Colorado College's offensive attack to enable the homesledding Aggies to ek out a 12-7 win over the visiting Tigers on Sept. 26th at Las Cruces.

The loss was the second straight for Coach Bill Heise's Tigers who were unable to gain noticeably against the Aggie line which averaged a stout 295 pounds. Lowell Slocum's 95-yard T.D. run was the only bright spot in the game for CC. That dash accounted for nearly two-thirds of the locals' total yardage.

Both A&M scores came as the result of Tiger fumbles. Lawrence Lopez tallied the initial six pointer after Ed Boyken's fumble recovery on the Tiger 34. The other tally came when Jim Nellis fell on a CC fumble on the Tiger 39 yard line. Four plays later Jimmy Hayes cracked away from eight yards out.

Slocum's run came in the fourth quarter after the Tigers had stopped A&M on the six inch line. Two plays moved the pigskin to the five. With a minute and 25 seconds remaining the speedy Colorado College halfback broke the New Mexicans' line, drifted to the side line and broke clear for the score.

Individual stars for the Tigers, besides Slocum, included fullback Roger Bildeist, center Ken Baird and guards Terry Burk and Bud Creenco. For the Aggies Jesus Eatarza, Ed Boyken, Dale Cantz and Crew Christie turned in top performances.

ONLY FORTY MINUTES—TO USE OR ABUSE?

Tuesday morning at 10:00 a.m. finds members of the student body and faculty converging in Show. Only at this time of the week are we united, all four classes under one roof to meditate on the week's events and the incidentals that shape our lives. It is a time for quiet thought and humility—for only forty minutes a week we are asked to observe silence and prayer.

Sitting in our midst are new students whose impressions are formed by the behavior of so called upperclassmen. These people, at least some of them, must be appalled. Common courtesy, if nothing else, should curtail talking, knitting and just plain showing off. We all recall high school assemblies where the class clowns were always prominent, unfortunately we seem to have the same situation at CC.

People of college level are expected to think on a higher plane than the average man, simply because he or she is above the average. Shows ridiculous after a chapel service, doesn't it?

Regardless of what denomination or religious beliefs we may cherish no one can deny that the chapel is meant to be a house of worship on our campus. We do not worship the speaker or speakers—we supposedly worship in our own private way our own idea of God. When we attend the church of our choice—we do not take a newspaper along to read the sports page or sit and talk to our friends in a normal tone of voice. Why don't we? Because socially we would be disgraced and asked to leave.

It seems that on the campus it is acceptable to insult the chapel speaker who is often times a stranger from the surrounding area who carries away with him definite impressions of CC.

Why do we allow some people in chapel to be ill-mannered and immature? Why do we accept this mode of behavior without comment?

The students should not accept it. There is a definite type of behavior that anyone of adult level accepts when in church. That self-control is what is needed on Tuesday mornings.

If necessary, members of the Red Lantern should circulate and maintain order or ask ill-mannered people to leave to be dealt with later by college authorities. This is a childish way to be dealing with college people but unfortunately some are slow in maturing and often assume childish behavior which can only be dealt with by adults.

Look around you next week and remind the newspaper reader or the giggling girl on your right that God is being represented in his or her presence and they should show some means of communication with Him or at least keep quiet so that others may do so.

Although chapel is required it should be respected. The present world conditions exemplify man's disregard of the basic concepts of life—the worship of God. Let's not forget that forty minutes a week is not too much to sacrifice for what we all have as college students, and above all Americans, the privilege of being able to worship God. Stop abusing this privilege.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

September 9, 1953

Dear Tom:

It's already a long time ago since I left the states and took my boat in New York, but I was so busy all the time that I failed to sit down and write to you. Please excuse this delay which is not entirely my personal fault.

I don't know whether I told you already that I made a marvelous trip through the West before going back to the East. Together with some friends of mine I visited the Grand Canyon, Zion, Bryce, and some other National Parks. I really think that these regions belong to the most beautiful places of this world and it really is a pity that Europe knows only about Hollywood and not about the wonders of the National Parks.

Having said "Goodbye" to the West I went to Chicago and from there to Washington, where I spent two wonderful days. I loved your capitol and I think that Washington is next to San Francisco the most beautiful city in the United States. Since I didn't know the New England states I gladly accepted an invitation of Pete Woodin and stayed some days with his family in Kent in Connecticut. I really enjoyed the countryside which is in many respects similar to Southern Westphalia. In New York I stayed with the family of Doug Morgan and I had a wonderful time. Then—all too suddenly—the date of my departure arrived and I had to leave that country I like most besides my own one. My trip on the "Independence" to Gibraltar, Cannes, and Genoa was a very pleasant one and I enjoyed it immensely. From Genoa I took a train through Italy and Switzerland to Germany and I arrived at home on July 10.

During the months of July and August I had a couple of friends staying with me. Among them was Mid Gammel from the College. I was happy that it was now my turn to show them my country.

At the time being I am working in the business of my father and besides that I do some studying and reading. November 2nd I'll continue my studies of Political Science and Economics at the University of Cologne.

Last Sunday we had our National Elections and—as you probably know already—they turned out to be a great victory for Adenauer and his party, the Christian Democrats. It seems to me that his victory is not only good for Germany but also for Europe, since he is the only European statesman with a strong power behind him, who is working for the United States of Europe. No thinking man however can doubt that the unification of Europe is the only solution of the problem of European existence. Thus I think the Germans did well to elect Adenauer, even if some French newsmen fear that Germany will become a strong power again. But is it unlawful or even immoral to become strong by working? Many Germans think that it is not reasonable to remain weak only because the French don't become strong. The French problem can't be solved by German weakness but only by a real reform of the French political system and thoughts. The longer the Communists have time to influence the Eastern European Youth the more we need a new system of federal unity of the Western European countries. Since it is almost a natural law that the integration of some states will be succeeded by the association of other states, I am quite confident that the unification of a part of Europe will be only the first step of the unity of whole Europe.

Now, dear Tom, I would be very glad, if you could give this letter and all my greetings to all my friends in the College. I am pretty busy just now and I am awfully sorry to say that I don't have time enough to write to them all. If you have any possibility to do so I would be very grateful.

I want to thank you and all my friends once more for the wonderful hospitality at the College, especially at the houses of Phi Delta Theta and Beta Theta Pi. And please, remember that you are very welcomed when you have a chance to come to Germany.

Hoping to hear from you about life at CC, I am sending you my best wishes.

As ever,

ASCC NOTES

By Bill Howell

Discussion of campus leadership and improvement of the school in general highlighted the Student Council meeting Monday.

Two measures were to be returned to organizations for a count vote, (1) No person could hold more than one of the following offices in one year: president of the student body, AWS president, Honor Council president, QTA president, editor of the Tiger, and editor of the Nugget. This measure was brought about in an effort to improve leadership. (2) The telephone system and service should be improved. If a majority vote is given in favor of the first proposition, it will then be advanced as a by-law in the ASCC Constitution. The second proposition will be taken to the CUL for further action.

Kathy Smith, chairman of the foreign student committee, reported that at the committee meeting it was decided to make sure the students wholeheartedly supported the program before any plans were drawn up. A straw vote was taken by the council members and it was found that the council was unanimously in favor of a new foreign student program. The committee then reported that they wished to sponsor three students if the finances could be worked out satisfactorily. When the program is in good working order, it is hoped to enlist the help of the administration in regard to getting financial aid for at least one more student.

Sue Pfeiffer, ASCC social chairman, announced that any person or organization that wishes to participate in the forthcoming Campus Chest Variety Show must see her and turn in a description of the proposed act by October 3. Auditions for the show will be held from October 5 thru October 17. All acts must be near completion by that time.

Student Democracy Usurped?

An incident occurred on Tuesday of this week which thoroughly demonstrates the integrity and maturity of college students, especially here at Colorado College. The AWS ballot box was stolen from the desk leading down to the Tighers' Lair. The purpose of having this box was to give the students of this college an opportunity to choose the name they desired for the grill in Lennox house. The details for this were set up in last week's TIGER.

But for some unknown reason, probably as spite against the grill under the new system this year, someone decided to call a halt to the whole project by removing the ballot box. In the first place, it is a breach of discipline to interfere with any balloting procedures at CC. Secondly, removing the box does not in any way solve or lessen the problem. And thirdly, it does not in any way demonstrate any intelligence or smartness, but only labels the person or persons involved as devoid of the principles of honor and integrity demanded of even the most basic college student.

It is assumed that the box will be returned in due time, for what possible use it would be to any student, outside the normal and official ballot procedures carried on by this college. But returning it still will not lessen the grievousness of the offense. What are the students of Colorado College going to do about this incident? Will you allow a similar incident to occur?

Mille Magazine Offers Writing Chance to All Interested Girls

The Mademoiselle College Board Contest, sponsored by Mademoiselle magazine, will be open for all interested girls. Five girls will be chosen to represent CC in this contest. All those interested must notify the Tiger office or leave their names in one of the Tiger boxes by Monday, October 12.

Final entries will write a 1,500 word criticism of Mille's August 1953 College issue. The criticism must contain a general discussion of the issue as a whole—what you liked, what you didn't like and what changes you would have made. After completing the first requirements, then select your field of interest to criticize in detail.

The twenty girls chosen as first place winners will receive a salary in New York City writing and editing Mademoiselle's 1954 College issue. They will also have the opportunity to meet many top-flight authors and editors.

Patricia Starrels, member of the 1950 graduating class, received one of these guest scholarships.

Further details will be furnished by the Tiger office to those girls who are interested.

Form Religious Council To Get Student Opinion

An Interdenominational Religious Council was formed last spring by students of various denominations. A constitution was drawn up and submitted to the Student Council and to the Committee on Undergraduate Life for approval. Unanimous approval was given by both of those bodies, and there seemed to be a genuine enthusiasm for the project.

The council hopes (1) to co-operate in informing college students of the interesting and profitable programs now being carried on for their benefit by the various churches in Colorado Springs, (2) to help in the planning of the College Chapel services, so that the interests of students will be more adequately met, and (3) to spearhead and sponsor a "Religion in Life" week, possibly this year.

The first meeting of the council is October 9 at 4:15 in Lennox.

CC Players Plan Year of Productions

The Colorado College Players, active campus group, held their first meeting Saturday to get plans under way for this year's activities. Club plans include three productions of their own, as well as helping with programs of the drama and music departments.

The Players wish to remind you that membership is open to anyone interested in acting, producing, make-up, props, or any phase of drama. The next meeting will be Wednesday evening at 7:30 in South Hall.

Can she catch her man? Running across campus is Don Pixley, but in close pursuit follows Liz Maier.

Whoops! Look out Liz, he's almost over the wall and out of sight!

Marryin' Sam, Bill Peters, finally joins the couple in blissful wedlock, and the merry chase is over.

Dogpatchers will Invade C.C. At Annual Sadie Hawkins Dance

Have you found your skinny man yet? If not, you better get busy because this Saturday, October 10, is the Sadie Hawkins' Day Dance. The Daisy Maes—that's you, gal—will pay an admittance fee of a penny a pound for the Li'l Abners—you lucky guy, you! This money will be given to the campus chest fund, and from there it will be contributed to ten needy organizations. And listen, good Dogpatchers, don't forget to wear your best burlap sack and bib and tucker! Really put yourself out for these costumes, because there will be two really stupendous prizes given for the two best outfits!

The marriage license bureau will be opened at 10:00 p.m. by Marryin' Sam. And who do you think will be Marryin' Sam? None other than the inimitable Bill Peters! A simple wedding will cost 25¢, but if you really want to shoot the works on this, the biggest day of your life, then Marryin' Sam has a special service for you alone!

Really smooth dance music will be provided from 10:00 to 1:00—after the game next Saturday with Omaha University. Bob Bell and his fabulous musicians will provide the music—soft, and low, and every now and then a loud and noisy number. Dancing will be good in spite of the straw on the floor!

If you get tired of tripping the light fantastic, there will be as many brief pauses as the Daisy Mae's can provide for refreshments. The order of the day will be cider and doughnuts.

Chaperones for this Cossitpatch dance will be Dr. and Mrs. Keneth Curran and Dr. and Mrs. Richard Fox. We hope they will arrive in Mammy and Pappy Yukon style, but we think you'll recognize them anyway.

Remember, all yo' Daisy Maes—this coming Saturday from 10:00 to 1:00 in Cossitt. And don't forget the pennies. It's a time like this that a 98 pound weakling is very much appreciated.

Sadie Hawkins Dance Will Start Annual Campus Chest Drive

There is talk around that CC's Campus Chest will begin soon. What is the purpose of this drive for money? This seems to be a question everyone asks each year when they are asked to donate to the Campus Chest. We will try to answer that first.

Two years ago the CC student body voted in chapel to support ten charitable organizations by contribution to the campus chest. At this time speeches were presented on more than twenty charities and the student body chose the ten they wanted to support. These are those organizations:

Podler Parents' Plan for War Children, Inc., American Cancer Society, American Heart Assoc., United Cerebral Palsy, CC Fund for Foreign Students, Community Chest, CARE, Assoc. on American Indian Affairs and the El Paso County Tuberculosis Association.

The Sadie Hawkins dance traditionally is the starting point of the drive. It is an all-school dance with all the proceeds going to the Campus Chest. This year the dance is scheduled for Sat., Oct. 10 after the Omaha-CC football game. If you haven't gotten a date—get out and support a worthwhile cause and at the same time have a good time.

Soliciting for the Campus Chest will begin Monday, Oct. 19 thru Saturday, Oct. 31. During these two weeks each student, faculty and administration member will be asked to donate. YOU will be asked—open your heart and purse for these charities.

The Variety Show will top off the chest drive on Nov. 17, 18, 19, and 20. As most of the Variety Show is a student talent show. If you've got some talent—let us use it for the show. This will be your best chance to contribute to CC's Campus Chest.

CC's 1953 Campus Chest Drive promises to be the biggest yet. Red Lantern, senior men's honorary organization and Wakuta, the women's honorary athletic society are to be the back bone of this year's drive. It is going to be based on a contest between the male population of the campus against the female. Wakuta will solicit from the women while Red Lantern will do the same from the men. Oversized thermometers will be placed in Palmer for everyone to see the progress of the perennial fight between male and female.

There can't be enough said on the importance of the student body support of the Campus Chest. Stop and think—and we know you will give.

VARIETY SHOW TRYOUTS OPEN; TALENT NEEDED

The Variety Show, a production made up of the combined talents of CC students, will be held on November 17, 18, 19, and 20. The purpose of the show is to support the CC Campus Chest. Anyone may tryout with a skit, song or dance. Preparations should begin at once.

Each individual or group interested must contact Sue Pfeiffer this week. The nature of the act must be reported and a date set for an audition. Audition schedules will be posted at Palmer Hall, Bemis Hall and South Hall. Check these places each week and appear for your audition on time. Time is short and the show will be here before we realize it.

Music, Commercial, And Radio Courses Garry Credit

Band, choir, radio (334, 335, 336), shorthand, and typing may carry credit toward a bachelor's degree, as long as the total amount of credit from all courses listed above does not exceed eight semester hours.

Students enrolled in these courses should register for credit, should be responsible for all the work of the course, and should take such examinations as are given.

Contest Later

The AWS ballot box has been returned, but is being used for other purposes at this time. The naming for the grill in Lennox will be continued at a later date. Some good suggestions were turned in before the box disappeared.

ACTION WANTED!

For five straight years the CC campus has been a sanctuary for one or more prowlers. For five straight years girls representing the dorms have made complaints to the administration about this situation. These complaints have been accompanied by suggestions which under the circumstances have not been and, unfortunately, are not out of the question.

Some of these suggestions have been: campus police, city police patrol, at least adequate lighting. Last year as the result of a fresh outbreak of incidents some lights were put in the hitherto unlighted spots on campus. While the results were far from satisfactory it did show a definite admission on the part of the administration that this situation was real and that it was not impossible for the students to expect some action.

Until the other day all the complaints had come from the campus group most strongly effected by this situation—the girls. Yesterday at ASCC a strong complaint was registered by another group, the men. It seems that the efforts of these two groups which combine to make an important group on campus, the student body, and the frequent and serious incidents this year may combine to bring us some of the protection and preventive measures we have requested for many years now.

It remains to be seen if this will be another false hope or if we will have to wait even longer until something serious enough happens to shock the administration out of its state of lethargy into assuming its much heralded position of acting in "loco parentis".

—Margaret Fellows.

ORGANIZATION BUT....

Organization is necessary for the best of plans. Organization and utmost effect go hand in hand. Organization and cooperation are dependent on each other. Organization is a must for important accomplishments. Organization is the essence of efficiency.

But, it can be overdone—and is overdone on this campus. It destroys the independent, exceptional person. It disgusts the willing and enthusiastic person. It can weaken the willing support of a group. It leaves little place for the individual worker.

The student's attention and time is so divided that the important functions are overlooked as such. The multi-conventions, panel discussions, reports, and meetings are choking out those who once desired to lead. This vast over-organization makes students unable to discriminate between the important and the trivial.

Instead of these organizations helping the school, they are hindering it. There are many students here that would like to become an active part of such groups, but are leery because of the distaste of such a vicious circle these groups have developed.

It is about time the heads of the powerful groups on campus stop over-developing and over-delegating their power and require fewer reports from needless committees so that the important ones can be most effective.

—Susan Beer.

TO THE ADMINISTRATION AND THE STUDENTS OF COLORADO COLLEGE

I appeal to you for your help in supporting and demanding action for a situation which has been allowed to exist on our campus for the last five years. I am talking about the so-called "prowler" who roams about our campus accosting our coeds. This problem is perhaps hardest for the residents of Gregg and Howbert Houses who must cross the campus going back and forth from dinner and the library usually between the hours of 6:00 and 9:30. It has not been confined solely to these girls however. We need to take action before we parallel the brutal slayings on the campuses of Colorado University and Iowa University. Nothing this serious has yet happened on our college campus and I sincerely hope it doesn't. It can and will happen unless we take definite action to prevent it and we must act now. I have proposed a system, if followed, can help curb this situation.

1. We should have adequate police protection, such as a prowler car making periodic rounds of our campus. On these rounds I suggest that they use the spotlights to help reduce temptation. Further more when one of our coeds is confronted with this situation we should have a quiet police investigation to help catch this local maniac.

2. We should have a uniformed guard to walk a beat on the chapel side of the campus. This guard should be physically capable of carrying out his duties.

3. We should have installed on campus a sodium lighting system. These lights should be controlled by an interior switch and accessible to only one man—the guard.

Such a system would also reduce vandalism to our fraternity houses and cars, as well as offering security to our coeds. True that two of the above proposals cost money but to me any amount of money is insignificant when compared to the life that might be saved. The adoption of all of the above proposals would be unique; however, the adoption of one or two of them would be a marked improvement over our present inadequate system. This problem concerns every one of us either directly or indirectly, so I repeat, let's act now before it is too late. I thank you for hearing me out, and I certainly hope that you take it to heart.

Respectfully yours,

Chuck Mollin.

Ed. Note: Three incidents have been reported this year while the semester is just three weeks old.

IT IS GOOD TO SEE...

It is good to see that the administration has finally taken action to provide the students here at Colorado College with a decent street service on west campus.

It is good to see that the Growlers and Tigers have taken a little more interest and pride in their organizations and duties here on the campus.

It is good to see that some attempt has been made to form Lennox into a real student union, instead of that building where books and coffee can be bought.

It is good to see the increase in spirit, interest and enthusiasm on the campus, especially among the freshmen students.

It is good to see the student council taking some positive action, instead of just talking the matter over, on numbers of our campus problems; notably the inadequate telephone system on campus, the "prowler", and the recommendations of last spring's leadership conference.

Roos View
FROSH LIFE

The trial is on! All of us little roos are really scared. Some of us are called up to take a bow and get some sort of crazy antics for doing nothing making someone Growl. Then it happens. While one of us is getting his head shaved, our masculine friend decides to move. "Yipee! how I love fights." Come on gang," barks George, "get those flour buckets. And then she goes, one bucket after another of flour all over the place. It is beautiful from my position but not so from George's. All us roos of the weaker sex just sit and laugh. I dream of the day we can show our spirit, but wouldn't it be fun in the midst of all this lovely haze!

"Down with the Red Lantern! Tame the Tigers! Cage those Growlers!" is barked forever it seems until the reddest of all the Red Lantern booms out with, "shut up you all" and silence gradually falls upon us. Oh misery! "Carry on," is the other and more names are called out. As for me, I squeeze down as far as possible just praying I won't be growled at; and I'm not, this time. "We up here know some of the crazy antics given to our humble clan I'd like to let you in on a few. How inhuman can some be to make one pip-squeak of a roo carry a pair of seven foot skis around all day. Others have to exchange clothes with their opposite sex, which shows that the boys have legs also! Wearing three foot green bows and green socks, 24 pig tails in one's hair, and having to carry lanterns around are the least of our worries, I fear.

"We up here leave every tonight to let our fellow freshies start cleaning up. Thank heavens I'm of the weaker sex! Then we are off to Bemis to have a big pow-wow. Oh-oh, can't leave out telling of our revolting spirit on the way over. The fire burns within us to capture a Tiger and take her yellow jacket, but order get the best of us and said no. That didn't satisfy, however, for the man grew and practically flared into riot—real freshman spirit. Finally we gave into the more civilized methods and thought that "the sessions" might come to a better conclusion.

Here we are on third gathered in one room. It is really gay, with thirty hens all cackling at one and the excitement rising so high that a picture is usually taken on the wall. One suggests looking at the Tigers in their closets; another, drastic as stringing them out. Some like to get tough and show the Red Lantern how to cut him by cornering one and pretending to make mad love—then SNIP! These are trying hours for everyone. Time flies, while the whole dorm is in a turmoil. Phones buzz—Alas! no bow and paddles tomorrow.

Just you wait Tigers! A fierce Tiger you may be, but Growler with growl so bold Yet, can the Red Lantern really see, What lies ahead from us Freshies.

Gill to Attend Two Porleys for U. S. Educators

William H. Gill, Colorado College president, left last Monday for Washington, D. C., to attend two educators' meetings.

He will first attend the Association of American Colleges special committee on Public Law 554 the Korean veterans' version of the GI Bill—Wednesday to discuss possible injustices in the law as concerns private colleges.

Then he will attend the annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges—also in Washington—Thursday and Friday. President Gill will remain in Washington two days to transact other college business, return to the Springs Oct. 13.

CC HONOR SYSTEM HERE TO STAY, SAYS HONOR COUNCIL PRES. DUNTON

By CONNIE BROWN

"The Honor System at Colorado College is here to stay," says Tom Dunton, president of the 1953 Honor Council. "The optimistic spirit that prevails among the students this year will work effectively for us as well as for all the organizations on campus."

"We tried to start the new freshman class off with a clearer understanding of the underlying principles of the Honor System. During Freshman Week at a meeting of all new students, the 12 members of the Honor Council took aside 12 different groups."

"Each Council member explained the new constitution and then asked if the new students wanted anything in particular explained. One of the most recurrent questions was that of turning in another student. This was explained by telling the students that they would be cheating themselves and adding to the degradation of the guilty one if they failed to report a violation," explained President Dunton.

Tom is a well-known figure on campus. This tall, blue-eyed senior with a crew-cut can be seen every day in Bemis dining room where he serves as a bus boy.

An extremely athletic person, Tom played baseball this summer with the Iowa State League. As if this weren't enough to keep the ordinary person busy, Tom remarked, "I drove a truck for a construction company in my spare time."

Tom hales from Minneapolis in the land of 10,000 lakes. He is a political science major and a list of his activities at CC would fill half a column. However, here is a brief run down.

During his freshman year, Tom was president of his class, a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity and a member of the Honor Council, a post he has held for three years.

As a sophomore, Tom was a member of the Growlers and of the Student Council. In his junior year, Tom was again given the honor of being elected president of his class. He served his fraternity as recording secretary.

Tom was chosen for the ranks of the Red Lantern by his fraternity last spring. And he will faithfully serve the student body of Colorado College as president of the Honor Council.

In the athletics line, Tom has played basketball and baseball for three years and looks forward to another successful season. Last year he was intra-mural manager.

This active boy doesn't find it a chore at all to preside over the bi-monthly meetings of the Honor Council. Tom, the council and their advisor, Dr. Lou Warner, act on any new changes or revision of the Honor System's constitution. They also handle all violations of the system.

"The Honor Council is not a police court. We want to inspire the confidence of the entire student body, because the Honor System will work only if the campus is behind us 100 per cent," says Tom. During the spring semester of 1953, the constitution of the CC Honor System underwent strenuous revision at the hands of the Honor Council.

Tom explained, "I made a survey of the honor system in universities and colleges all over the country. The results of this survey show that our Honor System here at CC is one of the strongest and most successful in the nation."

"It is a privilege to have an Honor System at CC because there are very few colleges of our size in the country that have working honor systems."

Closeting themselves with the results of Tom's survey and the old constitution, the Honor Council thoroughly discussed possible revisions.

"It took several sessions before we had weeded out the superfluous material and come up with a basic framework on which to construct the new constitution," quoth Tom.

"Our big problem was in keeping the machinery flexible and strong. The students must be made to feel that the Honor System is theirs and can only be kept working by their constant interest and recommendations," says the president of this year's Honor Council.

Episcopal Chaplain To Speak in Chapel

Reverend Scott Franz, assistant rector of Grace Episcopal Church, will be the speaker at chapel on October 13th.

that the classrooms at CC should not need proctors if the students will proctor themselves.

"It is part of a growing up program for us all," says Tom.

The Honor System is no longer the baby it was when it was first inaugurated on the CC campus back in 1948. It has grown in stature as it received more and more confidence from the student body. Many more people are concerned with its success than ever before as proved by the results of a poll taken last year in the TIGER.

With the administration and faculty and students behind it 100 per cent, it can't fail. The CC Honor System is here to stay.

CC Cheerleaders Will Make First Showing At Game Saturday

Tuesday morning following chapel services this year's cheerleaders were elected by the student body. They are: Laurie Archer, Keith Warrenburg, Jerry Loomis, Barbara Belas, Lem Scarbrough, Barb Jorgens, and Diz Warren. All applicants had been coached in the CC cheers by Sue Pfeiffer and Sally Green, two of last year's cheerleaders. Thanks to Sue and Sally and congratulations to their successors who will be making their first appearance at the CC-Omaha game tomorrow night.

KRCC Seeks Talent For Coming Year

Are you interested in radio drama? The Colorado College radio station, KRCC-FM, is looking for new talent to act in radio productions to be broadcast later in the year. They are also interested in finding people who would like to give short programs of poetry reading, playing the piano or exercising any other talent they might have. If you are interested, see Larry Kichman, Dorothy Ramsey, or Bob Twieles as soon as possible.

There is also the possibility of broadcasting recorded music to Lennox during certain hours in the afternoon to provide music for informal student radio dances. Any campus organization interested in sponsoring such an activity is asked to contact the radio station.

State Story Appears In Fortune Magazine

"The Colorado Story", appearing in the October issue of Fortune, tells the story of Colorado's rapidly expanding industrial potential.

Sponsored jointly by Colorado's industrially alert Department of Development and eleven leading business concerns, the portfolio gives a well-rounded picture of the state's natural resources, labor force and high productivity, power sources, markets, and "the magic ingredient"—Colorado Climate."

EXPLAIN COMMITTEES AND ACTIVITIES OF THE ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

By MARION SHAW

The Associated Women Students is an organization composed of all the women students enrolled at Colorado College. Besides being represented on the Colorado College campus, it is a national organization which functions on campuses throughout the country. AWS is governed by four executive officers: president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. The girls elected last spring to fill these offices this year are Georgie Shaw, Marcia Manning, Patsy Reeves, and Gwen Jude, respectively. The president is a member of the Student Council and the Committee on Undergraduate Life.

Aiding the executive board in making and carrying out policies are eight standing committees. The committees of the AWS Board are the social, personal, publicity, song, service, welcoming, vocational guidance, and scholarship committees.

The scholarship committee, new to the board last year, promotes better scholarship by activities such as meetings with the scholarship chairman of the social organizations for an exchange of plans. The new scholarship chairman is Mary Ellen Cruthirds. Mary Ellen will combine efforts with the vocational guidance committee.

The welcoming committee, headed by Joan Todd, helps with freshman week in the fall, is in charge of "Buzbees" (informal discussions between small groups of faculty members and freshman girls), corresponds with new girls during the summer, and assists new students during the year.

Providing the student contact with the community, the service committee cooperates in projects with the Half-Way House, the YWCA, the Child Care Center, the Red Cross, the Women's Educational Society, and the Girl Scouts. On campus the service committee has charge of a baby-sitting plan, the AWS Book Store, and the Swap Shop, a new idea initiated by service chairman Suzy Beer.

Yankees Win—"Wait 'Till Next Year" Idaho State Moves Closer to Title

The tree is no longer growing in Brooklyn. The Yankees have proved it again. Man for man we still believe the Dodgers were the better team, but we will have to "wait 'till next year".

Much credit must be given to Yankee Manager Casey Stengel who won his fifth series title this year. Credit also should be given to Billy Martin who hit safely 12 times to set a series record and aid the Yankees; Mantle who put the ball in the stands when the chips were down; Yogi Berra, Allie Reynolds, and the many others who played the way ball should be played.

Our face is red after making the pre-game series prediction with the Dodgers on top in "six, possibly seven games." We will, however go out on the limb again and predict that next year's series will see the same two teams participating.

Idaho State took a big step towards the Rocky Mountain crown last Saturday as they defeated the Tigers 27-20. Though the season is still young it looks as if the Bengals are in for another year. Montana could upset the Idaho boys after their impressive victory over Western State.

Colorado College was very impressive last week in their loss. The Tigers looked very well both offensively and defensively, with the line looking quite improved. Lowell Slocum continued his excellent running as he carried the ball 22 times for 156 yards.

This week Colorado Mines will be out for their first victory of the season as they play host to Idaho State. The Miners have lost to Montana State and Washburn and will be a three touchdown underdog. Montana State, after an impressive win over Western State, will take Colorado State and as a result of Western State's loss last week they should be the victor over Arizona State College.

Colorado College rounds out conference play this week as they host Omaha University. Omaha lost to Washburn in their first game and then took a victory from Morningside. CC should have no trouble with this team.

On the national front we will pick Baylor over Arkansas. Baylor has looked well in their first two outings and should have no trouble in this one. California should have no trouble with Pennsylvania and after earning a very impressive tie with Oklahoma we will ride with Pittsburgh over Nebraska.

Wisconsin is our favorite against U.C.L.A., and Princeton should, per usual, romp over Rutgers. Michigan will be the favorite as they meet Iowa. Another big ten clash will be the Ohio State-Illinois game. Illinois has not looked impressive in previous games, and will have a hard time with the boys from State.

In the upset column we will pick Purdue over hard riding Duke University.

In predictions last week we hit on nine of eleven games for a percentage of 81, a bit of an increase over the week before.

Tigers in Loss to Idaho State; Win is Important for RMC Crown To Host Omaha U.

Colorado College staged a great offensive battle against the defending Rocky Mountain champions, the Idaho State Bengals before bowing out 27-20, October 3rd at Pocatello. However, the defeat may dispell any hopes the Tigers had of wresting the RMC crown from the Bengals. Experts were in accord that the contest would settle the issue for 1953. After a shaky start, which saw five fumbles, the locals launched a scoring drive at the end of the initial period. Slocum, George, and Pfeiffer spearheaded the drive with Pfeiffer lugging it over from the ten for the six-pointer. Jack Knight booted the extra point to put CC in front 7-0. Idaho State wasted no time in tying it up when Larry Kent galloped 88 yards for the TD in the second quarter. Brackenberry converted to knot the count at 7-7.

The Bengals tallied again in the second canto when Brackenberry flipped a 15 yard aerial to Buz Conner who covered the rest of the distance to send the hosts ahead 14-7. A brilliant punt return by Conner set up the play on the CC 25. CC pulled within one point of the Bengals, marching 60 yards for a TD after taking over on their own 40. Slocum cracked over from five yards out. Knight's kick was blocked and the Tigers trailed 14-13.

State roared right back to duplicate CC's drive and lead 20-13. Conner got the touchdown on a five yard sweep around end. Brackenberry's conversion attempt missed this time. Slocum deadlocked the issue for the second time when the flashy Colorado back raced 61 yards down the sidelines for the score. Knight came thru to boot the extra point.

Larry Kent wrapped up the game for the Bengals on another long run in the final period, this time for 62 yards.

Individual stars for the Tigers included Slocum, George and Pfeiffer in the backfield while Art Elder and Ken Baird took top honors on the line.

Local football fans will get their first look at the 1953 Colorado College grid eleven when the Tigers square off against the Omaha University Indians Saturday night at Washburn Field with kickoff time set for 8:00.

The Tigers have gotten off to a surprisingly poor start this year, dropping three straight decisions to Denver, New Mexico A&M and Idaho State. Last week's loss to Idaho State definitely marred CC's RMC title hopes.

Coach Lloyd Cardwell's Omaha team has gained a split in two contests this year. The Indians were victorious over Morningside 28-19, but lost to a strong Washburn crew 14-0. An inexperienced team has plagued the Nebraskans so far in the 1953 campaign, with few lettermen returning from the '52 squad. Bill Steck, a 160-pound sophomore, has been cracking the opposition line for 9 yards per carry so far in the two contests played. Omaha's top passer, Bill Englehart, is having a fine year with 14 completions in 23 attempts for 195 yards. Junior letterman Harry Johnson and Ed Baker will be at the tackle slots for Omaha. Other Indian regulars include Dick Cotton, Tony Roth, Dick Bayes and Bob Gibson.

CC gave a good account of themselves offensively in last week's game with Idaho State with half-back Lowell Slocum scoring two of the Tiger's six pointers. Defensively, the Tigers showed little improvement over the two previous encounters, but constant stress on this by Coach Heiss and his staff may have removed some of the kinks.

ASCC NOTES

By Bill Howell

Sophomore, junior, and senior class commissioners will be elected October 12 and 13. Polls will be in Palmer Hall and will be open from 10:30 a. m. until 1:15 p. m. both days.

Freshmen will nominate class commissioners October 22. There will be a campaign assembly October 29 and the election will be November 3.

Openings are still available for acts in the Variety Show. Anyone interested contact Sue Pfeiffer.

Chuck Mollin presented a three-point plan to curb the problem of the prowler on campus. He proposed (1) that there be better police protection in and around the campus, (2) post better campus guards, and (3) see to it that the campus is properly lighted. This was made into a motion and passed. It will now go the CUL for final consideration.

Dr. Henry Carter was voted unanimously as the new faculty member of the ASCC.

Earlene Seabaugh and Bill Peters were elected co-chairmen of the forthcoming leadership conference which will be held November 22.

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By Karl Holz

The first conference clash for Idaho State and Colorado College ended with ISC grabbing a 27-20 victory. Thus the Bengals put themselves in top position to repeat as Rocky Mountain Conference champs.

Colorado College finally got their offensive machine clicking for the first time this season, even though Idaho State's counter-punching finally broke the 20-20 tie, by scoring in the final quarter.

After absorbing three straight defeats on the road, the Tiger's improvements should help them pick up their first victory against Omaha University.

Defending champion Idaho State entertains Colorado Mines in a conference tilt this Saturday.

The Montana State Bobcats threaten to be No. 1 challenger for the RMC title after handing a highly-touted Western State a 14-13 defeat.

Montana State, trailing 13-0 at the half, struck back quickly in the first few minutes of the second half with two touchdowns and two conversions. The Bobcats then staved off Western State for a scoreless final period spoiling the Mountaineers Homecoming game.

This Saturday, Montana State will be host to Colorado State and Western State will play Arizona State at Flagstaff in a non-league fray.

Colorado School of Mines got their first victory of their 1953 gridiron campaign. The Oredigger's 20-7 win over New Mexico Military was due mainly to the passing of freshman Vance Bridges set up two of the TD's by passes, one which he threw 52 yards.

Mines will play Idaho State on Saturday in which the Orediggers will definitely be underdogs.

Colorado State broke a 7-7 tie in the final period by clinching an 88-yard drive with a 2 yard quarterback sneak. The resulting touchdown gave the Bears a 13-7 victory over Adams State.

Colorado State travels to Montana State this weekend with Montana State the favorite.

New Day Set for Evening Activities At Student Union

Because of popular demand on the part of the student body the evening activities at the Student Union will take place on Wednesday and not on Thursday as previously planned. This action will not become effective until the week beginning Oct. 12.

As I promised you last week the bridge sessions would become a permanent feature on Friday afternoons if they were met with enthusiasm. I'm happy to report that the turnout was very high! So on Friday, Oct. 9, at 3:00 p. m. there will be a learn to play and play bridge session at the Student Union.

Wednesday, Oct. 14, the first in the new time series, we will have a debate on McCarthy—Saint or Villain? In the weeks to follow we have coming up an open house, jazz session, movie and jam session.

Let us know how you feel about the new time change at the Student Union. And remember anytime during the year you have any suggestions, complaints, or ideas, by all means please contact one of the following:

Anybody interested in working on the business committee of the Nugget? If so, will you please meet with Jack Geary up in the Nugget office in Lennox at 4:30, Monday, Oct. 12, 1953. If you cannot attend the meeting, contact Jack Geary at the Beta House.

FROM YUGOSLAVIA TO COLORADO—ADVENTURES ABUNDANT FOR YETTIE

Ah! And for your reward you will receive some nice paprikasch and nackerlin. What is it? A disease? A chemical compound? No, it's Yettie Stolz's favorite food, and consists of little chunks of chopped meat, a large amount of paprika, and a very hot flavor. Yettie was born in Kula, Yugoslavia, and now lives in Denver, Colorado. This pert freshman doesn't mind admitting that she really loves CC and its students. She is majoring in art education and has been in the United States for two years. The Women's Educational Society, which has benefited so many students already, is providing Yettie with a scholarship which pays half of her tuition, and she receives the other half from the college.

Events must really seem quite dull here at CC after some of the experiences Yettie had during and after the war. She spent a large portion of her time in a cellar during the bombing in Hungary. Although her home was never blown up, six bombs exploded right next to it.

Shortly before the war ended, she and her parents went to Germany. They had to spend three weeks on a cattle car going the relatively short distance from Hungary to Germany. Her father had paid the engineer to transport them in this unglamorous fashion, for it would have been almost impossible, as private citizens, to travel to Germany in any other manner.

During this trip, they had hardly anything to eat and it was in the middle of a freezing winter. They were fortunate enough to make it to the American zone in Germany where they worked on a farm.

Then, after a year and a half, Yettie and her parents were allowed to come to the United States as displaced persons. But Yettie's experiences had not come to an end yet, for they came over on an old Army boat sponsored by the International Refugee Organization. This boat was greatly overcrowded and Yettie and her parents spent ten miserable days crossing the Atlantic, bolstered only by their desire to reach the United States and freedom.

Maybe when some of us go home now and the train car in which we're riding seems too cool, we can think of Yettie and all that she had to experience just to come to the United States, and we can settle back not feeling quite so abused after all.

KRDO HAS SOME FINE HELPERS at the Record Session which was held last Friday in Lennox House. Seated in front is Wes Bradley, and looking over the situation are: Mary Ellen Cruikshank, Gwen Jude, Martha Daily, Ed MacGuire, and Bill Peters.

• Explain Committees

town newspaper write-ups are handled by the publicity committee. Marion Shaw and Pat Paulich are co-chairmen of the committee.

Each spring the fraternities, sororities, and Independents compete in the Song Fest, one of the activities of the song committee. The Song Fest, held in Shove Chapel, is followed by an open house at Lennox House. The song committee, under Barbie Cannon, helps the freshmen learn OC songs and develops new songs. Barbie is hunting for an "Alma Mater" song at present.

This year the vocational guidance committee will continue its work with the Dean of Women and the vocational guidance counselor. In conjunction with Counseling Center, this committee helps students to find occupational information and appropriate vocational and psychological tests. Anne Pinkney is chairman.

AWS board members and others needing such information use the files of the personnel committee to locate those able and willing to take part in the extra-curricular activities. The personnel committee, headed by Cindy Mitchell, compiles this information from activity Manks filled out by all students. This committee works with the Dean of Women and the vocational guidance counselor. The personnel committee works out the details of Activity Night.

The Gold Diggers' Ball, the annual backward dance, is planned by the social committee, which is also in charge of a tea for head residents each spring. Suppers for AWS Board meetings are a responsibility of social chairman, Joyce Lind. Joyce works with the social chairmen of the dorms and other campus organizations.

In addition to the standing-committee chairmen on the board, there are the organization representatives. By being on the board, these representatives bring unity and coordination to women's activities on campus. They are Cail Lund, Quadrangle Association president; Betsy Cox, Women's Athletic Association president; Judy Carlstrom, president of Tiger Club; Diana Ashforth, president of Independent Women; and the following sorority representatives: Becky Russell, Gamma Phi Beta; Margaret Vincent, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Mary Spindle, Kappa

CLASS COMMISSIONERS FOR 1953-54 NAMED IN TWO-DAY VOTING SESSION

Climaxing two days of elections in Palmer, Ned Pfeiffer, Bill Howell, and Rule Olson emerged victorious as presidents of the senior, junior, and sophomore classes respectively. Ned Pfeiffer will be assisted by Tom Dunton and Bob Kroehne. Judy Avery and Sue Pfeiffer were chosen as junior class commissioners, while Mort Forester and Sue Stearnman will be the new sophomore commissioners.

Keeping the polls open for two days was tried for the first time at CC this year. The result was more students voting than in any commissioner elections in recent year.

Freshman class commissioners will be elected at a later date.

Campus Chest Drive Begins October 19; Open Heart, Purse

Will you open your heart and purse for the Campus Chest Drive? Soliciting for the drive begins Monday and lasts until October 31. Each CC member—students, faculty, and administration—will be approached individually and asked for their contribution of two dollars.

Contributions will be divided among ten organizations; therefore, each person will give less than twenty-five cents to each charity. Is twenty-five cents too much to give to the Cancer or Polio Fund?

Contest will be led by Wakuta and Red Lantern members between men and women of the campus. An over-sized thermometer will be in Palmer Hall indicating the progress of each side.

Wakuta's leader will be Marge Epler, with Bob Kroehne leading the Red Lantern. Sue Pfeiffer is the general chairman of the drive.

Faculty Administrative Staff Increased by Four New Members

Four instructors, one assistant professor, a women's physical education director and an assistant to the dean of admission are among the new group of faculty and administrative staff at Colorado College this year.

French to Assist Mathias
New assistant to H. E. Mathias, dean of admission at the college, is Robert S. French, who just received the master of arts degree in student personnel administration from Northwestern in June 1953. A graduate of Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis., French had served as administrative assistant to the president of Lawrence and as an instructor in economics prior to his graduate study. French will be concerned with admission problems and will travel extensively in student recruitment.

Taking over the reins of the women's physical education department is Miss Lucy M. Smith, who earned the bachelor of science degree from Bowdoin, at the Boston School of Physical Education. She had done her graduate study at Smith College.

Leland W. Gralapp is a new assistant professor of art history. After earning the bachelor of science degree at the University of Oregon, Gralapp won the master of fine arts degree from the University of Iowa.

Tigers Praise Frosh Spirit on CC Campus

Tiger Club wishes to thank the freshman enthusiasm committee for the outstanding job which it did on posters for the CC-Omaha game. This committee has contributed greatly to the pep and spirit of the class of 1957.

The Tigers and Growlers appreciate the enthusiasm and backing which has been shown by the freshmen to date. The pep clubs cannot do the job solely by themselves and they need each and every Colorado College student behind them. School spirit in any college or university is important and all four classes should work toward creating it.

This spirit usually starts with the freshman class and if these students continue building up enthusiasm it is sure to be instilled in the upper classmen. Colorado College is looking to its freshmen and is assured from previous displays that their unusual pep will continue.

New Instructors Hold MA's
CC's four new instructors have all gone at least as far as the master of arts degree and all boast previous teaching experience, either as full-time instructors or as assistants in departments where they were doing graduate work.

Dr. Fred A. Sondermann, who just earned the Ph.D. degree from Yale, has been named instructor in political science. Sondermann completed his undergraduate work at Butler University and earned the master's degree from Indiana.

From the University of California, where he has been assisting in the English department and completing the Ph.D. requirements, is Neale R. Reinitz, new instructor in English. Reinitz earned the B.A. from the University of Wisconsin, the M.A. from Harvard, and will soon receive the Ph.D. from California.

Besag Instructs Math
Peter Lee Besag comes to CC as a new instructor in mathematics. After working for the bachelor's degree at the University of California, Besag earned the master's degree from Harvard.

New sociology instructor is Mrs. Ruth Thornton Carter. Holder of a master's degree from Colorado College, Mrs. Carter completed her undergraduate work at DePauw and has done graduate work at the Universities of Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

CC's Pershing Rifles Pledges 10 New Men

Ten new members were pledged to Company D Ninth Regiment, Colorado College's chapter of the National Society of Pershing Rifles, at a brief military ceremony during the October 6th drill period.

Cadet Lt. Colonel Leo B. Oyler, battalion commander, presented the colors to the 231 cadets presently enrolled in ROTC. Colonel Oyler then announced the pledges, as Pershing Rifle Captain Larry J. Herrman awarded blue and white pledge ribbons to Cadet Sergeants Clyde Herried and Robert Van de Velde, Private First Class Donald Singmaster, and Privates Dana Barbour, Louis Barrette, John Dunbar, Thomas Gentry, Jerry Tolley, William Paulson, and Nat B. Harris.

The new pledges as well as the regular members are attending a special 6:30 a.m. Thursday drill period.

AWS Carnival Night Features CC Clubs

A.W.S. Carnival Night will take place in Cossitt October 28, at 7:30 p.m. All freshmen are required to attend.

The purpose of this activities' night, carried out on a carnival theme, is to acquaint the student body with the clubs and activities represented at Colorado College.

Each organization (no sorority or fraternity) on campus is eligible to have a booth. Two meetings of groups interested in setting up booths at the Carnival Night show have been held. Any organization which has been unable to send a representative to these meetings, but which is interested in having a booth, should call Cindy Mitchell, A.W.S. personnel chairman.

"I urge all students who are interested in participating in the Colorado College clubs to come to Carnival Night," stated Cindy.

An activity night has been an annual project of the A.W.S. Personnel Committee since 1948. This year's program will be different in approach and theme from any such previous event.

Chapel Tuesday Will Be Devoted To United Nations

On Tuesday, October 20, the regular chapel service will be devoted to the United Nations. Recognition of the United Nations as a possible instrument for the attainment of peace and world understanding will be the theme of the service. This service will feature a talk by Dr. Fred Sondermann of the Colorado College Political Science department.

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT GILL

I was sorry to learn upon my return to the campus on October 12th that some cases of molestation of women students in the vicinity of the campus had been reported.

I am most appreciative of the interest of the student leaders in this problem, and I want all students as well as all others interested in Colorado College to know that we are doing everything possible to prevent any recurrence of these incidents. Obviously a detailed statement of our plans at this time would defeat our chances of apprehending the person or persons responsible.

We have the complete cooperation of the Colorado Springs Police Department, and I am grateful for their understanding and help.

I hope that all members of the Colorado College family will continue to cooperate by (1) reporting promptly any incident or suspicious circumstance that comes to their attention, and (2) by carrying out the various instructions that have been or may be issued from this office designed to stop these disturbing incidents.

I am confident that with your wholehearted and intelligent cooperation we can completely eliminate this danger on our campus.

Four CC Students Lost on Long's Peak; Spend Night in Near-Freezing Weather

Seven mountain climbers including four CC students are back safely after being lost in near freezing weather near the summit of Long's Peak overnight Sunday.

The original group of fourteen climbers had spent Saturday night at Chasm Lake the usual starting point for the climb. Early Sunday morning they split into two groups of seven. The first group which included CC students William

Deadlines Announced For Fulbright Awards

The closing date for applications to the Fulbright and Buenos Aires Convention Programs for the 1954-1955 academic year is October 31, 1953.

Students eligible for these foreign study fellowships must be United States citizens, have a college degree or its equivalent at the time of the award, know the language of the country sufficiently to carry on purposeful work, and be in good health.

The programs under the Fulbright Act and the Buenos Aires Convention are part of the international, educational exchange activities of the Department of State, and final selection of Fulbright grantees is made by the Board of Foreign Scholarship appointed by the President of the United States. The Institute of International Education is the agency designated by the Board of Foreign Scholarships and the Department of State to screen accomplishments. Under the Buenos Aires Convention the Institute makes the preliminary recommendation of candidates, with the cooperating countries making the final selection of candidates for study within their borders.

Fulbright awards are made entirely in the currencies of participating countries abroad. The Fulbright Act authorizes the use of certain foreign currencies and credits acquired through the sale of war surplus property abroad for education and travel. The awards cover transportation, expenses of a language refresher or orientation course abroad, tuition, books, and maintenance for one academic year. Awards under the Buenos Aires Convention include transportation provided by the United States government, and tuition and maintenance allowances provided by the host governments.

Scholarship application blanks are available at offices of the Fulbright advisers on the campus. A brochure describing the overseas study awards may be obtained. Countries where the United States graduate students may study under the Fulbright Program are situated in Australia, Europe, Asia, and the Union of South Africa.

The second group took the difficult shortcut up the north face on the cable route. They easily made the ascent and decided to continue their climb to the crest of Mount Meeker and down the trackless slope. They lost their way and returned to the top of the Mount.

By this time it was dark. They used a flashlight to throw out a distress signal to the other party down the mountain. Then the group went back down Mt. Meeker to timberline which they felt would afford them better protection in case of a weather change. Though the members of the lost group including CC students Richard Richards, Nancy Barba and Anne Pinkney built a fire and prepared to spend the night.

They had no food other than chocolate bars and no blankets though they all had jackets and sweaters. Though the weather was threatening it did not snow. The temperature was near 20 degrees during the night.

Meanwhile the second party had seen the distress signals. They sent one of their members to the ranger station at Estes Park to report the missing seven. Early Monday morning a ranger party along with the other climbers began the search along the north face.

They were hardly under way before word came that the lost party had made its precarious way down the south slopes of Mt. Meeker and were safe at Wild Basin Lodge.

The last two down were Richards and Nona Stoldt of Colorado Springs who had gone back up above Chasm Lake to pick up some equipment they had left behind.

Sebaugh and Peters To Head the Colo. Col. Leadership Conference

Earlene Sebaugh and Bill Peters were selected by the student council to be co-chairmen of the annual Colorado College Leadership conference. The conference this year will be a one day affair on November 22. Anyone interested in working on any of the committees to promote this conference, please contact Earlene or Bill.

TO STUDENTS OF COLORADO COLLEGE

Just a line from the coaches and players to let the students know how good it feels to have real student spirit behind the football team.

The spontaneous demonstration of spirit given the team two weeks ago before departing for Idaho State was the first of its kind since I've been here—and I understand the first such demonstration in many years.

Last Saturday night against Omaha I couldn't help notice the difference between the sincere enthusiasm and the complacent attitude of years past. Perhaps it's the new freshman class—maybe it's the fine new band organized by Earl Juhas—more than likely it's all the students and all the factors combined that made the difference.

Remember, when the football (or basketball or hockey) team is out there on the field your spirit may make or break that key play that decides the ball game.

Again, thanks to you all—and many congratulations to Juhas for helping us to open our home season with a band for the first time since the war.

—Coach Bill Heiss.

NEW CC BAND ADDS SPIRIT

Saturdays' first home game found our Tigers victorious. The air was cool and the crowd was spirited by the electrifying influence of the new CC band. Certainly the contribution of these students to the excitement of the game is to be admired. The new band made up of CC students proved that music makes a public gathering take on unity and stimulates interest.

The man at the helm of our new band is Mr. Juhas and under his able guidance the band has developed into a group of young musicians all of whom are to be heartily congratulated and should be urged by the student body to carry on their good work as was displayed on Saturday last.

We urge all people on the campus who are so inclined to have musical talent to join these modern "Sousas" and let music and cheers fill the air at all our college games. The team depends upon your support. The band aids in spirit which moves our team ever onward to victory. Again congratulations!

—Ed MacGuire.

IT COULD HAPPEN TO YOU!

This is a good college with an excellent faculty, and in a very good location. For the most part, the students enrolled here are the best.

However, each year we have vandalism—and this vandalism is growing progressively worse each season. Some may wonder why, at this school with its tradition of high character the hoodlums are allowed to remain.

"They aren't hoodlums, they are just kids having a good time. It isn't vandalism, just mere college fun! is the typical student comment.

But the end results of these college pranks always end the same: slashed tires, ruined aerials, rotten conduct in the presence of women, and a long list of stolen property.

"So what, this only affects a small minority—why should the rest of us care? Its 'too bad, but that is the way it is," say indifferent CCers.

Consider this: One morning you may go to your car and find that you have no gas, your tires are ruined, and every wrench and bolt left inside has been stolen. It has happened—and with more regularity each year. If you wait for this to happen to you, it will then be too late. In all probability, you will never recover your property. It seems hard to grasp, but your car, or books, or watch are as vulnerable as anyone else's.

Let us face the facts. Each year we have students with us that don't belong. Let us not be lenient with them any longer. Look for them, find them, and prosecute them justly. Thievery, whether a ballot box, a telephone receiver, or a good watch, is thievery! Deal with it as such.

Publicity Director Explains Program For A.W.S. Board

By MARION SHAW

K. Freyschlag, Director of Publicity for Colorado College, was guest speaker at the A.W.S. Board meeting on October 8.

His visit was an aftermath of the A.W.S. Fall Conference, where it was decided to investigate methods by which students can help in the college publicity programs for the students' home towns. An interview was held with Mr. Freyschlag, who volunteered to inform the A.W.S. Board of the problems and technique of the publicity department.

One of the bases of the college publicity program is the sending out of stories on individual students to the newspapers of their home towns. The publicity department sends out 1500 to 1800 stories each year on individual accomplishments, initiations, team awards, etc., including at least one story on each student. Of course, many of these stories are not published.

Because of the smallness of its staff, the publicity department has not been able to cover the home town publicity field as widely as it would like. Realizing this, the A.W.S. Board sought a suggestion from Mr. Freyschlag on how CC student organizations may help the publicity department.

K. stated, "It would be of great help if organizations such as the Associated Women Students would notify the publicity office of unusual student activities and accomplishments which have not been brought to our attention; we could then relay this information to the home town newspapers."

Other functions of the publicity office in addition to the home town publicity campaign include advising student publications, supervising the making of films about CC, and working with interests such as the Broadmoor Hotel on N.C.A.A. hockey tournaments.

Diversified Experiences Qualify Doug Morgan for Current Jobs

By CONNIE BROWN

The big week is approaching. Tense expectancy electrifies the atmosphere around the Colorado College campus. In the vast caverns of the biggest warehouses in town, floats of fantastic sizes and shapes are being constructed. Vying groups talk of their particular project with a hushed urgency, each expecting to be the winner. Five of the most beautiful girls on campus are nominated, and voted upon. One of them will be queen—queen of the biggest, most exciting weekend the overflowing Colorado College social calendar has to offer. Homecoming!

What the carnival is to Rio, and the Mardi Gras is to New Orleans, that is what homecoming is to Colorado College.

Some of you may wonder who is behind all this. Who sees that the machinery is well-oiled so that everything will function smoothly? Who draws order out of the chaos of fun, floats, frolic, parades, beauty queens, dances, games?

He's a tall, quiet-mannered senior named Doug Morgan, general chairman for the 1953 homecoming weekend, Nov. 13 and 14.

"With my able staff of assistants, including, Carol Wiltner, assistant chairman, handling publicity; Dave Becker, chairman of the parade; Jim Jacobs, parade chairman elect," says Doug, "I've been working diligently since the first of this semester to see that this will be the biggest and best homecoming ever experienced at Colorado College."

Doug and his staff are the steering committee for the whole homecoming weekend. Under them function the presidents and homecoming chairmen of all the social organizations on campus. The Tigers and Growlers also play a big part in keeping the enthusiasm at a high pitch over the weekend.

An easterner from the suburban New York town of Scarsdale, Doug is a fervid camera addict. And well he might be for his mother is Barbara Morgan who has photographed such famous people as Martha Graham and Hanya Holm. Doug acted as Tiger-Nugget photographer for the year 1951-52.

An active sports enthusiast, this 21-year-old senior has been a member of the riding, mountain and ski clubs during his three years here at CC. As a third year member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, Doug is serving his fraternity as vice president this year.

In addition to his appointment as general chairman, Doug holds a regular job as enthusiasm chairman for ASCC. In this capacity, Doug is responsible for a channeling enthusiasm in the direction of any kind of sport on the campus. He works very closely with the pep organizations, Tigers and Growlers, and sees that they are hand-in-glove with the high ideals of enthusiasm at Colorado College.

Although he is an economics major here at CC, Doug hopes to go to Carnegie Tech next year to study the more specialized aspect of printing. Printing is more than just a hobby with Doug. He hopes that it may ultimately become his life's work. Doug says he is largely self-taught in this field and for several summers now, except for the one when he took a junket to Alaska in his fitted-out camping truck, he has worked in his own print shop at home.

On his Alaskan trip, Doug and his younger brother, traveled up to the Yukon country and through many of the big salmon fishing areas. Doug says, "We smoked our own salmon up in Alaska so that on the way home we were well-supplied with food."

He and his brother slept and ate in the truckhouse Doug made himself by enclosing the sides of a regular Chevrolet pick-up and fitting it out with supply lockers and bunks. This set up makes a very compact and neat home-on-the-road. And as Doug has said, "My truck will come in very handy during the homecoming preparations as a carry-all for very necessary supplies, such as chicken-wire, crepe paper and all the other first-building paraphernalia."

As enthusiasm chairman, Doug supervised the chasing of cheerleaders for the 1953-54 season. From that experience, Doug tells me, "I am very confident that the fine spirit shown on campus this year, especially by the freshman class will carry us through to one of the most successful homecomings Colorado College has ever had."

Bridge, Jazz Session, Dance, and Movie Head Events at Student Union Meeting

ATTENTION ALL CRAZY CATS! Sunday, Oct. 18, at 4:00 p. m. there will be a crazy kitten from the big city chowing on a clarinet read over at the Student Union. You can't get cross because it's Dr. Ross! What more could gone kids crave than to focus Ross digging his crazy grave. Come STAG or DEER for the hunting season hasn't opened yet. Don't try to BUCK it; for it doesn't cost any DOE!

The weekly bridge sessions on Friday afternoons at 3:00 p. m. will continue at the Student Union because of the enthusiastic support on the part of the student body. Last week alone, there were over forty "card sharks" having a "whale" of a time making like Hoyle's, all trying to put their HEARTS into it not to be SPADED under by the other members of the CLUB in this gem of a game—DIAMONDS that is! But remember just because I can not write is no sign you can't play bridge.

These two jobs, general chairman of homecoming and enthusiasm chairman, are linked strongly in their common purpose of seeing to it that Colorado College spirit is increased and made stronger.

The boy on whose blond head these two tasks fall, assures us that he cannot fail to achieve his purpose. "I am backed not only by a fine staff of assistants, but also, I feel by the whole student body on the Colorado College campus."

Now for you kids who shy the bright lights or dig the crazy dark corners we have a terrific FREE MOVIE on Wednesday, Oct. 31, at 7:00 p. m. in the STUDENT UNION. The title of the movie is "BREWSTER'S MILLIONS." It's a comedy not about a man who must lose a million dollars. Dollars to dollars you are bound to enjoy it.

Now an EXTRA! Besides the usual program of activities at the STUDENT UNION, there will be on Saturday, Oct. 17, after the football game, an OPEN HOUSE for you with dancing.

Well, that's all for now, but remember anytime during the year you have any suggestions, complaints, or ideas, by all means please contact one of the following board members. We must have suggestions in order to act!

THIS IS YOUR UNION. ONLY YOU CAN MAKE IT WORK!

SUC members: Gwen Jude, Mary Ellen Cruthird, Martha Daily, Ed MacGillivray, Bill Potors, Mort Forster, Vickie Hahn.

BETA PLEDGES CHOOSE MERRILL PREXY

New pledge officers were recently elected by the Beta pledge class. Those who received offices are the following: Robert Merrill, president; Thomas Matthews, vice president; Paul Dimer, secretary and treasurer; Don Gumbinder, song chairman and Pete Townsend, sergeant-at-arms.

From 8-11 this Friday night the annual Beta pledge dance will take place. It is being planned in honor of the new pledges. Refreshments will be served and records will provide music for dancing. The chaperones attending are Mr. and Mrs. Mertz and Mr. and Mrs. Samson.

NEW PLEDGES JOIN K-SIG FRATERNITY

Bob Egby, Paul Johnston, Jerry Heffernan and Dick McCabe were recently pledged by Kappa Sigma fraternity. Following the football game this Saturday night all the Kappa Sig pledges will be honored at a record dance commencing at 11:00. The house will be the scene of the festivities consisting of formal entertainment and refreshments. Dr. and Mrs. Fischer, Dr. and Mrs. Boucher and Mother Hough will serve as the chaperones.

PLEDGE DANCE ENTERTAINS SIGS

In honor of its pledges the Sigma Chis are holding a dance tonight beginning at 8:00. Music on records and refreshments will highlight the evening. Officers were elected last Monday night for the Sigma Chi pledge class. The president is John Dunbar; Webb Otis, vice president; and Carl Pitts, treasurer.

CC GAMMA PHI BETAS SEND DELEGATES TO CU

A new Gamma Phi Beta chapter has been colonized recently at the University of Colorado. Four former CC students, Betty Bell, Jewel Hoeme, Jackie Gaskil, and Louise Warren, were sent as part of the group of colonizers. Last October 11th, four CC Gamma Phi Betas traveled to Boulder to assist with deferred rushing and to get the chapter well underway. The girls there for the CU rush week were Carrie Held, Sally Powell, Sigred Freudenburg, and Connie Brown.

SMITH AWARDED AT KKG DINNER

Kathy Smith received the traveling scholarship cup at the annual Kappa Kappa Gamma Founders Day and Scholarship Dinner last Monday night at the Swiss Chalet. The cup is an award given to the Kappa who obtained the best grades during the second semester of last year. Jan Colley was recognized as having the best improvement in grades.

LIND, GIWOSKY, OLSON INITIATED INTO KAT

Joyce Lind, JoAnne Giwosky, and Martha Olson were formally initiated into the active chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta last Sunday morning at 9:00 a.m. Following the ceremony, breakfast was held at the house where the neophytes were welcomed by the actives.

DR. BRANDT SPEAKS AT THETA DINNER

Peggy Root, Lee Sage, Mary Jo Ahern, and Judy Avery received awards at the Kappa Alpha Theta scholarship dinner last Monday night. Lee was given the top award, a special Theta pin, for obtaining the highest average in the chapter last semester. The Thetas chose for their guest speaker, Dr. Brandt, who talked on the differences between American and European educational systems.

IWA ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

IWA announces the election of two new officers: Zoe Jenkins, secretary, and Codie Fletcher, alternate to Student Council. At the Monday meeting Mary Prior and Zoe Jenkins were selected to be delegates to the IWA Regional Conference which will take place at CU Oct. 15, 16, and 17.

AWSC ACTIVITIES

By MARION SHAW

The A.W.S. general assembly is slated to take place on October 22. Pat Paulich, co-chairman of the Publicity Committee, is in charge of the skit demonstrating functions of the A.W.S. Board.

It was decided that the A.W.S. news bulletin, to be printed for the first time in November, will be known as the "Newsletter", for the first issue.

K. Freyschlag, director of publicity for Colorado College, told the board members that they can help publicize the college by reporting accomplishments of students (women, in particular) to the publicity office, which in turn will relay the information to hometown newspapers.

October 28th is starred for Activity Night. Each club (departmental and activity, not sorority or fraternity) on campus may have a booth to display its place in Colorado College life. Prizes and entertainment are being arranged.

In a report on Buzzbees, Earlene Sebaugh stated that the most popular topics of discussion were study habits and activities. Many of the freshmen girls called for a buzzbee meeting with faculty advisors next February.

The scholarship committee will meet with dorm counselors to discuss scholarship and guidance. The mid-year scholarship dinners for Dean's List members and freshman women will be continued this year.

A traditional Colorado College song appropriate for use as an "alma mater" has been located. This song will be introduced to the student body at a chapel service.

CC Religious Clubs Plan Full Schedule

NEWMAN CLUB

On Sunday, Oct. 18, the CC Newman Club will have its annual fall Day of Recollection at El Pomar in Broadmoor. An added feature of this year's retreat will be the initiation of new members. All students please meet at Lennox at 10:00 a. m. If you have a car the club would appreciate your bringing it along.

CANTERBURY CLUB

The guest speaker this Sunday evening at Canterbury Club, where supper will be served, will be Mr. Frank Moody, who is a prominent Colorado Springs lawyer. Mr. Moody will speak on his philosophy of life, so the evening should prove to be an interesting and inspiring one. Girls can be picked up at their dorms between 6:00 and 6:15 p. m., and brought back after the evening's entertainment. Don't forget Communion and breakfast every Wednesday morning at 7:00 a. m.

JONATHAN EDWARDS CLUB

There will be a regular meeting of the Jonathan Edwards Club next Sunday evening in the Gregg Library west of the First Congregational Church. The meeting will begin at 7:30. Mr. Seay, the new Colorado College music professor, will lead a discussion group concerning music. Refreshments are to be served and everyone, regardless of church affiliation, is invited to attend.

Students Get Cut Rate

AT Broadmoor Movie

Mr. Darrell Hart, manager of The Chief Theater and of The Broadmoor Theater, announces that he is giving high school and college students a special rate of 65c for the film, "The Beggars' Opera", to be shown at the Broadmoor Theater, Wednesday, October 14, through Thursday, October 20. Performances will be given nightly at 8:00 p.m., and on Sunday at 2:00 p.m. This film has been highly praised in New York where it had a successful run.

A.W.S. Gen. Assembly Scheduled for Oct. 22; All CC Girls to Attend

An A.W.S. General Assembly will take place October 22, at 10:30 a.m., in Cossitt gym.

This assembly will dramatize for A.W.S. members the functions of the committee of the A.W.S. Board. The program will answer the question, "I wonder what the A.W.S. does," so often heard from freshmen and upperclassmen alike.

The A.W.S. Board feels that it owes an interesting explanation to its members. All girls are expected to attend the assembly.

Three Freshmen Vie for QA Office

QA Board has granted 12:30 to all girls attending either the Beta or the Sigma Chi pledge dance on Friday, Oct. 16.

The final ballot for the freshman girl who will represent her class on QA Board and the Social Committee will be on Monday, Oct. 19, in the dorms. She will be chosen among one of the following girls: Sue Flecken, Lee Hammond, and B. J. Fellows.

Pageant Criticizes College Magazines

College parodies on such magazines as Time, Life, and the New Yorker, may become far more intriguing than the magazines themselves, says Pageant Magazine.

The college editor calmly takes the professional magazine's style, lay-out and special techniques and proceeds to misuse them, with diabolical accuracy, to crucify the staff, the printer, the advertiser and the general reading public for buying the magazine in the first place.

Because of their financial shakiness and because the magazines like it, college magazines are able to get away with their parodies.

What girls want in a boy and what boys want in a girl are discussed in the November issue of Pageant. The top-rated date traits were to be smooth in manners and appearance and know how to dance well. Willingness to neck or "go all the way" were far down the list as well as "coming from the right family" or "being prominent in social activities".

Four CC Professors Start Lecture Series

Popular Misconceptions will be examined by four Colorado College professors in the Annual Lecture series to be presented by Colorado College, beginning on Thursday, October 29.

George McCue, Associate Professor of English, will open the series by discussing "The Strait-jacket of Language"; Dr. Joseph Leech, Professor of Mathematics, will present "Problems from Primer to Einstein" on Thursday, November 5. Ray Werner, Assistant Professor of Economics, will talk on "Dollars and Sense" on Thursday, November 12; and Dr. Van B. Shaw, Associate Professor of Sociology, will discuss "Races, Rumors, and Riots" on Thursday, November 19. All lectures except Dr. Leech's will be held at Perkins Hall, Colorado College at 8 p.m.; his will be held at the lecture room of Shove Memorial Chapel.

These discussions are open to the public; there is no admission charge. Last year's lecture series grew so popular that the audience overflowed the room at the last two lectures.

Brand-new national survey shows college students prefer Luckies

Last year a survey was made in leading colleges throughout the country which showed that smokers in those colleges preferred Luckies to any other cigarette. This year another nation-wide survey was made—a representative survey of all students in regular colleges coast to coast. Based on thousands of actual student interviews—this survey shows that, as last year, Luckies lead again—lead over all other brands, regular or king-size—and by a wide margin! The reason: Luckies taste better.

P. S. Once again we're buying student jingles! $25.00 goes to every student whose Lucky Strike jingle is accepted for our advertising. So hurry! Send yours in right away to: Happy-Go-Lucky, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y.

"LANTEAN, I PRESUME-----"

From 5 Pounds of Butter To Montgomery "Cottage"

By MARILYN ROY

It all started in 1877 with five pounds of butter which were raffled at a bazaar. Those who contributed this were members of the Centennial Society, later named the Women's Educational Society. They were more firmly founded in 1891. Residents of Montgomery Hall, did you know that the spacious dormitory in which you now live was once entitled a "cottage"? In 1891 the Women's Educational Society built and furnished this hall and presented it to the trustees of the college, calling it a "cottage". That was the first of their many generous and costly gifts to Colorado College.

The unique society was founded "to give physical, spiritual, and intellectual aid to students in any department of Colorado College." This is a very appropriate motto, for this group has rendered many innumerable services to Colorado College.

Also, were you aware of the fact that the infirmary to which you make a long trek each time you need medical assistance was donated by the Women's Educational Society? Not only did they buy and furnish the infirmary, but they also decided that there ought to be a trained nurse and paid her salary.

Perkins was recently renovated, as most students know. But do most students know that the Women's Educational Society paid for this, also? This project had to be done on the installment plan, for it was very costly. First they had enough money to fix the floors and walls, and to re-build the stage. Then they fixed the curtains, and finally raised the back of the hall. This auditorium was renovated at a cost of $24,000.

Miss Margaret Cook, a former president of the society, stated that she believed that one of their major projects was to provide worthy students with scholarships. Many have received this aid, and there are many students who are very grateful to the Women's Educational Society for the assistance received. Also, Miss Cook said that, due to the need for a student counselor, the Society agreed to finance the work of Miss Grant, who has already aided many of us.

Most of us will agree that this is truly a fine, generous society, and deserves every bit of credit we can possibly give it, for any one of their gifts would have been a sizeable contribution.

Around the Clock Activities at Lennox

At the present time the student body as a whole is supporting the "scheduled events" at the Student Union. But this is just half of the job to be done. Very few students realize that un-scheduled activities are taking place continuously at the Student Union.

Last year there was some talk about why we didn't have some place in which we could dance at anytime during the day. To solve this problem we cleared the "small room" in the grill for just this purpose. A new juke box was installed with everything from jazz to the classics for your selection. The reaction? None!

Tables are always set up for us, either in the living room or in the grill for card playing at any time. The wiring system for the phonograph in the living room has been reworked so anyone who wants to go over or bring a date over to hear some records may do so. The magazine room—just across the hall from the living room—offers all of the latest magazines. Upstairs there is a ping-pong and a pool table. This room is by no means off-limits to the girls. So, if you girls are having trouble with the guys bragging about how good they are at either ping pong or pool, you just take them up to the Student Union and make them prove themselves.

Another added feature I want you to know about is that we are going to try to have a year-around fire in the fire place to give the Student Union that lived in look.

So come on out and support the Student Union. Whenever you have a few extra minutes make it a habit to spend them over at the Student Union. All it takes is a few students "to make the move" and then CC will have a real Student Union.

COLO. COLLEGE IN FIRST VICTORY OF SEASON

Tigers Whip Omaha Univ.; Four TD's During Last Half

Colorado College exploded for four second-half touchdowns to gain a decisive 26-6 win over a battling Omaha University crew last Saturday night at Washburn Field.

Tiger halfback Lowell Slocum tallied three of CC's six pointers on runs of 33, 40 and 50 yards. The contest was marred by several futility plays with many players on both sides being ejected.

Omaha opened the evening's scoring when fullback Bill Englehart flipped a six yard aerial to end Rudy Rotella to climax a long drive by the Indians. The conversion attempt was missed but the visitors managed to keep CC in check for the remainder of the half. In all, the Tigers were held to a meager 22 yards rushing in the first half and produced no effective offensive threat.

Coach Heiss' boys struck back suddenly in the third quarter, powering for a score on the first time they got their hands on the ball. Jack Knight's conversion gave the locals a lead never to be relinquished. Colorado College scored again a few minutes later on a 16-yard toss from Englerston to Knight to pull ahead 19-6. Omaha tempers began to flare late in the third stanza when three straight Indian touchdowns were called back on some violation or another.

Slocum scored his other two TD's in a wild fourth quarter, the first on a pass interception while the other came as the result of a 40-yard gallop around his own left end.

Besides Slocum, Wally Prebis, Ned Pfeiffer and Roger Bildstein showed up well in the CC backfield while Dick Pearson, Jack Knight, Art Elder, Kenny Baird, Frank Derango, and Rocky Anderson stood out for the Tiger line.

MONTANA STATE HERE TOMORROW NITE; IMPORTANT GAME IN RM CONFERENCE

Montana State's high-riding Bobcats will invade Washburn field tomorrow night for a Rocky Mountain Conference tilt with the home team Colorado College Tigers with kickoff time set for 8:00.

The game will be important for both teams if either hopes to overcome Idaho State, the defending RMC champs. Montana State has chalked up three straight conference wins in as many starts with only a non-conference loss to Idaho College marring its record. CC will be seeking its initial loop victory, having dropped a previous RMC encounter to Idaho State.

Coach Tony Storti's Bobcats show a vast improvement over the "52" squad which finished with a dismal 2-5 slate for fifth place in the conference. State's team is built around thirteen lettermen from last year's aggregation along with several outstanding freshmen who have shown a great deal of promise. Bill Roney, a 210 pound senior will be at the center slot while at either side of him are lettermen Gene Badgley and Ray Schoessler at the guard posts.

The tackle positions are secured by 220 pounder senior Willie Baugh and Gerald Krall, a 185 pound junior. Vic Berra and Bob Holoff should see plenty of action at the end positions. In the backfield Tom Porac is calling the signals for the Cats again this year. Paul Christopherson and Del Lingle will be at left and right half, respectively while Tom Hoff is expected to be the starting fullback.

Colorado College emerged from last week's game with their first win of the "53" campaign, a rough and tumble 26-6 victory over

Indes Take K-Sigs

The Independents, after having to forfeit their first game to the Phi Gams, 38 to 0, because of a lack of players, made a rousing start in their second game, thumping the Kappa Sigs 53 to 6. The Independents are looking forward to their second straight win when they play the Sigma Chis this week.

Fijis Lose to Phis

The Phi Deltas last Tuesday took a 13 to 0 lead at half-time, mainly on fine passing. However, the Phi Gams came back early in the second half with John Zengert scoring a TD. As the game progressed, the Phi Deltas showed their superior power and scored two more touchdowns. The final score was Phi Deltas 21, Phi Gams 7. The victory for the Phi Deltas was the first one in five years against the Phi Gams.

Omaha University. The Tigers showed considerably more spark in the air than over the previous three games with the ground attack also indicating steady improvement. Lowell Slocum continued to play great ball for CC, adding three more touchdowns to his personal point total. Defensively, the Tiger line showed up well holding the Indians to 90 yards net gain.

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By Karl Holz

Montana State wrapped up its third straight win by disposing of Colorado State, 26-0. This makes Montana State co-leader with defending champion Idaho State, and gives them their longest winning streak since 1946. Tom Patroc and Harvey Wylie supported the Bobcats' offense by making 20 of Montana's 26 points. The Bears' offense was unable to get started, and completed only five of 22 pass attempts. Idaho State defeated Colorado Mines, 33-21, to remain the other undefeated team in the Rocky Mountain Conference. Giving emphasis to the Idaho State victory were Buz Conner and Larry Kent who scored two touchdowns apiece for the Bengals' homecoming win.

Western State downed Arizona State 26-7, in a non-conference game.

Next Saturday night Colorado Mines entertains Western State in a conference tilt with Western being the favorite.

The CC Tigers grabbed their first victory of the season by spilling Omaha University 26-6. In a penalty-filled non-conference game the Tigers roared back in the second half to make up the 6-0 deficit from half time.

Halfback Lowell Slocum's three touchdown burst pulled him even with Montana's Tom Patroc for the conference scoring lead of 48 points each.

Idaho State plays Friday night at Colorado State with the Bengals being a sure bet. At eight o'clock Saturday night, CC engages Montana State in a decisive conference game. CC is to stay on the victory road.

I.M. Tennis Near Finish

The second round of the men's intramural tennis tournament should be wound up October 18th with the semi-finals and the finals scheduled for October 25 and November 1, respectively.

In the first round results, Jerry Schmidt, of Phi Delta Theta, ousted Don Hale of the Phi Gams 10-8, 5-7, 9-7. Bill Pite, also of Phi Gamma Delta, drew a bye the initial round but whipped Karl Holz, Phi Delta, in straight sets the second go. Bill Clark, representing the Independent Men, downed Sigma Chi's Howie Kellogg 6-1, 6-1.

John Dunbar, Sig Chi, won by default over Kappa Sig's Ron Timroth, Eddie Craig, Phi Delta, triumphed over Dan Smith, Beta Theta Pi, 5-7, 6-3, 6-0, and John Watts, Independent, defaulted to Leo McCune, Phi Gamma Delta.

Only one match was played in the doubles competition with Craig and Lowry of Phi Delta Theta toppling Scarborough and Hale, Phi Gamma Delta, 4-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Upsets Still Prevail in Collegiate Ball;
Watch Mont. State-CC Game, Should Be Close

Upsets throughout the nation are still dominating collegiate play as the season hits the halfway mark. Collegiate mentors were shedding tears early last year when the NCAA ruling ended two platoon football and as of now it seems they were justified.

Since the very first whistle blew ending the first Saturday of ball, highlighted by little Mississippi Southern's victory over highly touted Alabama, the big name coaches have been holding their hats.

This week on the national front Notre Dame advanced in the sports writers' point. Though they were out of action, Michigan State retained their second place slot though they had to pull one out of the fire against TCU. Other surprising games were the California's massacre of highly rated Penn—40-0; top seeded Southern California hit a brick wall last Saturday as Washington tied the big boys from Cal.

The big surprise in the nation was the Illinois-Ohio State game in which the Illini literally tore the Ohioans apart 41-20. Ohio State had been previously picked by sports writers around the nation to give the Michigan State boys a run for the roses. Illinois, once tied by mediocre Nebraska, looked very good Saturday and could well give Michigan State a tussle.

Of course the question remains, was it a fluke or is Illinois really hot? We shall soon see this week end as darkhorse Minnesota will play the Illini.

Tomorrow night will be another big test for Colorado College in as far as the RMC crown goes. Montana State will meet the Tigers on Washburn Field and will be out for their fourth conference win with no losses. At present, Montana State leads the conference with their three wins. Idaho State is second on the list with two victories against no losses. A win by CC over Montana coupled with an improbable win by Colorado State over Idaho State would certainly throw the conference up for grabs.

Sigs Fall to Betas

The Betas continued their winning ways, this time dumping the Sigma Chi 36 to 0. For the Sigma Chi, this was their second straight shutout. The passing combination of Simon to Howell clicked as it did in the last game. Some of the others who scored for the Betas were Skilling, Thorndike, and Wright.

After a quite shabby first quarter, the Tigers looked very good as a unit. Lowell Slocum played his usual hot game and praise also should be given to Ken Baird, Dick Pearson, and his replacement, Bud Green. End Jack Knight also played a very rough and alert ball game.

The game was marred only by the rather poor sportsmanship exhibited by the meatpackers from Omaha. Six boys were ejected from the game.

In predictions last week we again lost on three games. We were completely asleep in picking Wisconsin over UCLA—never again. We also were wrong on the Duke game which we picked as an upset though Duke had to come through in the closing minutes to win.

This week we will pick Montana State over the Tigers—watch this

Music Department Up to Full Strength With Addition of Four New Teachers

Hans Huber, Juhas, Seay, Cherry Fill Vacancies

Colorado College music department, long recognized as outstanding among the liberal arts colleges of the west, this year is operating with four new teachers.

Dr. Max Lanier, chairman of the college's music department, pointed out Saturday that the addition of the four new men brings the department up to full strength again. Prior to the opening of the current school year, the staff had been cut down by the promotions of several men to higher rank in larger universities and by the loss of the LaSalle String Quartet.

New men named are Louis Hans Huber, Earl A. Juhas and Albert Seay, all assistant professors of music, and Philip Cherry, instructor in music. In addition to Dr. Lanier, who is also a full-time teacher and concert performer, the music department staff includes Richard Moorehead, choir director and voice teacher, Jessie Newgreen Hawkes, organ, and Dr. Frederick Boothroyd, organ.

Conductor, Violinist to Teach
Huber, violinist and conductor, is a descendant of the famous Hans Huber, Swiss composer and founder of the Conservatory of Music at Basle. A graduate of the New England and Oberlin conservatories, he received the M.A. degree from Teachers College, Columbia University.

He has taught in Georgia, California, Rhode Island, and Idaho. He has concertized extensively, organized chamber music programs and was adjudicator and conductor at music festivals throughout the northwest.

Huber returned to New York in 1951 to join the LaPuma Opera Workshop group as conductor-coach, and to continue graduate study at Columbia. He has studied violin with Rever Johnson and Valentin Blumberg, has conducted with Max Rudolph and Leon Razin and studied opera repertoire with Rudolf Thomas and Ernst Knock.

Juhas to be Band Director
Juhas, who will be band director at CC, studied at Juilliard School of Music, majoring in clarinet and public school music. He has received the B.S. and M.A. degrees from Columbia and is in the process of completing his doctorate.

In the army for three years as a first sergeant and band director, Juhas has taught at St. Benedict's, Atchinson, Kan., Maur Hill High in Atchinson, Kan., and Trinity private school in New York City. He has done private teaching and professional playing in New York City and with the Riverside Symphony orchestra of New York City. He has studied clarinet with Jan Williams, former solo clarinetist with the New York Philharmonic Symphony.

Seay, noted Bassoonist, Composer
Seay, new assistant professor of music, is noted as a symphony bassoonist and a composer. He was first bassoonist of the New Haven Symphony, Connecticut Symphony, Baton Rouge Symphony and the Louisville Civic Symphony and has also played under Andre Kostelnitz, Howard Barlow, Donald Voorhies, Richard Rogers and Daniel Seldenburg in many Broadway shows.

Seay has composed ensemble music for string quartet, piano trio and 15 works for woodwinds, which have been published. He served in the Air Corps for two years in military intelligence.

He earned the B.A. and B.M. degrees from Murray State Teachers College, Kentucky, and the M.M. from Louisiana State University. A student at the National Music camp for two summers and at the Paris Conservatoire for six months, Seay has spent four years at Yale as a university fellow and is soon to complete his Ph.D. requirements.

Music Scholar to Instruct

New instructor in music is Mr. Cherry, who earned the B.S. degree from Juilliard and the M.A. from Columbia. Winner of a scholarship to the Settlement Music School in Philadelphia at 14, he became a solo cellist with the Wilmington, Delaware Symphony at 18.

After three years in the Army Signal Corps he entered Juilliard where he studied cello and chamber music with Felix Salmond and string quartets with Emil Hauser. New York String Quartet, the Degan String Quartet, has played in the National Symphony, the St. Louis symphony and was solo cellist with the Buffalo Philharmonic. He has also studied painting at the Corcoran Art School in Washington, D.C.

Dramatics, Radio Players Needed

CC Players need YOU, so if you're interested in dramatics, meet at South Hall on October 24th at 1:00 p.m. The last meeting was Wednesday; however, at the next get-together the members will decide the time most convenient to meet.

If radio is your interest be sure to contact Chief Tree, because several people are needed for the cast of their forthcoming radio production.

The Players will make their debut this year at the Variety Show with a fantasy entitled Aria de Copa.

Homecoming Plans Well Underway; Float Theme Chosen

"Song Titles" will be the theme for the 1953 homecoming parade, Doug Morgan, enthusiasm chairman, announced Tuesday. Each organization has chosen a song title and slogan pertaining to homecoming and the business at hand. "Beating Colorado Mines."

The floats are being judged on a revised percentage system: 60 percent for construction, presentation and development of theme, 20 percent on originality, and 20 percent adherence. The homecoming committee is anticipating an outstanding parade as the individual themes are excellent.

Professor Paul Jones Attends Accounting Discussion at Colo. U.

Professor Paul M. Jones, Colorado College instructor of Business Administration, attended the first in a series of two discussions of accounting at the University of Colorado last Tuesday afternoon.

Sponsored by the National Association of Cost Accountants, the program included a panel discussion on "Fixed Asset Accounting Policies" and featured four distinguished speakers as panel members.

Professor Jones, member of the Denver branch of the National Association of Cost Accountants, took as guests Richard Roberts, George Chamberlin, Eddy Craig, John Downie and Keith Kinsley who are advanced accounting students.

one—it should be close. Western State should stomp the luckless Miners, and Idaho State over Colorado State. Colorado A&M should continue their hot pace and ride Montana.

On the national front we pick Duke over Army—should be close, Kansas State over Colorado, whose backfield is completely riddled after last week's contest, and the highly rated Utah over Denver.

We will give Maryland the nod over North Carolina by at least two touchdowns, and Michigan over Northwestern in the Big Ten. The Ohio State-Penn game should be a dilly with the two losers out to get on the right side again. We will give Penn seven points and call it an even game.

Southern Cal over Oregon, Alabama over Tennessee and UCLA over Stanford. Illinois and Minnesota will be the game of the week from where we sit. After last week it looks like Illinois should be on top in this one. But we will give Minnesota the nod over home state Illinois and call it an upset.

Institute of International Education Reveals Data on Foreign Students

There were 33,671 foreign students from 128 different independent nations, dependent areas and trust territories studying in the United States last year. It is the largest total of foreign students ever in the U.S. at one time. This fact is reported in Education for One World, the census of foreign students published by the Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th St., New York City.

The 38-page booklet presents a brief survey of America's foreign student population, who they are, where they come from, what they study, where they study, and who supports them. Tables and charts point up this basic data and individual examples highlight the statistics.

Where do foreign students come from? One-third of those in the U.S. call Asia or the Near East home, while one-quarter come from Europe, one-quarter from Latin America, and one-seventh from Canada. The remainder are citizens of Africa and Oceania. Nearly half of the students come from eleven countries: Canada, China, Colombia, Germany, Great Britain, Greece, India, Iran, Japan, Mexico, and the Philippines. This diversity in origin draws attention to the fact that there can be no "typical" foreign student.

What do they study? Humanities are the most popular subjects of study for foreign students. Over twenty per cent are studying liberal arts, languages, literature, religion, philosophy, and art. Almost as many are in the field of engineering. Other fields in order of importance are the physical and natural sciences, the social sciences, medicines, business administration, education, and agriculture.

Do many foreign women study here? One out of every four students polled in the census was a woman. The largest percentage of women students was found among Europeans. The smallest was among the Africans, where the few existing educational opportunities are likely to be filled by men.

Who pays the bill? Schools and campus groups, private organizations, business corporations, the U.S. and foreign governments all contribute to the financial support of foreign students in the United States. Although sixty per cent of the students listed their own or their families' funds as one source of income, many of them reported support from more than one source. Sixty-six per cent were fully or partially supported by private organizations or colleges. A large proportion of this public or government support has been granted to students from Africa and Europe. While private agencies have assisted more students than have public, it is probable that the financial value of government support has been greater.

IRC Debate Scheduled; New Officers Elected

The International Relations Club met last Thursday evening at 7:30 in the ASCC room. Officers elected for this year are: president, Todd Sermon; program chairman, Fred Froelicher; secretary, Luc Hammond and treasurer, Ted Lof. The club's next meeting will be Thursday, Oct. 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the ASCC room.

The program will consist of a debate on the subject: "SHOULD RUSSIA BE EXPELLED FROM THE U.N.?" Arguing affirmatively will be Tom Dutton and MacGuire. Opposing them will be Chuck Hawley and Dick Clothier. Anyone interested in becoming a member of this debate will be welcome.

KRCC Adds New Program; Players Casting New Play

Hey guys and gals, what did you think of that 10-11 show Wednesday night? Wasn't it great or did you listen? Yes sir, the hottest tunes in town are invading our campus on KRCC. What a relief it was to take a few minutes out from that "favorite" book and listen to Bob Teweles flip those discs. It's here kids, the "After Hour Show" every Wednesday

Also on the agenda of news this week is this year's CC Players' first radio drama Friday at 7:30-8:00 p.m. Their first dramatic production is entitled "She Stoops to Conquer" by Oliver Goldsmith. If you would like to be a part of this company of players then meet on Thursday at 3:30 p.m. with either Arturo Jimenez or Dorothy Ramsey in South hall. There is still an opportunity to cast in one of this year's outstanding radio

Last, but not least, we'd like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to the Walter Ament's Music Store for their cooperation with KRCC in making the classical record a hit on campus and throughout the Springs. Through their sponsorship and our production this fine day a week show is becoming quite popular at CC.

CLASS MEETINGS COMMENCE TUESDAY WITH DISCUSSION OF HONOR COUNCIL

For the first time this semester, class meetings will replace the regular chapel service next Tuesday. These class meetings will be held once a month. Last February, a student committee submitted the following program to the Student Council and the Committee on Undergraduate Life:

The Proceedings of the International Colloquium on Luso-Brazilian Studies, which has just been published by the Vanderbilt University Press, contains a special concluding report written by Dr. Henry Hare Carter, chairman of the department of foreign lan-

Dr. Carter, who at the time of the Colloquium meeting was professor of Brazilian studies and romance philology at the University of Pennsylvania, was invited by Dr. Luther Evans, librarian of Congress, to prepare the report. It is entitled, "Development of Latin American Studies in the United States."

This report, which forms the final portion of the published "Proceedings," consists of an introduction to the rise and growth of Luso-Brazilian Studies in the U.S. during the 19th and early 20th centuries. It is followed by a bibliography of all research papers and publications in the U.S. dealing with Portugal and Brazil from 1920-50. The fields, such as linguistics, literary studies, criticism, history and geography, anthropology, sociology and economics, art and architecture, music, biography, bibliography,

The Hispanic Foundation of the Library of Congress has decided that one of the striking developments in its own province had been the growth of the study of Portugal and Brazil in the United States.

PAGE CAVANAUGH TRIO TO ENTERTAIN PHI DELTS

The Crystal Room of the Alamo hotel will be the scene of the annual Phi Delta pledge dance commencing at 8:30 tomorrow night. Music will be provided by the Page Cavanaugh Trio. Chaperones for the evening are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sondernar and Dr. and Mrs. Henry Carter. James Brown of Englewood, Colo., was pledged by the Phi Delt last Monday.

The Phi Delt suffered a 27 to 6 loss at the hands of the Kappas in a football game held last Sunday afternoon. After the game both teams headed for Austin Bluffs for refreshments and much needed relaxation.

PHI GAMM SELECT PLEDGE OFFICERS

The pledges of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity elected their officers last week. Al Porter, president; Bob Hendee, vice president; Joe Cook, secretary; Doug Disney, treasurer; John S. A. n. c. m., song chairman; and Lem Scarborough, assistant song chairman.

The following were recently pledged by Phi Gam: Al Hess, Los Angeles; John Gianville, Regina, Sask, Canada; and Ken Smith, Manitoba, Canada. A dance in honor of all the Phi Gam pledges will be held at the house this Saturday from 9 'till 1 o'clock. Chaperones for the evening will be Dr. and Mrs. Richard Fox.

Climaxing their respective meetings on Monday night the Kappas and the Phi Delt had an informal get-together at the Phi Delta house. Refreshments were served and the entertainment was provided by the pledges.

MRS. WILLIAM HINCH SPEAKS AT G-PHI SUPPER

Grilled hot dogs and the trimmings were served on the Gamma Phi patio Monday night at an informal supper. The new G-Phi province director, Mrs. William Hinch of Denver was the honored guest and she announced that the Gamma Phi Beta chapter at Colorado University had pledged 31 girls. The entertainment in the form of a humorous skit entitled "The Misadventures of Herlock Sholmes" was provided by the Executive Council.

"DRAG NET" THEME USED AT DG DANCE

The Delta Gamma activities gave a dance at the lodge Friday evening, Oct. 9, for their new pledges. The theme was "Drag Net," and was carried out with "wanted" posters for each pledge. Chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. Stabler and Mr. and Mrs. Juhas. Monday, Oct. 19, the DGs held a combination baby shower and supper at the house honoring Anna Lou Chapman, their rush advisor.

The annual hillbilly blowout will be marked by a backwoods atmosphere complete with corn cob pipes and patched clothes. The dancing will be to music on records and there will be refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Chicklis and Mr. Earl Juhas will act as chaperones.

Two new pledges at the Kappa Sig house are: Steve Rothman of Chicago and Jim Weir from Canada.

FLINN CHOSEN TO HEAD DELTA GAMMA PLEDGES

The Delta Gammass Pledges elected the following pledge officers: Fran Flinn, president; Joan Malm, vice president; Alice Scudder, secretary; Julia Harkins, treasurer; Lois Ann Lindquist, Pan-Hel representative; Lois Noe, social chairman; and Gini Holway, standards board.

Six Hildesheim Residents Visit CC on Study Tour

How would you like to sit down for luncheon with an Evangelical Lutheran pastor, a member of the Town Council, the president of the Women's Organization, the owner of a manufacturing company, a union representative and a newspaper editor—all from the city of Hildesheim in northern Germany? Well, the German classes on our campus had the pleasure of having these two guests at Cossitt Commons last Tuesday. These Germans whose study tour is sponsored by the U.S. Department of State, had just arrived from St. Louis that morning after having spent two weeks in the East. "What a vast country America is," and "what a beautiful city" were the first comments heard.

Following the line at the cafeteria they studied the menu and then carried their food to the small triangular room to be cordially welcomed by our students of German who happened to be having their weekly luncheon. Of course, everybody struggled for proper German words to say a sentence or two, to raise questions and to comment. How do people live in Hildesheim, how is the political situation, what about Adenauer, the communists, and how do German schools differ from ours.

What were their impressions of this country, what was the purpose of their stay? They are here to study American communities, organizations, and our way of living, and they will remain in Colorado Springs until November 3. Who is in charge of their stay here? Mr. R. F. Martin, general manager of Marwest Steels, is the chairman of a committee appointed by "Doc" Yates of our local Chamber of Commerce.

They were seemingly impressed by the open-mindedness and cordiality of our students and by their interest in the affairs of their country. They hoped that many of them would visit them when they came to Germany and they believed that nothing makes a man more appreciative of his own country than being away from it while traveling in foreign lands and to be constantly confronted with comparisons to find their bearings.

Some of our students talked about friends and relatives in Germany and that some day perhaps they too planned to go abroad. Several had been in Germany last summer, like Kathy Smith and Marcia Manning, and naturally a topic of conversation was fast established in this respect too.

The visitors were shown the campus and the buildings, and invited to return to attend the one or other class perhaps. There are plans in the making to have two of them on a radio panel discussion with two of our students so that various questions of general interest to our students and the public may be aired. So, when in the near future you flip that switch on your radio and hear voices with a German accent you will know that you are listening to friends of ours.

Forester Diagnosis Troubles; Solution--Attend Student Union

By MORT FORESTER

Are you unpopular? Do your friends throw stones at you? Do dogs chase you? Do people cross the street to avoid you? They do? Well, now, let's see what the trouble is. Have you checked your toothpaste lately? Oh, you have. What about your bath soap or cigarettes? They're okay. Well, then, what haven't we covered? NOW I've got it. YOU can't play bridge! Is that it? It is—good, because I just happen to have the solution for you right here. Now keep this to yourself because we can only handle four thousand students over at the Student Union and I would not want to turn anyone away, but we are having a bridge session on Friday, October 25, at 3:00 p.m. Remember—Charlie Brown knows how to play bridge. You don't know who Charlie Brown is? Well, I'll just have you know that Charlie Brown is the Number One authority on BINGO playing in this county.

Which brings to mind my next subject. How would you like to win a trip to Europe? You would? Well, so would I, so if you hear anything about one, let me know! But we are having a BINGO party Wednesday, October 28, at 7:00 p.m. with prizes. It will be either a FORD convertible or a FREE pass to the downtown shows—we haven't decided yet.

Don't forget our OPEN HOUSE after the game Saturday, Oct. 24, and remember that anytime during the year you have any suggestions, complaints, or ideas, by all means, please contact one of the following board members. We must have suggestions in order to act.

THIS IS YOUR STUDENT UNION. ONLY YOU CAN MAKE IT WORK!

SUC members: Gwen Jude, Mary Ellen Cruthirds, Martha Daily, Ed MacGuire, Bill Peters, Mort Forester, and Vickie Hahn.

Canterbury Club to Meet

This Sunday evening Canterbury Club will meet at Grace Church. Following the snack supper a discussion group will be held to discuss the talk given last Sunday evening by the lawyer, Mr. Frank Mobley. All girls will be picked up at their dorms between 6:00 and 6:15 and will be returned to their dorms after the meeting is over. Don't forget the weekly Holy Communion and breakfast every Wednesday morning at 7:00 at Shove Chapel.

Elect Officers; Discuss Rushing at Council

Electing 1953-54 officers and discussing rush tactics used this fall were the main topics taken up by the Interfraternity Council on October 13.

All the fraternity representatives expressed satisfaction with fall rushing. Except for a few minor amendments to the rushing rules, it is supposed that rushing will be handled in much the same way next year. Fraternity members are reminded that open rush is now legal.

The 1953-54 Interfraternity Council officers are as follows: Terry Burke, president; Juan Reid, advisor; Bob Kroehneke, secretary-treasurer; Edward Sager, and Bill Porter, Phi Gamma Delta; Dick Hayes, Beta Theta Phi; Bill Hogan and Tom Hall, Kappa Sigma representatives; Howard Kellogg and Bill Wiethoff, Sigma Chi; and Eddy Craig and Sam Maynes, Phi Delta Theta.

There will be a joint meeting of the I.F.C. and Fraternity Intramural managers on October 27th in Lennox house in the ASC room at 7:30 p.m.

FOUND: Numerous items have been found and turned over to the office in Lennox. Among them are a Ronson lighter, a key, a man's hat, and a white kerchief. Anyone losing any such articles are asked to see either Miss Enns or Vicki Hahn in Lennox.

Flenniken Elected QA Representative

Sue Flenniken has been chosen by the freshman women living in dormitories to be their representative to QA Board 19.

On Monday, Oct. 19, all freshmen, sophomores, and transfer women took the QA test on dorm rules and regulations. Those girls who don't pass the test will be retested at a later date. Those not passing the retest will be roomed on a Saturday night and retested again.

QA Board decided that because of the confusion in the past, and the fact that Saturday nights are 1:30 nights, no specials will be granted for the Halloween horror shows on Saturday, Oct. 30. Most of the movies have indicated that their midnight shows will be over by 1:00 which allows ample time to get home.

On Friday, Oct. 23, freshmen and sophomores who have not taken the placement tests which are required of CC students will have an opportunity to take these examinations. The time is 9 to 12 a. m. and 1:15 to 4:15 p. m. in Cositt gymnasium. Students are being notified individually from Dean Adams' office. They will be excused from classes during the times the test is being given. These tests are an invaluable asset to the student, since the scores are very advantageous when one's own capabilities are being assessed, and the stu-

"... But Brutus Was an Honorable Man!"

"A group of twelve senior honor men, whose duty it is to insure that the traditions of Colorado College are upheld", is in general the statement setting up the Red Lantern. However, a close examination of the activities of this honor group would lead us to believe that CC has only one tradition; namely, that of hazing freshmen.

Now the TIGER does not object to hazing freshmen, but surely there must be other activities in which the Red Lantern should or could engage itself. With the one exception of taking roll at chapel, these honor seniors have been in a dormant, almost dead organization through the largest part of the school year.

It would seem that Colorado College must surely have more traditions and customs than this one. Or would we be led to believe that a group of twelve senior honor men have properly fulfilled their duties with the completion of freshman hazing and chapel roll-taking.

It is encouraging, however, to see that the Red Lantern has been "given an opportunity" to help push over the Campus Chest Drive. It will be interesting to see how well these honor men are able to produce in this new capacity. The TIGER hopes that this break from the Red Lantern tradition of doing nothing except freshman hazing and chapel roll-taking will result in more positive activity for the future. The TIGER

CLASS ASSEMBLY MERIT

"A class assembly! I'd rather go to chapel."

Would you really? Do you know what a class assembly can mean to you or what it even is?

A class assembly is nothing more than an informal bull session, but this informal bull session has led to worthwhile results in the past. Paved roads was one of the recommendations of class assembly discussions and no one has complained about this improvement.

Once a month students convene with their respective classes. This is the only time that classes meet as a unit and are given a chance to exchange gripes and ideas with the administration. Here your class commissioners have a chance to perform their duties, and you get a chance to know your class commissioners.

Maybe you took part in the class assemblies last year. If so, you can see the "positive advantages" of what the assemblies can do and are better prepared to make the assemblies a success.

The first meeting will be a discussion of the honor system. Now you've used it—what do you think about it? Here's your chance to say!

ASCC NOTES

By Bill Howell

The first class meetings of the year will be held during chapel period on Tuesday, Oct. 27. Attendance will be taken by the Red Lantern as everyone is required to attend these meetings. The freshmen will meet in Perkins Hall, the sophomores will meet in the "Pit," the juniors in Cositt, and the seniors in room 201.

Due to discussion about the telephone situation, Dean Rawles came to the council to explain just how the present system works. He stated that our phone system is an expensive convenience which costs $10,000 a year to operate. An expert is going to study our system in order to compare it with that of other schools. With the new men's dormitory in operation more strain will be put on our phones. Dean Rawles stated that with this added strain something would definitely have to be done in order to make good communications possible. He stated that in most other schools all outside calls save to be made on pay phones and that possibly would have to be done here.

Gail Lund objected to the fact that the distribution of phones is poor in the dorms. One phone for 21 girls in Howbert and two phones for 17 girls in Slocum. It was suggested that the numbers of pay phones be listed in the student directory so that incoming calls could come from these phones at busy times of the day. A committee was set up to work with the telephone expert and show him, first hand, what the problems are.

Final try-outs and rehearsals are still under way for the Variety Show. All those who have acts are asked to keep posted on rehearsal times so that the show can be run as efficiently as possible.

Remember that the Campus Chest drive is now under way and that our quota is $2.00 per person. Let's give.

DOWN TIME STAR BEAT'S

Patti Page, the best female seller of records, has run from a hillbilly singer on a Tulsa radio station to a miss who consistently hits the best-seller lists each time she sings for Mercury Records. While the first few months on shellac she sounded like every other gal singer, she soon found her own style, and made her biggest success, on her double-voice rendition of Tennessee Waltz. For three years she made $65 weekly until she snagged her first hit, With My Eyes Wide Open I'm Dreaming. Since then, the singer has seldom fewer than 300,000 copies of any record she has made, and quite a few of her platters have gone past the 1,000,000 mark.

The hullabaloo around music circles these days in on religious-type tunes. They are outselling all the ballads and upbeat songs. Success of I Believe started off the most recent push, followed by Crying In the Chapel, and now Patti Page has come out with The Lord's Prayer on wax. Most of the big hits have one or more numbers of the same type in the process, with some being held back for Christmas release.

Stan Kenton will head the "Festival of Modern American Jazz" with Errol Garner, June Christy, Dizzy Gillespie, Stan Getz and Slim Gaillard. Tour starts Nov. 1, and will last a month, hitting most of the major cities, except New York where Kenton played a concert Sept. 26. Some of the most famous musicians pooled their talents on a recent record date for Chef Records. Session included Lionel Hampton, Oscar Peterson, Ray Brown and Buddy Rich in a rhythm section. Front line was composed of Flip Phillips, Illinois Jacquet, Ben Webster, Johnny Hodges, Dizzy Gillespie, and Roy Eldridge. After that cutting Rich flew to the West Coast to do another jammed waxing with Count Basie, Freddie Green, John Simmons, Stan Getz, Wardell Gray, Harry Edison, Buddy DeFranco,

McDaniels to Be Guest Of Congregationalists

Sunday evening, October 25, the Jonathan Edwards Club will have as its guest, Master Sergeant Thomas H. McDaniels of the Anti-Aircraft Command. Sergeant McDaniels was formerly assigned to the United Nations Truce Supervision organization, Palestine Mission, from February of 1949 until May of this year.

During his four years in the Holy Lands, Sergeant McDaniels has collected many interesting color slides and gained much firsthand knowledge of the political, economic and cultural details of Israel, Egypt, Trans-Jordan, Syria and Iran.

His illustrated talk should prove most interesting to those concerned over the situation in Israel and Trans-Jordan. Everyone is invited to this unusual program Sunday evening at 7:30.

Willie Smith, Benny Carter and Arnold Ross.

Marshall Scholarships Offered; Applications Due November 1

Applications must be filed with the appropriate regional committee by November 1st for the newly established Marshall Scholarships which provide two years of instruction and possibly at any university in the United Kingdom for qualified United States students. Applicants must be citizens, under 28 years of age in the year in which the award will be granted, and must be graduates of a regionally accredited college in the United States.

Provided by the British government as an expression of gratitude for the aid received under the European Recovery Program 12 awards will be made annually, three in each of four geographical regions. The value of a Marshall Scholarship will be $1,540 a year with a proviso that this may be raised to $1,680 a year at universities where the cost of living may be higher. Married men will receive an additional $500 a year. Marshall Scholars will receive their transportation to and from their university in the United Kingdom.

Awards will be made on the basis of distinction of intellect and character as evidenced by scholastic attainment and other achievements. Candidates may apply either to the region in which they live or to a region in which they have received at least two years of college training.

Applicants from Colorado should address their applications to the British Consulate-General, 310 Sansome Street, San Francisco 4, California. If students living in other states wish to apply to the Consulate-General office of their region, the address may be obtained from Miss Grant at the Counseling Center.

You'll find classmates—and a future—at Boeing!

Men from more than 120 top engineering schools are building rewarding careers at Boeing. So chances are, you'd be working with some of your classmates here. And in addition you'd be a member of an Engineering Division renowned for its trail-blazing contributions to both military and civil aviation.

If that's the kind of engineering prestige you'd like to enjoy, look into Boeing opportunities. This company has been growing steadily for 37 years.

It provides the finest research facilities in the industry. It offers you work on such exciting projects as guided missiles and the fastest known bomber in the world: the B-47 six-jet medium bomber, as well as the still-classified B-52 eight-jet heavy bomber.

You can work in Seattle, in the Pacific Northwest, or in Wichita, Kansas. Boeing provides a generous moving and travel allowance, gives you special training, and pays a good salary that grows with you.

Plan now to build your career as a member of Boeing's distinguished Engineering personnel after graduation. Boeing has present and future openings for experienced and junior engineers in aircraft

COLO. COLLEGE IN FOURTH LOSS OF SEASON

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By Karl Hold

A fourth quarter, fourth down field goal by Idaho State proved to be the winning factor for the Bengals, as they tipped Colorado State 10-7. C-State, though plagued with injuries, came up with a spunky team and almost knocked off favored Idaho State. Up to the fourth quarter C-State had kept the score tied a 7-7, but were finally overcome by Idaho State's advantage.

The Bears had the edge in first downs, 15 to 11, but the Bengals had an overwhelming advantage on ground gaining, 262 yards to 112, and in the air 141 yards to C-State's 121 yards.

Showing a running and passing power seldom exhibited by the Mountaineers, Western State overran Colorado Mines at Golden 40-7. By scoring in every period and holding the Miners at bay until the final quarter, the Mountaineers had a rather easy evening in chalking up their second conference win and a 4-1 season record.

Mines started fast, but bogged down after marching 73 yards on the opening series. The Miners' defense did not fare any better and was unable to cope with Western State's split T offense.

Montana State moved nearer to the Rocky Mountain Conference championship by disposing of Colorado College 20-0. Beside giving away a great weight difference, CC was troubled with fumbles, each one running scoring bids.

Quarterback Tom Parac scored all three Montana State touchdowns, to take possession of the RMC scoring race. Before the game he was tied with CC's Lowell Slocum at eight touchdowns apiece.

Montana State's victory was the first over CC since 1936 and also was the Bobcat's first win over the Tigers on CC's home field. Both Idaho State and Montana

Phis and K-Sigs in Tie

The injury ridden Phi Deltis were held to a 6 to 6 tie by an inspired Kappa Sig team. First to score were the Phi Deltis on a pass from Ashby to Vilmont. Later the Kappa Sigs scored on a long pass to Conroy from Fitzgerald.

Going into this week, the Phi Deltis have a half game lead over their nearest competitor, the Betas.

Sigs in First Victory

The Sigma Chis finally got around to scoring and, as a result, licked the Independents 12 to 8 in a thrilling contest. However, the Independents were the first to score TD, but the Sigma Chis fought back and tied the score. Later the Sigs scored another TD and that proved sufficient despite a touch back by the Independents.

State go outside the conference for games this Saturday. Montana State plays North Dakota at Grand Forks and Idaho State tackles the College of Idaho at Caldwell. Colorado Mines and Colorado State will be idle.

In the only RMC tilt for the weekend, Colorado College will be host to Western State at Washburn Field, Saturday afternoon. This will be an interesting game with CC's only chance for a win being by an upset.

I-M Swim Meet Planned For October 27, Nov. 3

The annual intra-mural swimming meet will be held October 27 and November 3 at 7 p. m. at the YMCA pool. Prelims will be held the 27th and finals on the third. Entries must be returned to the athletic office by noon today.

Individual events this year will be the 40 yard freestyle, 100 yard freestyle, 60 yard backstroke, 60 yard breast stroke, and the individual 60 yard medley.

Team events will include the 160 yard free style relay and the 120 yard relay.

Two men may be entered in the individual events from each organization and one team may be entered in the team events from each club. No preliminaries will be held for diving, competition will be held on the third.

CC Soccer Team Schedules 8 Games

October 18—Colorado Mines at Colorado Springs (postponed).

October 25—Colorado A&M at Denver, 31st and Curtis, 1:15 p.m.

November 1—Denver U. at Colorado Springs.

November 8—Colorado Univ. at Boulder.

November 22—Colorado Mines at Golden.

November 29—Colorado A&M at Denver, 31st and Curtis, 1:15 p.m.

December 6—Denver University at Denver, 31st and Curtis, 2:30 p.m.

December 13—Colorado University at Colorado Springs.

CC Drops Farther Into RMC Cellar

Mont. State Wins 20-0; Backs Held Scoreless

Quarterback Tom Parac tallied three touchdowns to pace his Montana State teammates to a 20-0 Rocky Mountain Conference win over Colorado College last Saturday night at Washburn Field. Parac was ably assisted by two other Bobcat backfield men—Tom Huff and Del Wylie—to give Montana State its first win over CC since 1946. Six fumbles halted several drives deep into the Mountaineer's territory.

Montana State's first six pointer came in the second period with Parac galloping 28 yards for the score to climax a 73-yard march. Wylie converted to put the visitors ahead, 7-0. The Bobcats took the second half kickoff and drove 59 yards in ten plays for their second tally of the evening. Parac flipped a 22-yard aerial to Wylie who lugged it to the Tiger 7 before being knocked out of bounds. After three attempts, Parac cracked over from the one foot line.

The Tigers were handed a golden opportunity in the third quarter when Dick Pearson recovered a fumble on the Bobcat's 12-yard line. Bob Deyo and Roger Bildstein divided the carrying chores to the one from where Bildstein apparently did score. However, CC was charged with an illegal shift and the touchdown was nullified.

With four minutes remaining, end Vic Berra fell on a fumble on the Colorado College 12 to set up State's final tally. Hoff battered his way to the one with Parac scoring from there.

For the Tigers, Lowell Slocum, Roger Bildstein and Bob Deyo stood out for CC offensively while Bud Green, Durango and Ken Baird showed up well on the line.

I-M Rules Changed; Cross Country Out

Caddy Thompson, director of I-M sports, announced, last week several new intramural rule changes which will affect several organizations in one case and all of them in another.

Due to lack of interest, it was voted to discontinue with the 1953 annual Cross-Country Race, which is usually held between halves of the Homecoming football game.

Section "D" of Rule 11, under Eligibility of Participants, was changed to read: "No man is eligible to participate in a sport if he is on a varsity or junior varsity squad in that sport at the time of an intramural contest, or if he has played an official game in varsity or junior varsity competition in the current year, or if he is still on a varsity or junior varsity team three weeks after official practice for that sport has started, except in the case of football, when it shall be two weeks after school has officially opened."

The change in Section "D" will go into effect immediately at conclusion of the present touch football schedule.

CC to Host Western State on Saturday; Play at Washburn Field in the Afternoon

The Darkhorse of the Rocky Mountain Conference—Western State's rough and rugged Mountaineers, journey to Washburn Field tomorrow afternoon for a loop clash with a victory-starved Colorado College eleven, with kickoff time set for 2:00 o'clock. Coach Willard Pederson's surprising crew have chalked up four wins against one loss. Western New Mexico, Colorado State, Arizona State and Colorado Mines have all fallen to the Mountaineers—only Montana State's powerful Bobcats measured Western—that by a one point margin. In conference play the Gunnison eleven stands in third place behind Montana and Idaho State.

Western's team is built around seven returning lettermen with transfers and freshmen comprising most of the remainder of the squad. Letterman Vernon Tate and Mesa Junior College transfer Ted Ammerman will be at the end spots for the Mountaineers. Frank Oyster, a six foot, 195 pound army veteran, who saw action with the 1949 team, along with another Mesa Junior College transfer, Carl Snook, are the tackles. The guard slots are held down by letterman Bob Foster and George Klach, an Empire Conference standout for Mesa Junior College, while Jim Richards, who received an honorable mention on the all-conference team, will be at the center post. Western's backfield is composed of three lettermen—quarterback Don Price, halfback George McMillan, and fullback Bob Tasma. Either Bill Rhodes or Jim Roser can see action at the other halfback position for the Scarlet and Slate.

Colorado College is still seeking its first conference triumph after a 20-0 loss to Montana State last Saturday. Fumbles played a major role in the Tiger defeat and five drives within the 30-yard stripe being halted by faulty ball-handling. The defeat eliminated CC's chances for the RMC title.

Tomorrow's tilt will be the last in a three-game home series for the Tigers. Next Saturday afternoon the locals travel to Greeley

Schedule Is Released; Hackey Competition Toughest in Years

Last Monday, Colorado College announced the toughest, most representative hockey schedule in its 15-year history of ice competition.

Fighting to get back near the top of the national collegiate ladder after missing the N.C.A.A. tournament last year for the first time in six years, Coach Cheddy Thompson's Tigers will face:

- All six teams of the Midwestern Hockey League in a total of 14 games, including four with Denver University and two each with Michigan, North Dakota, Michigan State, and Michigan Tech.
- Two of the leading collegiate teams from Canada—British Columbia University and Saskatchewan University.
- Three top schools from the East—Dartmouth, Harvard and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, and
- For the first time in the college's history, a two-game series with the powerful Edmonfor a tilt with the Colorado State Bears.

CC's 26-game schedule was equalled in size only once previously—then in the 1947-48 season when CC won 18 games, lost only 4 and tied 2. But that schedule included six "breather" games.

Coach Thompson is far from optimistic about establishing any winning records with the 1953-54 Tiger skating edition.

Black Saturday for Tigers Last Week CC Looks Improved in Running Game

Black Saturday closed out one more week of hard practice by the Colorado College Tigers as they dropped their fourth game in five to a snappy Montana State eleven.

CC's running game looked good on the whole except for their inability to hang on to the ball. Lowell Stocum continued his fine running and was ably assisted by Roger Bildstein and Bob Deyo. Bildstein played one of better games of the year as he hit over the middle for large gains on several occasions.

Fijis Whip Betas

The Phi Gams upset the powerful Beta squad 29 to 0. The rout was led by Blaney who scored two TD's. Others to score for the Fijis were Danton and McGonagle. This loss by the Betas caused them to fall a half game behind the pace-setting Phi Deltas in the race for the championship.

Oil Kings of Alberta, always a leader among the vaunted Canadian "junior" teams—stairway to professional hockey.

A whole host of inexperienced newcomers will combine with a few men left over from last year's team, which won 10 and lost 11 in the poorest CC season since 1945-46.

The seventh annual NCAA hockey championships are again scheduled for the Broadmoor Ice Palace here, with CC as host school, and the Tigers are anxious to get back into the charmed circle of four teams after missing last year. CC won the national title in 1950 and finished second in 1952.

The 1953-54 schedule is as follows:

Dec. 4-5—CC Alumni	Home
Dec. 12-14—Edmonton Oil Kings	Home
Dec. 18—Denver U.	Home
Dec. 19—Denver U.	Home
Dec. 26-28—Harvard U.	Home

Betas Win I-M Galf

It was announced last week that Beta Theta Pi wrapped up the Intramural golf championship with a low team score of 333 which is an average of 83 per man.

Phi Gamma Delta was second with 355, an average of 89 per man and Phi Delta Theta drew third place with 377 or an individual average of 91.

Medalist honors went to Doug Silverberg of the Independent men with a pair of par 36's. Beta B Bumpied was individual runner up with a four over par 70.

Our predictions last week were not too good with eight out of twelve plus a tie.

Trying for a perfect record as to prediction we will pick CC over Western State by six points. This one could go either way. After last week's upset we will pick A&M over Brigham Young by 12 points. Oklahoma will be a strong favorite over the injured Colorado U. team.

On the national scene, we will pick Army over Columbia, unbeaten Baylor over Texas A&M, So. Cal to whip California and Notre Dame a two touchdown favorite over Georgia Tech.

MAJORETTES APPEAR AT HALF TIME; SOLO FEATURES FIRE-LIGHTED BATON

Two top-notch majorettes—one who has performed in the Orange Bowl and another who has twirled for crowds at Ebbetts Field in Brooklyn and the Polo Grounds in New York City appeared at the half of the Colorado College-Montana State football game Saturday night. The two girls, both students at CC, performed to the music of the college band, with one of the girls doing a special solo act in the dark with a fire-lighted baton.

Carolyn McConnell, 17-year-old freshman, formerly of Long Island, N. Y., and now of Denver, combined with Laurie Archer, 18-year-old sophomore from Miami, to thrill the crowd with their twirling antics.

Miss McConnell started twirling long before entering high school and perfected the art while working with the band at Sewanhaka, Long Island, High School. She has appeared at Ebbetts Field during a Brooklyn Dodger baseball game and also at the Polo Grounds in New York City. Her twirling has also been an attraction in the annual May's Thanksgiving Day parade down Fifth Avenue in New York City and at the Jones Beach concerts.

In addition to performing with Miss Archer in a dual act, Miss McConnell appeared Saturday night between halves in her specialty—the fire baton. With the lights of Washburn Field extinguished, she did a daring twirling act with both ends of her baton wrapped in rags, soaked in gasoline and blazing with fire.

Miss Archer started twirling even before junior high school and worked with junior high and high school bands in Miami, Fla., and Los Alamos, N. M. She led one of the featured bands in the Orange Bowl parade and pageant in 1949. In New Mexico she was one of the outstanding contestants in the state twirling contest, appeared in several parades and taught summer classes in baton for small children. Before transferring to CC last year, Miss Archer was a majorette with the University of Colorado band.

Junior Pan-Hel Formed; Staples Elected Prexy

At the first meeting of the Junior Pan Hellenic Board last week, an election of officers was held. The following girls now hold offices on this board: president, Betty B. Staples; vice president, Jean Boncutter; secretary, Lois Ann Lindquist; and treasurer, Sharon Connor.

The purpose of the Junior Pan-Hel Board is to coordinate all pledge activities and obtain ideas from the two pledge class representatives that each sorority sends. Discussions are held at these meetings which pertain a great deal to the coordinating of all pledge activities and the smoothing out of common problems familiar to all the pledge classes. Future plans include a progressive dinner and a work day.

Initiate Eight Girls Into Gamma Phi Beta

At six a. m. Tuesday, Oct. 13, eight Gamma Phi pledges were routed out of their beds as "Courtesy Week" began. The pledges spent the rest of the week cleaning the house, attending all meals and all classes and having a rummage sale prior to their initiation Sunday morning.

Who'll Be Queen?

Five Women's Organizations Pick Homecoming Candidates

Timberlake, Pfeiffer, Stoltz, Adams, Carter Vie for CC Title

Homecoming on the Colorado College campus is only two weeks away and already students and alumni are beginning to feel the fever which accompanies the annual gala reunion.

Once again the CC homecoming will be a two-day affair, with Friday and Saturday, Nov. 13 and 14, being official school holidays.

November 13—the first day of the celebration—will feature the first judging of house decorations and the evening pep rally and bonfire by students.

One change in the traditional schedule will find the annual freshmen-sophomore fight being held on Friday morning, instead of Saturday, the day of the game. The outcome of this fest will determine whether or not freshmen will be burdened with dinks and ribbons until Washington's birthday.

Saturday, Nov. 14, the parade, the laying of the cornerstone for the new men's dormitory, luncheon and class reunions, the "C" Men's stag dinner, the game and the dance will all be packed into the homecoming celebration.

Right now the big item of interest is the selection of the all-schol homecoming queen. Five campus ladies—one from each sorority and one from the Independent Women—have been selected to carry their group's banners the week of homecoming. Voting will take place the week of homecoming, with all bona fide CC students eligible to cast their ballots.

Crowning of the 1953 queen will take place Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, Nov. 13, in the Cossitt Ball, when all students gather for the big pep rally and bonfire. The honored CC maiden will reign over the parade, the football game with Colorado Mines and the dance at the Broadmoor hotel.

Representing the Independent Women as queen candidate is Miss Yetti Stoltz, an 18-year-old freshman. An active member of the freshmen social committee and a prospective art major, Miss Stoltz now calls Denver her home, but originally came from Yugoslavia.

Delta Gamma's candidate for the coveted queenship is Miss Pamela Adams, 21-year-old senior from Colorado Springs. "Pam" has been active in campus affairs all during her stay at CC, having served in the Tiger Club, and as secretary of Pan-Hellenic association, vice president and pledge trainer of her sorority and class commissioner in her junior year.

Kim Timberlake, 19-year-old sophomore from Pittsburgh, Pa., represents Gamma Phi Beta in the nominations. A former member of Pan Hellenic and now a member of the Tiger Club, Miss Timberlake has served as homecoming

Dr. Brandt Honored For Poem "Colorado"

Dr. Thomas O. Brandt, associate professor of German, was informed that he is to be listed in the latest edition of "Kurschens Deutscher Gelehrtenkalendar" (the German equivalent of "Who's Who for Scholars"), published by Walter de Gruyter & Co., Berlin. W 35. He also is listed in the "Dictionary of American Scholars" and in the forthcoming issue of "Who's Who in the West".

A poem of his, entitled "Colorado," was published in the August-September issue of The American-German Review.

chairman for her sorority and last year to accept an active part in the CC Variety Show.

Kappa Alpha Theta's candidate is Patsy Carter, 20-year-old junior from Wichita, Kans. "Pat" is a Tiger, recording secretary of her sorority and co-chairman of the service committee of the Associated Women Students. As a freshman, she was one of the hostesses at the annual CC-Broadmoor Invitational Golf tournament.

Miss Sue Pfeiffer will be representing Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. The 20-year-old junior hails from Durango and is the last in a long and illustrious line of five Pfeiffer children attending CC. Her activities include being class commissioner for two years, social chairman of the Associated Students and a member of the Tiger Club. She served as a cheer leader for two years, is now a member of Wakuta, honorary athletic society and writes for the CC TIGER, weekly newspaper.

Fourteen Outstanding Seniors Named to Who's Who for '53-'54

Fourteen outstanding seniors at Colorado College have been named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" for 1953-54. Seniors are chosen on the basis of outstanding participation in one or more prominent campus organizations and service to their school. Student Council and the office of the dean make the initial list, while the final choice, based on the school's enrollment and the individual records of the students, is that of the students, is that of the "Who's Who" publication.

Those named this year, along with a partial list of their activities, are Pamela Adams, Pan-Hellenic representative; Dave Becker, Grouper president; Terry Burk, Interfraternity Council, Phi Gamma Delta president, and Red Lantern member; Judy Carlstrom, Tiger Club and Howbert House president; Tom Dunton, Honor Council president and Red Lantern member; Marge Epler, president of Wakuta and Pan-Hellenic; Pat Hand, president of Bemus; Moses Harrison, past president of Student Council, Honor Council member; Chuck Hawley, chairman of Publications Board, member of Student Council and Honor Council. Gwen Jude, Grogg House president; AWS treasurer; Neal Lund, QA president; Ned Pfeiffer, senior class president, member of Red Lantern, and Honor Council member; Anne Pinkney, chairman of 1952-53 Leadership Conference, and AWS Vocational Guidance chairman; Georgianna Shaw, AWS president.

Music Department To Present Series Of Sunday Concerts

Following the custom of several years the music department of Colorado College will present again this year a series of Sunday afternoon concerts in Perkins Hall. As in the past these concerts will start at 4:30 p.m., and will be given free of charge as a contribution to the musical life of the community. These concerts have drawn increasing audiences of music lovers and it is hoped that the circle of friends for these performances will continue to grow this year.

The performers will be members of the faculty of the music department and any artists of the region who are available and willing to contribute their talents for this cause.

The opening event is announced for Sunday, November 1st, and will present Max Laner in a solo piano recital. He will play works by Schumann, Stravinsky, Debussy, and Chopin.

Joseph Leech Speaks At Second in Series Of Faculty Lectures

Dr. Joseph Leech will speak at the second faculty lecture on "From Primer to Einstein" at 8 p.m., Thursday, November 5, in the Shove Memorial chapel lecture room. The faculty lectures, given each year for the college and the public, proved so popular last year that at the last one there was not even standing room left.

Dr. Leech, who received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of Oklahoma and his Ph.D. degree from Yale University, has had a wide experience in teaching. For three and a half years, he taught in the engineering department at the Phillips Petroleum Institute; for one year, at the University of Oklahoma; for three years, at the University of Texas; and for seven years, at Yale University. For three years, he was an assistant professor at the University of Chicago and has been at Colorado College as professor of mathematics for three years.

Dr. Leech has collaborated in writing two text books: "Fundamental Mathematics", in collaboration with several members of the mathematics staff at the University of Chicago, and "Basic Mathematics", in collaboration with Professor E. J. Miles of Yale University.

Professor Kenneth Curran is chairman of the college lecture committee. Dean George W. Adams is chairman of the subcommittee on faculty lectures; Professor Amanda M. Ellis is the chairman of the Publicity Committee. Ann Pinkney and Moses Harrison are in charge of ushers for the lectures.

Council Plans First 'Religion in Life' Week

The International Religious Council is starting off its first year of existence with a lot of big plans. The council has had two meetings—the first being an organizational meeting.

The main topic for discussion at the second meeting was the "Religion in Life" week that the council is planning for February. This will be the first of a series of annual "Religion in Life" weeks to be held on our campus. Committees were formed to take care of the planning and organization of this week. From the sounds of the suggestions of Dean Burke and the ideas of the various members of the council it looks as though the "Religion in Life" week at CC will really be an asset in our college year.

Another of the projects of the council was a booth at the AWS Carnival Night Wednesday night. Formerly each of the religious groups on campus has had separate booths at this activity night, or they have had no booth at all. This year all of the organizations have consolidated their booth at the International Religious Council and they had one booth representing all of the organizations.

The council is also trying to help Dean Burke to find a voluntary chapel plan that is acceptable to both faculty and students. Any really workable suggestions in this direction would be appreciated by Dean Burke.

CC ROTC Rifle Team Opens Second Season

Colorado College's ROTC rifle team opened its second season last week when 32 regularly enrolled cadets met with Captain Thomas H. Delvin, director of marksmanship.

Before for the first time in Cossitt gymnasium, the riflemen expressed high approval of the new facilities provided by the college. A portable range, consisting of mobile bullet traps, has been constructed for firing.

Before for the first time in Cossitt gymnasium, the riflemen expressed high approval of the new facilities provided by the college. A portable range, consisting of mobile bullet traps, has been constructed for firing.

The rifle schedule includes postal matches with other ROTC units throughout the United States, the William Randolph Hearst National ROTC match and several shoulder to shoulder matches both home and away with nearby ROTC units.

Six award winners of last year's team are assisting Captain Delvin in preliminary marksmanship training of new team members.

TUG O' WAR TOMORROW; FROSH WILL CHALLENGE UPPER CLASSMEN

WHAT SAY FRESHMAN? You know what we have done, don't you? Just about the nerviest thing that any Colorado College freshman class has ever done—that's all. We have challenged the upperclassmen to a tug o'war at 2:00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Stewart Field, and now it is our job to prove to them that we have more than nerve. What have you got to gain from spending your Saturday-afternoon hanging on to a length of fireman's rope? You (yes, YOU) can help keep alive the wonderful class spirit that we have already displayed and can do a lot to "scare up" enthusiasm among the upperclassmen.

And ah—you just might be interested to know that in case we win this contest the freshman girls will get to take off their paddles and the frosh boys can forget about wearing their cords.

I say, "in case we win" because there is every possibility that we won't. It is going to take a lot of freshman pounds and spirit to outdo three other classes.

And if we lose the tug o' war? Well! There are rumors of freshman girls in green socks and the frosh boys in neckties. . . .

New Men's Dorm to Be Dedicated on Nov. 14

Dedication of the new men's dormitory, at Cache la Poudre and Nevada, will take place on Saturday, November 14, with Mayor Harry Blunt presiding at the ceremonies.

Here is a list of the items to be included in the corner stone: a copy of the Nov. 13th issue of the TIGER, a 1953 Nugget, a current CC catalog, a current summer school catalog, copies of addresses by Mayor Harry Blunt and Henry Willie, president of the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce, a

CASE OF THE MISSING DIAMOND BY SERGEANT JOE BRIDGEPLAYER

By MORT FORSTER

October 30, 7:35 p.m. Headquarters—Student Union, My name is Joe Bridgeplayer. The chief called me into his office. "Joe, we got a problem. Someone—and I mean someone—is stealing the diamonds off our card decks. Joe, something has got to be done!" He handed me a form 1047, a search warrant 6782, and a gun permit 2760. Together with my social security number this made a grand total of 11,589. Subtracting 10589 gave me 1000. This was my first big clue, for 1000 is the address of Lennox House.

CC Sunday Concerts Commence Nov. 1st

Continuing its custom of offering public music concerts during the regular academic year, Colorado College will this year offer a series of Sunday afternoon concerts in Perkins Hall.

Max Lanner, chairman of the SCC music department, will open the series on Sunday afternoon, November 1, at 4:30 o'clock. His solo piano recital will include works by Schumann, Stravinsky, Debussy and Chopin.

As in the past, these concerts will be given without charge as a contribution to the musical life of the community, and all will start at 4:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoons. These concerts have drawn increasing audiences among students and townspeople, and it is hoped that the circle of friends for these performances will continue to grow this year.

copy of Dean Hershey's book on the History of Colorado College, a current school directory, a current issue of the Alumni News, plus samples of 1953 coins and stamps.

7:30 p.m. I entered Lennox House. There a young girl with a green ribbon in her hair was looking over some new green socks she had just acquired. I said to her, "Pardon me, ma'am, but I would like to ask you a few questions, ma'am. Do you know anything about the missing diamonds on our card decks, ma'am? We're just after the facts ma'am, that's all just the facts, ma'am." WHAT SAY, MA'AM? It was here that I got the answer I was waiting for. She said in a quiet voice, "BEAT COLORADO STATE."

I could see with this cooperation, this was going to be an easy case.

7:42 p.m. I entered the living room and examined the playing cards. Now I knew the story as to what had happened!

7:46 p.m. I returned to headquarters. The chief looked up as I walked in. "Don't tell me you have finished the case already, Joe." "Yes," said I, "but no one was stealing the diamonds, they were just having them re-cut!" "Good work Joe, but how, how, how, HOW did you do it?" "Oh, I just played a hunch, that's all. You know, a hunch. Sometimes a hunch pays off, sometimes it doesn't. I just played a hunch, that's all." "You mean what you're trying to say Joe is that you just played a hunch. Is that it, Joe? Sometimes a hunch pays off, sometimes a it doesn't?"

"Say Joe, do you have any more hunches?" "Yes chief, I do." "What is it Joe?" "I've got a hunch that there is going to be a play and a learn to play BRIDGE SESSION over at the STUDENT UNION Friday, Oct. 30, at 3:00 p.m." "Good work, Joe!" "Thanks chief."

::: Dum-Da-Dum-Dum :::

By COLETTE HEISTER

My name is Thursday. My partner is Day-After-Tomorrow.

We were working on the self-winding watch out of the long div. Captain Root was in charge. We suspected that someone was running a senior class ring. Our job: find the square.

Three weeks, 18 hours, and some seconds later, at 7:58 Monday, we peeled over to CC and began our investigation. We packed our pogo sticks in the faculty's bicycle stands.

7:59. Navigating through Palmer, I bumped into a fence. I didn't like the guy; I could see right through him. He was a picket fence. Upon seeing an officer, he took off like a cyclone.

I followed him into his first class. Then I recognized him. He was ?, wanted on charges ranging from 1-50.

8:00. The room settled down, and the lion wagged off his daily tale. He looked funny without it.

8:50 In the hall the village square was asking for contributions of brass nuckles, black johns, William clubs, and Junior Birdman Badges. I rescued for my Junior Birdman Badge, but it had flown the coop!

9:00. I played a hunch and went to Cossitt gym to look for it. I was so busy playing the hunch that I didn't notice the 20 or so girls in the room.

9:00:01—I noticed them.

10:15. I pulled myself together and faced the gym teacher.

"I'm looking for an escaped Junior Birdman Badge, ma'am. Wondered if you've seen it, ma'am."

"Just an ordinary-looking badge, ma'am. Pen-green and purple with pink polka dots, ma'am."

Ma'am: "No I haven't seen it. . . . You don't think I'm hiding it, do you?"

"Just routine investigation, ma'am. Just want to get the facts, ma'am. Know where it might be, ma'am?"

She suggested the cafeteria. I wasn't exactly up in the air over the air, but I let it go through.

On the way to the cafeteria, I ran into the fence again. I was getting mighty careless. I reminded him that there was no picketing in the lobby. Then I noticed he was rolling off some dough to a pal. I reprimanded him for being so naughty, and turned in the dough to the cafeteria for next week's lunch.

12:15. I began to grill the people in the cafeteria, but they clammed up. Nothing seemed to pan out. The dishwasher almost spilled, but he chickened out.

1:13. Then the Westinghouse refrigerator in the corner gave me another hunch. My posture was pretty poor.

1:15 I fought my way up to Doc Stabler's precinct. Just as I had suspected he had another Westinghouse. In it the Junior Birdman Badge was westing.

1:30. On my way to deliver it to the recording secretary of the sitting committee for the benefit of harried Lanterns, I met Day-After-Tomorrow. He was leaving the school store after sizing up the senior class ring situation.

1:45. We took the school store down to foot-quarters for further questioning. It talked.

3:30. We got squared away on this new angle and rounded up the rest of the ring.

Back at footquarters, I asked Day-After-Tomorrow how he had known what the deal was. He always seemed to be a step ahead of me.

"I just played a hunch, Thursday. Sometimes a hunch pays off, sometimes it doesn't—I can play a hunch too, but I'm better on the piccolo."

"Yeah, I just played a hunch. Sometimes a hunch . . ."

These are the facts. Names were changed to protect the author, but the script remains unchanged.

Trial was held on the 22nd of September in Kangaroo court in and for the county of CC. In the next paragraph, the results of that trial.

Selling 45's is punishable by a term of not less than 30 pig tails. The school store is now serving its sentence by replacing the sale of 45's with yellow cords, black sweaters, dinks and bows.

"Ambition Should Be Made of Sterner Stuff"

It was an extreme pleasure to read and digest the editorial of last week, for its value as a source of amusement was priceless. I was particularly pleased with the author's diligence in securing the data that the Red Lantern consists of 12 members. That, it seems, was the extent of his ambition toward acquiring facts on the subject, as his limiting and erroneous statements revealed only the last minute need for an editorial.

To substantiate my argument, let me say that the duties of the Red Lantern are not confined merely to roll-taking at chapel and freshmen hazing. Among a few of their more notable accomplishments are the distribution of song books, teaching of songs and yells, supervising and planning the Frosh-Soph fight, overseeing the ringing of the Cutler bell on appropriate occasions, creating spirit, unity, and cooperation within the freshman class, and furthering or developing any project in conjunction with school spirit. Then, too, the Red Lantern maintains one more basic idea, that of keeping their noses out of other people's affairs.

This year, the Red Lantern furthered their duties and projects by offering to unite with the Wakutas in several worthwhile school projects, these being the planning, decorating, and running of the Sadie Hawkins Dance, a great success financially as well as recreationally, and taking the "opportunity" to push the campus chest, which at this time is pointing for its greatest year.

Future projects are the aiding in spirit and registration of the alumni at Homecoming and supplementing and improving the cheers of Colorado College.

If it be that the Red Lantern is now a dead organization, it was the sharp and biting pen of you, Mr. Tiger, which like the knife of Brutus, struck the fatal blow. To the Honorable Mr. Tiger, a slight memorandum from us—the Red Lantern: "The evil that men do lives after them; The good is oft interred with their bones."

—Robert E. Kroehnke

"FOR OLD CC, I YELL . . ."

Last spring the Growlers here at CC were laid open by a column in the TIGER, then entitled, "Let's Face It", for their lack of organization and initiative in promoting school spirit. This year, as a result of this adverse criticism, the Growlers took it upon themselves to undergo a self-imposed initiation to re-establish themselves as an effective pep organization.

This was all well and good and gave promise of a real effective team of Growlers this year. But, unfortunately, the Growlers haven't seen fit to do anything since that time, except attend Kangaroo Court.

We have seen the Tiger Club out in force for every football game and making some real effort to promote school spirit. Good going girls! Why haven't the Growlers been able to do likewise? Could it be that the freshmen got the best of them in the "flour incident"?

Oh, it is true that the Growlers have been seen at various places at the games and around campus, but never as a group. Those who have attended the recent football games have noticed the positive effect of the little groups of cheering sections, namely, a group of freshman girls, a group of Betas, a group of soldiers, and the Tiger Club. Why aren't the Growlers one of these groups?

The A.W.S. Board has voted to buy trophies: one as a traveling award for honor dorms, and the other as a traveling award for the quadrangle dorms. A cup will be awarded three times a year to the honor dorm with the highest scholarship averages.

Sue Beer, Service Committee chairman, reported that she and Patsy Carter are compiling a list of projects for women students with such civic organizations as the City Recreation Department and the Halfway House. For instance, through the Service Committee, there may be an opportunity for CC coeds to gain experience in physical therapy work.

A.W.S. Carnival Night was held on Wednesday, October 28. Helen Morgan, Earlene Sebaugh, and Teddy Baer were in charge of the A.W.S. refreshment booth. The Carnival Night program will be followed up by each organization, or the A.W.S. Personnel Committee, contacting those students who sign for any organizational activity represented at a Carnival Night booth.

In the near future A.W.S. Personnel Committee activity blanks will be distributed among underclassmen. These blanks, on which students may indicate their outside interests, from the A.W.S. personnel files, used by all organizations in search of talent.

A "Ya-Ta-He" meeting was held on October 20, when it was stressed by welcoming chairman, Joan Todd, that the activities of newcomers did not cease at the end of Freshman Week. For example, one year-round duty of newcomers is showing prospective students about the campus.

Ways of improving Buzbees were discussed. Among the suggestions were: (1) hold Buzbees at Cossitt cafeteria; (2) have students in groups with their own advisors; and (3) have a better explanation of the purpose of the Buzbees before they are held.

The A.W.S. General Assembly was staged in Cossitt on October 22. Again, the purpose of this assembly was to bring A.W.S. members into closer contact with their own organization. Pat Paulich, co-chairman of the Publicity Committee, was in charge of the assembly.

Educational Society Holds Annual Meeting

The Woman's Educational Society will have its annual meeting at Bemis Hall Saturday.

This organization, which was founded in 1898 to aid Colorado College, has given years of faithful service to the college. Its substantial gifts include Montgomery Hall, completely furnished; the infirmary, completely equipped and furnished; the renovation of Perkins Hall auditorium a few years ago at a cost of $31,000; scholarships and loans to Colorado College students of $70,000; the financing of a year at Colorado College for several foreign students; aid to the college literary magazine; grants to the Vocational Guidance Center; and the gift of a microfilm reader to the library.

Mrs. Hartley Murray, an alumnae of the college, is president of the society.

Counseling Center Affords Guidance For CC Students

One of the many benefits afforded students at Colorado College is the Counseling Center, established in the fall of 1950, the purpose of the center is to aid students in vocational, school, or personal problems.

The center, located in the AWS room in the basement of Ticknor Hall, is open each week from 9:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday afternoons are "open" hours when a student may drop in to have his questions answered, or to discuss in general his problems with the guidance director. Appointments are scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and mornings as needed.

The work of the center is divided into three parts; that of counseling, of testing and the supply of vocational information. Tests available include those covering vocational interests, general ability, specific aptitude, personality factors, achievement and study skills. Discussions cover any occupation of interest to college students, vocational plans and study habits. The results of the freshman tests are used in helping to determine a student's capabilities. Main emphasis is placed on aiding a student in planning his career after he leaves school.

This counseling service, under the direction of Miss Miriam Grant, is open to all college students free of charge. Those wishing to contact the center may telephone extension 59 or drop in on "open" afternoons, either to ask questions or to make an appointment for another time.

Miss Grant, who is working on her doctorate, has received from Columbia University, her "Professional Diploma" as vocational and educational counselor. She is also a professional member of the Nat'l Guidance Association. Ellen Weingarten is the student assistant, working at the center several days each week.

Burkle, Baldwin Speak To CC Religious Clubs

The Jonathan Edwards Club will have a speaker of special interest this Sunday evening. He is well known on campus and highly respected for the job he is doing with chapel services. It is none other than Dean Burkle. Don't miss this chance to get to know him, hear his opinions, and voice your own, at 7:30 in Gregg Library next to the First Congregational Church.

This Sunday evening at 6:15 Canterbury Club will meet at Grace Church. Following a snack supper, Miss Baldwin, who has had much experience in religious youth work, will speak to the group. All are welcome. Girls will be picked up at their dorms at 6:00 p.m. and will also be taken home after the meeting.

Riding Club Plans Homecoming Ride

Riding Club members, who are interested in riding in the Homecoming parade, will discuss plans for this event at a meeting on Tuesday, November 3, at 7:00 p.m. at room 214 in Palmer Hall.

Mr. Wyrick, a member of the Pikes Peak Range Riders, will give a talk on "Parade Riding".

Also, there is a ride scheduled

Faculty Lectures Open With Language Talk By Professor McCue

Colorado College's annual Faculty Lectures opened Thursday night, Oct. 29 in Perkins Hall with a discussion of "The Straitjacket of Language, or Some Popular Misconceptions," by George S. McCue of the college's department of English.

Prof. McCue, an authority on grammar and a literary specialist, is well acquainted with many of the arts outside his own field. He has traveled extensively abroad as a scholar and tourist and is a student of English architecture.

Mountain Club Plans Climb Up Pikes Peak

The Colorado College Mountain Club invites all interested students to join us in our annual ascent of Pikes Peak this week end. All interested students should contact one of the following: Dr. Michel, Rick Richards, Justine Jordan, or Carol Watson by nine o'clock Friday evening. We will leave from Murray's at 12:00 noon on Saturday. Saturday evening will be spent by a campfire at Barr's Camp on Pike's Peak. We will be back early Sunday evening.

For this coming Saturday at 1:00 p.m. Those wishing to attend please meet in front of Outler at one o'clock.

McCue attributes his interest in grammar to a street-car advertisement which he saw when he was about 15 years old. The advertisement consisted of a series of questions put to the travelling public by a man looking much like William Shakespeare in a four-in-hand necktie. "Do YOU use correct English?" the figure demanded. "Or do you say 'NOO York' for 'New York,' and 'DIVE-van' for 'divan'?" Are you betraying your ignorance by saying "Who did you speak to?" and are people laughing behind your back when you say "Noae of them are poor?"

Convinced by these ads that he was far gone in "linguistic sin," McCue decided to reform—to devote the rest of his life to linguistic purity. By the time he was graduated from the University of Colorado (BA, 1930) he could spot grammatical blunders in nearly everything anyone said or wrote. Clearly there was a great opportunity for an enterprising teacher.

At the end of his first year of teaching he had retrieved a hundred dangling participles, married two hundred divorced infinitives, substituted "as" for "like" many hundred times, and had recovered nearly one thousand misplaced commas.

It is about these and other problems of language and grammar and subsequent changes in his opinions that Prof. McCue talked in the first of the Faculty Lecture Thursday night.

Yale Alcohol Center Studies Veterans' Drinking Habits

According to a five-year study into the drinking habits of American college youths being made at Yale University's Center of Alcohol studies, veterans appear to have had more frequent and intensive drinking experiences than non-veterans.

These differences completely disappear when age and other selective factors are accounted for. When compared with non-veterans in the same age brackets, veterans show no significant difference in drinking patterns and attitudes.

The customs and attitudes of young persons with regard to drinking are already pretty well determined before they come to college by practice, attitudes and customs of their families, their social groups and their communities.

Phi Trip Indies

The Phi Deltas, trailing at half time 7 to 12, made a rousing comeback in the second half to win 21 to 12. In this process the Phi Deltas moved closer to the conference crown.

The Phi Deltas were first to score on a long pass from Ashby to Maynes. However, the Independents came right back to score on a long pass also. Nevertheless, the Phi Deltas still held an edge because the Independents failed to make the extra point. Later the Independents came back again to score.

In the second half the passing combination of Ashby to Vilmont was good for two TD's, and that was all the Phi Deltas needed, although the Independents made quite a fight of it in the closing minutes.

C.C. TO PLAY AT COLO. STATE HOMECOMING

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By Karl Holzl

The Rocky Mountain Conference football championship will probably be decided Saturday, October 31, when Montana State and defending champion Idaho State tangle at Bozeman. The possibility for a Montana State triumph looks good. Comparative scores this season indicate the Bobcats can whip the Idaho Bengals if they play their usual brand of ball.

Though unbeaten in four conference games, Montana State was beaten 14-7 by North Dakota University at Grand Forks last Saturday. Idaho State has won three conference games without a loss, but was lathered 46-9 by College of Idaho last Saturday. The Idaho State game will end Montana State's conference schedule.

In one of the RMC football campaigns' big surprises, Colorado College fought favored Western State to a 7-7 tie at Colorado Springs.

The Mountaineers were a strong pre-game favorite, but couldn't get going against the Tigers. C.C.'s strong defense stopped the powerful Western State running attacks for all but a few plays, and in the last quarter took advantage of a pass interception by Jack Knight to help push over the clinching touchdown.

Had CC lost, it would have been the first time the Tigers had dropped three RMC tilts since 1934. The deadlock was the second in the history of the CC-Western State series. CC has won 20 and lost 3.

Colorado Mines will entertain Adams State in a non-conference game. Western State will be idle this week.

Colorado College travels to Greeley Saturday to face Colorado State in the second conference game this week. From all indications CC should be

Tigers to Play Afternoon Tilt; Heissmen Look for 2nd Win

Colorado College will hit the road for Greeley tomorrow for a Rocky Mountain Conference tilt with the home team Colorado State Bears. The clash with the Bears will be Homecoming with game time set for 2:00 o'clock. The Tigers are still looking for their first RMC win, having gained a 7-7 deadlock with Western last Saturday. Colorado State has fared even worse dropping three straight loop encounters to Western, Montana State and Idaho State. The Bears sport a lone victory over Adams State of the New Mexico Conference.

Coach John Hancock's squad is pointing for CC and hope to avenge last year's 40-20 lullaby administered by the Tigers. Colorado State boasts a stout line anchored by tackles Victor Collins, a six foot, 214-pound sophomore and five foot, eleven, 248-pound senior Paul Sciranka. Jerry McMillan and Charles Beal will both top the 190 mark, hold down the guard slots while Jim Daugherty and Bob Roper should see plenty of action at the end positions for the Purple and Gold. State's backfield consists of two-year letterman quarterback Dick Porter. Letterman Wally Birlew and Jack Adams will be at the halfback posts with seniors Jim Smith and Ted Chidlers dividing the chores.

CC enters tomorrow's game as the favorites for only the second time this year. The Tigers were again plagued by fumbles last week but outtrushed Western 239-188. The passing attack fell off considerably with only one aerial going for a completion. Colorado College's line did the outstanding job of the afternoon, holding Western at bay in the closing seconds of the game within the shadow of their own goal.

Next week the Tigers travel to Hays, Kansas, for a tussel with Fort Hays State. The following Saturday will be Homecoming with Colorado Mines.

K Sigs Whip Sigs

The Kappa Sigs and the Sigma Chi's battled to a 6 to 6 deadlock in the lowest scoring game of the intermural football series thus far. The Kappa Sigs scored on a long pass from Tom Fitzgerald to Charles O'Fallon. However, the Kappa Sig failed to make the point after the TD. Richard Eldredge scored a TD for the Sigma Chi's on a long run.

Indes Stop Betas

The Beta's found that the Independents were just too tough to handle as they lost 13 to 6. The Betas scored on a pass from Simon to Howell, but they failed on the extra point. Croly and Hansen shared the scoring honors for the Independents. This loss eliminated the Betas from winning the championship.

Reserves Draw Tie With Western State

Old man time and a stout Colorado College line halted a desperate Western State drive in the waning seconds of the fourth quarter enabling the Tigers to gain a 7-7 tie with the favored Mountaineers last Saturday in Washburn Field.

With only a few seconds left Western was in possession of the ball on the CC five yard line. Quarterback Mel Vogel tossed a touchdown pass to end Vern Tate for what seemed the winning tally but the referee ruled the game had ended before the play started.

CC's tie was an uphill struggle being completely outplayed in the first half. But Coach Heiss' Tiger Reserves came out fired up for the second half to register a badly needed touchdown. Lowell Slocum, sixth ranked of the country's ball-carriers, rolled up 111 yards in 17 attempts. Strangely enough, however, neither Slocum nor the rest of the first team were in the game when CC scored. Possibly the confusion of the new substitution rule Heiss pulled his regulars only to find he was unable to get them back in until the final four minutes. The second team was left to do the work and they did it well.

Western State drew first blood on an 80 yard march in the first period. Freshman halfback Bill Rhodes spearheaded the Mountaineers' drive on runs of 31 and 22 yards. Rhodes scored himself on a three yard sweep around left end. Ammerman converted to send visitors ahead 7-0. Colorado College threatened a couple of times in the first half but a fumble and an intercepted pass halted the drives.

The Tigers' touchdown came with four and a half minutes remaining. Jack Knight intercepted a Western aerial on the CC 3' attempting to Hammond who thundered down the sideline to the Western 32. Prebis and Holubek carried for a first down on the 19. Three more running plays moved the pigskin to the Western 5. Holubek was thrown for a loss on an illegal substitution cost Western three yards, placing the ball on the 3. Prebis then went over

Predict CC to Ruin C-State Homecoming in a Rough Battle; Montana State Ove ISC Team

The cards will be on the table, as far as the RMC goes, late this Saturday afternoon with the Montana State-Idaho State game in the record books. What looked like the game of the season still holds and Montana State will be out to stop the defending champs from Idaho State. ISC suffered last week at the hands of their home-state rivals, College of Idaho, 46-0 and after such a defeat will be pitched at a high peak. However, Montana State also drew a loss, so both teams should be beat. Montana lost to the boys from North Dakota, 14-7. It looks very close but we will ride with Montana State.

Colorado College knocked apart all of Western State's hopes for a piece of the title as the Tiger reserves pushed over for a tying touchdown in the middle of the final quarter.

Lowell Slocum, rated sixth in the ranks of small colleges, returned to form and was a main factor in three touchdown drives for the score and Knight converted much to the relief of the Tiger cheering section.

Standouts for the Tigers included Lowell Slocum, Ken Baird and Art Elder. Bill Rhodes was the offensive standout for Western.

which were turned back despite his efforts. Simon netted 111 yards from scrimmage in 17 attempts. Ned Pfeiffer and Bob Deyo also aided the cause with an average of five yards per carry.

CC's line play was once again centered around Kenny Baird with stellar action from Art Elder, Bud Green, Terry Burke and Dick Pearson. Jack Knight, Walt Bennet, and Ed Fieck all played a fine game at the end slots.

This week in predictions we will pick CC over Colorado State, 20-7. Montana State will have a rough day with Idaho State but should come out on top in a very close tilt. On the national scene we will pick Army over Tulane, Baylor

Slocum Is Top Man In Eight Fields for CC Tiger Eleven

By K. G. Freyschlag

Lowell Slocum, Colorado College's 180-pound right halfback, is dominating the statistical parade at CC in a fashion seldom duplicated.

The big Ovid, Colo., senior, is leading the Tiger team in rushing yardage, scoring, total offense, punt returns, kickoff returns and pass interception, as well as punting.

Figures released today by the CC publicity office show that in the five games to date Slocum has carried the ball 61 times, gained 551 yards and lost 29 for a net gain of 502 yards.

In addition he has completed two passes for 32 yards, giving him a total offense total of 534 yards.

Slocum has scored eight of CC's ten touchdowns for a total of 48 points. He has punted 18 times for a respectable average of 35.3 yards per punt and has run back two pass interceptions for a total of 55 yards.

In handling 90 per cent of the Tigers' punt and kickoff returns, Slocum has returned six punts for 59 yards and 10 kickoffs for 260 yards. This means he has accounted for a grand total of 908 yards for CC this year.

Other backs figuring prominently in the running game of the Tigers this year include Rodgers Eldredge, Ned Pfeiffer, Bob Deyo and Tony George. Eldredge has gained 172 yards in 31 tries for an average of 5.6 per try. Pfeiffer has netted 154 yards in 38 tries for an even 4.0 average. Deyo picked up 65 yards in eight tries in only one game for an 8.1 average, while George has carried 16 times for a net of 43 yards.

Wally Prebis leads the passers with 13 completions out of 27 attempts for a total of 141 yards. Jack Knight and Rocky Anderson have each caught four passes—Knight for 44 yards and Anderson for 49 yards. Knight also handles the CC placements after touch downs—having hit on five out of eight and having scored one touchdown for a total of 11 points.

CC's total team offense, when compared with the opponents' totals, doesn't look as bad as the won-loss record of the Tigers might show.

On the ground the Tigers have mustered 910 net yards in 210 carries for an average of 4.33 yards per try. Meanwhile the opponents have garnered 996 yards in 237 tries for a 4.20 yard average. In the air CC has hit on only 16 of 43 passes, for a poor 37 per cent and total yardage of 192 yards. The five opponents have hit a more than respectable 57 per cent, connecting on 30 of 63 attempts for a total of 414 yards.

The total offensive picture shows that CC has gained a total of 1,102 yards in 253 plays, for an average of 4.35 yards. Running against CC opponents have gained 1,286 yards for an average of 4.43 yards.

The fact that opponents have completed 37 more plays than CC shows that they have controlled the ball more often, a fact which undoubtedly cost CC one and possibly three of its four seasonal losses.

Attention Debaters! Novice Debate Tourney To Be Dec. 5th at DU

Calling all debaters! Now's your chance! A real hot debate is coming up December 5th at Denver University. This is the Novice Debate Tournament for those, only, who have never debated in college before. This year's subject is, "The Adoption of Free Trade in the United States". Nineteen students have already expressed interest, but Professor Ray Werner would like to hear from more freshmen and new students who are interested. As the saying goes—the majority rules!

The sixth annual CC High School Invitational Debate Tournament will be held in January. Two-hundred students were present from various schools last year, and under the fine direction of Charles Hawley, the tournament was very successful. Mr. Hawley will again take over the position of director this year. With the help of the entire student body, CC hopes that they will be able to maintain their position as fine hosts.

Civil Service Announces Exams for Positions

The U.S. Civil Service Commission has again announced its Junior Management and Junior Agricultural Assistants examination for filling positions throughout the United States. These positions start at a salary of $3,410 a year.

Students who expect to complete their courses by June 30, 1954, may apply. Age limits are 18 to 35 years. To qualify, applicants must pass written tests and must have had appropriate experience or education.

These examinations are designed to bring into federal service outstanding young men and women for training and development into future federal executives and for filling positions in various fields of agriculture. These positions offer excellent opportunity for advancement.

For further information and application forms write the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Variety Auditions Close; Seventeen Acts Chosen

The final auditions have been held for the CC Variety Show. The staff proudly announces that a tremendous show is well on its way. The spirit and enthusiasm for this year's show overwhelmed the staff and made the decisions twice as hard. Thirty-four acts auditioned. These acts ranged from classical music to jazz; from the serious to the humorous. Dance teams, vocal solos, variety acts, and others, all with

Of the 34 acts which auditioned only half could be used. The staff held auditions for three weeks, finding that the longer they watched, the harder it became to decide which acts would have to be cut from the program.

The type of act and the length of the performance were taken into consideration. The staff hopes that the seventeen acts which were chosen will form a well balanced, fast moving show.

Numbers from such shows as "Guys and Dolls", "New Faces", and "Me and Juliet", in addition to other fine acts, promise to make this show the greatest that CC has ever had. For the first time, CC faculty will join in the fun of show business and present an act never to be forgotten.

Tickets will go on sale November 9th and all seats will be reserved. The show will run for four consecutive nights—Nov. 17, 18, 19, and 20. The proceeds will go to the Campus Chest.

A reminder to those persons connected with the show: keep Nov. 1, 2, 8, 9, 15, and 16 open. These will be the only rehearsals held in November. You MUST be there.

Name the French Club Tuesday at Hayes House

Parlez-vous français? If the answer is "oui", think of a name for the French Club. Tuesday, November 3rd at 7:30, the French Club will have its first meeting of the year in the Hayes House library. Ideas will be solicited for a name for the club.

There will be an election of a vice-president followed by slides on the Latin Quarter in Paris. These will be discussed and explained by the students. The musical portion of the program includes French popular records and group singing. Refreshments will be served.

Late Hour Policy Set by Q. A. Board

Q.A. Board decided last spring to set up a uniform policy concerning later hours granted for dances throughout the year. For either all-school dances or an individual organization's formal on Saturday night after an athletic event, 2:00 hours will be granted. Regarding Friday night dances, the following will be the policies:

1. 12:30's for an individual organization's informal or costume dance.
2. 1:00's for an individual organization's formal dance when there is no preceding scheduled athletic event.
3. 1:30's for an individual organization's formal dance following a scheduled athletic event.

On Wednesday, October 28, Q.A. Board entertained General and Mrs. Gill at dinner in Bemis. Seated with them were all the hall presidents, Q.A. Board, the new freshman representative to Q.A., and the freshmen representatives to hall councils of Bemis, McGregor, and Montgomery. After dinner they were entertained by Cal Fisk and Diz Warren singing, and playing the guitar. Miriam Robbins who provided selections on the piano, and Janet Shellenberger doing a Japanese dance.

"O Colorado" Title Of New Alma Mater To Be Introduced

"O Colorado" is the title of the new "Alma Mater" of Colorado College.

The words and music were written by Mr. Albert Seay, Mr. Earl Juhas, and Charles Hawley at the request of Dean G. W. Adams and the AWS.

Tiger Chub, the choir, and the band will present the new "Alma Mater" to the student body in chapel on November 10. It will be sung publicly for the first time by the student body at half time of the homecoming game. Copies are being printed for distribution.

"O Colorado" will be sung at times throughout the year. The words are as follows:

"O Colorado"
O Colorado, college fair,
We sing our praise to you.
Eternal as the Rockies
That form our western view
Your loyal sons and daughters
Will always grateful be
The college dear to all our hearts,
Is our CC.

O Colorado, college fair,
Long may your fame be known,
May fortune smile upon you
And honor be your own.
Our Alma Mater always;
Your loyal children we,
Together let us face the future,
Hail, CC.

Leadership Conference Plans in Progress; Star Ranch to Be Site

Plans for the Leadership Conference, which will be held at the Star Ranch on November 22, are being formulated under the direction of Bill Peters and Earlene Sebaugh, co-chairmen. The general planning committee will meet the first of next week to work on completion of plans. Anyone interested in working on the conference, please contact one of the chairmen.

Activities Cut At Student Union For Homecoming

Because of the many activities which are to be coming up in the next few weeks—Homecoming, Variety Show, Thanksgiving vacation the activities at the Student Union will decrease proportionally. The Friday afternoon bridge playing will be the only activity this week. Next week is Homecoming so there won't be any organized activities at the Union, although the Union will be open for anyone who wants to use it.

The other news which relates to Union is that there is to be a Student Union Convention at CU on Nov. 6, 7, and 8. CC will be represented by four members of the Student Union committee. From this convention we hope to learn and acquire some new ideas.

After Thanksgiving vacation we will again continue with our regular three days a week activities at the Student Union.

Denver Symphony Opens November 16

The Denver Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Saul Caston, will give performances on Nov. 10, 17, and 24.

The modern English composer, Vaughan Williams, Symphony No. 4 in F minor will be featured in the all-orchestral program on Nov. 10. Berlioz's Roman Carnival Overture and excerpts from "Petrouchka" by Stravinsky will also be played.

George London, young American bass-baritone, will be guest soloist with the orchestra on Nov. 17. For his Denver appearance, he will sing two Mozart concert arias, "No Sleep, No Rest" from Borodin's "Prince Igor" and the Credo from Verdi's "Otello."

Another orchestral concert is scheduled for Nov. 24. The works to be presented will be Rachmaninoff's "Pezzo Concertante", Ravel's "Tombeau de Couperin" and Kodaly's "Hary Janos".

Music in Mood to Beat Mines Theme of Homecoming Parade

Music in the mood to BEAT MINES will be featured on CC's Hit Parade next Saturday in the 1953 Homecoming Parade. The eleven social organizations on campus have chosen different song titles as themes for the individual floats. The Fijis are using the song "Goody, Goody", and the Thetas selected the song "School Days". The two independent groups are again building one float and will use their float with

"There Is a Tavern in the Town" as theme, while the G-Phis chose "Star Dust." "One Meat Ball" is the song the Sigs are using, and the Kappas decided upon "Mule Train" as their theme. Kappa Sigma selected "All I Want for Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth" for their float and the D-Gs have chosen to use "I'm Goin' to Wash That Man Right Out of My Hair." The Betas decided to follow the theme of "Crying in the Chapel."

Fraternity house decoration themes will not be announced until homecoming. However, some of the organizations are also planning to follow the theme of song titles for their house decorations.

Homecoming festivities will begin early Friday morning, November 13, with a breakfast dance in Cossitt. The dance will begin at 6 a. m. with the Bob Bell Trio providing music. Breakfast will be served and dancing will continue till the freshman-sophomore fight, which is scheduled to begin at 8 a. m. There will be fun for all at this early morning informal dance, which will begin the homecoming weekend.

Voting for the homecoming queen will take place in chapel on Tuesday morning, Nov. 10 with the crowning of the queen to take place at the pep rally Friday night. Following the pep rally in Cossitt Dorel there will be a snake dance downtown to Busy Corner where another short rally will be held.

The homecoming dance will be held in the Broadmoor ballroom. Tickets for the dance are already on sale at a cost of $2.50. Tickets sold at the door will sell for $3.00. Dancing will be to the music of the "new" Verne Byers Band. "The music is going to be better than ever," according to Larry Herman and Jim Ward, dance chairmen.

Anyone interested in working on the 1953-54 NUGGET please attend the staff meeting, which will be held in the Nugget office in Lenox at 1:30 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 7.

Five CC Students Apply for Annual Fulbright Awards

Five Colorado College students have had their applications for the annual Fulbright Scholarships approved by the college and are now awaiting the approval of the National Educational Association in New York City. Results will be announced next spring.

These five students are Anne Pinkney, an economics major, who is interested in study in France; Charles Hawley, who wishes to study political science in Great Britain; Jay Raymond, a philosophy major, who would like to further his education in Burma; Kathy Smith, interested in studying German literature in Germany; and Olga Yaichik, who would like to continue her art studies in Finland.

The all-expense scholarships for study abroad may be obtained in two different ways. Each state is permitted to sponsor two students; however, students receiving such aid must attend college in the state in which they live. Ann Pinkney is CC's only state-sponsored applicant. Other students applying for Fulbright Scholarships must survive a national competitive selection made by the National Education Association in order to receive this aid.

KRCC-FM on Air Friday For Homecoming Music, Interviews with Alumni

KRCC-FM will be on the air during the day of Homecoming. Interviews with returning alumni and campus music will be featured between 9 and 12 on Friday from Cossitt Hall. On Saturday there will be a broadcast from 10 until 12, featuring the dedication ceremony of the new men's dorm following the Homecoming parade.

Engineers will be under the direction of Bob Medlock. The program director for KRCC activities at Homecoming is Charles O'Fallon. Tom Freund will announce the dedication ceremony. Coordinating the station's efforts will be Larry Richman and Bob Tewees.

Actions Speak Louder Than Words

"What you do speaks so loudly that I cannot hear what you are saying." Yes, Mr. Kroehnke, you and your honor men have many high-sounding and beautifully phrased programs outlined for yourselves. Now that you have cut out your work for yourselves, let's see some action.

But before we leave you to your plans, Mr. Kroehnke, let us go back to your editorial of last week and pick up where it says, "Among a few of their more notable accomplishments are..." Ah, yes, and then you proceeded to list some projects. Let us take a look at some items in that list.

"The teaching of songs and yells" was one of the first items on that list. May we ask to whom you taught these songs and yells and where? But if you are referring to getting up a minority of the freshmen men in the middle of the night and coercing them into singing, then we would ask you what about teaching them to the rest of the freshmen and to the overclassmen?

"Overseeing the ringing of Cutler Bell on appropriate occasions," certainly wound up with a usual twist. The "appropriate occasions" are when CC's football team wins a game, not ties one. The ringing of Cutler bell after the tie with Western State broke an age old tradition, not preserved one.

"Offering to unite with the Wakutas in several worthwhile projects" is stretching the word "offering" a little far, because, Mr. Kroehnke, we happen to know that you did not voluntarily seek out someone and offer to help promote the campus chest drive. But we can disregard that error if you can show us a fair amount of success with your end of the drive.

"Keeping their noses out of other people's affairs" you apparently have interpreted so liberally that you have even kept your noses out of your own affairs in many instances.

Now Mr. Kroehnke, let me refresh your memory. The Red Lantern is organized at Colorado College "in order to perpetuate the traditions of Colorado College, to orient new students to the traditions, to promote cooperation among student organizations, to aid in Freshman Week activities, to aid in the organization of the Freshman Class, and to provide a group of men students to be at the service of the administrators of Colorado College." How many of your stated purposes have you neglected to live up to? Three and one half out of six.

"The Red Lantern Club assumes active responsibility for organization and supervision of the following activities: (Do they, Mr. Kroehnke?)

- To keep Cutler bell in a good state of repair, to appoint the freshman who shall have the honor of ringing it, and to designate on what occasions it shall be rung. (Is our bell in good repair?)
- To record past as well as present traditions and their significance.
- To supervise publishing of college yells and songs.
- To sponsor an annual Senior-Faculty softball game.
- To encourage attendance at all athletic contests through various devices.
- To require the singing of "Our Colorado" on proper occasions.
- To organize the freshmen, teach them the songs and yells, to indoctrinate them in the traditions, and to take measures to require observance of the traditions.
- To promote and supervise the annual Sophomore-Freshman fight.
- To discourage "kid stuff" and "high school antics" as a display of school spirit.
- To promote and sponsor any event or activity that tends to build a worthwhile college spirit."

What have you done about items B, E, F, and I, for instance? Again we ask, Mr. Kroehnke, does the Red Lantern "assume active responsibility" for promoting these activities?

Return Those Books

Early last week a group of four students, including myself, went to the library and stole twenty-one books. We weren't at all secretive about the venture. We simply went into the stacks, picked up the books, walked out by the main desk, and through the front door. No questions were asked and no one attempted to stop us.

Before any reader decides to impeach me for book stealing, let me explain the reason for my actions. Every year the library makes an inventory of all its books. This year before half the books had been checked, Miss Kampf, the head librarian, made a rather amazing discovery. Over 900 books valued at over $2,700 were missing! The Student Council, upon being informed of the matter, decided to take action and a committee under Carol Witwer was appointed to look into the situation.

As a member of the investigation committee, I took part in the book stealing escapade in order to find out, first, how difficult it was to steal books, and secondly, if books were being stolen, what preventative measures had been taken. The ease of our undertaking answered both questions. I was somewhat dismayed by the fact that anyone may readily make off with our library books. I realized later, however, that the library, like our class rooms, operated under the Honor System. People are just not expected to steal books.

College students are certainly aware of the fact that the true worth of a book far exceeds its monetary value. Some of the missing books cannot be replaced. The loss of these books will hurt not only ourselves, but all the future generations of CC students.

One should certainly note that students aren't the only possible culprits. Some of the books may conceivably be grazing faculty shelves—others may have been taken by townspeople. But even with these additions to the list, there can be little doubt but that the bulk of the missing books are in the hands of the students.

What can we do about the situation? The Student Council has attempted to provide a partial answer. The Council is sponsoring a "Return the Book Week" starting today and lasting through next Friday. The idea, of course, is to allow people like myself, who have thoughtlessly removed books to return them, with no questions asked. Q. A. is taking care of the collection of books in the women's dorms. Council representatives will receive books from the men's organizations. A collection box will also be provided near the door in Cutler Hall.

This plan will provide for the return of many of the missing books, but it is no guarantee that a similar incident in the future will not occur. We would like to see the library initiate a program to prevent future losses.

Even a serious problem has its humorous overtones. Miss Kampf reports that the first book on the list of those missing is one by Colton Storm entitled: Invitation to Book Collecting: Its Pleasures and Practices.

A Letter to the Students

I would like first of all to express my sincere thanks to all those students who turned out for the "Rope Pull" last Saturday.

The freshmen, as I expected, continued their outstanding showing of school spirit. This class, probably more than any other, has led the college in this "uphill" fight for unification of the classes and for the student body as a whole.

As for the upper classes, only congratulations are in order. You were challenged and you more than met this challenge in spirit as well as in numbers. I think that you proved to the freshmen, to the college, and to yourselves that you do exist not only in academic divisions but also as a group with class spirit and class unity.

Because of the breaking of the rope, the contest must be declared a draw and the addition or subtraction of articles of the freshmen can not take place. Although these addition and subtraction rules were used as a stimulus they were by no means the "purpose" of the contest. I feel that if just one person got the feeling that he or she was working as part of a class that the "Rope Pull" served its purpose.

As for myself, I have only apologies. I am sorry for the breaking of the rope. Saying one's sorry is probably the easiest and weakest way out for anyone's mis-doings, but because of the many editorials, which seem to be in fact this year, I would like it clearly understood that this error was not the fault of the Tigers, Growlers, Red Lantern, freshmen class, or any other organization on campus; but was the fault of an individual whose foresight and estimation of the college spirit were so poor that he failed to provide an adequate rope for event. Again, I'm sorry.

Many Scholarships Available at CC in Various Fields

Colorado College offers scholarships in various fields and of varying amounts. Those wishing scholarship application blanks, catalog or other information should obtain them from H. E. Mathias, dean of admission. Applications should be in by March 15, 1954.

Trustee

Five Trustee Scholarships are available for selected graduates of accredited high schools and junior colleges. Awarded on the basis of need and academic achievement, these half tuition scholarships have a value of $131.25 per semester, and when granted to high school graduates, they may be continued for four semesters or until the recipients have received a total of $525.00. When awarded to junior college graduates, these scholarships may be continued for two semesters or until the recipients have received a total of $262.50. During the junior and senior years, students who have previously held Trustee Scholarships, may receive awards from endowed funds.

Honor

Five Honor Scholarships are available for men or women high school graduates. These scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic achievement and demonstrated leadership qualities. They have a value of $525.00 a year and may be continued for four years or until the recipients have received a total of $2,100.00.

Alice Bemis Taylor

One award, the Alice Bemis Taylor Scholarship, is available for a man or woman entering the freshman class. This scholarship has a value of $1,000.00 per year and is renewable for four years, or until the recipient has received a total of $4,000.00. This scholarship is awarded on the basis of high scholastic achievement, outstanding character and leadership qualities.

Barnes Chemistry

One award, the Barnes Chemistry Scholarship, is available for a man or woman entering the freshman class. This scholarship has a value of $525.00 per year and is renewable for four years. The recipient must be interested in earning a Bachelor of Science degree in chemistry.

Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation

Two scholarships covering tuition and a reasonable allowance for books are available each year for men or women entering the freshman class who plan careers in business industry. These scholarships are renewable for four years. Applicants must be residents of the Rocky Mountain states.

Veterans

Students studying under P. L. 550 (the Korean GI Bill) may be considered for Veterans Trustee and Veterans Honor Scholarships, each worth $225.00 for the academic year. These scholarships have the same requirements and are held on the same terms as the Trustee and Honor scholarships awarded to other students.

Activity Grants

Activity grants, varying in amount from $25.00 to $250.00, are offered to incoming and currently enrolled students. They are granted on a basis of established need, character and promise, demonstrated ability in extra-curricular activities and adequate scholarship achievement.

North Denver High School wishes to announce to all graduates the annual homecoming dance is to be held Saturday, Nov. 7 at 9 p.m.

RESPONSIBILITY IS . . .

Two weeks ago I wrote an article on over-organization. Since then numerous persons have talked to me about the article and have added their comments for it and argued their points against it. However, unrealized by them, they have all suggested, collectively, to me good rules that should be followed by those involved in any phase of organization.

It sums up-to . . . the attitude of responsibility. This attitude is one of

1. Sincerity in purpose.
2. Attaining fulfillment of goals.
3. Respect for outside judgment.
4. Keeping in mind those to whom responsible.

Look at these closely and you will see that these four requisitions for proper responsibility are contingent upon one another. A person with the power to organize can't possibly attain sincerity in purpose unless he is fulfilling the duties to whom they are responsible. Without respect for outside judgment they won't be fulfilling their responsibility or be sincere in their purpose.

The tendency of some groups has been to become to invaluable in getting as much done as they can and are going beyond their realm of responsibility and thus are preventing a chance for the proper group to function where they should.

Too much of the time some of the other groups strive too hard for recognition of importance, and in some cases should, but they are "snowing under" some equally important groups who have less effective means of publicity.

I'm not backing down from anything I said before nor am I accusing any one particular group. I do think these four suggestions would be good ones for anyone concerned to keep in mind. And remember, these came indirectly from many of you, and, as such, they should be followed by you.

—Susan Beer

ASCC NOTES

By Bill Howell

Monday your ASCC representatives met again at four o'clock in Lennox and per usual the topics brought up for discussion were many and of a varied nature.

The campus telephone question was brought up again and discussed briefly. It was suggested that until some permanent cure for the "wire congestion" during the rush hours could be effected, a partial solution might be found in the pay phones of the various women's dorms.

Here in short is the proposal: during the hours the campus operator is the busiest, a good percentage of the wire congestion could be alleviated and faster service secured if incoming calls to the women's dorms were placed through the pay phones located in the various dorms. It would be to everyone's advantage if these numbers were dialed when the campus phones were busy. The numbers are as follows: Howbert, ME. 4-9452; Gregg, ME. 4-9303; 729 N. Cascade, ME. 4-9706; Slum, ME. 4-9247; Ticknor, ME. 4-9428; Hershey, ME. 4-9422; and Hamlin, ME. 4-9627.

Charles Hawley announced that individual pictures for the Nugget will be taken for the last time on Nov. 17, 18, and 19 from 10:30 to 5:00 in the ASCC Room in Lennox.

Nov. 17-19 Will Be Last Chance for Nugget Pix

The last opportunity to have individual portraits taken for the Nugget will be on November 17, 18, and 19 from 10:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., according to Dick Hayes, editor of the Nugget. "Although ample notification was given to the students and a special card was sent to all those paying for their picture registration, only a very few students showed up to have their picture taken," said Mr. Hayes.

Since the Nugget will be published prior to graduation this June, it is imperative that all those desiring their picture in this annual take advantage of these picture-taking dates. The amount of time required to publish the Nugget early, will make it impractical to take individual portraits after Nov. 19.

Name New Men's Dorm

Would you like to name the new men's dormitory? All students who have suggestions for naming the dormitory, please submit them to the president's office as soon as possible.

Last week, THE TIGER printed a story saying that the dedication of the new aca's dormitory would take place on Nov. 14. This was an error. Only the laying of the cornerstone will take place on Nov. 14, with the dedication to come at commencement next spring.

CC Graduate Advances To Research Head In DuPont Company

Dr. Richard E. Brooks, an organic chemist, has been advanced to senior research supervisor in the Research Division of the Du Pont Company's Polychemicals Department at the Experimental Station here.

Dr. Brooks attended Colorado Springs High School, and in 1935 received the degree of bachelor of arts in chemistry from Colorado College. In 1937, he received the degree of master of science and in 1940, the degree of doctor of philosophy from the Ohio State University, where he majored in organic chemistry.

He will direct the research of chemists investigating syntheses of new polymers for plastics. He joined the Polychemicals Department as a research chemist in 1938. In 1947 he was appointed research supervisor and led development studies on "Lucite" acrylic resin, "Teflon" tetrafluoroethylene resin, and other Du Pont plastics. His general research on polymers has contributed to the development of processes for making the chemical used in the manufacture of nylon.

He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi, and the American Chemical Society, the Willington Organic Chemist's Club, and the Gamma Alpha and Delta Epsilon honor societies.

KAT PLEDGES HONOR ACTIVES WITH DANCE

At 8:30 tonight the Kappa Alpha Theta pledges will surprise the actives with a pledge dance at the lodge. The theme of the dance will be kept secret until that time. Later in the evening refreshments will be served with the dance affair ending at 11:30. Chaperones for the event will be Mr. and Mrs. Sondermann, Dean and Mrs. Burke, and Mother Blake.

CHILI SUPPER SERVED AT GAMMA PHI PARTY

On October 30, Gamma Phi Beta held a Halloween party at their lodge. The evening started with a chili supper followed by a radio program offered by the sorority's executive council and pledges. Group singing concluded the program.

Thirty-two Gamma Phi Betas will attend the annual Founder's Day luncheon in Denver tomorrow at the Woolworth Country Club.

K-SIGS TO GIVE DINNER FOR G-PHIS

Sunday night from 6 till 10 the Gamma Phi will be the guests of the Kappa Sigma fraternity at their house. The girls will be entertained with a dinner-dance. Pizza pie will be served and dancing will be to records. The housemothers of the two organizations, Mrs. Herman Cast and Mrs. Mabel Haugh will act as chaperones.

The guest of honor at dinner next Monday night November 9 at the Kappa Sigma house will be Dr. George W. Adams, dean of the college.

SHE-DELT INITIATION

TO TAKE PLACE TOMORROW

Initiation of the She-Delts will take place at the Phi Delta house tomorrow night from 8 till 12. Beginning the evening at the annual She-Delt dance will be a hilarious initiation ceremony for the girls followed with refreshments and dancing to records.

SIG CHI PLAN DANCE AND SCAVENGER HUNT

Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock a scavenger hunt is planned by the Sigma Chi fraternity to start off their annual Harvest Moon Dance. Following the hunt there will be a dinner at the Sig house, and to top off the evening an informal dance will be held at the VFW club.

John Bowie of Birmingham, Mich., was recently pledged by the Sigma Chi fraternity.

Sociology Club, Spanish Club Elect Officers

The following students have been chosen to lead the Sociology Club this year: They are Gwen Jude, president; Claudette Stock, vice president; Andy Spiegel, recorder and treasurer. The club plans to have a number of discussions and social activities throughout the year. All those interested are cordially invited to attend.

Connie Brown was elected president at the last meeting of the Spanish Club, and Earlene Sebaugh will serve as secretary-treasurer. Miss Nemtsov gave an impromptu talk about schools in Mexico since the movie scheduled did not arrive.

Psychology Club Meets Tuesday In Lennox

There will be a meeting of the Psychology Club Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 7:00 o'clock in Lennox. A program will follow the business meeting. Members will be kept posted as to the type of program by the psychology bulletin board in Palmer.

The last meeting included a discussion by Mr. Thomas Dillingham on the type of rehabilitation program set up for the mentally and physically handicapped. Mr. Dillingham is head of the rehabilitation program at Colorado State Hospital. Members and all those interested in the field of psychology are urged to attend the next meeting.

Marcia Manning Tours Germany

By MARILYN ROY

A roving we shall go! And we did! At least one member of our student body did. This rover is Marcia Manning who was awarded a Student International Travel Association Scholarship which paid for a German study tour at the University of Munich. All of her courses were in German, and lasted for four weeks.

After sailing over on a student boat, Marcia went to London, to Amsterdam, Holland, and into Germany, touring many cities on the Rhine.

There were some students from all over the world who attended the university. And the professors, a very important element in any educational system, were excellent, besides having another essential attribute, a good sense of humor. Marcia and the German students and German people in general enjoyed each others' company immensely. The students were eager to help out the foreign students and enjoyed showing them around the cities.

Anyone taking such a trip is almost bound to have some unusual experiences, and our heroine is no exception. Usually when salt mines are mentioned one immediately thinks of the snowy wastes of Siberia. But Germany also can claim a share in the salt industry.

Marcia and some companions went through the salt mines near which Hitler had his hide-out. Immediately the ladies were herded into one room, the men in another. The ladies were requested to put on costumes of white, baggy pajama-like slacks, black coats, and soft-topped cossack hats. This was no ritual, but was necessary in order to keep their clothes clean. Then came the crowning glories of the glamorous costumes, for they were requested to put on leather aprons backwards. Why? Because they soon had to slide down chutes to go from one floor to the next. When they were a ways in the mine there were plaques to kings and queens who had supported the salt mines.

It was with much regret that Marcia had to leave this friendly and picturesque country, but she is very grateful indeed for even the opportunity to go there.

Geology Club Has First Place Booth

The Colorado College Geology Club won the ten dollar first place award for the most outstanding booth at AWS Carnival Night on October 28.

Headed by Ron Timroth, the Geology club constructed a mine shaft in one end of Cossitt gym and, in addition, set up an extensive display of rocks and minerals.

Most of the freshman class, many upperclassmen, and a number of the faculty were on hand to see the chemical apparatus, the psychological testing equipment, to play with the WAA dart board, and to hear the representatives of the CC band, to mention a few of the many exhibits.

The sale of cider and donuts brought a healthy profit to the AWS booth. Carnival night is the project of the AWS Personnel

Committee. Personnel Committee Chairman Cindy Mitchell, stated, "I appreciate the cooperation of the people who participated and want to thank everyone who came and gave us their wholehearted support. We really feel that this year's carnival night, because of these efforts, was a success."

With the personnel interest blanks to be filled out in a few weeks, the information obtained from students attending carnival night will be kept in the personnel files in Cutler.

Memorial Plaque Is Dedicated in Memory Of Mrs. John B. Crouch

At a meeting of the Women's Educational Society of Colorado College, held at a luncheon at Bemis Hall Saturday, announcement was made that a plaque in memory of Mrs. John B. Crouch was being placed in the College Infirmary. Mrs. Crouch, for many years, gave devoted service to Colorado College.

When the Woman's Educational Society decided to purchase a house and give it completely equipped and furnished to Colorado College as an infirmary, Mrs. Crouch headed the committee that supervised getting the building in readiness; when, after World War II, the building needed to be renovated, Mrs. Crouch again took charge of this task.

She was active in aiding Kappa Kappa Gamma in its social and money raising activities; she gave valuable aid to the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. Mrs. Hartley Murray announced that needed equipment for the infirmary had been purchased with money given the Woman's Educational Society in memory of Mrs. Crouch.

Mrs. Kenneth Curran was elected president of the group at the luncheon meeting. Faculty members and other wives of faculty members of the group are: Mrs. George Adams, Mrs. Howard Burkle, Professor Amanda M. Ellis, Mrs. William Gill, Mrs. Lewis Knapp, Dean Sallie Payne Morgan, Miss Evaline McNary, and Mrs. Roger Whitney.

CC Religious Groups Have Varied Programs

An unusual program has been planned for this Sunday's Canterbury Club meeting. Besides the best Sunday evening supper in town, transportation for the girls, and lots of friendly people, you will enjoy a wonderful time. Be at Grace Church at 6:15 or be ready when your transportation arrives at 6:00. We hope to see everybody there. Don't forget the Wednesday morning communion and breakfast beginning at 7:00 a. m.

Dean Burkle will again be the guest speaker at the Southern Edwards Club meeting next Sunday night at 7:30 in Gregg Library next to the First Congregational Church. He will lead a discussion

TIGERS RUIN COLO. STATE HOMECOMING, 13-7

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By Karl Holz

Idaho State shattered Montana State's dreams of winning the championship, by blasting the Bobcats, 13-0, last Saturday at Bozeman. This makes the Bengals the only unbeaten team in the Rocky Mountain Conference standings.

Idaho State took advantage of every break that came its way as the Bobcats fumbled five times within the Idaho State 10 yard line. Altogether the Bobcats fumbled nine times and six of those times Idaho State recovered.

Idaho State grabbed their first touchdown in the second quarter, by a 20-yard pass to Larry Kent in the end zone. The end of the scoring came when halfback Doran Conner burst through the line and rambled 30 yards to the goal line. The Montanans hammered constantly on the Bengals goal line but were unable to score.

Western State is the only obstacle between Idaho State and its second straight Rocky Mountain Conference football championship, with both teams tangling Saturday at Pocatella. This figures to be a real battle and if the Mountaineers win, they would throw the championship into a tie between Idaho State and Montana State.

Bill Westoff ran and passed Colorado Mines to a 20-7 non-conference win over the Adams State College eleven.

CC Girls to Ft. Collins Field Hockey Tourney

The women's field hockey club will attend the annual Hockey Sports Day at Ft. Collins this Saturday to take part in a round robin field hockey tournament.

Colorado College, Ft. Collins, Denver U., and Colorado U. will be the teams participating at the function. CC girls making the trip will be Diana Ashforth, Cherry Carter, Betsy Cox, Exie Everett, R. J. Fellows, Lucy Hammond, Kitty Harris, Jean Keeley, Betsy Long, Carol Raymond, Alice Scudder, Diz Warren, and Linda Wolff.

Mines now has a season record of two wins and four losses. Adams State has won two and lost five.

Colorado Mines entertains Colorado State in a homecoming contest Saturday with both teams seeking their first league victory of the season.

With the help of a new version of the two platoon system, Colorado College beat Colorado State 13-7. Looking sharp on both defense and offense, CC played their best game since the DU game. The vicious tackling and blocking combined with some outstanding runs helped the Tigers dominate the entire 60 minutes of the game.

Deyo and Engleson scored for the Tigers with Bildestein getting the extra point on a pass. Two touchdowns by Holoubek and Slocum were nullified due to penalties.

In a non-conference game Saturday night, Colorado College will play at Fort Hays State (Kans.).

CC WINS FIRST CONFERENCE TILT, LINE PLAY IMPROVED BY NEW STRATEGY

Colorado College picked up their first Rocky Mountain Conference win of the 1953 campaign with a 13-7 triumph over Colorado State before the Bears' homecoming crowd of 3,000 fans. Coach Bill Heiss continued his two platoon tactics of the week before by using two full teams a quarter. The Tigers completely dominated the play despite the apparent closeness of the score. Lowell Slocum and Bob Deyo led CC's rushing attack with 107 and 100 yards respectively.

With six minutes remaining in the first quarter Heiss pulled the reserves, and inserted his regulars who promptly drove for CC's first score, Slocum, Bildestein, Deyo, Engleson carried the pigskin with Engleson sneaking over from the one, Engleson passed to Bildestein for the conversion to send the visitors ahead 7-0. Neither team was able to score until the fourth quarter when Deyo took a handoff and galloped 50 yards for the Tigers' final tally of the afternoon, Colorado State came through with its only TD in the final five minutes on the passing of substitute back Bob Mantooth. Mantooth passed to Bill Calhan who was finally hauled down on the CC 20. On the next play Bob Herron took a Mantooth pass on the five and ambled for the touchdown. Bob Porter booted the extra point.

Colorado College's play was sharp on both offense and defense in the two pass interceptions and four fumbles kept the Tigers from scoring more than twice. Deyo, Slocum, Holoubek and Bildestein shone in the Tiger backfield while Elder, Baird, Knight and Green turned in outstanding games along with the rest of the CC line.

Cage Practice Begins; Hockey in Second Week

Colorado College basketball and hockey players will don practice togs soon in preparation for their 1953-54 seasons.

Coach Red Eastlack of the CC court squad announced that all men interested in trying out for basketball should report to Cassett Hall.

On Monday afternoon, Nov. 2, at 3:30 o'clock the first meeting of the year will be held. Practice in Cassett gym followed the meeting. The schedule opens Dec. 4 and 5 with games against the Colorado Aggies at Ft. Collins.

Coach Cheddy Thompson's skaters opened practice a week ago today at the Broadmoor Ice Palace. The ice season also opens Dec. 4 and 5 with games here against a strong alumni team.

Soccer Team Wins; Beat Aggies 4-2

With Denver as the scene of their first conference game of the season, CC's soccer players proved themselves a team to be reckoned with as they downed the powerful Aggie eleven by a score of 4-2.

As usual, CC met up with an all-foreign team, but quickly proved themselves in the opening minutes of the game when Johnny Zengerl passed behind the Aggies' defense to Kenny Smith who, in turn, completely out-manuevered the opposing goalie to score the first mark of the day.

The remainder of the first half was characterized by even play until the final two minutes in which the Aggies scored two quick goals which gave them a lead of 2-1 going into the second half. The Tigers wasted no time in the second half in tying the game by means of a quick blast through the nets by Zengerl. From there on CC was not to be stopped.

The Zengerl-Smith combination clicked again to put the Tigers ahead for the second time. The final point, scored by Smith, was on a penalty kick in the final minutes of the last half. Excellent teamwork was the keynote of the game and special credit should go to each and every player. The next

Phi Gams Win Two

Last week the Phi Gams moved into a first place tie with the Betas by beating the Sigma Chis 18 to 0 and the Kappa Sigs 25 to 6, while the Phi Deltas were being dumped by the Betas 35 to 12.

In the Sigma Chi game, Grant Blaney scored two touchdowns for the Fijis. This marked the third time that the Sigma Chis were shut out.

The Fijis humbled the Kappa Sigs in their second game of the week. This for awhile put them into undisputed position of first place. However, the Beta-Independent game, in which the protest by the Betas was upheld, was won by the Betas 12 to 6. In the protested game the Betas were given three plays in which to score. They scored on their first play. The Independent score in the closing seconds was illegal in their previous meeting.

Boy Scout Council Seeks Former Scouts

The Colorado College Tiger is cooperating in an initial survey to locate all former Scouts and Scouters of the Pasadena-San Gabriel Valley, California Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The purpose of this survey is to measure, through a subsequent questionnaire, the benefits a boy receives in his earlier Scouting years as measured by advantages gained in adult life—because of his Scouting experiences.

This is the "follow-through" on everything the Boy Scout Program was intended to accomplish and the findings compiled will be turned over to the National Council.

Over 75,000 boys have been processed through the Scouting Program in this one council during the past 30 years.

All former Scouts and Scouters effected by this initial survey are requested to send their name, present address and former troop affiliation at once to:

Tigers Leave Home; Play Fort Hays

Colorado College will make its final road trip of the 1953 season when the Tigers invade Hays, Kansas for a non-conference clash with the home town Ft. Hays State Tigers.

The Tigers are seeking their third win and second straight, having dumped Colorado State last week end at Greeley. Ft. Hays enters the contest with a 2-3-1 record. Coach Ralph Huffman's squad sports wins over Southwestern of Kansas and Washburn U. while losing to St. Benedicts, Northwestern Missouri and Emporia State. The Tigers gained a tie with Pittsburg State earlier in the year.

Ft. Hays has approximately the same team back this year which CC trounced by a 49-0 count in '52. However, the game should be more even due to CC's decline of power from last year.

State's forward wall nverages over 190 pounds, anchored by tackle Jack Wolfe, a 225-pound army veteran, and center Curtis DeBoy, who hits the scale at 220. End Bob Sweazy, and tackle Geo. Stahl are both over the 190 mark. Allan Feist is at the other end post while Rocky Rarabough, and Galen Stephenson are holding down the guard slots for the Black and Gold. Ft. Hays' backfield has senior Norman Stoppel at quarterback, juniors Gene Jaco and Garland McGilivray at the halfback positions, and John Mosier at fullback.

Coach Bill Heiss' senior Colorado College crew showed considerable offensive spark last week against Colorado State but booted several scoring opportunities on fumbles. The Tigers threw up their best aerial barrage of the year, connecting on six passes for 120 yards besides 307 yards gained on the ground.

"Dollars and Sense," Ray Werner's Topic For Faculty Lecture

In the third Faculty Lecture for the public, "Dollars and Sense" will be discussed by Ray Werner, assistant professor of Economics at Colorado College, at Perkins Hall, Colorado College on Thursday, November 12, at 8:00 p.m. A native of Nebraska, Professor Werner received his A.B. degree from Hastings College in 1942, and his M.A. degree from the University of Nebraska where he is continuing work toward a Ph.D. degree. He has also attended the University of Illinois. He taught at the Universities of Illinois and Nebraska and since 1948, has been teaching at Colorado College.

Professor Werner served in combat in Europe, where he was a member of the Armored Infantry Battalion of the Sixth Armored Division. He holds the Bronze Star, the Combat Infantryman's Badge, and a Distinguished Unit Citation. He now holds the commission of First Lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force Reserves as Budget and Fiscal Officer. He is an active member of the local volunteer Air Reserve Training Unit.

Among professional organizations, Professor Werner holds

Corner Stone Laying Set for This Saturday

Two members of the Colorado College board of trustees and the president of the class of 1957 will officially set the corner stone for the new CC men's dormitory, Saturday morning, November 14, at 11 o'clock.

President William H. Gill, who will preside over the brief ceremony Saturday immediately following the Homecoming parade, today announced the program for the corner stone laying.

President Gill announced that Robert W. Hendon, trustee of the college and chairman of the dormitory building drive; Armin B. Barney, class of 1920 and member of the board, and Webster Otis of South Bend, Ind., recently elected president of the freshman class, would officially set the stone.

With students and townspeople all invited to attend the ceremony, festivities include brief remarks by Mayor Harry Blunt and Henry Willie, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and President Gill.

Opening invocation will be spoken by the Reverend J. Lindsay Patton of Grace Episcopal Church. Following the introduction of guests by President Gill, remarks will be made by Blunt and Willie.

Dr. Charles B. Hershey, dean emeritus of the college and chairman of the corner stone laying committee, has planned for a set of college and city documents of current importance to be placed in the copper box which goes inside the corner stone. President Gill will describe these contents at Saturday's ceremony. Benediction will be delivered by Howard R. Burke, dean of Shove Memorial Chapel.

College officials today emphasized again their debt of gratitude to the entire city of Colorado

Nov. 17-19 Will Be Last Chance for Nugget Pix

The last opportunity to have individual portraits taken for the Nugget will be on November 17, 18, and 19 from 10:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., according to Dick Hayes, editor of the Nugget. "Although ample notification was given to the students and a special card was sent to all those paying for their picture registration, only a very few students showed up to have their picture taken," said Mr. Hayes.

Since the Nugget will be published prior to graduation this time, it is imperative that all those desiring their picture in this annual take advantage of these picture-taking dates. The amount of time required to publish the Nugget early, will make it impractical to take individual portraits after Nov. 19.

The new men's dormitory is coming along 'real fine'! Dr. Paul E. Boucher, '18, and Prof. Robert L. Koons scaled Shova Chapel to take this shot. Laying of the corner stone will take place at 11 o'clock Homecoming morning, November 14th, after the parade. In the background are J's new motel-hotel and Zecha and Adams' new Conoco station, familiar landmarks.

Gala Homecoming Parade to Be In Downtown Colorado Springs; Bang Up Time Planned for All

From all indications CC's 34th Homecoming will be one of the best ever held at the college. Members of the Homecoming Committee have been working for weeks to see that a good, well-rounded program will provide a bang-up time for all students, alumni, parents of undergraduates, in fact, the whole college family. The steering committee which has met weekly since school began, is comprised of the following:

Doug Morgan, general chairman, Carol Witwer, assistant general chairman; Dave Becker, parade chairman; Jim Jacobs, parade chairman-elect; Larry Herman, chairman of the Homecoming assisted by Lucy Allen and Jim Ward. Miss Lorena Berger, secretary of the college and secretary of the National Alumni Association of CC, is the co-ordinator of all Homecoming events.

K. Freyschlag, publicity director of the college, supervises the Homecoming publicity and has complete charge of the half-time events at the football game. During the half-time celebration the winning floats will be paraded and the prizes and awards presented for the winning house decorations and for the winning floats. These will be presented by the Homecoming queen. There will be marching demonstrations put on by the Colorado Mines band and by our own band and Tiger Club.

The first judging of the house decorations will be at 7:00 p.m. evening and the second judging at 10:45 Saturday morning. Judging the house decorations this year will be Mrs. Stuart P. Dandridge, president of the Colorado Springs Fine Arts Center; Mr. Platt Rogers, president of Platt Rogers Corporation, contractors, and Mr. James J. Wallace, Jr., architect.

The Homecoming parade will begin at 10:00 a.m. tomorrow morning at the corner of Boulder and Tejon. The floats will proceed down Tejon Street to Cheaburg, east to Nevada, north to Boulder,

'Roaring Forties' Plan Big Reunion For Homecoming

One of the highlights of the CC Homecoming will be the big reunion of the "Roaring Forties" who are charging into town for the Homecoming week end.

Two motels are engaged for the week end to take care of the alumni and their families returning for class reunions: J's NEW HOTEL-MOTEL, 820 N. NEVADA Avenue, and SPRUCE LODGE, 2724 N. Nevada.

Twelve o'clock—high noon—on Saturday, November 14th, will touch off the long-anticipated group reunion of classes '40 thru '49, when old grads and their pals of that vintage gather for luncheon at the VFW, Post No. 101. Dr. Lloyd "Lew" Werner, '42, will be master of ceremonies at this "Roaring Forties" luncheon. There will be no formal program but prizes will be awarded and there will be much reminiscing before adjourning to the football game. Dr. Tom Ross, '46, and K. Freyschlag, '50, other members of the college family will be celebrating with classmates at the VFW Club.

The traditional Homecoming luncheon for alumni will take place, as usual, at Cossitt Hall cafeteria. Starting at 12 noon, serving will be continuous until 1:30 p.m. Alumni and parents of students are invited to drop in any time between those hours to have lunch at their convenience. Homecoming headquarters are in Cossitt Hall: tickets for the football game and the Homecoming dance may be purchased then, if they have not been picked up previously.

The gala Homecoming week end will come to a close Saturday night at the Homecoming dance which is being held in the Broadmoor Hotel. Dancing will be to the music of the Verne Byers band and the songs of glamorous Audrey Lynn. The famous dance team, Jon and Vivian Williams, will do a specialty act during the evening.

There will be a joint meeting of the Student Council and the C.U.L. as soon as possible. This meeting will be held at the request in order to settle misunderstandings which have come about because of student trials. The council wishes to make its position clear and wants to know if by any chance the powers of that body can be strengthened and enlarged. Social calendars are still on sale. Those interested contact Sue Pfeiffer.

Dress rehearsal for all acts in the variety show will be held on Sunday night, November 15. The first half of the show must be at Perkins Hall by 7:00 and the second half rehearsal will start at 8:30.

In the recent freshman class election, 61% of the class exercised their right to vote. They elected Web Otis president with Bobo McConnell and Tom Fitzgerald as commissioners.

Miss Kampf, head librarian at Columbia, estimates that about $2768 worth of books have disappeared from the library during a period of about a year. It was pointed out that the theft inconveniences everyone who uses the library. Not all the thefts of course are caused by student carelessness. The C.U.L. and the Student Council are sponsoring a drive to "bring back the books". There is a book in Cutler Hall, so anyone who has library books can put them there. Also, the books can be given to any Student Council member or taken directly to the library.

Since we are in the midst of crush season, the A.W.S. Board meeting of Nov. 5 was limited to those board members with out-standing business.

The Personnel Committee is beginning work on a solution to the common complaint that there are too many meetings by setting up a questionnaire to be filled out by all women.

The A.W.S. scholarship cups will be presented at a Wednesday night dinner soon after grades come out. Joyce Lind, social chairman, reported the business of a recent meeting of the dorm social chairman. Christmas service projects were discussed.

The Service Committee is making plans for a blood drive in December.

United Air Lines Hostess to Visit CC Next Week

Next Thursday afternoon Miss Betty Hanneman of United Air Lines will come to Colorado College to talk with interested girls about the work of airline stewardesses. Miss Hanneman is an experienced stewardess who has been with United several years, has a million air miles behind her. She is a graduate of Northwestern University, and before she became a stewardess she was a newspaper reporter and department store buyer.

She will show the film, "Scotty Wins Her Wings", and talk to the girls in South Hall beginning at 4 p.m. Thursday, November 10. Further information regarding airline jobs may be obtained at the Counseling Center in Ticknor Hall.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The A.W.S. Board wishes to send a big thank you to the "Tiger" staff for all the cooperation we have received from them during the past months. They have never omitted an article which we asked them to insert in the paper, and even more important, all our activities have been given the space which we felt they should have in relation to their importance.

In addition, we would to congratulate the "Tiger" staff on the fine looking paper which they have put out each week this year. In doing so they have helped solve one of the big problems on our campus—that of improving communications.

Here's to the CC "Tiger".

Georgiana Shaw,
A.W.S. President.

WHY NO FOREIGN STUDENTS?

Numbers of comments have reached the ears of the TIGER this year questioning the absence of a foreign student exchange program. Last year this program met with considerable success and limited provisions were made by certain segments of the campus to continue the program this year. In fact, the girls were going to furnish room and board for a woman student and two of the fraternities offered to board a male student.

Unfortunately, when the new school year arrived, there were no students to help. What has happened to the program? Can the aid offered by the students last spring be utilized? We appeal to the Student Council for answers to these vital questions.

LATEST COLLEGE SURVEY SHOWS LUCKIES LEAD AGAIN

We're not so formal way out west—
We're casual as can be;
But we know, just like everyone,

Last year a survey of leading colleges throughout the country showed that smokers in those colleges preferred Luckies to any other cigarette.

This year another nation-wide survey—based on thousands of actual student interviews, and representative of all students in regular colleges—shows that Luckies lead again over all brands, regular or king size...and by a wide margin! The No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better.

Smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste, and the fact of the matter is Luckies taste better—for 2 reasons. L.S./M.F.T. —Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And Luckies are made better to taste better. So, Be Happy—Go Lucky!

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION TO AWARD FELLOWSHIPS FOR 1954-1955

The National Science Foundation has recently announced that it plans to award approximately 750 graduate and post-doctoral fellowships for study in the sciences for the 1954-55 academic year. The present program offers fellowships in the agricultural, biological and engineering sciences including physical anthropology, psychology (excluding clinical psychology), physical geography, and mathematical and medical sciences and in inter-allied fields.

Encourage Students To Apply
Students studying for either their master's or doctoral degrees are eligible for graduate fellowships at the first year, intermediate or terminal year levels of graduate study. College seniors expect to receive a baccalaureate degree during the 1953-54 academic year are encouraged to apply for the award. Individuals who have received a doctoral degree or who can produce evidence of training represented by a doctoral degree in science are eligible to apply for a postdoctoral fellowship.

The annual stipends for predoctoral fellows range from $1400 to $1800; the stipend for postdoctoral fellows is $2700. In addition to providing limited allowances for dependents and travel, tuition and certain required fees will be paid by the Foundation. The tenure of a fellowship is for one year and can be arranged to begin at any time after June 1, 1954, but normally must not be later than the beginning of the 1954-55 academic year at the institution of the Fellow's choice.

Selection Based on Test Scores
The selection of predoctoral Fellows will be based on test scores of scientific aptitude and achievement, academic records, and recommendations regarding candidate's abilities. Postdoctoral applicants will not be required to take exams of scientific aptitude chosen by the National Academy of sciences. The final selection of Fellows will be made by the National Science Foundation.

Committee Announces Essays on Communism

The J. B. Matthews Testimonial Dinner Committee announces a cash award of $500 for the best essay on "Communism and Academic Freedom", written by an undergraduate student of an American college or university.

Essays must be limited to two thousand words or less and submitted not later than Feb. 1, 1954. All manuscripts must be typewritten. Only original essays will be considered.

The winner of the award will be announced on March 1, 1954.

Judges of the award will be George Sokolsky, Eugene Lyons, Ralph de Toledano, and E. Merrill Root.

Manuscripts should be mailed to the Matthews Award Editor, The American Mercury, 11 East 86th Street, New York 16, New York.

For the 1954-55 academic year, post-doctoral applications must be received in the Fellowship Office of the National Research Council by December 15, 1953 and graduate applications by January 4, 1954. Information and application blanks may be secured for any of the programs by writing to the Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, N.W. Washington 25, D. C.

Student Radio Station On Air for Activities Of Homecoming Days

Special features of Colorado College's Homecoming celebration, Friday and Saturday, will be broadcast by CC students over the college's own frequency modulation radio station, KRCC.

Radio station KRCC, operated entirely by student personnel, will be on the air Friday, November 13, from 9 o'clock in the morning until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Announcers will conduct special interviews with returning alumni and Homecoming celebrities on the campus.

At regular intervals the station will play music, which will also be heard over the loudspeaker at Cossitt Hall, Homecoming headquarters.

Highlight of the Saturday air time will be the broadcast of the corner stone laying at the new men's dormitory, located at the corner of Nevada Avenue and Cache la Poudre Street. Station KRCC will be on the air Saturday from 10 to 12 o'clock in the morning, with the corner stone ceremony beginning at 11 o'clock, immediately after the downtown parade.

The laying of the corner stone will include brief remarks by President William H. Gill and by city officials and dignitaries of Colorado Springs.

Engineering the broadcast of Homecoming activities will be Robert Medlock, graduate radio student, while Charles O'Fallon will be handling program direction. Saturday's special dormitory broadcast will be announced by Thomas Freund, with Larry Richman and Robert Teveles coordinating the week end activities of the frequency modulation station.

Springs for the generous support received in this first portion of the elaborate CC building drive. President Gill pointed out that the dormitory would be a great asset to both the college and the city, and expressed hope that many townspeople would be on hand to celebrate this first official ceremony in connection with the new dormitory.

DOWN TIME STAR BEAT'S

Ray Anthony

Ray Anthony, whose record of Dragnet is the biggest orchestra selling record of recent months, is one former Glen Miller sideman who will not be seen in the upcoming film version of the late maestro's life. The man, who joined the group in 1940 and left to go into the Navy in 1942, is too busy with his own band to take time off to do a stint in the films. After his four-year hitch in the service, the leader took up his trumpet and formed his own band, playing the top spots in the country. He is Capitol Records' number one band, and previous to Dragnet, his biggest hit was Nevertheless.

Look for an upsurge on the dancing front. The National Ballroom Operators of America are getting behind the move to get more people on the dance floors. There'll be a special contest during the summer, with loads of prizes for the best dancers; and a National Dance Week, promoted by Down Beat Magazine, with tie-ins with television and radio programs.

Eddie Cantor does a little better than the late Al Jolson, who warbled for Larry Parks in his life story. Cantor, who does the songdog for Keefe Brasserie in the film, "The Eddie Cantor Story," gets credit in an introductory prologue. Walt Disney films have inspired more song hits than any other source. Way back in 1933, Frank Churchill of the Disney staff knocked out, for "The Three Little Pigs" film, Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf, and then, until his death several years ago, did more than 30 hit tunes. His biggest success "Snow White," in which he had eight hit numbers.

On the jazz scene, look for some action on the English Musicians Union, which has banned American hand appearances in Britain. Sensational tours just finished by Lionel Hampton and Stan Kenton, have the fans in an uproar. More than 3,000 Kentonites took special trains and boats from England, to attend the concerts by the maestro in Ireland . . . incidentally, Kenton cancelled his scheduled tour with Duke Ellington, claiming that it was all a mistake, and that both were too big to do joint concerts . . . Dixieland is still strong, a recent bash on the Coast

 EXPORTS *****

The bureau of the census reports that the United States sold $4,000,000,000 more in goods to foreign countries than it bought from them in 1951. U. S. Sales abroad amounted to $15,021,500,000, up almost five billions over 1950 and approaching the record of $15,300,000,000 in exports set in 1947.

Shove Chapel Is Described from the Start to Present

The Shove Memorial Chapel was erected in 1930-31, the gift to Colorado College of Eugene P. Shove, a member of its board of trustees for 27 years. It was intended as a memorial to Mr. Shove's clergyman ancestors whose names are recorded on a tablet in the Pilgrim chapel.

The architect, John Gray of Pueblo, has described the building as designed of pure Romanesque architecture, leaning toward the severe Norman interpretation of this style rather than the more florid southern type of France and Italy. In mass and proportion the Chapel resembles Winchester Cathedral, England.

The windows contribute much to the Chapel's beauty. The general theme of the windows in the nave is "The Introduction of Christianity into Britain." The chancel rose window of the north transept depicts the great teachers of science, and that in the south transept shows the great teachers of the humanities. The lancet window over the main western entrance, shows Christ the teacher, with the disciples and apostles, theologians and philosophers of the Christian tradition. The windows of the Pilgrim chapel also merit the visitor's attention.

The bells in the tower include a set of Westminster chimes and a great bell, weighing five tons, to strike the hours. The organ is one of the finest instruments in the west, consisting of more than 3,000 pipes.

The College holds weekly chapel services in the building. In addition outstanding special events occur, such as the rendition of Brahms' "Requiem" and Handel's "The Messiah." The Chapel is used occasionally for large meetings. National and state conventions have taken place here.

The small or Pilgrim Chapel is available for weddings for alumni, employees and students of the College. Both the small and large chapels may be made available for services by arrangement with the Dean of the Chapel.

Over the west entrance to Shove Chapel are engraved the words: "The things that are seen are temporal; but the things that are not seen are eternal." Circling the top of the great central tower are the words: "God who commanded the light to shine out of darkness hath shined in our hearts, to give knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ." These words suggest the purpose of the Chapel: to sustain and to promote, in College and community alike, the Christian way of life.

Point of View

An American, on being introduced to an Irishman, was asked by the latter: "From what country do you come?"

"From the greatest in the world," replied the American with a smile.

"Poor fellow," sighed Patrick, "you have lost your Irish accent."

Shaw To Discuss Racial Problems In Fourth Lecture

Speaking on racial problems and using the title, "Races, Rumors and Riots", Dr. Van B. Shaw, associate professor of Sociology at Colorado College, will give the fourth in a series of Faculty Lectures at Shove Chapel lecture room on Thursday, November 19 at 8:00 p.m.

Professor Shaw received his A.B. degree from Kansas State College at Ft. Hays, his M.A. degree from the University of Minnesota, and his Ph.D. degree from the University of Missouri.

Dr. Shaw's professional experience has been varied. He taught for two years in the high schools at Holdrege and North Platte, Nebraska; for five years at Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri; for one year at Northwestern University, and for one year at Colorado College. During World War II he served 38 months with the Army as a Classification Specialist and an Occupational Counselor. While working on his Ph.D. dissertation, Dr. Shaw lived in and studied an all-Negro community. His article on "Relationship Between Crime Rates and Population Characteristics in Minnesota Communities", appeared in the "Journal of Criminal Law and Criminology."

Dr. Shaw holds membership in the American Sociological Society, the Mid-West Sociological Society, the Colorado College Academy of Sciences, Pi Gamma Mu, Alpha Pi Zeta, Alpha Kappa Delta, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and the League for Human Rights.

RAY WERNER GIVES CASE HISTORY OF HAWLEY-SMOOT TARIFF OF 1930

By AMANDA M. ELLIS

At a public lecture held last night at Perkins Hall, Professor Ray Werner discussed popular misconceptions about tariff, by giving a "case history" of the Hawley-Smoot Tariff of 1930, which is "the basic tariff law of the United States. Professor Werner said that "the bill was presented to the House of Representatives on May 9, 1929 after hearings by the House Ways and Means Committee. The bill "was debated in the House for nineteen hours with attention devoted to just four hundred and thirty-four pages." On June 17, 1930 President Hoover signed the bill. For almost a year, "every economist of note in the United States condemned the proposed legislation." As a climax to their opposition, "on May 5, 1930, 1,028 economists sent a petition to the president asking him to veto the Tariff Act. That petition of 1,028 economists contained the names of approximately one-half of the membership of the American Economic Association; it carried the names of economists from forty-six states; its leading signers included Irving Fisher, Frank Fetter, Clair Wilcox, and Paul Douglas, present United States Senator from Illinois."

If the Hawley-Smoot Tariff was adopted those signing the petition stated, "it would force consumers to subsidize waste and inefficiency in certain fields and thus reduce the consumer's standard of living. It would force losses upon the farmer who would sell on a world market and buy in a protected home market. The act would increase unemployment by reducing the ability of foreign countries to buy American products and by leading to retaliation which would reduce our markets abroad. The Act would bring losses to Americans holding $15 billion of investments abroad because the foreign nations would not be able to sell us products and thus earn the amounts needed to meet interest and principle on the investments."

Dr. Werner added, "Foreign countries did retaliate. Italy raised the tariff on the cheapest Ford automobile manufactured from $350 to $815. Spain increased the tariff on razor blades by 700 per cent. Switzerland, incensed by our extreme tariff on watches did more than yodel; she raised the tariff on typewriters by 400 per cent—and Swiss typists were soon answering correspondence on the Swiss Hermes typewriter rather than on the Royal, the Underwood, or the Remington. Canada granted more extensive preferential treatment to British goods. Before the end of 1931, 25 nations had made, or were making, extreme tariff increases. And, in every important case, changes were justified for fighting the United States with her own weapon. The net result of these actions, accentuated by domestic forces which were depressing our economy, was devastating."

"From 1929 to 1932, what happened to income?" Dr. Werner asked. "If you were a doctor, for every $100 you received in 1929, you got $60 in 1932; if you were an architect, for every $100 you received in 1929, you got $50 in 1932. If you were a nurse you received, in 1932, $55 for every $100 in 1929. The income per person for the entire United States fell by almost 50 per cent between 1929 and 1932 and, even after adjustment for depressed prices, the per capita income was over 25 per cent lower."

"In 1930 one of every 12 workers was unemployed; by 1933 four out of every 10 was without a job. And, it might be added, even though the Reciprocal Trade Agreements program was adopted to mitigate the effects of the Hawley-Smoot Act, it was still not until 1941 that we again had as few as one of every 10 workers unemployed."

"From 1929 to 1932 our exports fell by $4 billion; our imports by $3 billion—and percentage-wise, the United States was getting a smaller and smaller share of the world's foreign trade. Earnings from investments held abroad fell by over 50 per cent. And incorporated business, which in 1929 earned 6 cents on every $1 invested, had, in 1932, losses of 3 cents on every $1 of capital invested."

Dr. Werner discussed in detail why economists consider a protective tariff is bad and concluded by stating that three misconceptions have led to widespread support of protective tariff. First, "is the narrow outlook of those persons and groups who conclude that what seems to benefit them will necessarily benefit the nation and therefore ought to be adopted." Second, though "the logic of free trade is indisputable," the issue is involved; it is an "all-encompassing idea based on the inter-relationship of all parts of the economy—and even more complicated—on the relation of foreign economies to our own." The last major force creating and supporting popular economic misconceptions has been called "the depreciation of merit." This means, said Professor Werner, "that ideas are not judged on their soundness as ideas but that ideas are accepted or rejected because of the persons advancing them. Thus the idea of a boss' wife, a newspaper columnist, a Congressional committee chairman, in accord with acceptance, not because the idea has value but because of those who said it."

Economic misconceptions, Professor Werner warned are costly. The one we have examined tonight, he maintained, "is a challenge to America's world leadership, to our willingness to make it possible for economic cooperation to provide a basis upon which political and military cooperation can rest firmly. We are faced with a challenge to adopt, on our initiative, liberalized foreign trade policies that will show the rest of the

Gould Chosen Delegate To Science Conference

Dr. Don B. Gould, professor of geology and chairman of the geology department at Colorado College, has been selected as one of 25 delegates to the National Science Foundation conference of small geology departments.

He will attend the conference at Beloit College, Beloit, Wis., October 30, 31 and November 1. The only representative from this area, Dr. Gould is recognized as an outstanding educator and technical authority in the geological engineering field.

The Beloit conference is patterned after the meeting on physics research sponsored by the Foundation in 1952. CC was also represented by Dr. Paul Boucher, college physics professor.

The Science Foundation is sponsoring the conference to review the status of research in the small geology departments, and to outline ways in which these departments can increase the teaching and research potential of the country. The meeting is limited to 25 people representing as wide a spread as possible, both geographically and with respect to type of institution. However, institutions with departments giving graduate work through the Ph.D. level, and departments having more than four full-time geologists are not included.

These small departments now contribute in two ways to research: (1) by productive research of the staff, and (2) by the training of new research men. Since the undergraduate training of future research men in small departments is considered of great importance to the nation, it is being given full consideration by the Science Foundation.

Specifically the conference will consider types of grants which will promote research and training of research people, and methods of evaluating requests for such grants. It will make recommendations outlining a program for increasing the national research program in geology.

world that we want their products as well as their political and military support."

Dr. Van Shaw will conclude the Faculty Lectures next Thursday when he will discuss "Races, Rumors, and Riots" at the lecture room at Shove Chapel at 8:00 p.m.

TIGERS-MINERS CLASH IN HOMECOMING

The second oldest, continuous football rivalry west of the Mississippi and one of the 15 oldest rivalries in the United States will be renewed here Saturday on Washburn Field when the Colorado College Tigers and the Orediggers from Colorado Mines tangle. It will be the 56th meeting of the two teams. Only the CC-DU rivalry exceeds the 64-year-old CC-Mines relationship. CC and Denver began playing each other in 1885, but have not maintained as continuous a relationship as have the two Rocky Mountain Conference schools. The football Thesaurus shows that these are the two oldest, existing rivalries west of the Mississippi, and are among the 15 oldest in the nation.

Colorado Mines got the jump on the Tigers from "Little Lannon" in the late 1890's, winning the first seven games, beginning in 1899. Since that time, however, the Tigers have gained an overall edge in the series, winning 30, losing 21 and tying four. In the '55 and games played to date CC has scored 720 points to 638 for Mines. Worst lacing ever handed the Miners was a 54-0 shellacking in 1916, but the Golden crew came back with all-American Lloyd Madden and Co. to romp over CC, 50-7, in 1939. There hasn't been a shutout between the two teams since 1936, when CC won, 14-0.

Traditionally an end of the season game, this year's contest lacks some of the luster of past years. In 1949 CC eked out a 13-12 decision to win the conference title from Mines. In 1950 CC won 21-12 to win the RMC crown from Idaho State, and in 1951 the Miners turned the table by winning, 14-6, and snaring the league title away from CC.

Last year the game was for second and third place in the conference, with CC winning, 40-13. This year CC can get a tie for third in the conference by winning, while the best the Miners can get by a win is fourth place.

The series record is as follows:

CC Tries for Second RMC Win Game will Decide Fourth Place

Colorado College and Colorado Mines will renew their rivalry tomorrow afternoon at Washburn Field when the two Rocky Mountain Conference schools battle it out before a CC Homecoming crowd. The Tigers are favored to topple the Orediggers from Golden in a continuation of a series which dates back to 1889. In 50 games played to a decision, CC has chalked up 30 wins with the Miners gaining credit for 20 others.

Ken Baird

Ken Baird, a pillar at defense for Colorado College, will play his last game for the Black and Gold tomorrow afternoon in the Homecoming tilt with Colorado Mines.

The 21-year-old, five foot, nine inch senior center, hails from Frederick, Oklahoma, and attended Cameron Junior College for two years. Kenny lettered in football at CC his junior year.

Ken turned in many fine defensive games for CC this year and has proved to be a constant starter for Coach Bill Heiss' CC Tigers.

Coach Fritz Brennecke's squad will enter tomorrow's contest with a 3-4 record on the season. The Orediggers sport wins over Adams State, New Mexico Military and Colorado State while losing to Washburn U., Montann State, Western State and Idaho State. In loop play Colorado Mines stands in fifth place behind the Tigers.

Probable starting lineup for the Orediggers has Hob Doll and Austin Fehr at the end slots, Ed Heath and Kent Miller at the tackle posts, Mort Kline and John Blomberg at the guard positions and Alan Osburne at center. In the backfield Bill Westhoff and Carl Cross are the starting halfbacks, Jim Peterson at fullback and John Mosek at the signal calling slot.

Coach Bill Heiss' Tigers gained a week's rest due to a cancellation of last week's scheduled tilt with Ft. Hays State.

CC's tentative starting lineup will have Penroun and Elder, tackles, Burke and Green, guards, Bonnet and Fieck, ends, and Baird, center. In the backfield, Holmbeck and Slocum, halfbacks, Engelson, quarterback, and Bildstein, fullback.

Fijis Win Swimming

The Phi Gams took advantage of a nine point lead at the half-way point in the intramural swimming meet to win easily by twelve points over their nearest competitors, the Phi Deltas. The total points stood thus at the end of the meet: Phi Gams 40, Phi Deltas 28, Sigma Chis 21, Kappa Sigs 16, and Independents 7.

In the 40 yards free style Fred Harvey took first place in a clocked time of 21.4 seconds. Dedrick and Lewis captured second and third places respectively. The Beta's Howell was sick and consequently, was scratched from the list. This was a hard blow to the Betas since he had the best time in the tryouts.

Nat Harris of the Phi Gams came in first in the 60 yard back stroke with a clocked time of 43.6 seconds, just nosing out Steve Channer of the Phi Deltas. Conroy and Little finished third and fourth respectively in the race.

The 100 yard free style was taken by Independent's Jack Knight in 1:07.9 seconds. The following took second, third, and fourth places in this order: Dedrick, Fitzgerald and Wolfe.

The Phi Gams' Tom Miller won the 60 yard breast stroke in 42.1 seconds. Others to finish were Mulford and Tanner. Conroy of the Kappa Sigs was disqualified for failing to touch the side of the pool with both hands.

First in the diving was taken by Phi Delt Duane Wolfe with 112.1 points. Duncan of the Sigma Chis scored 107 points and came in second, with Mollin and Zier capturing third and fourth places respectively.

The Phi Gam's team of Miller, Harris, and Zier won the 120 yard medley relay in 1:14.5 seconds. However, Channer, Mulford, and Vilmont of the Phi Deltas gave the Phi Gams a close chase by being only .4 of a second behind. Third place was captured by the Kappa Sigs while the Betas finished fourth.

In the 160 yard free style relay the Phi Gams won again, this time nosing out the Sigma Chis by 2 of a second. The Fija winning combination was made up of Miller, Fugh, Harvey, and Dedrick who took the race in 1:31.4 seconds while Harvey, Gentry, Lungro, and Huenick of the Siga came in 1:31.6 seconds. The Kappa Sigs and Phi Deltas came in third and fourth respectively with .1 of a second separating them.

Soccer Team to Play Miners' Game to Be Held Sat. Noon

The up-and-coming CC soccer team will play undefeated Mines this Saturday at noon on Stewart Field. The booters lost their first game of the season last Sunday, and are looking forward to bouncing right back into the winning column. The team needs your support.

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By Karl Holz

Idaho State College, undefeated in conference play, won its second consecutive Rocky Mountain Conference football championship with a 33-20 victory over Western State.

The hard-fighting Mountaineers just couldn't keep going after scoring a first quarter touchdown. They threatened constantly but each time were felled by the Idaho line. The Bengals came back with three touchdowns in the second quarter to take a 20-7 halftime lead.

Both squads had smashing ground attacks but the outclassed Mountaineers failed to get rolling until the last four minutes. At that time they took advantage of two Bengal fumbles to score two touchdowns after drawing first blood.

The big ground gainer of the game was Buz Conner who rolled up 163 yards to contribute to the 393 yards ISC gained in rushing to 300 for Western State.

Western State and Idaho State will wind up their seasons Saturday with non-league games. Idaho State will play Nevada University while Western State and Adams State will clash in the Spud Bowl game at Alamosa.

Colorado Mines scored its first conference victory by turning back Colorado State, 26-20, in the final minutes of play.

Fullback Larry Denton crashed thru for 17 yards and a tie-breaking touchdown in the final 55 seconds to present 4,000 Colorado Mines fans with a homecoming victory.

Mines got its winning break late in the final period when End Austin Fehr recovered a Colorado State fumble on the State 23 yard line. Three plays later Denton smashed up the middle for the clincher.

The win moved the Miners into fifth place in the Rocky Mountain Conference leaving Colorado State in last place. The contest was also the final game for the Bears' John Hancock who is retiring after coaching Greeley teams since 1932.

Gagers Begin Practice; Six Lettermen Return

Colorado College will open its 1953-54 hoop campaign Dec. 4 and 5 with a two-game set against Colorado A&M at Ft. Collins.

Coach Red Eastlack has six men back from last year's squad including several promising newcomers. Returning from the '53 aggregation are Tom Danton, Ed Lodmell, Ned Pfeiffer, Lowell Slocum, Sam Maynes and Charles Moyer.

Newcomers include John Sandich, a transfer from Pueblo Junior College; John Vilmont, who attended Iowa U. last year; Dave Crotty, Grant Blaney and Dave Hawkins of Chicago, Illinois; Norm Spears of Elgin, Illinois; Darel Miller of Littleton; Amelio Manzanarez of Trinidad; Doug Disney of Rolling Hills, Calif.; Charles Swallow of Cambridge City, Indiana; Bill Kemp of Denver and Bob Moore of Falls Village, Connecticut.

Horsemen Meet at 6:30 a. m. Saturday for Homecoming Ride

Members of the Riding Club participating in the Homecoming parade, will meet at 6:30 a. m. Saturday morning in front of Cutler. The reason for the early hour is that it will take that long to complete the grooming of the horses, the ride to town and then breakfast.

Make sure you are dressed in Levi pants and jacket, white shirt, cowboy hat, red neckerchief and boots. If you have signed up for a horse and can't ride or if you haven't signed up and want to ride, contact Lee Pankau.

Famous Skier Shows Film in Denver Aud. Next Wednesday

On Nov. 18, John Jay, America's famous skiing photographer, will present his 10th anniversary show, "Cavalcade on Skis", in Denver, Colorado. Besides a new hilarious film on his tour of Austria, Switzerland, and Italy with 40 Americans last winter, his "Cavalcade" includes the best of nearly one half million feet of film he has taken on four continents through the years.

The film will be shown at Denver's South High School auditorium on Wednesday evening.

CC to Be Favorite in Homecoming Contest with Mines; Idaho State Has Crown

Idaho State lived up to pre-season predictions as they gathered in their second RMC crown in two years, Montana State, not having needed horses to upset the Bengals, moved to second place with Western State in the third slot. Perennial conference contender, Colorado College will give the Miners a tussle for fourth place this Saturday in the homecoming game that will put the wraps on CC's collegiate football for another year.

The Tigers were out of play last weekend as snow made the trip to Fort Hayes an impossibility. The game will have no effect on conference standings, but the game was a probable victory for CC and it will hurt the individual stars such as Slocum.

On the local front we find the sports' focal point swinging to basketball and hockey. The Tiger hockey team is beginning to take form and from where we sit things do not look too black. Last week 24 men reported for the squad with a few latecomers expected to show this week. Coach Chededy Thompson announced that the squad will be cut to 18 in the near future.

CC faces a rugged 26 game schedule in which they face such teams as Michigan, Minnesota, Dartmouth, The Edmington Oil Kings, and our own rugged alum team. CC will open their season with the alums in a two-game series Dec. 4 and 5.

Football

On the national front the big conferences are still wide open. On the coast it looks certain that UCLA will return to win the Rose Bowl, but the Big Ten visitor is still very indefinite, at this point it will be Illinois. The Illini are leading the conference at present but must get by Wisconsin and Northwestern. Wisconsin looked very good last week in their victory over Northwestern and this week's game between the two teams will tell the tale. Should Illinois lose to Wisconsin, Michigan State will no doubt go to California for the bowl game.

The top ten teams in the nation were scheduled quite a bit due to a few major upsets. Notre Dame and Maryland stayed one-two teams in the nation, but Illinois moved from fourth to third as a result of the Texas upset over Baylor. Incidentally this is the first big upset we predicted. Michigan State continued its hot pace and moved to fourth place after an impressive win over Ohio State. The coast is represented in the top five by UCLA, Rose Bowl contender.

Predictions for the week—We will pick our favorite sons over Colorado Mines; it is Homecoming. Colorado State will be on top of Hastings after their defeat last week to the Miners and Utah State will be the victor over hapless Denver University. We will pick Nebraska as six point favorites over Colorado U, another area team who has received the wrong breaks.

We like Penn over Army, Georgia Tech over Alabama and Baylor will be up for this one after last week's poor showing. Illinois and Wisconsin will be in a close one, but Illinois has the scent of Roses to push them to victory. We will take Illinois as a 13 point favorite.

Northwestern over Indiana, Kansas State over Missouri, very close, and Michigan State over Michigan. Michigan State still has a chance for the bowl. Texas look good last week and will be the pick over TCU, also we will ride with UCLA over Washington, it should not be much of a game.

We feel pretty cocky after last week's upset prediction and will put Iowa over Minnesota and Yale over Princeton for our upsets of the week.

Soccer

The soccer team deserves our praise in providing one of the best squads this school has seen, the soccer team has two victories against one loss with four games left. This week's game will be played on the soccer field at noon Saturday.

Soccer Team in Loss; Lose to CU, 7-0

The Tiger soccer team took it on the chin at Boulder Saturday as Colorado University handed them a 7-0 beating. It was the first loss of the season for the CC team which previously had beaten Colorado A&M and Denver University. The D.U. game was a rough-and-tumble affair, which was highlighted by Ken Smith's two goals. John Zengerl and Dan Smith also hit the nets in the Tiger 4-1 victory.

This week end the booters will face an undefeated Mines team before the football game.

FROM SMALL TO LARGE—GOES HISTORY OF CO

More than seventy years ago, Colorado College became a corporate, non-denominational institution, under a charter issued under the revised statutes of the Territory of Colorado. The college had a board of trustees, an executive officer, the Reverend Jonathan Edwards; a financial agent, the Reverend Thomas Haskell; 18 students; classrooms in a building near the center of the city and the promise of a barren, wind-swept 21-acre tract north of town as a future campus.

Today those 21 acres have expanded to approximately 50, occupied by 50 college buildings. The student body has grown from the original 18 to nearly 900 students from 40 states and several foreign countries, and 7,300 Colorado College alumni are now living in the 48 states and many foreign countries.

Three years after Colorado Springs was founded and two years before Colorado became a state the college trustees declared in the charter. . . . "It is the purpose of the trustees to build a college in which liberal studies may be pursued under positive Christian influences. . . . The college is feeding trustees, administrators and faculty members carried out the mandate of the charter is illustrated in the position which Colorado College holds today.

It is the oldest institution of higher learning in Colorado and the only liberal arts college in the Rocky Mountain region. It is known to all educators and thousands of businessmen for its "toughminded" scholastic standing, and its graduates are accepted in the greatest graduate schools throughout the nation on the basis of their diplomas.

The record of one Colorado College class may serve as an example. Out of 29 members of the class of 1901, two are university presidents; five are in top positions on the faculties of great universities; several have made noteworthy careers in law, medicine, the clergy, teaching and engineering; two are missionaries, one of whom became the Bishop of China and the other in charge of a large Chinese hospital for a decade; several are substantial businessmen and one man bosses the laying of a million eggs a year.

Whether Colorado College can maintain and enhance its past record depends upon the alumni and friends of the college, and their answer to the question, "How much do we care?"

PRINCETON PRESIDENT EXAMINES ROTC

The most faculty criticism of the present Reserve Officer's Training Corps' structure in the American college is that subjects taught under ROTC are "intellectually thin" and are mainly concerned with "dull memorizing of detailed facts", according to President Harold W. Dodds of Princeton University. This criticism, says Mr. Dodds, is sound and the defects in the ROTC studies should be corrected.

Mr. Dodds points out that "total war is more than a strictly military problem. The 'know why' is an essential element of the 'know how' and should be part of the equipment of an ROTC graduate." His remedy calls for a close integration between college and ROTC courses, and a closer alliance between academic and military professors.

At Princeton, Mr. Dodds says, the history department has constructed a new course in military history which is required for ROTC students and also open to civilian students as an elective. According to Dr. Dodds, both academic and military professors are pleased with the results. He also suggests a course in geopolitics. "Officers and civilians alike need fuller knowledge of the economic as well as political uses of manpower and natural resources, and of the impact of military policies upon our economy."

"The cure for the scholastic thinness of the ROTC curricula is not to load on more of the same stuff. . . . colleges . . . should be permitted to compress the courses into fewer classroom hours and exercises, and to utilize the hours thus recaptured to deepen the meaning of the program and achieve a more satisfactory integration with the academic program," says Dr. Dodds.

Another criticism, which Dr. Dodds dismisses as being "without foundation", is that civilian and military discipline do not mix; military discipline should wait until one enters the service. He points out that discipline in the ROTC

G-T Editor Will Discuss 'Free Trade' At Lennox Wednesday

The controversial subject, "Free Trade", will be discussed by Thaddeus Ashby, editor of the Gazette Telegraph's editorial page, at 7:30 on Wednesday, November 18, in the ASCC room at Lennox.

Mr. Ashby will speak at a scheduled meeting of the International Relations Club. These meetings are open to any interested member of the student body or faculty.

Following the address by the speaker will be a discussion period.

has little semblance to discipline in actual service duty. "The campus remains distinctly civilian in spirit and is true for the officer candidates," he concludes.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES MARK THE CORNERSTONE LAYING AT CC SATURDAY

Impressive ceremonies marked the laying of a cornerstone Saturday morning for the new men's dormitory on the Colorado College campus. President William H. Gill said the new building, which will be dedicated at commencement time next June and occupied by 160 students the following September, marked the first permanent construction to be erected on the campus in two decades.

"And we feel that what is good for Colorado College is also good for Colorado Springs," he told the

Publications Award to Be Presented Dec. 1st in Lennox Ceremonies

At an informal symposium held in Lennox on Tuesday, Dec. 1, at 7:30 p.m., Charles Hawley, chairman of the Publications Board, will present the annual E. K. Caylord and the CC Publications Awards to the two outstanding students who worked in publications for Colorado College during the 1952-53 year.

A guest speaker will highlight the evening in which all members of CC publications will get together to talk over publication problems. There will be three short papers followed by discussion.

The presentation of the two awards must be made to students who are not editors or business managers of the TIGER, the NUGGET, or the KINNICKINNIK. The awards for the current year will be made in the spring at a tentatively planned publications banquet.

All students who are interested in journalism in any way are invited to attend this program. Refreshments will be served.

Homecoming crowd which gathered for the Homecoming rites. He also thanked the citizens, alumni and friends for help in the building program.

Those who participated in the actual laying of the cornerstone were George A. Allebrand, class of 1909; Armin B. Barney, class of 1920; and Webster Otis, who is president of the freshman class.

Sealed in the cornerstone was a copper box containing current items of the day, including a Nov. 13th copy of the Gazette Telegraph.

Mayor Harry Blunt said the college has "been one of the greatest assets in the community, a cornerstone on which this region has been built."

Henry Willie, president of the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce, said the building would be an important addition to the economic life of the region. He emphasized the college payroll, housing, feeding, and other involved expenditures in pointing up this economic aid.

"But it is most important in our community as an industry producing educated men and women," Willie said.

Invocation at the ceremony was given by Rev. J. Lindsay Patton, pastor of Grace Episcopal Church.

Sarah Nemtsov Faculty Sponsor Of Kinnickinnik

By Willa Freeman

The faculty sponsor for the 1954 KINNICKINNIK, the annual student art and literary publication, is Dr. Sarah Nemtsov, professor of Spanish and Russian. Dr. Nemtsov came to Colorado College in 1947, after receiving her M.A. and Ph.D. degrees at UCLA. When asked about her background, she smiled and said that she was born about 200 miles north of Stalingrad, Russia, moved to Cuba when she was eight, and lived there for thirteen years.

Since then a wide variety of travels all over the United States and Mexico has given Dr. Nemtsov many interesting experiences to tell of in her smiling way. While in Mexico last summer, she particularly enjoyed the bazaar outside the Basílica de Cuadalupe and the old church at Xochimilco.

In interests other than her teaching, Dr. Nemtsov is particularly appreciative of music. She especially likes Georgian chant, sacred music, early Italian composers, and her favorite, Bach. She has many records of this unusual selection of music.

Her three pet peeves in literature are popularizations of philosophy and science, historical novels, and mystery and detective stories, but she loves to read essays, poetry, and books on religion, history and literary criticism. She is quite enthusiastic about classical ballet (and folk dancing!) Re-

CU's Gibb to Keynote Leadership Conference at Star Ranch Nov. 22

Dr. Jack Gibb, professor of psychology and Resource Group Leader at the University of Colorado, will keynote the annual CC Leadership Conference on Sunday, Nov. 22, at the Star Ranch. The conference will begin at 9:00 a.m. with registration and close at 5:00 p.m. with dinner. In the interim there will be panels and discussions on such subjects as Organization, Communications, Techniques for Creating and Holding Interest in a Group, and How to Select Qualified Rather than Popular Leaders.

Dr. Gibb is an authority on student leadership groups and should offer valuable guidance to CC's Leadership Conference with his ideas, techniques and experience in group leadership.

In the letters sent out to students inviting them to the conference, it was stated that you follow the Pueblo highway to get to the Star Ranch. This was an error. In order to get to the Star Ranch, south of Colorado Springs, you take highway 115 south until you see a sign turning off to the right. It is only one mile south of the braided intersection.

The Homecoming celebration began Friday morning with a breakfast dance in Cessitt gym followed by the Freshman-Sophomore fight. An unexpected upset occurred when the sophs amid mud, garbage, and trash kept the freshmen from retrieving the flag from the top of a greased pole to win the fight.

Saturday celebrations began at 10:00 a.m. with one of the best Homecoming parades CC has ever seen. There was stiff competition in both float divisions with the Sigma Chi Mead Grinders winning first in the fraternity division and the Tiger Tavern the Phi Deltas had entered placing second. The Betas won honorable mention with their float built to the theme of "Crying in the Chapel." In the security division the Kappa Mu Epsilon placed first, the Gamma Phi float, "Dazzle 'Em with Stur Dust," placed second, and the Theta revolving school house won honorable mention.

During the halftime celebration of the football game the winning float and house decoration trophies were presented by Queen Sue Pfeiffer, Doug Morgan, homecoming chairman, and Betty Lacy, Vice-Chief of the class of 1953. The Phi Deltas were awarded first place in the house decorations for their Miner Grinders and the Sigma Chi won second with their Tiger Avalanche.

Everyone, students, faculty, and alumni agreed that the 1953 Homecoming celebration was one to be well remembered, thanks to the wonderful cooperation of all participants.

naissance art, and good drama; she likes Christopher Fry among her favorite contemporary dramatists.

The other personnel of the KINNICKINNIK are as follows:

East High Makes Plans For Homecoming Dance

Preparations are in full swing for the annual Homecoming Dance, to be held on Nov. 21, from 9 to 12 in the evening in the boys' gym at East Denver High School. Six girls, Mary Nelle Chambers, Val Freshman, Lee Kent, Ulys Lockhart, Patty Jo Miller, and Bev Woodend, are vying for the coveted honor of reigning at the dance. The queen will be chosen by the students' vote in a special assembly on Nov. 19.

Bids, fifty cents each, will be sold at the door and no dates are required. Dress will be sport.

THIS IS A LIBRARY?

I am of the opinion that if the atomic bomb were dropped on Colorado Springs, the only place in town that it wouldn't totally disrupt would be Colburn library. My simple reason for this assumption—I don't think that anyone would hear it. The only similarity I find between this library and any other is that it houses books.

Not being totally innocent from raising Colburn's social prestige, I am, nevertheless, concerned about the present noisy conditions and am honest enough to admit that they need changing. Anyone spending any time in the library can readily understand what I mean by excessive noise.

How many students here have attended other colleges, or—let's be more basic—high schools where such ridiculous conditions in their libraries existed? Very few, I would estimate.

Perhaps the college is at fault for assuming that we students are mature enough to respect the wishes of our fellow students for quiet studying conditions.

Perhaps the library staff is at fault for not rigidly maintaining quiet during library hours.

Perhaps I am at fault for not having the powers of concentration to cope with these entertaining conversations.

I can offer no immediate solution to this problem, which I find personally pressing, other than a development of consideration by CC toward one another. —Dick Clothier

CC ENTERS SPEECH WORKSHOP AT D. U.

Mr. Ray Werner has announced that Colorado College will participate in the annual Rocky Mountain Speech Workshop at the University of Denver, February 11, 12, and 13. CC has taken an active part in the workshop for the last five years.

ACCIDENTS

Accidents killed 93,000 in this country in 1951, injured more than 9,000,000 others and cost the nation $8,000,000,000, according to the National Safety Council. The death toll was 4,000 greater than in 1950. The No. 1 killer was the automobile, accounting for 37,500 deaths. Home accidents took 27,000 lives.

Gill Acclaims Students

CC's president, Wm. H. Gill, had this to say concerning the 1953 Homecoming activities: "It was the most outstanding Homecoming that I remember at Colorado College. There was good student participation and good spirit, as well as good ideas and themes in connection with Homecoming. It was well planned and everyone worked hard to make it the success that it was, therefore everyone deserves plenty of praise and credit."

Committee Says Thanks

The Homecoming Committee felt like the passer with a dazzled receiver this week end. On every pass we made the students, faculty and townspeople pitched in as a team to produce a successful homecoming.

We would like to extend our sincerest thanks to you members of the Colorado College team for making homecoming click in 1953.

Douglas Morgan,

Outstanding Seniors Will Be Presented Root-Tilden Awards

Outstanding American college seniors in a career of legal leadership may apply now for a $6,000, three-year Root-Tilden Scholarship offered at the New York University School of Law.

Applications for the 20 Root-Tilden Scholarships to be awarded next year must be postmarked not later than Feb. 15, 1954. Final selections will be announced in April, and recipients will begin their study at NYU in September.

Root-Tilden Scholarships are awarded on the basis of superior academic record, potential capacity for unselfish public leadership and active extra-curricular participation in college life. The Root-Tilden Scholarship is similar to the Rhodes Scholarship at Oxford.

A candidate must be over 20 years of age, but not over 28, when his law training begins at NYU, and he must be an unexpired citizen of the United States. Each scholarship carries an annual stipend of $2,000 covering tuition, books, and living expenses. The award is made initially for one year, but may be renewed for the second and third years if the student maintains a high standard in legal and general scholarship.

Two scholarships are allocated to each of the 10 Federal Judicial Circuits. A candidate whose application is accepted is first screened by a committee. The candidate then appears with the other nominees from states within his federal judicial circuit composed of the chief judge of the Court of Appeals for the circuit, the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, and a professor of law. Each circuit chooses two Root-Tilden Scholars and a first and second alternate. State and circuit committee member for the screening of 1954 candidates will be announced early in December.

College seniors interested in the scholarships should apply immediately to: Dean of the School of Law, New York University Law Center, New York 3, N. Y.

'Greatest Ever', Berger

"This year's Homecoming was the best that I remember in over twenty years," commented Miss Lorena Berger, alumni secretary and coordinator of the 1953 Homecoming Activities. "It was especially good from the standpoint that it was a completely cooperative affair. Every single thing concerning Homecoming this year, including the weather, was outstanding." She went on, "And I would like to personally thank everyone who worked in any way to promote the success of this year's Homecoming activities."

"IT'S DO IT YOURSELF TIME", SAYS SOCIAL CHAIRMAN SUE PFEIFFER

By CONNIE BROWN

"I'm tired of crusading. This year it's settle down and do it yourself time," says Sue Pfeiffer, chairman of the ASCC Social Committee. A tireless worker on the TIGER for two years, Sue has taken a big job to give herself a better vantage point from which to view the collegiate scene.

A sparkling little red head from Durango, Colorado, Sue plunged into the sports side of Colorado College life in her freshman year as a cheerleader.

And ever since, she has managed to keep the Pfeiffer name before the student body in the tradition that was started in 1941 when the first Pfeiffer appeared on the campus.

Since then, each member of the Pfeiffer family has held some important position during his four-year stay at CC. Bill was president of ASCC in 1949; Dick was editor of the 1950 Nugget; Jack was a member of Honor Council. This year, besides being left half back on the football team, Ned is president of the senior class.

Currently, Sue is serving in her capacity as chairman of the Social Committee by coordinating the coming Variety Show (Nov. 17, 18, 19, and 20). "There is a committee working with me which is well qualified to judge the talent being auditioned," says the chairman.

Bill Peters, Lyn Wigley, Tom Friend, and Bob Kicklighter, all experienced, in an amateur status, in some branch of show business, are serving as judges for the Variety Show applicants. These people supervise the preliminary auditioning. Later, however, the acts they have chosen are still further pared down to make of the first product a real Variety Show.

"This year we are striving for quality and not quantity," says Sue. "It looks as if we are going to have it. At this early stage, there doesn't seem to be an overabundance of one type of act."

Sue calls herself the "year 'round hasher". This summer when most

CC students were basking on the beaches or languishing at home, Sue was waitressing at Mesa Verde National Park. But Sue likes people so that she finds it no hardship to work in this Colorado tourist mecca.

During the regular school year, Sue helps earn her room and board by hashing at Bemis dining room. With her own help and that of the Sinclair scholarship, Sue is putting herself through college.

An unquenchable ski enthusiast and former member of the CC Women's Ski Team, Sue has hopes for a bigger and better ski club this year. "A few of the old members have already gotten together and discussed plans for the coming season. If the student response is such that we can, we hope to organize a really fine club," says Sue.

According to Sue, a social chairman must supervise five separate tasks. The Campus Chest Drive comes under her surveillance. And the two large fund raising efforts are made through the Sadie Hawkins' Day dance which opens the drive and the Variety Show which ends it.

All the money earned through these activities goes to the campus chest which in turn helps support ten charitable organizations, such as Cancer Fund, Polio Fund and American Indian Foundation. The students give their money painlessly and in exchange for fun. Thus, they are not bothered by requests for donations from individual organizations.

The social chairman and her committee gather together all the material and publish the CC social calendar. This is right up Sue's alley. For as a third year Tiger Club member, she manages to know all that is going on around campus.

A class commissioner for the second time, this energetic junior still finds time to do full justice to her demanding English major. Sue plans to get her teacher's certificate and then hopes to see her favorite pipe dream realized: that of going to Europe and working for a year or two.

After the Variety Show and its accompanying duties are finished, Sue will be exchange editor for the Tiger. Sue has worked for the TIGER since her freshman year here at CC.

When asked her views on the position of the CC campus as a whole in the minds of the students this year, Sue was very optimistic in her reply. "I believe that this is going to be one of the most successful years that CC has had since I have been on the campus. There seems to be a whole-hearted attempt on the part of the student body to make everything click."

On the dissenting side, however, Sue ventured, "I am in partial agreement with Sue Beer's ideas as expressed in her Tiger editorial of October 8. The campus is over organized in some spheres. But in others such as the Social Committee, it is sadly underorganized."

ASCC NOTES

By Bill Howell

There was a joint meeting of the C.U.L. and the A.S.C.C. this Wednesday for the purpose of ironing out differences which had come about because of misunderstandings in the handling of the last two student trials.

Two proposed changes in the A.S.C.C. constitution were brought up for discussion. The first was that when a student is tried by the A.S.C.C. the decision would be passed on or rejected by President Gill.

This amendment would give the council more power in that the president, not the C.U.L., would have final say on trial procedure. The second proposal was that if a student was tried and convicted by the A.S.C.C. he may have the right to appeal his case to the C.U.L. This is an attempt to further the rights of the students in regard to trial procedure.

Remember that it is still not too late to return any library books. There is still a box in Cutler Hall for that purpose.

Tonight is your last chance to see the Campus Chest Variety Show. The show has had a very successful run and will close this evening.

Some Consider Caucasian Race Inferior Says Dr. Shaw in Final Lecture of Series

By AMANDA M. ELLIS

Some Americans looking at other races with condescension are unaware of the fact that equally bigoted members of those races consider the Caucasian race inferior. "So long as we are dominant in the power structure," said Dr. Van E. Shaw in a Faculty Lecture at Shove Chapel Thursday, "such beliefs on the part of others can hurt us very little. Racism believed in by a dominant power group and carried into action, however, does have disastrous effects upon the less powerful because it interferes with the normal expression of their way of life."

"Popular misconceptions about race and race relations are numerous," he said. The most popular ones center about "belief in intellectual and biological superiority and inferiority among races, the myth of a necessary correlation between race and culture, and the belief that changes in race relations are most inevitably accompanied by violence and extreme social upheaval."

These misconceptions arise because exciting events like racial riots, fights, and lynchings seem to make better news than peaceful changes. "The basic misconceptions should be uprooted because they tend to hold back changes that would benefit many. Yet some genuinely prefer the status quo to violence while others, opponents of change, seize upon popular misconceptions as arguments to keep racial relationships as they are."

Dr. Shaw deplored violence as a means of bettering race conditions and said that peaceful methods were not only better but were "the rule rather than the exception." When the Fair Employment Commissions were proposed for the federal and state governments and the employment of Negroes was advocated, predictions of violence and upheaval came. When there were negro "invasions" of white residential areas, when negroes were admitted into formerly segregated colleges and universities, when there was integration of all races in the armed forces, the changes were usually made peacefully whereas public opinion predicted trouble would come.

Dr. Shaw concluded his talk with an account of his personal experience in living in and studying an all-negro community for a year. There he was subjected to the negro prejudices against whites.

CLASS MEETINGS TUESDAY

Next Tuesday, Nov. 24, THERE WILL BE NO CHAPEL SERVICE! This period will be used for class meetings. Freshmen in Perkins; sophomores in the "Fit" juniors in Cossitt; seniors in 201, Palmer. Your attendance is required; your participation in the meeting is requested.

Successful Campus Chest Show Plays to Full House This Week

By JUDY CLAVE

"Curtain Going Up", the variety show the whole town is talking about, played to a capacity crowd, Wednesday night. CC talent immediately took the spotlight as the audience saw a mock rehearsal featuring Judy Clave and Don Gumbelner singing "another opening of another show". On the darkened stage the modern dancers then performed "Delirious", a subjective and sensuous dance of the city. Western songs and wailing guitars were presented by the B. O. Trio. Ukelele virtuoso, Don Hale, delighted the audience with several numbers. Don is unique as a uke player; he plays the melody as well as the harmony.

Kappa Alpha Theta sorority then took the stage for "You Can't Get a Man with a Gun". Judy Avery in the solo role, put the song over with a "bang".

Everyone was invited to join Bob Bell and his combo in a short jam session. Special comment should be made of Miriam Robbins, a freshman at CC, for her polished performance at the keyboard.

Janet Schellenberger, another freshman, then presented an authentic Japanese dance, "The Dance of the Cherry Blossoms", complete with silk kimono, painted parasol and fan.

One of the most clever acts in the show was "Life of a CC Co-ed," a satirical melodrama written and performed by the Independent Women. The plot revolved around the problems of "Sugah Payne" and her mother, played admirably by Elaine Miettus. The students in the audience particularly enjoyed seeing the administration and faculty presented in such a humorous manner.

The first act came to a rousing close when the faculty surprised everyone with a prof attituded performance of "Truth, Knowledge, and the Pursuit." Doc Stabler, impressively robed in his academic gowns, narrated the story of a CC student's progress in his search for knowledge. Featured as the typical students were Wally Boyce and Crowler Dr. Blakely drew laughs as he hacked a freshman's hair with oversize shears. Miss McNary, demonstrating "correct hashing technique, did a beautiful swan dive in the midst of her second act as the Digs and Kappas combined forces in the spirit of the flappers. Bill Peters then filled in with a bit of piano and singing. The well-loved children's story "Red Riding Hood" took on a modern air in the Sigma Chi act. The jazzed lines and stylized movements created a convincing impression of how a "cool cat" can tell an old tale.

Still in the modern mood, Judy Avery took the scene with "Mototous", a show-stealing number from the Broadway musical, "New Faces".

A switch to the classical was initiated by Pete Townsend, an accomplished pianist who performed Brahms Rhapsody Number Two. Lynn Wigley then sang "Italian Street Song", a popular soprano solo number.

The Phi Delt, with the help of Cynthia Hagner, sang several selections from "South Pacific". Particularly entertaining were "There's Nothing Like a Dame" and Cynthia's "Cockeyed Optimist".

Janet Faine, popular entertainer at CC for two years, performed brilliantly on her accordion.

Phi Gamma Delta brought down the house with their superb interpretation of "St. George and the Dragonet". Not only was it hilariously funny; it was also professionally done.

Naiads Meet; Officers Elected

Early this fall the Naiads, the Synchronized Swimming Club, held tryouts for new members.

The eleven who were accepted are Teddy Baer, Sue Brooks, Kiki Clark, Mary Hadley, Bonnie Low, Mary Ann Martin, Pat Perkins, Julie Stainton, Mary Lou Wain, Marilyn Wallace, and Diz Warren.

Two weeks ago the new officers for this year were elected: Nancy Tober, president; Mary Spindel, vice-president; Lucy Allen, secretary-treasurer; and Kiki Clark, Big Fish.

There may be a few more try-outs sometime soon, so if you are interested in joining, keep watching the Tiger. It will all be announced.

Hans Huber, Cherry Make First Appearance In Colorado Springs

The second concert in the Perkins Hall series will be Sunday, November 22, at 4:30 p.m. This occasion will mark the first introduction to Colorado Springs' audiences of Louis Hans Huber, violinist, and the first appearance on any college-sponsored program of Philip Cherry, violin-cellist. Both artists have joined the music faculty this fall and are teaching practical and theoretical music courses. Piano parts of the program will be played by Max Laner, director of the college music department.

The program will present an early work of Beethoven and a late work of Brahms. Beethoven's youthful but ingenious trio, Op. 1, was composed and published in 1795, and shows a complete mastery of the classic form and chamber music style. Brahms' cello sonata, Op. 99, in F major, was written one year before his death for Valentine Hausmann, one of the outstanding cellists of his day. Full of passion and depth, this sonata is one of the highest peaks of the entire cello literature. There will be no more concerts until January, 1954.

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By Karl Held

The Colorado College vs. Colorado Mines annual rivalry came to a thrilling 26-26 tie. This rivalry, the second oldest west of the Mississippi and one of the 15 oldest in the nation, has been going on since 1889. In the 56 games played in this traditional meeting, CC has an edge over the years with 30 wins, 21 losses and five ties. Some 5500 Tiger Homecoming fans saw the Miners generally outplay the favored Tigers at Washburn Field. The hard charging Miner line provided the protection needed for their backfield to grind away with power plays and move to a 14-6 lead in the first period. In the second period CC clicked with a 51-yard pass to the Miner 25 yard line. From there halfback Holoubek dashed 25 yards for the first TD in the second period. The next one came when Slocum intercepted a pass and went 30 yards to the end zone.

Neither team could cross the goal line in the third period. Mines scored twice in the fourth and CC once. The Tigers tying touchdown was due mainly to Slocum's return run on the kickoff from the CC 10-yard line to the Mines 20. From there Bildstein powered

Skiers Meet Today; No Snow for Vacation

Mr. K. G. Freyschlag, coach of the varsity ski team, has called an important meeting of all prospective team members for today, Friday, Nov. 20, at 4:30 p.m., in the "C" room of Cossitt Hall.

A large skiing program has been worked out and it is hoped that the school will give it a large backing.

Dr. Thomas Rawles, who is working with the students on the recreational skiing program, has checked into snow conditions over the state and has learned that any big Thanksgiving ski trip would not yet be satisfactory. There has been a report of snow in some areas but not enough for the average skier.

In the event that there are heavy snows between today and Thanksgiving, plans for a trip may be formulated and announced.

Otherwise the first meeting of all prospective ski club members and recreational skiers on campus will not be held until sometime after Thanksgiving.

CC TIGERS FINISH SEASON WITH TIE; PLAY COLO. MINES TO 26-26 DEADLOCK

A fired-up Colorado Mines football team battled a favored Colorado College crew to a 26-26 standoff before a Tiger Homecoming crowd of 5500 fans last Saturday afternoon at Washburn Field. The Orediggers from Golden surprised the gathering with their hard charging line and fleet backfield, to twice force CC to come from behind. Mines jumped into a 14-6 lead in the initial stanza on two quick touchdowns. In the second period the Tigers pulled within one point of their rivals. A 51-yard pass play was good to the Miner's 25. From that point Dick Holoubek dashed over for the score. Lowell Slocum intercepted a Miner pass with one minute left in the first half to enable the Tigers to pull ahead 20-13.

The Orediggers roared back in the second half to tally a pair of six pointers and pull ahead 26-20. Bill Westhoff and John Mosek paced their teammates for what appeared the clinching marker.

However, Lowell Slocum, playing his last game for the Tigers, took the Miners' kickoff and galloped 70 yards before fumbling on the 10. On the fourth down

Roger Bildstein, also seeing action for the last time, powered over for the score. Jack Knight failed to convert and the score remained 26-26. Colorado Mines did threaten in the closing seconds of the game but the drive died in the Tiger 35. Besides Slocum and Bildstein eight other seniors played for the last time in their collegiate careers. They are Dick Pearson, Terry Burk, Ken Bards, Walt Bennett, Dick Holoubek, Jerry Engleson, Bud Green, and Tony George.

Swim Team Starts To Use Pool at Camp Carson

The Colorado College swimming team will hold its organizational meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 24, at 8:00 p.m. at the home of Doc Stabler. See Captain Wall Harmon for transportation.

For the past two seasons, under the guidance of Doc Stabler and Bill Mann, the swim team has emerged Rocky Mountain Conference champs. With the co-operation of the members of the student body who have shown swimming ability the team has a chance to retain this championship for a third year.

Swimmers returning this year from last year's team are Captain Wally Harmon, a sprinter; Bard Brown, an individual medley and distance man; Dave Brown, an individual medley swimmer; Jim Fowler, a backstroke; Don Hale, a sprinter; Chuck McCormack, an individual medley and breaststroke; Ed MacGuire, a backstroke; Chuck Molin, a diver; Bill Schacht, a distance swimmer, and John Stewart, a sprinter.

Prospective new members of the team as indicated by their prowess in the intramural swim meet, or expressed interest, are Steve Channer, a backstroke; Walk Debrick, a sprinter; Alex Duncan, a diver; Nat Evans, a backstroke; Fred Harvey, a sprinter; Neil Lewis, a diver and sprinter; Chuck Lundell, a distance swimmer; Guy Lungo, an individual medley man; Ron Miller, a breaststroke; Ed Tanner, a breaststroke and individual medley man, and Duane Wolfe, a diver. These men are urged to attend Tuesday night's meeting at Doc Stabler's house.

The job of team manager, filled ably by Rick Richards, is again open. Anyone interested should notify either Capt. Harmon or Doc Stabler.

Donald Kahn, son of the late Gus Kahn, has set up special radio and TV programs to commemorate his dad's birthday, which is Nov. 6. It is estimated that there are over five hundred records of the composer's tunes.

Holoubek Plays Ball Game of Year; Three Major Bowl Teams Undecided

We can now close the books on one more Colorado College football season, a season which had many heartbreaks and a season which, on the whole, not good. The Tigers, though showing poorly on paper, did come through with a few interesting games. Last week was Homecoming and perhaps the most interesting game of the season which was witnessed by more than 5,000 fans as the Miners kept CC busy for four quarters before the Tigers could draw a tie.

Dick Holoubek came into his own Saturday afternoon as he turned in the most spectacular showing of his career. Holoubek put the Tigers back into the game with a beautiful snaking run from the 26 yard line which left the Miners motionless. Holoubek's running was not the only high point of this game. In the second half his defense was excellent, especially his block on what could have been the winning pass play of the game. From where we sit, Holoubek was the most under-rated player of the season and we're sorry that we did not see him in more action.

Lowell Slocum played his usual standout ball game which included a 70-yard run which ended in a fumble as he attempted to switch the ball to his other side. Roger Bildstein also played excellent ball with more than several fine runs up the middle and off tackle when the chips were down. Bildstein also played an exceptional defensive ball game at line backer.

The line play was also very good and good blocking by Maury Hammond, Kenny Baird and Terry Burke aided the fine running by the backfield. Bud Green, Dick Pearson, and Jack Knight also played stellar ball.

The major teams of the nation continued to be the victims of upset. In the big ten Illinois was caught napping as they journeyed north to Wisconsin. The Badgers sent them home with their first defeat of the season which puts a rather grim look on their Rose Bowl trip. Michigan State's victory gives them a sure tie for the Big Ten title and a very good chance for the bowl bid.

On the Western front it seems that Stanford and UCLA are the big picks for the Rose Bowl and if Michigan State draws the bid it will most likely be another Big Ten victory.

In the other bowl games the Sugar Bowl game is an open race as the two top contenders, Georgia Tech and West Virginia, were both knocked off last week. West Virginia's 13-game winning string went to the winds at the hands of South Carolina.

In the Southwest TCU looks good for the Cotton Bowl as they gained their fourth conference win in five. Baylor and Rice are tied for second with a 3-2 record.

Notre Dame, still unresponsive to bowl bids, kept up their wild pace by topping North Carolina, 34-12.

Phi Gams Win I.-M. Football Crown

Phi Gamma Delta wrapped up the 1953 intramural football championship with a convincing 38-6 win over the defending champion Beta team last Thursday afternoon.

Tom Dunton, Crant Blainey and Mel Weiss led the Phi's scoring attack in pacing their teammates to the Phi Gam's second straight win over the Betas. Dunton tallied the initial six pointer on a pass interception. Blainey picked up his first score of the afternoon on a short run and then passed to John Zengro for the Phi's third tally. Blainey continued his outstanding play by throwing two more touchdown heaves to Dunton and Mel Weiss besides scoring again himself on a short gallop around end. The score at the half was 18-6.

The Phi Gams wrapped up the championship as the Betas moved to second place with the Phi Deltas in third.

Notre Dame and Maryland remain as the only major unbeaten teams of the nation.

We did rather poorly on predictions last week as we missed Illinois, Baylor, and Northwestern, but we feel fairly justified as we picked Iowa and Yale in their upsets.

AERIAL ADVANCE—Miner Billy Westhoff (11) comes up to make the tackle, but not before CC's Walt Bennett had snagged a pass from Lowell Slocum and romped to the Mines 25 on a 51-yard gain in the second quarter. On the next play, halfback Dick Holoubek went 25 yards around end for the second Tiger touchdown. The game ended in a 26-26 tie.

You'll be at the head of the jet parade at Boeing

For long-range opportunities, it's hard to beat the jet aircraft field. If you want to get into this exciting branch of engineering after you graduate, get in at the head of the parade—at Boeing.

Through the fighter-fast B-47 six-jet bomber, and the giant new eight-jet B-52, Boeing has acquired more experience designing, flying and building multiple aircraft than any other company, either here or abroad. In addition, Boeing is the first American company to announce its entry into the jet transport field.

Engineering graduates will find in the aviation industry an unusually wide range of experience, and great breadth of application—from pure research to production design, all going on at once. Boeing is constantly alert to new techniques and materials, and approaches them without limitations. Extensive subcontracting and major procurement programs, all directed and controlled by engineers, afford varied experience and broad contacts and relationships.

Aircraft development is such an integral part of our national life that young graduates can enter it with full expectation of a rewarding, long-term career. Boeing, now in its 37th year of operation, employs more engineers today than even at the peak of World War II. Its projects include guided missiles, research on supersonic flight and nuclear power for aircraft.

Boeing engineering activity is concentrated at Seattle in the Pacific Northwest, and Wichita in the Midwest. These communities offer a wide variety of recreational opportunities. Both are fresh, modern cities with fine residential sections and shopping districts, and schools of higher learning where engineers can study for advanced degrees.

There are openings in ALL branches of engineering (mechanical, civil, electrical, aeronautical, and related fields), for DESIGN, DEVELOPMENT, PRODUCTION, RESEARCH and TOOLING. Also for servomechanism and electronics designers and analysts, and physicists and mathematicians with advanced degrees.

THREE SCHOOLS MEET AT CC SATURDAY FOR FIRST RIFLE MATCH OF THE SEASON

The Trojan Gun Club of Trinidad Junior College, Colorado University and Colorado College's ROTC Rifle Team will meet at Cossitt Saturday morning, November 21st, for the season's first shoulder to shoulder rifle match. Each of the three schools will fire a five man team over the standard four position course. This match will mark the first rifle firing by visiting teams on the CC campus. The Tiger club has one postal match under their belts fired against the University of New Mexico, St. John's University, Sierra College and Wheaton University. Scores of the first postal are not yet available. However, CC turned in an excellent score for opener.

A special drill team of Pershing rifles, by Cadet Sgt. Clyde F. Herried, presented a precision drill exhibition during half time ceremonies of the Homecoming game. Entering the field executing a marching manual the team first saluted the visiting Mines, then faced CC standards and presented a series of intricate movements. The drill team is an all volunteer unit, practice drills were held daily at 7 o'clock in the morning prior to Homecoming.

A special order published by ROTC recently awarded promotions to 23 cadet leaders. George A. Krause was appointed cadet first lieutenant, second lieutenant's insignia went to Kenneth P. Baird, John E. Buzia and James J. Ward, all of the new lieutenants are platoon leaders.

Eugene F. Anderson, Kirby Anderson, Arthur L. Elder, Clyde F. Herried and Robert M. Thompson were promoted to sergeant first class. Fred E. Rediski, Arthur M.

Gammell, Harry E. Beatty, Robert L. Evans and Sanford Ballou were named sergeants.

Appointments to corporal went to Homer L. Brown, James E. Deyo, Donald L. Gumbiner, Frank R. Maxwell, Tom R. Lowry, Ronald G. Schwartz, Tom Seelye, John Dunbar and Paul Goss.

The promotion of cadets is based on leadership, academic standing, military aptitude and bearing.

Soccer Team Loses Second Game in Row

The Colorado College team held undefeated Mines to four goals while taking a 4-0 loss last Saturday.

The powerful Mines squad was held scoreless for the first 26 minutes by the brilliant defensive play of Mort Forster, Bud Krause, and Jack Sevilla. John Taylor, tending the nets, made three grandstand saves before the Blue and White finally broke the ice.

Mines, who previously had run over C.U. 12-0, had no trouble taking the ball downfield, but were almost completely tied up by the Tiger defense when they got near the goal. On the other hand, the Black and Gold were only twice within shooting distance of nets.

The CC booters are now even for the season with two wins and two setbacks.

Colorado Physicians Meet at Broadmoor For 1-Day Symposium

Rheumatic fever, Rocky Mountain spotted fever and undulant fever will be discussed in Colorado Springs Sunday, Nov. 22, when more than 200 physicians from Colorado gather in the Broadmoor Hotel for a one-day post-graduate symposium. The subject of the meeting is "Acute Infectious Diseases".

Air National Guard Will Interview at CC For Members Today

Today only, Friday, Nov. 20, representatives of the Colorado Air National Guard will be on campus to interview applicants.

Membership in the Air National Guard has just opened to young men here and elsewhere in the state, according to Brig. Gen. Joe C. Moffitt, commander. A shift in training schedule to one weekend a month has made this possible, Gen. Moffitt said.

"This opportunity should be especially attractive to young Colorado College men under eighteen and a half," the general said. "By joining before that age limit you can serve your entire military obligation and at the same time stay in school or begin your career without interruption."

Every type of training and duty is now open in the Air Guard's 140th Fighter-Bomber Wing, the general said. Colorado air guardsmen train at Buckley Field, near Denver, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. one Saturday and Sunday a month. Meals and Saturday night quarters are available at Buckley Field.

The air guard is also accepting enlistments from veterans and young men who can qualify for pilot training. The 140th Wing is equipped with F-80 jet fighter planes.

Another team of interviewers will be on hand at the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce building on both Friday and Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Howard R. Burkle, dean of Shove Chapel, gave the benediction. Estimated construction cost of the building is $875,000. Of this amount, $600,000 has been obtained from the federal government thru a housing loan. Two large classrooms on the first floor of the north wing will cost $75,000 and is not covered by the loan.

Since the building fund started, $382,000 has been pledged. Future plans call for building a women's dormitory, addition to the library building, a field house-student union building.

The new building is located at Cache la Poudre Street and Nevada Avenue.

Judy Clave and Phil Good Win Publications Awards

SMITH, HIRST AND SINGLETON GIVEN RECOGNITION AT LENNOX CEREMONY

Judy Clave and Phil Good were presented with the two annual publications awards given at Colorado College for outstanding work done in the field of publications for the 1952-53 year by Charles Hawley, chairman of the Publication Board, at an informal symposium held in Lennox Tuesday night. Miss Clave won the E. K. Gaylord Award given annually to a junior or senior, while Mr. Good copped the Publication Board Recognition Award given to a freshman or sophomore annually.

For the first time, honorable mention awards were given to three members in publications for superior work done. This year recognition was given to Iben Smith of the TIGER, John Hirst of the Nugget, and Jenny Singleton of the Kinnikinnik. All awards are for work done on last year's publications. Jenny Singleton is the only member who is not at CC this year.

Highlighting the program was a talk given by Tom McLaughlin, former sports editor of the Gazette-Telegraph and now public relations director for the Interstate Gas Co. Mr. McLaughlin spoke on "Why is the printer always at fault?"

In his talk, McLaughlin indicated that often the printer is not at fault, but serves as the fall guy for lazy and incompetent editors. He said that printers usually take a great deal of pride in their work, primarily because it is material and concrete. People know them for what they do. Whereas, an editor's work is not always visible to the public, thus making it easier to shift blame for errors to the printers.

Following his talk, there was an informal discussion on publications with many questions being asked Tom McLaughlin.

The Publications Board is tentatively planning to present this year's awards at a banquet to be held sometime in the spring.

Foreign Student Program Plans Well Underway for CC Campus

Colorado Springs and Colorado College may continue to be blessed with the advantages of having foreign scholars on the CC campus, if the plans now underway for a foreign student program are successful.

Dr. Thomas O. Brandt, professor of German and foreign student adviser at CC, indicated Saturday that the committee working on this important phase of college life was having success with the phases of the program already tackled.

The need for increased work by the college on this program was brought about the past year when the State Department withdrew its financial support for the foreign student and student exchange program.

Dr. Brandt is enthusiastic about pointing up the advantages of having exchange scholars on the CC campus. Not only have these students aided the education and understanding of American students, but they have also contributed to the education of the community through lectures, discussion groups and travel talks.

If the current plans are successful the college will continue to offer the services of these foreign students to service clubs, meetings and to the public schools for picture displays and talks on their own country.

A student committee, headed by Miss Kathy Smith, CC senior who has studied abroad and learned the advantage of exchange programs, has been hard at work on the program.

This committee has learned that it takes approximately $1,550 for a male student and $1,510 for a female student to attend CC for one year. To date the committee has received support for its plan to bring two students to the campus from fraternities, sororities, Colorado College's students aid committee and the CC National Alumni Association.

Dr. Brandt revealed Saturday that the college has established two half-junior scholarships to be awarded to qualified foreign students. Fraternities and sororities have donated either money or board and room in the houses to the extent that the housing and feeding of the male student.

CC's Debate Team Enters Denver Meet

This Saturday Ray Werner will take four students to Denver for a debate meet. The subject is "Resolved: that the United States should adopt a policy of Free Trade." The four rounds of debate will begin at 9:00 a. m., and end with the last round at 2:30. The meet is being sponsored by Tau Kappa Alpha chapter at Denver University.

'Religion in Life' Week Materializes As Groups Work

It really looks as though CC is in for a wonderful new experience when February comes and all the plans for "Religion in Life" week materialize. The various committees are really going to town on this project. The committee members are full of ideas and ways to put their ideas to practice. From the sound of reports made by the committee heads at the last Interdenominational Religious Council meeting everything is under control and progress is rolling along smoothly towards that second week in February.

The worship committees under the leadership of Joanna Givowsky is making plans for the five main chapels which will be held that week. Jimmy Keyler is the advisor for this committee. The other members are Rule Olson and Kipp Herold.

Sue Williams is chairman of the social committee. With the aid of Vickie Hahn, her advisor, this committee is planning several social events to tie in with "The Week." Committee members are Maggie Mathias and Bob Hende.

The publicity committee headed by Joanne Castellani is making the necessary arrangements for publicity both on the campus and in town. Scott Francis advises this committee. The members of this committee are Rita Davis and Rheta Olson.

John Wolff heads the discussion committee. This committee is making arrangements for speakers, topics, and places for the evening seminars and for private conferences with the speakers. Milton Johnson advises this committee.

The fifth committee is the central planning committee. It is composed of Betty Freeto, Tom Pankau and Fr. Freudenstein. They are arranging the over-all schedule for the week.

Dean Burkle is acting as an advisor to any and all committees that need extra help.

Exchange Tickets For Admission To Hockey Games

Students who plan to attend the ice hockey series against the Edmonton Oil Kings on December 12 and 14, are advised to secure their admission tickets at the athletic department office. Student admission tickets are issued upon presentation of the exchange ticket in the student activity book.

The seating capacity at the Broadmoor Ice Palace is limited, and many games are sold out completely. The practice of securing exchange tickets has been established in order to insure the Colorado College student body and faculty that sufficient seats will be held for them. It is necessary that all student activity tickets be exchanged for admission tickets at least 24 hours prior to the scheduled time for the game.

Due to the fact that on frequent occasions in the past, some students have made the practice of selling their student tickets to non-students, it was necessary to require the presentation of identification cards upon admission to the ice hockey games. Through this method, the ticket takers can be assured that the student tickets are being presented by students of Colorado College only. Be sure and carry your ID cards with you to all Colorado College hockey games.

Activity books cannot be used for the CC-Alumni series, but tickets may be purchased either at the athletic office or Broadmoor for $1.20, $1.80 and $2.40.

Molly Boyer has been appointed Chemfield representative at Colorado College.

CU Wins Rifle Match Over Trinidad and CC

Colorado University outpointed Trinidad Junior College and Colorado College's ROTC rifle team Saturday, Nov. 21 in a shoulder to shoulder rifle match held in Cossitt gym. Faced by Thomas M. Clark firing two seventy-two out of a possible three hundred, the five high individual firers for CC were Clark, John P. Wolff, Leo E. Oyler, Robert M. Thompson and George W. Miller.

The team broke even on the season's first pistol match fired the week of 10 November defeating Wheaton and St. John's University and losing to the University of New Mexico and Sienna College. This week pistol matches CC against Coe College, the University of Rhode Island and George Washington University.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT, RECORD SESSION; CHRISTMAS PARTY IN STUDENT UNION.

Anyone who can play bridge will have a chance to prove himself in a BRIDGE TOURNAMENT to be held Wednesday, December 2, at 7:15, in the Student Union. There will be many prizes for the "intellects" or "card sharks" as the case may be. As for you freshmen girls—remember—this tournament is for you too. All you have to do is ask for when-overs, to take care of those dorm hours. Friday, December 4, at 3:00, we will continue with the regular afternoon BRIDGE parties.

A RECORD SESSION is on deck for Sunday afternoon at 1:00. Then next Wednesday, December 9, at 7:15, there will be an all student Christmas party at the Student Union. There will be free refreshments, roasting of marshmallows, decorating a Christmas tree, dancing and singing. We will have a fire in the fireplace and will try to have something there that everyone can do.

I say this every week but I mean it just as much now as I did the first week. Any time during the year you have any suggestion, complaints, or ideas, by all means please contact one of the following board members. We must have your suggestion in order to act! THIS IS YOUR UNION. ONLY YOU CAN MAKE IT WORK!

SUC members: Gwen Jude, Mary Ellen Cruthirds, Martha Daily, Ed MacGuire, Bill Peters, Mort Forster, and Vickie Hahn.

Miss Ingle will describe the work being done by religious and educational institutions to meet the severe social and personal difficulties of post-war Greece.

'THOU WENCH, THOU VIXEN, THOU SHREW' PLAY ABLY PRESENTED BY CC PLAYERS

By Marilyn Roy

"Thou wench, thou vixen, thou shrew"—what better ways are there to tame a shrew than by beating her and by verbal abuse, thus making her realize that, after all, she is but a mere woman? Shakespeare may have been quite shocked by the liberties taken with his play, "The Taming of the Shrew". These liberties can be attributed to Woodson Tyree, who not only staged but really edited this play into a modern soap-opera-type production complete with announcer, Larry Richman, and commercials.

Very appropriate popular tunes come forth at just the right intervals, in cases such as in the midst of Kate's screams, growls, and kicking during the wedding scene, Peggy Lee's voice chirps, "I'll Dance at Your Wedding."

Everybody wants to get into the act! And quite a few somebody's did, as the play was prefaced with a humorous panel discussion introduced by Dr. Tom Ross. This was carried on by Dr. Lewis Knapp and Mr. Neale Reinitz.

"The Taming of the Shrew" began rather quietly, which was quite momentous since it was about the only quiet part of the play. Kate's father, played by Bill Prescott, and Petruchio, portrayed by Bill Fritz, were discussing Kate's impending marriage to Petruchio. The calm was interrupted by Kate's gentle screams, and soon feathers flew, as did musicians. Nat Harris, as the mousy musician, was one of the many objects of Kate's wrath. And who took the part of this infamous Kate? Janet Trisler very ably filled this position.

Much against her wishes, Kate, did get married, and it was only through being beaten and starved by her husband, Petruchio, that Kate learned what conduct is unbecoming even a shrew.

Neal Tyree and Ted Lott ably portrayed Lucentio and Hortensio, two gentlemen in the wedding party. Marty Stinson played a widow.

Every once in a while Bruce Hensar as Grumio would be found tripping lightly across the stage when he wasn't flying through the air when kicked by his master. And to be kicked in the midst of such excellent settings, for which the stage crew can certainly receive a great deal of credit, is quite an honor.

Pat Seitz played Bianca, Lucentio's compromising wife. And there was never such a distressed staff of servants as those found in Petruchio's household, and for good reason. Now they had Kate to contend with, which could try the best of men, as Petruchio soon learned. Bob Kiklighter, Dorothy Ramsey, Brook Kindred, Charles O'Fallon, Don Fixley and for good reason, played various types of oppressed servants.

Strictly from hunger! Arturo Jimenez had a rough battle as the tailor who could not satisfy Petruchio's wishes under any circumstances. He received such terms of endearment as "Thou flea, thou nit, thou winter cricket". Such strong language! Really! Even Tom Freund, as Vincentio, found himself speechless for a while in Petruchio's presence.

Finally dear, sweet Kate was tamed, and everyone was happy, especially the audience, who really enjoyed the whole production.

VICTOREEN TO SPEAK AT CHEMICAL MEETING

Mr. J. A. Victoreen will be the guest speaker at the American Chemical Society meeting, which is to be held this month in the Victoreen Laboratory, Tuesday night, Dec. 8, "The Role of Chemistry in the Solution of Problems in Electronics" is the topic chosen by Mr. Victoreen. Transportation will be provided and will leave from the west entrance of Palmer Hall at seven o'clock.

SORORITIES OPEN YULE FESTIVITIES THIS WEEKEND

Kappa Kappa Gamma will have its Christmas Formal Saturday night, Dec. 5. The annual affair will be a dinner-dance in the Crystal Room of the Alamo Hotel from 7 to 12 p.m. Ray Kranz and his orchestra will furnish music for dancing. Ray Kranz has played for the Kappas for the last four years.

Tonight from 9:30 to 12:30 p.m. Kappa Alpha Theta will hold its Christmas formal. The Acacia Hotel will be the scene of the event. Bob McGrew will be on hand to provide the Thetas and their dates with entertaining music for dancing. The highlight of the evening will come when a genuine Santa Claus will present the boys with small favors from their respective dates. Chaperones for the evening will be Vicki Hahn and Dr. Leech and Dr. and Mrs. Shaw.

The Gamma Phi Betas are holding their Christmas Formal in the Crystal Room in the Alamo Hotel from 9:30 until 12:30 on December 4. Before the dance the G. Phis are serving a buffet supper at the Alamo. The theme of their dance is the "Stardust Formal", and Ray Kranz will be their "Stardust Band". Their guest of honor will be Mom Cast, and the chaperones will be Dr. and Mrs. Fox and the Henry Carters. The

CC to Participate In Bridge Tourney

Colorado College is one of the more than 600 colleges and universities throughout the United States invited to compete in the 1954 National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament. An invitation and entry blank were sent this week (November 23) to deans and directors of college unions by the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee, of which Louis D. Day, Jr. of the University of Pennsylvania is chairman.

All play will be by mail and will be conducted on the individual college campuses in a single session, on a date fixed by the tournament director between February 17 and 21. These hands will then be returned to committee headquarters where they will be scored by Geoffrey Mott-Smith, author and contract bridge authority, who will determine campus, regional, and national winners.

Gamma Phi social chairman, Joyce Somerville, is in charge of the dance and has made all the arrangements for the dance and the buffet.

The ballroom of the Acacia Hotel will be the scene of the Delta Gamma Christmas formal this Saturday from 9 to 1. Preceding the dance a dinner will be held at the Harbor Inn. Chaperones for the occasion are Dr. and Mrs. Fisher and Dr. and Mrs. Fox.

"JUVENILE DELINQUENCY"
The Sociology Club will meet next Thursday, Dec. 10, at 7:30, in Lenox House. Judge Simmon will be guest speaker and will present his views on "Juvenile Delinquency in this Area."

Students to Attend Methodist Movement

More than 2,300 college students and adult counselors have been named delegates to the fifth quadrennial conference of the Methodist Student Movement to open December 28 at the University of Kansas, Lawrence, and run thru January 2. Delegates will represent every state and include 200 foreign students. "Christ Transforming Culture" will be the program theme as students seek to come to grips with problems and issues of Christian faith and action.

Eminent platform speakers from all over the United States, from Africa and Switzerland will discuss theological and educational aspects of modern culture. Between the platform hours, students will have ample opportunity to share experiences and speak their minds in study groups, forums and campus-style "hull sessions". Directing the conference will be Dr. H. D. Bollinger and Dr. Harvey C. Brown, Nashville, who heads the Methodist education board's Department of University and College Religious Life.

In 1900, all of the hard-surfaced roads in the United States would have been linked New York and Boston.

The wholesale value of motor vehicles produced in the United States in 1952 is estimated at nine billion dollars.

Marine Corps Need College Women to Serve as Officers

The United States Marine Corps is looking for college women to serve as commissioned officers in the U.S. Marines. College women fill a vital role in the Marine Corps as command and administrative officers.

"Service in the Armed Forces is one of the most rewarding opportunities in life," states Colonel Julia E. Hamblin, director of Women Marines. "College women can earn up to $4,250 upon appointment to the rank of second lieutenant."

Preparation for leadership positions begins for the individual at the Marine Corps School, Quantico, Va., where the Women Officers Training Class is held each winter and summer. Qualified young women who are college undergraduates attend two six-week training periods during their summer vacation. College graduates are trained in one continuous 12-week session during either the summer or winter months. Upon completion of the WOTC, candidates become full-fledged second lieutenants.

For more information about the 1954 WOTC classes, which commence in February and June, please contact the nearest Marine Corps office in your area.

BENGALS OPEN SEASON TONITE WITH ALUMS

CC Opens Season This Weekend; Travel to Ft. Collins for Opener

Colorado A&M will provide the first opposition for the 1953-54 Colorado College hockey crew when the Tigers journey to Ft. Collins for a two-game set with the Aggies tonight and Saturday. Aggie Coach Bill Strannigan commented that he expects to field the best team in his four seasons at the school. Six lettermen have returned from the '52-'53 aggregation to form the nucleus of the Ft. Collins squad.

Returning lettermen include forwards Harold Kincaid, Dick Switzer and Leonard Gregory, guards Bob Betz, and Stan Pivic, and center Dennis Steuhm. Newcomers are Bob Cates, a transfer from Wyoming, Ray Wheeler, transfer from La Junta JC, and sophomores Jack Bryant, Jim Savoini, Gary Hibbard and Gary Saunders.

Colorado College will have a veteran squad backed up by lettermen Tom Dunton, Ed Lodnell, Ned Pfeiffer, Lowell Slocum, Sam Maynes and Charles Moyer. The Tigers will open their Rocky Mountain Conference schedule against Western State, January 7-8 at Colorado Springs.

Alum Team Loaded; Boasts Hockey Men

CC ice fans will get their first look at this year's hockey club as the Bengals meet the red hot Alumni team tonight and tomorrow evening at eight o'clock on the Broadmoor Ice.

Prospects are high for an alum victory after watching both clubs in session. Last Monday night the varsity saw action for the first time this year as they scrimmaged the JV club. Several excellent performances were put in, but on the whole, the varsity looked ragged though emerging with a 5-2 victory.

The Alums will close a rugged four week practice session this week. Bob Scarlett, '43, and Ray Ikola, '50 have been outstanding at the nets and will no doubt give the Bengals a rough go.

The appearance of Omar Brandt, '53 was a definite bolster to the spirits of the Alum club. Brandt came in last week from Calgary, Alberta, where he is presently employed with Saco-Vacuum Oil Co. Brandt showed his never forgotten speed and power in the early part of Monday's drills, but a year's layoff slowed the "Bull" considerably.

PUCKSTERS TO HAVE A FAST TEAM AS CC FACES LONG, RUGGED SCHEDULE

Colorado College hockey Coach Cheddy Thompson expressed confidence in the 1953-54 Bengal ice crew in an interview with THE TIGER, December 1.

Thompson commented that "The team is as well-balanced as one as we have ever had," but warned, "The schedule is the roughest in years and we will have to be at our best," he said. Thompson praised the spirit of the team, "which always been working very hard in hopes of stopping the speedy Bengals. Thus far stellar performances have been turned in by Ron Newson, '49, Mike Yalich, '50, and Chick Ross, '43. More action will be supplied this weekend by Len Macini, '53, who arrived in town on Tuesday, Jim Starick, '51, and Ron Hartwell, '52, who made an appearance Thursday and Jo Slattery, '50, who is expected by game time tonite.

The Alums boast a quantity of wingmen such as Andy Gambucci, '53, Chris Ray, '51, Len Gagnon, '53, Cam Berry, and Jack Might. Joe Slattery came down from Den-helps. Commenting on the two-game set with the alumni, tonight and Saturday, Thompson observed that the games "will be a test for the team" who faces stiff opposition in their quest for the NCAA crown.

Nine lettermen are back from the '52-'53 squad which chalked up an eleven win, ten loss record. Veteran goalie Ken Kinsley will be back at the goal, testing slot for the third straight year. Kinsley will be assisted by Junior Doug Bates and newcomer Jeff Simus.

Thompson indicated the starting line-up for the game tonight with the alumni would be Kinsley at goal, Hilton and Silverberg at the defense posts, Clarence Smith at center along with Ken Smith and Hal Cowan at left and right wing, respectively.

Reservations for the game are being rapidly sold at the Ice Palace and at the athletic office.

COLORADO SKI NOTES

By Karl Holz

The Thanksgiving holidays ushered in the 1953-54 ski season for Colorado and provided some good skiing for the eager snow bunnies. Naturally some of the areas will require a lot more snow before they will be in top shape, but considering the time of year, no one should complain.

At Aspen, the brave souls who left the Ren Onion and ventured onto the slopes, found some good skiing at the top of Spar Gulch, Buckhorn Trail, and Tourletette Park. The remainder of the trails were unusable due to lack of snow and an abundance of rocks.

The chair lift is in operation with an all day ticket costing $4.75. If the Ptarmigan Ski Club gets reorganized, the rates will be cheaper for such a group, not only on tow tickets but also for room and board.

Climax opened its fine ski area and operated thruout the vacation. A T-bar lift 3,544 feet long is in operation with accommodations for overnight trips in Leadville.

A new 3,000 foot long downhill racing trail has been cleared at Climax in addition to two new ski jumps. The course is lighted for night skiing.

The ski season at Cooper Hill will be from December 12 until April 11 on every weekend.

Arapahoe Basin offered the best skiing in the area. All runs and slopes were open except the Standard, with a good covering of snow on all of them. A second chairlift on the bottom slopes is being constructed and will eliminate some of the huge lines of last year.

Berthoud Pass was offering good skiing which was apparent by the crowds of skiers. Winter Park is not operating until they have a heavier snowfall and will announce their opening date.

Georgetown seemed to be the gathering place for all skiers from the Arapahoe and Berthoud ski areas, which resulted in much revelry. If you're looking for a place that caters to skiers, stop at the "Silver Spur" outside of Georgetown on Route 6. You'll enjoy the informality of the place.

Surveys indicate that the man of the house usually has his way about choice of a family car—but the woman has her word about its color.

LATEST COLLEGE SURVEY SHOWS LUCKIES LEAD AGAIN

Last year a survey of leading colleges throughout the country showed that smokers in those colleges preferred Luckies to any other cigarette.

This year another nation-wide survey—based on thousands of actual student interviews, and representative of all students in regular colleges—shows that Luckies lead again over all brands, regular or king size...and by a wide margin! The No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better.

Smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste, and the fact of the matter is Luckies taste better—for 2 reasons. L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And Luckies are made better to taste better. So, Be Happy—Go Lucky!

Luckies give you finer smokes,
So buy 'em by the carton—

dent and one-half the board and room bill for the woman student is promised.

Foreign students who come to CC under the proposed scholarship plan must agree to return after one year to their native lands, in order that their impressions, insight and considered judgment of our country might be imparted to their fellow countrymen. One only needs to scan the record of former CC foreign students now residing, teaching and working in their own country to see the benefits of the plan.

Many Colorado Springs residents have already expressed enthusiasm at the plan to continue a foreign student plan. Methods whereby townspeople may help in the organization will be reported at a later date.

Candidates will be chosen with utmost care, with their background explored not only by official screening agencies (Institute of International Education, cultural attaches at U. S. embassies abroad) but also by former CC foreign students and by CC alumni living abroad.

Air Cadet Team To Interview CC Students Dec. 7th

An Aviation Cadet selection team, equipped to interview and partially process prospective applicants for flying training in the Air Force will be on the campus on Monday, 7 December 1953, at Palmer Hall.

The team will be supplied with the most current and factual flying training information and will be available from 8:30 a. m. until about 3:00 p. m. on that date.

Aviation Cadets are trained to become pilots or aircraft observers. An aircraft observer is schooled in an aircrew specialty such as bombardment, navigation, radar, or aircraft performance engineering.

Upon completion of approximately a year of training, an Aviation Cadet (pilot) receives his silver wings and a commission as a second lieutenant in the United States Air Force.

To qualify for Aviation Cadet training, an applicant must be between 19 and 26 years of age, single, in good physical condition, and be able to pass mental and physical tests. Pilot applicants must have normal 20-20 vision, while aircraft observer candi-

CAA Donates Golf Cage to the College

The Colorado College Association has continued in its way towards a better CC. The association has purchased a new indoor practice cage for golf.

The cage has been installed in the "C" room at Cossitt hall and will be available for use by any interested golfers. The balls and clubs will be furnished by the association and the cage will be open, as is the "C" room from 8:00 in the morning until 4:30 p. m.

One more well deserved pat on the back for the CCA.

Newman Club to Attend Regional Convention

The fall regional convention of the Newman Club will be held at Colorado University, Sunday afternoon, Dec. 6. The morning will commence with all Newman Club members attending the 9:00 a. m. mass and receiving communion in a body and going to the Swiss Chalet for breakfast following mass.

Those going to the convention will leave immediately from the Swiss Chalet and any Newman member who wishes to go to Boulder may do so. The group will return to CC Sunday evening.

Indes Win I-M Tennis

Intramural Tennis results were announced last Tuesday by Cheddy Thompson, director of Intramurals. The Independents broke into the win column for the first time this year with a very decisive total point score of 23 points.

The Phi Gams were second in the league with eight points closely followed by the Phi Delt's seven.

Championship in the singles tourney went to Independent Bill Clark who defeated John Watts, also an Independent. Clark won in two sets, 6-2 and 6-2.

The doubles championship was won by Bill Clark and John Watts, both Independents. The Indes beat Andy Spiegel and Leo McCune, 6-3, 6-3.

SYMANSKI TO SPEAK AT IRC MEETING

Thursday, Dec. 10 the International Relations Club will hold a meeting in the Lennox/House ASCC room at 7:30 p. m. The guest speaker will be Col. Henry E. ASCC NOTES

By Bill Howell

The student council voted that the salary for the editor and business manager of THE TIGER be $500 for the next year. Upon recommendation of the Publications Board, the Student Council went on record as backing the practice of publicizing (in THE TIGER) acts of vandalism which take place on the campus.

A committee has been set up to study all the minutes of the Student Council for the last three or four years. This committee will find all by-laws and motions which are pertinent to the A.S.C.C. constitution in an effort to bring that document up to date. The cost of printing new constitutions is also being looked into because it is felt that a larger distribution of constitutions is needed.

THANKS FOR HELPING!

Any success that the Variety Show might have been in any way this year is due to the excellent spirit of cooperation on the part of all concerned. Whether working directly on the show or merely supporting by attendance, all the students, faculty, administration and townspeople, who helped in any way with the show, I want to personally express my thanks. Without your full support, I would have been helpless.

Sue Pfeiffer,
Variety Show Director.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Tom:

On behalf of the Homecoming committee I want to congratulate you on the wonderful Homecoming edition of THE TIGER. Alumni, students, faculty—in fact everybody thought it was outstanding. Many thanks from Dave Becker, Jim Jacobs, Carol Witwer, Larry Herrman, Jim Ward, Miss Berger and all of us for contributing so much to the general success of the weekend.

DOWN TIME STAR BEAT'S

Don't ever ask Kay Starr for an honest opinion on the "experience versus the lucky break" question about singing success, for if she used her own career as a case in point, it would be difficult to tell where the experience left off and the lucky break began, or vice versa.

It was during a two-year stay with Charlie Barnett's band in 1943, that her "lucky" break came along. Kay's then sweet-styled band vocalist was changed to a harsh, although not unpleasant, biting tone as a result of a severe throat infection. After convalescing, Kay left the band singing business for a career as a single which proved to be highly successful.

In 1947, she was signed to a Capitol recording contract, and after turning out some classics in the jazz field for the Capitol people, Kay stepped over to the pop field and in recent years has had her share of hits. Other ventures for Kay Starr (nee Kathryn Starks) have included radio and TV work plus a Columbia pic entitled "When You're Smiling."

However, Kay's greatest success has been in her recording work which ranges from blues to ballads. Her latest, "When My Dreamboat Comes Home," and "Swamp Fire," have already climbed to the top of favorites of the day. "Lucky" break or not, Kay Starr seems to have mastered the formula for success in the competitive field of singing a song.

Look for more hi-fi releases, not only in the classical field, but also in the pop field. Capitol has issued a new album, Full Dimensional Sound—A Study in High Fidelity. Besides the classical excerpts there are items by Ray Anthony, Dick Stabile, Les Paul, and Stan Kenton.

Also in the classical vein is the development of more local symphonies with The Savannah Symphony starting Nov. 17, for five concerts. . . . There is also a plan for a Physicians Philharmonic Symphony in Chicago. . . . There's also good news in that the Hartford Symphony has increased both its budget and the number of concerts it will give this season.

Jazz war between Birdland and Bandbox in New York ended last month with Bandbox switching to a revue policy, leaving the Bird as the number one jazz spot in the city. And talking about number one jazz spots, the one in Chicago, the Blue Note, discontinues operation Dec. 1, for a while. Two CC Men Among First In Air National Guard

Two Colorado College men were among the first four Colorado Springs residents to join in the current Colorado air national guard recruitment opportunities, Col. Thomas W. Barfoot, commanding officer for the 140th air base group, said today.

The two students—Frank Malone of 1029 N. Nevada, and Robert A. Buchtel of Jackson House dormitory—will soon begin their one weekend-a-month training session at the air guards' base, Buckley Field, Colorado.

In joining the air guard, Malone applied for cadet training to learn jet flying. The Colorado unit is now equipped with F-80 jet fighters. If he qualifies, Col. Barfoot said, he will receive costly training and then will be returned to the Colorado unit and civilian life except for his one weekend of training assembly.

By joining the guard before a man is 18½, Barfoot said, he can fulfill his entire service obligation while remaining at home, at work, or in school.

Commissions Available In Women's Army Corp

A recent Officer Procurement Program offers appointments as 2nd lieutenants in the Women's Army Corps Reserve to female graduates of Colorado College. Women of this year's graduating class interested in this unusual opportunity to serve are urged to contact Lt. Col. Herbert B. Heyer, Professor of Military Science and Tactics at Colorado College.

All women commissioned upon graduation will be ordered to active duty to attend the 20 week company officer course. Officers who complete the course, and are otherwise eligible, may apply for appointment in the Regular Army. The Women's Army Corps was created in May 1942, when it became apparent that World War II was indeed a total war that would require the fullest participation by every citizen of America.

Within two years, women of the Corps were performing virtually every Army task except combat duty. They were filling more than 200 different jobs in over 400 installations around the world.

In June 1948, Congress authorized a permanent Women's Army Corps, and thus gave recognition to the contributions of Women in World War II and to the continued need for their service.

The Women's Army Corps provides educational advantages, travel, retirement benefits and advancement up to higher pay brackets through 19 army career fields including photography, finance, food service, intelligence, personnel, chemical, communications and many others.

The insignia of the Women's Army Corps is Pallas Athena, the Greek goddess of war. Goddess of storms and of battle, she also instructed mankind in the arts and practical activities of daily life.

From England to Colorado College Comes Student Ambassador Miss Jean Keeley

An avid field hockey player, Jean deplores the lack of enthusiasm in women's sports here at CC. Just by looking at Jean's rosy cheeks and sparkling blue eyes, one can see that she is a lover of the outdoors. In her delightfully clipped accents, Jean tells us that Jean feels that aside from the more obvious scholastic advantages to be gained, a foreign student could profit greatly by mingling with a group of American young people. There is no question of course that the American students would benefit from such an association.

Before embarking on her journey to America, Jean was fortunate to have seen one of the most spectacular events of the century.

the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II. Jean says, "Oh yes, I saw the Coronation procession. I am on Hyde Park corner in the pouring rain for six hours. But it was worth it. It was far more beautiful than either of the current films can show. It was the experience of a lifetime".

1. It's up to you to make sure that your date knows exactly where you are going, so that she can sign out correctly. It is also your responsibility, in case you are unavoidably detained in returning her by closing hours, as in the case of car trouble, to call the dorm to inform them of your whereabouts.

2. If you have lots to tell your gal, go see her. But don't tie up the phone lines for hours on end. Please limit the length of your calls to the dorms—some other girls may be waiting for most crucial calls.

3. Take it easy in the parlors, remembering that they don't offer the privacy of home. Don't make it necessary for the dorm to install the "two feet on the floor" rule.

Q.A. Christmas Dinner To Be December 17

The traditional Q. A. Christmas dinner will be held December 17 in Bemis Commons. Climaxing the dinner will be a short program sponsored by A.W.S.

As in previous years the hashers will provide Christmas carols during dinner. All dormitory girls are invited. Guests of Q. A. will be President and Mrs. William H. Gill, Dean and Mrs. G. W. Adams and Pam, Jean Keeley, Pat Tollefson, and Mrs. Ruth Bratager.

Following dinner, Connie Brown will read the "Christmas Story". A string quartet, composed of Peggy Rood, Lois Cott, Marilyn Smith, and Martha Wollett, will play Christmas music, and then all present will sing carols, accompanied by Miriam Robins.

The program arrangements were made by Barbie Cannon, A.W.S. song chairman.

Gregg and Howbert Plan Yule Parties

On Monday night, December 14, Gregg and Howbert House are having a joint Christmas party. All the Gregg and Howbert ladies will meet at Gregg House after meetings. The ladies will sing Christmas carols and will eat lots and lots of the best refreshments ever served at a dorm party.

On Tuesday, December 15, the girls from Lovelace and Howbert are going out to St. Francis Hospital to entertain the children in the pediatrics ward. They are planning on singing Christmas carols and Phil Good will go with them to be Santa Claus.

Choir to Present Candlelight Service

The Colorado College choir will present a Christmas candlelight in Shove Chapel on Wednesday, December 16, at 8:15 p.m. The choir, under the direction of Mr. Richard Moorhead, will tell the story of the birth of Jesus in scripture and songs of praise. Judy Clave will act as narrator.

Included in the program will be familiar Christmas music and chorals from Bach's Christmas Oratorio. The concert will be begun by a prelude by Jessie Hawkes, college organist followed by a candlelight procession of the choir singing Christmas carols.

Christmas Formals Highlight Fraternity Yule Festivities

PHI DELTA THETA

The Broadmoor hotel ballroom will be the scene of the Phi Delta Christmas formal tomorrow night from 9 till 12:30. Music for dancing will be provided by Bill Sereff and his orchestra. Chaperones for the evening will be Miss Vicki Hann, Dr. and Mrs. Mertz and Dr. Leech.

SIGMA CHI

Tonight from 9 till 12 the Sigma Chi will hold their Christmas formal in the Crystal Room of the Alamo Hotel with Bill Sereff and his orchestra providing music for dancing. The Sigma annual Egg Nog party will be held at their house following the dance.

Kappa Gamma will arrive at the dance to distribute gifts, and to provide their dates with corsages, the Sigma having arranged to have corsages flown in from Hawaii. The Richard van Sums and Dr. and Mrs. Fisher will act as chaperones.

BETA THETA PI

Bob McGrew and his orchestra will be at the Crystal Room of the Alamo Hotel tonight to provide music for the Beta Theta Pi Christmas formal. Preceding the dance will be a dinner at the hotel beginning at 7:30. Mr. and Mrs.

Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Freysehlag will act as chaperones.

KAPPA SIGMA

Preceding their Christmas formal the Kappa Sigma will hold a "cocktail hour" at the fraternity house beginning at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. The formal will follow at the VFW Club from 9 till 12 with Ray Kranz and his orchestra providing music for the dancing. Mr. and Mrs. van Saun, Dr. Leech and Miss Vicki Hann will act as chaperones for the evening.

PHI GAMMA DELTA

A dinner-dance will be held in the Panda Room of the Antlers Hotel from 7:30 till 12:30 this Saturday night to celebrate the annual Christmas formal of Phi Gamma Delta. Peggy Brown's trio will provide music for dancing for the Phi Gams and their dates. The Leon Eastlacks and Richard Moorheads will chaperone the event.

Molly Boyer, Chesterfield representative, has donated 4 cartons of Chesterfields to the four top winners of the bridge tournament held at the Student Union, December 2.

BRIDGE AND BILLIARD TOURNAMENTS TO BE NEXT IN STUDENT UNION

By Mort Forster

The National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament is an annual contest in duplicate Contract Bridge in which men and women undergraduates at leading colleges and universities throughout the country compete for national and campus championship titles and trophies awarded by the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee. All competing college play, on campus, a set of sixteen hands. These hands are prepared and scored by Geoffrey Mott-Smith, a nationally recognized authority on Contract Bridge, who determines campus, regional and national winners. In order to participate in the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament, a student must:

1. Meet the eligibility requirements in effect at his college for intercollegiate activities.
2. Be regularly enrolled at the time of the tournament.
3. Be carrying not less than the minimum number of class hours required of students at his college.

Any number of students may participate in the tournament from each college but a minimum of 16 players is required if a college is to be eligible for the awards. At some time between Feb. 17 and 21 the prepared hands will be played under the supervision of the tournament director by the contestants at each college. College cups, individual cups, plaques, and certificates will be given to the winners on or about March 15. No entry or other fee is charged for participation in the tournament.

The 1954 Intercollegiate Billiard Tournament will have the following features:

1. Teams will be composed of three players.
2. After play has been completed, teams will immediately send their team results to the tournament director, who will tabulate and send out results.
3. There will be a Face to Face National Play-Off Tournament, the location and date to be announced later. The three players with highest individual scores in each tournament will be brought together to determine the National Individual Champions.

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By Karl Hold

Preparation for the Rocky Mountain Conference cage season is in full swing with a full month to go before the conference campaign begins. Idaho State, RMC defending champion, looks like it will again dominate the conference. Brigham Young conquered Idaho State 70-59 and 63-50, but the Bengals showed they'll be hard to beat in the RMC.

Wyoming's Cowboys scraped past Montana State after fighting from behind to down the scrapping Bobcats 63-53. The Cowboys upped the margin in the last two games 80-17 and 87-45. Wyoming now has a perfect record of 23 wins over the Bobcats. Montana State College hasn't beaten the Cowboys since 1928.

Western State, on a ten-day tour, divided its opening series with New Mexico Western, losing 60-53 and winning 69-62.

Colorado Mines split their series with Adams State dropping their first game 53-40 and recovering the next night 45-43. In an overtime game, Colorado State defeated Deaver University 73-56. After beating DU, Colorado State lost to the AAU Central Bankers of Denver 69-49.

Friday night Colorado College will play Friends University from Wichita, Kansas. After dropping both of their games to Colorado State, CC will be out to get on the winning road.

HOCKEY—

The Western Collegiate Hockey teams will enter their second week of play beginning with DI's game against the Edmonton Oil Kings. The Oil Kings, members of Western Canada's Junior Hockey League, will then move to Colorado Springs Saturday and Monday.

Opening its season Thursday and Saturday, Michigan Tech will host the Portage Lake Pioneers, a Canadian amateur team. Minnesota and Michigan continue their schedules. Friday and Saturday, while North Dakota lies idle.

Minnesota meets Ft. Williams, another Canadian amateur team, in Minneapolis. Michigan, NCAA champion three years in a row, battles Toronto University in a two-game series at Ann Arbor.

Bengals Meet Oil Kings; Will Play At the Broadmoor

The Edmonton Oil Kings will entertain at the Broadmoor Ice Palace tomorrow night and Monday evening as they give the Bengals their last chance to sharpen up before the regular collegiate season which opens next week.

The Oil Kings will be representative of the style of hockey exhibited in the West Junior League of Canada, which is an amateur league for Canada's future pro prospects. Western Junior League is one step below the Western Pro League which has received many boys who have come up through the ranks and the junior leagues.

The Oil Kings will bring a well balanced team to the Broadmoor with most of the players returning from last year's championship squad. The squad will boast such hopefuls as Billy McNeil, John Bucyk, Norm Ulman, Chuck Holmes, and Frank Roggevan.

Captain of this year's club is Ray Kinasewich who has had one year of experience with the Oil Kings and has

TIGERS IN DOUBLE LOSS TO COLO. A&M; LOSS OF VILMONT SHOWED IN PLAY

Flashing the power that has made them favorites for the Skyline Conference crown the Colorado A&M Aggies crushed the Colorado College Tigers, 66-28, to complete a sweep of the two game set at Ft. Collins Saturday night. Friday, the Aggies dumped the Tigers by a 67-41 margin. Saturday, the big Aggie squad broke away 12-8 at the end of the first quarter and led 27-11 at the half. A&M sank 28 out of 92 shots from the floor while holding Colorado College to 7 out of 60 attempted. The Tigers had a little better luck at the free throw line with 14 out of 18.

Center John Sanich led the Tiger scoring with 8 points followed by Grant Blaney who bagged 6.

Lowell Slocum and Tom Duntan accounted for 4 markers each. Dennis Steuhm paced the Aggies with 10 points followed by Kinard and Betz with 8 apiece. Coach Bill Strannigan emptied his bench with ten other Aggies figuring in the night's scoring for A&M.

Tonight the Tigers take on Friends University with game time set for 8:15 in Cossitt gym.

often used on the power-play down the middle. He is rated as the smoothest playmaker in the league and should give the Tigers a rugged evening.

Bengal Coach Cheddy Thompson will probably start Ken Kinsley at the goal, Doug Silverberg and Phil Hilton on the defensive line, with K. Smith, C. Smith, and Hal Cowan on the front line. Game time will be 8:15 p. m. at the Broadmoor tomorrow night and Monday.

Bengals Split With Alumni in Series Play

BENGALS NET FRIDAY NIGHT GAME, 11-3; ALUMS DRAW FIRST WIN OF SERIES SAT.

The alumni proved last Saturday night that they still had their old stuff as they won 6 to 3. Perhaps the varsity suffered a let-down as a result of Friday night's walk-away 11 to 3. Not to be forgotten is the fact that Doug Bates suffered a one-inch gash below the right eye in Saturday's pre-game warm up. Simus did a tremendous job as goal keeper for the varsity considering he hasn't had as much experience as Kinsley, this year's captain and All-American, and Bates.

Friday night's game found the varsity in terrific form as everything seemed to click just right. The most outstanding players for the varsity were Rompre, Royal and Kinsley. In this game the alumni had just the opposite trouble. Everything went wrong for them.

The Alumni recovered fully from the shock of Friday night's massacre when they all showed the old form that made them great in their respective years.

In the first period the alumni jumped off to a 1 to 0 lead on Whitworth's goal on an assist from Berry. However, the varsity came back to score in the closing minutes as Marsolais slipped one past goalie Ikola with an assist from Clark. This just roused up the Alumni as Ray scored on a pass from Frasca with thirteen seconds remaining.

The second period found the Alumni pulling slowly away from the Varsity. Hartwell scored for the Alumni on an assist from Brandt and Stararak with 12:41 seconds remaining. Just 38 seconds later Slattery scored for the Alumni on a pass from Frasca.

Stararak continued the scoring for the Alumni by flipping in the puck with 10:09 seconds remaining, unassisted. A few seconds later Gambucci with an assist from Ross and Hartwell slipped another past goalie Simus. However, C. Smith came back for the varsity by scoring two goals within 98 seconds. The first goal he made on an assist from K. Smith.

Friday night's game:

Tigers Host Friends U.; Meet Tonite in Cossitt

Colorado College will open its 1953-54 home basketball schedule, tonight against the Friends University Quakers at Cossitt gym with game time set at 8:15.

The Tigers are seeking their first win of the young season, having absorbed a pair of defeats at the hands of Colorado A&M last weekend in Ft. Collins.

Coach Buford Pringle's squad is fortified with three lettermen from last year's starting five which showed a 2-17 record for the 1952-53 campaign.

However, Pringle has expressed confidence in several outstanding freshmen to bolster the squad and is looking forward to a more successful year for the Wichita school.

Returning lettermen include six foot, three inch center Bob Adams, guard Quay Cox and forward Eldon Peterson. Outstanding prospects are Delbert Owens, a 262-pound, six foot center, Bill Yandell, rated as one of the finest high school stars in Kansas, Jerry Prillman, a former high school star at Conway High School, Jim Maxwell, who played his basketball for Goddard, Kansas High School, and Richard Kasitz from Walton, Kansas. Two former Wichita North stars—forward Robert Mills and Joe Cocking—will also be on hand to add to the team's offensive punch.

IM Adds Table Tennis And Bowling;

All I-M Football Team Picked

At the December third meeting of Intramural managers, it was definitely decided to have table tennis and bowling as new competition. Boxing and wrestling are still undecided.

December 15 and 16 are the dates set for the table tennis tournament. The tournament will be run along the same line as the tennis tournament with matches in both singles and doubles. Four entries may be submitted from each club and are to be turned into Cheddy Thompson at the athletic office by 4 p.m. today.

The managers also voted on the all intramural football team.

EMILIE KREMEROVA STUDIES AT CC AFTER 2 YEARS AT UNIV. OF PRAGUE

By MARILYN ROY

S.O.S. . . . all students be on the lookout for Emilie Kremerova, alias Lily Kremer, last seen walking with a three-foot stack of philosophy books, but only because that's her major. She has no tattoos or otherwise distinguishing marks, except she can easily be spotted due to the fact that she's an outstanding average raiser in all of her classes.

Lily was born in Czechoslovakia and lived mostly in Prague. After graduating from the gymnasium, which is similar to our high school system, only a more extensive course, Lily continued her studies at the University of Prague where she earned two diplomas in two languages, Czech and French. But at CC took her graduate record exam on, of all days, Homecoming day.

This was her first experience with large-scale American testing, which is very different from the European testing system. In Europe all graduate exams are taken orally and on a private student-professor basis.

In 1948 Lily escaped to Germany to get away from the threat of Communism in Czechoslovakia. It took her four days to walk across the border into the U. S. zone of Germany where she lived for two and one-half years working for an American and later a French organization. Lily arrived in the U. S. in May of 1951, worked as a secretary at the Broadmoor, and entered CC in February of 1952, receiving two years' credit for attending European schools. Lily, with an eye for the future, hopes to get a job in International Relations such as UNESCO. Knowing six languages will certainly aid Lily in this type of occupation. She would really enjoy working in the city of her dreams, San Francisco, for she maintains that she cannot stand the heat, for Lily considers Colorado Springs' climate very warm in the summertime.

Last summer Lily attended the International Students' Seminar which was sponsored by the American Friends' Service Committee. She considers this to have been her happiest experience in America, for here in the picturesque setting on Orcas Island in the state of Washington she had the opportunity to associate with 38 students who represented 22 nationalities.

Lily stated that she would like to take this opportunity to say that she appreciates the understanding and help of all instructors who have helped her to adjust to an American school and to understand the American way of life. Colorado College's students, in turn, would like to thank Lily for

EDITOR AND BUSINESS MANAGER TO BE CHOSEN JANUARY 15 FOR 1954 TIGER

The editor and business manager of THE TIGER for 1954 will be chosen Friday, Jan. 15. These positions are for the year beginning Feb. 1, 1954 and carry a salary of five hundred dollars.

Selection is made by the Student Publications Board on the basis of written application. In order to qualify for the jobs a student must be a sophomore or junior at the time of application and have maintained at least the minimum grade average for the spring semester of 1952-53. This requirement of 1.40 for a freshman, 1.50 for a sophomore and 2.00 for a junior or senior must also be met through the term as editor or business manager. Experience on Colorado College publications is given preference, but is not absolutely necessary.

Applications containing the qualifications of the applicant and any other pertinent information should be given to Charles Hawley, Publications Board Chairman, or any other member of the board or placed in the ASCC box in Cutler between Monday, Jan. 4, and Thursday, Jan. 14.

Winter Carnival To Be at Aspen Jan. 26, 27 and 28

It's Winter Carnival time again! After that "grim final week" most of the CC student body is planning to hit the slopes for three days of vacationing in the Colorado Rockies.

The CC Winter Carnival is an annual event held between semesters, Jan. 26, 27, and 28. In the past the carnival has been held at Cripple Creek. This year Aspen has been chosen as the site for the 1954 carnival.

The Independent Organizations, Pan-Hellenic, and Inter-Fraternity Council are sponsoring this year's carnival. Plans are well underway. What ever winter sport you enjoy—shooshooning, fancy skating, sledding, tobogganing, partying or just being a snow bunny—you will be able to participate at Aspen.

All rooms are reserved at $3 a night. Contact Ed Sage or make your reservations at the booth at Palmer.

Exhibit of Modern Art Held in Denver Gallery

Under the provocative title of "Ten by Ten," a new exhibition, composed of works by ten of the outstanding modern master in art opens at the Denver Art Museum's Schleier Gallery, Jan. 7, when a preview and reception is scheduled from 7:30 to 9:30. It will remain on view thru Feb. 14.

The title indicates ten topflight artists and the ten directions established under their experimental production. The aggregate group, which numbers some 85 works, has a total value close to the million dollar mark.

Dr. Harold R. Browne Named New CC Development Director

Dr. Harold R. Browne has been named assistant to the president in charge of development at Colorado College, it was announced Saturday, Dec. 19, by President William H. Gill. Pres. Gill indicated that Dr. Browne, as development director, will supervise and coordinate the college's fund-raising, public relations, alumni relation and long-range development program. Dr. Brown comes to Colorado College from Yankton College, Yankton, South Dakota, where he has been directing a development and fund-raising survey.

Prior to joining Yankton, Dr. Browne was associated with the nationally famous fund-raising firm of Mutt and Lundy, New York City, as director of public relations. One of his chief duties in this capacity was the directing of surveys to determine the needs and the potentials of churches and colleges seeking to expand.

Dr. Browne's new development director earned the bachelor of arts degree from Culver-Stockton and the bachelor of divinity degree from Philadelphia Lutheran Seminary. He continued his graduate work at the Philadelphia Divinity school and the Philadelphia Lutheran Seminary. After completing the majority of his graduate work at the Lutheran Seminary, he earned the doctor of theology degree from the former University Foundation.

Dr. Browne served for 15 years as pastor of the First Congregational church in Philadelphia. During this time he directed an expansion program which saw a $300,000 debt liquidated; $50,000 committed to endowment, bonds and property; $35,000 in permanent improvements and 1,200 members added to the church.

He has served as president of the Philadelphia Ministers, a group of 1,000 pastors, and was a director of the group for 13 years. He has served on the board of managers of the Philadelphia YMCA, was chairman and founder of that city's Church Y association and is a life member of the "Big Four Fathers," an association which provides college scholarships to needy young people.

Two CC Grads Named As President Assistants At Stanford University

Names of women graduate students who will serve as resident assistants to the directors of Union Unit and Laguna Court, Women's residences at Stanford, have been announced by Miss Elva Faye Brown, chief counselor for women. The students, who are from nine states and Canada, aid in counseling, planning activities, and operating the residences. Two graduates of Colorado College were listed. Emily Jane Howe received an A.B. in economics. She was a Phi Beta Kappa and appeared in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Patricia Scott graduated with an A.B. (cum laude) in English. She was a Phi Beta Kappa and has done Red Cross work.

Dr. Browne served as a reserve chaplain in the United States Army with the 315th Infantry of Pennsylvania. He is also an honorary member of the Bankers' and Manufacturers' Club and Country Club in Philadelphia.

The college's new official is a Thirty-Second Degree Mason and was a member of the Lu Lu Shrine Temple in Philadelphia and the Shrine Club in Yankton. While in Yankton he was a member of the Quarterback Club.

Pres. Gill said that Dr. Browne was now on the campus and would take office immediately. He will soon establish permanent offices in the college's latest acquisition—Penfold House, 1800 N. Cascade—together with the publicity offices and the student publication offices.

Dr. and Mrs. Browne, who are now residing at 18 E. Dale St., have three daughters—Brenda 3, Linda 10 and Patricia 14.

Activity Survey Results Announced By AWS Chairman

The results of the AWS personnel committee's survey on women's extra-curricular activities, recently compiled and interpreted by the AWS Board, have been released by Cindy Mitchell, AWS personnel chairman.

The survey was made because of the widespread complaint that there are too many meetings and committees on the CC campus. The AWS Board wishes to emphasize that, because of any limitation of representation, any mis-calculation in the timing of the survey, and any misunderstanding or difficulty by girls in filling out the questionnaires, the survey is only a general indication. Its results must be considered in the light of these reservations and qualifications.

The survey sheets, covering the four weeks from Oct. 19 to Nov. 16, were distributed to all women dormitory residents at the beginning of that period. 135 sheets were returned on Nov. 16. It was felt that the representation of classes and dormitories was a fair cross-section, but that 135 girls only out of nearly 400 girls give only probable results at the best.

From the returns, the following maximums and totals were obtained.

1. Two girls had fourteen meetings in one week. One girl had thirteen meetings in one week. One girl had twelve meetings in one week. Two girls had eleven meetings in one week.
2. Seventy-one separate activities were listed.
3. The total organization meetings on week days averaged 34 on Monday; 41 on Tuesday; 38 on Wednesday; 39 on Thursday; 30 on Friday; and 38 on Saturday and Sunday together.
4. The maximum number of hours spent by one girl on one activity in one day was one hour, devoted to hall council work. Another girl consumed eight hours on sorority activities in one day. QA took five hours out of one day for still another.

Three C. C. Graduates Commissioned Officer Candidates Complete Course

Two hundred former officer candidates recently graduated from an eight-week indoctrination course at the Navy's Officer Candidate School. The new officers are members of the Naval Reserve's Medical Service Corps, Supply Corps, and Civil Engineering Corps.

Hiram S. Liggett, Jr., of St. Louis, Missouri, who received his B.A. degree in Economics in 1953 from Colorado College, was one of the graduates. While at CC Hiram was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

All of the new ensigns will report to service schools maintained by their respective corps for further training in their specialties. To be eligible for the officer candidate programs, applicants must be a graduate of an accredited college or university with a baccalaureate degree. Unrestricted Line and Staff Corps candidates must be between the ages of 19 and 27; specialists for Restricted Line commissions between 19 and 33.

Grad Commissioned In Naval Reserve

The Navy's Officer Candidate School graduated its thirteenth class of former enlisted men and commissioned them as ensigns in the Naval Reserve.

Included in the group of new officers was Ronald J. Sponseller who received his B.A. degree in Economics in 1953 from Colorado College. While at CC, Ronald was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

The new officers, all college graduates, have completed a 4-month course of instructions similar to that prescribed for NROTC students at college throughout the nation. These graduates are now qualified to assume the duty of a junior officer in floating and shore based activities of the Navy.

All applicants for Officer Candidate School must be graduates of accredited colleges or universities with a baccalaureate degree. Unrestricted Line and Staff Corps candidates must be between the ages of 19 and 27, specialists for Restricted Line billets between 19 and 33.

CC Grad Qualifies As Carrier Pilot

Qualified as a carrier pilot after six successful landings on board the USS Monterey in the Gulf of Mexico is Naval Aviation Cadet Charles E. Macnab, son of Mrs. Thomas Griffin of 1624 North La-Salle St., Chicago, Ill. He attended Colorado College in Colorado Springs, before entering the Naval Aviation Cadet Flight Training Program at the Naval Air Station, Glenview, Ill.

He began his training at the Naval Air Station here, the "Annapolis of the Air," and is undergoing a stringent schedule in military, academic, physical and flight training. From carrier qualification, he will report to the Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Cory Field, for instrument flight training.

Upon completion of instrument training, he will report to the Chief of Naval Air Advance Training, Corpus Christi, Tex., for training in combat type aircraft. Graduation of advanced training will win him the coveted Navy Wings of Gold.

THE CHANGING VIEW ALONG FRATERNITY ROW

Colleges Winning Battle Against Discrimination

(Reprinted from New York Herald Tribune, Nov. 8, 1953)

By Fred M. Hechinger

Last month the trustees of the State University of New York acting on the recommendation of Dr. William S. Carlson, the university's president, ordered all fraternities and sororities to cut their ties with their national organizations by 1958. The trustees also banned all local chapters which discriminate against students for reason of "race, color, religion, creed, national origins or other artificial criteria."

The action merely highlighted a trend which has been marked throughout the country for some years, notably since World War II. This trend, though not against fraternities as such, has been definite and outspoken against discrimination as practiced by some fraternities. Now it can generally be said that the fraternities which have refused to give way to the move against discrimination, have been losing ground steadily. The revolt against national chapters that have tried to hold a discriminatory line has become widespread and effective. It seems to have turned into a national movement.

Independent Action

A report by the Anti-Defamation League, made available to this department last week, documents much of this progress. Louis Krapin, director of the league's survey, reports: "Many of the race and creed clauses are still in the national constitutions, but more and more local chapters have been taking things in their own hands, and members of minority groups who once didn't stand a chance of making a 'first class' house are now being accepted along fraternity row."

The "movement" started in 1946 when Amherst ruled that by 1951 all fraternities would have to drop discrimination or give up their campus privileges. A little later Amherst's Delta Tau Delta pulled out of its national organization and formed an independent "local." By 1948 nearly all of Amherst's thirteen fraternities had ended discrimination.

Here are a few typical examples—but only a few selected from a long list of similar ones—which show up in the A. D. L. report and underline the important change in attitude:

In May of 1947 the Middlebury College Chapter of Alpha Sigma Pi suspended active affiliation with its national decision in protest against racial and religious discrimination.

An Ultimatum

In April of the following year a poll was taken of 550 university of Minnesota fraternity members in thirteen chapters that operated under restrictive clauses against Negroes, Jews and Catholics. It showed 56 per cent of the men within the restricted fraternities favored removal of the clauses if the national organizations were not opposed. At about the same time, twenty-four inter-cultural fraternities from many campuses met at Roosevelt College, in Chicago, and formed Beta Sigma Tau, a fraternity without discriminatory barriers. Two months later Xi Alpha Pi was formed at New York City College. Its constitution provided "equal opportunities to every race, color or creed."

Before the end of that year the M.I.T. chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma returned its charter because the national officers would not change a discriminatory by-law.

In 1949 anti-discriminatory action became too widespread to be listed. Phi Delta Pi, international legal fraternity, abolished racial restrictions in its constitution. Brown University warned its Greek letter societies that they would be barred unless discrimination stopped. The University of Connecticut Student Council aimed an anti-discriminatory resolution against all fraternities.

N.S.A. Acts

At the University of Wisconsin Phi Sigma Delta pledged a Negro student. Chi Delta Mu, at Howard University in Washington, broke a thirty-three year precedent by admitting a white student. Yale's Skull and Bones for the first time in its history tapped a Negro student.

The University of Massachusetts, by order of its president, declared discrimination illegal. At Swarthmore four Greek letter fraternities pledged to oppose racial and religious discrimination within their national organizations. Omega Psi Phi, Negro fraternity, announced formation of an interracial chapter and stood ready to fight discrimination in either direction. The National Student Association recommended banning all discriminatory campus groups.

Pi Beta Sigma, a new sorority, with headquarters in Columbus, Ohio, was formed by girls of thirteen universities and declared itself friendly to all races and creeds. At Dartmouth a student poll favored elimination of restrictions by a vote of 754 against 375. Also at Dartmouth the Interfraternity Council ruled that bias in fraternities was to be eliminated at Amherst, M.I.T., Middlebury, R.P.I., St. Lawrence University, Syracuse, Union, Wooster, and the State Universities of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Accent on Unity

Tau Beta Pi, engineering national honor society, pledged a Negro student. The New York University student council gave its fraternities an ultimatum. The National Interfraternity Conference, without making such action mandatory, recommended that Greek letter societies drop discriminatory clauses. Alpha Kappa Alpha, Negro sorority, initiated two white girls for the first time in forty-one years. Harvard's student council voted 12 to 6 to ban discrimination in all college groups.

In the following years the trend continued. In 1950 Alpha Gamma Rho, agricultural fraternity, voted to eliminate all restrictions.

More recently a number of definitely inter-cultural fraternities have appeared. Beta Sigma Tau, a national organization, includes Catholics, Jews, Mohammedans, Negroes, Chinese and Japanese students. At Bowdoin a fraternity called A.R.U. stands for "All Races United."

ASCC NOTES

By Bill Howell

A recommendation was brought to the council from AWS that the council sponsor a week known as "dead week." This would mean that the week before finals would be free from all meetings and social events and therefore would be free for studying. The men's organizations believed that with proper publicity, no so-called rule was needed. Thus each representative was instructed to tell their organizations to schedule only meetings of the utmost importance.

Plans are under way for a group of students who wish to put on an original musical comedy. Larry Richmond, Charles Hawley, and the music department, and dance department have commenced work on a musical comedy which they wish to present sometime in March. They came to the council in an effort to procure monetary backing. The council was in favor of the plan in general, but wished to have further, complete information concerning the production before giving out the money requested.

The publication board announced that applications in writing can still be given to any member of that board for the job of editor and business manager of the TIGER.

Cash Award Offered For Communism Essay

The J. B. Matthews Testimonial Dinner Committee announces a cash award of $500 for the best essay on "Communism and Academic Freedom," written by an undergraduate student of an American college or university.

Essays must be limited to two thousand words or less and submitted not later than March 1, 1954. All manuscripts must be typewritten. Only original essays will be considered.

The winner of the award will be announced on April 1, 1954. Judges of the award will be George E. Sokolsky, Eugene Lyons, Ralph de Toledano, and E. Merrill Root.

Manuscripts should be mailed to the Matthews Award Editor, The American Mercury, 11 East 36th St., New York 16, N. Y.

Six Vie for 'Snowbound' Title At Pan-Hel's January Jubilee

Would you like a chance to dance with your favorite professor? If so you will have your opportunity tomorrow night at the Panhellenic "January Jubilee." The faculty will again auction off their services to the student body during the intermission of the dance. Included in the surprises this year will be a famous, but unannounced barber-shop quartet and a faculty jazz band. "Doc" Stabler will again be the capable auctioneer.

Also during the intermission will be the crowning of "The Boy You Would Most Like to Be Snowbound With." Vieing for this title are representatives of the six men's organizations on campus who were nominated by Pan Hel. Kappa Sigma's candidate is Roger Bidstein, a senior from Colorado Springs and a member of the football team. Nominated from Sigma Chi is Fred Rediske, a member of the Red Lantern and a senior from Hartland, Wis.

Ned Pfeiffer, representative of Phi Delta Theta, is also from Colorado Springs and plays on the basketball team. President of the sophomore class, Rule Olson is candidate of Phi Gamma Delta. Walt Thorndike, a sophomore from Pasadena, Calif., is the nominee from Beta Theta Pi and is one of the rush chairmen of that organization. Crown and Lance is represented by Mort Forester, a sophomore class commissioner from Berkeley, Mich.

Dancing will be from 10 to 1 to the music of the Ray Kranz band.

Bob Hewitt Will Speak To Canterbury Club

Bob Hewitt, cowboy, lecturer, explorer, and photographer has used his artist's eye and trailed thousands of miles with saddies and pack horses into the remotest unexplored regions of Montana and Wyoming, taking color slides and color and black and white films. The native westerner tells of the marvels of nature's architecture curved in stone, the grotesque yet majestic facades of cliff and canyon, mesa and plain.

Only a man like Bob Hewitt can penetrate these unknown frontiers of the United States, explored by few white men, from which many adventurers never return, regions where the explorer's life is in constant danger.

He has lectured at the Explorer's Club, New York City, Dartmouth Outing Club, Howard University, Columbia Institute of Arts and Sciences, as well as many other clubs, private schools, academies and universities.

He will give a lecture at Grace Church at the regular meeting of Canterbury Club, beginning at 6:15 Sunday and supper will be served.

Science Magazine Sponsors Contest For Ideas of Future

What will life in America be like 100 years from now? That is the theme of a new collegiate fiction contest. IF magazine, a national science fiction magazine, is paying $2,000 for the answers.

With submissions limited exclusively to fully registered under-graduates in the United States and Canada, students will present their prophecies in the form of a 10,000 word novelle, basing their predictions on classroom work, their own interpretations of the trends today and their imaginations. Professional writers attending college will not be eligible to enter.

The editors believe there are a great many young people in colleges who would like to express their ideas and fancies on the subject if given the opportunity. Ideas imagination and plausibility will count more than actual writing (Continued on Page Six)

Engineers to End Road Trip in Springs; Boast Young, Fast Team; Six Lettermen

Michigan Tech will arrive here in Colorado Springs today with a fifteen man traveling team which will close their western road trip with Colorado College in a two game series tonight and tomorrow evening at eight o'clock on the Broadmoor ice.

The Tech pucksters, to date, have played a two game series with Montana School of Mines and finished a series with Denver U. last night.

Michigan Tech's coach, Al Renfrew, has had the task of rebuilding this year with only six lettermen returning. The main hopes of Tech seem to rest on the shoulders of sophomore and freshmen, who have shown much progress in practice, however, their big drawback is their lack of varsity play and experience.

Renfrew has been pleased with the progress of this year's club but stated that "we haven't any stars on the outfit. All of the lads are of about the same average caliber. If any one many could be rated as outstanding—and that would be on last year's record, would be Goalie Harry Taylor."

Last year, Taylor was rated as one of the better goalies of this Western League.

Heading the six returning lettermen is Harry Taylor, rated by many as the top goalie in the league last year. In one two game series last year Taylor stopped a total of 102 shots, something of a record around these woods. Taylor is co-captain of this year's squad, along with George McGin, a stellar defenseman.

Michigan Tech opened their season on Dec. 10 and 12 against the Portage Lake Pioneers, a tough independent team of Northern Michigan. The Tech sextet looked very impressive against the Lakes though they drew a tie in the first game. In the second contest the Engineers won 5-4 in a rough and tumble tussle. To date we have no results on their recent road trip.

Clare Smith scores first goal against Dartmouth.

'TO LIVE LONG, KEEP ACTIVE', SAYS DUGGAR

Dr. Benjamin Minge Duggar, discoverer of the "wonder drug", aureomycin, says that his philosophy for a long, satisfying life is: "Keep active, mentally and physically."

The story of how this man gained world-wide prominence is one of the most dramatic stories of our time. In 1943, at the age of 71, he was forced by state law to retire from the University of Wisconsin, where he taught botany. Not content to sit in the shade and hold his hands, Dr. Duggar came to Lederle Laboratories and began searching for an antibiotic that would be more effective than penicillin.

Dr. Duggar worked three years with teams of chemists, bacteriologists, pharmacologists and other scientists, culturing thousands of earth molds, before the "golden wonder drug", aureomycin, was isolated and developed for commercial production. The antibiotic was put on the market in 1948, when Dr. Duggar was 76.

Does he ever plan to retire? He says he does, but most of his associates take this with a grain of salt. For Dr. Duggar is a man with an insatiable curiosity about things scientific.

31,000 ACTUAL STUDENT INTERVIEWS SHOW COLLEGE SMOKERS PREFER LUCKIES TO ALL OTHER BRANDS!

Latest extensive nationwide survey, supervised by college professors, proves Luckies lead again!

In 1952, a survey of colleges throughout the country showed that smokers in those colleges preferred Luckies to any other cigarette. In 1953, another far more extensive and comprehensive survey—supervised by college professors and based on more than 31,000 actual student interviews—once again proved Luckies' overwhelming popularity. Yes, Luckies lead again over all other brands, regular or king size...and by a wide margin! The number-one reason: Luckies' better taste!

CC Turns Harvard, Dartmouth Lose to Denver and Minnesota

Denver U. vs. CC

The Colorado College Tigers found that Denver University still hold their mastery from last season by winning 7 to 5 on December 19. By the end of the first two periods CC was behind 4 to 2. However, in the third period the Tigers pulled up to a 5 to 5 tie only to see it diminish two minutes later as Kilby broke the tie, taking a pass from J. Smith. Raymond added the final clincher for Denver by slipping the puck past goalie Ken Kinsley with 19:40 seconds gone.

Harvard vs. CC

On Dec. 26 Harvard University invaded the Broadmoor Ice Palace for a two game series only to be repelled by the Tigers 5 to 3 and 9 to 0.

In the first game C. Smith led the scoring column with three goals for CC. The Tigers had a 4 to 0 lead in the second period for awhile until Harvard's Colledge put one past Kinsley with 16:49 seconds gone. The Harvard sextet scored two goals to CC's one in the third period, but that wasn't enough.

The last game of the series Harvard was clawed 9 to 0 as eight Bengals scored with Ed Robson leading the way with two goals. When the second period was over, CC had a 6 to 0 lead, and the game was never in doubt.

Minnesota U. vs. CC

The CC Tigers journeyed to Minneapolis, Minn., only to be defeated 7 to 1 and 7 to 2 by a powerful University of Minnesota sextet Jan. 1 and 2. C. Smith scored the only goal for the Bengals in the first game and averted the shutout. Gene Campbell led the Copher attack with three goals and one assist in that game.

The second game found CC having a hard time as Minnesota chalked up a 5 to 0 lead before Robson slipped the puck past goalie Mattson late in the second period. Also Robson made the second tally for CC.

Dartmouth vs. CC

Last Monday night the Tigers came from behind in the third period to score three goals to Dartmouth's one as they eked out a 5 to 4 victory. The Bengal line of Cowan, C. Smith, and K. Smith showed their old form when Coach Cheddy Tompson had them working together in the third period as a desperation move which went on to win the game for CC. The scoring column was led by C. Smith with two goals for Colorado College.

The starting lineup:

Kinsley	G	Russell
Silverberg	D	Sherwood
Eastwood	D	Henninger
Robson	RW	McCarthy
Rompre	LW	Heydt
C. Smith	C	Peters

Officials: Ross and Myre.

Pearson Edges Clark In Ping Pong Singles

Dick Pearson (Kappa Sig) and Bill Clark (Independent) battled it out for the title in the singles of the intramural ping pong tournament held for the first time at CC this year on Dec. 16. Pearson emerged victorious in a hard-fought battle.

There will be a meeting of all intramural managers on Jan. 14 at 7:30 p. m. in the "C" Club. Winter and spring sports will be discussed.

COLORADO SKI NOTES

By Karl Holz

Now that all Colorado Ski areas are in full operation, skiers will have a wide variety of places to ski.

The slopes were blessed during the holidays with an abundant snowfall which presents excellent skiing to experts and snow bunnies alike. From all present appearances it looks like Colorado is going to have a long and successful ski season.

Collegiate skiing in Colorado got into full swing Dec. 19-20 at Aspen, Denver University swept to an easy victory by capturing the first three scoring positions in slalom, downhill, and jumping and the first two positions in cross-country, second place team honors went to Colorado University with Wyoming and Western State taking third and fourth respectively. Colorado University took first in the Rocky Mountain Cross-Country Relay Championships held at Dillon.

Jan. 16 and 17 a four-way intercollegiate meet will be held at Steamboat Springs. Teams from Utah, Wyoming, and Colorado are expected to compete.

Asapahoe Basin's new lift is now in operation and is serving the lower slopes. The new lift and chair lift have shortened the usual long tow lines, thus enabling skiers to make more downhill runs and less waiting.

transfer Bob Mears and two year letterman Matt Savoren are at the guard posts. Both boys at 6'2".

Western's heights will really show at the center position which features 6'6" McKay Jewkes, a transfer from Casper, Wyoming Junior College. Jewkes will be helped out by 6'7" freshman Dave Collard. Other outstanding freshmen are guards Rex and Sid Miller who played their basketball for Forest, New Mexico High School.

Colorado College is riding the crest of a four game winning streak accumulated before the Christmas holidays. Coach Red Eastlack's crew rolled up wins over Friends University of Wichita, Kms., CC Alumni, Adams State and Ent Air Force Base. The two games set with Western will launch the 1954 Rocky Mountain Conference championship race. CC wound up near the bottom last year with only two RMC wins. Western did slightly better, finishing fourth.

CC Hosts Western Series to Open RMC

Colorado College will open RMC Conference Play in a stand against Western State College tonight and Saturday night at the Cossitt gym with game time set for 8:15 p. m.

The Tigers are out to avenge two defeats handed to them by the Mountaineers in the 1952-53 campaign. CC sports a 4-2 record but all against non-conference opposition.

Western mentor, Harry Miller, will field a team averaging over six feet in height. The Mountaineer forward lines are held by Ted Ammerman, 6'2", 210 pound transfer from Mesa Junior College and Lynn Andrus who stands at 6-1. La Junta Junior College

5. The maximum number of meetings attended by one girl in a single day was five.

The recommendations of the AWS Board are (1) students must learn to be more selective in choosing extra-curricular activities and (2) students must learn not only how to cut down on excess activities but how to spend less time on any given activity.

The AWS Board, (repeating for the sake of emphasis), feels that these results ought to be accepted only with the above qualifications of representation and timing.

Polio Attack Marks 4th Era And 4th Front

Polio prevention, hailed by March of Dimes volunteers as the fourth front against polio, also marks the fourth era in the history of the disease.

In addition to its three programs of patient aid, professional education and scientific research, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis now is entering the field of actual polio prevention.

This move ushers in a whole new era in the polio fight. In the past, there have been three major periods of development in the struggle against the disease.

Little Known Before '38 First there was the "pie-war" year, before 1938, when little was known about polio and the right way to combat it.

Then, in 1938, the National Foundation, was organized by Franklin D. Roosevelt and the second era began.

The investigations revealed that many of the standard ideas about the cause and spread of polio were incorrect. It was discovered, for example, that an individual can become infected without showing the slightest symptom, and that polio is less frequent in relatively unsanitary parts of the world.

The third era lasted from 1948 to 1952. During this period it was discovered that polio could be caused by more than one type of virus and that any hope of controlling it would require the identification of each type. After three years and the expenditure of more than $1,370,000, three different types of polio virus were found.

This was an important discovery because it explained why some people contracted polio twice, a question which often had puzzled doctors.

Another roadblock overcome in this period was the discovery that virus could be grown in test-tube cultures. This opened the way to production of the vast quantity of pure virus that would be needed in the development of a vaccine.

The fourth year began in 1953 when mass GG inoculation was carried out in many parts of the nation in man's first attempt to alter the course of a polio epidemic. The stage for this work was set up in 1951 and 1952 by the field studies financed by the March of Dimes, which showed that gamma globulin, a fraction of human blood, could provide antibody to build temporary protection against polio paralysis. An even bigger GG offensive is scheduled for 1954.

Dean Announces Final Exam and Registration Dates

No examinations are scheduled on Wednesday morning, Jan. 20. Each course-examination which has been scheduled will be given at the time and place indicated unless changes have been granted by the Dean of the College or his assistant.

Juniors, seniors and graduate students will register on Friday, Jan. 29, at 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Freshmen and sophomores will register Saturday, Jan. 30, from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Second semester classes will be resumed on Monday, Feb. 1, at 8:00 a.m.

Which Lovely Snowbunny Will Be Carnival Queen?

Of course it's Winter Carnival time again and of course, another queen will be reigning on the CC campus. The candidates which have been chosen are five of the cutest show bunnies at CC. Kappa Alpha Theta's candidate is Sue Beer who has been an active member of the Colorado College ski team in past years. She is a junior and hails from Phoenix, Arizona.

La Von Gehnke is the Kappa's choice and also is a ski enthusiast and has been for many years. She also is a junior and her home is in Denver. Sally Swanson has been chosen by Delta Gamma and she is a freshman from Los Angeles, Calif. She started her freshman year with a bang by being elected president of the Enthusiasm Committee.

Jane Ashworth, also a freshman and from Colorado Springs, is the Gamma Phi candidate. One of her main interests is skiing and she plans to do a lot of practicing at the carnival.

Representing the Independent Women is Kathy Hinch, a freshman from Denver. She is now serving on the Freshman Social Committee. These are your candidates so let's hit those slopes and ballot boxes and turn out for the Winter Carnival.

AUCTION OF CC FACULTY TALENT NETS $155.00 AT THE PAN-HEL FESTIVITIES

The bidding went fast and furiously Saturday night under the capable auctioneering of "Doc" Stabler during intermission of the Pan-Hel "January Jubilee", when the faculty sold their services to the students. The Kappa Sigs paid $30.00 to hear the faculty jazz band composed of Earl Juhas, Dr. Leech, Dr. Fox, and Dr. Ross. Barb Robinson bought the services of the barbershop quartet, members of which are Dr. Fischer, Dr. Carter, Chief Tyree, and Richard Moorhead. Tom Danton and Mese Harrison paid $10.00 and $12.00, respectively, for a breakfast with their dates at Chief Tyree's Sunday morning.

Fifteen dollars was paid by Mary Ellen Cruthirds to have Dean Burke pull her to class Monday morning in a little red wagon. Juan Reid, with the support of Ed Mathias beat two professors with PhDs in a pie eating contest. The losing contestants were Dr. Sondern, backed by Mort Forester and Dr. Brandt, supported by Kathy Smith. Rule Olson won the right to dance with Martie Campbell; Sue Pfeiffer bought a dance with Lou Wornor, and Bob Kronkhe was the highest bidder for a dance with Amanda Ellis.

The highest price of the evening was paid by the Betas for the chance to throw a pie in "Doc's" face. This hilarious impromptu addition to the sale cost the Betas $50.00. Also during the intermission Margie Epler crowned Rule Olson as "The Boy You Would Most Like to be Snowbound With". Also running for this title were Ned Pfeiffer, Walt Thorndike, Rodger Bildstein, Fred Rediske, and Mort Forester.

Many Winter Sports Planned At Aspen Winter Carnival

"Aspen" is the cry. Between semesters, January 26, 27, and 28, the CC Winter Carnival will be held high in the mountains this year at Aspen, Colorado. Three days of skiing, skating, and partying are open to you. Most of the CC student body is heading for the slopes to spend their vacation to participate or watch the winter sports that the carnival has to offer. If you have talent in any line of winter sports—this is your chance!

All events will be based on individual or fraternity, sorority and independent competition. A novel feature of the Carnival will be the snow building contest held between the women organizations. The highlight of the Carnival will be the crowning of the Winter Carnival Queen Wednesday night.

Other events are as follows: Tuesday, Jan. 26—Arrival and registration. Beginning of the snow-building contest.

Wednesday, Jan. 27—9:00 a.m., snow-building continues; hockey—inter-fraternity; skiing—(slalom) men and women.

1:30—Hockey; Skiing (downhill) men and women.

4:00—Track Meet at Red Onion, inter-fraternity.

7:30—Balloting for Queen at Roaring Forks.

12:00—Awards presented.

Thursday, Jan. 28—Hockey and finals.

This year's Winter Carnival is sponsored by the Independents, Pan-Hellenic and the Inter-Fraternity Council. All rooms are reserved for the three nights at $3.00 a night. If you haven't gotten your room reservation, contact Tom Hall at the Kappa Sigma house. Phil Schoelzel is in charge of transportation and can be reached at the Phi Gam house. Bob Kronkhe is in charge of the games while Sam Mayneq is handling the publicity.

Try-out for the Colorado College Players, next presentation, "Southern Exposure", will be held in South Hall on Friday afternoon at 2:00, and on Monday and Tuesday afternoon. Anyone interested in being in this play is invited to come to these try-outs.

Spring Rush Begins January 31st at CC

Second semester rush week will begin Sunday, January 31, 1954 with sorority open houses. This rush week is open to all unaffiliated girls on campus but they must see Vicki Huan by tomorrow, Jan. 16. No silence rules will be observed, but there will be no double dates or pre-arranged coke dates between sorority members and rushees.

Are You a Loud Mouth??

A loud mouth is almost ALL mouth. At least you get that impression when you can hear him and not see him. Sometimes you get the same impression when you CAN see him; but this is only in advanced cases (after you have been a loud mouth for a long time, your mouth has had so much exercise that it develops in size until it outshines EVERY other part of your anatomy in enormity. Then EVERYONE can tell you are a LOUD MOUTH before you even say a SINGLE word. And chances are that NO ONE will even give you a chance to say a single word when they recognize you. And we MIGHT add that the FEMALE of the species is NO MORE DEADLY than the MALE.

Please remember that the LIBRARY is a place for study and that a place for study is NOT a place for a loud mouth. So, if you have one, please have a little consideration for others and LEAVE IT OUTSIDE!!!

Discrimination or Not?

Should colleges win the battle against discrimination? Many people don't believe so; I happen to be one of them. At least one school, the University of Massachusetts, has declared discrimination illegal. What basis was used to reach this decision? No person or group of persons has the right, expressed or implied, to dictate to us concerning our friends; we, individually, have the right to choose our friends, and our fraternity brothers.

Mr. Hickinger stated that many fraternities have removed discriminatory clauses from their constitutions. I cannot agree that this has cut down discrimination. On the surface, discrimination has been halted, but unwritten rules may spell latent discrimination.

When some of these discriminatory clauses were adopted, there was nothing socially wrong with discrimination. Now, society says that discrimination is not the thing to practice; masses dictate what is to be our criterion of right and wrong. Are the people of the United States so "back bone-less" that we cannot go against society? I hope not; I do not believe that I am!

Why Bother with God?

Why bother with God? Whether we realize it or not, this question plays a vital part in our lives. It is, in fact, so important that Colorado College is devoting a week to its consideration. A specific schedule will be distributed to all students later.

Most of us have been brought up in a faith of some kind but do we really understand it? Can we really accept it as one of the basic influences in our lives? Is our religion in effect one day a week or all seven? What part does God play in our daily lives? The purpose of this conference is to promote greater understanding of what religion really is and to show its relation to everyday life.

The Religious Council has attempted to arrange its program to suit the problems and interests of college students. It will include worship, guest speakers of all denominations, and discussion groups. It is the hope of the council that each student will give some honest sincere thought to his religion before the conference begins.

CC to Host High School Invitational Debate Tourney January 16th

Colorado College will be the host of the Colorado High School Invitational Debate Meet this Saturday, Jan. 16. This is the sixth annual invitational debate tournament that CC has sponsored for the Colorado High Schools.

Two hundred students from the state of Colorado attended the Invitational Meet last year. The high schools from Pueblo, Canon City and Colorado Springs were among the numerous schools that participated. It is not certain which of the Colorado schools that will participate this year but a large attendance is anticipated.

The topic for the debate is "Resolved: that the Congressional Investigation of Un-American Activities should be discontinued". Chief Tyree's speech classes and Mr. Werner's debate squad will judge the debates. Charles Hawley, tournament director, will tabulate the team records. Headquarters for the meet will be at Lenox House. Each team will debate three rounds, at 12:30, 1:45, and 3:00. All debates will be held at Palmer Hall and the public is invited.

AWS Used Book Store Opens January 29th In Ticknor Basement

AWS Book Store will open in Ticknor basement at the following times: Friday, Jan. 29, 1:00-5:45; Saturday, Jan. 30, 10:00-12:25 and 1:00-3:30; and Monday, Feb. 1, 1:00-4:00.

Used books will be collected in all dorms and fraternity houses before and after semester vacation, and may also be turned in directly to the bookstore during open hours. Books will sell for near new price with the student receiving 97% and AWS receiving 3%.

In order to avoid confusion, receipts will be made for each book; one to be kept by AWS and one for the student. All students wishing to sell books must designate whether or not they want them returned if not sold.

A list of second semester books and their original prices will be posted in the bookstore so students can see how much can be saved by both selling and buying used books.

A new system will enable students to receive money from books sold by the end of February.

Down Beat Readers Polled For Favorite Music Artists

This year's DOWN BEAT readers were polled to pick the top artists on everything from a trumpet to an accordion, and to select outstanding vocalists in the band,, single, and group divisions. And it was a poll full of surprises!

Something new included on this year's ballot was a category for dance bands. Usually only one selection is allotted to bands, but because of the recent revival of the dance band business, a special classification was allotted to them. And to few people's surprise, Les Brown's crew walked away with the title of number one dance band, although Ray Anthony's and Ralph Marterie's groups had their share of supporters.

Les' band is made up of highly skilled, clean-cut musicians, and Les, himself, is a skilled saxist-arranger-composer. Put things like this together and you're bound to come up with an outstanding band. It features clean, solid arrangements that achieve drive without loss of appeal to the conservative ear and put sound before noise, the above effects, and consonance over dissonance.

The Brown group is a busy band too. The boys play the Bob Hope radio show every week, serve as pit band of TV's "Colgate Comedy Hour," record for Coral Records, play dance dates every weekend, and hit the road during the summer months for a series of oneniers.

And speaking of bands, there could be only one jazz band around today able to pile up a 1,000-vote lead over the nearest runner-up. This would be Stan Kenton, of course, who for several years has out-distanced the aggregations of Woody Herman, Duke Ellington, and Count Basie in the balloting.

And then there were the upsets. . . . Vocalists Ella Fitzgerald and Nat Cole surprisingly snatched the number one spot from the perennial champions Sarah Vaughan and Billy Eckstine, who ranked only third this year. Pop singers Peggy Lee and Frank Sinatra emerged as runners-up.

The combo sections, instrumental and vocal, produced new winners, too. The nod as top instrumental unit was given to West Coast Dave Brubeck, with the more-widely heard of George Shearing outfit listed in second place. The Four Freshmen came out of nowhere to take over a favorite vocal group from the Mills Brothers, who were last year's winners.

But probably the most unexpected change came within the instrumental ranks. A young trumpet player who placed a low 21st last year shot to top position over such performers as Dizzy Gillespie and Harry James. Chet Baker is the name of the trumpet winner, and his victory was even more remarkable considering the fact that he hasn't been on the road this year and was heard only on records. Gerry Mulligan also piled a huge lead over old-timer Harry Carney in the baritone-sax division.

The complete personnel of DOWN BEAT'S 1953 All-Star band is listed below. Les Brown and Stan Kenton, leaders; Chet Baker, Dizzy Gillespie, and Harry James, trumpets; Bill Harris, Frank Rosolino, and Ray Winding, trombones; Charlie Parker and Les Konitz, alto saxes; Stan Getz and Flip Phillips, tenor saxes; Gerry Mulligan, baritone sax; Buddy DeFranco, clarinet; Oscar Peterson, piano; Ray Brown, bass; Les Paul, guitar; Gene Krupa, drums; Terry Gibbs, vibes; Don Elliott, mellophone; Art Van Damme, accordion; Ralph Burns, arranger; Tommy Mercer, male vocalist; and Lucy Ann Polk, female vocalist. (The complete listings of every artist voted for and his total amount of votes appear in the December 30th issue of DOWN BEAT.)

In the Hall of Fame category DOWN BEAT readers were asked for the second consecutive year to select the person, living or dead, "who has contributed the most to music in the 20th century." Last year's winner was Lou Armstrong, and this year Glenn Miller was given the honor. Apparently the popularity of the late leader has never died, and the tremendous impact of the LP album released in his honor by Victor, plus the upcoming film biography, "The Glenn Miller Story," were big factors in his election.

Readers were also asked to pick the outstanding records made this year in the pop, jazz, rhythm and blues and classical fields. Winners were Ray Anthony's "Drag-net," Woody Herman's "Moten Stomp"; Ruth Brown's "Mama, He Treats Your Daughter Mean"; and Respighi's "Fountain and Pines of Rome" performed by Arturo Toscanini and the NBC Symphony.

CC Student Recital At Perkins Tonight

Music lovers are invited to a student recital presented by the Music Department of Colorado College on Friday evening (Jan. 15) at 8:00 o'clock, in Perkins Hall. Piano pupils of Max Lanner and Henry Margolin, voice students of Richard Moorhead, and a string ensemble coached by Phillip Cherry will be heard. This ensemble is an unusual combination, a two-cello quintet, and will play two movements of the Boccherini Quintet in C major.

The students who will appear on the program are Louise Jones, Marilyn Clark, Peter Townsend, Donald Pempin, Maureen Magnussen, Dorothy Spann, Judy Clave, Georgiana Shaw, Joan Vycital, Meredith McCombs, and Miriam Robins. Members of the string quintet are Peggy Rood, Marilyn Smith, Lois Cott, Lucy Allen and Martha Woollett. Carlton Gerner and Marilyn Clark will accompany the singers.

Draft Rate Increases Chances for Deferment

If you are a young man eligible for the draft, your chances for deferment during 1954 are greater than they were during 1953, the campus draft board has announced.

The draft rate for next year will be decreased by about 10,000 men from what it was this year. About 18,000 to 23,000 men will be drafted across the country. However, the rate may be increased next summer, the board said.

There are two main types of deferment. The 1S form is a statutory type of deferment, which is written in the draft law. This form states that every person is entitled to a one-year deferment.

The 2S form is a student occupation deferment, granted by discretion of the local draft board. To be granted this type of deferment, a student must either pass the college deferment test with a score of 70 or maintain a C average in school.

During his freshman year, the student must be in the upper half of the male student class. During his sophomore year, he must be in the upper two-thirds; during his junior year he must be in the upper three-fourths; and in his senior year, in the upper half to enter graduate school. However, deferments are becoming more difficult for graduate work.

In February, the local draft board checks grades. Those who have below a C average are called before the committee on selective service.

Applications for Navy Positions Available

Applications from qualified candidates for indoctrination and appointment in the grade of ensign in the Line and Staff Corps of the U.S. Naval Reserve under the Officer Candidate program will be accepted by the recruiting service.

Interested men may apply six months prior to receipt of a college degree. Processing of an application usually requires two to four months. Requirements include ages between 19 and 27, a baccalaureate degree, physically qualified, and have not received induction papers.

Application cards may be obtained at the Dean of Men's office.

Your hands on the Future!

When you grip the wheel of an Air Force jet, your hands are on a fast, high flying future that leads to the top in jet aviation.

● Once behind the controls of an Air Force jet, you leave the humdrum of everyday life . . . soar far above the cares of the crowd into a bright new future of adventure and excitement. You're part of a select flying team, playing for the highest stakes of all . . . mastery of the Jet Age! You'll win too, because you've been trained to win. You have confidence in yourself, in your fellows, and in your plane, the fastest and safest flying equipment in the world.

As an Air Force Aviation Cadet, you get in on the ground floor of jet aviation, learn jet flight with the latest equipment and best instructors. You graduate as an Air Force lieutenant earning over $5,000 a year . . . a man thoroughly prepared for leadership in both military and commercial aviation. Join the many fine young men who keep their hands on the future. Train as an Aviation Cadet!

You may be eligible

To qualify as an Aviation Cadet, you must be at least a high school graduate. However, you will be of more value to the Air Force if you stay in college, graduate, and then volunteer for training. In addition, you must be between 19 and 26½ years, unmarried, and in good physical condition.

Civil Service Offers Posts in Alaskan And Indian Schools

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced a new Elementary Teacher examination for filling positions in Indian Schools throughout the United States and Alaska. The salary is $3,410 a year.

Appropriate education is required. No written test will be given. The maximum age limit is 50 years (waived for persons entitled to veteran preference). Students who expect to complete all the required courses within 90 days of the date of filing applications may apply.

Full information regarding the examination, including instructions on how to apply, may be obtained at many post offices throughout the country or from the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D.C. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Lennox Alters Hours and Rules

The Lennox House board met last Thursday, Jan. 7 to discuss pertinent problems concerning the Lennox House and the Grill.

It was felt that Lennox House should be opened on Sunday afternoon for those who wish to play pool, ping pong or study in the Student Union. It was voted to leave the house open Sunday from 1:00 to 8:00. On other days the house will be open the same hours as the Grill.

If a college group wishes to hold a social function at Lennox for later hours on Saturday or Sunday nights they may get permission from Miss Enns or Vicki Hann at Lennox House.

It was suggested, to help speed things up at the Grill during the rush hours, that each student clear his own dishes from the tables. The board would like to remind the students that The Free Press is for sale and not to borrow. When you buy your papers would you please not leave them on the tables.

CG Grad Weismiller Begins Basic Training

Pvt. Joseph C. Weismiller, Evanston, Ill., a 1951 graduate of Colorado College, recently began eight weeks of basic training in the Antiaircraft Artillery Replacement Training Center at Ft. Bliss, Tex.

The first eight weeks of basic training are spent on fundamental Infantry subjects like army drill, rifle, machine gun, and bazooka marksmanship, and familiarization with army technical subjects. The first phase of training is climaxed with a one-week maneuver in the field.

Upon completion of the first eight week cycle, Pvt. Weismiller will either be assigned for further training at Ft. Bliss in the techniques of antiaircraft artillery, or he will be transferred to another Training Center for schooling in some other army skill.

Should he remain at Ft. Bliss, his second eight weeks will see him learn the uses of various electronic equipment employed by the AAA-BTC. He will also be expertly trained in the firing of light and medium antiaircraft artillery at low-flying and high altitude aerial targets on the one-and-one-half million acre Ft. Bliss range.

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By Karl Holz

The NCAA executive committee announced that Colorado College will again host the 1954 championship playoffs in college ice hockey. The National Collegiate Athletic Association has set the dates at March 11, 12, 13.

The Minnesota Gophers have moved into second position which may enable them to repeat as champions of the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League.

North Dakota and Minnesota tied their first game 2-2 with Minnesota taking the second 5-0. However, North Dakota still leads the league on the point basis.

CC and DU added points to their standing by taking Michigan Tech in all four games. The game for this region will be the CC vs. DU game. Both teams will put out their utmost for this contest because aside from the traditional rivalry, third place in the league standing will be at stake.

The standings:

	w.	l.	t.	pts.	gf.	ga.
North Dakota	4	1	1	10	32	20
Minnesota	3	0	1	10	21	6
Denver	3	2	0	6	26	23
Colorado Col.	2	3	0	4	19	42
Michigan	2	3	0	2	16	20
Michigan State	0	0	0	0	6	10

This week's schedule and point value of games:

Friday

Michigan at Minnesota, 1 point.
Colorado College at Denver, 1 point.

North Dakota at Michigan Tech, 1 point.

Saturday

Denver at Colorado College, 1 point.

Michigan at Minnesota, 1 point.
North Dakota at Michigan Tech, 1 point.

Last Week's Results

Colorado College 6-5, Michigan Tech 3-0.

Minnesota 2-5, North Dakota 2-0.

Denver 15-7, Michigan Tech 4-1.

Michigan 7-3, Michigan State 4-1.

College Ski Club Unites with Ent

When the snow descends, so do skiers and CC's skiers are certainly no exception. The CC Ski Club is well under way and is sponsored by Lois McKenzie, Chuck Mollin and Dr. Rawles.

Plans are now being made for this year's Ski Club activities. CC will join with fellow ski-lovers from Ent Air Base, Main High School and some of the town skiers. These meetings will be held every Thursday at Ent Air Base at 7:30 p.m.

The club will ski every Sunday and a week-end trip is planned for once a month. Each week the club members vote on the area in which they wish to ski the following weekend. Transportation to the ski locations will be provided by the club each week for $2.00, if by car, and for 50 cents by an Ent Air Base bus.

Membership for the club is $3.00 for the year and it entitles you to rates on transportation, towns, rooms and meals. And for those who aren't too adept at skiing, lessons will be given on the slopes for members at 25c an hour.

Each week the club raffles off some skiing equipment for a dime a chance. At these, a person may be fortunate enough to win poles, skis, boots, etc.

D.U. Looks to 7th Straight Win Over CC; Series Will Temporarily Settle 3rd Place

Record-breaking D.U. will entertain the Tigers this evening at the D.U. arena and the following night the Tigers will play the role of host as the Denver rivals travel to the Broadmoor to close out the two-game series. D.U., thought of as only an average team earlier in the season, invaded the Ice Palace earlier in the season and skated home with a 7-5 win. The Denver win was their sixth straight over the Tigers in the last two years.

The Pioneers will be out to continue their high scoring pace of 64 goals in the last six games which averages out to ten plus, per game. The defense line of Phil Hilton and Doug Silverberg plus the stellar work of Ken Kinsley at the net, should be a big block against the high scoring Denver team and might be enough to put the wraps on the rivalry.

At present the Tigers are one point behind third place DU and this game series will be a big factor in the final count. Denver has dropped two to first place North Dakota and the Bengals have bowed twice to Minnesota and have one previous loss to Denver.

This will be the first time in history that the teams have split their series into single hassles with the Denverites viewing the first game tonite and the Broadmoor the scene of action on the following evening. The final meeting of the two long-time rivals will take place on Feb. 27 at the DU arena.

Tickets for the contest in Denver may be purchased in Denver at the arena with general admission sales beginning at 6:30 this evening.

Cagers Host C-State; Lose Two to Western

Colorado College will seek to get back on the victory track when the Tigers host Colorado State next Saturday night at Coslett gym with game time set for 8:15 p.m.

The Tigers dropped a pair of tilts to Western State last week to fall into the RMC cellar. Western took over first place by the virtue of the wins with Idaho State and Colorado State deallocked for the second place slot. Coach Pete Butler's squad is headed by six lettermen from the "53" aggregation. Returning award winners include all-conference standouts Don Doolin and Earl Sanstedt, second team RMC selection Paul Lamat and Keith Edwards who received an honorable mention. Other returnees are lettermen Bob Mantooth, and George Sage, and Galena Bowles, and Earl Carver who played for the JV squad last year.

Outstanding freshmen include Don Wietzba and Val Tackowiak from Milwaukee and Doug Campbell who played his basketball for South Denver High School.

The Bears opened the season by blasting Denver University 73-56 but suffered two setbacks at the hands of the Central Bankers of Denver and Colorado A&M before the holidays.

Coach Red Eastlack's crew had their winning streak snapped at four games by Western's rangy Mountaineers last weekend by scores of 82-76 and 71-70. John Sanich led the Tiger scoring attack both nights to raise his total point production over the 125 mark.

BENGALS WIN MICHIGAN TECH SERIES; KINSLEY GETS 2ND SHUTOUT OF SEASON

The Colorado College Tigers repelled Michigan Tech twice this last weekend by the scores of 6 to 3 and 5 to 0. These two victories moved the Bengals into fourth place with a 2-3 record in the Western League hockey standings. In Friday's game Ken Smith put the Tigers out front in the first period as he slipped the puck past goalie Harry Taylor with seven seconds gone. Clare Smith gave him an assist on the play. By the time the period was finished CC had racked up a 4 to 1 lead. The lone goal for Michigan Tech was scored by Rivet on an assist from Piasecki with 14 minutes and 16 seconds gone. The Bengals secured the game in the third period by scoring two more goals even though Michigan Tech scored two also.

CC. got off to a slow start in the first period of the second game, not scoring until 11:54 seconds had been played, Ken Smith scored on a pass from Clare Smith. A minute and eleven seconds later Rompre slipped the puck past goalie Henry Taylor with the help of C. Smith to make the score 2 to 0 in favor of the Bengals.

The second period both CC and Michigan Tech got rather rough with thirteen penalties being dishied out. However, CC made the most of the penalties in that Ken Smith scored unassisted. Eight minutes and 35 seconds had past when he fired the puck into the goal. The highlight of the penalties was the fight between Robson and Tattersall which ended up with both being ejected from the game. Tattersall got the worst of the fight, losing two teeth.

Hilton with an assist from C. Smith, scored for the Bengals with eleven seconds gone in the third period. Silverberg did the same trick with Royal getting an assist in 5:26. Both of these goals were scored when Michigan Tech was one man short. This was Ken Kinsley's second shutout of the current season.

Formhart Succeeds Clark at Detroit U.

Former Colorado College All-American football star, Earl (Dutch) Clark has resigned from his position as grid mentor at the University of Detroit.

Clark, who starred for CC back in the late 20's, went on to play professional football for the Detroit Lions after his college days. He coached the pro club in 1937 and 1938 and then moved on to Cleveland as a player and coach for four years. In 1949 he was a backfield coach for the Los Angeles Dons.

Clark leaves Detroit U. after three seasons in which his team won and lost 17. His 1953 team compiled a 6-4 record and shared the Missouri Valley conference title with Oklahoma A&M. Wally Formhart will replace Clark as the Titan coach.

Attention Tiger Club! The hockey and basketball teams need your support. The players would appreciate your presence at either game. Remember, it's ladies choice.

WSTC Takes RMC Lead As Tigers Hold Cellar

Western State, Idaho State, and Colorado State came through the first week of Rocky Mountain Conference play without a scratch and chances are they will continue their hot pace this weekend. Idaho State and Western State are once again the early season favorites.

Western State's high scoring G. Rainbolt and center, McKay Jewkes, led the Mountaineers to two very close games last week with a total of 76 points in the two games. The two boys were too much for the Tigers as CC fell 82-76 in the first contest and then lost a heartbreaker on the following night, 71-70.

Idaho State, conference crown contender, took two games from Montana State but only the final game was counted in conference play. Idaho State won the first game 72-59 and was victorious in the final game, 72-41.

Idaho State returns this year with hotshots Sam Beckham and Les Roh who hit 26 and 22, respectively in the last game.

Engineers of virtually EVERY type are needed on the Boeing team

Mechanical, electrical, civil, aeronautical—in fact, graduates in virtually every field of engineering—find rewarding career opportunities here. There are openings in design, research, in the many phases of production, and for physicists and mathematicians with advanced degrees.

All engineering careers at Boeing have one thing in common: they provide plenty of opportunity to get ahead. Regular merit reviews are held. Advancement is keyed to your individual ability, application and initiative.

The aviation industry offers you a unique opportunity to gain experience with new techniques and new materials. It offers a wide range of application, from applied research, to product design and production, all going on at the same time.

What's more, you can expect long-term career stability in the aviation industry. Boeing, for instance, is now in its 37th year of operation, and actually employs more engineers today than even at the peak of World War II. Besides designing and building the world's most advanced multi-jet aircraft (the B-47 and B-52), Boeing conducts one of the nation's major guided missile programs, and such other projects as research on supersonic flight, and nuclear power for aircraft.

Boeing engineering activity is concentrated at Seattle, Washington, and Wichita, Kansas—communities with a wide variety of recreational opportunities as well as schools of higher learning. The Company will arrange a reduced work week to permit time for graduate study and will reimburse tuition upon successful completion of each quarter's work.

DOWN TIME STAR BEAT'S

For a band that had started making records only four years ago, Ralph Flanagan's crew managed to come up with a minor miracle in the music business a couple of years back. Those were the days when a non-vocal record was almost non-existent on the "Hit Parade," but Ralph's strictly instrumental version of "Hot Toddy" became a national best seller. Even more established bands—jazz and dance—in their longer years of recording probably would find it difficult to match this "unique" accomplishment.

While in the armed forces, Ralph did arranging for the service band, and when he returned to civilian life in 1948, he had had enough experience in the arranging business to interest Victor Records in signing him to work with the bands of Charlie Barnett and Boyd Raeburn and for singers Perry Como and Tony Martin.

When he broke loose with his own band the following year he turned out to be an overnight hit on records, at the same time breaking attendance records at many ballrooms with his personal appearances. In a few short months Ralph Flanagan became a recognized name in the music industry.

MUSICAL NOTES: A warm welcome was given to London's Frank Chacksfield when he flew the Atlantic to make a three week visit to the United States recently. Taken in tow by London Records, Chacksfield made "round-the-clock" visits to disc jockeys in many of the larger cities. An extremely modest person, he explained the success of his "Ebb Tide" and "Limelight" recordings with the comment that he just happened to be lucky with the right music at the right time. . . "background music for films is what's become the big thing, not just my records."

One of the better-paced and most musically-interesting concerts now making the rounds is Stan Kenton's "Festival of Modern American Jazz." Kenton has with him a more swinging crew than in past seasons and offers a series of showcase numbers spotlighting his sidemen. Sharing the stage with Stan are such topflight artists as Stan Getz, Erroll Garner, Candido, Slim

Galliard, Dizzy Gillespie and June Christy.

CLASSICAL COMMENT: With winter comes the beginning of the opera season. Among the openings was New York's Metropolitan Opera Association, which has hired Alicia Markova as special dance soloist. First time the Met has added a "name" ballerina since Pavlova appeared with the company over 40 years ago. . . Mendelssohn's "Elijah" opened the 12th annual fine arts festival at the University of Texas.

JAZZ SHORTS: Gene Krupa is considering re-launching his trio when he returns from a far Pacific tour with the Jazz at the Philharmonic. . . Stan Kenton's road manager, George Morte, and several of Stan's sidemen were shaken up in an Armistice Day bus accident on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. . . Peggy Lee was forced to cancel all remaining engagements for the year as a result of illness.

CC to Participate in Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament

Colorado College is one of the 172 colleges and universities throughout the United States which will compete this month in the 1954 National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament. Forty-four states and the District of Columbia are represented in the entries.

Between February 17 and 21, more than 4,000 men and women undergraduates will play on their own campuses the hands which have been prepared and mailed to them. These hands will then be scored by Geoffrey Mott-Smith, author and contract bridge authority, who will determine campus, regional and national winners.

At least 16 students must play in the tournament in order to make Colorado College eligible for the trophy. The CC tournament will be held on Feb. 17 at 7:15 in Lennox. All students who are interested in playing must notify Vicki Hann before Feb. 15. There is no fee for participants.

Among the other colleges in this zone against which our team will be competing are Colorado University, University of Arizona, University of Idaho and eight California colleges.

Beer Chosen to Reign At Winter Carnival

From Jan. 26-28, a very exciting and fun-filled vacation was spent by most of the CC student body at the Winter Carnival in Aspen. One of the biggest events taking place was the crowning of Sue Beer as queen, who was chosen to reign over the entire carnival.

At 9:00 Wednesday morning the hockey games started and continued through Thursday morning. Battling the Phi Deltas in the finals, the Independents emerged victorious with a winning score of 15-3.

The track meet, which was held in the Red Onion on Wednesday, proved the Kappa Sigs triumphant in that particular "sport." John Buzia's qualifications for the title "Best Party Boy," were undisputed and he was awarded the title after a unanimous vote was taken. The various awards were presented on Thursday, the 28th, at 12:00 midnight by Bob Kroenke.

With most of the CC students having headed for the Aspen slopes, the Winter Carnival proved to be as big a success as was predicted. Special thanks go to Tom Hall and Ed Saxe who took care of reservations, Phil Schoelzel who provided transportation, and Bob Kroenke who had charge of "indoor and outdoor games."

Gibbs School Offers Awards To Senior Girls

Two national scholarships for college senior girls are again offered for 1954-1955 by the Katharine Gibbs School. These awards were originally established in 1935 and are in memory of Mrs. Katharine M. Gibbs, founder and first president of the school.

Each scholarship consists of full tuition ($620) for the secretarial training course, plus an additional cash award of $500, totaling $1,120. The winners may select any one of the five Gibbs schools for their training—Boston, Chicago, New York, Montclair, Providence.

Winners are chosen by the Scholarship Committee on the basis of college academic record, personal and character qualifications, and potentialities for success in business.

Each college or university may recommend one candidate, and official endorsement must have this offer be bigger and better things to look forward to this year. Keep the date in mind and buy those tickets. Prizes will be awarded for the most outstanding costumes. Remember last year!

"Why Bother with God?" to Be Theme of Religious Conference

"Why Bother with God?" will be the theme for the CC Religious Conference, held on campus during the coming week, Feb. 8 through Feb. 12. Reverend Roland H. Pantermuehl, pastor of the Samuel Evangelical and Reformed Church in Clayton, Missouri, will be one of the main speakers for the Religious Conference. The reverend will speak on religion as it relates to our everyday lives and to world affairs.

Rev. Roland H. Pantermuehl

Further Robert G. McMahon, pastor of Saints Peter and Paul Church in Wheatridge, Colo., and Rabbi Joel Y. Zoin, head of Temple Emmanuel in Denver have been procured for the conference because of their worthwhile experiences with youth groups.

Beginning next Monday, Feb. 8, morning classes will be adjusted to allow for a Chapel Service every morning for five days. The first class will be at 8:00, the second 8:50, the third 9:40, the fourth 10:30 and chapel at 11:20. Regular Chapel Service will be held at 10:00 on Tuesday. Attendance at all Chapel Services is voluntary.

Group discussions will be held in the evening Monday through Friday at the various sorority and fraternity houses. The topics for these discussions will be on pertinent religious matters with the church of your choice. The conference will begin with a reception and tea Monday afternoon at Bonis Hall.

A complete schedule of the week's events can be found at the bottom of the page.

Circus Ball at B'moor Next Week

The "Circus Ball", sponsored by the Fine Arts Center, will be held Feb. 13, starting at 9:00 at the Broadmoor Hotel. Tickets will go on sale soon between classes at Palmer. They will be sold at $2.50 per person and $5.00 per couple by Dave Becker and Sue Pfeiffer.

Exceptional entertainment and outstanding costumes can be expected. Last year's "Circus Ball" was a great success and written up in Life Magazine. There will be bigger and better things to look forward to this year. Keep the date in mind and buy those tickets. Prizes will be awarded for the most outstanding costumes. Remember last year!

Translated Excerpts from a Letter of GUNTHER RINSCHKE, HAMM, WESTPHALIA, GERMANY, COLORADO COLLEGE 1952/53, DATED NOVEMBER 1, 1953.

Dear Dr. Brandt:

A few days ago I received your letter of October 5. I learned from it that my letter to Tom Pankau in addition to expressing my feelings of gratitude to the student body also may have meant a support for the matter of student exchanges to which you are applying your efforts. I hope that I may offer you my aid in the future also . . . and let me know, please, if I can be of any assistance. Since I myself have experienced the immensely important exchange program I shall do what I possibly can to further this cause. As you perhaps know already I sent the executive officers of the administration letters of thanks which also expressed the hope that this program would be carried on.

Your idea of "The Voice of Europe" has struck me like lightning. A week ago today I reported in the largest auditorium of our city before a full house about my experiences and impressions in the United States. I dealt particularly with my favorite topic—that of an American-German friendship. My remarks concerning the reciprocity of such a friendship, i.e. the "give and take on both sides" found a strong echo in the press as well as with the leading personalities of our town. Since my report stressed considerably the "take" on the part of the Germans the question of the "give" arose at once. In this situation I received your letter which contained a most ideal answer. I started out for action immediately and think that this thought can be started towards realization from our broadcasting station. We could put a broadcast on tape (songs, discussions, greetings to the people of Colorado Springs, etc.) and send it to you or the radio stations. What do you think of this modest beginning? I think that I can put together something reasonable here.

. . . I am always glad when I have an opportunity to experience again my American year when people ask me. . . Please give my best regards to all my friends.

GERMAN STUDY TOUR

UNIVERSITY OF MUNICH — 1954

(Sponsored by the University of Washington)

Our 1954 German Summer Session at Munich will be conducted by Professor Thomas O. Brandt who is in charge of German and Foreign Student Adviser at Colorado College. After a travel period until July 9, the group will study language courses, phonetics, history of German Literature, and other subjects in the field of German for four and a half weeks at the University of Munich. Acceptable students may also receive University of Washington credits by paying the $47.50 ($27.50 if less than three quarter hours of work are taken) to the German Department of the University of Washington.

Early registration is necessary since the University of Munich will take only 125 students from all over the world this summer! The entire cost of the basic tour (SE-2A) including steamer and all except incidental expenses at Munich is $975. The cost of the Italian Extension which follows the Munich tour is $300 extra.

June 24—Sail from MONTREAL on SS COLUMBIA which has a German crew.

July 3 to 5—Arrive in SOUTHAMPTON, Motor through southern England via WINCHESTER to LONDON for motor survey of the city. Overnight steamer to HOLLAND.

July 6—Survey of AMSTERDAM and the Riks Museum.

July 7 and 8—Rail to COLOGNE. Visit the Cathedral and continue to BONN for sightseeing. Rail along the Rhine to HEIDELBERG for evening in a Studentenlokal.

July 9 to August 10—Rail via STUTTGART, ULM, and AUGSBURG to MUNICH for study at UNIVERSITY OF MUNICH. Group will live with German families and eat with German students. Week end excursions to ROTHENBURG, FUESSEN, BERTCHESGADEN, PASSAU, etc. Also visits to theater.

August 10—SE-2A ends in Munich. Students will pay their own way from then on and their fare to Cherbourg to sail on AROSA RULM on August 14th or on CANBERRA on August 22nd.

ITALIAN EXTENSION which with above is called SE-2B and costs $275 for both:

August 10—By rail via INNSBRUK, Austria, and the Dolomites to VENICE.

August 12—Tour of VENICE and excursion to LIDO.

August 13 and 14—FLORENCE. Cathedral, baptistry, museums, etc.

August 15 and 17—ROME. Visit the Vatican and the opera.

August 18 and 19—Rail via PISA (Leaning Tower) to MILAN for a survey of the city.

August 20-22—Rail and motor through Alps to LUGANO and GOLLERN. Alpine excursions.

August 23—Sightseeing in LUCERNE. Evening at Stadtkeller.

August 24-26—Rail to PARIS for sightseeing. Visit VERSAILLES. Seven days free time at own expense. Sail from CHERBOURG on COLUMBIA on Sept. 5, arrive MONTREAL Sept. 14.

To the Editor of THE TIGER

I do not agree with Eddie Craig. I believe that colleges, and fraternities, should win the battle against discrimination. I take this stand not because of the attitude of society but because I believe discrimination is manifestly wrong. Discrimination involves prejudging an individual on the basis of his race, color, or national origin, matters largely beyond his control. This strikes me as being contrary to any standard of justice.

The point of the fight against discrimination is not to dictate fraternity membership but to insure, as far as possible, that each person is judged on his own personal merits.

Prizes Offered
For Contributions
To the Kinnikinnik

If you have talent in the field of music, art, or creative writing, the Kinnikinnik staff would like to hear from you. The staff wants this year's Kinnikinnik to be the best yet. In order to do this, there must be a large selection of material to choose from.

The type of material needed is original composition — something patented, composed or written by you. In the field of writing, fiction, poetry, and non-fiction are all acceptable.

To stimulate contributions to the Kinnikinnik, $10 prizes are being offered for the best compositions in the three fields—art, music, and creative writing. In this way, you not only give everyone else the best of your talent, but have a good chance of making a little extra money for yourself.

Please put your contributions in the Kinnikinnik box in Cutler. Remember! The Kinnikinnik will be what you make it!

Mademoiselle Sponsors Poem Contest for Women in College

In conjunction with its February publication of the late Dylan Thomas' great verse play "Under Milk Wood", MADEMOISELLE magazine is offering two $100 Dylan Thomas Awards for best poems by young women writers. One prize will go to women college students under thirty, the other to women under thirty who may or may not be college graduates.

Poems submitted to the MADEMOISELLE contest may not have been published previously except in college publications. No writer may send in more than three poems. Entries should be typewritten, double-spaced on white paper. The contestant's name, address, age, and "in college" or "not in college" should be clearly marked. Judges of the contest are MADEMOISELLE editors. The deadline is April 15, 1954. Send poems to MADEMOISELLE, Dylan Thomas Award, MADEMOISELLE Magazine, 675 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N. Y.

Tom Pankau, Chip Shaw Reappointed Editor, Business Manager of The Tiger

Tom Pankau and Chip Shaw were chosen editor and business manager of THE TIGER for 1954. Selection was made by the Student Publications Board on the basis of written application. In order to qualify for the jobs, the applicant must have been a sophomore or junior at the time of application and to have maintained at least the minimum grade average for the spring semester of 1952-1953. Tom Pankau, a junior in Colorado College, is majoring in Psychology. Tom was assistant editor to Ray Sherer last year. When Ray did not return to CC the second semester, the publications board selected Tom to fill out the term. Jim Jacobs replaced Tom as assistant editor.

Chip Shaw, an English major, is in his third year of college. During his freshman year, Chip received the Colorado College Recognition Award for outstanding work done in publications. At that time Chip was the advertising manager for THE TIGER. Chip has been reappointed business manager by the publications board. These positions carry a salary of five hundred dollars and expire next January, 1955.

French Communism to Be Topic of Dr. Fraser's Talk in Perkins Feb. 12

Dr. Ian Forbes Fraser, director of the American Library in Paris and a distinguished lecturer, will speak at Perkins Hall, under the auspices of Colorado College, at 8 p.m., Friday, Feb. 12. His subject will be "American and Communist Propaganda in France".

Dr. Fraser was born in Aberdeen, Scotland. He graduated from Columbia University, New York, in 1929 and received his Ph.D. degree in 1939. He studied at the Sorbonne in Paris and from 1930 to June of 1942 taught at Columbia University. He was director of Madison Francaise at Columbia from 1940 to 1942, when he entered the U.S. Army as a first lieutenant and served four years in England and on the continent. Later he was put in charge of the American Military University at the Sorbonne in Paris and for his work there received the Legion of Honor award. He was discharged from the Army in May of 1946, at which time he was a lieutenant colonel, and then taught at Columbia University until 1947, when he was made director of the American Library in Paris. He is also a professor at the Ecole Supérieure de Guerre in Paris and is chairman of the selection committee of the University of Free Europe in Strasbourg.

Concert in Perkins Scheduled for Sun.

The next concert of the Perkins Hall afternoon series will be given Sunday, Feb. 7, at 4:30 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Margolinski will be presented as soloists, and two new faculty members will be introduced for the first time in these concerts—Albert Seay, bassoonist, and Earl Juhas, clarinetist.

The program will include an old Italian sonata for bassoon and continuo, a duet for clarinet and bassoon by Beethoven, a group of songs by Searlatti, Schubert and Chausson as well as the famous aria from "Mignon, Knowest thou Not that Fair Land?" The program will conclude with nine selections from Schumann's brilliant piano work, "Carnival".

Faculty and students and their friends are invited to this concert free of charge.

COLLEGE SMOKERS PREFER LUCKIES

A comprehensive survey—based on 31,000 student interviews and supervised by college professors—shows that smokers in colleges from coast to coast prefer Luckies to all other brands! The No. 1 reason: Luckies' better taste!

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason . . . enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better . . . always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

You may be from a northern state;
You may be from Kentucky;
But, nation-wide, here's one good tip:

Tigers Face Regis; Play Friday in Cossitt

Colorado College will seek to renew its basketball fortunes on their own home court when they play Regis College of Denver tonight in a non-conference tilt with game time set for 8:16 p.m. at the Cossitt gymnasium.

The Tigers have returned from a road trip in which they dropped three straight games to Montana State and Idaho State. The losses pushed the locals further into the Rocky Mountain cellar.

Coach Harvey Moore's Regis crew has also returned from a road tour through Kansas, Kentucky, Arkansas and Missouri in which the Rangers played Western Kentucky College, one of the nation's top-ranked teams. The Rangers are playing one of the toughest schedules in their history and will be a slight favorite in tonight's game.

Regis is bolstered by four lettermen from the '53 aggregation which compiled a 13-8 record for the season. Several outstanding freshmen have contributed greatly to the Rangers' 1954 scoring punch. The lettermen are headed by senior forward John Gleason who finished second last year among Ranger scorers with 224 markers. Other award winners include guard Lee Hudak, forward Jerry Powell and center Mickey Shannon. Outstanding freshmen are Eddie Collins of Ft. Dodge,

Intramural Basketball Starts; 5 Games Played

Five games have been played in intramural basketball to commence the competition in this field.

In the first game, the Phi Deltas edged out the Independents 28-26, with Schwartz of the Fijie taking high point honors with 16 counters. The Betas overpowered the Sigs in the second game, 39-26, which saw Huonink of the Sigs dump in 18 points to lead the scorers, while Kroenke led the Betas with 10 points.

Eldstein led the Kappa Sigs to a 60-40 victory over the Phi Deltas with 14 points, while Spears took scoring honors for the Phi Deltas with 18 counters. In a second game played that night, the Independents swarmed all over the Sigs to the tune of a 60-24 score. Fieck was high point man for the game with 19 points.

In a preliminary game to a varsity basketball game, the Kappa Sigs overcame the Betas 35-33 in an overtime game. Kroenke led the Betas with 10 points, while Deyo of the Kappa Sigs netted 13.

Ja., Dick Eckhard of St. Louis, Mo., Tom Hoogerwerf of Rock Island, Ill., Allen Hower of Littleton, Colo., Jerry Hughes of Wheatridge, Colo., and Bob Massman of Denver.

Coach Red Eastlack's Tigers will be shooting for their fifth win of the year tonight against the Rangers.

Nodaks Head Conf.; Gophers in Second

League leading North Dakota and second place Minnesota extended their records in their run for the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League title last week at the expense of Michigan Tech. and Michigan State.

Minnesota clipped Michigan State in a doubleheader, 7-2 and 5-3. The Nodaks shut out Michigan Tech., present basement dwellers of the league, at Grand Forks, in a two-game series, 4-0 and 7-0.

This week's action could well tell the tale as far as the crown goes. North Dakota travels east to spend the week end with the Gophers and should the Minnesotans draw a clean sweep of the series, it would mean a first place tie in the league. A double loss by the Gophers would put them pretty well out of the crown contenders class.

THIS WEEK'S SCHEDULE

Friday — North Dakota at Minnesota, 1 point; Michigan at Michigan Tech., 2 points; Denver at Michigan State, 2 points; Saskatchewan at Colorado College.

There will be bridge lessons and games in Lennox House, today at 3:00 until 5:30.

Tiger Pucksters Overcome RPI, 8 to 3; Cowan, Hilton, K. Smith Get Two Each

The RPI hockey team started off with a bang in the first period of Saturday night's hockey game at the Broadmoor Ice Palace by scoring two goals in the first five minutes of play. However, that just roused up the Tigers as they came from behind to claw RPI 8 to 3. Harold Cowan, Phil Hilton, and Ken Smith led the CC attack with two goals apiece. After 3:44 seconds had passed in the first period RPI's Moore sent a pass the first goal for the Bengals on a pass from Marsola. Herstad then sent a pass to C. Smith, tied the score with 3:18 seconds remaining to be played.

CC in Poor Road Trip; Losing String Extended

Idaho State's rampaging Bengals extended their winning streak to 13 in a row with a 69-36 mauling of the Colorado College Tigers last Monday night at Pocatello.

The loss was the Tigers' third on their latest road trip, having dropped a pair of encounters to Montana State, 97-60 and 77-53. CC returns home tonight to face Regis College of Denver on the local court.

The RMC league leaders jumped to a 29-6 first quarter lead and were never headed. The Bengals led 38-15 at the half.

Idaho State forward Les Roh took top scoring honors with 18 markers to his credit followed by CC's Lowell Slocum with 14, Tom Dunton and John Sanich pitched in five and six points, respectively.

Doug Silverberg put the Tigers out in front in the second period when he slipped the puck past RPI's goalie Bob Fox unassisted with 4:57 seconds gone. Four minutes later, Howard Cowan slapped in a Bob Marsola rebound to put the Bengals ahead 4 to 2. In this period RPI began to show the effects of skating only two lines which was extremely noticeable in the final period.

K. Smith made the score 5 to 2 as he got an assist from C. Smith and Rompre with 2:25 seconds gone in this final period. However, RPI came back six minutes later as Moore slipped the puck past Kinsley on an assist from Peterkin. K. Smith scored again for CC in 13:17 on a pass from C. Smith. Three minutes later Hilton slipped the puck past RPI's goalie Fox with an assist from Eastwood making the score 7 to 3. Hilton came back twelve seconds late to score again, this time unassisted, to wind up the scoring for the evening.

Dr. Brandt in Charge Of German Study Tour

Dr. Thomas O. Brandt, associate professor of German at Colorado College, will be in charge of the German Study Tour, Summer 1954, under the joint sponsorship of the University of Washington, Seattle, and the University of Munich, Germany, in conjunction with the Students International Travel Association.

The Study Group will leave on June 24th on the S.S. Columbia—a Greek line with German staff—land in Southampton and motor to London for a three-day stay, then take an overnight steamer to Holland, stay in Amsterdam for a day, and continue by rail to Cologne, and Heidelberg along the Rhine.

The study period at the University of Munich will last from July 6th to August 10th with courses ranging from Elementary, Intermediate, and Advanced German to German and Comparative Literature, History of Art, and Folk Songs. Tour participants will live with German families, eat with German students, go on special week end excursions from Munich to Rothenburg, Oberammergau, Fussen, Berchtesgaden, Passau, etc., and attend theater performances. At the end of the Munich summer session tour members will have twelve free days and return from Cherbourg on August 22nd on the S.S. Canberra, to arrive in Montreal on August 31st.

Member of this German Study Tour whose all inclusive cost is $675.00—may earn up to ten quarter hours credit by registering at the University of Washington and paying an additional registration fee of $47.50. Since these special courses for foreigners will also be open to students from other parts of the world the number of participants is limited so that an early registration will be necessary. A knowledge of German is not required for the Elementary German course.

For those desiring it there will also be the possibility of participating in a poststudy Extension Tour, beginning August 10th, and leading through Innsbruck, Venice, Florence, Rome, Pisa, Milan, Lagan, Golder, Lucerne, and Paris with a return to America on Sept. 14.

Professor Brandt will provide special lecture and language assistance during the Munich tour.

Jenkins Departs for Oslo To Defend Skating Title

Hayes Allen Jenkins, world figure skating champ from CC, left last Tuesday with his brother for Oslo, Norway, to compete in the world champion tournament of 1954 to be held Feb. 15.

Jim Grogan, now with the U.S. Army in Germany, and Ronnie Robertson, Broadmoor skaters, will also compete with the United States men's skating squad.

Jenkins, defending champion, will enter into his sixth world champion event. David, younger brother, will be entering into his first meet after winning the national junior championship last year.

Seven CC students have signed up for the German Study Tour. For further information see or call Dr. Brandt, Hayes House, Phone Ext. 48.

Kinsley prepares to make a brilliant save against RPI.

1. Pilot training begins at Lackland Air Force Base, where Aviation Cadets get 3 months of officer indoctrination.

2. It's a hard grind, but Cadets also find time to relax.

3. In primary training the Cadet flies his first planes, a Piper Cub, and this T-6. Later he will fly the more advanced T-28.

4. After flying conventional planes, he moves on to jets... going up with an instructor in this T-33 trainer.

How to qualify for Pilot Training as an Aviation Cadet!

To qualify, you must be at least a high school graduate. However, you will be of more value to the Air Force if you stay in college, graduate, and then volunteer for training. In addition, you must be between the ages of 19 and 26½, and in top physical condition. If you think you are eligible, here's what you do: Take your high school diploma or certificate of graduation together with a copy of your birth certificate down to your nearest Air Force base or recruiting station. Fill out the application they give you. If you pass your physical and other tests, you will be scheduled for an Aviation Cadet Training Class.

6. Then winds up his training with the latest and fastest planes in the air.

5. He wins his wings as an Air Force officer, earning over $5,000 a year.

7. He's tested those silver wings... And won the respect and admiration that go to every jet pilot in the United States Air Force! From now on he'll rule the skies in an Air Force jet.

College Men! Fly with the Finest in the Air Force

QUALIFIED APPLICANTS WIN WINGS
AS AIR FORCE LIEUTENANTS,
EARN OVER $5,000 A YEAR!

• For a fast, exciting and rewarding career, make your future in the sky as an Air Force pilot. As a college student, you are now able to join that small, select band of young men who race the wind in Air Force jets. You'll have the same opportunities to learn, advance and establish yourself in the growing new world of jet aviation.

Fly as one of the best

The pilot training you get in the Air Force is the best in the world—the kind that makes jet men. You'll learn to fly the fastest, latest planes in the air—and fly them safely and well. Those who look to the skies will look to you for leadership and confidence.

Into a brilliant future

You'll graduate as an Air Force lieutenant, earning over $5,000 a year. Your Air Force wings will serve as credentials for important positions both in military and commercial aviation. Air Force wings mark you as the very best in the flying profession.

CLUBBICITY

MANNING TO SPEAK ON TRAVELS IN PARIS

The first 1954 meeting of the French Club will be held this Tuesday, Feb. 9, at 7:30 in the Hayes House Library. The program will feature Marcia Manning telling of her last summer's "Adventure in Paris", and some movie slides picturing the beautiful French Alps. There will be French songs—some old, some new, and refreshments. All French students, and others interested, are welcome.

CANTERBURY CLUB TO MEET SUNDAY

Canterbury Club will meet at the Frantz house at 115 E. Utah. It will be an informal get-together and supper. Girls will be picked up at their dorms at 6:00 p.m. and will be returned after the evening's fun. All CC students are invited to come.

HONORED WITH DANCE

An informal dance will be given this Saturday night from 8:30 till 12:30 by the Phi Delta Theta fraternity in honor of their new initiates. The dance will be held at the fraternity house. Music will be to records and there will be refreshments. Mrs. Mary Brusse, the Phi Delta housemother, will act as chaperone.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. says . . .

FOR more than thirty years we have used research day in and day out learning about tobaccos and cigarettes in the public's interest.

Continuously we and our consultants have analyzed, experimented with and smoked all kinds of tobaccos . . . especially Southern Bright, Burley, Maryland and Turkish cigarette tobaccos.

Our own cigarettes and competitive brands have been submitted to the most exacting scientific scrutiny including thousands of analyses of millions of pounds of tobaccos.

From all these thousands of analyses, and other findings reported in the leading technical journals, our Research Department has found no reason to believe that the isolation and elimination of any element native to cigarette tobaccos today would improve smoking.

For four years we have maintained in the smoker's interest an intensified larger scale diversified research program. A half-million dollar 30-ton machine, the world's most powerful source of high voltage electrons, designed solely for our use has tested tens of thousands of cigarettes. This program has already given to us direct and significant information of benefit to the smoking public.

Our consultants include Arthur D. Little, Inc. of Cambridge, Massachusetts, "one of the largest and most reputable industrial research organizations in the country" (From Business Week Magazine) and eminent scientists from leading universities.

Today the public can confidently choose from a variety of brands—by far the best cigarettes ever made by the tobacco industry.

Many scientists within our

CC Student Plunges 75 Feet To Death in Williams Canon

Robert Buchtel, 18-year-old Colorado College freshman from Englewood, plunged to his death Monday afternoon in a 75-foot fall in Williams Canon near the Cave of the Winds. The youth died of a fractured skull while being rushed to St. Francis Hospital in a companion's car. Buchtel, on an afternoon excursion with three other 18-year-old freshmen, was the son of Dr. Henry Buchtel, prominent Englewood surgeon. Dr. Buchtel, a mountain climber by avocation, scaled 20,270-foot Mt. McKinley in Alaska with two other climbers in 1951.

While his three companions stopped to rest, Buchtel went on ahead, the youths told officials later. They investigated after hearing boulders roll down the canon.

Fell Down Canon Face
Buchtel fell 75 feet down the sheer face of the canon and "cata-pulted" another 300 to 400 feet, Manitou Springs Police Chief Earl Sullivan reported.

Sullivan said Buchtel's companions found him, apparently still alive, and carried him to their car. Sullivan stopped them for speeding in Manitou Springs and then provided escort to St. Francis. However, Buchtel was dead on arrival.

Sullivan placed the time of the accident at about 3 p.m. He said

Two from CC To Attend Public Relations Meet

Two Colorado Springs members of the American College Public Relations Association, will join other members from Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska at the University of Denver Friday and Saturday for a regional meeting of the group.

The local men are Dr. Harold Browne and K. G. Freyschlag of Colorado College.

Sessions will be held on fund raising and development, athletics, publications, publicity, student enrollment, alumni relations and similar topics.

Speakers will include Chancellor Chester M. Alter of Denver University, William Kostka, Denver public relations executive, James E. Kelley, Empire Editor, Denver Post, G. Duncan Wimpers, assistant to the president of Colorado School of Mines.

that it had taken about 40 to 45 minutes for the youths to carry Buchtel to the car.

With Three Schoolmates
Juan Reid, dean of men at Colorado College, identified the boy's companions as Tom Matthews of Lincolnwood, Ill.; Guy Lungo of Rockport, Ill.; and Ted Arbaugh of Lansing, Mich.

They said they did not hear Buchtel call out when he fell, but only heard rocks falling. They went to investigate after they called to him and failed to get an answer.

Sullivan, who returned to the scene with Coroner William Joss, Undersheriff Carl Freeman and the three youths, said Buchtel apparently landed on his head and shoulders the first time he hit the ground.

The accident occurred in Williams Canon, about one-half mile from the canon's entrance and along the west side, Sullivan said. He plunged in the area of St. Petersburg Rock beyond the narrows of the canon at its sheerest point.

Sullivan stopped the speeding car, owned by Matthews, about 4:16 p.m. Buchtel was pronounced dead by a doctor at the hospital at 4:45 p.m.

The four freshmen had gone to the canon about 2 p.m. for an afternoon of hiking.

Buchtel was graduated from the Littleton High School last year.

Dr. Buchtel arrived in Colorado Springs late Monday after learning of the accident. His son's body was taken to Denver.

Besides his father and mother, Buchtel is survived by two sisters, Kate and Barbara, and a brother, Henry, all of Englewood.

Educational Society Awards Two Loans, Nine Scholarships

The Woman's Educational Society of Colorado College has granted two scholarships and two loans to Colorado College students. The nine scholarships include one full tuition, five half tuitions, and three part tuition scholarships awarded to six freshmen, two sophomores, and one junior. The loans were granted to one senior and one freshman.

The society, organized in 1889, has given over $70,000 in scholarships and loans to Colorado College students. In addition, it has given the college Montgomery Hall, a women's dormitory fully furnished, the college infirmary, fully equipped and furnished, and has renovated Perkins Hall auditorium at a cost of $31,000. Gifts include grants to the Vocational Guidance Center and to Cohn Library.

At its last board meeting it was announced that a plaque was to be placed in the infirmary in memory of Mrs. John Crouch, who headed the committee purchasing and furnishing the building now called the infirmary. Needed furnishings now are being purchased with money from the Crouch memorial fund.

Open Hearts, Purses To Red Cross Drive

Traditionally in March millions of citizens in every part of the country open their hearts and their purses to support the humanitarian services of the American Red Cross.

When you join the Red Cross you identify yourself with each individual act of mercy this organization performs every where in the world. When disaster or loss of life strike a community, the Red Cross assists these areas. They also give aid to service men and their families.

Your time, energy, and money make the Red Cross services possible. This year's Red Cross goal is $85,000,000 and 30,000,000 members. In your hands is the measure of what the Red Cross can do in the year ahead for the stricken and troubled who call for the help they must have.

Honor Council Acts On Violations of Code

Tom Duntun, president of the Honor Council, announced today that the CC Honor Council has taken action on violations of the Honor Code.

It was stated that four warnings have been given to CC students for cheating on exams during final week of last semester. Tom also stated that the Council would like to hold a meeting for all the new students to the college this semester to indoctrinate them to the Honor System of Colorado College.

Anderson to Head Pershing Rifle Unit

Pershing Rifle members recently elected Kirby Anderson as commanding officer of the Colorado College unit. Appointed captain, Anderson replaces former Commander Larry Herman.

Pershing Rifles are preparing for the second annual ball which will be held in April.

The ROTC rifle team appeared on the Jack Finlayson TV program Thursday, Feb. 4. Captain Thomas Devlin introduced team members, Leo Oyler, John Wolff, George Miller, Thomas Clark and Robert Thompson. Wolff, Miller and Clark fired a demonstration of small bore rifle technique for TV viewers.

Rifle firing is held once weekly at Cossitt gymnasium; the ROTC team fires both postal and shoulder to shoulder matches.

Police Say Youth Confesses Assault, Intent to Rape Coed

An unemployed dishwasher, James Everett Anderson, 22, 707 North Corona, admitted to police Saturday afternoon assault with intent to commit rape on a Colorado College coed, according to Police Chief I. B. Bruce. Anderson was picked up shortly after the assault attempt Wednesday evening by Detective Jess Garred. The coed told police the man attacked her in the 1100 block on Wood, and was frightened off when her cries attracted help.

Bruce said Anderson made his confession to Detective Capt. C. W. Caldwell, and later re-enacted the attack, on the scene, for Bruce, Caldwell and Detectives Cameron

Tiger Staff Moves To Peabody House

Beginning next week, THE TIGER staff will put out the campus weekly paper at the newly acquired CC building, the Peabody House at 1106 N. Cascade. This is one more step that CC is making to unify the campus publications.

Mr. Brown, Director of Development, has his office set up in the Peabody House along with Miss Berger, secretary to the college, and her staff. K. C. Freyschlag, publicity director of the college, will move to the Peabody House this coming week.

Next year it is planned to move both the Nugget Staff and Kinnikinnick staff to 1106 N. Cascade to further the unification of CC publications.

Westcott and Lewis Heinz.

The police chief added the girl's testimony and evidence at the scene, including dirt was forced into her eyes, that she was choked and dragged for about 100 feet.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Doug Corley, one of the mothers who asked Bruce and City Manager John Biery for extra protection for the college girls Friday, reported college President W. H. Gill plans a survey of campus lighting.

Mrs. Corley said Gill also indicated he will study the possibilities of having the guards deputized so they may carry firearms.

She said Gill told the mothers the college now employs two full time guards and one part time guard.

In the Friday meeting, City Manager Biery had told the mothers extra protection for the campus could not be furnished by police to the detriment of other areas of the city.

Any such additional protection, above that given the entire city, probably should be furnished by the college itself, much as banks already do, Biery added.

City Promises Better Lighting On Wood Avenue

Better lighting on Wood Avenue near Colorado College may be put in to help protect coeds at night but any addition of extra guards would have to be made by the college. City Manager Biery said on Friday.

The city manager reported on the protection problem of college girls after a meeting with a group of mothers and Police Chief I. B. Bruce Friday afternoon.

Biery said the city may try to increase its coverage of the college area by police cruisers but pointed out the police department "has to keep about the same level of protection across the community."

Buildings or areas, such as banks, requiring protection beyond this level, Biery declared, must provide this extra protection themselves.

In the case of the college, Biery added, "The college has a certain amount of responsibility," and said if the added protection is needed due to lack of lighting on the campus or the concentration of women, "protection above what we provide is probably the responsibility of the college to provide."

He pointed out during a similar outbreak last year while college

Wayne U. Sponsors Junior Year in Munich

The Junior Year in Munich is an intercollegiate foreign study program, sponsored by the College of Liberal Arts of Wayne University. It is opened to students who have completed their sophomore year and a few beyond this year status in an accredited American college or university.

Basic requirements include at least two years of college German and the approval of the student's course of study by his home college. Applicants must show superior scholastic ability and excellent character. Each student if accepted, agrees to the supervision and guidance of the Junior Year in Munich. Tuition is $800 and room and board is about $90 a month.

Students wishing to apply for admission may obtain application forms from the "Junior Year in Munich," Wayne University. These forms must be submitted together with the application for admission to the program not later than April 15.

President W. H. Gill was out of town, city police increase their coverage of the area until Gill could return.

When Gill returned, the college employed a guard and the police went back to regular coverage.

At present, a police cruiser circles through the campus and surrounding areas at intervals during the night.

Debate Squad To Participate In Denver Meet

The Colorado College debate squad, under the direction of Mr. R. Werner, will travel to Denver University February 11, 12, and 13 to enter in the Denver University Rocky Mountain Forensic Meet.

The Denver University tournament is an annual affair and the topic under discussion for this year is "How can the method of Congressional investigation be improved?" The first two days of the meet will be used for discussion groups of this topic while the third day is set aside to form a student congress to pass laws on Foreign Trade and Congressional Investigation.

The CC students that will be making the trip are Charles Hawley, Kipp Herried, Neil Stillinger, Pat Butler, La Nelle Beck and Jim Loubser.

27 Students Hear Werner Discuss Bricker Amendment

On Thursday, Feb. 4, the International Relations Club met in the ASCC room at Lennox for a scheduled meeting. Twenty-seven people were present, including three professors, to hear Ray Werner, professor of economics, speak on the Bricker Amendment. This topic has been an important and highly controversial issue during the past few months.

Werner began his talk by bringing up the four points of the amendment. He followed with a well-presented analysis, both pro and con, of the issue by bringing in the opinions of various individuals and groups concerned with the problem, as well as his own.

The speaker summed up the talk by pointing out that our system of government and the Constitution provide adequate checks and balances to handle the situations covered by the amendment. He said further, that the country does not need the amendment, and went on to compare the bill to the use of hydrolic acid for cleaning out clogged plumbing.

Following the talk was a lively discussion and question period which gave everyone a chance to air his views. The International Relations Club usually meets once a month, and an interesting program is planned for each meeting. The date of the next meeting will be announced, and is open to anyone who wishes to attend.

Kiplinger Reviews 30 Years, Sees Better World Ahead

WASHINGTON — W. M. Kiplinger marked 30 years of reporting world events and predicting trends for a highly-restricted list of subscribers with a forecast that "the world will be better" in the next three decades.

In a special 30th anniversary issue of his Kiplinger Washington Letter, written "partly for fun, partly for thoughtfulness," he said, too, "we cannot stop the improvement, but we can hold it back or speed it up."

The Ohio-born, former newspaper reporter, who originated the method of dispensing business, economic and governmental news, condensed into a weekly, four-page, privately-circulated letter, reviewed events since 1923, and then, with a "look to the future," said:

"Out of our experience as observers comes a conviction, which is this: the world will be better. Improvement is the basic law of life."

"We cannot stop the improvement, but we can hold it back or speed it up. To speed it up requires more than noble wishes and pious good intentions. It takes hard knowledge, brains, intelligence, judgment, savvy, wisdom. Both the worldly sort and the spirit sort—both are highly essential—because working and living, as everyone knows, is not just materialistic."

Kiplinger was 32 and relatively unknown when he started typing out weekly analyses of Washington developments with emphasis on predictions of the future economic significance of those developments. With a second-hand typewriter, a borrowed $1,000 "Subscribers, none. Hopes, frail," he struggled to prove that the information he could furnish would be valuable to businessmen.

It took about five years to convince more than his three original staff members that he was right; that the Kiplinger Washington Letter was destined to become a distinctive force in American journalism. The struggle for bare survival emerged into an even harder fight—against scores of imitations.

Today, built around that original typewriter which Kiplinger still uses, is a staff of 250, housed in a modern ten-story office building and a printing plant, and each sharing in the earnings of the Kiplinger Washington Agency. The Letter is delivered every Monday morning to business and professional men and women, teachers and students, housewives and political leaders in every state and 56 foreign countries.

In his review of the past 30 years Kiplinger says the present "is merely a piece of the past and the future," and continues:

"Now look back and ponder on the material advances of the past. How the average man is better off . . . than 30 years ago or less. Wages and other forms of pay have more than tripled in 30 years. Living cost prices have less-than-doubled . . . so there's a margin. "Note the new things: Sound movies, color movies, radio and TV, refrigerators, freezers, washers, cleaners, and other household gadgets, air conditioners, airplanes big and fast, tough metals, new chemicals, plastics, man-made fabrics, electronics, radar, new drugs, psychiatry, new farm machines, modern architecture, 3-D movies, and the atom at work."

"Changes in ways of thinking: Growth of ideas akin to socialism. The New Deal era. Big government. Paternalism. Laws to spread income. Weakening of reliance on private and individual effort (perhaps temporary). Ascent of labor . . . union members in 1923, 3.6 million . . . now 16 million." All this adds up, says Kiplinger, to a better world ahead.

Few rites are more rewarding than church work, and there is plenty of it to be done in every community.

10,000 Korean Veterans May Lose Training Rights

J. Fred Thomas, director of the Colorado Committee on Veterans Education and Training, today warned that several thousand Colorado veterans would lose all of their education and training rights if they have not started a program of education or On-the-Job training by August 20, 1954.

The law authorizing veterans education and training specifies that the veteran must initiate a program within two years after his discharge or forfeit all rights to his education and training benefits.

Mr. Thomas estimated that approximately 10,000 Colorado veterans would be eligible for education and training benefits by Aug. 20, 1954.

TIGERS IN LAST EFFORT FOR PLAYOFF BERTH

CC TIGERS NEED SWEEP ON ROAD TOUR TO REMAIN IN RUNNING FOR TITLE BID

Now or never, is the cry this week as the Tigers open their second and last road trip of the season against Michigan State and Michigan University. Tuesday night the Bengals were entertained by Michigan State in the first of a two-game series and are slated to meet Michigan U. in Ann Arbor this evening and tomorrow night. Each game will count two points in the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League standings and will tell the tale, as far as the Tigers will be concerned, in the NCAA play-offs this March.

At present the local boys are resting in fifth place and need these games plus the North Dakota and Denver series for a crack at the tourney. The Tigers will be at a definite disadvantage this week with the loss of Ken Smith, number two scorer, who remained in Colorado Springs because of flu. Hal Cowen, just recovered from the flu, and Fred Eastwood was bothered with a groin injury—both made the trip, but neither player will be at top strength for the Michigan State series.

Because of their loss of strength, the probable starters will be Claire Smith, Ed Robson and Bob Rompre on the forward line; Doug Silverberg and Bob Hersack on defense; and Ken Kinsley in the nets.

The Spartans from Michigan State should be plenty rough, though they have dropped their last eight games in a row. Last weekend the Spartans lost two games to Denver, each game by one point. In Friday night's contest Michigan State pushed Denver into an overtime before losing 3-2. The Spartans have gained alot of strength in the nets this year with the stellar work of goalie Ed Schiller who is playing his first season with East Lansing. Schiller pushed away 73 Denver would-be goals.

Michigan also will be a rugged series and test for the Tigers. Michigan, defending NCAA champs, started slowly this year, but have pushed near the top in the last few weeks. At present, they are in fourth place. Monday night the Wolverines turned back Denver in a rough and tumble contest 11-4.

Michigan is by no means out of the running for a repeat in the tourney and should be at their best with such veterans as Doug Philpott, Jim Haas, and George Chin.

Gagers' Losing Streak Now Stands at Nine

Regis College guard Tom Hoogerwerf poured 53 markers thru the hoops in two nights to pace his team mates to a pair of wins over Colorado College last week end.

Hoogerwerf split the nets for 25 counters Friday night in Regis' 73-42 power win over the Tigers. The two teams journeyed to Denver Saturday night with Regis again triumphing, 93-54. Hoogerwerf dropped in 28 points to lead the Rangers' onslaught.

In the first game Regis jumped to 20-7 advantage in the initial stanza, increasing the count to 42-20 at the half.

The Tigers, playing without the services of Lowell Slocum, Ed Lodmell and John Sanich who were forced to quit the squad due to scholastic difficulty, were never in the game after the first few minutes of play.

John Vilmont and Dave Crotty led the CC attack with 11 and 10 points respectively. Tom Dunton and Bob Lovelace pitched in six apiece.

CC held a short 3-0 lead in the second stanza, but the Rangers quickly took command of the situation and pulled ahead 17-10 at the end of the first quarter. The issue was never in doubt after that as the Denver boys pushed in front 47-23 at the half.

Tom Dunton paced the Tiger scorers with 15 markers followed by Vilmont and Crotty with 10 each.

The losses were the Tigers' eighth and ninth straight and gave Coach Eastlack's crew a 4-11 record for the season.

Delta Gammas Win Intramural Bowling

The Women's Intramural Bowling Tournament took place Saturday, Feb. 6. Delta Gamma won the tournament with an average of 126 points. Second place was taken by Kappa Alpha Theta with 118 points. The faculty with 115 points placed third.

The highest individual scores: Vicki Hann, 173; Lois Noe, 179; Nancy Busch, 156. The highest series scores were: Lois Noe, 147; Jane Johnson, 142; Nancy Drexler, 138.

CC TIGERS UPSET SAS'WAN 6-0; TIE 2-2; KINSLEY GETS 3RD SHUTOUT OF SEASON

Saskatchewan University invaded the Broadmoor Ice Palace last weekend and managed to gain a 2 to 2 tie in the second game, after having been shut out in the first by the Tigers 6 to 0. The latter game marked goalie Ken Kinsley's third shutout this season. Ed Robson led the CC attack in that shutout with two goals and one assist. Bengal Don Hersack drew the first blood from Saskatchewan by slipping the puck past goalie Don Adams from forty feet out with 7:45 seconds gone in the first period of the first game. It was a trickier that took the goalie by surprise.

Bob Marsolais and Don Demore did the scoring in the second period, the latter getting a goal after fifty-three seconds had elapsed, on a pass from Royal.

Ed Robson and Claire Smith completed the scoring force in the final stanza, the former scoring two goals.

Rough play headed the menu on Saturday night as CC's Bob Rompre exchanged some blows over a disputed goal with Jack Armstrong in the opening minutes of the overtime period. However, the fighting was in vain as the goal was ruled illegal because the latter shoved the puck in with his chest on a rebound from the goal post.

The first goal came in the second period as Clark took a pass from Hillou and blasted it through goalie Adams' legs to put the Bengals out front 1 to 0 with 1:31 seconds gone. Three minutes and twenty-five seconds later Saskatchewan's Elliott tied it up on a pass from Hay.

Bernie Royal put the Tigers ahead in the final stanza by firing the puck past goalie Don Adams from fifteen feet out with an assist from Doug Silverberg with 1:58 seconds elapsed. The Saskatchewan Huskies tied the score when CC was minus a man due to a tripping penalty called against Doug Silverberg. Brian McDonald slipped the puck past goalie Jeff Simus at 16:49, taking a rebounded shot from Bill Hay and Doug McKay, to round out the scoring for the evening despite the overtime period.

Saturday night's starting line ups:

CC	Saskatchewan U.
Simus	D Adams
B. Hersack	G McKury
Silverberg	P Prop
C. Smith	C Murphy

Tigers Meet Miner Five This Weekend

Colorado College will seek to climb out of the Rocky Mountain Conference cellar this Friday and Saturday when the Tigers take on Colorado Mines on a home and home basis with Friday's tilt set for 8:15 p.m. at the Cossitt gymnasium. The two teams will journey to Golden for Saturday's game.

The Tigers and the Orediggers have dropped seven straight conference battles with only two league games remaining for both.

Coach Daramigio's Orediggers are bolstered by six lettermen from the '53 aggregation which wound up last in the RMC last year.

Returning award winners include 6 ft.-6 in. center Gene Nazarko, forward Chuck Russell, guards Arnie Siltanen, Bill Westhoff and Jack Tindall and center Bill Williams. Outstanding prospects from last year's junior varsity are forwards Dean Cole, Ron Lewis, and guards Ron Diederich and Bud Goodwin. Bob Hohne, a transfer from Emporia, Kansas State Teachers, has been a steady starter for the Miners.

Coach Red Eastlack's Tigers are out to snap a nine-game losing streak which has mangled them into a tie for the RMC cellar. CC will still be without the services of Lowell Slocum, Ed Lodmell and John Sanich, who were dropped from the squad due to low grades.

In last week's intramural basketball activity, the Kappa Sigma rolled over a poorly coached Phi Gam team by a score of 49-16. Conroy and Hildstein shared scoring honors for the winners with ten points apiece.

The Phi Deltas took it on the chin from the Betas 37-18. In a game which saw Bill Howell as the leading scorer for the winners with 13 points. Spears contributed 11 of his team's 18 points.

In the preliminary to the varsity game Friday, Feb. 5, the Phi Gams returned to the winners' circle by notching a 59-29 victory over the Sigma Chi. Schwartz gained individual honors with a 15-point output while Redick's total of 8 points took scoring honors for the Sig.

Hell Week prevented the Intramural Bowling Tournament from taking place. The meet is now scheduled for 2 o'clock March 6th at the Sport Bowl.

All intramural managers are requested to meet in the "C" club room on Feb. 16th to review the complete schedule for the remaining sports.

Varsity Tennis

All men wishing to try out for the 1954 CC tennis squad are requested by Mr. Boyce, faculty advisor to the team, to come to a short meeting at 10:30 in the lounge next Tuesday, Feb. 16, at 4:30. Freshmen are eligible to compete in varsity tennis matches.

STUDENT ENROLLMENT IN POLISH UNIVERSITIES REACHES HIGHEST PEAK

Student enrollment in Polish universities and colleges is at its highest peak in the history of the country. During the current academic year almost three times as many young people as before the war will be attending Poland's institutions of higher learning. Prior to the opening of the universities October 1, some 40,000 candidates for the freshman year took entrance examinations—almost as many as the entire university student population of 45,000 in 1938. Preliminary reports indicate that student registration will be well above 136,000. At present there are 85 universities and colleges as against 28 in prewar Poland.

More than 100 buildings for university and college use have been under construction this year. Two new colleges began work last month in Krakow and Lublin, which is also the seat of Catholic Hydrology of the Gdansk College of Science and Technology has received new buildings, as have the School of Rural Economy in Warsaw and the Agricultural College of Crocowa.

One outstanding feature of the new university is the increase in the number of women attending higher schools, especially the technical colleges. In 1947, there were 12,000 university women students. Today there at 19.1 such students per 10,000 inhabitants as against 2.2 before the war when Poland's population was larger by almost 10 million. Poland's technical colleges now total 21 in contrast to the five prewar schools.

Warsaw has become the largest university center in Poland despite the wartime destruction of 70 per cent of its university buildings. More than 30,000 students attend the capital's 16 higher schools. The Warsaw College of Science and Technology, rebuilt completely after the war, is today the country's largest technical institution.

In other areas of Polish education activity has also been at a high peak. At the beginning of the school year last month, the number of seven-year elementary schools reached 13,500, more than three times as many as before the war. In rural areas reorganization

Gill Honors Juniors, Sophomores with Tea

A tea given by General and Mrs. Gill honoring the sophomore and junior classes was held in Bemis Commons Thursday, Feb. 11, from 4:30 to 6:00.

Sue Stearman, Mort Forester, Rule Olsen, Sue Pfeiffer, Judy Avery, and Bill Howell, class commissioners, were in the receiving line and acted as hosts and hostesses. The tea was honored by several faculty members.

Communist Propaganda Subject of Fraser Talk

Dr. Ian Forbes Fraser will speak on "American and Communist Propaganda in France" this evening at 8 o'clock, in Perkins Hall. The lecture is sponsored by Colorado College. Women's Swim Team Places Third at Denver In Inter-State Meet

The Colorado College women's swim team placed third in the Inter-State Swimming Meet last Saturday, Feb. 6. The Colorado state meet was held at Denver University with Colorado A&M, Colorado State, Denver University, and Colorado College in competition.

Colorado State took first place, Colorado A&M placed second while Denver University came in fourth.

The CC team consisted of Johnnie Johnston, Mary Spindie, Carol De Munde, Marion Hubble, Diz Warren, Carol Weinart and Nancy Tober. Their individual results were as follows: Weinert, third in 50 meter crawl and third in 50 meter backstroke; Hubble, second in the diving event; Tober, second in the 100 meter free style, first in the novelty relay and second in the 75 meter medley.

There will be a meeting of Future Teachers of America in room 10, West Hall, Thursday, Feb. 18 at 4 o'clock. All old members are expected to come and bring prospective new members.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

I've tried so many cigarettes.
All brands from A to Z—
But nothing beats that better taste
It's Lucky Strike for me!

Charlene Bernstein
State University of Iowa

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason . . . enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S. M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better . . . always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

If you're the kind of guy that hates
To see his money part
Here's a tip to save you dough:
Buy Luckies by the carton!

Where's your jingle?

It's easier than you think to make $25 by writing a Lucky Strike jingle like those you see in this ad. Yes, we need jingles—and we pay $25 for every one we use! So send as many as you like to: Happy-Go-Lucky, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y.

HOW TO FAIL A COURSE

1. Enter the course as late as possible. By changing your curriculum after school starts, you should be able to avoid classes until the second or third week.
2. Do not bother with a textbook.
3. Put your social life ahead of everything else. If necessary, cultivate a few friendships in class. Interesting conversation should be able to drown out the noise of the lecture.
4. Observe how seedy most professors look and treat them accordingly.
5. Make yourself comfortable when you study. If possible, draw up an easy chair by a window.
6. Have a few friends handy during the study period, so that you can chat when the work becomes dull.
7. If you must study, try to lump it all together and get it over with. The most suitable time would be the last week of school.
8. Keep your study table interesting. Place photographs, magazines, goldfish, games, and other recreational devices all around you while studying.
9. Use mnemonic devices on everything you learn. Since they are easy to forget, this approach prevents your mind from getting cluttered up with stale facts.
10. Never interrupt your reading by checking on what you have learned. Recitation is not very pleasant anyhow, since it shows up your deficiencies.
11. Avoid bothering with notebooks. If you plan to use one anyhow, so that you can draw pictures of airplanes during the lecture, try to follow the simplest arrangement: keep all notes for a given day on the same sheet of paper.
12. Remind yourself frequently how dull the course is. Never lose sight of the fact that you really wanted to sign up for something else.
13. Review only the night before the examination, and confine your efforts to trying to guess what the teacher will ask.
14. Find out exactly when your final examination will be over, so that you can plan to forget everything about the course at that moment.
15. Stay up all night before important examinations.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Nurnberg, Jan. 18, 1954

To the Editor of "The Tiger"
Colorado College
Colorado Springs, Colorado
Dear Sir:

During the academic year 1951-1952, I was an exchange student at Colorado College. Since August, 1952, I have been back in Germany studying economics at the Handelshochschule in Nurnberg.

Many times I have felt that I could help you in your work by writing some articles for "The Tiger". However, there has never been time enough to live up to my intention. As president of the International Student's Association here at Nurnberg and as a member of the National Council, I have traveled a good deal the past year and have found very little time for work which I would like to do. The many letters, however, which I have received from my American friends during the past months have urged me to ask you: Would you be interested in having written a series of articles about questions which would interest the students at CC?

I have thought about topics like: The German Educational System or Student's Life in Germany or European Students and a United Europe. It might also be that you would be interested to hear about German economic development. Maybe it might even interest you if I write something about my home town—Nurnberg.

I would be very glad if I could help you with this proposal. Of course, all these articles must be edited because my English is not too good and needs a lot of improvement.

Please be frank if there is no need or demand for amateur writing. If, on the other hand, however, I can help you please let me know as soon as possible (with your own topics, if you want).

Very sincerely yours,
Erich Drexler
Nurnberg 34
Reichelsdorferkeller
Am Weissensee 4

You can spend the first half of the evening discussing your determination to "cram", and the latter half drinking coffee.

16. Write your examination paper rapidly. Glance at the question and then put down your first impression.

17. When out on the campus, forget the facts learned in class. Do not let academic work get mixed up with your daily life.

18. When in the laboratory, work hurriedly. Do not waste time worrying about what is going on.

19. Ignore dictionaries. You could never learn all the words contained in one anyhow.

20. Remember that success in life is your main aim and never let extraneous matters, such as grades, interfere with this objective.

ASCC NOTES

By Bill Howell

The Student Council announced that the student body election for ASCC president will be held the third Thursday in March. Only qualified juniors with 80 credit hours, a 2.00 average for the last two semesters, and an attendance of ten ASCC meetings are eligible to run in the coming election. Petitions, signed by 25 CC students, must be turned in to Frank Florey or Sue Beer by Feb. 22.

The committee, which is working on the revision of the ASCC Constitution, reported that they have checked all the ASCC minutes from 1949 and will submit a proposal for all changes in the near future.

The council voted to back the campus sponsored musical comedy. ASCC will loan the directors of the show $28.77 and handle all their publicity. If any profit is made, ASCC will receive their original loan along with a third share of the profit.

Grad Business Tests
Required for Admission
To Some Universities

Educational Testing Service has announced that beginning with the academic year 1953-1954, a group of business schools and divisions will require applicants for admission to graduate study in the fall of 1954 to take the Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business. Among these institutions are the graduate business schools or divisions of the following universities:

Columbia University, Harvard University, Northwestern University, Rutgers University, Seton Hall University, University of Chicago, University of Michigan, University of Pennsylvania, and Washington Univ. (St. Louis).

A candidate must make separate application for admission to each business school or division of his choice and should inquire of each whether it wishes him to take the Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business and when. Since many business schools and divisions select their entering classes in the spring preceding their entrance, candidates for admission to the 1954 classes are advised to offer the February test, if possible.

The tests will be administered on February 6, 1954 and May 13, 1954. Applications and fees must be filed with the Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business, Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey, at least two weeks before the testing date desired in order to allow ETS time to complete the necessary testing arrangements.

DOWN TIME STAR BEAT'S

Some people probably wondered what Joni James was going to do for an encore after "Why Don't You Believe Me". Well, here's what happened! Within eleven months, Joni sold nearly 6,000,000 records, her club appearances and one-nighters last year broke attendance records, and brought her a five-figure weekly salary. MGM Records awarded her four gold records (which represents a record selling over a million copies).

Before "the record", Joni James (nee Jean Babbo) worked in small midwest clubs. It was while she was appearing at the Vine Gardens in Chicago, that radio and TV merchandiser Roy Rodde heard her and signed her to a personal management contract. He landed a record date for Joni, and she had the first real taste of success when her "You Belong to Me" made the "most-played" lists in Chicago.

As often happens in the record business, a more established star jumped on the same tune, and Jo Stafford's version all but pushed Joni's record into obscurity. Then came "Why Don't You Believe Me", an overnight hit for Joni, and since then her records appeared consistently on all best-seller lists.

As for personal appearances, Joni has just completed a long tour of club dates and one-nighters, and plans to do a string of concert dates early this year. There's also a TV show in the works, and Hollywood has been waving a film contract at her. And for another encore? Who can tell?

POP INTERNATIONAL: London's Palladium has signed Perry Como to an August date. It will be his first personal appearance in years, outside of his regular radio and TV commitments. Singers Johnnie Ray, Frankie Laine, Nat Cole, and Guy Mitchell also plan to play the London Hall. Speaking of London, the new dance called The Creep, which originated in the English capital, is catching on here in the states. Proponents of the new dance style call it somewhat of a reverse tango step, done in a relaxed and graceful fashion. "The Creep" melody, originally done by the English band of Ted Heath, has been cut by several American bands, including those of Stan Kenton and Ralph Marterie.

JAZZ INTERNATIONAL: Norman Granz' Jazz at the Philharmonic concert group, which have played such places as Japan, Hawaii, and Europe, are putting North Africa on the schedule this year. . . . Tenor-saxist Don Byas, who reported to make a stateside appearance from his now native France, has changed his mind and will stay there. . . . Clarinetist Sidney Bechet returned to Paris this month to consult doctors there on a recurrent ailment. . . . There was standing room only for Louis Armstrong's concert appearance in Tokyo.

CLASSICS INTERNATIONAL: Leonard Bernstein became the first

Opera Laboratory To Present Scenes From Four Operas

Snoopers who have stopped to listen to the operatic sounds emanating from Perkins Hall have heard some surprising talent by local students. Some scintillating music will be heard for the first time in Colorado Springs when the Opera Laboratory presents scenes from four operas in Perkins Hall on March 9 and 10.

Operas scheduled are "The Ambitious Servant Girl" by Pergolesi, and scenes from "Hansel and Gretel" by Humperdinck, "School for Fathers" by Wolf-Ferrari, and "The Tales of Hoffman" by Offenbach. The same operas will be given both nights although the casts will vary in some instances. The Opera Laboratory is under the musical direction of Louis Hans Huber and the stage direction of Arturo Jimenez. The ballet appearing in "Hansel and Gretel" is being arranged by Molly Lynn.

"Voodoo" (Remington R 199-151), RCA Victor Orchestra, Fritz Reiner. "Rach Suites v-9" (Victor LM 6012).

Jazz — Jazz Workshop: "Trombone Rhapsody" (Debut DLP5). Mildred Bailey: "Memorial Album" (Columbia EP B1617).

CC STUDENTS SHOW NEED FOR RELIGION

It was most encouraging this week to see the tremendous student interest and participation in Colorado College's first Religion in Life Week. From all reports, the voluntary chapels as well as the discussion groups were well-attended; not only well-attended, but actively participated in.

The conclusion that one is led to draw from seeing and hearing so many favorable comments concerning the enthusiasm shown toward religion this week is that college students really want and need something of this nature which has some real meat in it.

It is to be hoped that the interest shown in God during this week in such a materialistic society as ours will not die next week or even next month. But rather that this enthusiasm will cause much serious thought in our students and the effecting of some sort of positive religious program at Colorado College. But, at least, it is hoped that such a conference as the one held this week will be continued at CC in future years.

Sorority Pledges Back Heart Fund Campaign

Fifty-five sorority pledges who will be initiated this semester are joining together tomorrow, Saturday, Feb. 13, in a Help Week project sponsored by Pan-Hel. From 9 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the evening pledges of the four sororities on campus will be collecting money for the Heart. The girls will be working in groups of two on various corners in downtown Colorado Springs on behalf of the campaign to fight Heart Disease. Each girl is required to spend three hours soliciting funds as her part in this Pan-Hel all-pledge project.

Guest Trio to Appear With Denver Symphony

A talented trio will appear as guest artists with the Denver Symphony orchestra, conducted by Saul Caston, during the final weeks of the season.

Leon Fleisher, named the "best young pianist in the world" in 1952, will appear Feb. 16; Nathan Milstein, violinist, will be the guest artist Feb. 23; and Eileen Farrell, dramatic soprano, will conclude the season as far as guest artists are concerned March 2.

The season will end March 9th when the Denver Symphony performs "Song of Affirmation".

There's plenty of "head room" for you at Boeing

If you are a senior in any field of engineering, it would be advisable to consider the advantages of a career at Boeing after you graduate.

Boeing, for instance, makes a policy of "promoting from within." Regular merit reviews give you steady opportunity and recognition. And in a company with a growth record like Boeing's, there's always plenty of "head room" to move into.

Another advantage at Boeing is career stability. Boeing has grown practically continuously during its 37 years of operation. Today Boeing actually employs more engineers than even at the peak of World War II.

Still another Boeing advantage is the variety of experience and contacts available to you here. Boeing is constantly alert to new materials and techniques, and approaches them without limitations. Extensive subcontracting and major procurement programs—all directed by engineers—give you contacts with a cross section of American industry. Aviation, in fact, is unique in its variety and breadth of application—from applied research to production design, all going on at once.

At Boeing you'd work in Seattle, Washington, or Wichita, Kansas—two fresh, modern cities with a wide variety of recreational facilities, fine shopping and residential districts, and universities which provide excellent graduate study courses. The company will arrange a reduced work week to permit time for this study and will reimburse tuition upon successful completion of each quarter's work.

There are openings in all branches of engineering (mechanical, civil, electrical, aeronautical, and related fields) for DESIGN, PRODUCTION AND RESEARCH. Also for servo-mechanism and electronics designers and analysts, and physicists and mathematicians with advanced degrees.

For further information, consult your PLACEMENT OFFICE, or write RAYMOND J. B. HOFFMAN, Admin. Engineer Boeing Airplane Company, Wichita, Kansas

Long Gone Daffy Doll Gets Hep; Saved by Crazy Lad in Hot Rod

By COLETTE HEISTER

Once Upon a Time in the GEORGE kingdom, a COOL CAT princess was born. After a year had passed, the REAL GONE KING and queen decided to have a birthday party for their STUNNING daughter.

The DEEP POCKET LAD and his QUEEN BEE invited all of the CRA-AZY goddesses except one, the goddess UNKINDNESS. The others didn't like this WACKY CHARACTER, because she was always BLOWING HER STACK.

But somebody GOOFED, and Unkindness heard that she hadn't been invited to the party. Everybody was IN THE PINK when she suddenly showed up. "THERE'S FUNGUS AMONG US."

"AT EASE, DISEASE!" quipped the OLD BALL and she gave the KID THE BEAK. She sent the PASHI-PIE princess a spinning wheel on which some day would prick herself. The whole GOONY kingdom would fall in the CRA-AZIEZ sleep. The spell could be broken only when a COOL JONAH prince kissed the princess.

DUM da dum dum . . . One day the princess was wandering through the CASUAL castle. In one corner of the tower, the princess came upon the old spinning wheel. "MAN, DIG THAT HIVEY WHEEL. AINT THAT THE MOST-EST!" After dusting off the wheel, she sat down to spin. "THAT HAS IT," she nodded. Suddenly the HOT SPOOK pricked herself. "CHOMP!" she exclaimed. "AINT THAT THE LEASTEST!"

The princess slumped to the floor in a deep sleep; the NERDEST King and queen TOOK FIVE (decades that is). The WACKY cooks, stable boys, servants, and everyone else fell asleep while doing their tasks.

Some 300 years later, this WOLF prince happened to be driving his HOT ROD past the GEORGE kingdom, which had been LONG GONE. Out of curiosity, he dug his way through the vines and GYRATED up the tower where the princess was sleeping.

Seeing the princess, he shouted, "THIS girl is a DOUBLE BUBBLE!" Then as he leaned over, they LUMPED LIPS. "IM LOCO AND CO-LO," she whispered.

The whole palace went APE when they found out what had happened. After the princess married the FLASH prince, they got in his BUGGY and everybody an approving MOTHER HIGBY, and LAID A STRIP.

Golddiggers Ball to Be February 27 at B'moor

Once again the time is drawing near for one of the year's most fabulous events, "The Golddiggers Ball". It is an annual formal affair and will be held at the Broadmoor Hotel Feb. 27.

Following the old adage "turn-about-is-fair-play" the girls must do the inviting, foot the bills, and concoct humorous and appropriate corsages for their dates. Intermission at the dance will be taken up with a grand march displaying the corsages and a grand prize awarded for the most hilarious one. Complete information concerning the dances will be in next week's Tiger. Tickets will go on sale soon.

"Nothing Like a ROC" Say Eighty Co-eds

"There's nothing like a ROC," say eighty of the hundred co-eds who returned to their campuses after six weeks at the Navy's summer school for women Reserve Officer Candidates.

The embryo officers proceeded about their area in platoon formation. They marched to chow. They sailed through four classes daily in such subjects as naval orientation and administration, communications, naval weapons and navigation. There were classes in drill to prepare trainees for military formations and other periods for swimming instruction and softball.

A working part of her own platoon, every ROC was placed in positions of responsibility and leadership. If she volunteered to plan exchange dances with navy men or work on the water show, the yearbook, or the company show, she met members of other platoons and companies and learned what it meant to be an indivisible part of a battalion.

Every ROC also had an opportunity to broaden her military horizons by watching jet bombers

Man of Week Prowls Campus; Happy with Present Conditions

By CONNIE BROWN

"I am a prowler and my name is Legion. For a number of months I, or others like me, have patrolled the dimly-lighted and deserted places on the Colorado College campus. We frequent these places for the fun of it. We supply the thrill-seekers. As the readers already know, the prowler has made the most profound impression on campus life this season. His position is rivaled by none. Therefore, I thought it fitting that he be interviewed for this column so that the student body might be aware of the campus life in relation to the prowler as a whole.

In the course of this fascinating interview, the prowler admitted to being perverted. "Yes, I am a sexual pervert," he confessed. "I am a sexual pervert. One of the greatest joys of my life is to watch the idea in my mind be transferred to the mind of my victim as the fear freezes his features."

A stealth expert, the prowler's favorite method of operation is to wait quietly in the shadows of a deserted office building until a lone passerby approaches. With inexhaustible patience, our enigma will immobilize himself until his victim has passed a few paces beyond the place where he has been waiting. Then with infinite agility the prowler will strike.

His moves were light at first. He meant only to frighten. But with ensuing weeks and gratifying successes, he has become more bold. The latest maneuver was choking. The next is rape.

"My job is not easy. During the past several months, I have been travelled by various persons. My most favorite victims, unsecured young women, have lately been seen traveling across campus in groups of three or more. There has been a formidable young man in white trousers snoring into my usual haunts. I wonder if he is one of us? However, these are only minor grievances. The worst of us is, they are not wide-spread and yet to cause any real impediment to my action."

When questioned about his past activities, the prowler maintained a discreet silence. It seems that prowlers have no past, no future, only the grim present.

As prowling activities are looked upon by many as illegal, a prowler must be constantly on the alert for law enforcement officers.

"Apprehension by the police is of course one of our most constant fears. However, once a man has been caught, he is caught, and the rest of us substitutes for him for the length of his detainment. Usually, two to three days. This does not seriously inconvenience anyone. As long as the powers that be remain inactive thru fear, helplessness, stupidity, or any other of our brotherhood's weaknesses, the Colorado Springs League of Prowlers can continue to function."

"Many of us are not strangers to prison and are agreed that it would be quite unenviable if the campus were to be lighted like a stockade. However, a well-lighted area would otherwise unprotected area will be dared by some of our more unflinching members."

I asked the prowler if he would care to suggest any improvements that might be made about the college to make things easier for him and for others like him.

He replied, "We prowlers can hardly ask for a more perfect field of operations than the Colorado College campus in its present state."

The prowler laughed nervously as he said, "I really shudder to think how uncomfortable things would become if any organized course of action might be taken on a man-hunt. However, we are reasonably sure that for fear of any ugly or unwanted publicity, new or old, the authorities will keep quite delicately quiet."

When I bid the prowler goodbye and thanked him for his time, he smiled and said, "I think nothing of it. See you around the campus."

CC Sororities Pledge 20 Girls

Second semester pledge lists for Colorado College's four national sororities were announced Friday by Miss Sallie Payne Morgan, the dean of women, following the second-semester rush week, which began last Saturday. Twenty girls were pledged by the sororities.

The largest number of girls was pledged by Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, which pledged seven; Gamma Phi Beta pledged five girls and Delta Gamma and Kappa Alpha Theta pledged four each.

Colorado Springs girls who pledged included Marjorie Gilbert, Kappa Alpha Theta; Geraldine Everett and Martha Miller, Delta Gamma; Gertrude Cornie, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Pledge lists of the out-of-town girls are as follows:

Delta Gamma—Martha Hesse, Albuquerque, N. M.; Zoe Jenkins, Burlington, Iowa; Joanne Meints, Detroit, Iowa; Elaine Hemis, Denver, Colo.

Gamma Phi Beta—Gail Cameron, Tucson, Ariz.; Alice Glynn, Aspen, Colo.; Ann Gray, Madison, Wis.; Ingeborg Lindner, San Bernardino, Calif.; Barbara Miller, Pacific Palisades, Calif.

Kappa Alpha Theta—Meredith McConna, Denver, Colo.; Mary Ann Martin, Council Bluffs, Iowa; Sylvia Schuler, Dixon, Ill.

Kappa Kappa Gamma—Bonnie Jay, Bothe, Phoenix, Ariz.; Sue Fletcher, Denver, Colo.; Gail Fletcher, Denver, Colo.; Patricia Perkins, Denver, Colo.; Claire Storer, Springfield, N. J.; and Linda Wolfe, Glendale, Calif.

Allowance Checks On Time, Says VA

Korean GI Bill veteran-students who go home for vacations or between-term school breaks will get their GI allowance checks on time, under a new system announced by Veterans Administration.

The new policy will apply to such breaks as spring, summer and winter vacations, Christmas and Easter holidays, and time off between semesters, but only on breaks which extend past the end of a month, which would normally cause delays in receipt of checks.

Under the new system, the veteran may fill out his monthly certification of training on his last day of school attendance, rather than at the end of the month, when it is normally due.

These certifications, signed by the veteran and an official of his school, must be received by VA before checks may be mailed.

By permitting a veteran to complete the form ahead of time, VA virtually has done away with any chance of a delay.

VA explained that a veteran who goes home for a vacation stretching past the first of the month obviously would not be available to sign his certification at the proper time. If it were not for the new procedure, he'd have to wait until he returned to school to sign it. As a result, his check would be late.

By signing before he leaves, the veteran is assured that the certification will reach VA on time.

This same principle and system will apply in the case of a veteran who finishes his final examinations, and who leaves school before the official end of the term.

Seventeen Donations In Carson Blood Drive

The Blood Drive held for Camp Carson February 9th and 10th received 17 donations as compared with 208 last year. Buses picked the donors up in front of Cutler and they were taken out to Camp Carson.

The blood this year was taken for use at the Camp Carson hospital. In the previous year the blood was sent as plasma to Korea.

Anyone who is interested in donating blood may contact Sue Beer, head of the committee, for rides to Camp Carson next week.

Eastlack to Succeed Heiss as Baseball Coach

Coach Heiss Accepts Position at Iowa State

William C. "Bill" Heiss, head coach of football and baseball at Colorado College, has resigned to become end coach at Iowa State. His duties at Ames, Iowa, begin March 1.

President William H. Gill announced the resignation this morning, indicating that CC deeply regretted the loss of Heiss. "Although we do not like losing this fine man and outstanding coach, we are happy to release Heiss from his contract so that he may move ahead in the coaching field," President Gill said.

Heiss will be one of an entirely new staff at Iowa State, working under Vince DiFrancesca, new head coach and long-time friend of Heiss.

Ironically, the new backfield coach is expected to be another former CC coach, Gerald C. Carle. Carle, just out of the U.S. Marines, coached basketball and baseball and assisted in football at CC in 1948 and 1949.

Immediately following Heiss' resignation the college announced that Leon C. "Red" Eastlack would be the baseball coach for the coming season. Eastlack is head basketball coach and has been Heiss' assistant in football.

Heiss and DiFrancesca first met at freshman on North-western University's track team of 1941. Heiss then transferred to the University of Illinois where he played in 1942 with Alex Agassie, recent professional star. Agassie has previously been named line coach at Iowa State.

After a stint in the service Heiss returned to Illinois, where he played end on the Rose Bowl team of 1947. He earned his master's degree at Columbia and immediately took a coaching job at Detroit University.

The 30-year-old CC member was head coach at Adams State, Alamosa, Colo., in 1948 and 1949 and head coach in 1950 at St. Cloud Minnesota State.

Married and the father of one young son, Heiss came to CC in the summer of 1961. His football team that year won four, lost five and finished second in the Rocky Mountain Conference. His 1962 Tiger team won seven, lost two and again finished second in the RMC. CC's 1953 team won two, lost four and tied two, giving Heiss an all-time coaching record of 31 wins, 20 losses and three ties.

Eastlack, who takes over baseball, came to CC in 1952 from Trinidad Jr. College. A graduate and three-sport star in football, basketball and baseball at Colorado A&M, he is married and the father of two children.

Jaun Reid, director of athletics at CC, said that the Athletics Board would begin screening applications for the football coaching job immediately.

Reid indicated that the board would probably follow a procedure used with success in the past. Under the CC plan the list of applicants would be screened to four or five top candidates who would be invited to the campus for personal interviews.

File Selective Service Applications Now For April 22nd Test

All eligible students who intend to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test in 1954 should file applications at once for the April 22nd administration. Selective Service National Headquarters advised.

An application and a bulletin of information may be obtained at any Selective Service local board. Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application immediately and mail it in the special envelope provided. Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight, March 8, 1954. Early filing will be greatly to the student's advantage.

Results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student, according to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test.

FIRST RELIGIOUS CONFERENCE ENDS; AVERAGE CHAPEL ATTENDANCE 250

"Why Bother with God?" was the theme for CC's first Religious Conference. The conference was held on campus during the week of February 8 through February 12. The main speaker for the conference was Rev. Roland H. Pantermuehl, pastor of the Samuel Evangelical and Reformed Church in Clayton, Missouri. Other speakers for the conference were Father Robert G. McMahon, pastor of Saints Peter and Paul Church in Wheatridge, Colo., and Rabbi Joel Y. Zoin, head of Temple Emmanuel in Denver.

The conference began Monday afternoon with a tea in Bemis Commons. Chapel programs were held each morning at 11:20 by shortening the morning classes 10 minutes. Dean Burkle reported that close to 700 students attended the Tuesday morning chapel while an average of 250 students attended chapel the rest of the week.

Discussion groups were held each evening, Monday thru Thursday, at the fraternity and sorority houses. Attendance at the discussion groups ranged from as many as 83 at one meeting to as few as none at another. The main purpose of these groups was to keep them small in order to stimulate discussion of the topics. The interest for these discussions seem to have run towards the minority groups, of which students had little knowledge.

This year's committee for the Religious Conference would appreciate any suggestions in order to improve next year's conference.

Class Meetings Scheduled Feb. 23 In Place of Chapel

Class meetings will be held next Tuesday, Feb. 23, in place of the regular chapel program. The last class meeting was held in November and due to the overlapping months of December and January meetings were not held.

Topics for Tuesday's meetings are as follows: the regular class will discuss the Cut Policy with the help of Dean Reid; the junior class has also chosen the Cut Policy and Dean Adams will be their speaker; the sophomores and freshman classes have chosen the "Chapel Problem" for their topic and Dean Burkle will speak at both meetings.

The purposes of these meetings are to provide an opportunity for classes to meet together and to express themselves as a group under the leadership of the class commissioners. To provide time for a class to discuss with members of the faculty and administration pertinent problems which relate to themselves and to the school.

Class meetings will be held on Tuesday of the last week in March, April and May.

MATURITY OR TEXTBOOKS

"There has been a good deal of speculation concerning the reasons for the superiority of veteran students, and most of these discussions have centered on the word 'maturity'."

"It seems possible that there is also a hidden factor which may have contributed something to the success of G.I. education. According to the method of compensating the veteran for the expenses of his education, it was possible for each veteran to secure adequate textbooks and working materials, the payment of which was made in such a manner that it was not possible to switch the charges for such study materials to living expenses or to any other purpose. Because of this fact, for the first time in history in many American colleges and universities every veteran student, at any rate, had his own textbooks—it may well be that the complete possession of all required and recommended textbooks and other study materials was one very real reason for the excellent showing made by veterans in the G.I. educational program."

Schools to Assist With Children's Clothing Drive

Colorado schools have been asked to take part in the twelfth annual Children's Clothing Crusade to collect clothing to aid Korea, seven countries of Western Europe, two southwestern Indian reservations, and handicapped rural areas of eight southern states, it was announced this week by H. Grant Best, state commissioner of education and chairman of the Bundle Week Drive in Colorado.

Every family in Colorado is being asked to send a bundle of good, serviceable clothing to school during the week of the drive, April 26th to April 30th. Universal participation of Colorado schools is expected this year in the drive which is conducted under the auspices of a national committee of school superintendents. The clothing will be distributed by Save the Children Foundation, a child service organization which renders aid not only to neglected children in America but also to victims of war overseas.

Besides the clothing distribution program, Save the Children Foundation administers child and school sponsorship programs in America, overseas and Indian reservations in the southwest. In these personalized programs, individuals, schools, organizations, and churches adopt a child or school through sponsorship and agree not only to furnish a specified amount of aid but also to correspond with the children or school that they have adopted. The sponsorship programs have been widely accepted as one of furthering mutual understanding and friendship between people of other countries and America.

The clothing drive in Colorado is expected to raise 150,000 pounds of clothing, Mr. Best reported, and added, "The Bundle Week Drive will be the greatest effort ever made in Colorado schools to collect clothing. If each family in Colorado will send at least one bundle of good clothing during Bundle Week, we'll collect that amount."

CC Debaters Enter DU Forensic Meet

The Colorado College debate squad, under the direction of Ray Werner, traveled to Denver University Feb. 11, 12 and 13 to enter in the Denver University Rocky Mountain Forensic meet.

The Denver University tournament is an annual affair and the topic under discussion was related to the subject: "How can the method of Congressional investigation be improved?" The first two days of the meet were used for discussion groups of this topic while the third day was set aside to form a student congress to pass laws related to the revision of U. S. Trade Policy.

The CC students that made the trip were Charles Hawley, Neil Stillinger, and Pat Butler.

Seventeen Students Cast In CC Opera Productions

CC's own operatic stars scheduled to appear in the music department's opera productions on March 9 and 10 come from Panama, New York, San Francisco, Webster City, Iowa, and points north and south. They major in philosophy, education, political science and art, as well as in music. They are interested in the Lab not only as, in some cases, preparation for professional work, but because the training develops poise and personality and is a lot of fun.

JAMES RAYMOND, portraying the comic role of Franz in "Tales of Hoffman", is a philosophy major with a consuming interest in music and drama. He is a member of the Civic Players, former member of the Little Theater in Panama, and participates in college musical and drama activities.

JOHN C. PARKER, who sings the title role in "Tales" is the possessor of that rare thing, a good tenor voice which, according to his teacher, Richard Moorhead, is "of professional quality". John, a senior, came from Detroit to study law by way of following in his father's footsteps. Now, he plans to continue his vocal training with the aim of throwing his hat into the professional ring. John figures his law training won't come amiss; he'll know how to handle the "ifs" and "buts" when those contracts start rolling in.

An operatic atmosphere is hardly new to CAROLYN WIGLEY. Last summer she graced the chorus of "Carmen" at Central City and plans to return there next summer. At Stephens College she sang Cherubino and Prince Orlofsky in the opera productions. Besides attending CC, Carolyn studies voice with Mrs. H. Colin Thorpe. The role of Antonia, romantic heroine of the final act of "Tales of Hoffman", fits Carolyn perfectly. Antonia's main desire is to be an opera singer. That is, until she meets Hoffman.

DON PEMPIN, graduate student in music, portrays the sinister role of Dr. Miracle. From Cleveland, Don is a graduate of Westminster Choir College, Princeton. Four years choirmaster-organist of St. Mark's Episcopal Cathedral in Grand Rapids, he was director of several civic choral groups.

RUSSELL T. HILLOCK, special student in voice, sings the role of Crespel. A versatile young musician, Russ plays the French horn in the local symphony orchestra, is a member of the Union Band, and last year sang the lead in the Colorado Springs High School production of "The Mikado".

Completing the cast of "Tales" is KATHRYN ANDERSON, who sings the part of the mother's voice. Kay majors in education and studies singing with Moorhead.

Well-known for her excellent work in campus productions is JUDY CLAVE, who sings the role of Margarita in "School for Fathers". Although an art major, she has been heard on Station KKTV and studies voice with Moorhead, who says, "Judy has a million dollars worth of talent."

MARY PRIOR, freshman and recent winner of a four-year El

Pomar scholarship, sings the role on Tuesday night. Mary participated in musical and dramatic events at St. Mary's and last year sang the lead in the school's opera. She is continuing her vocal studies at CC.

WERNER H. SCHWARTZ, a well-known local baritone and special student in voice, hails from Brooklyn. Recently Schwartz was soloist in the Brahms Requiem in the Taylor Concert Series in Grace Church. He is regular soloist in the Presbyterian choir.

CONNIE SCHEUERMAN and KATHERINE CLARK sing "Lucifer", ingenue role in "School for Fathers", on successive nights. Both are freshmen. Connie, a music major, is a local girl and studies with M. Colin Thorpe. Last year she was "YumYum" in the high school "Mikado". Kiki is from Connecticut where she studied voice with her mother's teacher.

CARL MARTINS studies voice with Mr. Moorhead and piano theory with Carlton Gerner. In one year's time he has made unusual musical progress. He has appeared in various theatrical ventures, last year at the FAC in "God of Trombones". In the Lab production he sings the roles of the father in "School for Fathers" and Dr. Pandolfo in "Ambitious Servant-Girl".

CECILLA LOMA, CC graduate, Lois, a native of Colorado Springs, teaches in the public school system, is a member of the Grace Church choir and is known thru her work in many local productions. In "Servant-Girl" she sings the title role of the coquettish Zerbina who "has a plan to catch a man".

Dr. George Gaylord Simpson, Chairman of the Department of Geology and Paleontology at The American Museum of Natural History, points out the characteristics of a fossil to Charles Collingwood, "Adventure" host, and two young visitors.

Singing in the dream sequence of "Hansel and Gretel" are MARY JO AHERN and LOIS COTT. OLGA YUKICH is the sardanian.

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason . . . enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T. — Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better . . . always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

COLLEGE SMOKERS PREFER LUCKIES

A comprehensive survey—based on 31,000 student interviews and supervised by college professors—shows that smokers in colleges from coast to coast prefer Luckies to all other brands! The No. 1 reason: Luckies' better taste!

We're rooting for our favorite team!
The arguments are loud.
But smother-tasting Lucky Strike
Wins cheers from all the crowd.

$50,000 in Prizes Offered in Sylvania Photography Contest

$50,000 in prizes, topped by a $5,000 cash grand prize and two Chevrolet Corvettes sport cars, highlight the 1954 edition of the "Folks Are Fun" photography contest, sponsored by Sylvania Electric Products, Inc. This year's contest offers amateur photographers of all ages a chance at a jackpot of 1501 prizes—the richest ever offered in a photo industry contest, according to George C. Connor, general sales manager of photolamps.

Also included in the prizes are two cash awards of $1,000 each, two 27-inch Sylvania television consoles, $11,000 in U.S. Savings Bonds, 50 Sylvania radio clocks, and $7,000 in photo supplies.

To assure each amateur an equal opportunity, the contest will be run in two divisions—"Young Folks" for contestants under the age of 18 and "Grown-Ups" for ages 18 and up. Duplicate prizes—750 in each division—will be awarded, and entries in both divisions will be eligible for the $5,000 cash grand prize.

The theme of the 1954 contest has been selected to provide amateur photographers with the widest possible latitude in their choice of photos to enter in the contest. "Any picture of people having fun—at home, at parties, playing games, working at hobbies—can win a wonderful prize," according to Mr. Connor.

The "Folks Are Fun" contest is open to anyone living in the United States and its possessions except employees of Sylvania, its advertising agencies, that a king be elected instead of a queen. Following this custom each fraternity chose a nominee to vie for this honor. The candidates are Bill Pollard, Sigma Chi; Bob Kroenke, Beta; Bob Egley, Kappa Sigma; Ed MacGuire, Phi Delta; Tom McGonagle, Phi Gamma; and Charles Hawley, Gamma and Lance. The voting for the king will take place in the class meetings Feb. 23.

There will be a prize in the form of a loving cup given for the most unusual corsage. The judging of the corsages will take place during intermission and the crowning of the king will also take place at that time. The king will receive a trophy and a crown.

This year the regular tickets will not be sold. Instead they will be in the form of small shovels in black and gold. The programs will be inside. The bids will go on sale Thursday and the price will be $2.00 per couple. There will be a girl in each dorm who will be selling the bids.

Special thanks for this dance goes to AWS and Sue Williams and her committee for the fine job of planning that they have done.

Non-Fiction Science Program Celebrates Six-Month Birthday

"Adventure", a TV program of interest to students everywhere, recently celebrated its sixth-month birthday.

Broadcast each Sunday at 4:30 p.m., EST, and presented by CBS-TV and the American Museum of Natural History, "Adventure" is dedicated to science-non-fiction programs that entertain as well as inform.

Subject-matter of "Adventure" includes such topics as eugenics, primitive cultures, fossils, perception, mountain-climbing and bird migrations.

agencies, photolamp dealers and their families, and professional photographers.

The contest opens February 17th and closes April 30th. Winners will be announced in July. Entry blanks can be obtained anywhere Sylvania "Blue Dot" flashbulbs are sold—at photo shops, drug stores, hardware or specialty stores.

All pictures submitted must illustrate the theme, "Folks Are Fun" and all prints must be in black and white, no smaller than 2½ x 2½ and not previously published commercially. Every picture must be accompanied by the printed blank identification from the other wrapper or sleeve of any Sylvania flashbulb. Pictures must be taken with flashbulbs, and amateurs may enter any number of photographs.

Other contest rules are posted on the Lennox bulletin board.

NATIONAL CARDINAL NEWMAN DAY OBSERVED BY CC CLUB FEBRUARY 28

The Colorado College Newman Club will join with the 500 other Newman Clubs in observance of National Cardinal Newman Day, Sunday, February 21, 1954. These clubs, which exist to promote the spiritual, social, and intellectual welfare of the 300,000 Catholic students on secular campuses are named after the English convert-cardinal born 152 years ago. The theme of this year's observance is "Newman's IDEA in Action".

Through programs planned around this theme, local Newman Clubs will demonstrate how they are applying the educational principles formulated by Cardinal Newman in his great book, The Idea of a University.

Several national radio programs honoring Cardinal Newman will be presented February 28, and many clubs will dramatize Newman's life over their campus radio stations.

Cardinal Newman attained eminence in the Church of England as the leader of the Oxford Movement. He was received into the Catholic Church at the age of 45, and is best known for such writings as "The Idea of University" and the "Grammar of Assent". He was made a Cardinal in the twilight of his life and died at 89. His motto, "Cor Ad Cor Loquitur" (Heart Speaks to Heart) has been adopted as the motto of all Newman Clubs.

Speaker at the banquet to be held at the Swiss Chalet at 6:00 p.m., February 28, will be Rev. Dr. George Evans of Denver. In addition to the Newman Club, all the Catholic students on campus are invited. Tickets are now on sale by various members of the Newman club for $2.50 apiece and tickets will be sold at the door.

ASCC NOTES

By Bill Howell

The committee working on the revision of the ASCC constitution reported that their work is almost completed. The council voted to include the first part of the ASCC trial procedure (defining the position of each person serving on the trial board) and the drinking code of Colorado College in the constitution when that document goes to press.

Arturo Jimenez came to the council in an effort to secure funds for an operatic production which is now in production. The council voted to finance the production with $170, the estimated cost of the program.

Funds for foreign students were discussed in an effort to find out just who is in charge of those funds and who may administer the spending of those funds. Kathy Smith, chairman of the foreign students committee, announced that there are regular meetings of her committee and that any interested party could attend. The meetings are held on Wednesday afternoons in Dr. Brandt's office.

It was also announced that there will be class meetings instead of chapel on Feb. 23.

Staff Positions Offered At Girl Scout Camps

Any time is camp time for the Girl Scouts. During the 1954 season an estimated 130,000 to 160,000 girls are expected to attend nearly 700 Girl Scout established camps in this country.

College students can put their summer vacation time to profitable use this year as staff members at one of these camps. Hundreds of good jobs covering a wide range of camp activities are available. The specific training required varies with each job, but basically applicants may have a sympathy with the aims and philosophy of Girl Scouting; good health; interest in and understanding of girls; interest in and enjoyment of camping; respect and consideration for people; fair-mindedness and impartiality; and ability to work with others and to adapt to the camp living.

A Girl Scout camp is operated by the council which owns it and all employment is done through that group. Interested persons can contact their local Girl Scout council office or have their name referred to the Girl Scout National Branch Office nearest them by writing to Miss Panchon Hamilton, personnel department, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., 155 E. 44th Street, New York 17, N. Y.

Prompt, Efficient Service

IN THE still of the night—high above a sleeping American city—an unidentified aircraft is spotted. In a matter of seconds a lightning-like jet interceptor takes to the air. Unerringly, with an Aircraft Observer showing the way, the Air Force F-94 Night Fighter speeds to intercept the stranger. The Aircraft Observer is the man behind the pilot—the officer who keeps America's planes flying on course and on target. Without him the Air Force couldn't do its job.

What is the Aircraft Observer?

He's a Radar Officer... employing an all seeing eye that penetrates where human sight fails.

He's an Aircraft Performance Engineer Officer... knowing everything there is to know about his plane... keeping it fit for the skies and ready for action.

He's a Navigation Officer... plotting his plane's course... with an entire crew depending on him for a safe flight.

He's a Bombardment Officer... in full control of the plane over the target area... the Air Force Officer who "lowers the boom" on the enemy.

What the Aircraft Observer gets

He earns over $5,000 a year. His silver Aircraft Observer wings give him prestige and distinction, and he wears the bars of an Air Force Lieutenant. They mark him as the eyes, ears, and brains of America's Number One flying team.

What it takes to be an Aircraft Observer

The Aircraft Observer must be sound of limb, keen of mind, and above all, must have the determination to be the best.

To qualify as an Aircraft Observer you must be single, between 19 and 26½ years old, and a high school graduate. However, it will be better for you and the Air Force if you stay in college and graduate before you apply. Then you, too, can be one of the best... as an Aircraft Observer.

SIoux HERE FRIDAY FOR TWO GAME SERIES

Tigers Lose 3 of 4 Games On Road Trip; Out of Title Bid

The Colorado College Tigers journeyed to East Lansing, Michigan last Monday for a series with Michigan State. The Bengals won the first game, 3 to 2, in a sudden death overtime on Ed Robson's blast from four feet out. Doug Silverberg and Don Demore got an assist on the play with only forty-two seconds gone. In the other game Michigan bounced back to win 8 to 4. Monday night's game saw the Tigers leading 2 to 1 at the end of the second period. Bernie Royal and Bob Rompre were responsible for putting CC in the lead, the former slipping the puck past State's goalie Schiller with a minute and forty-five seconds left to play in the opening period. The latter made the score 2 to 0 in the second period with the help of C. Smith with 9:37 seconds elapsed. Fred Eastwood drew a hooking penalty toward the end of that period that proved to be disastrous as King lit up the red light for State.

King came back again for State in the third period scoring on a rebound from Olson and Raz with 10:55 seconds remaining. No other scoring was done in the period.

The opening period in Tuesday's game saw the Bengals on the short end of the score 5 to 1. However, CC rallied twice in the second period to make the score 5 to 3. This didn't do much good as State lit up the red light three times to the Tigers' one in the last period. Hal "Punchy" Cowan led the Bengals attack with two goals while Derio Nicoll clicked for two goals and three assists for State.

Goalie Ken Kinsley turned in a superb job of net tending for CC in both games.

Colorado College ended their swing through Michigan at Ann Arbor where they were thumped 6 to 1 and 9 to 2 on Friday and Saturday night's games respectively, by the University of Michigan. Ed Robson averted a shutout in the opening game when he scored on a pass from Bob Rompre with 1:42 seconds remaining in the contest. Michigan's Bill MacFarland and Pat Conney starred for the home team, the latter leading with one goal and three assists while the other had two goals. CC was out played in the last game as they couldn't break up the Michigan attack although they did manage a 2 to 2 tie midway in the second period. That didn't last long as George Chin turned in a three goal "hat trick" in four minutes. Bob Rompre and Ed Robson both took passes from C. Smith in the second period to mark the Bengals only goals. The Tigers, losing three of their four

Nodaks Must Win For Tourney Berth

After losing prestige as a tournament threat, Colorado College will turn their attention this week end to dropping N. Dakota from the ranks as they play host to the Nodaks in a two-game series at the Broadmoor.

CC will be out of the NCAA tournament in March for the second year in a row after having been in it for five years straight.

The Tigers will still figure strongly, however, as to the outcome of the representative of the midwest. The North Dakota series this weekend could well decide if the Nodaks get their expected berth.

Slow starting Michigan powerhouse to the top of the league last week after soundly whipping the Tigers in a two-game series and by taking a previous series from the boys from Denver. Their double series pushed Minnesota to second place and North Dakota to third. North Dakota finished third last year in conference play missing a tournament berth by two points.

GERMAN CLUB PLANS PARTY FOR MEETING

German Club will hold the first meeting of the semester this Tuesday, Feb. 23, in the Hayes House library at 7:30 p.m. It will be in the form of a surprise party and members are urged to bring guests. The organization also recently elected new officers who are Marcia Manning, president; Harry Day, vice president; Kip Herold, treasurer; and Wally Harman and Norm Spears, co-secretaries.

games on this road trip, are now definitely out of the running for a play-off berth in the NCAA tournament here in March. Here are the league standings:

Minnesota, North Dakota, Denver, Colorado College, Michigan State, and Michigan Tech.

Tigers Battle C-State in RMC Final; Play Adams State Wed.

Colorado College will wind up 1954 Rocky Mountain Conference competition when the Tigers journey to Greeley next Saturday night to play Colorado State. CC closes the 1953-54 campaign Wednesday against Adams State at Alamosa. Coach Eastlack's hoopsters will be out to upset the Bears who dumped them earlier in the season by a small margin and take their second RMC win of the year. The Tigers gained a

CC, Miners Split; Win 58-52, Lose 77-51

Colorado College and Colorado Mines swapped a pair of victories last week end with the Tigers taking the opener, 58-52, and the Oregidgers capturing the nightcap 77-51.

Friday the Tigers jumped off to a 22-15 first quarter advantage, and led at the half 31-28. Mines opened the second half with a pair of two pointers by Arnie Siltanen and Ron Lewis to give the Golden boys a 32-31 lead. But the Tigers, smelling victory for the first time in weeks, powered in front 37-32 on baskets by Ed Fick, Doug Little, Grant Blaney, and led at the start of the final period 42-38.

The Oregidgers strove desperately to catch up in the final canto but the locals stalled to insure their 5th win in sixteen starts. Doug Little was high man for CC 12 markers followed by Fick, Lovelace and Dunton with 10 each. Danker led the Miners with 10.

Saturday was a different story as the Miners led all the way to register a 77-51 win. Dunton and Little pitched in 10 each to pace the Tiger attack while Cohe burned the nets for 24 markers and led the Oregidgers' onslaught. The win was the first RMC triumph of the campaign for the Tigers but left them in last place with a 1-8 record. Colorado Mines is in fifth place with one victory in eight league tilts.

58-52 win over Colorado Mines last week end for their initial league triumph.

The Bears are loaded with talent which has enabled the C-Staters to take third place in the Rocky Mountain Conference. Lettermen Don Doolin, Earl Sanstedt, Paul Lamat, Keith Edwards and Bob Mantooth paced the team against such rugged foes as Colorado A&M, Wyoming and Denver universities.

Freshmen Don Wietzba and Val Tackowiak of Milwaukee and Doug Campbell of Denver have provided Coach Pete Butler's crew with additional scoring punch.

Wednesday night the Tigers go to Alamosa for a non-conference tilt with Adams State. CC took an earlier decision from the Indians by a 67-64 count last December.

Tom Dunton, senior, will be playing his last game for CC when the Tigers take the floor Wednesday night at Alamosa.

• Intra-Mural • BILLBOARD

By Bill Riley

Last week was a full one for intramurals with five basketball games being played in the Cositt gym.

The Kappa Sigs won two of these games to keep their record clean and stay on top of the race. The Phi Gams also won two to keep right on their heels with only one loss.

In the first game last week the Phi Dets took one from the Indes 42 to 28. Spears hit 17 for the victors and Osborne was high with 10 for the losers. Jim Weaver did an outstanding job of rebounding for the Phi Dets.

The Phi Gams won the next one 37 to 29 from the Betas. Zengrel hit 14 points for the Phi Gams and Kroehnke led the Betas with 11. The Kappa Sigs took a scare from the Sigma Chis but finally pulled thru 40 to 38. Dirk Huenik was the main threat of the night with 17 points for the Sig Chis. Dick Conroy was high for the Phi Dets with 12 points and Bob Deyers and Roger Bildstein had 7 each.

The hapless Indes dropped another one, this time to the Phi Gams by a score of 32 to 28. Schwartz and Zengrel had 11 points apiece for the Phi Gams and Osborne hit 8 for the Indes who have been hurt by the loss of Fred Fick, who is now playing for the CC varsity, and Jack Mardock who has transferred to another school. Roger Bildstein, with 11 points, led the K. Sigs to a 40 to 25 victory over the Indes in the final game of the week. Dick Conroy had 8 more for the Kappa Sigs while Wally Farus and Knight hit 7 and 6 points respectively for the Indes. The game was nip and tuck up until after the halftime when the K. Sigs caught fire. The halftime score was 18 to 16 in favor of the Sigs.

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By Bill Riley

The race for the Western Interscholastic Hockey League title gets tighter and tighter. The top three teams in the league, Michigan, Minnesota, and North Dakota, are still battling for the championship. They are all separated by only two and one-half points. At the end of the season the two top teams will be entered in the NCAA playoffs to be held at the Broadmoor Ice Palace March 11-13.

Last week Michigan beat Denver two games, CC split two games with Michigan State, and lost two more to Michigan. Minnesota easily beat Michigan Tech in two games.

This week CC takes on North Dakota twice while Michigan Tech meets Minnesota and Michigan goes against Michigan State.

Anything can happen but Michigan should win both games from Minnesota State, Minnesota should take two from Michigan Tech, and North Dakota is favored over CC in both contests.

Standings: Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, Denver, Colorado College, Michigan State, Michigan Tech.

Colorado State and Montana State are engaged in a tight race for second place in the Rocky Mountain Conference. Both, however, were eliminated from any chance for the title when Idaho State won its ninth conference game without a lost last week.

Right now Montana State has the edge over Colorado State as they have a 7 won and 2 lost record. The only way for Colorado State to get a share of second place is for them to win the rest of their games and have Idaho State defeat Montana State.

Western State is a safe bet for fourth place provided that they don't let down when they play the Mines two games this week.

Mines and CC are still fighting for fifth place. Each has one victory to date, having split their two game series last week end.

Standings:

CC Students with Help Of Student Congress, to Produce 'Good News'

The students of Colorado College, with organizational help from Student Council, the Drama, Dance and Music departments, have at last hit upon a plan to produce the long-asked for musical comedy. These departments have decided to give their full cooperation in an effort to present "Good News," a musical comedy based on college life.

The story involves a football hero, suspended from the team because of poor grades, who falls in love with the co-ed who is tutoring him in an effort to bolster his singing grades. Songs such as "Varsity Drag" and "The Best Things in Life are Free," action on the grid iron, and a little love thrown in on the side round out the plot.

This production will be wholly in the hands of the CC students. Mr. Moorhead, Mr. Juhas, Mr. Tyree, Mr. Seay and Mrs. Lynn will act as advisors and will have two students under them to do the actual production. The Student Council will handle all the business for the show under the direction of Bill Howell.

The success of this venture will depend entirely upon the interest shown by the students. A meeting will be held this Tuesday and Wednesday in Perkins Hall from 7:00 to 9:00 for all those students who are in any way interested in producing, directing, or acting in this comedy. This is the first time that anything of this type has been attempted. If the production is successful the students in the music and drama departments plan to write an original musical comedy for next year.

YES, CHESS LESSONS

Juan Reid, local chess authority in and about Colorado Springs, will be in Lemmon Wednesday, Feb. 24 at 7:30 p. m. to play chess and to help teach those who are interested in learning chess or in learn-more about chess.

DOWN TIME STAR BEATS

At the time radio and TV comedians were spiking their well-worn material with Johnnie Ray jokes to get laughs, Johnnie's managers were smiling, too . . . not at jokes, however, but at their book-keeping records, which showed big, black entries. And Johnnie, altho figuratively crying thru it all, had a big grin, too. For Johnnie Ray's weeping, personalized style, altho the source of much contention, was reaping fame and fortune. All of which should bring to mind something about laughing last, laughing best.

"Mr. Emotion," as Johnnie has been tagged, worked as a nite-club pianist and as a straight-man for a comic before he settled on singing for a career. In 1951, a Columbia Record representative heard him at a Detroit club and signed him to Columbia's Okeh label. Johnnie cut Cry and The Little White Cloud That Cried, which became top sellers and launched Johnnie on his fabulous career. His personal appearances thereafter broke records nearly everywhere he played, even topping the all-time mark for New York's sophisticated Copacabana.

Johnnie is a unique showman. His repertoire is sprinkled with songs in the pop, jazz, and religious vein, all of which are delivered with exaggerated gestures and cracking voice. And, yes, he really does cry onstage, but, confidentially, after he leaves the floor, he does not do much sobbing. After all how tear-jerking is a million dollars?

RECORD NEWS-POP: Several record companies are issuing Glenn Miller and Miller-styled works to tie in with the recently revived interest in the Miller legend via the movie The Glenn Miller Story. Decca has the soundtrack album from the film itself; RCA Victor had selections played in the film; Capitol has an album out by the former Miller sideman

Ray Anthony, entitled I Remember Glenn Miller; and Coral has waxings of Miller tunes by the Modernaires and Tex Beneke . . . Victor has awarded Eddie Fisher his third gold record, which symbolizes a recording with a million or more sales, for his Oh, My Papa. Eddie also received gold disc for Many Times and I'm Walking Behind You . . . Columbia plans to put out a series of soundtrack recordings from such motion pictures as Doris Day's Lucky Me, Judy Garland's A Star Is Born, and Rosemary Clooney's Red Garters . . . Coral has signed Johnny Parker, former vocalist with Hugo Winterhalter on Victor.

RECORD NEWS-JAZZ: Columbia and Victor are expanding their jazz catalogs this year. Columbia has signed Pete Rugolo, former arranger for the Stan Kenton band, to organize a Rugolo-styled band which will record extensively for Columbia and eventually take to the road. The Columbia label also plans to put on shellac the DOWN BEAT trumpet winner, Chet Baker, guitarist Eddie Condon, and trumpeter Buck Clayton. Victor, meanwhile, plans to re-issue a series of jazz works including those of Fats Waller, Louis Armstrong, Coleman Hawkins, and Bud Freeman . . . There were a couple of marathon recording sessions this month. Tony Scott, clarinetist, recently cut 14 sides in two recording sessions for Brunswick, and veteran pianist Art Tatum cut a total of 80 solo sides for Norman Granz' Clef Label . . . Vanguard Records will launch several hi-fi jazz recordings, under the supervision of jazz critics Nat Hentoff and John Hammond.

RECORD NEWS-CLASSICAL: Victor recently recorded the Carnegie Hall concert of Vladimir-ai Liszt's Les Nuits (LP LOC 1011). This marks one of the rare times that a classical concert has been recorded on the spot, complete with audience ovations, et al. . . . Pianist Walter Gieseking came out with 10 sides this month (Contemporary LP C2506).

on three different labels—Columbia, Angel, and Utenia. Gieseking made these recordings over a span of some 15 years, but all were released just this month. Victor will release Kapell-In Memoriam, an album of piano recordings by the late William Kapell . . . Atlantic Records signed Alec Templeton to record pop LP's.

Jenkins Cops Second World Crown

CC Student Outskates Grogan; Kothman, Ash Win Pairs Title

Hayes Alan Jenkins, a Colorado College sophomore from Colorado Springs (formerly Akron, Ohio), skated to his second straight World Figure Skating championship at Oslo, Norway on Feb. 17. He won the title last year at Davos, Switzerland.

In both quests for the title, Jenkins was hard pressed for victory by another local skater, Jimmy Grogan. In this year's competition, Jenkins edged out Grogan by 178.28 points to 175.22.

By the end of the compulsory figures, there was barely a hair's breadth between the two skaters. But victory came for Jenkins in the free skating competition, which allows the contestant to skate figures of his own choosing. Jenkins skated masterfully over the slippery ice with only minor faults to sweep the title for the second year in a row.

Jenkins was penalized only five points during the competition, while Grogan garnered 12 demerits. It was in 1951 that Jenkins was given the Oscar L. Richard award for the most outstanding free-skating in the U.S.

Jenkins and Grogan's one-two finish was a repeat of the 1953 finals when Jenkins also edged Grogan in the free-skating competition. David Jenkins, younger brother of Hayes Alan, placed fourth in the meet with 169 points.

Jenkins now holds a triple crown in figure skating. In addition to his world title, he has also captured the North American and United States championships. In 1952, he was a member of the U.S. Olympic Team on which he placed fourth in the Olympics held at Oslo, Norway.

Hard work, and a very difficult schedule of training and school makes Hayes seem a little on the serious side, but friends appreciate a subtle sense of humor. Hayes is majoring in Business Administration, and has not yet fully decided whether his interest will take him along the lines of Law or Insurance.

He is an honor student at Colorado College.

Dean of Women Honors Mid-Year Grads at Dinner

Sallie Payne Morgan, dean of women, invited the 20 seniors graduating at mid-year, to be her guests at a dinner in the private dining room of Cossitt Hall on Jan. 19, thus inaugurating another good tradition at CC.

Juan Reed, dean of men, was co-host. Tables were beautifully decorated with flowers and candles, and guests enjoyed a delicious fried chicken dinner with all the trimmings.

Dr. Harold Browne made his first official appearance before any group of the CC family and immediately won the confidence of everybody attending the dinner. The students were enthusiastic about his well-thought-out plans for the development of the college and they offered some excellent suggestions. Preceding Dr. Browne's talk, Lorena Berger welcomed the group into the National Alumni Association and outlined activities of the Alumni Association.

Vicki Hann, assistant to Dean Morgan, the Misses Martha Campbell and Elma Louko, head resident in the women's residence halls, were invited guests.

Out of 20 seniors on the list, the following attended: James Frank Alexander, Jr., Irene Apostolias, Betty Breland, Walter Brooks, Arthur Erickson, Thomas Freund, Gordon Hatch, Gwen Jude, Brook Kindred, Emilie Kremer, Regis Lasowski, Lynn Pierce, and Philip St. Aubin. (Howard Kellogg, III, planned to attend, but was called to Denver to await the arrival of a new baby expected that night!)

Kinnikinnik Seeks Original Writings; April 10th Is Deadline

The Kinnikinnik needs material—original short stories, poetry, fiction, art and musical compositions. It was announced recently in staff meeting that compositions in all fields are welcome now and will be accepted until April, 1954, one week after Spring Vacation. It is hoped that free time during Spring Vacation will give more people a chance to complete their contributions.

As last year, the Kinnikinnik is offering $10 prizes for the outstanding compositions in creative writing, music, and art. All original compositions will be considered for publication in the 1954 Kinnikinnik.

Please put your contributions in the Kinnikinnik box at Cutler. Remember, April 10, 1954 is the deadline.

PATSY REEVES NAMED NEW HEAD OF THE AWS GROUP ON WHITE BALLOT

Patsy Reeves was elected AWS president on a white ballot cast February 19th when final balloting for AWS officers was conducted. In a close race Sue Williams was elected vice president over Lee Sage. A run-off ballot was necessary for the secretary and treasury slots with Sue Stearnman winning secretary from Joan Reid and Marion Shaw taking treasurer over Betty Broadbent.

Each woman's dorm nominated candidates for the preliminary election, Feb. 15. The following girls were on the ballot: vice president—Martha Boettger, Luan Cutler, Lee Sage, Mary Vandergrit, Sue Williams; secretary—Sharon Conner, Evelyn Cummins, Elaine DuPuy, Willa Freeman, Eleanor Graves, Joan Reid, Janet Sheelenberger, Mary Spindle, Sue Stearnman, Betty Troutman, treasurer—Betty Broadbent, Doris Corley, Eleanor Diener, Maits Gasser, Donna Kueker, Dusty Powell, and Marion Shaw.

VA Gives Check List For Pre-Enrollment In Foreign Schools

Veterans planning to enroll in foreign colleges under the Korean GI Bill should make sure they can meet all five points of a VA check list, before they set sail.

The law permits foreign training if it is taken in an accredited institution of higher learning. Other forms of GI training are not permitted overseas.

The following points are listed on the check list. "Has VA approved the course the veteran wants to follow?" Korean GI Bill enrollments are permitted only in VA-approved courses. "Will the school accept the veteran as a student?" The veteran should make sure that he has fulfilled school's requirements and has been accepted by the school. "Has the veteran sufficient language ability to pursue his course with success?" In non-English-speaking countries, the veteran generally will find that he has a severe handicap if he is unable to speak and understand the language. "Does the veteran-trainee have enough money of his own to tide him over until his first GI allowance check reaches him?" "Has the veteran filed his application for Korean GI Bill training, and VA sent him a certificate of eligibility signifying that everything is in order?"

Veterans should file application for foreign training under the Korean GI Bill with their nearest VA Regional Office, and not the headquarters in Washington. However if

CC Grad Nestlerode Steals the Spotlight At Oil Conference

A hobby project of a CC graduate, William A. "Bud" Nestlerode, '47, is stealing the spotlight at oil and gas conferences in the Rocky Mountain region, according to feature stories in Denver and local newspapers in November.

The project, built to a scale of one inch to six feet, is a minutely detailed display showing the oil business from discovery to production. It included everything from the seismograph parties taking soundings to the actual rig and drilling into the formation in which the oil is found. Nestlerode is an engineer with the Bruhn Engineering Company in Denver.

Using such mental materials as pipe cleaners, apple crates, cartons, buttons and snaps, Nestlerode has produced an intricate and detailed display of an oil field.

The oil field display was featured in the November issue of one of the oil drilling magazines.

Bud and his wife (Dorothy Dockstadter, '47) and three little 'Nestles', Bill, Jr., 4, Bob, 2, and Norelue, 7 months, reside in a new home in Denver at E. Colorado Avenue, zone 20.

"CC Foreign Student Program Making Good Progress," Brandt

Colorado College's foreign student project for 1954-55 is progressing rapidly, with all indications pointing to the granting of two all-expense scholarships for foreign students come September 1, 1954.

Dr. Thomas O. Brandt, associate professor of German and faculty advisor of the project, reported Saturday that the efforts of the foreign student committee to date were most successful.

The College's Committee on Student Aid started the ball rolling by making foreign students eligible to be considered for Trustee Scholarships. These scholarships are annually available to students who graduate in the upper 10 per cent of their class and carry a stipend of half-tuition, or $262.50 per year.

Dr. Brandt pointed out that the college was interested in considering for admission only those foreign students who boasted this high type of academic record.

The four national societies at CC have pledged $100 each, or a total of $400 toward the realization of the project. The net proceeds of the Panhellenic dance have been designated to the project. This amount will approximate $150.

The five national fraternities at CC have pledged board and room for the two students for one academic year, in such a fashion that the two students will have this expense taken care of.

The CC National Alumni Association, through its council of 20, has indicated a strong interest and readiness to support this endeavor, actively and financially.

Several individuals and groups in Colorado Springs have expressed an interest to support the program, and a few donations have already been received.

Total cost of supporting two students is estimated at $3,400. This includes the tuition costs, books, laundry, a limited amount of spending money, and transportation from New York to Colorado Springs and back to New York. International travel costs are not included, since it is hoped that the foreign students can arrange for this expense themselves, or that the U.S. State Department will assist in this expense.

Two local groups which have already announced a cash gift are the UNESCO organization and the AAUP (American Association of University Professors). Each of these groups have given $50 to the project.

A special "foreign student fund" has been set up in the treasurer's office at CC, where donations are being accepted.

Dr. Brandt and the students on the foreign student committee have been appearing on many programs the past month and have a long schedule of programs ahead.

The students have spoken before Rotary, Lions, the Presbyterian Church Fellowship dinner, the AAUW (American Association of University Women), and have appearances scheduled at other clubs in Colorado Springs and throughout the state.

Members of the committee include Misses Kathy Smith, chairman, Marcia Manning, Luey Hammond, Joyce Lind, Janet Coley, Sue Gormley, Julie Hodson and Penny Demmin.

Also on the committee are Tom Pankau, Richard Clothier, Neil Lewis, Frank Florey, Charles Owens, Sigrid Freudenberg, and Dr. Brandt.

Committee meetings are held weekly, on Wednesday afternoons at 5 o'clock in Hayes House. Interested persons are invited to attend.

Dr. Gray (right), hands Kathy Smith, chairman of the Foreign Student Committee, a $50.00 check from UNESCO to help CC in its foreign student program. Looking on is Dr. Brandt, the faculty advisor to the Foreign Student Committee.

ASCC NOTES

By Bill Howell

The ASCC council announced that elections for student body president will be held on March 15 and 16. The two-day period is being given this year in an effort to get more people to vote.

Dr. Brandt, faculty advisor for the foreign student program, came to the council and asked that they pass a provision to put all the funds for foreign students into one account. He also asked that the head of the program be able to sign vouchers for all funds. The council granted both of these requests.

A pool of all the organizations is now underway because of proposed change in the by-laws. The new by-law states, Proposal for the revision of the by-law concerning absences. Substitute the following for article III section 1 (b) of the Student Council By-Laws.

Each organization listed in part (a) of this section must be represented at all meetings of the Council including those with the Committee on Undergraduate Life. Failure to comply with this requirement shall automatically result in the loss of voting privilege for the next four meetings. This by-law must be passed by the organizations by a two-thirds vote before it will be included in the ASCC Constitution.

World War II G.I. Bill Builds Up Nation's Trained Manpower

—Kappas vs Delta Gammas.

During the past decade, the World War GI Bill has helped build up the nation's reservoir of trained manpower in fields ranging from atomic physics to airplane mechanics and from medicine to the ministry.

Following a study of the records, the Veterans Administration disclosed that more than half of all the veterans who served in World War II have received GI Bill training since June, 1944.

Although training under World War II, the GI Bill will not expire until 1956, new enrollment for practically all World War II veterans came to an end in July, 1951, the deadline for starting training for the majority of the veterans. For the most part, the more than 200,000 veterans still in training are those who started their courses before the 1951 deadline. The peak of the World War II GI training program came in December, 1947. Current enrollments are only one-eighth of the peak and are still declining.

Dreams Really Can Come True With a Student Tour Aboard

To most students and teachers the thought of touring the historic lands of Europe, the Orient, or Latin America is but a tantalizing dream never to be fulfilled. But this dream really can come true, as thousands of young people are proving every year. The answers to some of the following pertinent questions may reveal how you too can discover that travel is an education in itself.

How Should I Travel?

Undoubtedly, the best way to travel is to join an organized tour group. In this way you are assured of the best attention, your travel worries are taken care of by the tour escort, you'll have fun with congenial fellow-travellers, and you'll receive a more rewarding return for your investment in every way.

By Whom Are Student Tours Operated?

A number of highly reputable companies make a specialty of tours for students, teachers, and young people. The Students' International Travel Association, the University Travel Company, Intercollegiate Tours, American Student Tours, Richelieu Institute, Columbia Tours, Gateway Tours, Brownell Tours, and Cook's Tours are representative of the best.

With Whom Will I Be Travelling?

With folk of your own age and interests, of both sexes. Parties are small enough to promote fun and fellowship.

Are These Tours Escorted?

Yes. Only tour managers and escorts are employed who are highly competent, experienced in foreign travel, and in disposition and training qualified to conduct young people's groups.

What Will It Cost Me?

As little as $590.00 for 54 days including the trans-Atlantic steamship fare; or as much as $2,000.00 if you want the de-lux treatment! There are prices for every purse. Prices are determined by the type of transportation, the class of accommodations, the particular features of the tour, etc. You may travel in Europe by train, motor-coach, car, air, cycle or on foot! You may stay in hotels, chalets, youth hostels, pensions, or schools, as you may desire. Some tour programs offer scholarships and grant-in-aid assistance.

What Do the Quoted Prices Generally Include?

Study carefully the printed material describing each particular tour for details. Prices generally include transatlantic fare, meals, accommodations, fees, and tips throughout.

Can I Obtain College Credit On a Tour?

Some tours do provide college credit. This must be pre-arranged with the sponsoring school concerned. If you wish to study abroad, you may—for example—attend a summer session of the University of Paris, London, or Florence for six weeks, with classes taught in English. Your room, board, tuition, local excursions and specified social functions for the entire period will cost you no more than $295.00. To this you would add transatlantic sea or air fares and any other travel program you might want to follow. There are some tours especially designed to fit in with

U.S. Civil Service Offers Exams for Student Aid Trainee Positions

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced examinations for Student Aid Trainee for filling positions in the fields of chemistry, physics, mathematics, metallurgy, and engineering.

To qualify, applicants must pass a written test and be college sophomores or juniors whose major is in one of the fields listed above. Further information and application forms may be secured at any post office throughout the country and from the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applicants wishing to take the March 27th test must file their applications not later than March 2, 1954.

Are There Student Tours to Countries Other Than Europe?

Yes. To Mexico, South America, Hawaii, and the Orient. There are tours of the United States. Or you may travel round the world! When Should I Commence making Arrangements for My Foreign Travel?

Immediately, if you plan to travel this year. Many tours have already been fully booked. It is never too soon to make your trip.

Where Can I Obtain Detailed Information on These Tours?

Two CC Students To Get National Newman Awards

In observance of National Cardinal Newman Day, Sunday, Feb. 28, the Colorado College Newman Club will hold a banquet at the Swiss Chalet.

At the banquet, Miss Patricia Costello, president of Our Lady, Seat of Wisdom Presidium of the Legion of Mary, and Thomas Pankau, president of the Colorado College Newman Club, will be presented with the John Henry Newman honorary award, the highest award National Newmanism presents.

The Legion of Mary, represented by Miss Costello, is being honored for the first time with the award, which is presented to those who further the work of the Newman Clubs across the nation.

Cardinal Newman became eminent in the Church of England as a leader of the Oxford Movement. He was received into the Catholic Church at the age of 45 and became a cardinal at the age of 78. He spent the last years of his life writing letters of advice to those who asked. He is best known for such writings as "The Idea of a University" and "The Grammar of Assent". He died at 89 after a life spent writing books and sermons. Today there are more than 600 Newman clubs on college campuses, with Cardinal Newman as their patron.

The Colorado College Newman Club and the Legion of Mary, with Rev. Robert Frudenstein as their director, exist to promote the spiritual, social, and intellectual welfare of the Catholic students at Colorado Springs.

Miss Costello is a native of Beaver Dam, Wis., and is a fac-

Male to Reign Supreme at Annual CC Turnabout Ball

The King of Goldiggers — the Sheik of CC, will be crowned tomorrow night by Mrs. William H. Gill. The dance will be held in the Broadmoor Hotel Ballroom February 27th from 9:30 to 12:30. One of the handsome, illustrious young men pictured will be crowned at 11 o'clock, the zero hour at the annual Goldiggers' Ball. He will receive, in addition to his crown, an engraved trophy. The student body chose their king at class meetings Tuesday. The voting was preceded by rousing campaign serenades given by the fraternities for each girls' dorm Monday night.

Don't forget to concoct a funny corsage or hat for your man, girls. You may win a loving cup which will be awarded during intermission. It's still not too late to get yourself a date and purchase a ticket for $2.00. Tickets for this AWS-sponsored turn-about dance are in the form of attractive favors and are now on sale at all the dormitories.

Chaperones for the evening are Dr. and Mrs. Henry Carter and Dr. and Mrs. Richard M. Fox. This big all-school dance is semi-formal. Proceeds from the dance go to the AWS Service Fund which is used for community and campus projects.

WALTHER AND WILKINS HEAD PSYCH DISCUSSION

There will be a meeting of the Psychology Club next Tuesday evening, March 2, in Lennox House at 7:00 p.m. The program will consist of a discussion headed by Phil Walther and Ned Wilkins. Both men are currently working on the degree of Master of Arts in psychology.

The discussion will be of interest to all those people who are considering the field of psychology as a major. All members and students enrolled in psychology courses are urged to attend.

Sororities Initiate 55 Over Week End

Last week end the four sororities initiated fifty-five girls. The following are the names of those who are now active members in the various chapters:

Kappa Kappa Gamma held initiation Saturday, February 20, for the following girls: Jean Boncutter, Jane Carroll, Alice Mary Crabtree, Peggy Deshong, Mary Louise Emmert, Barbara Jo Fellows, Jeanne Foster, Jean Gilbert,

Eleanor Graves, Lee Hammond, Eleanor McClintock, Carolyn McConnell, Lois McKenzie, Margaret Mathies, Maryjean Moore, Ann Quillen, Mary Ellen Rodgers, Joanne Samples, and Sue Stearnman. The neophytes were honored at a banquet following initiation at the El Paso Club. Also honored at the banquet were Martha Boettger, Leslie Sherman Lux, and Ellen Weingarten, who were initiated in October, 1953.

Gamma Phi Beta

Twelve girls were initiated into Gamma Phi Beta February 21st in a formal ceremony in Shove Chapel. The new initiates were honored with a formal banquet at the lodge Sunday evening. The guest speaker was Mrs. Dorothy P. Wing who spoke on the theme, "Building Gamma Phi Beta". Willa Freeman was awarded a plaque for outstanding pledge.

The new initiates include Judy Brown, Mound, Minn.; Sheila Bush, Honolulu, Hawaii; Sharon

Pan-Hel Officials Attend Regional Conference

Colorado College was one of the Colorado schools represented at a regional Pan-Hel conference held in Fort Collins on the Colorado A&M campus February 13. This conference is the only one of its kind held in the nation.

Attending from CC were Margie Epler, Pan-Hel president; Cindy Mitchell, president-elect; Vicki Hann, faculty advisor; and Miss Morgan. Discussions covered all phases of Pan-Hellenic activities, problems and projects. The 1955 conference will be held at CC.

Down Beat Magazine Sponsors National Song Writing Contest

DOWN BEAT magazine has underway one of the largest song writing contests ever attempted. Anyone may enter and every song submitted will be considered carefully.

The winning entry will be guaranteed publication of the song by one of the largest firms in the country, full scale promotion of the song on radio and TV, and a guarantee that the top song will be recorded by major artists or major labels. The board of judges for the contest includes the RCA Victor arranger and conductor, Hugo Winterhalter; the rest of the board is made up of men of equal caliber.

Each contestant must submit to DOWN BEAT magazine (2004 Calumet Ave., Chicago 16, Ill.), one complete copy of the song entry; a fully signed copy of the entry blank with the attached rules (Entry blanks and rules are in the February 24th issue or may be obtained directly from DOWN BEAT offices); a subscription for one year or more to DOWN BEAT, and payment for the subscription. Check the February 24th issue for the complete rules or drop a line to the DOWN BEAT offices for further information. Contest closes July 1, 1954.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

For cleaner, fresher, smoother smokes
From any pack you try,
Buy Lucky Strikes, so fully packed,
They're tops you can't deny.

Tom Gamblat

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason . . . enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better . . . always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

If you have argued with your gal,

COPR., THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

Visiting Teams Will Elect Queen for Hockey Tournament

Once again Colorado College will be the host of the National Collegiate Hockey Tournament. The tournament will be held March 11, 12, and 13 at the Broadmoor Ice Palace.

One of CC's lovely co-eds will have the privilege of reigning over the three-day festivities. The five girls who are vying for title of National Collegiate Hockey Tournament Queen are: Lee Hammond, a 17-year-old Kappa freshman from Del Norte, Colorado; hailing from Phoenix is LaNelle Beck, 18-year-old Theta freshman; also hailing from Phoenix, Ariz., is Mary Johnson, a 19-year-old Delta Gamma freshman; the Independent candidate is 18-year-old Cal Fisk from Tacoma, Wash., the Gamma Phi has chosen Nancy Tober, a sophomore from Crystal Lake, Ill.

The National Collegiate Hockey Tournament Queen will begin her reign by greeting the visiting teams at the airport, Wednesday, March 10 with her court Friday.

GUADALAJARA SUMMER SCHOOL

The accredited bilingual summer school, sponsored by the Universidad Autonoma de Guadalajara and members of the Stanford University faculty will be offered in Guadalajara, Mexico, June 27-August 7, 1954. Offerings include art, creative writing, folklore, geography, history, language and literature courses. $25 covers six weeks' tuition, board and room. Write Prof. Juan B. Ruel, Box K, Stanford University, Calif.

March 12, the Queen will rule over the reception held at the Broadmoor outdoor pool for the visiting teams. The Queen will have the honor of giving the trophies to winning teams on the final night of the tournament. The highlight of her reign will be the Hockey Dance held at the Broadmoor Saturday night.

The Hockey queen is elected by the votes of the host school, Colorado College, and some of the teams now under consideration for the tournament berths are Michigan, Minnesota, RPI, St. Lawrence and Boston College.

UNUSUAL STONES AND IVORY ARTIFACTS NOW ON DISPLAY AT COLLEGE MUSEUM

The museum of Colorado College is now featuring the display of an unusual collection of small stone and ivory artifacts, secured from Alaska and the Aleutian Islands. W. W. Postlethwaite, director of the CC museum, said that the large collection has been presented to the college by Lt. C. D. Young, formerly assigned to Ent Air Base and only recently transferred away. Lt. Young had served with the Air Force in Alaska and had an opportunity to study the long line of the Aleutian Islands to the west and south of Anchorage.

Most productive of the islands in Lt. Young's search for artifacts was Shemya, western-most island of the Aleutians. The island, uninhabited for 150 years, yielded bone tools, ivory and bone fish hooks, small ivory tools, arrow and projectile points and other interesting artifacts which had been buried in the sand.

Portions of human bones were also found, including a complete skull and fragments of another skull, two pieces of which fitted perfectly, showing the sutures. The lieutenant also found fishing net weights and net buoys.

The exhibit includes bones, carved in the shape of pestles, and parts of harpoons for killing porpoises and other game.

The collection now on exhibit was arranged by Postlethwaite and by Mrs. Claire C. Bymaster and Miss Joyce Somerville, museum assistants.

Postlethwaite reminded visitors that the college museum is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 until 12:00 o'clock in the mornings and from 1:30 to 4:30 o'clock in the afternoons. Hours on Saturday are from 8:30 to 12 noon.

Visitors are always welcome, without charge.

CC's museum is located on the second floor of Palmer Hall, on the campus.

Veterans May Shift Bachelor's Degree: Will Not Count As Undergrade

Veterans taking undergraduate college work under the Korean GI Bill may shift from one bachelor's degree to another, without having it count as their one and only change allowed under the law.

In order to make the change veterans must do it soon enough so as not to involve any more training time than was originally required to complete the course.

Colleges are still required to inform VA whenever a Korean GI Bill trainee changes the degree that he is working for. The school must certify that the change does not involve any extension of the training time; it also must give the name of the revised degree objective to which the veteran has changed.

The Korean GI Bill allows veteran-trainees to make no more than one change of course. A course change usually means a change in the professional or vocational objective for which the veteran is aiming.

DOWN TIME STAR BEAT'S

Weddings, and things associated with them, seem to play an important role in the professional and private life of RCA-Victor recording star, June Valli. A few months ago, while riding high with her Crying in the Chapel record hit, she entered a reasonable facsimile of a chapel—dry-eyed and happily, however—to wed popular Chicago disc jockey, Howard Miller. Then for an appropriate follow-up, June next cut A Pair of Old Shoes and a Bag of Rice for the Victor people, and it looks like the next big thing in records for June, along with the backing side, The Gypsy Was Wrong.

Matter of fact, it was a wedding in late 1950, that first gave impetus to June's career. One of the wedding guests was so impressed with June's impromptu vocalizing at the affair that he arranged for her appearance on a leading TV show. It was thru this that she met Harry Salter, noted musical director, and from then on Salter became the guiding hand behind June's career.

During 1951, June appeared on numerous TV shows, and played New York's fabulous La Vie En Rose night club. Also in 1951, she signed with Victor records, and turned out some outstanding discs for the label that year. It was during 1952, however, that June really became a nation-wide favorite, via her extensive work as featured vocalist on TV's Hit Parade. After leaving Hit Parade, June toured the leading clubs and theaters.

At present, June is making her home in Chicago. Aside from being a busy homemaker, she is appearing on a daily TV show with her husband, and occasionally making club dates in the Windy City. But most of all, she is devoting her time to being a happy bride—and maybe too, looking for more "wedding type" songs.

MUSIC ON CAMPUS: Sultry, Eartha Kitt, who is currently appearing in New Faces on the West Coast, was picked as Yale's 1954, date for the university's annual Junior prom. Before the ball,

Behind the Scenes in American Business

One outgrowth of the great increase in pre-school and school age children in the United States is a rising movement for communities predominately made up of middle-aged couples—small municipalities where nearly all the homes will be occupied by moderately well-off couples whose children are past school age.

Some areas where it is impractical to chop a community loose from its present taxing unit are attempting to reach the same end by increasing minimum lot sizes to tracts of a size the young householder can't afford to buy.

The idea is to defend the 50-year-olds, in their $25,000 homes, against the 25-year-olds at the other end of town, in their $8,000 houses, who vote taxes to expand schools to meet the needs of the one-third increase in school enrollment expected during the current decade.

Advantages of such havens are presented to the oldesters, since their promoters think there's a slight air of skulduggery about thus running out on a long-accepted obligation. Actually, educators and sociologists agree that it's a good deal. The old-timers' dragging of their heels on community projects sometimes gums up the works as much as their taxpaying ability helps pay for the improvements.

FACTOR'S DICTIONARY—Every business has its technical vocabulary, and sometimes a word picks up a special meaning quite strange to those who have met it only in its everyday guise. Such a word, among factors, is "notification."

The genuine old-line factor purchases the receivables of his clients, and assumes all the risks and costs involved in collecting from the client's customers—who thus become the factor's accounts. First step in this process is notification—the serving of notice by the factor's client, the seller, upon the buyer that his obligation is to the factor rather than the supplier of the goods.

While factoring has spread from its original stronghold in the textile industry into some 50 other industries in the last generation, many businesses still refuse to adopt this useful practice because

REAL HUMAN, AREN'T THEY? — A Philadelphia market research firm has prepared a booklet called "Charge Account Behavior of the Human Female." It is solemnly set forth that the charge customer buys more than the cash customer.

About 3.8 times as many charge customers show up in a given store as cash customers. Of 100 shoppers in each category, 57 charge account holders will buy something before they leave the store, whereas 57 of the others will march out with their money in their pocket.

The firm commissioning the research specializes in installing charge account systems for stores. Even though it has this obvious

THE JOY OF BEING AN EDITOR

Getting out this newspaper is no panic.

If we print jokes, people say we are silly.

If we don't tell they say we are too serious.

If we stick too close to the office all day,

We ought to be around hunting material.

If we go out and try to hustle,

We ought to be on the job in the office.

If we don't print contributions,

We don't appreciate genius;

And if we do print them, the paper is filled with junk!

If we edit the other fellow's write-up we're too critical;

If we don't, we're asleep.

If we clip things from other papers,

We are too lazy to write them ourselves.

If we don't we are stuck on our own stuff.

Now, like as not, some guy will say,

We swiped this from some magazine.*

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By Bill Riley

It's Michigan and Minnesota as the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League representatives in the N.C.A.A. tournament to be held here March 11-13.

Minnesota's triumph over Denver last Monday together with CC's two victories over North Dakota last week end cleared the way for Michigan and Minnesota. These decisions also moved CC up to fourth place in the standings, one above arch rival Denver University.

Minnesota clinched a tie for the league championship last Monday night when they won a one sided contest from Denver 7-3. Minnesota's star Johnny Mayasich led the way with two goals and three assists for the game. This put Mayasich only five goals below his record of 78 which he established last season.

The CC victories over North Dakota were the biggest surprise of the week, as they knocked the highly touted Nodaks out of a chance for the championship tournament. Hustling Don Hersack was a major factor in both CC victories.

Michigan slipped last week and tied Michigan State 0-0, but pulled up the next night to edge the Spartans 3-2. The win preserved Michigan's standing, a first place tie with Minnesota.

Standings: Minnesota and Michigan, North Dakota, Colorado College, Denver, Michigan State, Michigan Tech.

Basketball
Montana State surprised everyone last week with a double win over Idaho State, at Bozeman. Only one of these counted as a conference game though and M. State had to content themselves with second place in the Rocky Mountain Conference. The second loss, 60 to 70, was the first conference defeat for Idaho State in two seasons. Ironically enough, it was their last league game of this season.

The game was nip and tuck up until just before halftime. At that time the score was knotted 25 to 25. Then Montana State caught fire and went on to win with little trouble.

Meanwhile CC was giving

Colorado State a gallant fight at Greeley but finally succumbed 50 to 56. This game was also close all the way. The Bears pulled away to a 6 point lead in the fourth quarter and altho the Tigers put up a good rally they couldn't make up the deficit. Fred Fieck was the main threat of the evening with 18 points and many rebounds for CC. This loss gave CC a permanent place in the league cellar for this season.

RMC competition is concluded this week as Colorado State meets Western State in two games—Friday and Saturday at Gunnison.

Also this week Montana State takes on Montana University in two games. CC closed her season Wednesday night against Adams State.

Women's Intramural Basketball Tourney Underway at CC

The Women's Intramural Basketball Tournament began last Thursday, Feb. 18th at Cossitt gym. The four sororities and the Independent organization have entered the tournament.

Four games have been played up to this point. The Independents won the first game by beating the Kappas, 25-21. In the second game, the Thetas took a loss from the Gamma Phis with an 18-10 score. On Saturday the Independents won a second game by beating the Gamma Phis, 22-18. The same afternoon, Delta Gammas trounced the Thetas, 32-7.

The remaining games will be played Saturday and Sunday afternoon. The schedule is as follows:
Thurs., Feb. 25—7:15 p.m.—Delta Gammas vs. Independents;
8:30 p.m.—Gamma Phi vs. the Kappas.

Sat., Feb. 27—1:15 p.m.—The Gamma Phis vs. Delta Gammas;
2:45 p.m.—Kappas vs. Thetas.

Sun., Feb. 28—2:15 p.m.—The Thetas vs. Independents; 3:45 p.m.

Intra-Mural BILLBOARD

By Tom Reichert

In last week's intramural competition the Sigs lost to a hustling Phi Delt squad to the tune of 45-39. Spears took individual scoring honors for the Phi with a total of 30 points.

The Betas got past the Independents 48-38 in the second game Tuesday evening. Khronke led the Beta five with seven field goals and a charity shot.

The Phi Gams once again hit the "comeback trail" as they defeated a strong Phi Delt team 56-38. Schwartz missed a great deal of his shots but still came out "big man" for the night with 19 points.

The Kappa Sigs continue to lead the pack going into the second half of the tournament.

Bengals Push Ahead of D. U. In Western Hockey Standings

The Colorado College Tigers moved into fourth place last week end by downing a stubborn North Dakota six 5 to 3 and 2 to 1, while Denver remained idle in league play. In the latter game little Don Hersack scored the winning goal with 2:38 remaining in the final stanza. These losses will keep North Dakota from qualifying in the NCAA tournament here March 11-13. In the first of two games played at the Broadmoor Ice Palace the Bengals finally overcame a 3 to 2 lead in the final period when Don Demore tied the score after 2:35 had elapsed. Approximately ten minutes later Ken Smith broke the tie when he faked North Dakota's goalie, Jerry Schultz, out of position. Hal Cowan and Don Demore got an assist on the play.

C-State Whips CC; Tigers Finish Last

Colorado State spoiled CC's bid to climb out of the Rocky Mountain Conference cellar as the Bears rolled to a hard fought 56-50 win over the Tigers last Saturday at Greeley.

Ed Booles and Earl Sanstedt paced the Bears with 19 and 14 markers respectively. Ed Fieck led the Tigers with 18 points followed by Tom Dunton who pitched in 12 for the losing cause.

Wednesday night the Tigers picked up their sixth win of the campaign with a bitterly contested 66-63 win over the Ent Air Base Dukes. The win was the second straight over the Dukes who dropped an earlier 68-63 decision to Coach Eastlack's charges.

CC jumped off to a 15-6 first quarter lead but the Dukes, paced by Bill "Goose" Brown and Curt Peterson narrowed the gap to 31-25 at the end of the first half. The Tigers clung determined to the lead during the third period and led 44-41 at the outset of the final canto Ent sunk two quick baskets to put the visitors ahead 45-44. The advantage was short lived, however, as Doug Little connected for a two pointer and a pair of free throws to send CC back in front 48-47. Little, Vilmont and Blaney all hit for baskets to up the lead 55-49.

The persistent Dukes continued to apply the pressure and drove up to a 58-58 tie with 2:35 remaining. The Tigers weathered the storm however as Lovelace split the cords for a pair of baskets and Vilmont pitched in another to insure the win.

Grant Blaney led the Tiger scorers with 19 markers to his credit followed by Little and Vilmont with 13 apiece. Brown hit for 14 and Peterson 13 to pace the Ent onslaught.

Colorado State will seek to clinch third place in the Rocky Mountain Conference when the Bears clash with Western State in a pair of league encounters next week end in Gunnison.

The Bears need only one win to clinch the third place spot while the best the Mountaineers can hope for is a tie.

Idaho State has already won the RMC crown and will play Seattle University in the opening round of the NCAA tourney at Corvallis, Oregon.

Colorado College wound up in the cellar position with only one league win in ten starts.

fur, in an attempt for victory, yanked his goalie out with a minute and a half left to play in favor of an extra forward. However, this backfired as Ken Smith scored his second goal of the period on a back handed shot from forty feet out to make the score 5 to 3.

Marsolais and Hilton got credit for assists on the play. This just aggravated N. D. as Cherski slammed the puck home again using the same tactics as before on Kinsley. He did this a minute after the Bengals had tied the score.

At 13:56 ND's Geatz made the score 5 to 1 as he took a rebound off the goal post and banged it past Kinsley. C. Smith and Rompre collaborated on a beautiful pass to Robson who bagged a goal with four minutes left in the period to make the score 3 to 2.

Before a packed Saturday night crowd of 2700 people, which included Gen. and Mrs. Matthew B. Ridgway, the CC Tigers got off to a flying start after a scoreless first period when Demore slapped home the puck from in front of the cage. D. Hersack and K. Smith got assists on the marker.

In the final stanza Wade tied up the score temporarily on a pass from Novack at 2:44. However, this 1 to 1 tie just set up the stage for Don Hersack's winning tally.

D.U. Hosts Tigers To End Series

Colorado College will travel to Denver this week end for a one game stand Saturday night in hopes of evening the series for the season with rival D.U.

The Tigers will be out for their second win against D.U. while the Denver boys will be trying for their third in the series. D.U. won the first game of the year played over the holidays and in the January series the teams split in two thrillers.

At present, the Tigers are ahead of DU in league standings by a very slight margin and the game will mean a fourth or fifth for either team. CC moved into fourth last weekend by defeating North Dakota in a two game series coupled with Denver's loss to Minnesota.

Denver, previously riding in third place, fell in rank as a result of their eastern road trip in which they won a two-game series from Michigan State but dropped two to the league leading Gophers.

AWS Board Posts To Be Filled Next Thurs. at Ticknor

The Associated Women Students board will hold a meeting for all those interested in being on the board next year in the A.W.S. room in Ticknor on Thursday, March 11, at 7:00 p.m. Being on the board for one year is one of the prerequisites for being president of A.W.S. In addition it is a way of participating in CC student government.

Any town girls (or others) who did not attend Monday night organizational meetings, at which the procedure for becoming a member of the board was partially explained, but who are interested, are urged to attend the Thursday meeting in the A.W.S. room.

The appointed committee chairman will be working closely with the executive board elected last week. These girls are Patsy Reeves, president; Sue Williams, vice president; Sue Stearman, secretary, and Marion Shaw, treasurer. Committee chairman positions which are to be filled are social, publicity, personnel, song, writing, scholarship, service, and vocational guidance.

Chairmanship of the A.W.S. social committee this year has been held by Sue Williams. As social chairman, she was in charge of the Goldiggers' Ball and helped to integrate the efforts of social chairman of many other campus groups.

Conducting surveys on student activities and planning the AWS Carnival Night are among the duties of the personnel committee which was headed by Cindy Mitchell this year.

The vocational guidance committee chairman, who was Anne Pinkney this year, has the job of cooperating in the many projects of the CC Vocational Guidance Center. Her work is knit carefully with that of the scholarship chairman, who this year made the arrangements for the A.W.S. scholarship dinner for freshman women and the dormitory scholarship awards. Mary Ellen Cuthruds held this job of the retiring board.

Following the example set by Sue Beer as service chairman will be a big job which will include planning blood drives, running the A.W.S. Book Store, and coordinating student efforts with community service agencies.

The new publicity chairman should have new ideas and projects in mind, but can expect to follow some previous plans, like writing the Newsletter and articles for the TIGER, doing lay-out work on "Tigress Tips, and painting posters. This year Marion Shaw has been in

Jenkins Will Skate Exhibition Saturday At Hockey Game

Hayes Alan Jenkins, just back from winning his second straight World's Figure Skating Championship at Oslo, Norway, will skate a special exhibition for CC students between the periods of the CC vs. University of British Columbia hockey game Saturday night, March 6.

Following his crown-winning performance, Jenkins was invited to skate in exhibition all over Europe. Many invitations he had to decline. However, he did skate five exhibition performances, one at Copenhagen, Denmark; one each at Daves and Arosen, Switzerland, and two at Paris, France. Jenkins flew directly from Paris to Colorado Springs, arriving on Tuesday, March 2.

Sully Kothman and Lucille Ash, recent winners of the North American Pairs Skating title, will also skate an exhibition performance Saturday night.

Slocum Hall Name of New Men's Dorm; to Be Ready for Use Sept. 1

Colorado College's new $670,000 men's residence hall has been named Slocum Hall.

The hall, which will be ready for occupancy September 1, 1954, was named in honor of Dr. William Frederick Slocum, president of Colorado College from 1888-1917. Dr. Slocum was responsible in large measure for the establishment of the college's reputation as one of the leading liberal arts schools in the country.

President William H. Gill released the news Saturday, along with other important items concerning residence halls and residence regulations on the CC campus.

The CC president said that, with the naming of the new men's hall, the name of the women's residence at 24 College Place has been changed from Slocum House to Tenney House. This is in honor of CC's second president, Edward P. Tenney, who served from 1876-1884.

President Gill also announced that the Board of Trustees had Pres. Gill stated that Jackson House, a men's residence, will be used temporarily for women, beginning September 1, 1954. This will permit the housing of all out-of-town women students on the campus. It is planned that Jackson House will again be available for men's housing upon completion of the new women's residence hall.

The new hall for women is the next immediate objective in the college's building program. College officials have expressed hope that this building will be completed by 1955.

Slocum Hall, the new men's building, will be dedicated at commencement exercises in June. It will be one of the most complete dormitories of its kind and will provide living accommodations for 100 men. In addition to an attractive lounge and well-equipped recreation room, a sundeck and a patio will provide excellent facilities for leisure-time activities.

All out-of-town unmarried men students will be housed, insofar as possible, in the men's residence or in fraternity houses.

Hagerman Hall will continue to house men students next year.

Phi Beta Kappa Elects 16 Students As New Members

Colorado College's chapter of Phi Beta Kappa has named 14 seniors and two juniors to membership in the select honorary scholastic fraternity. Dr. Thomas Ross, chapter president, announced today.

The two juniors, who were selected on the basis of academic excellence in three years of college work, are Marion Shaw of Colorado Springs and Marcin Manning of Denver. Miss Shaw is majoring in physics, and Miss Manning is majoring in French and German.

Five of the seniors elected are from Colorado Springs. They are Pamela Adams (English), Arthur Erickson (physics), Paul V. Evans (political science), Margaret Godfrey (German and chemistry), and Vipa Salmins (zoology).

The other seniors, who were elected as a result of academic excellence during their entire college careers, are as follows:

Florence Bye Brown (geology and physics), Glen Mills, Pa.; Barbara Ann Hogan (psychology), Sugar City, Colo.; Sally LeRoi (English), Baton Rouge, La.; Gail Lund (English), Park, Ill.; Fava Paulich (art), Yuma, Minn.; Anne Pinkney (economics), Trinidad, Colo.; Georgina Shaw (music), Wichita, Kan.; Kathleen Smith (French and German), South Bend, Ind.; and Barbara Trotter Weiskopf (sociology), Toronto, Ont., Canada.

The 16 new initiates will join with the Colorado College chapter and local members of Phi Beta Kappa in a gala initiation banquet April 26 at the Broadmoor hotel.

Following the banquet the group will adjourn to Perkins Hall to hear a talk by E. Pomfret, director of the Huntington Library in Pasadena, Calif., and former president of William and Mary College.

Pomfret's lecture, which will be open to the public, and the initiation banquet are scheduled as part of the CC chapter's 50th anniversary celebration.

ASCC Constitutional Amendment Must Be Ratified by Students

The ASCC constitution states that any proposed amendment to that document must be printed in THE TIGER and must be ratified by a student body election within three weeks of that printing.

The council wished all students to familiarize themselves with the following amendments:

Article IV, Section 3, pertaining to the Jurisdiction Committee: "One of the student members of the committee is to be appointed by the president of ASCC to serve as chairman."

Article IV, Section 6, which pertains to the reviewing of cases by the C.U.L., was amended as follows: "If the Undergraduate Committee disagrees with the decisions of the Student Council, a joint session of the Undergraduate Committee and the Student Council shall be called; and a decision shall be reached by a majority vote of the joint session."

Kappa Sigs Commemorate Anniversary of Chapter

Friday, March 12, will mark the 50th anniversary of the Beta Omega chapter of Kappa Sigma. A birthday party to celebrate the event will be held at the Antlers Hotel and will be sponsored by the alumni. A banquet, which will include several speakers, will highlight the evening. From the local chapter, Art Shoup will act as chairman and George Weege will take charge of reservations.

Selective Service Applications For April 22 Test Due March 8

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, today reminded college students that the deadline for submitting applications for the April 22nd Selective Service College Qualification Test is midnight Monday, March 8, and that applications postmarked after that time cannot be considered. Application blanks and information bulletins, with sample questions, may be obtained by students from the nearest local board. They do not have to write their own local board to secure an application. Students are to make their completed applications to Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey.

To be eligible to apply for the college qualification test a student must (1) intend to request deferment as a student; (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction; and (3) must not have previously taken the Selective Service Qualification Test.

The April 22, 1954 test is the last one scheduled for this school year. Students whose academic year will end in June are urged to take the April 22nd test so they will have a test score in their cover sheets before the end of their academic year, at which time their boards reopen and reconsider their cases to determine whether they should be again deferred as students.

The present criteria for deferment as an undergraduate student are either a satisfactory score (70) on the Selective Service College Qualification Test or specified rank in class (upper half of the males in the freshman class, upper two thirds of the males in the sophomore class, or upper three fourths of the males in the junior class).

IDEALS and GOALS OF COLORADO COLLEGE

The Colorado College motto reads: Scientia et Disciplina, knowledge and intellectual discipline. "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free" stands inscribed on Palmer Hall. In accordance with this motto and this inscription, the college proposes to educate students, not merely to train them as specialists. It seeks to graduate men and women of mature character and discriminating minds. It is a liberal arts college devoted to the personal relationship and intellectual association of teacher and student. Its goal is to nurture individuals who know and prize the supreme ideals of Christian tradition; freedom, equality and brotherhood. With this objective the college sets specifically the following goals:

To help its students achieve self-reliance without losing humility.

To guide them in the development of self-control and the habit of considerate conduct toward others.

To prepare them for active and intelligent participation as citizens.

To seek with them a knowledge of God and to provide the occasion for worship.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA, DANCE GROUP, STAGE CREW ASSIST OPERA PRODUCTION

Twenty-five members of the Colorado Springs Symphony Orchestra have volunteered their services to accompany "The Tales of Hoffman" under the baton of Louis Huber on the opera program scheduled for next Tuesday and Wednesday (March 9 and 10) in Perkins Hall. Frances Pond and Carlton Gamer will be the pianists.

Molly Lynn's CC Dance Group will appear in the 'dream pantomime scene" of "Hansel and Gretel"; "angels" in the ballet are Laurie Archer, Lowie Sharpe, Alice Clynn, Barbara Jorgans, Jane Muir, Ann Jakeman, Elaine Mitus, Cal Fisk, Daryth Erickson, Jill Morton, and Marjo Hess. Singing in the chorus are Marilyn Clark, Suzanne Hendricks, Marty Stinson, Barbara McAllister and Pat Freehand.

Chief Woodson Tyree and a stage crew consisting of Bruce Hauser, Bob Kicklighter, Rita McCullough, and Charles O'Fallon, are in charge of lighting, sets, and construction. Marilyn Juhas is assisting Mr. Jiminez, stage director, with properties.

Richard Rosenfeld, scholarship student at the Fine Arts Center, designed and executed the posters. Mr. Rosenfeld is also miming the comic role of Scapin in "Ambitious Servant Girl".

Costumes for "School for Fathers" and "Tales of Hoffman" were designed and made especially for this production by Gordon's of New York and Denver.

The cast includes Cecilia Lomo, Carl Martins and Richard Rosenfeld in Pergolesi's "Ambitious Servant-Girl"; Lois Cott, Mary Jo Ahern and Olga Yukich in "Hansel and Gretel".

Sigs Head for Denver For Gala "All Sig Day"

If the campus seems strangely quiet in the vicinity of the Sigma Chi house this Saturday—"All Sig Day" is the reason. Tomorrow almost the entire chapter will head for Denver to participate in the annual Sigma Chi function which will include representatives of all the chapters in this province. The festivities will last all day and will include a basketball tournament, song fest and other competitive activities for which trophies will be awarded. A province banquet will be held in the evening during which there will be speeches by prominent Sigs. Following the dinner, the various chapters will meet to discuss fraternity business.

Comedy Keynote Of Forthcoming Opera Production

Colorado Springs music lovers will have an opportunity to hear a seldom-performed work at the forthcoming CC Opera Lab production on March 9 and 10. Wolf-Ferrari's "I Quattro Rusteghi" ("School for Fathers"), which had its first performance in 1906, had a belated and enthusiastic premiere in 1951 in New York. Although it enjoyed tremendous public and critical acclaim—Olin Downes, of the New York Times, described it as "a delectable bonbon of a comic opera"—it has not been presented elsewhere in the country. The first act is being produced by the local college group.

The title has been translated as "The Four Ruffians" and "The Four Rustics," as well as "School for Fathers." It refers to the prosperous, obstinate old-fashioned city merchants devoid of social graces—four "solid citizens"—who planned to marry off their children without allowing them to meet until their wedding day.

The action is set in Venice at carnival time towards the middle of the eighteenth century, and the music has all the grace, wit, melodic spontaneity and charm of the Italian tradition.

"La Serva Padrona" (ambitious servant girl) by Pergolesi is the curtain-raiser for the evening of comic opera in English. Pergolesi is the obvious musical ancestor of Wolf-Ferrari; and this work, particularly, has served as a model for all Italian and French opera buffa. It tells the story of Zerlina, Dr. Pandolfo's coquettish servant who has determined to become his wife.

The remainder of the evening will be devoted to acts from "Hansel and Gretel" and "Tales of Hoffman".

Nation's Top Hockey Teams Arrive March 10 for Tourney

Once again it is time for the 7th annual National Collegiate Hockey Tournament. This event was first held at the Broadmoor in 1948 and the games have been played off there every year thereafter. Michigan has emerged victorious four out of six times and in 1950 CC reigned supreme.

The 1954 tournament festivities will begin Wednesday, March 10, with the arrival of the Minnesota team at 1:00 p.m.

At 5:00 of the same day, the Michigan team will land in the Springs on a chartered DC-6. St. Lawrence and Boston College will also be present for the tournament. The two planes will be met by the queen and her court, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and any CC students who wish to be there are welcome to attend.

The first event of this annual affair will be Friday afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m. A reception for the teams will be held at the Broadmoor pool with the queen and her attendants and twenty-five CC co-eds playing the role of hostesses. The whole tournament will be hosted entirely by CC.

The first game will be played Thursday night. The sign for beginning will be the dropping of the puck onto the ice by the queen. A game will take place Friday night and the one on Saturday afternoon will decide which team is to be awarded third place. Tickets can still be obtained for the first three games but none are available for the finals Saturday night.

Following standard tradition, an all-school "Champion's Dance" will follow Saturday night's game in the Broadmoor ballroom. Bob McGrew and his orchestra will be on hand to provide the entertainment. The dance is being held at no cost to the student body and all CC students are urged to attend this final festivity which will formally close the 7th annual National Collegiate Hockey Tournament.

'Easy Ed' Is Campus King at Goldiggers

The annual Goldiggers' Ball is over for another year and the girls are walking around with empty pocket books but they agree that it was well worth it. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Goldiggers' king. Phi Delta Ed MacGuire took the honors as the "Shiek of the Campus" and was crowned by Mrs. Gill. Ed was also given a trophy in commemoration of this honor.

From a leisurely dinner the crowd began to move in the direction of the Broadmoor and with the cooperation of Bob McGrew and his band dancing began at 9:30. The girls, with ready cash on hand, smothered their dates all evening with cigarettes and beverages, not to mention filets. Articles purchased at old rummage sales, auctions, or Woolworth's, were used to make up the corsages.

The choosing of the best corsage was difficult as there were so many strange and delightful concoctions worn by the men. But in the final analysis the corsage made by Julie Hodson and sported by Tom Pankau took the prize which was in the form of a cup.

Thanks and appreciation from the student body go to Sue Williams and her committee for the success of the dance.

Tigers Drop Swim Crown; Capture 3rd In RMC Meet

Colorado College finished third in the RMC swimming meet held last Saturday at Colorado State College.

Having lost the nucleus of last year's championship team, Coach Stabler defended his title with seven men, just under half as many as each of the other teams. The seven, led by Mike Pierce, fulfilled the coach's faith in them in an exceptional manner; all seven of them placed at least third in one event or more. This is an outstanding showing as over half of C. State's championship team did not place. Medals were given for the first three places, so each CC participant came home with at least one medal.

Pierce, a transfer student from Arizona University, was the sparkplug for the CC team. He tied the conference record for the 50 yard free style (25.0 seconds), won the 100 yard free style and anchored the 400 yard free style relay to second place.

Harvey and Lungo each came home with two medals each for CC. Harvey placed third in the 50 yard freestyle and swam second on the 400 yard relay. Lungo swam first on the same relay and anchored the medley relay to a third place.

Duane Wolfe picked up a third place in the diving for his medal. Dave Brown and George Kenry received medals for the medley relay; Kenry also placed fifth in the 100 yard backstroke.

Wally Harmon, this year's captain, swam third on the 400 yard freestyle relay.

Coach Stabler praised his men highly and looked forward to next year since none of the seven will graduate this spring.

Colorado State walked away with first place and broke four records in the process. The four teams entered finished in the following order:

Colorado State	132 pts.
Colorado Mines	69 pts.
Colorado College	38 pts.
Idaho State	20 pts.

Delta Gammas Win Basketball Tourney; Independents Second

Delta Gamma won the Women's Intramural Basketball Tournament Sunday by winning all their games in the tournament which started Feb. 18.

The remaining six games were played last Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. The Delta Gammas defeated the Independents 41-28 and the Kappas lost to the Gamma 33-22 in games played Thursday. On Saturday the Delta Gammas won over the Gamma Phi 36-26 and the Thetas were victorious over the Kappas 31-26. On Sunday the Delta Gammas assured themselves the title by defeating the Kappas 36-18. In the other game played the Independents won from the Thetas 34-16.

Final Standings:

Delta Gamma	4	0
Independents	3	1

CC BENGALS CLOSE HOCKEY SEASON AGAINST BRITISH COLUMBIA SEXTET

British Columbia University will provide Colorado College with its final hockey opposition of the year when the Thunderbirds invade the Broadmoor ice for a pair of games tomorrow and Monday nights. The Bengals will be facing their third Canadian team this year in an effort to close the campaign on a successful note. CC battled the Edmonton Oil Kings and Saskatchewan University earlier in the year.

Coach Dick Mitchell will bring a squad of 17 to Colorado Springs in an attempt to snap CC's streak of seven wins and one tie on the home ice. BC's first line consists of Bill Sherwood and Jim McMahon at the wing spots, Jim Todd at center and Cliff Frame and Mike Girod on defense. The Canadians' second line has Dick Hawrelak and Roger Stanton at the forward posts, Maurice Cunningham at center and Bob Gilhooley and Bob Giegerich on defense.

Coach Cheddy Thompson's sextet will be after wins number 14 and 15 and their fourth and fifth straight over Canadian opposition. The Bengals wound up Western League action last weekend dropping a 6-2 decision to arch-rival Denver University.

All of Thompson's charges appear to be in good shape with the exception of defense Bob Hersak who has been advised not to compete for the remainder of the campaign due to illness.

Adams State Drop CC Tigers, 77-40 In Season Finale

The curtain came down on the 1953-54 basketball season as the Colorado College Tigers absorbed a 77-40 drubbing from the Adams State Indians at Alamosa Feb. 24.

Adams State hung up a 22-5 first quarter advantage and then coasted easily to avenge an earlier defeat handed to them by the Tigers last December.

Ignas Lucero hit for 17 markers to pace the Indians' attack followed by Reed with 14. John Vilmont matched Lucero's output to lead CC's onslaught.

The loss was the Tigers' 14th of the year against six wins for a percentage of .300. In the Rocky Mountain Conference the Tigers finished last with a 1-9 slate. The only league win came last month over Colorado Mines.

Coach Red Eastlack's crew launched the campaign against Colorado A&M at Fort Collins where they took two decisive trouncings at the hands of the Skyline Conference champions. The Tigers then returned home where they swept victories from Friends University, Adams State, Ent Air Base and the Alumni, before the Christmas vacation.

CC lost their winning touch after the holidays as they dropped a pair of league encounters to Western State followed by another loss to Colorado State. The Tigers then took to the road but learned they should stay at home as both Montana State and Idaho State dumped the locals twice.

Regis of Denver blasted Eastlack's crew in a couple of non-conference affairs to extend CC's losing streak to nine. The Tigers came out of the doldrums long enough to whip Colorado Mines before bowing to the Orediggers in a second match.

Colorado State edged the Tigers for the second time dominating CC to a last place finish in the RMC.

Ent Air Base was the final Tiger victim as the Dukes dropped their second game to the locals.

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By Bill Riley

RMC teams finished their basketball seasons last week with two conference contests and three non-conference. CC dropped one 77 to 40 in a vastly improved Adams State team at Alamosa. The Tigers had won one from Adams State early in the season by a close margin and were expected to take them again but couldn't come through.

Colorado State and Western State split a two game series which kept the standings intact, with the Bears in third and Western State fourth. Meanwhile Montana State was busy taking two from Montana U. and Idaho State was trimming Rocky Mountain College in two other tilts.

Montana State is playing in this year's NAIA tournament (district 50) being held this last week in Bonanza, Idaho. State is to participate in the Western NCAA playoffs at Corvallis, Ore., March 9.

Denver knocked off CC last week (6 to 2) to make the only change of the week in the hockey league's standings. The defeat dropped CC from undisputed fourth place to a tie with DU.

Minnesota went on to drop Denver again (7 to 3) and win the title by two points. Later on in the week Minnesota dropped to Michigan but neither game made a difference in the standings.

Michigan Tech and Michigan State split a pair last week to give Tech its first conference win of the season. It didn't help much as State remained in sixth place with two victories.

Johnny Mayasich (Minn.) could do no better than tie his record of last year of 78 points. He was held scoreless in his last conference game of the season against Michigan. Dick Dougherty, also of Minn., tied another record. He has 42 goals this season to tie Mayasich's record of last year. Ben Cherski of North Dakota has a good chance of breaking this, however, as he has 40 goals now and two games remaining.

Denver takes on British Columbia University tonight in Denver and CC tackles them Saturday and Monday to wind up the season for the Tigers. Michigan closes out the season against Windsor, Ont., at Ann Arbor Friday and Saturday.

Students accepted for admission or attending a graduate school prior to July 1, 1951, satisfy the criteria if their work continues to be satisfactory. Graduate students admitted or attending after July 1, 1951, must have been in the upper half of their classes during their senior year or make a score of 75 or better on the test. It is not mandatory for local boards to defer students who meet the criteria.

Gen. Hershey has emphasized many times that the criteria are a flexible yard stick used to guide the local boards and that the standards may be raised any time necessary for manpower demands.

The April 22nd test will be the twelfth administration of the test since the program was inaugurated in May, 1951. To date, more than 500,000 students have taken the test. Approximately 63% of this number made a score of 70 or better on the test.

The intramural bowling tournament is tomorrow, March 6 (2:00 p. m.) at the Sport Bowl.

Seven teams including the faculty five will compete on a tournament basis.

Juan Reid, dean of men, has promised an extra week of spring vacation to anyone topping his score. It's every man for himself, with the team on top receiving five points in the official league standing for its effort.

In intramural activity last week Kroehnke led the Betas to a 53 to 52 rout over the Sigs. Bob put 22 points thru the net to insure the victory.

The Kappa Sigs moved a step closer to the championship as they battered the Phi Deltas 55 to 36. "Bevo" Conroy (K Sig) took scoring honors with 17.

MINNESOTA, MICHIGAN, B. C., RPI IN TOURNEY

Minn., Boston Coll. in Opener Tonight; Mich. to Play RPI in Friday Night Game

Queen for the National Collegiate Hockey Tournament is Miss LaNelle Beck of Phoenix, Ariz. She is a freshman at Colorado College, host school for the tournament for the seventh straight year. Her escort is her fiance, Ed Robson of Melrose, Mass., one of the stars of the CC hockey team, which took part in the tournament during its first five years. The tourney is being held at the Broadmoor Hotel Ice Palace in Colorado Springs, Colo., on March 11, 12, and 13.

Queen LaNelle Beck Reigns Over '54 Hockey Festivities

Chosen to reign over the four-day festivities of the forth coming National Collegiate Hockey Tournament is Miss LaNelle Beck, 18-year-old freshman at Colorado College. Selected as a result of the balloting of the nation's top ranking hockey teams, the Phoenix, Arizona beauty is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. LaNelle attended North Phoenix High school before coming to CC and is interested in swimming, riding and skating.

The queen of this annual event will reign over the entire tournament. Last Wednesday LaNelle and her court which consists of Cal Fish, Nancy Tober, Lee Hammond, and Mary Johnson, met the Minnesota team at the airport early in the afternoon and was present for the arrival of the RPI, Boston and Michigan teams later in the day. This afternoon from 3-5 she and 25 CC co-eds will be hostesses at a reception in honor of the visiting teams at the Broadmoor hotel. LaNelle will be presented each night at center ice by the two captains of the playing teams. She will assist with the tournament officials in presenting trophies, awards, plaques and medals and will reign at the "Champion's Dance" at the Broadmoor Saturday night.

Minnesota and Boston College will initiate tournament play Thursday night in the opening of the seventh annual National Association Hockey Tournament held at the Broadmoor Ice Palace tonight through Saturday. Pairings for this year's tourney were drawn Monday morning in the office of Gen. William H. Gill, CC school president. CC is host school for the hockey players "Rose Bowl" which includes two top teams from the east.

Minnesota and Michigan drew the bid from the Western Collegiate Ice Hockey League for the second year in a row. From the east will be Boston College and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. RPI is the tournament repeater from the east with Boston College replacing last year's Boston University team.

Face-off for tonight's game and the Michigan-RPI game, slated for tomorrow night, is set for 8:15 p.m. Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m., the two losers will play for the consolation title, and Saturday evening at 8:15 the two first round winners will square off for the championship game.

Last year in the first round Minnesota edged RPI 3-2 for a championship berth along with Michigan who outscored Boston 11-14-12. Michigan, in the final game, turned back Minnesota 7-3 and RPI won the consolation game.

Michigan, though placed behind Minnesota in league standings, will return as the tournament favorite this year. This trip will mark the Wolverines' seventh straight trip to the tourney and they will be pulling for their fourth straight championship.

The Gophers will enter the tourney in hopes of gaining their first national title. The boys (from Minnesota) won the Western League crown this year but fell to Michigan three out of their four games this year.

RPI recorded a 16-5 record this year. Rensselaer stepped into the Western League once this year and found the gong a little rough as our own Tigers sent them home with an 8-3 loss.

Boston College, the only eastern team to win the title, will return to the tournament for the fifth time. The Eagles will enter the tourney with a 17-2 mark.

Officials for this year's tourney will be Ed Barry of Boston, Charles McVeigh of Detroit, and Robert Myre of Denver.

Three Candidates Vie for ASCC Head

Elections for ASCC president will be Tuesday, March 16, with polls open in Palmer from 10:30 in the morning to 1:15 in the afternoon.

The three candidates are Dick Clothier, Phi Gamma Delta; Bill Fritz, Phi Gamma Delta; and Bill Howell, Beta Theta Pi.

Cripple Creek Summer Jobs for 28 Now Open

The Imperial Hotel at Cripple Creek, Colo., is accepting applications for summer jobs, and is interested in employing college students. There are nine different jobs open to men, four to women, and one for either sex; 28 persons will be employed.

Employment is usually from June 6th through September 6th, unless other arrangements are made with the employer. Room and board are furnished on all jobs.

Information may be obtained at the Counseling Center in Tickenor Hall. The Center is open afternoons five days a week. "Drop-ins" are requested to come on Monday or Tuesday afternoon between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

John Zerbe will take the part of a Negro servant, Australia; Clare Neill, a tourist guide who was just as Southern as the name Maybelle Tucker implies; and Jim Thomas portrays Avery Randall, a banker. The part of Emaline Randall, his wife,

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

During the past year, one of the evils which beset government and colleges alike has been receiving an increasingly hostile regard from the students of Colorado College. The problem is that of "leaf-raking" and "over-committee-ing."

Resentment is heard at student leadership conferences and in general conversation.

In an effort to determine some of the causes for the complaint, the Associated Women Students organization held a survey among the women concerning their extra-curricular activities. The results were published. In an effort to help the situation, AWS presented the idea of Dead Week—a general policy of no scheduled organizational meetings the week before final examinations—to the Student Council. Dead Week died a natural death.

Practicing what it preaches, AWS has cut down on the number of AWS standing committees and is in the process of passing an amendment to the AWS constitution to the effect that the executive board may carry out necessary but trivial business without calling a general meeting to the entire board.

In the opinion of the AWS board there undoubtedly would be more participation of students in student affairs if the students thought that their time was considered of value and that the business at hand was vital.

The AWS board feels that Georgiana Shaw, the out-going AWS president, has set a very successful example of a policy of saving the time of her committee members.

The question is, will other Colorado College student organizations be conscious of the fact that wasting other people's time is a low practice.

—The Out-Going AWS Board.

Rejection Led to World Fame For Figure Skating Champion

By MARILYN ROY

Rejected, utterly and completely! But in Hayes' case it really paid off. One dismal Saturday morning Mrs. Jenkins decided to temporarily dispose of her house-hold monster Hayes Alan, so suggested that he go down and skate for a while. Just because he couldn't skate was completely beside the point. But this industrious eight-year-old really learned to enjoy skating, so kept it up. All of this occurred back in Akron, Ohio, where Hayes was born on March 23, 1933.

By this time it must be rather obvious that our subject is Hayes Alan Jenkins, world's figure skating champion for the second consecutive year, and a CC honor student. In this recent competitive match Hayes was contesting against twelve other figure skaters, one of whom was his brother, David, who placed fourth in the match. Talented family!

As a result of the skills obtained from that first Saturday morning rejection, Hayes has been to Europe six times, and has also skated in Japan. Paris, which is composed of many ardent skating enthusiasts, has seen Hayes' skating upon five different occasions. And he was privileged enough to skate for the King of Norway last month. Judging from last Saturday night's exhibition, the King was rather privileged, also in being able to see such a fine performer.

Upon being questioned about language difficulties which he encountered in foreign countries, Hayes replied, "Just wave your arms!" After resorting to this technique for quite a while, frequently with little success, he employs a simpler, but much less strenuous device, that is trying to find an interpreter. The first time Hayes visited Europe was during his sophomore year of high school when he was fifteen.

Naturally all of these tours do become rather expensive, but the U. S. Figure Skating Association aids him by paying for his plane fare to Europe and back.

Certainly a very important reason for much of Hayes' success has been the guidance of his coach, Edi Sholdan, who also coaches Jimmy Grogan, who placed second in the world's figure skating competition.

Senate Investigating Committees might learn a great deal about the attitudes toward Communism of some persons under Communist domination from skating match results. This year Hayes did not compete with skaters from behind the Iron Curtain.

In the first previous matches which Hayes entered there were Iron Curtain competitors. Russian officials finally became wise, for all five of their entrants never returned to Russian-held territory, but escaped to free areas instead. Plans for his future aren't too certain, for Hayes strongly suspects that the U. S. Army may request his services following graduation. However, he does not plan to go into professional ice skating, but prefers going into either law or insurance.

For any TIGER readers who ever happen to feel rather depressed and rejected by society, cheer up! Just look where rejection put Hayes.

Student Union Sponsors Art Exhibit March 14th

The Lennox Student Union is sponsoring a "CC Student Art Exhibit" in order to display the talent of CC. Bring any sketches, paintings, etc., either to Vicki Hann's office in Lennox or to Martha Boettger in Tichnor by Friday evening, March 12. The exhibit will be held at Lennox House on March 14.

The Student Union committee is doing many things to bring to the students many different activities connected with Lennox House. Dr. Henry Carter will lecture on "Brazil, Land of Coffee and Enchantment" next Wednesday night, March 17 at 7:30.

Remember that Friday afternoon is still bridge afternoon at Lennox House.

ASCC NOTES

By Bill Howell

The ASCC council passed the proposed changes to the constitution. The first amendment provides for a joint meeting of the CUL and the ASCC in case there is any disagreement on either side on trials by the council. The second amendment provides for a chairman of the existing jurisdiction committee. The head of the committee will be appointed by the president of the council.

The poll for the ratification of the clause on attendance in the ASCC by-laws was passed by a unanimous vote of all the organizations.

Bill Peters and Earlene Seabaugh, co-chairmen of past leadership conference, came to the council and asked that their present planning committee be given necessary ideas to make all plans for the next leadership conference which will be held sometime this spring.

Plans are completely underway for the musical comedy "Good News." The music has been sent for and the cast is now complete. The show will be given April 21, 22, and 23. Jim Jacobs assistant editor of the TIGER will be in charge of the publicity for the show.

There was quite a discussion about books disappearing from the library. Lately many of the books that have been left on reserve in the library have been taken without being checked out. The council suggested that the reserve desk should be manned at all times and perhaps a check desk at the library door would discourage those thoughtless people who take books.

It was also announced that anyone interested in giving blood at any time should contact the medical center at Camp Carson. The Army camp will provide transportation to and from the center at any time for any number of people.

Drama Student from Chile is Stage Director for CC Opera

A talented and versatile student of the theatre is serving as stage director of the Colorado College winter opera program held last Tuesday and Wednesday in Perkins Hall. Arturo Jimenez, the stage director, is a native of Santiago, Chile, and came to CC on an El Pomar scholarship to do graduate work in drama. He had studied theater arts in Europe and South America, as well as in this country.

He received the B.A. degree in 1953 in theatre direction at the University of Florida, where he was an assistant in the speech and theatre department. There he directed a series of one-act plays, including Jean Paul Sartre's "No Exit".

He has had leading roles in such plays as "The Devil's Disciple," "My Sister Eileen," and "The Night of January 16."

In Chile, he was an instructor at St. George College and drama critic for the magazine "Eva".

Jimenez studied piano at the Claudio Arrau School in Chile and also in Europe where he became an aficionado of opera and ballet. His training along the two artistic roads of drama and music has culminated in a happy marriage of the two in opera staging.

General production of the next week's opera program is under the direction of Louis Huber, regular member of the CC music faculty and director of the college's opera workshop laboratory, which is attended by students and townspeople.

Three Sororities Elect New Officers for 1954

This meeting will be of interest to education majors as well as those in the field of psychology. The meeting will be at 7:00 p.m. in Lennox.

G PHIS INSTALL BOULDER CHAPTER

Colorado College's Gamma Phi Betas will be well represented Saturday, March 13, at the installation of the new Beta Rho chapter of Gamma Phi Beta on the Colorado University campus in Boulder. Over 25 G Phis will be attending from CC. Barbie Cannon will act as Toastmistress from Alpha Phi chapter, and the initiation songs will be sung by eight girls from the CC chapter which was asked to furnish the music. In addition to the initiation there will be a formal banquet and a tea put up by the Boulder Alums.

ROSS TO LECTURE ON T. S. ELIOT

Dr. Tom Ross will discuss T. S. Eliot before the Jonathan Edwards Club next Sunday, March 14, at 7:15 p.m. Dr. Ross will consider Eliot's poetry in general and three specific poems. The meeting will be at Gregg Library and is open to all college students.

FRENCH CLUB MEETING

The French Club will meet this Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Hayes House library. The program will feature slides on "Morals and Manners in 18th Century France". Also French cross-word puzzles, songs and refreshments are on the program.

All-School Dance at B'moor Culminates Hockey Week-end

The 1954 National Collegiate Hockey Tournament will be culminated with a traditional all-school "Champions Dance" following the Saturday night game in the Broadmoor ballroom. Bob McGrew will provide the music for the evening. The dance is being held at no cost to the student body and all CC students are urged to attend.

Queen LaNelle Beck and her court reigned over the week's festivities aided by 25 CC co-eds who acted as hostesses for the events. Five girls were chosen from each sorority to help hostess the events. The festivities began Wednesday, March 10, with the arrival of the Minnesota and Michigan teams. Friday afternoon a reception will be held for the teams at the Broadmoor pool.

The dance will be held tomorrow night and everyone is invited to attend this final event which will formally close the seventh Annual National Collegiate Hockey Tournament.

Lenten Series Continued In Canterbury Meeting

Canterbury Club will meet at 6:15 at Grace Church for chapel service then go to the Student Center, 117 East Unitah, to hear the Rev. Clarke Pitkin speak on "The Beginning of the Episcopal Church".

He has been in charge of the missions at Idaho Springs, George Town and Central City, Colo., and is now assistant priest at Ascension Episcopal Church, Denver. Fr. Pitkin's talk will be the second in a series given during the Lenten Season by Episcopal clergymen from Colorado.

Girls will be picked up at Honig's Hall that evening.

New Minesweepers

The United States Navy recently christened two new ships—both of them wooden minesweepers. Because of the wood, and the use of other non-magnetic materials, such as certain nickel alloys and copper, these vessels will not attract magnetic mines.

Minnesota Heads Coaches All-American Team

ND AND BC ROUND OUT FIRST TEAM; EASTERN SCHOOLS DOMINATE 2ND TEAM

By DICK TUCKER, Free Press Sports Editor

Minnesota's Western Intercollegiate Hockey League champs placed three stars on the Coaches' All-American hockey team it was announced today, while North Dakota hounded two on the first team. Center Johnny Mayasich, Wing Dick Dougherty and Defenseman Ken Yackel were the Minnesota selections. Goalie Jerry Schultz and Wing Ben Cherski made the grade from North Dakota, while Defenseman Robert Kiley of Boston College rounded out the team.

Eighteen coaches from Eastern and Western schools participated in the balloting conducted by The Free Press and the Colorado College student publication, the TIGER.

Eastern players dominated the second team selections with Bill Sloan of St. Lawrence in goal; Doug Binning of Middlebury at one defense post; Abbie Moore of Rensselaer Poly at center; Frank Chiarelli, also of Rensselaer, and Wally Kirea of Yale at wings.

Naval Aviation Team To Hold Interviews with Potential Applicants

A Naval Aviation Cadet procurement team from the United States Naval Air Station will interview potential applicants at Colorado College on March 15 and 16 from 9 in the morning to 3 both evenings.

The team will be composed of a Naval Aviation, Lieut. Cmdr. Clyde W. Minnear, NavCad procurement officer at the station, and a Navy enlisted man, Frank H. Monthey, aviation ordnanceman first class. They will tell college students how they may gain commissions as Naval aviators.

The Navy's aviation cadet program offers officers' commissions to young men between the ages of 18 and 25 who have completed at least two years of college.

Cadets who successfully complete 18 months of aviation training at Pensacola, Fla., are commissioned ensigns in the Naval Reserve or second lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve.

After they are commissioned they will serve 30 months with the fleet's sea-air team. A naval aviator's pay ranges from $438 a month for single men to $455 monthly for married men.

Cmdr. Minnear and Monthey will interview interested applicants on the campus to determine their eligibility for appointment as a Naval Aviation Cadet. Successful applicants will be given the final examination at the Denver Naval Aviation Station.

Michigan's Jim Haas, who narrowly missed a first-team spot, was named to the other defense post on the second six. Haas and Kiley of BC each had four first-team votes, but Kiley was given the nod with three second-team selections to Haas' one.

Mayasich, Cherski and Yackel topped the voting, each with six selections to the first team and one for the second. Moore grabbed five first-team votes and one second.

Voting was tightest for the goal-tending position with Schultz getting the nod on four first-team votes. Sloan, who was picked on three first-team ballots and three second-team, was runner-up over Bob Fox and Minnesota's Jimmy Mattson. Fox had three and two while Mattson three and one. Michigan's Willard Ikola received seven for the second team.

Repeat winners from last year include Mayasich, Cherski, Chiarelli, Binning and Mattson. Binning and Chiarelli were both first-team choices last year while the other three grabbed second team spots.

Clark scored seven assists to set a new record in that department and scored one goal for eight points to tie the single game scoring record. In a normal game, Ed Robson would have been the hero, but his four goals and three assists were only good enough for third high scorer for the evening. Ken and Fred also turned in stellar performances.

High Scoring First Line Boost Gopher Hockey Title Hopes

Minnesota's Golden Gophers will rest its title hopes on the high scoring line of Dick Dougherty, Johnny Mayasich and Gene Campbell when the Western Inter Collegiate champs take on Boston College tonight on the Broadmoor ice in the first round of the National Collegiate Hockey Tournament.

The Gophers with a 22-5-1 record on the season, will be out to dethrone rival Michigan University who are seeking their fifth title in seven years. The Wolverines defeated Coach John Mariucci's sextet in three out of four games this year but had to settle for a second place finish in the conference.

The Dougherty-Mayasich-Campbell line may be the answer to Minnesota's prayers if the trio can click like they did against the Gophers' opposition during the regular season.

Dougherty tied the Western Intercollegiate record for goals scored this year with 42 while Mayasich racked up a new mark with 49 assists and tied his own record of 78 points. Mayasich, Minnesota center, will be rough and is an everyone's All-American.

Backing up the first line is the second line of Dick Meredith, Bill McKenzie and Bob Johnson, and the third consisting of George Jetty, Jack Monahan and Ben Maloney. Defenseemen include Ken Yackel, Jack Petroske, Wendy Anderson and Bruce Shutte. The goalies are Jim Mattson and Fred Pulicichio.

Michigan dumped the Gophers 7-3 for the title in last year's tourney after the Minnesotans had knocked off RPI 3-2 in the first round.

Senior Geologists Offered Employment Chance at Conference

Senior geology students from Colorado College will find an unusual employment service available at the annual American Association of Petroleum Geologists convention slated for St. Louis April 12-15.

In past years graduating geological students have attended national conventions in hopes of applying for jobs in geology, geophysics and paleontology, but have found it necessary to rely on personal contacts for the job interview.

This year a central employment interview bureau will be maintained at the convention site, Kiel auditorium, for the 4-day meeting.

More than 5,000 geologists will attend the conference to be held in conjunction with meetings of the Society of Exploration Geophysicists and Society of Economic Paleontologists and Mineralogists.

It is estimated that Canada's output of nickel in 1953 reached 285,000,000 pounds, or about 85 per cent of the free world's total production.

Here's the high-scoring front line expected to pace Minnesota when the Gophers open the 7th Annual NCAA Hockey Tournament Thursday night against Boston College in the Broadmoor Ice Palace. Left to right are Dick Dougherty, wing; Johnny Mayasich, center; and Gene Campbell, wing, the Gopher captain. Dougherty tied the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League for goals scored this year with 42, while Mayasich tied his own total points record of 78 and broke his assists mark with 49. Intra-Mural BILLBOARD

A consistent Independent five: Doug Silverberg, Clare Smith, Bill McGee, "Slippery" Sam Argento and Tom Reichert took the laurels at the first Intra-mural bowling at the first Intra-mural bowling at the tournament held March 10th at the Sport Bowl. The Phi Gams closed with a rush in the late stages of the contest to take second place while the Betas edged out the Kappa Sigs to salvage a "show" position.

The team averages were as follows: Independents 136, Phi Gams 130, Betas 125, Kappa Sigs 123, and Phi Deltas 118.

Gene Daniels (Phi Gam) had the highest average for three games—159 and also had the highest individual score for one game—212. Clare Smith (Inde) had the second highest average with 152 and Fitzgerald (Kappa Sig) was third with 146.

In basketball competition last week the Kappa Sig strengthened their hold on first place by whipping the Betas 45 to 35.

They also took a game via the protest route from the Independents. The latter used "Shorty" Rosell who was ineligible because of his participation on this year's varsity team.

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason... enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco... light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better... always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

Lucky Strikes have better taste! In flavor they are grand! So, whether for yourself or friends, Keep Lucky Strike on hand!

Minnesota Dominates All-League Ice Squad; Hilton Makes 2nd Team

The Denver Post, this week, announced their Western Conference all-league hockey team compiled by a poll of Western League coaches and sports writers of the conference area.

Colorado College failed to place one man on the first squad but placed Phil Hilton on the second team defense.

Minnesota dominated the team this year with four men on the first team. John Mayasich, everyone's All-American, made the first team ballot for the second year in a row. Mayasich for the second year in a row missed a unanimous vote by one ballot. Mayasich, playing at center, tied the conference record in scoring this year. He set the same record last year.

Jim Mattson, Ken Yackel, and Dick Dougherty were the other Minnesotans making the first team.

DEFENDING WOLVERINES CHAMPS RATED FIRST; HERE FOR 7TH STRAIGHT TOURNEY

The University of Michigan Wolverines have been installed as the pre-tournament favorites to defend their crown and walk off with the honors in the 1954 edition of the National Collegiate Hockey Tournament playoffs at the Broadmoor Ice Palace this weekend.

Having an outstanding record against both NCAA and Canadian foes the Wolverines are returning for the seventh consecutive try at the title. They are the only team in the nation to have returned every year for the playoffs since the series was started in 1948. Michigan walked off with the trophy that year and again in 1951, 1952 and 1953.

The men from Michigan started the season somewhat weakly, but began to show signs of strength in their second game with the University of Minnesota having split that series. From then on, except for a scoreless tie with Michigan State College, they rolled impressively over every opponent to finish with a second place berth in the Western League conference.

Their overall season record includes 14 wins and four losses and two scoreless ties, losing early in the season to McGill University and the University of Minnesota and twice to the University of North Dakota. They tied with Toronto University and Michigan State College.

Coach Vic Heyliger's team showed exceptional ability in both the DU and CC series held at Ann Arbor. Goalie Willard Ikola backed by a well-rounded team did an outstanding job in that series. Instead of using line substitutions, Heyliger only needed to use individual substitutes, which was impressive in itself.

Michigan will open their tournament play Friday night when they meet RPI at 8:15.

Boston College Makes 5th Effort for Crown

Boston College returns to Colorado Springs for the fifth try at the National Collegiate Hockey Tournament title.

The Eagles have the distinction of being the only Eastern team to ever win the tournament. Thus far this season, they have a 17-2 record and pose a major threat to Michigan's and Minnesota's title aspirations.

Eagle coach, John "Snooks" Kelley brings his boys into the tournament with a 17-2 record. These losses were to Clarkson 2-3 and St. Lawrence 1-4. Later in the season, however, they turned the tables on both teams beating St. Lawrence 5-1 and Clarkson 3-2.

During the course of the season Boston College lost their two top scorers. Jim Duffy left school with about one third of the season gone and just before the loss to Clarkson. Bobby Gallagher then took over the scoring lead and held it for a few weeks until he was drafted.

Jim Cisternelli with 24 points and Bob Babine with 23 will lead Boston College into the tournament.

The Eagles will open the tournament against powerful Minnesota Thursday night.

Clare Smith, Clark Set Scoring Records

CC in Double Victory Over UBC C. Smith Hits Nets for 7 in Final

Last Saturday and Monday nite's the Colorado College Tigers thumped the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds at the Broadmoor Ice Palace 11 to 0 and 15 to 1 respectively. Jeff Simus registered his first shut out of the season in the former encounter while Phil Hilton led the Bengals' attack with a three goal "hat trick" and three assists. In the latter contest Claire Smith set a new Western League hockey record in total points, nine, and the number of goals scored, seven. He also had two assists. Bill Clark also set a record of seven assists in the game. A three goal "hat trick" in the same encounter was made by Ed Robson.

The lack of hustle in Saturday's contest led to the downfall of UBC. They were exhausted from the Denver ride to here which saw the chartered bus break down. Furthermore, it appeared from the press box that they couldn't skate very well, let alone trying to play hockey. Their defense — one might wonder if it was a defense — fell apart most of the time.

In Monday night's contest the same thing held true except that the Thunderbirds hustled. Nevertheless, the Tigers built up an 8 to 0 lead in the first period. It took CC 12:35 seconds to slip the puck past goalie Anderson in the second stanza as Harold "Punchy" Cowan lit up the red light on an assist from Bill Clark to make the score 9 to 0. Right after Ed Robson scored a minute later, Mar-ricie Cunningham ruined Kinsley's bid for a shut out with a blast from ten feet out.

Ken Kinsley came out of his cage with two minutes left in the final stanza and skated down with the team but failed to dent the scoring column. This marked the last game for Kinsley, Eastwood, Robson, and Clark who graduate this year. CC has ended up this season with 15 victories against 10 losses and one tie.

Mr. Wornor, varsity golf coach, has announced there will be a meeting of all varsity golf candidates Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 in the C room.

An Iowa State college basketball player parachuted from a plane to the campus of Colorado University in an effort to arouse spirit for the Colorado-Iowa State game last Monday.

Prizes were awarded the organized group which demonstrated the most school spirit by dragging the player to a "funeral pyre" for the pep rally.

RPI Tops Larries For Tourney Berth

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute is back again to the National Collegiate Hockey Tournament. They are another repeater from last year's tournament. They won the berth this year at the cost of St. Lawrence 4 to 2. It was a battle all the way to the wire but the Engineers finally took the Larries in their last Tri State Hockey League game.

Coach Ned Harkness returns with a star studded aggregation. Abbie Moore and Frank Chiarelli return from last year's tournament team and each has over 100 goals in their collegiate careers. Chiarelli led the nation in scoring as a freshman, two years ago.

RPI returns to the foot of Pikes Peak with a 16 and 5 season record, and 15 and 1 against Eastern teams. Two of their losses were at the hands of CC and Denver University, who tied for fourth in the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League.

Bob "Foxy" Fox, star goalie for RPI, enters the tournament with five shutouts behind him this last season. He also has 163 scoreless minutes to his credit.

The only hindrance to the Engineers is the loss of Jim Shildneck, an outstanding defenseman, due to an injury.

The Engineers are to play Michigan Friday night in the second game of the tournament. They will be out to better their showing of last year when they lost their first game to Michigan 3 to 2, and went on to take third place.

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS STUDENTS ARE ELIGIBLE FOR $1,000 ESSAY CONTEST

Students interested in international affairs may win up to $1,000 or a full fellowship, amounting to $1,750, at The School of Advanced International Studies of the Johns Hopkins University, in Washington, according to an announcement made by the Foreign Service Journal as it launched its Prize Essay Contest.

The essays, to be written on the "Organization of American Representation Abroad", will be judged by a committee of six nationally known men including John Sloan Dickey, president of Dartmouth College, Robert D. Murphy, Deputy Under Secretary of State, and Lt. Gen. Harold R. Bull, former commandant of the National War College.

Secretary of State Dulles, in a statement which accompanied the contest announcement said: "I hope this contest will produce constructive and helpful public thinking on a matter of importance to all Americans."

Students constitute one of four categories of entrants outlined in the contest announcement. Other categories embrace former and present State Department and Foreign Service personnel, personnel of other governmental agencies, and competent persons other than those in the first three categories. A total of $3,850 will be awarded in prizes after the contest closes October 15, 1954.

Full details of the contest may be obtained in the Dean of Mon's office or by writing Foreign Service Journal, Contest Committee, 1908 G St., N. W., Washington 6, D. C.

Agencies Accept Applications for Math, Science Positions

Applications are being sought from chemists, physicists, metallurgists, mathematicians, and electronic scientists for employment in various federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and vicinity. The salaries range from $3,410 to $10,800 a year.

To qualify, applicants must have had 4 years of college study in an appropriate field, or 4 years of appropriate experience, or a combination of such education and experience. Applicants for positions paying $3,410, must not have passed their 35th birthday. There is no maximum age limit for the higher paying positions.

Further information application forms may be obtained from Keith Blubach, commission representative at the post office or from the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Career in Insurance Offered By Agent

Mr. Norris Williamson, representing the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, visited the campus on Thursday, March 4, to interview senior men who may be interested in insurance as a career. He arrived at 9:00 a.m. and was assigned to Room 102, Palmer Hall. He remained on the campus for three or four hours and was willing to talk to any senior man, regardless of his major.

The Management Training Program of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company is exceedingly interesting and attractive. The starting salary is $3,600 per year and men entering this program will, after four months of service, receive $3,900 per year.

Coffee Views FROM COLLEGE

In college newspapers as well as in professional ones, the subject of coffee has been rating high in the news.

At some schools, like San Jose State (Calif.), students are complaining loudly because the price of coffee has been raised, and at others, like the University of Texas, students are heaving sighs because the cost per cup has remained the same.

At the University of Oklahoma, a student senator has launched a "Tea for Tuesday" campaign, encouraging not only fellow students but townsmen as well to substitute tea, milk, or soft drinks for the precious black liquid one day a week.

A unique suggestion comes from a dairy professor at Iowa State college, who proposes that the students eat their morning cup of coffee instead of drinking it. "All though coffee has gone up," he says, "the price of coffee ice cream remains the same."

CC students are more drastic in their ideas with "boycott" the pass word when it comes to coffee. Petitions have been signed which will be turned into the proper au-

Final Selections To Be Made Soon For A.W.S. Board

Ground work for choosing the new A.W.S. board was laid on March 11 with a meeting of all those interested in applying for a place on the new board.

The final selections will be made by the old board, the new executive board, and the seniority presidents.

Next year's board will differ from previous boards in that the personnel committee will be abolished and that the vocational guidance and scholarship committees will be combined.

The duties (including Activity Night) of the former personnel chairman, will be taken over by the vice president. The new scholarship and vocational guidance committee (S and V.G. for short) will (1) work with the dorm presidents in solving individual scholastic problems; (2) help publicize the services of the Counseling Center; and (3) promote better scholarship on campus by presenting scholarship cups to individual dorms and by taking charge of the freshman recognition dinner.

Some changes have been made in the jobs of the board members. Buzzbees, always a subject of controversy, will be handed over to the S and V.G. committee to do with as it sees fit.

Again next year, the A.W.S. Board will be cooperating with Q.A. in projects like the tea for head residents, the Christmas dinner, and scholarship counseling and awards.

All women students will vote on A.W.S. constitutional changes on March 15. The purpose of these proposed changes is to clarify and streamline the A.W.S. constitution. The amendments are as follows:

ARTICLE IV Administration

SECTION II. DUTIES.

a. The duties of the executive committee shall be:

(2) To transact business not requiring the action of the entire board.

f. The duties of the executive board shall be:

(6) To appoint vice-chairmen of committees when needed.

ARTICLE VI Committees

SECTION I.

There may be the following standing committees with the duties as specified: (see constitution).

SECTION III.

Committees mentioned in SECTIONS I and II or any other committees may be created or discontinued by two-thirds vote of the executive board.

SECTION IV.

Committees may include a vice-chairman who automatically assume the duty of the committee chairman in case a vacancy should exist.

SECTION V.

Committee members are appointed by the committee chairman in consultation with the executive committee.

Dean Adams Resigns; to Become European Director of Seminar

Dr. George W. Adams, dean of Colorado College, has resigned to become European director of the Salzburg Seminar in American Studies, in Austria. Dean Adams' resignation, which is effective June 30, 1954, was accepted "with great regrets" by President William H. Gill, who made the announcement Saturday. The CC dean will be in charge at Castle Leopoldskron, just outside Salzburg, while the six seminars—each one month long—are held each year.

He will supervise the travel of two American assistant directors throughout Europe west of the Iron Curtain. The assistants' jobs will be the screening of candidates for seminar membership.

In addition Dr. Adams will have two travel periods of approximately 60 days each year, when his job will be to bring now organized into six sessions, running from January to August. Each seminar has 50 students, of whom about one-third are women. There is a separate American faculty for each session. Faculties of former seminars have listed many leading scholars of the United States, including Henry Steele Commager, John D. Hicks, Edmund Wilson, and Perry Miller.

Recently the emphasis has been changing from the seminars on general education to seminars on special topics, for specialties. The faculty of Harvard Law School will hold a session in June for European lawyers and judges. Other special sessions will be held on American literature and American music.

Seminar students include journalists, radio people, writers, professors, civil servants, musicians and a wide variety of persons from other occupations. Students pay their own transportation and board and room costs, but not tuition fee.

The seminar's expenses are paid out of grants by the Rockefeller Foundation, the Commonwealth Foundation, the Old Dominion Foundation by gifts from several hundred private citizens.

President of the seminar is Dexter Perkins, distinguished historian of American foreign policy. The executive secretary, who has his office in Cambridge, Mass., is Frederick D. Muhlbauer, formerly a New York manufacturer.

The Salzburg Seminar has been incorporated in the state of Massachusetts.

Dean Adams came to Colorado College as dean in September, 1949, after serving in a dual capacity as director of the summer session and dean of university extension at Harvard University. He earned the bachelor's degree from Illinois College and both the master's and doctor's degrees from Harvard University.

Dean and Mrs. Adams have one daughter, Pamela, member of Phi Beta Kappa and class of '54 at Colorado College. The three will sail for Europe some time this summer.

Those students, men and women, who wish to apply for scholarships for 1954-55 may obtain application blanks in the office of the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women. We suggest that these applications be secured previous to spring vacation. Deadline for making application for scholarships: May 1.

Phi Delt Candidate Sweeps 343 Votes to Gain ASCC Prexy

Dick Clothier, Phi Delta Theta, gathered 343 votes or more than 55% of the ballots cast this week to win the student body presidency. One of the largest number of voters, 644, ever to go to the polls at CC showed up to cast their ballots. This number represents 71% of the student body. This compares to only 452 ballots cast during last year's election, Bill Howell, Beta Theta Pi, was second with 169 votes, while Bill Fritz, Phi Gamma Delta, managed to draw 152 students to the polls. This is the first time the Phi Delt has won this election since Jack Fitzgerald won for the Phi four years ago. The Beta-sponsored candidate has won for the past three years.

Voting polls were open in Palmer Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday with 331 students voting on Tuesday and 313 showing up on Wednesday to cast their ballots.

The sophomores led the individual class voting percentage-wise, with 79 per cent of the sophomores participating. The juniors and seniors both tied for second with 72 per cent of their students showing up at the polls. The freshmen, who are lowest this year with 69 per cent have a percentage that is higher than the best one posted for last year.

The elections culminated a week of intensive, enthusiastic and relatively clean campaigning. Dick will take office immediately.

Antlers Hotel to Be Sight of Annual Miami Triad Dance

The annual Miami Triad will be held in commemoration of the founding of Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Chi fraternities on Saturday, March 20. The three organizations all had their start on the University of Miami campus and each year the Triad is held in remembrance of this occasion.

Reigning over the dance will be three lovely young ladies selected by the respective fraternities. They are Joan Rader of Pueblo, Colo., Phi Delta Theta; Sue Blair of Port Washington, N. Y., Beta Theta Pi; and Marilyn Stiglitz Lodel of Colorado Springs, Sigma Chi.

The dance will take place at the Antlers Hotel this Saturday night, March 20, from 9:00 to 12:30 a.m. Ray Kranz and his band will provide music for dancing.

Special guests of honor are the respective housemothers, Mrs. A. J. Patterson, Mrs. Mary Brunse, and Mrs. Carl Roehrig.

Catch Late Show On KRCC Radio

Tune in on your KRCC radio station and catch the late show. Monday through Friday, from 10:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. KRCC offers for your enjoyment a series of programs conducted by Colorado College students. The schedule is as follows:

Monday—"Clarinet Reed and Scotch Tape" with Neil Tyree and Larry Richman.

Tuesday—"Just for You" with Bob Harding.

Wednesday—"After Hours" with Bob Twelves.

Thursday—"Night Watch" with Nat Harris.

Friday—"Time Out" with Bill Prescott.

CC administration has announced that no advance travel time will be allowed for spring vacation.

The newly-elected Quadrangle Association officers seen seated above are (left to right): Diane Lanning, treasurer; Jo Warner, president; Zoe Jenkins, secretary; Jane Carroll, vice president.

Plans Made to Choose, Train Dormitory Officers, Counselors

The newly elected executive board of the Quadrangle Association is already making plans for choosing and training the dormitory officers and counselors for next year. This function of QA Board is one of its most important, as it both educates girls in student government and is instrumental throughout the year in helping new students make the adjustment to dorm living and college life.

On Monday, March 22, in hall meetings, those girls interested in this work will fill out applications. The dorms as a whole, the hall councils, and the head residents will also make recommendations, all of which will be considered by Q.A. Board when it makes the selections after spring vacation.

In May the newly chosen counselors and dorm officers will attend a Training Conference, which will be planned by the QA vice president, Jane Carroll. At this conference, their duties will be outlined in detail and some typical counseling problems will be introduced and discussed. These discussions will also be reviewed at the beginning of next year.

Right after spring vacation Jane Carroll, as the representative of Q.A. Board, and Claudette Stock, present secretary of Bemis Hall, as representative of the counselors, will attend the regional AWS convention in Tucson, Ariz. These conventions are most helpful in exchanging dormitory government ideas and practices.

QA Board is composed of four elected officers, the president of each hall, and the freshman representative, elected in the fall. Miss Morgan serves as advisor.

Among its many activities, the board handles rules violations of a serious nature, plans the Christmas dinner in Bemis, has a Christmas party for underprivileged children, and, in conjunction with AWS, puts out a book of dorm rules and activities of the college for new students. The investigation of the telephone situation this fall by student council was occasioned by a complaint registered in the dorms. After our prowl situation became serious a month ago, Q.A. Board sponsored discussions in each hall about how to avoid being attacked and what to do if attacked. A summary of suggestions from all halls was made in Q.A. Board meeting, these mimeographed, and each girl given a copy.

THIS IS THE LAST ISSUE OF THE TIGER UNTIL APR. 9TH.

former members of the seminar together for meetings of fellowship. He will come to the United States for 20 days each year to report on the seminar and to keep in touch with American attitudes.

Purpose of the seminar is to make it possible for young men and women (ages 23-35) who are potential leaders of their various countries to better understand American civilization and American ideas.

Beginning in 1947 with a small program involving one summer seminar, the Salzburg Seminar is

Joint Class Meetings To Be Held Tuesday

The regular chapel period Tuesday, March 23, will be used for class meetings. Instead of meeting separately, classes will meet jointly in Shove Chapel. Dr. Harold Browne, newly appointed assistant to the president, in charge of Development at Colorado College, will discuss development plans at CC.

The meeting will have the dual purpose of informing the student body of plans now under consideration and of seeking suggestions and support from students.

The topics that were chosen by the four classes to discuss at this meeting will be postponed for the next class meeting on April 20.

COSSITT AND LENNOX LOSE OVER FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS DURING PAST YEAR

Dr. Rawles, treasurer, released the following figures in order to help explain that Lennox Grill and Cossitt Cafeteria are not profitable establishments. This issue arose over the recent rise in the price of coffee on campus. Since Lennox and Cossitt are losing money, the administration felt that coffee would have to be raised in order to help make up the deficit.

'Chinese Experiences' Enjoyed by Members Of Malone's Glasses

"Chinese Experiences" might well be the name for some first-hand contacts with old China which were enjoyed by members of the historiography and modern far eastern history classes on Wednesday evening, March 10.

The members of both classes were invited by their instructor, Dr. Carroll B. Malone, to a dinner where lessons in the use of chop sticks were given. It is said that the ability to use chop sticks is a requirement for passing the course in modern far eastern history.

Mr. Lionel Leong, a student and an excellent chef of Chinese delicacies, prepared a tasty feast of rice, Chinese cabbage, water chestnuts, bamboo sprouts, chicken pork and shrimps. Chinese jasmine flower tea and sweetmeats served from a rare Chinese lacquered leather sweetmeat box were other features of this unusual repast.

All students present successfully demonstrated their mastery in the use of chop sticks, some showing surprising facility in the two different styles of manipulation as taught by Dr. Malone and Mr. Leong.

After dinner the students were shown an album of original water-color paintings, an imperial court costume, and samples of rich Chinese textiles. Dr. Malone also displayed examples of Chinese hand-woven rugs, an embroidered scroll, tapestries and other curios.

The pleasant and profitable evening ended with a "bull session" where Mr. Leong told some of his recent experiences while trying to tell Americans about China.

ASCC NOTES

By Bill Howell

The proposed amendment to the ASCC constitution dealing with the chairman of the jurisdiction committee will be postponed until further notice due to a proposal made by General Gill that the chairman be selected from the administration. A committee of Frank Florey, Nick Ferris, Bill Fritz and Bill Howell will meet with the president to discuss the entire situation.

The committee working on the Sanny Price award has drawn up the application blanks and the qualifications for that award. The council passed on the recommendation and the machinery for the award will begin to operate next council meeting.

The council announced that Dr. Harvey Carter will speak in Lennox Wednesday, March 17 at 7:30. His topic will be "Brazil, the Land of Coffee and Enchantment."

POPULAR, SERIOUS NUMBERS FEATURED IN DANCE RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The next program in the Perkins Hall Sunday afternoon series will be given next Sunday afternoon (March 21) at 4:30 o'clock, when a dance recital will be presented by the Colorado College dance group under the direction of Molly Lynn. The program has been planned for performances at local and nearby high schools and institutions. It includes numbers which are popular as well as those of a more serious and abstract nature.

Included are dance works by students, several music compositions by Carlton Gerner who is associated with Colorado College music and dance departments, and group works by Molly Lynn, college dance instructor. Other musical compositions featured on the program include works by J. S. Bach, Bela Bartok, Stan Kenton, Irving Caesar and popular and traditional ballads.

Cooperating in the dance production are members of the Colorado College music faculty and members of the 31st Dixie Division who will perform chamber orchestra arrangements by Carlton Gerner. Paul Hartman, an artist, has designed several pieces of stage decor for the concert. Lighting is by Ronald Wilson, Colorado College student.

The dance group, made up of 14 girls and three men, has scheduled five performances in Pueblo, Aurora and the main high school in Colorado Springs. The group is organized to give two programs, one featuring a dance-technique demonstration, the other made up entirely of dance numbers. It is a venture entailing the cooperative efforts of student choreographers, faculty, a student technical committee, and student performers.

Transportation is handled by a volunteer car squad. Its purpose is to popularize modern dance as a performing medium in this and surrounding communities and to give interested dance students the opportunity to choreograph and to perform.

In addition to giving concert performances, members of the group have appeared with the Theatre Singers' production of "Amahl and the Night Visitors", in the College Variety Show, as performers in the floor show at the Circus Ball, and in the Colorado College Opera Workshop production of "Hansel and Gretel". Members of the group will also perform at the St. Patrick's Day festivities at the Union Printers Home.

The dance group will end its season with another concert on May 21st and 22nd at Perkins Hall auditorium, featuring several new works.

The program Sunday afternoon is open to the public free of charge.

All-Collegiate Photo Contest Now Underway

The ninth annual All-Collegiate Photo Competition, sponsored by K.A.A., honorary photojournalism fraternity, is now under way.

Pictures may be entered in any one or all of the four classifications—news, feature, sports, and picture stories. Winner in each of the classes will earn a $25 government bond. Any person regularly enrolled in a college or university is eligible to enter whether a member of K.A.A. or not.

Pictures entered must be mounted on a regular 16x20-inch board, although the size of the print is left entirely up to the maker. All pictures entered, however, must have been made since April 1, 1953.

Pictures should be sent before April 1st to Mabel Stewart, chairman, Print Committee, Room 114, School of Journalism, University of Houston, Houston, Texas.

Underground Airway

An underground airway which will ventilate workings almost a mile below the earth's surface is being driven through solid rock at the Creighton Mine of the International Nickel Company in the Sarny District of Ontario. The airshaft, 13 feet in diameter, will furnish fresh air to the mine's lowest levels at a rate of 350,000 cubic feet per minute.

Twenty Ball Players Report to Eastlack

The 1954 CC baseball team has been working out for the past two weeks in preparation for their 12-game schedule which opens April 9th against Colorado Mines at Golden.

Seven lettermen from the 1953 squad have reported to Coach "Red" Eastlack along with 13 outstanding prospects. Lettermen include catchers Tony George and Jeff Simms, infielders Wally Parus, Lou Elder and Ed Robson, outfielder Tom Reichert and pitcher Tom Danton.

Eastlack expects to get added pitching strength from newcomers Hank Brooks, Eldon Helm, Bob Rosell and Arde Wolfgang. Backing up George and Simms behind the plate are John Zengerl, Dick Parus and Howard Knages. Newcomer Bill McCrae should see plenty of action in the CC infield while new outfielders Bob Egly, Hal Cowen, Bob Lovelace and Paul Sims are expected to provide CC with additional fielding strength.

The '53 aggregation compiled a 5-8 seasonal record, winning four and dropping three in Rocky Mountain Conference competition. Coach Eastlack has scheduled

Five CC Coeds Vie for Title Of Honorary Cadet Colonel

The entire Cadet Corps of Colorado College's ROTC unit will go to the voting polls early in August to select an Honorary Cadet Colonel to reign as queen over its second annual military ball April 17. Each of the sororities and Independent Women's groups have named a candidate for the honor. The Honorary Cadet Colonel will be named during the military ball at which time she will be presented with honors an insignia appropriate to her office.

This year's colonel-elect will succeed Miss Sandra Sparks, Kappa Alpha Theta, winner of last year's title. The Honorary Colonel retains her office for a period of one year and is honored at reviews and ROTC functions throughout the year.

Candidates named are Betty Bee

Staples, Kappa Alpha Theta; Barbara Putnam, Independent Women; Nancy Egerton, Gamma Phi Beta; Nancy Lowry, Delta Gamma; Jean Boncutter, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Pershing Rifles, campus military society, is again sponsoring this year's military ball.

Platinum Metals Production

The world's annual production of the six precious platinum metals is estimated at only about 20 tons. More than half of this output is platinum itself, with the remainder mostly palladium. The four other metals — rhodium, iridium, ruthenium and osmium — are very rare.

INITIATION OF OPERA AT CC MET WITH PLAUDITS FROM STUDENTS

Last week marked the innovation of opera at CC. The "Evening of Opera" was a great success, judging by the capacity crowds each night and by the enthusiastic response of the audiences. Much credit should be given Louis Huber, music director and instructor of the opera laboratory. Mr. Huber accompanied his singers on the piano for three of the opera selections performed. He also very competently directed the orchestra for "Tales of Hoffman".

Arturo Jimenez, a talented special student at CC, should be commended for his fine work as stage director.

The "Tales of Hoffman" was the most outstanding of the four operas. Lynn Wigley sensitively sang the role of Antonia. Don Pempin created a convincing Doctor Miracle. The mood of excitement stimulated by the singers was heightened immeasurably by the addition of orchestral accompaniment.

Lois Cotti and Mary Jo Ahern charmingly portrayed Hansel and Gretel in a scene from the opera.

Radcliffe College Offers Full-Tuition Business Fellowships

The Management Training Program at Radcliffe College, graduate program open to women students who wish to go into business, is now jointly administered by Radcliffe and by the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

Through the cooperation of the Harvard Business School, two full-tuition fellowships for the coming year are available to young women. Fellowships are awarded on the basis of combined merit and financial need. Colorado College is asked to recommend women students for this program. Any women who are interested in it should see Miss Morgan at Cutler Hall, or Miss Grant at the Counseling Center in Ticknor Hall. Information about the school is available at the Counseling Center.

Castellan to Head CC Newman Club

Jo Anne Castellan was elected president of the CC Newman club in elections held at the regular meeting on Sunday, March 14. Margaret Vincent will be the new vice president.

Others elected were Enilo Manzanares, recording secretary; Marilyn Roy, treasurer; Otis Burns, historian; and Mary Prior and Nancy Maxwell are co-corresponding secretaries. These corresponding secretaries will serve for the remainder of the semester at which time they will be relieved by Barbara Miller and Linda Wolfe.

The next big event for the Newman club will be the Province Convention which is being held at Alamosa, Colo., on April 2, 3 and 4. The new officers took over immediately.

Schedule Exams For Electronic and General Mechanics

Two new examinations for the positions of laboratory electronic mechanic and laboratory general mechanic are now opened.

From the registers of eligibles to be established as a result of these examinations, vacancies will be filled as they occur in federal agencies located in the five states of this region—Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming.

The duties of laboratory electronic mechanic include the performance of mechanical work requiring a knowledge of the theory, principles, and techniques of electronics and the construction, test, and operation of electronic equipment. Salaries range from $2,950 to $5,940 a year.

The duties of laboratory general mechanics consist of varied mechanical work in connection with the design, development, fabrication, installation, operation, and maintenance of laboratory equipment and experimental machinery. Types of equipment involved include machine shop equipment, electrical equipment and optical, surveying and similar scientific

TOURNEY Tidbits

By PHIL GOOD

RPI quelled a rally here last Saturday night.

The east staged one of the most amazing upsets in tournament history last weekend as Rensselaer whipped Michigan, pre-tourney favorite, on Friday night and on the following night, put Minnesota to rest in a sudden death overtime for the title.

RPI's final victory put a story-book finish on the seventh annual tournament. The heart of the crowd literally went out to the undressed, undressed, and out experienced Rensselaer club which did not yield under the pressure of the big Minnesota squad which had its share of all-Americans.

In RPI, it was a case of team determinism, a determination which thrummed the capacity crowds and stunned the two best teams in the Midwest.

The crowds' sentiment, against Michigan from the beginning, switched quickly from Minnesota to Rensselaer following RPI's unbelievable victory over Michigan. The Engineers became the darlings of the tourney and they well deserved it.

RPI played defense and they played it well. Their defense, in a nut shell, was the determining element of their victory. This alone, was proven by Engineer goalie, Bob Fox, who brushed away 40 would-be goals.

With such veterans as Dick Dougherty, John Mayasich, Ken Yackel and Doug Campbell leading the way, Fox had to be sensational and he was. In fact, he was so sensational that he drew every Associated Press vote for a unanimous position on the all-tourney team which was picked following the championship game.

Mixed Emotion — RPI players wept with happiness and laughed hysterically when the final game ended. Gordie Peterkin, who made the winning goal was tackled from behind by one of his teammates and was pummeled by his happy teammates. Coach Ned Harkness was lifted above the heads of his happy players, and the Engineers continued their unrestrained hysteria as their coach's hat went up in flames.

On the other side of the bench there was a different scene, a scene of highly built up tension to quickly released as a result of their opponent's victory. Capt. Gene Campbell accepted the second place trophy.

In tears, Coach John Mariucci sat on the Minnesota bench with his head in his hands following suit of his players who unashamedly wept. This was the second year in a row the title had been lifted from the favored Gophers in the final game.

RPI's Abbie Moore walked off with the KVOR's most valuable player award and he well deserved it. In the final period, Moore scored first and put Minnesota off guard with a beautiful backhand shot which caught the nets after he had skated behind them. It was Moore again who put the Engineers back in the game and caused the overtime.

Gophers' Mayasich, Dougherty, and Campbell all tied the tournament scoring record of nine points. Mayasich, in the first game, set a new record for scoring in one game.

RPI's victory was the second Eastern victory in the seven-year tournament history. Last year was Rensselaer's first trip to the tournament, having played collegiate hockey only five years. Minnesota whipped them in the first round last year, but they topped Boston U. for the consolation title.

The final game was the second overtime in tournament history. In 1948, Michigan beat Boston College 6-4. Ironically, the one time RPI stepped into the Western League previous to tournament play this year, Colorado College whipped them soundly, 8-3. The question stands, is Rensselaer that good or were they playing completely over their heads?

Monotony is Broken, East Wins Tourney

Rensselaer Tops Minn., Mich. for East Beat Minnesota in Overtime for Final

The first game of the Hockey Tournament last weekend resulted in Boston College being swamped by Minnesota 14 to 1. A Minnesota victory had been predicted but no one expected such a huge score.

Minnesota was as methodical and effective as a huge machine in trouncing the smaller New Englanders. Johnny Mayasich led the Gophers with four goals and three assists for a new one-game record. Dick Dougherty and Gene Campbell, both of Minnesota, had already tied the old record of six when Mayasich broke it by one.

The second game was the first surprise of the tournament as Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute knocked off favored Michigan 6 to 4. Huge odds had been given in favor of Michigan up until the opening face off.

From then on though the smaller RPI team out hustled, outshot, and out thought the defending champions from Ann Arbor. Little Gordie Peterkin was outstanding for RPI as he picked up a hat trick for the Engineers. Frank Chiarelli, wing, and goalie Bob Fox also figured heavily in the Engineer triumph.

Bill McFarland collected a hat trick for the Wolverines.

Michigan picked up a victory Saturday afternoon at the cost of hapless Boston College. It was a lackadaisical game all the way as both teams had lost most of their fight in previous losses.

McFarland, Michigan, poured in one goal and got four assists, added to his four goals the night before they equaled the two game scoring record of nine held by Tony Frasca and Chris Ray, both ex-CC stars. Doug Philpott, also of Michigan, pushed in his first hat trick of the season.

The final game was probably the greatest game and the most spectacular upset of the year. The RPI Engineers, still tired from their upset victory over Michigan, hustled themselves silly in defeating powerful Minnesota 5 to 4 in an overtime.

The Minnesota team was sharp but not sharp enough to stop the inspired Engineers. Mayasich and Dougherty turned in their usual great games for the Gophers but they just weren't enough.

RPI led most of the way until the Gophers surged ahead 4 to 3 in the last period. Then Abbie Moore came out of nowhere, displayed some beautiful stick-handling, and socked in the tying goal. After a short rest Gordie Peterkin, Engineer wing, got the goal that gave RPI its first tournament championship in history.

6 LETTERMEN RETURN TO TRACK SQUAD; FIRST MEET SCHEDULED HERE APRIL 17

Colorado College's track squad has started working full time in preparation for its six meet schedule, which is to be held on Washburn Field, April 17, with Western State.

Coach Cheddy Thompson has only six lettermen returning and nine new prospects to work with, some of whom were out last year but did not letter. Middle distance man Ned Pfeiffer, is captain of this year's squad

Among the brightest hopes for Thompson's 1954 varsity is Bill Howell, high point man for two straight years. Bill runs the 100- and 220-yard dashes as well as the broad jump and set two unofficial records in the 100-yard event last spring.

Considerable assistance will be added by Roger Bildstein, high jump; John Wolfe, javelin; Dave Osborne, hurdles; Phil Hilton, pole vault and broad jump; Frank De-rango, weights; Ed Erick, sprints; Kipp Herreid, 440-yard run; Jim Duque, distance runner; Doug Swail, weights; Dan Melford, 100-

200 yard dashes; Pat Gammall, miler; Tom Gentry, miler and two miler; Duane Wolfe, pole vault; Bob Van de Velde, shot-put and discus; John Volmont, hurdler; Tom Matthews, distance; and Don Fixley, 880-yard dash.

The schedule:

April 17—Western State at Colorado Springs.

April 24—RMC relays at Greeley.

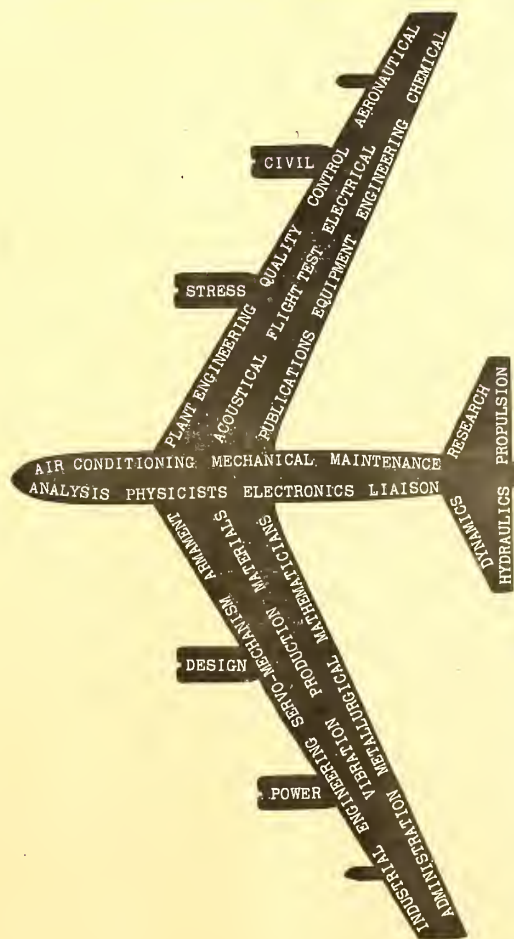

May 1—Colorado State at Greeley.

May 8—Colorado Mines at Colorado Springs.

May 15—Mines-CC-Colorado State at Golden.

May 21-22—RMC championships at Pocatello, Idaho.

Engineers of virtually EVERY type are needed on the Boeing team

Mechanical, electrical, civil, aeronautical—in fact, graduates in virtually every field of engineering—find rewarding career opportunities here. There are openings in design, research, in the many phases of production, and for physicists and mathematicians with advanced degrees.

All engineering careers at Boeing have one thing in common: they provide plenty of opportunity to get ahead. Regular merit reviews are held. Advancement is keyed to your individual ability, application and initiative.

The aviation industry offers you a unique opportunity to gain experience with new techniques and new materials. It offers a wide range of application, from applied research, to product design and production, all going on at the same time.

What's more, you can expect long-term career stability in the aviation industry. Boeing, for instance, is now in its 37th year of operation, and actually employs more engineers today than even at the peak of World War II. Besides designing and building the world's most advanced multi-jet aircraft (the B-47 and B-52), Boeing conducts one of the nation's major guided missile programs, and such other projects as research on supersonic flight, and nuclear power for aircraft.

Boeing engineering activity is concentrated at Seattle, Washington, and Wichita, Kansas—communities with a wide variety of recreational opportunities as well as schools of higher learning. The Company will arrange a reduced work week to permit time for graduate study and will reimburse tuition upon successful completion of each quarter's work.

For full details on opportunities at Boeing and for dates when interviewers will visit your campus,

DOWN TIME STAR BEAT'S

The Billy May band, formed some 22 months ago, takes to the road this season minus Billy May. Ex-leader May will be occasional writing for the band, but the new front man for the organization will be tenor-saxist Sam Donahue. The band hereafter will be billed as "The Billy May Band with Sam Donahue," and will retain the May sound. And, of course, Capital Records will continue to record the group.

Donahue first gained prominence in music circles during the swing era when he was featured in several top bands. In 1938-40, he was with Gene Krupa's group and later joined the bands of Harry James and Benny Goodman. In 1941, he was fronting his own orchestra but was forced to disband when the navy called him up for service.

In the Navy Donahue had his own service band and was put in charge of all Navy music for the Armed Forces Radio Service. The tenor ace was also featured on many service programs, and played the Armed Forces network all over the world. While in London, he had his own shows on the British Broadcasting System in addition to the regular AFPS broadcasts.

After being discharged, he formed another band but once more the navy called him for duty during the Korean War. This time Donahue was stationed in Washington, D. C., where he arranged for all navy bands.

Upon his second discharge from the Navy, Donahue joined the band of Tommy Dorsey as assistant leader; then settled on the west coast to do radio, recording, and studio work.

Popular music fans who have followed the meteoric rise of the Billy May group, which in amazingly short time has become an outstanding musical organization, will have the opportunity to hear the band under Donahue's direction during its current nationwide tour.

Paul Weston, conductor and artist and repertoire man at Columbia Records, has joined Victor's Hugo Winterhalter on the board of judges for DOWN BEAT'S exciting songwriting contest. The board, when completed, will be made up of some of the most astute judges of songs and song-writing to be found anywhere.

Remember, DOWN BEAT'S song writing contest is open to anyone, and the winning song will be published and recorded by top names with all royalties going to the writer. All a contestant must submit for entry is a complete copy of his song, and a full signed entry blank along with a subscription to DOWN BEAT or may be obtained by writing to the DOWN BEAT offices, 2001 Calumet, Chicago 16, Ill.

POP NEWS: Jo Stafford recently cut a duet with the British-Columbia recording artist, David Hughes. Columbia has high hopes for Hughes who is one of England's top vocal attractions. . . . Victor's off-shoot record company, Label X, put out its first two releases this month: For You and That's the Way Love Goes by singer Bill Darnley; and The Deep Blue Sea and Petrol Polka with the Richard Maltby orchestra. . . . Johnny Desmond, whose Woman and Heart of My Heart are top sellers, is reported definitely set for the lead in the film of Russ Columbo's life. . . . Singer Rosemary Clooney is starred in an unusual movie entitled Red Garters.

Joanne Gilbert, new nightclub singer, is also featured in the pic. . . . Larry Elgart, lead sax in his brother Les' orchestra, has signed to record under his own name for Decca. . . . Julius LaRosa is now appearing at Ciro's in Hollywood.

JAZZ NEWS: Norman Granz has formed a new record label—Norgran—in addition to his Clef line. First Norgran LP will feature Dizzy Gillespie and Stan Getz on their first recording together.

. . . Dizzy, by the way, plans to put together a big band for his opening date at Birdland this summer. . . . The George Shearing quintet is slated for a three-month extensive composing during the long one-shot booking. . . . Artie Shaw's new group, featuring Tal Farlow, Tommy Potter, Joe Roland, and Tank Jones, is confusing most critics. They label the music pleasant, but not particularly exciting jazz. . . . Former Stan Kenton arranger, Bill Russo, plans to settle in Chicago to teach composition and arranging.

CLASSICAL NEWS: The opening nights of the Metropolitan Opera season will be televised into a national network of theaters this year. Profits will go to the Metropolitan Opera Association and a prominent local charity in each city where the telecast is shown. . . . Leopold Stokowski, who earlier this season conducted a program of all-Canadian music in Carnegie Hall, will be in charge of a Norwegian concert there

April 1. . . . The Concert Choir, a combination of a 35-voice choir and accompanying orchestra, began its New York season with a Town Hall concert featuring an all-Stravinsky program. . . . The New York Philharmonic society has re-signed Dmitri Mitropoulos as its music director for next season. Bruno Walter, George Szell and Guido Cantello will return as guest conductors.

Two CC Coeds to Compete For "College Queen of America"

The magic wand of Mutual's "Queen for a Day" cinderella program once again will reach into more than 1,500 college campuses throughout the United States to find the "College Queen of America". Perhaps one of CC's candidates will be selected as the loveliest, most charming co-ed of the more than 750,000 now attending school. Next Monday night the five women's organizations will choose one girl to represent them. Then Tuesday afternoon the Tiger staff will pick two of the five girls to represent CC in the contest.

Candidates in this glamor quest are to be recommended to the program from April 19 until midnight May 7. Each entry is to be accompanied by not more than two photographs. It is from these pictures that the board of judges will select the five finalists who'll participate in the Queen for a Day broadcast that will conclude this search for the "College Queen of America".

The only requirements are that she be at least 18 and chosen by her fellow students at her school.

The five final candidates, to be named by the board on May 12, will be flown to Hollywood to appear on the "Queen for a Day" broadcast Friday, May 21. A host of outstanding prizes plus the unusual honor will await the "College Queen of America". The gifts will include many articles which the queen will find helpful not only at school but in later life.

While in Hollywood the queen and her attendants will have a tour of Hollywood. They will stay at one of the famous Hollywood hotels near the center of that fabulous movie-land capitol. All-American athletes from the Pacific Coast Conference schools will join emcee Jack Bailey as their escorts as they visit film studios, dine at stars' gathering places and meet movie greats at their homes and on studio lots. They'll be taken on shopping tours of the style centers in that capitol and be guests-of-the-day in Hollywood's most spotlighted centers of attraction. This whirl will be started on May 20, the eve of the final election on the Queen for a Day broadcast, and will continue thru the week.

Carter Promoted To Commander In Naval Reserves

Prof. Henry Hare Carter, USNR, chairman of the Department of Foreign Languages at Colorado College, has just been promoted to commander in the U.S. Naval Reserves.

Comdr. Carter was commissioned in 1942 as a lieutenant (j.g.), received his preliminary training at Cornell University, served in the office of Naval Intelligence in Washington, D. C., then as flag secretary to the chief of staff, Tenth Naval District, San Juan, Puerto Rico.

In 1944 he was transferred to the U.S. Fourth Fleet, at Recife, Brazil, as liaison officer with the Brazilian Navy, with special assignment aboard Brazilian submarines.

In 1945, Carter was assigned as officer-instructor in Portuguese at the U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. He has subsequently been attached to Naval Reserve units in Philadelphia and Chicago. He is presently assigned as division officer in the local Surface Division, and is responsible for training of rated storekeepers, gunner mates, and boatswains.

Engineer's Day To Be at Mines April 23 and 24

Plans for the twentieth annual Engineers' Day program at the Colorado School of Mines, April 23-24, have been announced by Louis L. Phannestiel of Denver, chairman of the student committee in charge of the event.

This year's E-Day celebration at Mines will include technical sessions conducted by experts in the mineral industries, scholarship awards to Mines students and Colorado high school seniors, rock drilling and mucking contests, a dance, and guided tours of the School of Mines facilities. Over 50 exhibits will be displayed by Denver and national engineering and industrial firms during the two-day affair.

Main speaker on the Engineers' Day program will be Mr. C. A. Peritz, senior vice president of the Continental Oil Company, Houston, Tex.

All E-Day sessions at Mines will be open to the public and interested persons are invited to attend.

Sonny Price Award Revised; Winner to Receive Scholarship

The Sonny Price Award winner of 1953-54 will receive a full tuition scholarship to CC. This year's award will be given to an outstanding student from either the freshman, sophomore or junior classes. The Sonny Price Award was established by the Student Council of 1948-49. This award was originally set up to be given to a member of the senior class who had participated in more activities and services than any other senior student on the CC campus. In the previous years the winner of the award received $200. This year the Student Council decided that the student's need should be taken into consideration along with his activities and services at CC. Since the award will be given in a scholarship form this year, outgoing seniors will not be eligible to apply.

Any student of CC who feels that he is qualified for this award may secure an application from a Student Council member or by contacting Dick Clothier. Student Council will also ask people to apply if they feel that they are eligible.

All applications must be turned into the Student Council by Monday, April 26. The applications

Denver Museum Head Tells of Travels Abroad

Alfred M. Bailey, director of The Denver Museum of Natural History, gave a pictorial account of travels of museum naturalists thru Tasmania, Victoria, and into the Red Desert in Australia, at Perkins Hall, Wednesday, April 7.

A native of Iowa City, Alfred M. Bailey was graduated from the University of Iowa in 1918. While an undergraduate, he joined an expedition of the U. S. Biological Survey to Layan Islands, 840 miles northwest of Honolulu. After leaving the University, he was appointed curator of birds and mammals of the Louisiana State Museum in New Orleans; in 1919 he became the first representative of the old U.S. biological survey (now the Fish and Wildlife Service) in Alaska.

In 1921, he was appointed curator of birds and mammals of the Denver Museum of Natural History and spent 18 months in lecturing birds and large mammals of the Arctic Ocean. He collected in Canada, the Bahamas, and in many states until 1926, when he joined the staff of the Field Museum in Chicago and collected specimens throughout Abyssinia and in the Egyptian Sudan.

On his return from Africa, Dr. Bailey was appointed director of the Chicago Academy of Sciences and served in that capacity for 10 years. During this time, he photographed in many areas of the United States, Canada, Labrador, and Mexico, and began giving illustrated programs.

He became director of the Denver Museum of Natural History in 1936, and has continued his interest in field work—his journeys taking him again to Alaska, Labrador, Mexico, to Midway and Wake Islands, and twice to the South Pacific to the Fijis, Australia, and New Zealand.

Deadline Today For Kinnikkinnik

This is it! Friday, April 9, is the final deadline for contributions to Kinnikkinnik. If you have work which you would like to submit, please turn it in to the Kinnikkinnik box in Cutler.

Cash prizes will be awarded for the outstanding contributions in each of the following divisions: poetry, music, art, drama, and prose. Remember that Friday is the final deadline.

may be given to a Student Council member or may be put in the ASCC box in Cutler. A committee will be set up by the council to decide on the winner.

Camp Completes Survey of City's Religious Groups

A preliminary survey of religious organizations in Colorado Springs has been completed by Robert C. Shaw, associate professor of sociology, and a sophomore from Grand Island, Nebr.

Dr. Van B. Shaw, associate professor of sociology, announced today that Camp has completed the pilot study as an extra research project in sociology.

Camp's project involved the listing and cataloging of every group in Colorado Springs which is organized for religious study and which conducts religious services on its own. He consulted all available directories, contacted the Colorado Springs Council of Churches and spent many hours driving thru the city for his listings.

Camp's final listing shows more than 120 religious organizations in the city or 30 more than are listed in one source now available.

The CC student has located all the organizations' place of worship on a map of the city. The card listing for each group carries a statement from each minister, or in some cases an officer of the group, an accurate or estimated membership and the official address.

In the research project, Camp found that the vast majority of religious organizations in Colorado Springs were eager to cooperate with such a listing, while others refused to be interviewed.

Camp estimates, as a result of his new directory, that there are over 30,000 church members in the community. Dr. Shaw pointed out that the student's work was not meant to be conclusive in any way. "It is merely a preliminary project, designed to assist further research," Shaw said. "The materials gathered are available to anyone interested in researching this field of study," he added.

Librarians Needed For Federal Positions

The United States Civil Service Commission announces that there is still a need for librarians in various federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and vicinity for positions paying entrance salaries of $3,410 a year.

Applicants are required to take a written test and must have completed (a) a year of college course work including at least 30 semester hours of study in library science; or (b) 4 years of progressive experience in library work; or (c) 1 full year of professional library training in a library school plus three years of college study or three years of progressive experience in library work.

Full information regarding the examination, and application forms, may be secured at many post offices throughout the country, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, 25, D.C. Applications will be accepted by the Commission in Washington until further notice.

Student Attitude Study Being Conducted at CC by Elson

Remember that questionnaire that was handed you at last registration asking what you thought about conditions at CC? In case you've wondered what it was all about, there is quite an unusual study being made on our campus to determine just what makes a student want to come to college in the first place and (more important) just what he thinks of it when he gets here. The study is being conducted by Richard A. Elson, who was registrar at Colorado College prior to his recall into the U.S. Navy in 1951.

The results of this study promise to make very interesting reading indeed, if not surprising. Mr. Elson emphasized that, although he is a former administrative officer of CC, this is completely independent study, and is in no way connected with either the administration or the faculty of the college. However, the study has the sanction of the administration, and when completed will probably be presented in Cutler Hall.

The idea is to get a look at the college through the eye of the student, and to make an effort to determine the strengths and the weaknesses of the college as the student sees them. CC will also be compared with other liberal arts colleges of similar size and standing. Thirty other liberal arts colleges have been contacted for this purpose.

So far the work has been carried on with questionnaires, however, Mr. Elson feels that, although the questionnaire has its place, it is a bit too stiff and stereotyped to really get at the facts in a study of this kind. Therefore, in order to supplement the information thus far obtained, an interview officer will be set up in Lennox House next Monday for the purpose of interviewing as many students as possible.

Each interview will be of about twenty minutes duration. The student can say exactly what he thinks without fear of reproach or repercussion, as no records will be taken or kept by name. In the next six weeks Mr. Elson hopes to be able to talk with at least seventy-five percent of the student body, but he is especially interested in seeing those students who expressed dissatisfaction in their previous questionnaires.

Interview hours will be from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. daily. Students are strongly urged to cooperate in this important study, designed to help make CC a stronger and better school.

VARSITY GOLF

There will be an important meeting of the Candidates of the Varsity Golf Squad at 5:00 p. m. Monday, April 12 in the "C" Club room. The 54 hole must be turned in by that time.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Chapel Menaces:

May I take this opportunity to sincerely express my appreciation to a certain group of fellow-chapel goers for competing with Dean Burkle this last Tuesday. Dean Burkle's subject sounded rather interesting—I really don't know because the title was about all I got to hear, for this group of young gentlemen didn't even have the discretion to whisper! Obvious grimaces from the faculty and students alike didn't phase their conceited noise.

I am wondering if it is too much to ask those who are bored to refrain from boring the rest of us with their grumbings—I would like to have the privilege of deciding for myself whether I am bored or not.

Thanking you for your cooperation,
I AM DISGUSTED,
Joyce L. Lind.

CC Presents City with Many Interesting Demonstrations at the 'Show of Progress'

Live animals from the zoology department, experiments in psychology, chemistry and physics, exhibits from geology and engineering departments and the operation of frequency modulation radio were shown at the Jaycee Show of Progress by Colorado College. Colorado College entered in the Show of Progress for the first time—not with one booth—but two. The college's own student-operated frequency modulation radio station—KRCC—combined talents with the FM station in Manitou Springs—KCMS—in one booth. Woodson Tyree, director of radio and drama at CC, joined forces with Charles "Bud" Edmonds, owner and operator of KCMS. Edmonds, a former CC student, was technical advisor to KRCC and one of the men largely responsible for its installation on the CC campus.

CC's other booth is presenting the departments of natural sciences, with an entirely different action show at each performance.

When the Show of Progress opened on Tuesday, April 6, the audience saw an extensive display of experiments from the physics department, under the direction of Dr. Paul Boucher and Prof. Howard Olson. The physics display featured geiger counters and electronics experiments.

Wednesday night Dr. Don Gould and the members of the geology department scheduled an elaborate exhibit of oil finding and petroleum exploration. The exhibit, complete with a scaled model, included methods of finding oil by aerial photography, sub-surface exploration and surface exploration.

Prof. Robert Koons and Edward Sampson of the civil engineering department took over Thursday night, presenting an elaborate display of testing machines used in construction techniques.

Dr. Otis Barnes and Dr. Lester Michel of the CC chemistry department have scheduled a technical and entertaining set of experiments for the college's action booth on Friday night.

The zoology and psychology departments will share Saturday's schedule. Dr. Robert Stabler and Dr. Richard Fox of the zoology department will appear at the Saturday matinee with an entertaining display of live animals, including Stabler's famous rattlesnakes, used in zoology instruction.

Closing the show Saturday night will be Dr. William Blakely and Prof. Richard Van Saun of the psychology department, presenting an intricate and enlightening set of experiments.

TESTING SCHEDULE

After consultation with various interested parties, the following dates have been set in various testing programs of the Spring semester:

TUESDAY, APRIL 13—

8:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.—Sophomore tests.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 21—

8:30 a.m.—Graduation Record Examinations.

THURSDAY, APRIL 22—

Selective Service tests.

MONDAY and TUESDAY, APRIL 26 and 27—

Comprehensive examinations.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 5—

ROTC inspection.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 19—

Results of comprehensives due at Registrar's office.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 26—

Final Examinations begin.

Committee Heads Of AWS Chosen For Coming Year

The retiring AWS board has named the chairmen, vice chairmen, and sorority representatives for the following year.

The choices made are as follows—Social Committee: chairman, Joan Reid; vice chairman, Eleanor Graves. Publicity Committee: chairman, Lee Sage; vice chairman, Betty Troutman. Welcoming committee: chairman, Marilyn Clark; vice chairman, Mary Spindel and Claire Strehler. Song Committee: chairman, Marjann Robbins. Poster Committee: chairman, Marlyn Wallace; vice chairman, Joanne Rehm. Service Committee: chairman, Deborah Brewster; vice chairman, Sue Arnold. Vocational Guidance and Scholarship Committee: chairman, Sue Griffin; vice chairman, Julie Harnden.

Selected as sorority representatives were Marilyn Clark, Delta Gamma; Mary Spindel, Kappa Alpha Theta; Eleanor Graves (this semester) and Claire Strehler (next semester), Kappa Kappa Gamma; and Betty Troutman (this semester) and Julie Harnden (next semester), Gamma Phi Beta.

The sorority representatives were chosen from those already named chairmen or vice chairmen. The motive behind this action was to enable vice chairmen to attend board meetings and to make the position of sorority representatives more significant.

At the same meeting where the above selections were made, it was decided that the president of Pan Hellenic hencforward "would be a member of the AWS board.

Girls who volunteered for chairman or vice chairman positions but who were not given these jobs will be considered first for the committees.

Alfred Dante Awarded National Science Foundation Fellowship

Alfred Dante, Colorado Springs senior at Colorado College, has been named winner of one of the prized National Science Foundation fellowships. The graduate fellowship carries a grant of $1,400, plus tuition, travel and fees for the first year. The stipend is renewable each year, with the amount increasing to $1,600 the second year and $1,800 to the third year. Dante will use his fellowship at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, studying physical chemistry, directed toward the earning of the doctor of philosophy degree.

Dante is the 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Dante of 217 North 7th Street. He entered Colorado College on a trustee scholarship out of St. Mary's High School in Walsenburg, the Dante's former home. During his junior and senior years he has been recipient of the tuition scholarship from the Frederick Morley, Jr. fund.

The lucrative Science Foundation fellowship was one of four graduate prizes offered Dante. He was also named winner of fellowships to California Institute of Technology, Columbia University and Iowa State.

An outstanding student in many fields throughout high school and college, Dante was one of two juniors named to Phi Beta Kappa at the end of the 1952-53 school year. At CC he has been a member of the American Chemical Society, the German Club and the Newman Club.

The National Science Foundation was established as a private agency of the executive branch of the government by Public Law 507, and annually awards 250 first-year fellowships to outstanding science students.

Among the basic responsibilities of the foundation are the development and promotion of basic research and education in the sciences and the fostering of the interchange of scientific information among scientists in the United States and abroad.

Graduate fellows are permitted to choose whether they study in the United States or in a foreign country.

Dante will enroll at MIT in September.

Hopper Attends Education Meeting

Victor J. Hopper, associate professor of education at Colorado College, returned recently from a national education conference in Los Angeles. He was one of 2,500 in attendance at the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development. Hopper represented the Rocky Mountain region on the board of directors.

The CC professor served in a leadership capacity for a special group on the topic: "Designing pre-service education programs to meet the needs of today's schools."

Theme of the week-long conference was, "Creating a Good Environment for Learning". Highlights of the entertainment program included numbers by the Los Angeles all-city elementary chorus of 1,000 voices, the all-city high school orchestra and the all-city elementary orchestra.

Outstanding speakers for the conference included Henry Steele Commager, professor of history at Columbia University, Robert D. Murphy, deputy under secretary of state, and other leading educators.

Commager spoke on "Social-Political Dimensions of a Good Learning Environment", while Murphy discussed "Some Aspects of U.S. Foreign Policy".

ROY ROBERTSON NAMED FOOTBALL COACH

Lou Worner Says Golf Team Best At CC in 8 Years

Dr. Lou Worner, Colorado College golf coach has announced a seven-game schedule in addition to the CC-Broadmoor Invitational meet at the Broadmoor May 14 and 15. A total of twelve men, including three lettermen, have turned out and Coach Worner says, "We should have the best golf team in eight years."

The players are now shooting a 54 hole qualifying "match. The eight with the lowest scores will constitute the traveling squad. April 9th is the deadline for this qualification.

Ken Simon, Bob Kroehne and Roy Keller are the three returning lettermen.

The schedule is as follows:

April 10 or 17—Regis at Colorado Springs.

April 24—Colorado University at Boulder.

April 30—Denver University at Colorado Springs.

May 1—Regis at Denver.

May 7—Denver University at Denver.

May 8—Colorado University at Colorado Springs.

New CC Football Coach

May 14-15—CC-Broadmoor Invitational Meet at Colorado Springs.

May 19—Nebraska University at Colorado Springs.

A first solo flight was made by Naval Aviation Cadet Harold D. Shearer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Shearer of Colorado Springs, Colo. He attended Colorado College where he was president of the freshman class, and entered the Naval Aviation Cadet Program through the U.S. Naval Air Station, Denver, Colo.

The flight was completed at the U.S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Whiting Field, Ill. Cadet Shearer will now receive instruction in precision air work and aerobatics along with his regular solo flights.

NEBRASKA WESLEYAN COACH REPLACES HEISS AS FOOTBALL and BASEBALL HEAD

Roy B. Robertson, head football coach and athletic director at Nebraska Wesleyan University in Lincoln, is the new football coach at Colorado College, President William H. Gill announced Tuesday. Robertson, whose official appointment will read "athletic coach and associate professor of education," will be on the campus sometime in April to meet with returning football squadmen and to outline his program for the fall.

Juan Reid, CC athletic director, said Robertson would report officially July 1. Robertson's contract is for two years at an undisclosed salary.

The new mentor will coach football and baseball at CC.

Robertson, 35, graduated in 1940 from McPherson College, McPherson, Kan., with the bachelor of science degree. He lettered four years in football and basketball and three years in track. In 1937 he played 60 minutes of each game in the college's 10-game schedule.

The new CC coach has done graduate study at the University of Illinois and New York University and is due to receive the master's degree in education from the University of Nebraska this June.

After coaching all sports at Attica, Ind., Kan., from 1940-42, Robertson served as an officer in United States Air Force Intelligence from 1942-45. From 1945-50 he was head football coach at Senior High, Springfield, Mo. He has been at Nebraska Wesleyan since 1950.

Robertson's overall head coaching record is 60 wins, 39 losses, and 7 ties.

Married and the father of three daughters, Robertson is a member of the Methodist Church, Blue Masonic Lodge, Lions Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, 32nd degree in the Scottish Masonic Lodge, and a member of the Nebraska and the National Football Coaches Association.

Baseball Season Opens with First Game at Golden

CC's 1954 baseball team opens its season this afternoon against Mines at Golden. Tomorrow the Mines will visit CC for a return engagement.

This year's aggregation is coached by Red Eastlack who took over as head coach upon the resignation of Coach Heiss. His charges will be out to repeat their victories over Mines last year when they trounced the Miners in three games 16-2, 15-6, and 18-3. The Tigers will also be fighting to improve their league record of last year which was four won and three lost.

All but one of this year's returning lettermen are slated to start today at Golden.

Either Tony George or Jeff Simus will be behind the plate for CC while the other alternates in right field. Wally Parus is at third base, Ed Robson at shortstop, Lou Elder at second, Tom Reichert in center field and Tom Dunton pitching. New men who will be starting are Bill McCrea on first base, Bob Egly in left field, and Hal Cowan in right field.

Coach Eastlack has high hopes for his team and says they have good possibilities. He thinks the team is definitely stronger than last year especially in pitching and the infield. The players have been hitting well in practice and have a good chance to win the conference championship if they can defeat Colorado State.

Baseball, Tennis, Golf and Track Men Begin Long Spring Sports Schedule

Colorado College spring sports athletes returned to the campus Monday following a spring vacation, and immediately turned to the practice field for a lengthy four-sport schedule. First on the schedule will be a game at Golden between the baseball nines of Colorado College and Colorado Mines. The CC baseball crew returns home to tangle with the Miners at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon on Stewart Field. Coach Red Eastlack has had a handful of his diamond squad here during the vacation and feels his team will be in good shape for the opening weekend schedule.

CC's tennis team tackles the powerful Denver University net squad tomorrow in Denver.

The golf and track teams will not open their seasons until the following weekend. Coach Cheddy Thompson's tracksters first take the field on Saturday, April 17, in a triangular meet with Western State and Adams State, on Washburn Field.

CC's intramural track meet, featuring the five fraternal Independent Men, will be held on Washburn Field tomorrow afternoon at 1 p.m.

The Tiger golf team opens play here April 17 against Regis.

I-M Track Meet Sat.

Six organizations will meet this Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock on Washburn Field for the 1954 edition of intramural track.

The meet will count in intramural standings and will be worth five points to the winner.

Events shall be the same as last year with the mile run being the only individual distance run. The smaller runs will include dashes of 60, 100, 220, 440 and 880 yards.

The only team event will be the 880-yard relay.

Completing the program will be the field events which are the pole vault, discus, shot put, broad jump, and high jump.

Churchill was undoubtedly born with a silver tongue in his mouth. —Pathfinder.

Tennis Men Open At Denver Saturday

Coach Wally Boyce has nine tennis players working out in preparation for their first match with Denver University on April 10. Only two lettermen are among the hopefuls for this year. They are Del Hitch and Tom Lowry.

Other prospective netmen are Dick Conroy, Dan Smith, Nick Ferris, Dick Pearson, John Watts, and Monty Gatchell.

The schedule is as follows:

April 10—Denver University at Denver.

April 17—Western State College at Colorado Springs.

April 24—Colorado Univ. (place undecided).

May 1—Colorado State College at Greeley.

C. Smith, P. Hilton Draw Hockey Honor

Two Colorado College hockey stars, rightwing Clare Smith and defenseman Phil Hilton were named to the University of North Dakota all-opponent second team voted recently by the members of the Nodak squad.

Smith, who hails from Red Deer, Alberta was CC's top scorer with 46 points last season. Hilton, a stalwart defenseman who also played on the attacking lines on occasions, comes from Brandon, Manitoba.

First team:

Goal—Willard Ikola, Mich.

RW—Dick Dougherty, Minn.

LW—Joe Kilbey, Denver.

C—John Mayasich, Minn.

RD—Ken Yackel, Minn.

LD—Bill Abbott, Denver.

Second team:

Goal—Jim Mattson, Minn.

RW—Clare Smith, Colorado Col.

LW—George Chin, Mich.

C—Jack Smith, Denver.

RD—Phil Hilton, Colorado Col.

LD—Jim Haas, Mich.

May 7—Colorado Univ. (place undecided).

May 8—Colorado School of Mines at Colorado Springs.

• Intra-Mural • BILLBOARD

By Tom Reichert

Moses Harrison's Phi Gams failed to show that old R.P.I. spirit and blew their chances for the intramural volleyball championship. The Betas won two straight from the Phi Gams—15-9, 15-10. The Kappa Sigs salvaged a third to add a point to their total.

The intramural track meet is tomorrow, April 10. Each fraternity is requested to send men to help Coach Cheddy Thompson.

In total point standings the Phi Gams lead the parade with 24; with only track and softball remaining; it will be impossible for any of the other teams to catch them.

Ping Pong: 1. Kappa Sigs; 2. Phi Deltas; 3. Independents.

Bowling: 1. Independents; 2. Phi Gams; 3. Betas.

Basketball: 1. Kappa Sigs; 2. Phi Gams; 3. Phi Deltas.

Volleyball: 1. Betas; 2. Phi Gams; 3. Kappa Sigs.

Total point standing up to April 4th: Phi Gams 25; Betas 14; Independents 11; Kappa Sigs 11; Phi Deltas 10; and Sigma Chis 1.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

Late for your date? She hates to wait?
Need something nice to soothe her?
Give her a round, firm Lucky Strike—
They're cleaner, fresher, smoother!

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason...enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco...light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better...always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

My roommate was a grouchy soul—

Vienna University Offers Summer Courses For American Students

The University of Vienna Summer School at Schloss Traunsee, Gmunden, Austria, will offer courses open to American students from July 26 to Sept. 5.

Designed to promote better understanding between Europeans and Americans, the curriculum will include law and political science, liberal arts, and German language. Courses will be conducted in English. To be eligible for entrance to the three or six-week courses, American applicants must have completed at least two years of college work by June. Closing date for admission is May 30.

An opportunity for summer study combined with outdoor vacation life at a mountain lake, the school is held at the nineteenth century castle of Traunsee on the shore of a lake in Austria's Salzkammergut district. In addition to course work, the summer school's $200 tuition will include trips to Salzburg and the festival, and to nearby places of interest. Students will also be able to arrange an excursion to Vienna.

Eight scholarships are available to well-qualified students who would be unable to attend the summer school without financial assistance. Applicants for these awards or for general admission should write to the Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th St., New York City. The Institute is screening applications for this program in the United States.

Another summer school program administered by the Institute is the Summer Schools at British Universities. Closing date for application to this course is April 7. March 24 is the last date to apply for transatlantic passage arranged by the Institute.

 HORSEBACK RIDERS ATTENTION!

There will be a meeting of the riding club in Palmer Hall room 116, Tuesday, April 13 at 7:00 p. m. Spring rides will be planned and movies of the homecoming parade will be shown.

ROTC Sponsors Military Ball April 17 at the B'moor Hotel

The second annual military ball, to be held April 17 at the Broadmoor, will be attended by many well known civilian and military persons. State and city officials, heads of civic organizations, officials, trustees and faculty members of Colorado College as well as military leaders will be guests of the Corps of Cadets. Bob McGrew and his orchestra will furnish the music for the all school ROTC dance.

Dancing starts promptly at 9:30 p.m. and will continue through 12:30 a.m. A presentation ceremony will be held during an 11 o'clock intermission. The honorary Cadet Colonel, who will be elected by vote during ROTC classes will be announced at that time. The Colonel-elect will be fitted with a military type cape bearing the insignia of Cadet Lieutenant Colonel, and will be presented with a cup appropriately engraved, as well as an engraved plaque that will be maintained by her affiliated organization. Last year this honor fell to Sandy Sparks, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

The ballroom decorations will be of a military motif. Dress will be formal with male attendants either in uniform or appropriate formal dress.

Tickets will be available from Pershing Rifle members and Capt. Stoffel, ROTC adjutant. Price of the invitational type ticket is two dollars per couple.

Tennessee Girl Elected U.S. "Campus Queen"

A 20-year-old brunette, Betty K. Shanton, sophomore drum majorette at the University of Tennessee, has been voted USA "Campus Queen" following a nationwide poll of colleges. It is announced in the current issue of Sport Magazine.

Five finalists, as selected by the famed singer, Vaughn Monroe, from among hundreds of entrants were nominated for the "Campus Queen" crown last January. Miss Shanton was the highest vote-getter after Sport completed counting more than 55,000 ballots. She will receive a plaque emblematic of the national title.

The other finalists were Jane and Joan Ryba, twins, of the University of Texas, Marilyn Schuler of Ohio University, Argiro Louchis of Louisiana State University and Nancy Stevens of Texas Christian University.

Miss Shanton resides in Sevierville, Tenn., and is a sophomore at Tennessee's College of Home Economics. She is five feet, two inches, weighs 112 pounds, and her measurements are 34-23-34. She is a lifeguard in the summer and since her picture appeared in Sport, she has been chosen sweetheart of Navy minesweepers, infantry units in Korea and a number of occupation groups in Germany.

Becker Awarded Teaching Assistantship At North Carolina State College in Raleigh

David A. Becker, Colorado College senior and zoology major, has been awarded a teaching assistantship at North Carolina State College, Raleigh, N. C. The outstanding award is for $1,500 per year and is renewable each year until Becker completes work for his doctor's major. Becker's graduate training will begin this summer, when he will travel to Alaska. He will spend July and August with Dr. Reinhard Harkema of North Carolina's zoology department, studying problems of parasitology prevalent in Alaska. His expenses will be paid.

The CC award winner will then return to Raleigh to continue his studies pursuant to a master's degree and eventually the doctor of philosophy degree. Becker will serve as an instructor in the zoology department of North Carolina State.

During his four years at CC Becker has been active in many campus organizations. He has served as chairman of the Associated Students' social committee for two years, parade chairman for the 1953 CC Homecoming, vice president and president of the Growlers Pep Organization, member of the executive committee of Sigma Chi fraternity for four years and student instructor of zoology.

Becker was recently named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" as one of the 13 outstanding seniors at CC.

After graduating from Colorado Springs High School in 1946 he served three years with the U.S. Army Medical department—two of these in Korea as a surgical technician. He is now a member of the active reserves as sergeant first class with the staff of the 5935th ORC School in Colorado Springs.

Becker is the son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Willis A. Becker, who have made their home in Colorado Springs since 1942. Col. Becker came to the city then as one of the first Air Force officers to help build and set up Peterson Field.

Mademoiselle Sponsors Two Writing Contests

Mademoiselle is currently sponsoring two writing contests, the annual College Fiction Contest and the Dylan Thomas Poetry Contest, to encourage young writers.

Prizes will amount to $1,000—$500 for each of the two best stories written by women undergraduates, and two $100 poetry prizes. Stories and poems should be submitted by April 15.

In order to be eligible for the

Col. and Mrs. Becker and their youngest son, Charles, are now in Germany, where Col. Becker is serving on the staff of the 12th Air Force Headquarters. The family will return to Colorado Springs in June, 1955, when Col. Becker will retire.

Dr. Robert M. Stabler, professor and chairman of the department of zoology at CC, and Dr. Richard M. Fox, associate professor, both expressed satisfaction and pride at Becker's assistantship. They cited the award as one of the outstanding graduate prizes of its kind.

fiction contest, women undergraduates must be under twenty-six years of age and be regularly enrolled in a college. Stories must range from 3,000 to 5,000 words and contestants may submit more than one. Manuscripts must be typed, double-spaced, and on one side of the paper only. All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, April 15, 1954 and must be mailed to College Fiction Contest, Mademoiselle, 575 Madison Avenue, New York 22, New York.

Contestants entering in the poetry contest must be women college students under thirty. One poem will be chosen from those submitted by women who may not be in college and may not even be a college graduate. Poems already published are not acceptable.

The poems should be typed and should state whether the person is in college or not. Entries must be mailed by midnight, April 15, 1954 and should be mailed to Mademoiselle, Dylan Thomas Award, 575 Madison Avenue, New York 22, New York.

Osborne Wins Chemistry Award

Wendell Osborne, Colorado College freshman from Fort Morgan, has been named winner of the College's Freshman Chemistry Achievement Award.

The award, established three years ago by the Chemical Rubber Company of Cleveland, Ohio, is given to the freshman selected as the most outstanding in progress made the first semester in chemistry.

Osborne will receive a certificate of award from the company and will be presented with a copy of the new 35th edition of the company's "Handbook of Chemistry and Physics".

The freshman chemistry winner is not new to academic awards. After an outstanding high school career Osborne was awarded one of the prized Union Carbide Company scholarships to Colorado College.

Osborne played end on the CC football team this past fall.

In days gone by, young men in shining armor ruled the age. Today, a new kind of man rules the age—America's Knights of the Sky, the Air Force Pilots! They rule from on high, in flashing silver-winged Air Force jets . . . a gallant band that all America looks up to! Like the Knights of old, they are few in number, but they represent their Nation's greatest strength. If you are single, between the ages of 19 and 26½, you can join this select flying team and serve with the finest. You will be given the best jet training in the world, and graduate as an Air Force Lieutenant earning $5,000 a year. Your silver wings will mark you as one of the chosen few who ride the skies in Air Force jets.

As an Air Force pilot, your kingdom is space—a jet is your charger and your mission is the highest. You are a key defender of the American faith, with a guaranteed future both in military and commercial aviation.

DOWN TIME STAR BEAT'S

Off again, on again bandleader Harry James recently put both feet firmly in the band business and announced that he was out to build "the greatest band in the country". And so saying, added two former stars who sparked the group a few years back—alto man, Willie Smith, and tenor star, Corky Corcoran. The band, which also includes drummer Buddy Rich, will soon go on the road, and Harry's fans will have the opportunity to give a listen to the strangled James band.

Harry was brought up with a circus and it was there that he learned the trumpet, and first sat in with the circus band at the ripe age of 8. By the time he was 10 he was already playing trumpet solos, and at 15 began to play with local orchestras in Beaumont, Texas, where his family had retired from the circus.

After winning a state-wide contest, James decided to pursue a career as a musician and soon obtained engagements in Dallas and Galveston, playing with local bands. It was during one of these gigs that Ben Pollack spotted him and signed him to play with his orchestra.

The next break came when Benny Goodman happened to catch Harry's trumpet work on a Pollack recording, and immediately hired the 20-year-old trumpeter. James stayed with Goodman for three years, and in 1939 decided to go out on his own.

The sledding was tough at first, but after the Columbia recording, "You Made Me Love You," broke in 1941, every juke box throughout the land was carrying James' records. From then on, the band catapulted to fame.

On July 5, 1943, James married Betty Grable, and they now make their home in Beverly Hills, Calif. On the coast, he was under contract to 20th Century Fox studios and appeared in many films. He was also technical advisor and played all the trumpet parts in Young Men with a Horn.

Here's the latest on DOWN BEAT'S songwriting contest. Mercury Records will assign the winning tune to the Ralph Marterie orchestra for waxing, and Broadcast Music, Inc., will publish the top song and also print orchestrations of it for dance bands and combos. In addition, the Kelton high-fidelity firm will award the first three winners a console model hi-fi set. Judges now include: Al Livingston of Capitol; Hugo Winterhalter, RCA Victor; Paul Westcott, Columbia; Milt Gabler, Decca; and Julie Stearns, Broadcast Music, Inc. Remember, all that is required for entry in this contest is your song along with a fully signed entry blank and a year's subscription to DOWN BEAT.

BAND NEWS: Woody Herman starts a month-long tour of Europe this April. New additions to the band for the trek were drummer Chuck Flores and trumpeter Al Porcino. . . . Stan Kenton decided to take an extended vacation. . . . Chet Baker's quartet took off on an eastern jaunt, with stands-slanted at Detroit, Philadelphia, and Boston. Baker's cohort on records, Gerry Mulligan, also is in the midst of an eastern invasion. . . . Jimmy McPartland's new band opened at New York's Metropole which formerly had a non-jazz policy. If the McPartland unit clicks, the club will go on a jazz kick. . . . Columbia's trio of dance bands—Less Elgart, Pete Rugolo, and Dan Terry—had their first releases this month. Columbia will put out two new dance sides every two weeks, rotating the bands in the above-mentioned order. . . . Mambo bandleader Perez Prado will make an extensive tour of the U.S. He obtained a special immigration permit from his native Cuba to enable him a longer stay here.

RECORD NEWS: Eddie Fisher was named the top recording personality of the last year in a DOWN BEAT-conducted poll of over 2,000 disc jockeys. The jocks also named Bob Manning and Martha Kitt as most promising newcomers, and Less Paul-Mary Ford's Vaya Con Dios, Frank Chackfield's Ebb Tide, and Stan Freberg's St. George and The Dragonet as top records. . . . Mercury Records has formed a new label, Em Arcy,

Civil Service Offers Weather Bureau Jobs

An examination for Meteorological Aid has been announced by the U.S. Civil Service Commission for filling positions principally in the United States Weather Bureau, Department of Commerce. The salaries are $2,950 to $3,410 a year.

To qualify, competitors must pass a written test and, in addition, must have had appropriate education or experience.

Full information regarding the requirements, and instructions on applying, may be obtained at many post offices throughout the country, and from the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications will be accepted until further notice; however, interested persons are urged to apply at once.

JOB APPLICATIONS

The Dayton Company in Minneapolis, Minn., has written Colorado College to inquire about girls who may be interested in a summer job as a representative from CC on their College Board. Any girl who is interested in this possibility should contact the Counseling Center in Ticknor Hall for information next week, and then will receive an application blank from the Dayton Company. College Board members will be selected by them shortly after April 15.

which will be devoted entirely to jazz. Jazz enthusiast and promoter Bobby Shad will head the operation. . . . Label "X" will begin an extensive jazz re-issue program starting off with the works of Jelly Roll Morton, Benny Moten, Jimmie Lunceford, and the Original Dixieland Jazz Band. . . . Bob Thiele of Coral Records signed the Jackie Cain-Roy Kral singing team, who formerly did boy-styled chirping for the Charlie Ventura band. . . . Al Hibbler, ex-Ellington vocalist, recorded an album of Ellington tunes for Norman Granz' new label, Norgran. . . . Scheduled for April release is Victor's jazz program is a new Barbara Carroll piano album, and singles by Don Elliott, Mundell Lowe, and Bobby Dukoff. A re-issue set of Lionel Hampton all-star masters is also promised.

Absorb Knowledge While Sleeping With New Device

The technique of increasing learning capacity which has been internationally known for over 10 years is now within the reach of every college student's budget.

This technique makes use of the latest advances in psychology and electronics. It is based on the proved principles of the Psychology of Suggestion, namely that knowledge can be absorbed in sleep and that efficiency is increased enormously when the individual is completely relaxed mentally and physically.

Dr. Johns, a practicing psychologist for over 20 years and internationally known as an authority on Auto-Suggestion, has applied these principles in developing his method and its instrument of application, the John-Ophone. The latter consists of a tape recorder plus various attachments, such as an underpillow speaker, a message-repeating mechanism and a special clock which can shut the recorder on and off up to 72 times in 24 hours.

The Dr. Johns method enables students to learn more, in a shorter time, with less effort. It employs the John-Ophone to repeat messages during both waking and sleeping hours. This method of learning while relaxed or even during natural sleep has been confirmed time and again by experiments conducted at various major institutions.

"As in the usual learning process, the new method requires a constant repetition of statements or ideas," explained Dr. Johns. "Recognizing this in teaching languages, the U.S. Army and better language schools have been using phonograph records that repeat words and phrases many times until those sounds become imbedded in the brain."

"In our method, however, learning does not cease with mere repetition. Its technique is far more flexible and its range of uses virtually unlimited. Each individual makes his own recording to his needs, creating a healthier and more receptive state of mind."

PINKNEY, HAWLEY AWARDED NAT'L. GRAD SCHOLARSHIPS

Anne Pinkney, Colorado College senior from Trinidad, has been named winner of one of the prized Fulbright scholarships for study abroad.

An economics major at CC, Miss Pinkney will do graduate study in Charles D. Hawley, Colorado College senior from Ottawa, Kan., has been named winner of a $1,200 scholarship to Harvard Law School.

A political science major at CC, economics at the University of Clermont-Ferrand in France. The award pays full tuition for one academic year, plus full expenses for travel and incidentals.

Miss Pinkney has been an outstanding student, both in academic and extra-curricular activities, during her four-year stay here. She entered CC in 1950 from Trinidad High School on a trustee scholarship and was named winner of the Perkins Prize for academic excellence at the end of her sophomore year.

A newly-elected member of Phi Beta Kappa, she has served as president of Bemis and Hamlin halls, chairman of the CC Leadership conference, secretary of the Associated Students of Colorado College, student member of the Faculty Lecture committee and a member of the Mountain Club and French Club. She is scholarship chairman of her sorority, Gamma Phi Beta.

Miss Pinkney achieved fame for herself and her college in 1953 when she was named as the student representative from Colorado to attend the National Association of Manufacturer's Congress of American Industry.

Students receiving the award are recommended by the campus Fulbright committee and are selected by the Board of Foreign Scholarships, the members of which are appointed by the president of the United States.

Sonny Price Award Application Deadline Is Friday, April 23

Application for the Sonny Price Award are to be turned in by Friday, April 23, 1954. All applications must be submitted to a Student Council representative or turned into the ASCC box in Custer by this date.

Student Council urges all freshmen, sophomores and juniors who feel that they are qualified to apply for this award. The award will be given to an outstanding student who will be attending Colorado

Hawley has been outstanding academically and active in extra-curricular work since entering in 1950. He will enter Harvard in September on the scholarship, which is renewable each year dependent upon continued high-caliber work.

Hawley first achieved academic recognition at the end of his sophomore year when he was named winner of men's Perkins Prize, for excellence in grades the freshman and sophomore years.

At the end of his junior year at CC he was named as one of two juniors elected to the select circle of Phi Beta Kappa.

Hawley has served as an undergraduate assistant in instructing freshman political science students.

A member of the Honor Council, the debate team, the Growler's Club, and the Pick and Pan dramatic club, he has served as president of Crown and Lance (the Independent Men's organization), the German Club, Tau Delta Alpha (debating society), the Publications Board, and the Jonathan Edwards religious club.

He has also been treasurer of the Associated Students of Colorado College.

Prof. J. Douglas Mertz of the political science department, applauded Hawley for his work at CC and cited the Harvard scholarship as one of the nation's top prizes for law students.

The United States Educational Exchange program is designed to promote a better understanding of the United States in other countries, and to increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and the people of other countries.

KRCC Conducts Poll: Interview Over 1800

KRCC students have recently conducted two polls. In one of them, 635 persons were interviewed by telephone, and the other results were obtained from the interviewing of 1,183 viewers of The Show of Progress. Of those persons students spoke to, 565 had FM sets. 298 of these had listened to KRCC, and 191 had listened to KCMS, which is Manitou Springs' FM station. 771 preferred KVOR, and 1,072 preferred KRDO.

CC Song Fest Will Be Held on May 10

Spring is here, and once again the CC Song Fest is drawing near. The date of this year's fest will be Monday, May 10, and will be held at 7:30 in Shove Chapel. The Song Fest committee is made up of the song leaders from each organization under the chairmanship of Barbara Cannon.

Each organization will sing two songs of which one must be a Rogers-Hammerstein II selection. The songs of the various organizations are as follows: Kappa Alpha Theta, "Kerry Dancers" and "We Kiss in a Shadow"; Kappa Kappa Gamma, "Skylark" and "Where or When"; Gamma Phi Beta, "I Whistle a Happy Tune" and "Madam Jeannette"; Delta Gamma, "Into the Night" and "Keep It Gay"; Independent Women, "The Bells of St. Mary" and "It's a Great Night for Singing"; Kappa Sigma, "Stout Hearted Men" and "Deep River"; Beta Theta Pi, "Blue Moon" and "Green Sleeves"; Sigma Chi, "April Showers" and "My Heart Stood Still"; Phi Delta Theta, "With a Song in My Heart" and "Drinkin' Song" from the Student Prince; Independent Men, "Wonderbar" and "This Can't Be Love".

Student Council Officers Elected For Coming Year

The new officers for the Associated Students of Colorado College were elected in Student Council Monday, April 12 to serve the 1954-55 term.

Sue Pfeiffer was elected to serve as vice president of the Council. The office of treasurer was given to Murt Forster while Debbie Brewster was elected the new secretary.

The Council elected Lucy Hammond to serve as social chairman, and Lee Sage is the new Publications Board chairman.

ASCC Constitutional Amendment Must Be Ratified by Students

The ASCC constitution states that any proposed amendment to that document must be printed in THE TIGER and must be ratified by a student body election within three weeks of that printing.

The council wished all students to familiarize themselves with the following amendments:

Article IV, Section 3, pertaining to the Jurisdiction Committee. "One of the student members of the committee is to be ratified by the president of ASCC to serve as chairman."

Article IV, Section 6, which pertains to the reviewing of cases by C.U.L. was amended as follows: "If the Undergraduate Committee disagrees with the decisions of the Student Council, a joint session of the Undergraduate Committee and the Student Council shall be called; and a decision shall be reached by a majority vote of the joint session."

JANE CARROLL

Jane Carroll to Represent CC In "Queen for a Day" Contest

Jane Carroll, a lovely sophomore has been chosen to represent Colorado College in the nation-wide search for the "College Queen of America." This contest is sponsored by the radio program "Queen for a Day," the Mutual Broadcasting system, to find the college girl who represents the highest standards of beauty and loveliness.

Monday night each women's organization on campus selected its candidate for the contest. The entrants were: Jane Carroll, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Jody Shattuck, Kappa Alpha Theta; Marty Kirtley, Delta Gamma; Sally Powell, Gamma Phi Beta; and Betty Freeto, Independent Women. The TIGER wishes to correct an error made in last week's issue regarding the contest. Only one contestant, not two, could be chosen by the staff.

Jane will send two photographs, one portrait and one full length, together with an entry blank as CC's official candidate for the College Queen of America. The contest will be judged by a board of impartial beauty experts headed by Jack Bailey, master of ceremonies of "Queen for a Day."

Five girls will win a trip to Hollywood for three days from

May 19-22 and have the opportunity to appear on Mutual's "Queen for a Day" radio and television program where the studio audience will choose one of them as "College Queen of America," in accordance with the established format of the program. Five winners will be announced on "Queen for a Day" radio broadcast of May 12, 1954. The final winner will be announced on May 21, 1954.

The Queen, in addition to a glorious all-expense-paid trip to the nation's film capital, will be showered with the most magnificent collection of gifts and honors. Although the national winner will be most magnificently treated, all five will receive generous gifts, as well as a three-day round of activities in Hollywood.

Clave and Parker Chosen to Sing In Central City Opera This Summer

Judy Clave and John Parker, students at CC, have been chosen to sing in the Central City Opera Association chorus this summer. Auditions were held in Denver during spring vacation. From the more than 70 entrants, 30 were chosen to sing in the opera "Faust." Rehearsals began last Sunday in preparation for the arrival of the summer opera season.

Two contrasting operas will be presented for the 1954 Central City Festival in the world-renowned old Opera House. The great medieval legend immortalized in "Faust" by Charles Francis Gounod opens the season, followed by Richard Strauss' "Ariadne and Naxos," a sophisticated operatic comedy, exquisitely in modern beauty and lyricism.

Dr. Elmer Nagy, famous exponent of modern opera returns as artistic director to design and direct "Faust." Mr. Kurt Adler, eminent conductor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, returns as musical director. Denver's great choral director, Mr. Roger Fee, and the famous ballet choreographer, Miss Lillian Cushing, complete the artistic staff. The casts include many of the most beautiful voices and gifted personalities of the Metropolitan and New York City Central Opera Companies.

Judy Clave, a junior this year, does not need a great deal of introduction. She has been known at CC for three years for her very entertaining soprano voice. Judy has been in numerous CC productions which have ranged from the Variety Show to the operatic production "School for Fathers." At present she is rehearsing a lead role in the musical comedy "Good News."

John Parker, a talented tenor, is a senior at CC. John sang the role of Hoffman in the recent CC opera production "Tales of Hoffman." He is presently singing the part of Windy in the forthcoming musical comedy, "Good News."

At the close of the operatic season the musical directors from New York will audition each member of the chorus individually and tell them what chance they have in continuing their musical careers.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

"Why should we care about the problems of the world, when the next 'H' bomb will get us all?" "There is no escape from another great world war, so why fight against this inevitable tide?"

These are the words of a would-be college student, spoken to me only a few days ago; and he should have his mouth washed out with soap, as well as having his brain overhauled. Wouldn't it be better to ask ourselves the question: How can we, as college students, expect our world to continue to exist, if we have no knowledge of how it works, and care even less? In case of another world war (with present-day weapons) a fatalistic attitude might be rightly assumed; but to lay down on the job of trying to promote world peace and international freedom (at least having knowledge and concern therewith), is too precipitate that which we fear most.

Let us ask ourselves some more questions, to see what we, as students, are trying to learn and comprehend of the peoples about us.

1. Do we have interest in local, state, federal, or/and international problems and affairs?
2. Do we read newspapers, news magazines, listen to news broadcasts and commentators?
3. Do we know anything of foreign countries—their attitudes, their problems, their relationship to our own country?
4. Lastly, do we really care to know of these above mentioned things?

These are questions (and you may propose many more) which we should all take to heart and analyze. "Do we do this? Do we realize that?" should be our motto.

Just as we must know of world affairs, so must we be aware of those in our own kithen. We must see them, and since the problem will soon belong to us, the college and university student, we must plan to conquer them.

A bid is being placed before us. It is up to us, the leaders of our country in the not too distant future, to pick the linen with which this bed shall be made. The problem is ours; so let us solve it.

—Philip Everett, CC sophomore.

AN OPEN LETTER TO CC STUDENTS

As the newly-elected ASCC president, I would like to thank all those who have placed their confidence in me for the coming term of office.

As you know, my platform in the school election was one which stated that I was in favor of greater student participation in governing themselves. To increase the possibility of more participation, I believe that the judicial branch of student government can be expanded to include more students. Under the present provisions of the ASCC Constitution for trying student offenses, the Student Council acts as a trial court, concerning itself with crimes of damage to school property and of student conduct. Also under the Constitution, the Honor Council tries cases concerned with violations of the Honor Code.

It is my intention to do all in my power, with the help of the ASCC Council members, to bring into existence a student court which will function in the capacity now held by the Student Council.

In my opinion, this student agency can accomplish three apparent things.

Firstly, it can limit the number of student offenses because it is my feeling that students will not want their behavior exposed to students serving on a jury and to those observing the trial.

Secondly, student court training can be helpful in later life when former CC students are called upon to serve on and participate in civil court actions.

Thirdly, a student court will lift the responsibility of justice from the students' legislative body, the Council, and place that responsibility where it can function on its own time and on its own ground.

Again, let me assure you that I will expend my efforts to satisfy your wishes, and, with your cooperation, we will build a larger government for all of us.

Yours truly,
Dick Clothier.

YOUR SCHOLARSHIPS

This week THE TIGER begins a series of weekly articles on CC Scholarships. Student Aid in Colorado College is administered by the Student Aid Committee, comprised of faculty and administration members. Applications for scholarships and other aid, for freshmen and new students, should be made to Dean Mathias, Director of Admission, and for students already enrolled, to the deans of men or women.

Colorado College, like most other colleges and universities, has an enormous amount of money available for needy students. Scholarships and other funds here amount to $31,845. On the average, 184 students receive aid each year to the tune of $55,851. That leaves a difference of over $25,000 which is available each year, because students do not qualify, or more probably, because they do not apply. It is our purpose to acquaint you with some of the more outstanding scholarships available.

The Robert G. Argo Scholarship—Awards $200.00 for tuition to a young man who has completed at least one year in CC, from a $5,400 endowment.

The William C. Argo Scholarship—Awards $200.00 for tuition to a young man who has completed at least one year in CC, from a $5,400 endowment.

The Maria B. Crane Scholarship—Income awarded a young woman for her junior and senior years, from a $5,000 endowment.

The Ruth Loomis Scholarship—Award $165.00 for tuition from an endowed fund of $4,633.50, to an upperclass girl who has proved herself and is outstanding in her class.

The Mary Louise Van Diest Scholarship—Awards varied amounts to needy students from a $6,037.86 endowment.

Sidney F. Keoughan, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Keoughan of La Grange Park, Ill., was among the Marine second lieutenants completing the five-month officers' basic course at the Great Lakes Marine Corps School. Keoughan is a graduate of Colorado College and president of Beta Theta Pi. He has been assigned to Camp Pendleton, Calif.

ROTC Sponsors Military Ball April 17 at Broadmoor Hotel

The social spotlight of the week is focused on the second annual military ball to be held Saturday at the Broadmoor Hotel. Dancing from 9:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. will be highlighted by the presentation of the Honorary Cadet Colonel at 11 o'clock. Pershing riflemen will form a guard of honor for the five candidates who will be introduced prior to the announcement of the colonel-elect. The new colonel will retain her office for a period of one year and will be honored at various reviews and ROTC functions throughout the year.

Officials, trustees, and faculty members of Colorado College will attend the ball as guests of the Corps of Cadets. Other guests are to be Major General and Mrs. H. J. Collins, commanding general of the 31st Infantry Division; Colonel and Mrs. G. E. Burritt, chief, Colorado Military District, Lieut.

Psych Club Schedules Important Meeting

The Psychology Club will meet next Tuesday, April 20, to elect officers for next year. The nominating committee will present their prepared slate at this meeting.

The second item of business on the club's agenda concerns the annual spring picnic. This picnic, usually held soon after comprehensive exams, is planned by the junior psychology majors.

Shaw Serves on Panel On Juvenile Delinquency

Dr. Van B. Shaw, associate professor of Sociology, was recently a member of a panel of juvenile delinquency. The panel was first presented to the Community Council and representatives of its agencies. Later it was presented over KIDO-TV. It is possible that there will be some continued community effort in this area of juvenile delinquency and that this panel will be considered the springboard which set it in motion.

On Wednesday, April 14, Dr. Shaw is planning to leave for Madison, Wis., to attend the meeting of the Midwest Sociological Society. Dr. Shaw is also planning in the near future to have a recruiter for Medical Social Work here on the campus to speak to groups of students and to interview students who may be interested in the field now or later.

Dunton to Pitch Against C-State At Stewart Today

The Colorado State Bears visit the CC campus today and tomorrow for two baseball games with the Tigers.

Unless Coach Eastlack's crew has improved since last weekend, it will be two long days for the CC team. Last week the Tigers were shellacked by the Miners in the opener, 13 to 2 but bounced back to take the second game, 6 to 5. Bill McCrea led CC in the second game with a home run and a double that drove in three runs.

The Bears have been BMC champs every year since World War II and are favored to repeat this year. So, if the Tigers are to stay in the race for the championship they will have to win at least one of these two games.

Coach Eastlack has picked his ace lefthander, Tom Dunton, to start on the mound this afternoon and says that Hank Brooks will likely get the nod Saturday.

DU Sweeps Tennis Match from CC 9-0

Denver University's powerful tennis team flashed some early season form as the Pioneers swept a 9-0 victory from Colorado College last Saturday in Denver.

Alvie Willis defeated Monty Getchell of CC in the opener, 6-1, 6-1, while Ed Young took the second match from Del Hitch, 6-2, 6-2. Denver's Jim Noonan won handily over CC's Dick Conroy, 6-2, 6-0, while the Pioneer's Bill Oakes downed Dick Pearson, 6-1, 6-0.

In other singles matches Jim Smith whipped Tom Lowry, 6-1, 6-1, and Paul completed the singles sweep with a decisive 6-1, 6-0 triumph over Nick Ferris.

In the doubles competition Willis and Noonan teamed up for Denver to drop Getchell and Hitch of CC, 6-2, 6-3. Smith and Hendrickson made the day complete for the Pioneers trouncing Lowry and Schmidt, 6-0, 6-0.

CC meets Western State at the Monument courts here tomorrow in their first conference match.

Tigers and Miners Split Double Bill In Baseball Opener

Colorado College pushed a run across the plate in the eighth inning to snatch a 6-5 diamond victory from Colorado Mines last Saturday at Stewart Field and gain an even split from the Miners who took the first game 13-8 at Gloden.

First sacker Bill McCrae was the big gun in the Tiger attack with two hits in five trips to the plate and four runs driven in. McCrae's homer in the initial frame put the locals ahead until the Mines knotted the score in the 4th. McCrae's three-run double in the Tiger half of the fourth, scoring Wally Parus and Tom Reichert, sent CC in front to stay.

Eldon Helms went the distance for CC, scattering ten blows, four by Miner center fielder Bill Westhoff who also collected four RBI's. Oredigger hurler Bob Yopp was equally as effective but was hampered by a leaky infield.

At Golden, Fred Teats became the first Miner hurler to go the

John Vilmont Paces Phi Delts To Intramural Track Victory

Paced by John Vilmont, Phi Delta Theta coped the intramural track meet last Saturday afternoon at Washburn Field with the Waverly, Iowa star garnering 20½ points of his fraternity's 40 markers. The Independents took second place with 38½ points behind the brilliant efforts of Ed Fieck who matched Vilmont's output of 20½ counters. Phi Gamma Delta nailed down third place with 35½ points, Kappa Sigma was fourth with 24, with the Betas and Sigs taking fifth and sixth places with 8 and 5 points respectively.

Vilmont took firsts in the 100 and 60 yard dashes and finished second in the 220 yard low hurdles. Fieck took first in the broad jump and discus and finished second in route in two years limiting the Tigers to five safe blows, while his teammates were hammering 2 CC hurlers for 12. Oredigger catcher Tommy Carrol paced the Mines attack with two singles and a double.

Tom Dunton started on the mound for the Tigers but was relieved by Wolfgang in the seventh.

CC, Western State, and Adams State Clash in a Three-Way Meet Tomorrow

CC enters its first full scale meet of the year tomorrow on their home track, after turning up with the Intramural Meet last Saturday and Camp Carson Wednesday. The meet tomorrow will consist of CC, Western State, and Adams State. The Tigers will be out to duplicate their feat of last year when they won their first meet over Adams State and Camp Carson. Based on last year's records CC will be the favorite tomorrow.

The Tigers cinder men came out ahead of Adams State by twenty points in a triangular meet and finished above Western State in both the Rocky Mountain National Conference Relays and the RMC meet.

The Tigers will compete tomorrow without the services of this year's captain, Ned Pfeiffer. Ned has been in the infirmary for a week with pneumonia and will probably be out for most of the season.

Based on their showings in the intramural meet, Fred Fieck, Wendell Osborne and John Vilmont will carry a large share of

Stainless Steels

An appreciable proportion of the 1953 production of chromium-nickel stainless steels was required for the defense programs. As nickel becomes available in larger quantities for civilian uses, there are indications that manufacturers of products for the architectural, appliance and utensil fields will return to the nickel-containing types of stainless steels because of their good fabricating characteristics and other outstanding properties.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

A man who smokes a Lucky Strike is really on the ball. So round, so firm, so fully packed. The cigarette for all!

Bob Vickery, Jr.
University of Missouri

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason... enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco... light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better... always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

Denver Symphony Opens Campaign

Plans are completed for the Denver Symphony Society's annual membership campaign. Beginning April 19 through May 7, volunteers will seek to raise $145,000, necessary for the support of the Denver Symphony Orchestra's 1954-55 season.

C. Paul Harrington is general chairman of the campaign army. J. Edward Hackstaff is guiding the work of the special gifts committee, assisted by Mrs. Alfred Hicks, Mrs. William E. Sweet, Jr., and Mrs. Stanley T. Wallbank.

The army of more than 700 women who will comprise the residential division, is headed by Mrs.

A student may secure an application from a Student Council representative or from Dick Clothier.

A full-tuition scholarship or two half-tuition scholarships will be presented to the winner or winners. The decision of the winner of the Sonny Price Award will be left to the discretion of the Student Council.

Charles K. Allison assisted by Mrs. T. R. McEwen.

The downtown army is headed by Eugene L. Beville with Mrs. Daniel D. Walker as co-chairman. The speakers bureau, carrying the story of the symphony's service to the community, is headed by Mrs. Chalmers Ewing, with Mrs. J. M. Heath as co-chairman.

Eighteen area chairmen and their co-chairmen have organized the residential army under the direction of Mrs. Allison and Mrs. McEwen.

"A Great Orchestra Dedicated to a Great City" is the slogan of the 1954 membership campaign. The workers will stress the service given the citizens of the city and region, particularly the program of fine music made available for the young people. During the past season 21 concerts were given for more than 40,000 young people of our area, Mr. Harrington said.

Applications Open For Study in France

The foreign student committee received an offer from De Pauw University which would provide an opportunity for a Colorado College student to study next year at the University of Grenoble.

By the terms of the agreement, the son of a leading business man in Besancon (France) would like to come to this country next year on an exchange of full board and room and tuition. His father is willing to pay board and room and tuition of an American student at the University of Grenoble which has a good program for American students.

Any student who is interested in studying next year in Grenoble, is requested to apply in writing to: The Foreign Student Committee, c/o Dr. Thomas O. Brandt, Colorado College, Colo. Springs, Colo.

Requirements include knowledge of French, good scholastic standing at Colorado College. Applications must be received by Wednesday, April 21.

Boeing eight-jet B-52 global bomber

Which field of engineering interests you most?

Whether it's electrical, civil, mechanical, aeronautical or any related field, you'll find a rewarding career opportunity at Boeing.

Engineers of virtually every type are in increasing demand here—for Boeing is growing continuously, and today employs more engineers than even at the peak of World War II. That's the kind of situation in which positions up ahead keep opening up. Boeing fills them from within its own organization, and holds regular merit reviews to give you steady recognition.

As a Boeing engineer you'd be part of a team that, for 37 years, has pioneered successful, trail-blazing types of airplanes. You could look toward a stable future with such long-range Boeing projects as a pilotless aircraft program (one of the largest in the country), development of America's first jet transport, research on supersonic flight and nuclear power for aircraft, and the world's fastest multi-jet bombers, the B-47 and B-52.

You'll find a wide range of experience and contacts available to you at Boeing. The aviation industry is unique in its variety and breadth of application—from applied research to production design, all going on at once. Boeing is constantly alert to new materials and new techniques, and approaches them without limitations. In addition, Boeing's vast subcontracting program—requiring engineering co-ordination—offers an opportunity for contacts with a cross section of American industry.

At Boeing, you'd work in Seattle, Washington, or Wichita, Kansas—two fresh, modern cities with a wide variety of recreational facilities as well as universities which provide excellent graduate study courses. The company will arrange a reduced work week to permit time for such study and will reimburse tuition upon successful completion of each quarter's work.

Former Dean of Chapel Advances In Seminar

The Reverend Dr. Daniel Day Williams, dean of Shove Memorial Chapel and instructor in religion at Colorado College in 1939, has been appointed professor of Systematic Theology at Union Theological Seminary in New York.

Dr. Williams has been a professor of Christian Theology at the Chicago Theological Seminary and on the Federated Theological faculty of the University of Chicago since 1939. He will now serve as associate director of the Survey of Theological Education to be conducted under the American Association of Theological Schools.

A native of Denver, Colo., Dr. Williams received his A.B. degree from the University of Denver in 1931, and the M.A. from the University of Chicago in 1933. He was named the outstanding student while studying for his B.D. degree at the Chicago Theological Seminary and was granted the Graduate Traveling Fellowship. He received his Ph.D. from Columbia in 1941. Dr. Williams is also an author of religious novels and a frequent contributor of articles and reviews and in recent years has delivered lectures.

YWCA Positions Are Open for Graduates

Jobs with the YWCA at many different places in the United States, beginning September, 1954, are listed in a letter recently received by Miss Grant at the Counseling Center. If this type of work appeals to you, drop in to see the list and/or discuss the possibilities of such employment for graduates. Monday and Tuesday afternoons, between 1:30 and 3:30 are "drop-in" hours at the Counseling Center.

"GOOD NEWS" IS COMING SOON

Musical Comedy "Good News" To Be Presented May 4, 5, 6

"Good News" is coming to Colorado College! This is the first time that the college has presented a musical comedy, and it may be seen on May 4, 5, and 6. It has been a long time since the residents and students of Colorado Springs, have had an opportunity to see a real musical; but the college is now giving you that chance.

As a finale of the current year's activities the students are presenting a new form of entertainment which they hope may become an annual affair. For this initial venture they have chosen that well-known production by Lawrence Schwab and B. G. DeSylva "Good News." The lyrics were written by DeSylva and Lew Brown, with the music composed by Ray Henderson.

Remember "Lucky in Love," "Varsity Drag" and "The Best Things in Life Are Free"? These are but a few of the hit tunes of some years back that are featured in this comedy. We know you will enjoy hearing them and seeing the very capable performances of Judy Clave as Constance Lane, and Bob Kiklighter as Tom Marlow in the 'straight' lead, and Andy Avery as Babe O'Day and Bill Peters as Bobby Randall in the 'comedy' lead. The other well-known CC students in the musical play include: Bill Phelps, Ed Nixon, Jim Weir, Charles Moyer, Carolyn Wigley, Walt Thorndike, John Parker, Larry Richman, Lou Penlon, Connie Scheuerman, David Persons, Bonny McCombs, Miriam Robbins, Tony Persons, and a chorus of 16.

May 4 the date; 8 o'clock in the evening the time; Perkins Hall the place; and we hope you will all come and enjoy yourselves. Tickets are only 85c for unreserved seats, $1.00 for reserved ones, and they will be on sale in Perkins soon.

Won't you mark that date on your calendar, and help to a sell-out for "Good News"? And watch KKTU on Monday, May 3, at 6:30 o'clock in the evening—you'll see your friends and hear some of the music then!

Colorado College students Judy Clave and John Parker have been chosen to sing in the Central City Opera Association chorus this summer. Only 30 will sing the great medieval legend immortalized in the well-known "Faust". Judy, who is known for her very entertaining soprano voice; and John, a talented tenor, will also sing in the forthcoming musical production "Good News".

Quadrangle Association Elects Dorm Officers, Counselors for Next Year

The Quadrangle Association recently held a meeting in the apartment of Miss Sally Payne Morgan, dean of women. The purpose of the meeting was to select qualified presidents, secretaries and counselors of the women's dormitories for next year. Each of the women's 10 dorms on campus has a governing body which consists of one president, one secretary, and the number of counselors needed for the size of the dormitory.

Any girl having a 2.0 average and interested in one of these positions was considered by nomination in hall meetings, recommendation by the present hall council of her dorm, her head resident's recommendation, or by applying herself.

The girls chosen for these positions are to attend leadership conferences this spring to be prepared for their jobs next year and are to return one week early in the fall to welcome incoming freshmen.

Bemis Hall: Polly Scott, president; Maits Gasser, secretary; Sue Arnold, Betty Troutman, Sue Flenken, Cody Fletcher, Lee Hammond, and Vonnice Adams, counselors.

McGregor: Martha Boettger, president; Pat Perkins, secretary; Janet Shellenberger, Joan Hatchette, Jean Gilbert, Miriam Robbins, and Joan Malm, counselors.

Ticknor: Evie Nissen, president; Bonnie Boothe, secretary; Zoe Jenkins, Ellie Graves, and Marilyn Clark, counselors.

Montgomery: Nancy Tober, president; Nancy Lynne, secretary; Carol Howell, counselor.

Jackson: Sharon Smith, president; Diane Lanning, secretary; Judy Clave and Helen Morgan, counselors.

Gregg: Derry Cowles, president; Mary Vandergrift, secretary; Sue Griffin, counselor.

Howbert: Luan Cutler, president; Janet Paine, secretary.

Hamlin: Lee Sage, president; Joyce Lind, secretary.

Hershey: Jan Colley, president; Martha Daily, secretary.
Loomis: Lucy Hammond, president; Janet Hills, secretary.
Slocum: Hilda Stoddard, president; Connie Brown, secretary.

Nation's Worst Accident Toll Recorded in 1953

The worst automobile accident toll in the nation's history—more than two million casualties—was recorded in 1953, according to figures released by The Travelers Insurance Companies.

Traffic deaths totaled 38,500, an increase of 900 over 1952. The injury count reached 2,440,000 compared to 2,090,000 for the previous year.

The totals are statistics from "The Passing Scene," twentieth in an annual series of traffic accident data booklets published by The Travelers.

Excessive speed was the most dangerous driving mistake in 1953. Speed killed 13,879 persons and injured more than 600,000. Drivers under 25 years of age were involved in almost 25 per cent of the year's fatal accidents although they constitute only about 15 per cent of the total of all drivers.

Weekend crashes accounted for 15,800 killed and 800,000 hurt during 1953. Forty-one per cent of the deaths and 36 per cent of the injuries occurred on Saturdays and Sundays last year.

The pedestrian record reflected the third consecutive year of improvement. Booklet figures show pedestrian casualties reduced by 50 to 8,600. Crossing between intersections, "jay walking", still is the chief cause of pedestrian deaths and injuries.

Reeves, Williams, and Carroll Attend AWS Regional Convention

Patsy Reeves, president of AWS; Sue Williams, vice president of AWS; and Jane Carroll, vice president of QA recently attended a regional convention for Intercollegiate Associated Women Students. The convention was held at the University of Arizona at Tucson, Arizona April 7th through 12th.

The purpose of the regional convention was to help each school improve its women governing organizations. Two hundred delegates attended the convention from all schools west of the Mississippi river.

Colorado-Wyoming Academy of Science To Be April 30-May 1 at Wyoming Univ.

The twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Colorado-Wyoming Academy of Science will be held this year at the University of Wyoming in Laramie, Wyoming. The meeting will be held April 30 and May 1, including the Colorado-Wyoming Social Science Association, the Colorado-Wyoming Section of the American Association of Physics Teachers, the Rocky Mountain branch of the American Psychological Association, the Colorado-Wyoming branch of the Society of American Bacteriologists and the American Association of University Professors.

Colorado College has a number of its faculty members participating in this year's meeting. In the chemistry section, Alfred Danti and Lester A. Michel will present "A Study of the Physical Properties of Certain Liquid Systems Which Exhibit Hydrogen Bonding." Under the Physics Section, William R. Entrikin, American Machine and Foundry Company and Colorado College (introduced by P. E. Boucher) will present "The Development of the Modern Alkaline Silver-Zinc Battery," while Paul E. Boucher will present "The Amherst Conference on Physics Research in Colleges."

"United States Supreme Court Views on Communism" will be the topic of J. Douglas Mertz in the Political Science section. Richard M. Fox will present Genesis Semide Say of Pikes Peak, Colorado and Mr. Washington, New Hampshire and "The Effect of Reservoirs on Contamination of Raw Drinking Water" in the Zoology section.

"The Skull of a Two-headed Calf" will be the topic of Edward A. Tanner, while Jean Walker Fox will present "Chromosome Number in Aphids." Dr. Carroll B. Malone is the committee chairman of the Research Award Committee. J. Douglas Mertz is secretary of the Colorado-Wyoming Social Science Association.

Mountain Day and Amendments Topics Of Class Meetings

Class meetings will be held this coming Tuesday, April 27, in place of chapel. All meetings will be compulsory and attendance will be taken by the Red Lantern members.

There will be no senior meeting because of comprehensives. The junior meeting will be held in Cossit gym. Sophomore meeting will be held in the Pit in Palmer Hall and the freshmen will meet in Perkins.

As class meetings will allow for time this week to discuss and vote on two revisions of the ASCC Constitution. The proposed amendments were written up in last week's TIGER and it is advisable that all students familiarize themselves with these amendments.

Mountain Day will also be a topic of discussion in each class meeting. Standards of behavior and improvement of your year's Mountain Day will be discussed.

DO YOU KNOW THAT . . . if you have been considering going to the Counseling Center for testing and/or counseling, you should make your appointments next week? It takes several weeks for most students to finish this procedure, and if you wait longer, you may not get through.

Nineteen Chosen To Delta Epsilon

Nineteen students at Colorado College have been elected to membership in Delta Epsilon, national honorary scientific research fraternity. Three are graduate students and the others are seniors.

Delta Epsilon was organized at the college in 1921 to reward good scholarship and recognize efficiency in research in natural science, mathematics, psychology and engineering.

The new members are Alfred Danti, Margaret L. Godfrey, Charles T. Jobe and Edward H. Sage, chemistry; Kenneth P. Baird, William H. Clark, Henry A. Paddon, Leon J. Pankau and Ronald A. Timroth, geology; Walter P. Bennett, mathematics; Reginald Burget and Carroll H. Hill, physics; Richard A. Elson, Harold C. Hobbs and Philip G. Walther, psychology; David A. Beck, Marlon W. Johnston, Frederick K. Magnuson and Vija Spalvins, zoology.

Officers of Delta Epsilon for this year are H. Richard Van Saun, president; Robert M. Stabler, vice president, and Richard M. Pearl, secretary-treasurer.

TIME OF REST OR

Practically all of us look forward to the weekend as a time for rest and pleasure. We can catch up on our golf game, work around the house and have some fun with the children. It's the time for going to church, watching television, listening to the ball game or visiting or being visited by friends.

The weekends are all of those things—except on the highways. In 1953, 15,800 persons were killed and 800,000 were injured in weekend accidents, according to figures compiled and recently released by The Travelers Insurance Companies. Forty-one per cent of the deaths and 36 per cent of the injuries were recorded on Saturdays and Sundays in 1953.

Saturday continued to be the most dangerous day of the week. One reason is that more cars are in use Saturday than on any weekday. There is another distinguishing feature which sets this day apart from the others. For too many people, Saturday night is a time when drinking and driving combine. No one knows exactly how many traffic accidents are caused by drinking drivers but everyone knows it is a major problem. Everyone needs to know that even one drink before driving is too many.

Weekends indeed are a time of rest. For too many they are the beginnings of permanent rest.

Newly Initiated Phi Beta Kappas Honored; Pomfret Is Speaker

"We cannot tell how great minds arise and it is difficult to detect them, but we do know that education does help to mature and find themselves," concluded Dr. John E. Pomfret at an address, appropriately entitled "The Nurture of Talent", presented to more than 100 persons in Perkins Hall at 8:30 Tuesday night. The occasion was the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the founding of Phi Beta Kappa (national honorary scholastic fraternity) chapter at Colorado College. The lecture was preceded by the initiation of the new members into Phi Beta Kappa at a banquet held at the Broadmoor Hotel.

Most of the local members of Phi Beta Kappa, as well as many other students and faculty, heard Dr. Pomfret say that "talent is a gift generously bestowed upon a great many people, but only a few hundred thousand in the history of the world have managed to utilize their talents so as to influence or change some part of the world in which they lived."

Dr. Pomfret is a former professor at Princeton and a former president of William and Mary College, where in 1775 Phi Beta Kappa became the first Greek letter fraternity organized in the U.S. He is a distinguished historian and scholar who is now director of Huntington Library in Pasadena, Calif.

Dr. Pomfret listed five characteristics basic to all successful and eminent men. He said they all had good intelligence, an acute sense of curiosity, the need for independence, a desire to do nothing except their work once they were absorbed in it, and an extreme degree of concentration. He listed concentration as the key to success, but warned that it was most difficult to accomplish.

There are three ingredients which when combined give us genius—namely, talent, technical skill, and a willingness to use this talent and technical skill, stated

Dr. Pomfret. "A period of meditation or incubation is essential to producing great work," he added.

Much of the invention and other great works grew out of common men working in ordinary situations, but many of these men then outgrew their success and went on to become great men. "All scientists and artists have an intense interest in their work," he concluded.

New initiates into Colorado College's chapter of Phi Beta Kappa were: Marion Shaw of Colorado Springs and Marcia Manning of Denver, both of the junior class. Those from the senior class were: Pamela Adams of Colorado Springs, Arthur Erickson of Colorado Springs, Paul V. Evans of Batton Rouge, La., Gail Lund of Oak Park, Ill., Pava Paulich of Virginia, Minn., Anne Pinkney of Trinidad, Colo., Georgiana Shaw of Wichita, Kans., Kathleen Smith of South Bend, Ind., and Barbara Trotter Weiskopf, Colorado Springs.

There were 50,000 more persons injured in U. S. motor vehicle accidents last year than in 1952.

Last year's traffic toll of deaths and injuries was the heaviest in history.

THEATRE SINGERS PRESENT OPERAS AT THE FINE ARTS CENTER NEXT WEEKEND

The Theatre Singers announce their presentations of this year's operas at the Fine Arts Center Theatre, next Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings (April 29, 30, and May 1). Alec Wilder's little curtain raiser, "Sunday Excursion" will open the evening. This interesting little bit of froth is centered around a couple of young ladies and a couple of young men, who, unknown to each other, have spent the day in New York and are returning to New Haven. The scene is on the train, and the time is 1910. It is an entertaining bit of singing and acting, the costumes are colorful, and Friday night's performance will feature Carolyn Wigley as the soprano.

The second opera is one of Puccini's trilogy of one-act operas — "Sister Angelica." While this opera has not been performed often in the United States, it is a great favorite in Italy, and Puccini himself considered it one of his best. It is laid in a convent in the late 17th century.

It will feature Miriam Stewart Hamilton and Arline Lewis McKinney as Sister Angelica (on alternate nights), Edalyn Bledsoe Burger, as the princess, and will include a dozen other sisters. Costumes have been designed by Helga Hardacher who will be remembered for the excellent job she has done for the Singers in the past.

Colorado College is well represented among the Theatre Singers. Besides Carolyn Wigley, Arline Lewis McKinney, Edalyn Burger, and Clifford Kolsrud, alumni, Mrs. Albert Seay has been invaluable in helping make costumes, (Mrs.) Jean Vessey Burham has been working on publicity, and Frances Pond, of the Music Department office, is accompanist for the group.

Tickets for the performance sell for $1.00; seats are not reserved. Tickets may be secured at the Music Department or at the door (if any are left) the nights of the performances.

Civil Service Offers Insurance Posts

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Bank Examiner (trainee assistant) and Bank Examiner (assistant) for positions with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation throughout the country.

To qualify, applicants must pass a written test and must have had appropriate experience or education. The minimum age limit for these positions is 21 years and the maximum for trainee positions is 35 years. There is no maximum age limit for the higher grade positions.

Further information and application blanks may be secured at many post offices throughout the country. Applications will be accepted by the district offices of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

CC Grad Ferril Wins Recognition As American Poet

Recognized recently as one of America's great poets was Thomas Hornsby Ferril, a CC graduate. Ferril's book "New and Selected Poems" was probably the best work of an American poet to appear in recent years. This statement was the recognition given him by "The World Book Encyclopedia".

Ferril, who is the editor and publisher of the Denver weekly, "The Rocky Mountain Herald," is also the author of three other books of poetry: "High Passage," "Westerning" and "Trial by Time." He has received many excellent reviews for his works and is no doubt on his way to great heights in the literary field.

While at CC Ferril was a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. Graduating in 1918 he served as an officer in the Air Service, and then entered newspaper work in Denver. Since 1926 he has been employed by the Great Western Sugar Company, most of his activity being devoted to educational work in agriculture.

Ferril has won many outstanding awards for his works, as well as honorary degrees from Colorado College, Colorado University and Denver University. Many of his poems have been recorded in Washington for The Library of

Thomas H. Ferril

Congress and the Voice of America. He wrote the poetic texts and suggested the subject matter for the murals in the rotunda of the State Capitol Building in Denver.

His poems, in which western symbols predominate, range from intimate lyrics to poems of broad American implication.

Cash Prizes Offered In Poetry Contest

A first prize of twenty five dollars, and a second prize of fifteen dollars are offered for the best poems submitted by undergraduates of Colorado College. There are no restrictions as to the length or the type or the number of poems entered by each contestant.

Manuscripts must be typed, with the contestant's nom de plume appearing on each poem, and on the outside of the sealed envelope containing his or her poems. Each contestant must also hand in a complete sealed envelope with his or her nom de plume on the outside and his or her identification on the inside.

The manuscripts must be given to any member of the English Department or to Mrs. Haskell not later than Thursday, May 6.

These prizes were endowed by the late Rev. Albert F. Bridges in memory of his wife.

INGERSOL REIGNS AT DIGH HOBO HOP

With Dick Ingersol reigning as king, the annual Delta Gamma Hop was held Friday, April 16, at the DG lodge. Each girl brought a knap sack for her and her date and the guests ate in a setting of freight yards and box cars. Chaparones were the house-mother, Mrs. Myra Cribbs, Dr. and Mrs. Blakely and Mr. and Mrs. Collier.

KAPPAS HONOR FACULTY WITH TEA

The annual Faculty Tea will be held by the Kappas from 4:30 to 6:00 this afternoon at the KKG lodge. The entire faculty has been invited.

ISA TO HOLD PARTY SUNDAY

There will be a coke-tail party at the observatory 6:00 Sunday evening, April 25. All unaffiliated men and IWA members and their guests are welcome to attend the party and dance.

CANTERBURY CLUB

Sunday, April 25, at 4:00 p. m. there will be a work party at the Student Center, 117 E. Uintah. Later a picnic supper will be served. Everyone is invited.

Every Wednesday morning at seven o'clock in Shove Chapel holy communion service is held.

NEW SIG OFFICERS TAKE OVER MAY 3

New officers elected last Monday by the Sigma Chi Fraternity will take office May 3. They are as follows: Fred Rediske, president; Bill Pollard, vice president; George Miller, secretary; Carl Pitts, house manager; Bow Te-wesle, treasurer.

Miss Jean Boncutter Named Honorary Cadet Colonel

Colorado College's second annual military ball, held Saturday night at the Broadmoor Hotel was highlighted by the appointment of Miss Jean Boncutter, Kappa Kappa Gamma, as Honorary Cadet Colonel. The new colonel was chosen by vote of the entire Cadet Corps of CC's ROTC unit. Pershing Rifle Adjutant, Lt. Harry E. Beatty, introduced each of the five candidates who were escorted to the stage by Pershing Rifle members. Lt. Beatty then announced Miss Boncutter as election winner by means of a special order. A blue military type cape, bearing the insignia of Cadet Lt. Colonel was affixed by Cadet Lt. Colonel Leo E. Oyler, ROTC battalion commander. An engraved cup, a personal trophy as well as a wall plaque to be retained by her affiliated organization was presented to Miss Boncutter by Dr. William H. Gill, president of Colorado College.

Further honors were paid to the Honorary Colonel by Cadet Kirby Anderson, Pershing Rifles captain, who installed her as an honorary member of Co. D, 9th Regiment, Pershing Rifles. Captain Anderson placed a blue and white shoulder cord, symbolic of Pershing Rifle membership, on Miss Boncutter's cape.

The military ball was attended by more than 200 couples with Dr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Gill, Colonel and Mrs. George E. Burritt, chief, Colorado Military District; Lt. Colonel and Mrs. Vance Marquels, Denver University, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hendee, college trustee; Dean and Mrs. George Adams and Dean and Mrs. Henry Mathias in attendance as honor guests of the Cadet Corps.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. Stabler and Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Curran acted as chaperones for the formal dance.

The military ball was an all school ROTC activity sponsored by Colorado College's chapter of Pershing Rifles.

Bergstrom Completes Marine Corps School

Among the Marine second lieutenants completing the five-month officers' basic course at the Marine Corps School here were James C. Bergstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Bergstrom of 701 Cleveland St., Eveleth, Minn.

J. P. Matcheffs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Matcheffs of 814 Summit, Eveleth.

Bergstrom is a graduate of Colorado College. He has been assigned to Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Matcheffs is a graduate of the University of Michigan. He has been assigned to Marine Corps Supply, Annex, Barstow, Calif.

Miss Jean Boncutter, named Honorary Cadet Colonel at the second annual military ball, is shown with her trophy and Gen. William H. Gill, president of Colorado College.

Phi Gam Weekend To Begin April 23rd

Once again the Phi Gamma Delas are making plans for their annual Fiji weekend. The festivities will start today with a picnic. Early Saturday morning the Fijis and their dates will attend a coffee dance. Following tradition a ship-week dance will take place Saturday night complete with costumes. Climaxing the entire weekend will be a picnic Sunday afternoon.

450 TO GO ABROAD WITH EXPERIMENT IN INTERNATIONAL LIVING GROUP

Overseas transportation has been secured for some 450 young people expected to go to 17 countries of Europe this summer with The Experiment in International Living, a non-profit student travel organization. These experimenters will leave on five different sailings between June 19 and 29 aboard Holland-American line ships and those chartered by the Council on Student Travel.

Under The Experiment plan, carefully selected young people between 16 and 30 go abroad to make friends and to come to know one country well, rather than to tour in several countries. In the past 22 years this plan has provided some 7,500 students with a way to make enduring friendships in 25 countries of Europe, Asia, and three Americas.

Experimenters travel in groups of ten under the guidance of a qualified leader, selected for his experience in living in the country visited. This year, of the 50 leaders already chosen, 31 have previously led experiment groups.

Members of Experiment groups spend one month living in individual families within a single community. Sharing in everyday family life and visiting nearby points of interest, they come to understand what makes the nation "tick" from the inside. To round out their experience within the country, they spend the second month exploring its various regions in the company of their U. S. group members and young hosts from their adopted families. Some groups spend a few days at the end of the summer in a capital city like London or Paris, when those who are qualified may elect to travel independently.

1954 experimenters will go to Austria, Denmark, England, Finland, France, Germany, Holland, India, Ireland, Italy, Mexico, Norway, Scotland, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey and Yugoslavia.

Average costs for Europe run from $695 to $775 and $300 for Mexico, with 1245 for the group leaving for India in October. This year, the experiment awarded 1100 scholarships toward the fees.

Applications for Experiment membership for college girls can still be accepted for Austria, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Holland, Ireland, Italy, Scotland, and Yugoslavia. Places are still open for high school girls in groups to France, Holland, Ireland, Scotland and Sweden.

College Graduates Still May Become Marine Officers

Washington, D. C. — College seniors and graduates still have an opportunity in 1954 to become Marine Corps officers under the Officer Candidate Course program, according to General Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., commandant of the Marine Corps.

Plans have been completed for Marine Officer Procurement Officers and Marine Officer Instructors at NROTC to accept applicants from 1 May to 1 July 1954 for the 11TH OFFICER CANDIDATE COURSE, scheduled to convene in November 1954 at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia.

High school boys can still be accepted for England, France, Holland, Ireland, Mexico, Scotland, and Sweden. There are openings for college men in all countries except Norway. Although applications can be accepted through June 1, students should apply as soon as possible because the groups are being filled rapidly. Those interested should write to Chairman, Admissions Committee, The Experiment in International Living, Putney, Vermont.

Applicants for this class must be at least twenty years of age and not over twenty-seven years of age on 1 July 1955. They must be seniors or graduates of an accredited college or university and hold degrees in fields other than medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, theology, pharmacy, art or music. All candidates enrolling in this program are subject to serve three (3) years of active service, after appointment to commissioned rank.

Accepted applicants will be ordered to a 10-week basic training course at Quantico. Upon successful completion of this training, candidates will be commissioned and assigned 5 months of specialized officer training in Basic School.

Interested college seniors and graduates can obtain additional information concerning the Officer Candidate Course scheduled to convene in November from their local Marine Corps Officer Procurement Officers, Marine Officer Instructors and Marine Corps Recruiting Stations.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

They're all there with college kids,
With gals and men alike.
So round, so firm, so fully packed—
I speak of Lucky Strike!

Barbara Bennett
Lawrence College

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason...enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco...light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better...always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

When buddies ask me for a smoke,
What do they get from me?
"Here's finer smoking, pal," I say,

Thinclads Travel to Greeley For Rocky Mountain Relays

The CC thinclads journey to Greeley this weekend for the third annual Rocky Mountain Relays. Last year the Tigers entered with only six men and tied for second place in the meet with eight points. The CC cindersmen took one first, two seconds and one third for their scores. Returning from last year's entrants we have Bill Clark, Bill Howell, and Charlie Ryder. Ned Pfeiffer also ran last year but is still on the sick list for this season. There is still a doubt as to whether or not Howell will enter this year because of a pulled muscle from last week's meet with Adams State and Western State.

Men going up for the first time are: John Vilmont, Rip Herreid, Bill Kemp, Doug Little, Rule Olson, Wendell Osborne and Fred Fieck. In addition to the relay events Fieck will enter the broad jump and Olson and Osborne will compete in the high hurdles. These special events are run as an added attraction and only the relays count toward the team scores.

Coach Thompson has not decided yet just what relays CC will enter but he is sure that they will defend our title in the sprint medley relay.

More than 15,800 persons were killed in weekend traffic accidents last year.

Tiger Net Men Shut Out W-State

Colorado College bounced back from their defeat at the hands of Denver University to gain a 7-0 triumph over Western State for the Tigers' first net victory of the year.

In the singles competition Monty Gatchell downed McEndorfer of Western State, 6-1, 6-3. Del Hitch swept past WSC's Williams by a similar count and Norman Spears had no trouble in triumphing over the visitors Wenger, 6-2, 6-2. Tom Lowry waltzed past Western's Ottercrans, 6-0, 6-0 and Dick Conroy completed the sweep for CC with a 6-3, 6-3 decision over Martinecz.

In the doubles Gatchell and Hitch teamed up to defeat McEndorfer and Williams, 6-3, 6-1. Jerry Schmidt and Nick Ferris had a little more trouble in winning over Wenger and Ottercrans but were victorious, 7-5, 6-1.

Tober Elected to Head WAA Officers Slate

WAA officers elected for next year are Nancy Tober, president; Mary Vandergrift, vice president; Alice Scudder, secretary; and Pat Perkins, treasurer.

At the present the new officers are planning baseball and tennis tournaments.

They are also preparing a Play Day which will be held at CU May 1. The girls will be participating against girls from colleges all over Colorado.

Colo. State Whips Tiger Nine Twice by Identical Scores, 17-1

Colorado State pitchers, Bob Cill and George Sage, combined to hurl the Bears to a pair of weekend baseball triumphs over Colorado College by identical 17-1 scores at Stewart Field. In the opener, Gill limited the Tiger batsmen to seven safeties while his teammates were hammering lefty Tom Dunton for 17 runs on 14 hits, nine walks and three errors. Bob Rossel relieved Dunton in the final frame and surrendered one hit.

The Bears scored in almost every inning with three run frames coming in the first, third and fifth. Colorado State shortstop Ron Capra paced the Rocky Mountain champs with three hits for five RBIs in four trips to the plate. Ed Robson touched Gill for three blows for CC's best showing of the afternoon. Robson also tallied the Tigers' lone marker in the third.

George Sage set down the Tigers in the second game with five hits as the visitors battered three Colorado College hurlers for their second straight 17-1 victory.

The Bears slugged starter Ed Robson for eight runs in the first 3½ innings before Bob Rossel came in on relief. Rossel was in turn yanked in favor of Eldon Helm after the Greeley boys got to him for nine more markers.

Colorado State scored almost at will with their big innings being the second, fourth and eighth tallying five runs in each.

Centerfielder Dick Porter slammed Tiger pitching for four hits in as many trips to the plate. Ed Robson again stood out for the Tigers in the hitting department with two for four.

Tigers Last In First Triangular Meet; Bill Howell Only Double Winner

A pulled leg muscle may have given Adams State the edge for second place and Western State first honors in the first track meet of the year. The triangular meet was held at Washburn Field last Saturday afternoon. Bill Howell, ace Tiger dash man was leading the first lap of the mile relay when a pulled muscle injury forced him to fall behind. Howell finished his lap but the injury put the Tigers in the hole on the mile relay.

Western State copped the meet with a 62 point total, followed by Adams State who nudged CC with 52 points. The Tigers settled for 40 points and last place.

Howell was the meets only double winner with his wins in the century and the 220 yard dash. Howell once again lost an opportunity to break the all-time CC record because his 9.8 seconds in the 100 yard dash was recorded with an eight mile tail wind.

In the hurdles, CC picked up two firsts and two seconds. In the 220 yard low hurdles, Rule Olson ran first and Wendell Osburn placed second. In the 120 yard high hurdles the order was reversed.

Ed Fick earned the only other Bengal first with a 22 ft. 6 1/4 in. effort in the broad jump.

Four Western State men cleared 10 ft. 10 in. to finish in a four-way tie for first place in the pole vault.

Results of triangular track meet.

Western State 62; Adams State 52; and Colorado College 40.
One mile run: Burritt (WSC), Canty (AS), Hunt (WSC), Hohl (CC). Time—5 min. 2.7 sec.
440 yard dash: Howard (AS), Pulliam (WSC), Little (CC), Chaves (WSC). Time—2:1.1 min.
100 yard dash: Howell (CC), Fisk (CC), Francis (WSC), Thomas (AS). Time—1:45 sec.
120 yard high hurdles: Osborne (CC), Olson (CC), Bradford (WSC), Neek (AS). Time—15.2 min.
800 run: Pollard (AS), Kemp (CC), Burritt (WSC), Ryder (CC). Time—2 min. 16.4 sec.

One mile relay: Adams State (Pollard,

Pushing on to victory is CC's Bill Howell. Howell, running the 100 yard dash, would have set a new school record of 9.65 seconds if it had not been for an 8 mph tail wind. One of the other stars, who ran second, is Ed Fick. He is second from Howell's left.

Nearly 800,000 persons were injured in weekend traffic accidents last year.

Garity Contends With Annie Oakley As Rifle Shot

Today Michigan Tech hails one of its 30 coeds as a rival to the legendary Annie Oakley. She is 18 years old, blonde, blue-eyed Isabelle Garity of Houghton, a freshman chemistry major with eyesight and rifle marksmanship ability of outstanding caliber.

Isabelle, as a member of Tech's varsity rifle team, took part in the National Rifle Association Sectional meet held at Madison, Wis., on March 20. With a sensational 291 out of a possible 300 score, she won top individual sectional honors in competition against some of the best shots in the midwest, male or female. The Madison sectional was one of 14 held throughout the country.

Isabelle has been firing for five years. She became interested in shooting when a school chum invited her to a meeting of the Houghton Rifle and Pistol Club. That's how she joined the club. Coach Earl Clark of that club took

Chemistry Dept. Cleans Up on Honors and Awards

The Chemistry department of Colorado College has produced six outstanding students this year. Honors were bestowed upon five seniors and one graduate student. Edward Sage from Chicago, Ill., has been offered assistantship to Iowa State, Illinois University and Denver University. He accepted the assistantship at Iowa State. Charles Jobe from Denver has recently been accepted into Colorado University Medical School, Cornell University has accepted Durant Kellogg from Buffalo, N. Y., for graduate work in chemistry.

Joyce Charles received her masters degree in chemistry. Miss Charles hails from Ridgeway, Colo., and graduated from CC in 1950. For the past two semesters, Miss Charles has been a chemistry her under his wing, and the results have been most rewarding.

She is the U. P. Junior champion for 1953, and the odds are she will repeat this May. Isabelle began her winning ways in 1951, the first time she fired in competition, when the Houghton Juniors won the U. P. Junior championship. instructor at CC.

Alfred Danti of Colorado Springs has been named winner of one of the prized National Science Foundation fellowships. Danti will use his fellowship at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, studying physical chemistry, directed toward the earning of the doctor of philosophy degree.

Miss Margaret Godfrey received an assistantship from Iowa State College to do graduate work in chemistry.

L&M Cigarette Prices Go Down

Unprecedented nation-wide demand for L&M filter tip cigarettes reduced prices last week by as much as four cents a pack, forty cents a carton.

L&M Filters, America's highest quality and best filter tip cigarette, have, in just 85 days since their introduction across the country, gained a nation-wide demand never before equalled by any other cigarette in so short a time. Thousands of cigarette dealers in America's largest cities (New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Los Angeles) report in signed statements that L&M's are their largest-selling filter tip cigarette. Dealers have greeted this important price reduction by placing new orders for millions more L&M Filters.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company, manufacturers of L&M cigarettes, explains the overwhelming demand for L&M's this way: "For the first time filter tip smokers are getting what they want . . . much more flavor and aroma with much less nicotine. Exclusive to L&M's is the miracle filter tip containing alpha cellulose, the purest material now available for filtering cigarette smoke. L&M's blend of premium quality tobaccos and miracle filter work together to give smokers effective filtration with plenty of good taste."

Last year the fourth consecutive year of increase in the traffic died toll.

Speeding on U. S. streets and highways last year killed 13,870 men, women and children.

Gray, Fischer Accept Ford Foundation Faculty Fellowships

Two Colorado College professors have been named among the 250 recipients of Ford Foundation Faculty Fellowships for the academic year, 1954-55. Dr. Glenn Gray, professor of philosophy, and Dr. William A. Fischer, assistant professor of geology, revealed Saturday that they had accepted the lucrative awards to do advanced study. The awards are made to able young teachers throughout the country who show exceptional promise and who wish to broaden their qualifications for teaching. The fund is designed to strengthen college teaching in the United States.

Each fellowship provides a grant approximately equivalent to the salary of the recipient plus certain expenses which are essential to the scholar's plan of study.

Dr. Gray, a full professor and chairman of the philosophy department at CC, joined CC in 1948. He earned the BA degree from Juniata college, the MA degree from the University of Pittsburgh and the PhD from Columbia university.

He is the author of "Hegel's Hellenic Ideal", published in 1941, as well as numerous articles for magazines and philosophical journals. He has been active in many campus activities and this year is chairman of the college's division of humanities.

Dr. and Mrs. Gray, with their two young daughters, plan to spend most of next year in Europe, though some of the study may be done at Columbia University. His project is the study of nature of war from a philosophical and moral standpoint.

The CC professor plans to interview soldiers of World War II in Europe, to read war novels and war memoirs and to call on some of his own war experiences in Italy, France, and Germany. Dr. Gray fought in North Africa and Europe, first as an enlisted man and later as a commissioned officer in the Counter Intelligence Corps.

Dr. Fischer, assistant professor of geology, earned the bachelor of science and the master of science degrees from Beloit college and the PhD degree from the University of Colorado.

He has worked for two years as a geologist with Carter Oil Co., and has also been associated with the Los Alamos Atomic Research plant in New Mexico. A veteran of naval service in World War II, Fischer came to CC in 1949, where he has been since.

His fellowship program will in-

Dr. Fischer plans to pursue post-doctoral studies in oceanography, submarine geology, marine sedimentation and the marine biological sciences. These fields of study intergrade with the geology program at CC. Fischer hopes that this study will permit the college to expand its course offerings in these related fields.

The CC geology professor will be employed by the National Park Service this summer as a Park Ranger Naturalist in Yellowstone National Park for the fourth consecutive summer. He will be in the park from June until September, at which time Fischer and his family will leave for La Jolla.

When the Ford Foundation Faculty Fellowship program was begun one year ago Dr. Lloyd Womer, history professor at CC, was named as one of the winners. He did his study last year at Harvard.

Trustee McHendrie Dies April 21 at Pueblo

A. Watson McHendrie, class of 1900 and veteran member of the Board of Trustees, died April 21 in Pueblo, Colo. He was 80 years old.

The dean of Colorado water authorities and the man who was chief legal consultant for Colorado Springs in its fight for Blue River water, McHendrie was one time district attorney and district judge at Trinidad, Colo.

"Judge McHendrie is one of the real veterans of service on the Colorado College Board of Trustees," President Gill pointed out.

He served the college faithfully as a trustee since 1927, and would have completed 30 years of service by the expiration of his present term in 1957. A graduate of Colorado College in 1900, Judge McHendrie has been a highly respected advisor to the college. His loss will be felt by the entire Colorado College family," President Gill said.

City Attorney Frederick T. Henry said "McHendrie's death is a great loss to the city. His services have been invaluable in the past."

McHendrie was called in as the chief legal consultant with Henry in the legal battle for Blue River water.

"There is little doubt that McHendrie was the dean of water authorities in the state," said Henry.

Henry said it will be difficult to find someone to replace McHendrie and to find someone who has such a knowledge of water law.

McHendrie began work in a Trinidad law office as a stenographer 55 years ago. He later became attorney for the Arkansas Valley Ditch Assn., the John Martin Dam Assn., and legal adviser to the federal government on the Colorado River Compact Commission.

In 1953 he was made an honorary life member of the Colorado Bar Association, for having practiced law in the state for more than half a century.

Survivors include his widow, two children, Andrew Douglas McHendrie, Denver attorney, and Miss Janet McHendrie of Los Angeles.

Funeral rites were held in Trinidad.

Howell to Head Honor Council; Six Vacancies Must Be Filled

Bill Howell has recently been elected president of Honor Council for the 1954-55 term, replacing Tom Dunton. Jane Carol was elected to serve as secretary. Six Honor Council members will be graduating this year which will leave six vacancies to fill on the council. The procedure of electing members to the Council is as follows:

Each academic class elected last Wednesday and Thursday, April 28, 29, one student from their class to represent them at the Honor Assembly. The Honor Assembly will meet in the Pit, room 8 in Palmer, this Friday, April 30, at 4:00 p.m. Nominations will be made from

Sneak Day to Be Held Instead Because of Technicalities

There will be no Mountain Day this year. Because of technicalities beyond our control, it is impossible for CC to hold a Mountain Day. But . . . because of the screams, shouts and cries of the student body, an "All Student Sneak Day" will replace the dead and gone Mountain Day. Not only will the name of this day in the mountains be changed but a great many of the policies of the "old" Mountain Day have undergone a change also.

Although this will be an all student sneak day, the faculty administration and alumni are invited. It is a student sponsored party but with the rest of CC cordially invited. Since the students will be sneaking off to the mountains (on this day) and it is unofficially a holiday, there will be no excused cuts from classes that day. But . . . we are asking all professors, as individuals, to appear on the "sneak" and take attendance there.

So, let this be a warning! From this time out you can prepare yourself for the "All-School Sneak". "Hend for the hills" will be the cry on one of these fine, sunny Colorado days.

This long-awaited "sneak" will be kept a secret until it's here. Signs will be posted in every campus building on the morning of the day to let you know. Sorry we can't let those of you with eight o'clock know sooner so you could sleep an hour longer, but—win a few lose a few.

The site of the "Sneak" will be the same as last year's—Manitou Park, 8 miles north of Woodland Park. Activities will begin on the day of the "Sneak" at 10:00 a.m. Those of you who haven't got a ride, may hitch one with one of the school buses that will be leaving at 9:00 a.m. from Cutler Hall.

Lunch will be served at the Park at 12:00 with assorted beverages. Volleyball and softball competition will fill out the morning activities. This is a day in the mountains for students and faculty alike to enjoy a day from the cars and worries of the city. Hall. Good behavior is needed of all the student body—don't mess it up for next year.

Remember, we don't want to see a single person in class or in the library on CC's "All-School Sneak Day".

Norway, Germany Each Send Foreign Student to CC Campus

Colorado College has effected its first two-way foreign student exchange. The college's foreign student committee is planning to bring two additional students to this campus for study next year. Norman D. Spears, a freshman from Elgin, Ill., has been selected as the CC student to study in Oslo, Norway. In return, Bjou Tore Larson will spend next year studying at Colorado College. Spears will attend summer school in Oslo.

The offer for their exchange was made to Dr. G. H. Gruening, director, Foreign Student Division, DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind. Dr. Gruening then wrote to Doug Morgan explaining the proposal. This offer was then channeled to the college's foreign student committee who completed the arrangements for this two-way exchange.

From over a dozen excellent applications, the foreign student committee has chosen Gerhard Wolfgang Puhmann from Nuremberg, Germany to study at CC next year. Puhmann was recommended by Horst Hergel, a German student who studied at Colorado College in 1951-52.

Should Puhmann not be able to come, the committee has chosen Karl Oskar Bentzien of the University of Göttingen, Germany and Dietrich von Kyaw of Bonn, Germany as alternates.

Dr. Gruening, who helped effect the two-way exchange between CC and Oslo, Norway, is also helping to effect such an exchange between a Colorado College student and a French student.

Pending action on this French exchange, the foreign student committee is delaying action on the applications of ten other German students, three Greek students and one Swiss. The committee is planning to accept only one more application.

Selective Service To Administer Special Test

Selective Service national headquarters announced today that it has authorized a special administration of the College Qualification Test on Thursday, May 20, 1954, for the benefit of students prevented by illness or other emergency from attending one of the regular administrations on November 19, 1953 and April 22, 1954. May 20 is the last date upon which the College Qualification Test will be held during the present academic year.

Although applications postmarked May 10, 1954, or earlier will be accepted, students wishing to apply are urged to secure, complete, and mail their applications at

DRINKING REGULATIONS REVISED

Memorandum: Regulations Governing Use or Possession of Alcoholic Beverages by Colorado Col. students.

I. Upon the recommendation of the Committee on Undergraduate Life and the ASSC Council, the following regulations are published for the guidance of all concerned:

II. PREAMBLE TO THE REGULATIONS:

- State and municipal laws limit the dispensing of alcoholic beverages. All students are expected to familiarize themselves and comply with those laws, especially those sections which deal with the dispensing of alcoholic beverages to minors.
- The college assumes that it is in loco parentis, and thus has a moral responsibility for the conduct of its students.

III. THE REGULATIONS:

- Drinking or possession of alcoholic beverages is prohibited in all college buildings, fraternity or sorority houses, and on campus grounds.
- Every student is responsible for maintaining a standard of conduct that shall not reflect upon himself or his college through the use of alcoholic beverages.
- Each organization is responsible for the behavior of its own members at any event which it is sponsoring. The organization is responsible for knowingly permitting conduct which violates these regulations.
- Alcoholic beverages shall not be served by a student organization or by any individual student at any scheduled college function.
- When college functions are scheduled at hotels, clubs, or other premises away from the campus where licensed bars are operated, the place must be recommended by the Social Committee and approved by the Committee on Undergraduate Life.

IV. VIOLATIONS OF THE REGULATIONS:

- A student or a group of students found guilty of misconduct due to the use or possession of alcoholic beverages under any circumstances, shall be subject to disciplinary action which may result in dismissal from the college for an individual, or suspension of an organization from the campus.
- All violations of the foregoing regulations shall be considered by the Jurisdiction Committee, which will then refer the case to the proper body for disciplinary action in accordance with the appropriate sections of the ASSC Constitution.

Grad Sleeps Way Through College

"I slept my way through college," said Nebraska college graduate A. W. Turnbow, who received his degree last June.

This startling statement came as a complete surprise to ex-student Turnbow's professors who had once predicted his college career would end in failure.

Last week graduate Turnbow disclosed his secret. He had been "sleep-learning."

"I'd read many articles on the theory of sleep-learning," he said, but none told me how to go about it. So I made my own sleep-learning device and experimented. I was working full time and trying to carry 19 credit hours at college. I was told I was failing, so I figured I couldn't lose anything."

Time had proven that he didn't lose anything. According to Mr. Turnbow, now president of Sleep-Learning Research Association, 114 South 38th Ave., Omaha, Neb., he owes his college degree to his pioneer experiments.

"It was hard the first few weeks," he said, "but anyone can learn while they sleep if they stick to it. It's the easiest way in the world to get an education once you start getting results. Sleep-learning will revolutionize education once the public accepts it," he added.

Student Turnbow's unusual method of obtaining knowledge was first applied to his course in Russian. "I read two-thousand Russian vocabulary words into the machine, then gave the English meaning to each," he reported. "Results were so successful that I started reading notes from all my courses into the device."

"I remember how my fellow students laughed when I told them about 'sleep-learning,'" he remarked. "But when I started tossing around five syllable vocabulary words, formulas, dates and complete passages from Shakespeare, they changed their attitude."

After writing several articles on his sleep-learning results, Mr. Turnbow continued his experiments. Immediately upon graduation, he formed Sleep-Learning Research Association in Omaha, Neb. Last week, with the publication of his illustrated booklet, "Learn a Language—While You Sleep," Sleep-Learning Research Press ($2.00), the public was offered his complete story and how to make his sleep-learning device for as little as $50.

DOWN TIME STAR BEAT'S

Although Frankie Laine is today recognized as one of the country's top vocalists, there was a time in his career when even Laine himself was convinced, matter of fact, that he actually quit singing for two-and-one-half years.

One of the first singing jobs the Chicago-born crooner had was as vocalist with the Fred Croloye's band in 1937, but Frankie couldn't get used to working as a band soloist and soon left to go out as a single. After finding some success at a little spot on Cleveland's east side, he took a chance at New York, and there joined WINS for a series of 15-minute radio shows.

Frankie then worked at odd jobs around New York during 1940, but after several lucrative singing deals fell thru, trekked back to Cleveland where he played one cocktail lounge after another. He had no luck in interesting record companies or booking agencies in his singing talents, and in 1941 the discouraged Laine decided to give up singing altogether, and applied for a job at a defense plant.

During the two-and-one-half years at the plant, Frankie wrote more than a dozen songs, and after transferring to a factory job near Hollywood, managed to contact Nat Cole to have him transcribe one of his songs, "It Only Happens Once," which delights in the area soon began to feature on their shows. Frankie's songwriting talents brought him to the attention of the late Carl Fischer, and together they collaborated on several songs, but had only mild success in publishing them.

In 1946, Frankie once again took a fling at the singing end of songs, and while appearing at Billy Berg's club in Hollywood, caught the ears of a Mercury Records scout who signed him for records. His second side for Mercury,

"That's My Desire," turned out to be a sleeper, and from then on Frankie Laine became a headliner in the record business. In 1951, he switched to Columbia Records, and his recent waxing for them, "Down the Line," is climbing fast.

DOWN BEAT'S huge songwriting contest is growing larger and larger. To the winning song now goes: at least two guaranteed recordings (Mercury and label "X"); publishing of the tune by Broadcast Music, Inc.; and a Keltan high-fidelity set. To the second and third place songs: a Keltan high-fidelity set, with the tunes to be considered by three other publishers (Moonlight Music, and Windy City Music) who have agreed to publish one of the first 15 top placers. Remember, too, that full promotion on radio and TV will be given the winning entries, and that all royalties from the song will go to the author. For complete details see the current issue of DOWN BEAT, or write to DOWN BEAT, 2901 Calumet, Chicago, Ill.

Tickets Now on Sale in Perkins For Musical Comedy 'Good News'

As a finale to the year's activities the students of Colorado College will present a new form of entertainment which they hope will become an annual affair. For this first venture they have chosen the well-known production by Schwab and DeSylva—"GOOD NEWS". With lyrics by DeSylva and Lew Brown, and music composed by Ray Henderson, the musical promises to be good entertainment for all!

the o-cchs. . . . Gene Norman, Hollywood jazz concert impresario, will present a special "Re-Union Concert" of Glenn Miller sidemen and singers in honor of the late bandleader. The event, to take place in Los Angeles, April 17, will have among others, Miller—bandmen Chummy MacGregor, Kolly Bundock, and Babe Russwin, and singers Ray Eberle and Marion Hutton. . . . The combos of Red Norvo and Muggsy Spanier opened Chicago's new Blue Note, which is located just a few doors from the old Note stand. . . . Gene Krupa and Cozy Cole recently opened a drum school in New York. Altho both will continue active participation in music, one of the drummers will always be on hand at the school. . . . Dave Brubeck to play a concert at MIT sometime this spring.

RECORD NEWS: Eleven-year-old trumpeter Frankie Avalon makes his record debut on label "X" with "Trumpet Sorrento and 'The Book'." The lad has a rich sound and will make a lot of older musicians take a second listen. . . . Les Brown is out with an album on Columbia which features some previously unreleased sides, including two with the ex-Brown vocalist, Doris Day. . . . Russ Freeman, pianist with Chet Baker's group, goes out on his own with an LP on Pacific Jazz. Backfield in Motion in the stand-out here. . . . Johnny Long has rewarmed one of his biggest hits, now called New Shanty Town on Coral.

We know that you will enjoy hearing and seeing the very capable performances of Judy Clave as Constance Lane, and Bob Kightlighter as Tom Marlow in the "straight" lead; and Judy Avery as Babe O'Day, and Bill Peters as Bob O'Day, and Bill Peters as Booby Randall in the "comedy" lead. Remember "Lucky in Love," "Varsity Drag" and "The Best Things in Life Are Free"? These are but a few of the hit tunes of just a few years back that are featured in this comedy.

The well-designed sets have been constructed under the able supervision of Woodson Tyree, and promise to bring to the audience a feeling of being on a smart college campus. The pit orchestra is composed of both college students and townspeople, and the dance group, under the direction of Mrs. Molly Lynn, have spent many long hours in practice to bring this musical play to perfection.

Lt. Fred Willerford of Ent Air Force Base and Harry Woollever of Camp Carson are in charge of the choreography and will stage three dances—"Lucky in Love", "Best Things in Life Are Free", and "Varsity Drag".

May 4, 5, and 6 are the dates; 8 o'clock in the evening the time; Perkins Hall the place; and tickets are only 85c for unserved seats, $1.00 for reserved ones. Advance ticket sales now in Perkins Hall, between the hours of 3 and 5

ROTC Undergoes Second Federal Inspection May 5

Colorado College's ROTC unit will undergo its second federal inspection May 5. Colonel Robert B. Connor, PMST of the University of Minnesota, and Major Rodney Weibel, University of Nebraska, have been named the inspecting officers.

ROTC Cadets will be inspected by the party on Wednesday at Stewart Field and then reviewed at Washburn Field. This year's inspection review will include the ROTC band, who have been working under Mr. Earl A. Juhas of the college music department.

Classroom work, training equipment and facilities will also be checked by the visiting officers.

The distinctive Colorado College patch recently received by the ROTC cadets will be in evidence at this year's inspection. Worn on the right shoulder, the new patch was designed by Master Sergeant Hughes of the military department. The design, which received approval of the Department of the Army, embellishes a tiger's head on a back drop of a mountain, indicative of Pikes Peak. The patch may be worn only by members of Colorado College's ROTC.

The federal inspection will evaluate the efficiency of the unit and the degree to which it is accomplishing the objectives of the ROTC program.

Colonel Connor and Major Weibel will remain on the campus throughout the day visiting with President Gill and other school officials.

Gills Honor CC Seniors at a Tea

Colorado College seniors were honored Thursday afternoon in Bemis Hall at the annual tea given by President and Mrs. William H. Gill.

President and Mrs. Gill annually give a tea honoring each of the classes at the college. Thursday's tea was the last of such events for this academic year.

Pouring Thursday were: Gail Lund, Jo Ann Warner, Georgiana Shaw, Patsy Reeves, Margie Epler, Pat Hand, and Cynthia Mitchell. The girls worked in one-half hour shifts.

Trustees, administration, faculty, 1953 alumni, and local parents of seniors were guests.

Buzia, vice president; Ted Sills, secretary; Ted Lott, treasurer; Phil Good, warden; John Buzia, social chairman; Tom Pankau, historian; Jerry Schmidt, librarian; Chuck McCormack, chaplain; Tom Lowery, song chairman; Jim Jacobs, alumni secretary

Phi Gam Shipwreck Dance Highlight of the Weekend

One of the most gayly decorated dances of the year highlighted the Phi Gam weekend on Saturday, April 24. A shipwreck theme was carried out by decorations inside and outside of the house. The Phi Gams had a gangplank up to the front porch which they had flooded with roses floating in the water. They had a water fall at one end with a boat in the middle of the porch. The inside was decorated in a South Sea Island motif with nets and vines hanging from the walls. A mural was painted over the bandstand with a scene of the moon and sea.

Fez Brian furnished the music for the dance and the Fijis and their dates were dressed in shipwreck costumes. The Phi Gams provided orchid leis for their dates flown in for the occasion from Hawaii.

Karl Holz, IFC representative, Todd Sernon, student council representative.

Pledged recently by the Phi Deltis was Jack Morrison of Trail, B. C., Canada.

Niads Present Annual Show At Broadmoor

In the spring of 1952 a group of Colorado College girls put on a swimming show at the Broadmoor pool based on Indian Legends. During the following year these girls added to their work and became a full-fledged campus organization called the Niads.

A brilliantly colored night spectacle will be presented May 7 by the Colorado College Niads in their 1954 Spring Pageant. Under the lights in the famous Broadmoor pool fifteen girls will swim a water ballet of intricate color patterns.

The Niads appearing in the show will be Lucy Allen, Sue Brooks, Kiki Clark, Maiba Gasser, Alice Glynn, Shirley Gregory, Mary Hadley, Bonnie Low, Nancy Lynch, Joan Martin, Pat Perkins, Mary Spindel, Julie Stanton, Nancy Tober, Marilyn Wallace, and Mary Lou Wain.

Winners of the treasure hunts held last Saturday at the Phi Delt house were Larry Kernan and Sally LeRo.

Senior Class to Hold Prom May 8

On Saturday, May 8, Colorado College will hold its annual senior prom in the Crystal Room of the Alamo hotel. El Mirador's orchestra will provide the music for dancing hours of 9:00 to 12:00. The senior class, in conjunction with the Independent Women, plan to highlight the evening with an award for the outstanding man and woman of the graduating class. The various men and women's organizations on campus have each submitted their candidates for the selection. Kappa Alpha Theta, Gail Lund; Kappa Kappa Gamma, B. J. Weiskopf; Gamma Phi Beta, Margie Epier; Delta Gamma, Johnnie Johnston; Beta Theta Pi, Frank Florey; Phi Gamma Delta, Terry Burke; Phi Delta Theta, Ed McGuire; Kappa Sigma, Roger Bildstein; Sigma Chi, Dave Becker. A plaque, suitably engraved, will be presented to the man and woman who are selected by the students.

In addition to the above awards there will be some intermission entertainment which promises to bring together some of the best talent Colorado College has to offer.

The entire student body is invited to attend, as well as the faculty and administration members.

Alpha Phi Chosen Fifth Sorority On CC Campus

A fifth sorority—Alpha Phi—has been voted into the Colorado College campus, subject to approval of the Board of Trustees at their May meeting.

President William H. Gill announced today that tentative arrangements had been completed with the national Alpha Phi organization to begin operation on the campus voted overwhelmingly in favor of admitting the fifth sorority to the college at their meetings Monday night, April 26.

President Gill said that final confirmation of the move must come from the Board of Trustees at their meeting the middle of May.

The other four sororities on the campus now are Delta Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta and Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Twenty-five percent of all drivers involved in fatal auto accident in the U. S. last year were under 25 years old.

Gamma Phi Style Show To Be May 15 at Alama

The Gamma Phi Beta active and alum chapters are combining to present their annual Bridal Style Show sponsored by Gray Rose. It will be held May 15 in the Crystal Room of the Alamo Hotel.

The show will sponsor the Cerebral Palsy Training Center and the Child Day Care Center, both of Colorado Springs. Mr. Wooduff and Dr. Shun from the Cerebral Palsy Center presented a short film to the chapter Monday night and told of activities at the center. Approximately twelve girls have since visited the CP center and a group plan to visit the Child Day Care Center.

Tickets are being raffled by all Gamma Phi's for a squirrel cape. They are fifty cents each or five dollars a book (10 tickets to a book) with the drawing being held at the style show.

A special chapel program will be held on May 11 devoted to the presenting of the E. K. Gaylord and CC Publications Board awards. Also to be presented during the program will be the winners of the Sonny Price award.

ASCC NOTES

By Ted Lott

Applications for the Sonny Price award were considered by ASCC. Due to the almost equal number of votes between two applicants there will be equal awards of half tuition each for the coming school year. The awards will be announced in chapel on May 11.

The publications board chairman announced that the winners of the E. K. Gaylord and CC Publications Board awards will be announced in a special chapel program on May 11.

Dick Glothier, ASCC president, appointed Carl Pitts to replace Doug Swail on the Jurisdiction Committee, and Rodger Bildstein was appointed as co-chairman of the Social Committee.

It was requested that an announcement be made urging the students to turn in the Student Evaluation sheets that were handed out in chapel several weeks ago.

Dean Reid requested an announcement be made that no cars be taken to the baseball diamond during the intramural games. Violators will have their license numbers taken, and will be punished accordingly.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

They're all the rage with college kids. With gals and men alike. So round, so firm, so fully packed—I speak of Lucky Strike!

Barbara Bennett
Lawrence College

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason... enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco...light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better...always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

The cigarette that really tops The campus hit parade is Lucky Strike. Enjoy the taste because it's better made!

Idaho State Wins Third Straight Conf. Relays

• Intra-Mural • BILLBOARD

By BILL RILEY

The Independents went out in front Tuesday after knocking off their closest pursuers, the Phi Deltis. Many of those who attended the early morning contest claim it was by far the best of the season. Altho it is doubtful if any one person has seen all the games.

Going into the game Tuesday morning both teams were undefeated, each with three wins. It promised to be a pitchers' duel between Don Barstow (Inde.) and Don Hansen (Phi Delt). They proved a good match but the Indies played heads up ball and won 4 to 2. The Indies' bunt strategy combined with an overthrow by Norm Spears spelled defeat for the Phi Deltis.

The Zetas (Indes) were in command from the beginning as Billy Pringle led off with a clean single and was followed by two safe bunts and a Phi Delt error.

The outcome of the league is dependent upon how the Zetas fared yesterday with the Betas and the outcome of the game next week between the Phi Deltis and Betas.

In the games last week the Indies came thru with a 12 to 11 win over the Sigs. The Sigs made their best showing of the season in this game and were ahead clear up to the last inning when Chuck Swallow hit a bases loaded homer for the Zetas. Bill Zigcraft played an outstanding game for the Sigs and scored three of their runs.

The second game last week gave the K. Sigs their second loss in a row and the Phi Deltis their third win (3-2). It was a close game all the way with the Phi Deltis scoring the winning run on a passed ball. The Kappa Sigs went down swinging in the last inning with the tying run on third and the winning run on second. Both Bob Deyo (K. Sig) and Don Hansen (Phi Delt) turned in good jobs of pitching.

The Betas won their second straight game (17 to 4) and the cost of the hapless Phi Gams, Ken Simon, Ed Beatty, Bob Kroehnke and Dave Williams each scored three runs for the Betas. Gene Daniels and Don Crouse carried the load for the Fijis.

The Betas appear to be rolling now after losing their first game to the K. Sigs. They still could figure very prominently in the championship.

Standings—Zetas 4-0, Phi Deltis 3-1, Betas 2-1, K. Sigs 1-2, Fijis 0-3, and Sigs 0-3.

CC Linksmen Fall

To Colo. U., 42-12

Doug Silverberg, ace Canadian hockey player for CC, showed some of his other talents last weekend being the only CC winner in link play with Colorado University.

The Tiger squad, after a good session with Regis the week before, fell to the CU link stars in a one sided 42-12 match.

Silverberg, a top Canadian amateur, tied CU's George Hoos for medal honors with an 18 hole score of 70. That was good enough for a 3-2 victory over Keith Alexander of CU who shot a 73.

The summary:

Ken Simon (72) lost to Hoos (70), 2-1; Dick Pennington (78), lost to Jay Day (74), 2-2; Jim Ward (81), lost to Jay Kettman (75), 8-4; Dick Pearson (76), lost to R. Webb (76), 1-1; Roy Keller (83), lost to R. Moulthamer (74), 6-4.

TIGERS TIE FOR THIRD IN RMC MEET; FICEK SETS RECORD IN BROAD JUMP

Idaho State's relay team of Bob Codine, Charles Koval, Charles Lane, and Bob Conley paced the Bengals to their third straight Rocky Mountain Conference Relays title last Saturday at Greeley. The Bengal relays copied the 440, 880, and mile relays to help the winners to take first place in the meet with 23 points. Colorado State was second with 13 markers, followed by Colorado College and Colorado Mines with 6 each. Western State took the fourth spot with 5½ points with Montana State in the cellar position with ½.

No relay records were broken in the meet but two new markers in the special events division were set. CC's Ed Ficek jumped 21 ft. 10½ in. in the broad jump to topple the old mark of 21 ft. 7 in., set by Colorado State's Hubert Moore in 1953.

Richard Bauer of Idaho State netted the discus 138 feet, 7 inches to break his own record of 133, 8¼ inches set last year.

The Tigers won one other event, the sprint medley, with Bill Kemp, Clyde Herreid, Wandell Osborne, and Doug Little running. CC's other points were picked up with a third-place finish in the mile relay.

The relay summary:

Two Mile—Idaho State (Lee Brack, John Heelan, Dennis Critchfield and Serafin Neva); Colorado Mines, Colorado State. Time: 8:38.7.

440-Yard—Idaho State (Bob Codine, Charles Koval, Charles Lane and Bob Conley); Colorado State, Montana State and Western State. Time: 44.4.

Sprint Medley—Colorado College (Wm. Kemp, Clyde Herreid, Wandell Osborne and Doug Little); Colorado State, Colorado Mines. Time: 3:48.7.

880-Yard—Idaho State (Codine, Koval, Lane and Conley); Colorado State, Colorado Mines. Time: 13:17.

Distance Medley—Western State (Don Price, Bob Chavez, Mark Bodely and John Burry); Idaho State, Colorado Mines. Time: 11:28.5.

Mile Relay—Idaho State (Conley, Bodine, Koval and Neva); Colorado State, Colorado College. Time: 3:21.8.

Special Events summary:

Broad Jump—Ficek, CC; 21 ft. 10 3/4 in. (new record).

High Jump—Beckham, IS; 6 ft. 3 1/2 in. (new record).

Pole Vault—Childers, CS; and Rhodes, WS (tie), Height: 11 ft. 6 in.

Shot Put—Essary, Mines; McCandless, CS; Daugherty, Mines. Distance: 45 ft. 9 1/4 in.

Discus—Bauer, IS; Knapp, WS; McCandless, CS. Distance: 138 ft., 7 3/4 in. (new record).

120-Yard High Hurdles—Sivers, CS; Tindall, Mines; Feltus, WS. Time 15.3.

GRADUATE STUDENT TO APPEAR BEFORE THE HOUSE UN-AMERICAN COMMITTEE

The Ann Arbor Labor Youth League is issuing the following press release to student newspapers throughout the country:

On March 31, the Committee on Un-American Activities served Mike Sharpe, chairman of the Ann Arbor Labor Youth League, with a subpoena to appear before the committee in Lansing on May 10. Mr. Sharpe is a graduate student in economics at the Univ. of Michigan.

The number of students who have been hailed before Congressional investigating committees thruout the country is relatively small. The subpoenaing of another student at this time represents an acceleration in the attack on the traditional freedom of the American educational system.

Fear to join organizations and to express opinions on controversial issues already exists at the University of Michigan as a result of the investigation of students' record (Michigan Daily, Nov. 17, 1953), the clipping of controversial letters to the Michigan Daily by the state police (Arthur Halliday, Dec., 1953), and the surveillance of meetings by the FBI (Redbook, April, 1954). The subpoenaing of students adds to the fear which already exists.

The idea that a student's pursuit of truth, and his writing and speaking the truth as he understands it, constitutes an "Un-American Activity," is a grotesque distortion of the concept of liberal education, and indicates the contempt with the Un-American Committee has for such education.

Once a congressional committee attempts to penalize students for adopting this interpretation of history, that outlook in economics, or some other point of view in any given field, then education becomes sterile and dies.

It is inconceivable that universities can be dynamic and productive, that new, bold and imaginative ideas can flourish, if the Grand Inquisitor sits in the classroom, making servility the criterion of truth.

If education should wither as a result of congressional investigations and other practices which give rise to fear and conformity, every student will suffer, not only those who are under immediate attack.

If students fear to investigate all ideas—popular and unpopular, and if our present educational method is replaced by one which permits only the teaching of accepted dogma, approved by Velde, Clardy and the like, then society itself will also suffer, for no society can go forward which permits the stultification and debasement of knowledge. In such an atmosphere, the advancement of knowledge and of society, each of which is in mortal peril.

The Labor Youth League therefore considers this subpoena as a serious attack on the entire academic community. It calls on all individuals and organizations to demand that the Un-American Committee quash this and other subpoenas on students, teachers and youth in general, and to demand that the Un-American Committee keep out of Michigan.

Women's Marine Corps Convenes June 17th

The Marine Corps Women Officer Training Class for college students and graduates will convene on 17 June, according to Colonel Julia E. Hamblet, Director of Women Marines.

Qualified sophomores, juniors, and seniors are eligible to apply now as officer candidates in the Marine Corps and attend the six-week training period held each year at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., during the summer vacation.

"Women Marine Officers are a real part of the Corps," Colonel Hamblet said. "An excellent career is open to college-trained women who are interested in assuming a vital role in the national defense picture. Many interesting and responsible positions are held by Women Marine Officers in such field as personnel, education and recreation, administration, supply, communications, and legal duties."

In addition, the colonel pointed out, a career in the Marine Corps is a profitable one, since college women can earn up to $4250 yearly as second lieutenants.

Interested students may obtain detailed information at the nearest Marine Corps activity, or by writing to the Director of Women Marines, Washington 25, D. C.

Over 100,000 Students Study In Foreign Lands, Says UNESCO

More than 100,000 students are attending universities in countries other than their own, according to a world-wide survey made by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) of foreign student enrollment in universities and institutions of higher learning.

The results are published in the current sixth volume of UNESCO's annual guide to "Study Abroad," now issued in three languages, English, French and Spanish, and listing opportunities offered in all parts of the world for study abroad.

The geographical coverage extends to institutions in all countries except Bulgaria, the Chinese mainland, Czechoslovakia, east Germany, Hungary, Mongolia, Poland, Rumania and the USSR.

The countries with the largest numbers of foreign students are: the United States (33,679), France (13,709) and the United Kingdom (8,277). Other leading countries are: Switzerland (4,250), Argentina (3,522), Japan (3,549), Germany (3,497), Mexico (3,213), Australia (3,094), and Canada (3,206).

Another table attempts for the first time to show the number of students going abroad from each country. The survey indicates that at least 8,000 United States citizens are studying in universities abroad. At least 5,000 Canadian students are abroad, 85 per cent of whom are in the United States.

The next largest groups are those of Chinese nationality (4,500), from French territories (4,000—38 per cent of them in France), Germany (3,300), and Greece (3,100).

Deferment freshmen must be in the upper 1/2 of the freshmen men; the sophomores, in the upper 2/3 of the sophomores men; and the juniors, in the upper 3/4 of the junior men.

Deferment will be based on the grades from the preceding academic year.

ters the College Qualification Test.

When filling in the application, available at Selective Service local boards, the student should cross out "April 22" opposite the space reading "Center No." and write in "May 20".

The CC male students who wish 2S draft deferments on basis of class rank must call at the Registrar's Office to fill out an application form.

The Registrar will send the class rank of a student for deferment only if the student requests it.

CC Student Stone Qualifies as Pilot

Qualified as a carrier pilot after six successful landings aboard the light aircraft carrier, USS Monterey, in the Gulf of Mexico recently is Naval Aviation Cadet Donald B. Stone, son of Mrs. Bernice Stone of 919 N. Fifth Street, Grand Junction, Colo. He attended Colorado College in Colorado Springs from 1950 to 1953 and was a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

The landings completed a stringent schedule in military, academic, physical and flight training at the U.S. Naval Air Station at Pensacola, Fla., "The Annapolis of the Air".

A course of instruction in instrument flying at the U.S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Corry Field, is his next step towards earning the coveted Navy "Wings of Gold".

Phil Chapman, Barbara Marks Killed in Plane Crash Monday

Phillip Chapman, junior at Colorado College, and his fiancée, Barbara Marks, sophomore at Colorado University, were killed early Monday morning in a tragic airplane crash into a barren hillside three miles south of Palmer Lake. A heavy fog veiled the area at the time of the accident and temperatures were below freezing. Officers theorized the plane may have iced up because it plowed into the ground nose first. It crashed into a hill one mile west and a little north of Monument. Fred R. Meyer, Monument, said he heard the roar of a plane at 6:10 a.m., looked out and saw the Cessna hit the ground, roll over and go up in flames.

Parts of the wrecked plane were strewn over a wide area. Officers surmised Chapman had just taken off from the Pine Valley Airport, eight miles north of Colorado Springs.

Chapman, who was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity at Colorado College, was flying Miss Marks back to Boulder. He is the son of Dr. Katherine Howe Chapman, 1306 Wood Avenue, and the late Dr. Frank Amos Chapman. Phil who was very popular with his fellow students during the time he was attending Colorado College, was social chairman of his fraternity.

Barbara Marks, an education major at Colorado University, is the daughter of Mrs. W. L. Walton, Houston, Texas, and Tudor Marks, 1206 Wood Avenue.

Building Supt. Harry M. Stewart to Retire

Harry M. Stewart, superintendent of buildings and grounds at Colorado College since 1942, has retired, President William H. Gill announced today.

Pres. Gill announced that Stewart had tendered his resignation and that it had been accepted by the Board of Trustees, effective June 30, 1954.

Stewart will take two months' accrued vacation beginning May 1, with his successor due to be named soon, Gill indicated.

In accepting Stewart's retirement, Gill said that Stewart leaves the college after 12 years of tireless and faithful service. The buildings superintendent had served just the normal retirement age for college officials.

Stewart, an accomplished runner, came to Colorado College in 1942 after serving for 12 years as superintendent at Fountain Valley School. Prior to his appointment at Fountain Valley in 1930, he had been connected with the Anacosta Copper Co., at Kennerly, Wyo.

Intercollegiate Dance Held in Denver May 14

The 29th annual Intercollegiate Dance at Elitch's Gardens in Denver, will be held Friday, May 14. Teddy Phillips, his golden saxophone and his orchestra, will provide the music for this popular dance.

An added attraction of the Teddy Phillips group is the game "Join the Band". This game gives musically talented dancers an opportunity to be part of the top flight musical groups.

Four persons are invited to "Join the Band". They are given kazoos in the form of various types of musical instruments. Each person plays a number with the band serving as a background accompaniment. The person who distinguishes himself musically is then awarded a handsome prize.

Admission is $2.00 per couple and tickets may be purchased either at the May Company box office in Denver or at the gate.

Dr. W. H. Sterg O'Dell Named New Dean of College by Gill

Dr. W. H. Sterg O'Dell is to be the new dean of the college at Colorado College. President William H. Gill announced Saturday that O'Dell, English professor in the department of humanities at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has been named dean of the college and full professor of English. O'Dell will succeed Dr. George W. Adams, dean since 1949, who will leave in June to become director of the Salzburg Seminar in Salzburg, Austria. The new dean will report to the Colorado College campus July 1.

Dr. O'Dell earned the bachelor of science degree in 1935 from Central Missouri State College in Warrensburg, Mo. After teaching for several years he earned the master's degree from Iowa State in 1940. He taught for two more years and then entered the United States Air Corps, serving as a captain in the Air Transport Command from 1942-1946.

W. H. Sterg O'Dell

Editor, Business Manager to be Chosen for Pubs

Once more the time has arrived when a new editor and business manager for the Nugget and Kin-kinnik must be selected. The Nugget jobs pay five hundred dollars a year. A year's experience in publication work is valuable but not required.

Applications should be turned in by May 14 to either Lee Sage, chairman of the Publicity Board, or K. G. Freyschlag, publicity director.

Those are the facts, however, there are many factors to be considered by prospective applicants. First of all, the jobs are not by any wild stretch of the imagination easy. The year time consuming, frustrating, and often thankless. Both the editor and business manager must be able to select good staff personnel, place them in position. They are time-consumers at which they are most apt, and keep them interested in their jobs throughout the year.

The jobs do have their compensations. A wealth of practical experience in administration is offered the editor. The business or economics major who applies for the business manager finds many financial problems not covered by the books. Then too, many new acquaintances are acquired through the work.

The business manager has to make an estimate of the year's expenses, sell advertising, supervise expenditures and generally keep the books in good financial order. The editor's job goes all the way from composition and copy to photo and art selection.

Anyone driving to or near New York around June 20 please contact Norm Spears at the Phi Delta House.

A playoff between the Indes and the Phi Dels will be held at 4:30 Monday afternoon at Stewart Field. These two teams ended their softball schedule in a tie, each winning four games while dropping one. If the Phi Dels win the game, they will capture second place in the Intramural standings. If the Indes win, the two clubs will end the intramural season in a tie for second place. The Indes previously beat the Phi Dels 4-3.

SIX ELECTED TO HONOR COUNCIL TO REPLACE GRADUATING SENIORS

Six new members were elected to the Honor Council at elections held Friday afternoon in Palmer Hall. They were selected by delegates from each academic class who were elected April 28th and 29th. The new members are to replace the outgoing senior members and will serve on the Council for the remainder of their time at Colorado College.

Those elected were Mort Forster, Pat Butler, John Price, Tom Sinton, Bob Roinpre and Sue Pfeiffer. They assumed their new positions immediately upon being elected. Members of the Honor Council who still have at least one year remaining in college are Bill Howell, new president; Jane Carroll, secretary; Weta Austin, Jeff Sinus, Marcia Manning and Rule Olsen.

Outgoing seniors who were replaced by the newly elected Councilors include Tom Dutton, former president, Mose Harrison, Gail Lund, B. J. Weiskopf, Jack Geary, Ned Pfeiffer and Chuck Hawley. ASCC president Dick Clothier sits with the Council in every meeting but has no vote if 12 members of the Council are present.

GREEK MEN SAY NO TO AMENDMENT

An amendment to the ASCC Constitution has been presented which will take the election of Student Council representatives out of the hands of the campus organizations, and place it in the hands of the academic classes of CC. The following arguments are those upon which the amendment is based:

1. The qualified students in the school are not on the Council at the present time; under the system proposed, those members of the student body will be representatives.

2. Under the present system, the Council is not representative of the student body; under the adventous system, there will be better representation and added "prestige" to the members of the Student Council.

3. "The organization doesn't pick their best men for the job" under the present system.

4. By using a nomination system similar to that used in nominating Honor Council members, qualified persons would be elected to the Council.

5. The Independent organizations are not represented on an equal basis with the Greek-letter organizations.

6. Under the proposed system there would be more student interest in the election of Student Council representatives.

7. The advocated system would eliminate student politics.

We wish to state that we are definitely against the proposed amendment. We do not feel that the arguments upon which the amendment is based are valid because:

1. Under the present system, Greek-letter organizations will not be apt to elect incompetent members to the Council. The majority of the organizations elect representatives to the Council whom they will run for Student Body president at some time in the future. Certainly, they want their man to get the position, and, consequently, the organizations will elect competent persons to the Student Council. Secondly, qualified, interested students in organizations can use their influence, interest, and qualifications to become elected to the Council by a smaller body, organizations, than the academic classes. Such a smaller group will be in a better position to evaluate the qualifications of the person. Furthermore, we feel that election by academic classes will result in popularity contests; the qualified person is not necessarily popular. The proposed system would cause political coalitions which the amendment is supposed to eliminate; this is certainly contradictory.

2. We do not believe that there is such poor representation under the present system. Each Greek-letter organization has one vote, and the Independent organization have one vote apiece. This system allows eleven representatives and a president to sit on the Council. Under the proposed system, there will be nine representatives and a president elected to the Council. We cannot see that this system fosters increased student body representation, since, at the present time, two organizations will not be allowed representation under any circumstances. Next year, with the addition of a new sorority, three groups will be without representation. If there is no interest generated by the system, how will members gain prestige?

2. For the refutation of this point, please refer to point 1 above.

4. We do not feel that there is enough pride or responsibility in the academic classes to warrant the election of representatives in the manner suggested by the amendment.

5. The Independent organizations draw very few members to their meetings. Those who do attend are the interested members. It would seem to us that disinterested Independents, who are in the majority, do not care about "equal representation", or they would attend their meetings.

6. We do not believe that student interest would be generated by the proposed system of election.

7. With the elimination of organizations, political coalitions would be formed in order to guarantee the election of certain representatives.

Such, then, is our position. Greek-letter groups are a necessary part of this college, and, therefore, fits Student Council.

ASCC NOTES

By Ted Lott

Mr. Payten Short of the World University Service talked to the Student Council about the organization he represented. He pointed out that it is a brotherhood of students representing 32 nations united for the purpose of helping students less fortunate than ourselves. He presented a plea to the student body for financial help through the Community Chest.

The Election Committee reported that the new amendments to the Constitution that were voted on in class meetings passed by a large majority.

Betty Troutman of Gamma Phi was elected publicity agent for ASCC.

Senior Prom to be Held Saturday

May 8, 1954, promises to be the loveliest night of the year for Colorado College students who attend the senior prom at the Alamo Hotel in the Crystal Room from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. The El Mirador orchestra will provide the music for this all-school, semi-formal "Diploma Ball". The honored guests of this dance are the graduating seniors. They will be admitted on their identification cards alone. For the other ballgoers the ticket price is one dollar ($1.00) per couple.

The highlight of the "Diploma Ball" will be when Dr. Van B. Shaw, the senior class sponsor, presents a plaque to the Senior Woman Most Likely to Succeed, and another plaque to the Senior Man Most Likely to Succeed. The candidates for these awards have been chosen by the sororities and fraternities on campus. The Phi Gams have chosen Terry Burk;

Phi Deltas, Ed MacGuire; Sigma Chi, Dave Becker; Kappa Sigma, Roger Bildstein; and the Betas, Frank Florey; the Thetas have selected Gail Lund; Kappa, B. J. Weiskopf; Gamma Pits, Margie Epler, and Delta Gammias, Marion Johnson. Voting will be held at the door.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry Carter and Dr. and Mrs. William Fischer will be the chaperones.

Baritone Pempin Presents Master's Recital Program

The music department of Colorado College will present Donald Wayne Pempin, baritone, in a master's recital on Sunday, May 9, at 4:30 p.m., in Perkins Hall.

Mr. Pempin graduated from the Westminster Choir College, Princeton, N. J., in 1948, with a major in music. He remained in Princeton the next year for private study and to tour with the famous Westminster touring choir. Since 1949 he has been organist-choirmaster of St. Mark's Episcopal Cathedral, Grand Rapids, Mich., and director of the St. Cecilia Musical Society Chorus.

Mr. Pempin was baritone soloist at Trinity Church, Princeton, and has acted in the same capacity at Grace Church, Colorado Springs, since January of this year. He was seen in the role of the fiendish Dr. Miracle in the college Opera Workshop production of Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman" in March.

His program will include the famous "Catalog" song from "Don Giovanni" (Mozart), lieder by Mozart, Schubert and Brahms, a group of French songs by Dukas, Debussy and Franck, including a setting of six short songs by Francis Paulene. He will close his program with four songs in English—"The Song of the Soldiers" (Lennox Berkeley), "It Was a Lover and His Lass," and "Come Away, Death," both by Gerald Finzi, and "Hymn to Parnassus" by Nathaniel Dett.

Mr. Pempin will be assisted by Carlton Ganser at the piano. Mr. Ganser is a fine pianist and composer who came to Colorado Springs last September and since then has appeared on many programs before local audiences.

This program is open to the public and there is no charge.

Student Recitals To Be May 7 and 11

Two student recitals will be presented by the music department of Colorado College, the first on Friday, May 7th, the second on Tuesday, May 11, at 8:00 p.m., in Perkins Hall auditorium. TIGERS WIN OVER WESTERN STATE, 1-0; ELDON HELM HURLS ONE-HITTER IN SNOW

The CC baseball team split a double header with Western State, at Gunnison last Friday and Saturday. Both games were played in the cold and with snow on the ground. Western State won a 10 to 9 decision over the Tigers Friday and CC won 1 to 0 Saturday. Eldon Helm pitched a one hitter for the Tigers as they won their first shutout of the year. The one hit for the Mountaineers was a bunt single and a very close play at first base. CC got only four hits but put two of them together in the fifth inning for a score. Tony George started the action off with a single and advanced to second on Lou Elder's sacrifice. Bob Egly came up next and got a single to score Tony from second. Tom Dunton and Bob Russell pitched for the Tigers Friday with the loss going to Dunton. In that game CC out hit Western State but couldn't bring in the needed runs. Ed Robson collected four of the CC hits and Bob Egly got two more.

The split left CC with a 3 win and 4 lost record for the season and a 2 and 4 record in league play.

The Tigers and Miners will play a double header today and tomorrow with today's game at Golden and tomorrow's at Golden and tomorrow's at Golden.

Netmen Lose to DU, Westminster College

Colorado College netmen fell twice last weekend, once to Denver University and to Westminster College of Salt Lake City.

On Friday the Denver boys proved that an earlier victory over the Tigers was no fluke. On an earlier meeting the Denver team swept the match 9-0 and repeated their efforts last week with an identical score.

The match with Denver was played in freezing cold weather which may have been a hindrance.

Also last week the Tiger Net men met with Westminster College. It was the opening of Westminster's first Colorado tour and the CC match was a successful start.

On completion of the singles matches the Tiger led 3-2 with Monty Gatchell winning 6-2, 6-8, and 6-3. Norm Spears won his matches 6-8 and 1-6 while Tom Lowry whipped his opponent 4-6, 6-2, and 3-6.

Westminster picked up their points on two close contests involving Del Hitch and Dick Conroy.

The Tigers lost the match in

CC's ROTC Unit Undergoes Second Federal Inspection

Colorado College's ROTC unit underwent its second federal inspection Wednesday, May 5. Colonel Robert B. Connor, PMST of the University of Minnesota, and Major Rodney Weibel, University of Nebraska, were the inspecting officers. ROTC cadets were inspected by the party on Wednesday at Stewart Field and then reviewed at Washburn Field. This year's inspection review included the ROTC band, who have been working under Mr. Earl A. Juhas of the college music department.

Classroom work, training equipment and facilities were checked also by the visiting officers.

The distinctive Colorado College patch recently received by the ROTC cadets was in evidence at this year's inspection. Worn on the right shoulder, the new patch was designed by Master Sergeant Hughes of the military department.

The design which received approval of the Department of the Army, embellishes a Tiger's head on a back drop of a mountain, indicative of Pikes Peak. The patch may be worn only by members of Colorado College's ROTC.

The federal inspection evaluated efficiency of the unit and the degree to which it is accomplishing the objectives of the ROTC program.

Captain Connor and Major Weibel remained on the campus throughout the day visiting with President Gill and other officials.

Reading Laboratory Held this Summer To Improve Skill

A Summer Reading Laboratory for college students who want to read better and faster will be conducted by Western Reserve University's Reading Improvement Service on the Cleveland school's campus from June 21 through July 31.

Sharpening reading skills and improving study methods is the purpose of the Laboratory, according to Mrs. James A. McConchie, director of the University's Adult Reading Center. Students in similar programs have recently doubled reading speed while maintaining or improving comprehension, she said.

The laboratory method will permit the student to work on his individual reading problems as well as to participate in group work.

Classes have been scheduled in two sections, day and evening, to permit those with summer jobs to enroll. Day sessions will be held Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 12:30 to 2:30 at the Adult Reading Center, 2929 Adelbert Road. Evening sessions will be conducted at the same location on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 6 to 8 p. m.

Tuition for the six-week program will be $30 per student.

Apply for registration forms in writing or by telephone to Adult Reading Center, Western Reserve University, 2929 Adelbert Road, Cleveland 6, Ohio; telephone CEDar 1-7700, Extension 744.

Student Comedy 'Good News' Big Hit on Opening Night

By TED LOTT

The versatility of student talent at Colorado College was shown Tuesday night, May 4, when the musical comedy, "Good News", opened in Perkins Hall on the college campus. The production, staged by the Music, Dance, and Drama Departments of Colorado College, was the first of its kind to be presented in a great many years. "Good News", a light comedy with a college background, centers around a football hero, Tom Marlow, who will be unable to play in the big game if he is unable to pass an astronomy examination. His fellow students feel that all is lost, as Tom is certain to flunk the exam. Pat, Tom's girl, had planned to tutor him before the exam, but being unable to do so, at the last minute arranges for her cousin Connie to help him. Unfortunately for Pat, Tom proceeds to fall in love with Connie. The situation becomes critical between the two girls and Tom, but after many hilarious situations all is eventually settled.

Tom and Connie are brilliantly portrayed by Bob Kicklighter and Judy Clave respectively. Judy's singing of "Just Imagine" supported by Lynn Wigley and Eleanor Graves is doubtlessly the show's best. Judy and Bob singing, "The Best Things in Life Are Free" and "Lucky in Love" are excellent.

Bill Peters playing the part of Bobby, a frustrated football player, and Judy Avery as Babe, kept the house in stitches thruout the performance with their funny antics and songs. Probably one of the funniest was their, "Baby, What?" Also Avery's, "Flaming Youth" was outstanding.

Elaene Lundstrom as Flo, did a fine job in her supporting role, and in her singing of the title song "Good News."

Other songs worthy of mention were, "Happy Days" by Bob Kicklighter and John Parker, and Parker teaming with Eleanor Graves to sing "On the Campus." "Varsity Drag" is well done by Walt Thorndike, John Parker, Elaene Lundstrom and Eleanor Graves.

Bill Fritz did a fine job with his portrayal of Professor Kenyon, and Bill Phelps was great as Beef, a football player.

Jim Wier as Kearney, a peesi-

In days gone by, young men in shining armor ruled the age. Today, a new kind of man rules the age—America's Knights of the Sky, the Air Force Pilots! They rule from on high, in flashing silver-winged Air Force jets... a gallant band that all America looks up to! Like the Knights of old, they are few in number, but they represent their Nation's greatest strength.

If you are single, between the ages of 19 and 26½, you can join this select flying team and serve with the finest. You will be given the best jet training in the world, and graduate as an Air Force Lieutenant earning $5,000 a year. Your silver wings will mark you as one of the chosen few who ride the skies in Air Force jets.

As an Air Force pilot, your kingdom is space—a jet is your charger and your mission is the highest. You are a key defender of the American faith, with a guaranteed future both in military and commercial aviation.

Join America's Knights of the Sky, new men of a new age. Be an Aviation Cadet! For further information, fill out this coupon.

Selective Service To Administer Special Test

Selective Service national headquarters announced today that it has authorized a special administration of the College Qualification Test on Thursday, May 20, 1954, for the benefit of students prevented by illness or other emergency from attending one of the regular administrations on November 19, 1953 and April 22, 1954. May 20 is the last date upon which the College Qualification Test will be held during the present academic year.

Although applications postmarked May 10, 1954, or earlier will be accepted, students wishing to apply are urged to secure, complete, and mail their applications at once. Early filing will insure a test and other necessary supplies for the student at a nearby center, according to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test.

When filling in the application, available at Selective Service local boards, the student should cross out "April 22" opposite the space reading "Center No." and write in "May 20".

The CC male students who wish 25 draft deferments on basis of class rank must call at the Registrar's Office to fill out an application form.

The Registrar will send the class rank of a student for deferment only if the student requests it.

To apply for the 25 student deferment freshmen must be in the upper 1/2 of the freshmen men; the sophomores, in the upper 2/3 of the sophomores.

May Day Party

Dorm projects are lots of fun. This was quite a special one; We thought teachers and kids should meet.

This party proved to be quite a treat.

May Day should have been quite sunny.

Nature goofed, it was quite funny. Indoors we played lots of games I hesitate to mention names—more men; and the juniors, in the upper 1/4 of the junior men.

Dean Mathias as "Farmer in the Dell",

Acted out his part quite well.

General Gill had quite good aim

At "Drop the Clothespin in the Milk Bottle" game.

The party really became quite gay

While we jumped rope with Dr. Gray.

Faculty and administration too, Around the May Pole knew what to do,

Paper hats and big hair bows

And children's games were what we chose,

Our guests at lunch were happy indeed

Ticknor's party did succeed.

John Esden Memorial Trophy To Be Awarded on May 25th

The second annual presentation of the "John Esden Memorial Trophy" will be Tuesday, May 25, in chapel. All the men's organizations on the campus, the five fraternities and Crown and Lance, are eligible to compete for this award. The winning organization will have custody of the trophy for the year 1954-55 and will have its name engraved in the space provided.

The trophy was established last year as a result of a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Duque, of Los Angeles, in honor of John Esden, a former student of Colorado College who died shortly after his graduation of bulbar polio in Council Bluffs, Iowa.

The awarding of the trophy will be based on the following qualifications and will be presented by President William H. Gill. Deadline for submission of these qualifications to the chairman of the Committee on Undergraduate Life, Dean George W. Adams, is May 21.

A. The faculty and administrative members of the Committee on Undergraduate Life shall be responsible for making the award.

B. The award shall be based on:

- All-around leadership.
- Scholastic standing.
- Athletics, intramural and intercollegiate.
- Representation in important college activities such as publications, offices, etc.
- Method of making the award. The award shall be based on the categories enumerated in B above.

(a) All-around leadership shall be judged by the Committee on Undergraduate Life, maximum of 25 award points.

(b) Scholarship shall be based on the averages of the two preceding semesters, maximum of 25 points.

(c) Athletics shall be major sport and one participation point for each minor sport.

(d) Athletics shall be evaluated in the following manner: Intramural athletics, maximum of 12½ points; organizations shall be ranked as computed by the director of athletics; intercollegiate athletics, maximum of 12½ award points, by counting two participation points for each sport letter.

(d) Representation in publications, offices, etc., shall be judged at the discretion of the Committee on Undergraduate Life, maximum of 25 award points.

D. The Committee on Undergraduate Life shall rank the organizations in order in regard to each of the four categories enumerated in B above. Award points shall be allocated as follows:

1st, 25 points; 2nd, 20 points; 3rd, 15 points; 4th, 10 points; 5th, 5 points; and 6th, 0 points.

(Except in athletics where half the number of points shall be awarded for intramural and half for intercollegiate competition.)

E. Further, organizations which wish to compete for the trophy shall submit briefs to the Committee on Undergraduate Life, stating their achievements in all around leadership, participation in athletics and representation in important college activities, as publications, etc. Each brief shall include a list of all members of the organization concerned.

F. The trophy is to have space for the engraving of the winners' names each year for 15 years. At the end of 15 years, the trophy is to be permanently awarded to the organization which has won it the most times.

Organizations should file the briefs referred to in paragraph E not later than Friday, May 21.

DRAFT DEFERMENT

Application for draft deferment for the 1954-55 on the basis of scholastic standing must be filed with the Registrar's Office prior to the end of the semester.

Dick Clothier (left) presents the Sonny Price Award for this year to Sue Pfeiffer and Wally Prebis.

John Hirst and Sue Pfeiffer Capture Publications Awards

Sue Pfeiffer and John Hirst were awarded publication's awards in chapel, May 11. Sue received the E. K. Gaylord Award while the Publications Board Recognition Award was given to John Hirst. Miss Pfeiffer received the E. K. Gaylord award because of her work on the TIGER. In order to receive this award, the recipient of the award must have worked on Colorado College publications a minimum of four school semesters.

They must have shown an ample spirit of cooperation in working with the staff members and in carrying out her assigned duties, as well as demonstrating a sincere desire to further the publication on which she has worked.

Miss Pfeiffer must have shown an understanding of the field and demonstrated an improvement in her ability to do the work during the time she has worked on CC publications.

This award is given to a junior or a senior who has worked on the Colorado College publications.

The Recognition Award of which John Hirst received is based on nearly the same qualifications as the E. K. Gaylord Award. This award is given to a freshman or sophomore who has shown outstanding ability in CC publications. John has worked on the Nugget staff for the last two years and received honorable mention for this award last year.

Sue and John will have their names added to a plaque sponsored by the Publications Board and they were presented with certificates of their awards.

Friday, May 21, will be the last issue of THE TIGER for this year. Anyone who has any articles or information they want published in THE TIGER this year should turn them into THE TIGER office or to Tom Pankau no later than Tuesday, May 17.

Pfeiffer, Prebis Presented Sonny Price Awards by ASCC

Sue Pfeiffer and Wally Prebis were presented with the Sonny Price award as the students who had participated in more activities and services than any other students for 1953-54. This award was established by the Student Council in 1949 as a honor to the outstanding leader in the senior class, but it was decided this year to present the award to a student or students who would be returning next year and make it in the form of a scholarship.

It was planned that the award would take the form of a full tuition scholarship and would be presented to one student, however, the Student Council was unable to choose between Sue Pfeiffer and Wally Prebis and it was decided to award the scholarship jointly to the two students.

The activities of each student are graded through the distribution of questionnaires according to an established point system, and the winner is then determined by the Student Council.

All School Sneak To Be —; Instructions Given

Okay gang, here the scoop. When and IF the "All School Sneak" ever gets here—here are your instructions:

The festivities will begin at 10:00 a.m. on the day of the sneak. Buses will leave at 9:00 a.m. from Cutler Hall for those students who haven't rides. Posters will be posted at 7:30 a.m. in the morning in all girls' dorms, fraternity houses, and class buildings to announce the day.

It is an all-day sneak and you are not required to attend any classes. On the day of the sneak just grab a mug, a ride and head north through Ute Pass to Woodland Park.

In case you have forgotten the purpose of this "All School Sneak" it is to promote school spirit between the faculty, administration, and students, and better the education. In order to obtain such a goal, it is very important for all members of the CC Family to participate in the activities. It is the desire of the college administration for every one to have a good time . . . but remember, it is up to you for this day to be a success.

So get prepared—when the day arrives—just head for the hills. The library and Palmer will be closed and roll will be taken in the hills.

Future sneak days depends on your good behavior.

Moore Replaces Stewart As CC Buildings Head

Colonel Thomas E. Moore, U.S. Army (Ret.), has been appointed to succeed Harry M. Stewart as Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings at Colorado College. Mr. Stewart recently retired from the position.

Colonel Moore retired from the army two years ago. He was post executive officer at Camp Carson just prior to his leaving the service. Recently Colonel Moore returned to Camp Carson, this time to take charge of the new trailer village being built by the city.

Although no detailed plans have been worked out for the immediate future, Colonel Moore announced that it is his intention to first give the campus a thorough cleaning and then re-seed some of the lawn and add new shrubs and bushes. He would later like to add a full-time gardener to his staff.

The new superintendent is married and has two married children.

Tiger Club Taps 35 New Members

Tiger Club, the women's pep organization on campus, recently tapped their new members. These include girls from next year's sophomore, junior, and senior classes.

The following are those now wearing the official yellow jackets of Tiger Club: LaVon Cehrike, Diane Lanning, Joan Reid, Jan Charters, Marilyn Cimino, Jo Warner, Carol Witwer, Martha Dailey, Marjorie Gilbert, Sue Arnold, Luan Cutler, Inky Brower, Fran Flinn.

Joyce Niedermeyer, Nancy Hogan, Nancy Toles, Lucy Hammond, Billie Jean Andrews, Maggie Mathias, Judy Brown, Virginia Holloway, Miriam Robins, Pat Perkins, Sharon Conner, Sally Swanson, Marilyn Wallace, Jean Boncutter, Exie Everett, Alice Scudler, Sally Sletton, Bello McConnell, Barbara Jorgens, Cynthia Hagner, Mary Alice Crabtree, Connie Ebner, Nanee Pound, Zoe Jenkins, and Julie Harkins.

All student organizations are asked to place up their hills at least to the Nugget. These organizations include all clubs, fraternities and sororities. At present most of these bills are unpaid. It is requested that checks be sent to the Nugget or given to Dick Smith.

Dr. Whitney Assists County In Vaccination Against Polio

Dr. Roger S. Whitney, medical advisor to Colorado College, was one of several volunteer physicians to help the county in its drive to stamp out polio in this region with the use of the new Salk polio vaccine. Twenty centers have been set up which will vaccinate all the second grade children in the area. The vaccination is being administered to approximately 1,360 children in three separate shots, starting on May 5 and ending on June 16.

Reports from the city-county health department indicated that the vaccination program was running smoothly with the finest of cooperation received from the physicians, nurses, volunteer workers, and educators.

The vaccine is being given to determine whether or not antibodies will protect against paralytic polio.

Medical authorities say the first two shots are to sensitize the body to produce antibodies while the third shot serves as a "booster" or "recall" dose.

City-county health department officials praised the great job done by the many volunteers in making the innumerable arrangements in order that the vaccinations could be administered with efficiency and dispatch.

Here at Colorado College President Wm. H. Gill had the highest praise for the work done by Dr. Whitney in this drive against polio.

To the Students and Faculty Of Colorado College

Two weeks ago the TIGER printed a news story concerning a graduate at the University of Michigan who was subpoenaed to appear before the House on Un-American Activities Committee. This student, Mike Sharpe, is chairman of the Ann Arbor-Labor Youth League.

The TIGER wishes to go on record as saying that no bias for or against the action was intended in the printing of this article. It was printed entirely for informational purposes so that thinking and interested college students would be duly informed on the activities of the House Committee mentioned above. The significance here is the fact that this is the first instance that the TIGER has heard of where a college student was subpoenaed by this committee.

It might be appropriate here to state that the group which Sharpe heads at Ann Arbor is known nationally as a subversive organization.

ROTC to Hold Review and Ceremony At Washburn Field, Thursday, May 20

President William H. Gill will be honored by Colorado College's ROTC unit on Thursday, May 20, at Washburn field at 10 o'clock with a military review and ceremony. During the ceremony President Gill will present the President's Streamer to be flown from the company guidon to the best drilled company. He will also present individual awards to members of the ROTC rifle team. This year's rifle team fired matches against more than 30 schools thruout the United States by postal methods and also participated in several shoulder to shoulder matches.

Several other awards will be made to outstanding cadets. The Colorado Springs American Legion Post No. 5 will present a scholastic medal to the first and second year cadet and the advance corps cadet possessing the best academic record for the 1953-54 school year.

Four awards will be made by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 151 of Colorado Springs to the best drilled freshman and two to the best drilled sophomores.

The Colorado Springs Junior Chamber of Commerce will award two general excellence medals to freshmen cadets. Basis of the award will be military performance, grade point average and campus leadership.

A medal will be presented to the outstanding graduating senior by the Colorado Sons of the American Revolution. The outstanding graduating cadet will also be cited by the Colorado Department, Reserve Officer's Association.

Lt. Col. Herbert B. Heyer will present the PMST award to the outstanding non-commissioned officer of the corps.

Distinguished military students will be designated from the advance course students and awarded the distinguished badge during the ceremony. To be designated a distinguished military student the advance course cadet must demonstrate outstanding qualities of leadership, high moral character and a definite aptitude for military service as well as excellent academic standing. Distinguished military students are eligible to be commissioned in the Regular Army.

The awards are presently being displayed in the window of Peerless Furniture Store as part of the ROTC display in observance of Armed Forces Day.

President's day will be attended by civilian and military leaders of the Colorado Springs area who will be guests of the Corps of Cadets.

Upon completion of the awards ceremony President Gill will review the unit. Miss Jean Boncutter, 1954 Honorary Cadet Colonel elect, will take position on the reviewing stand with the president and other distinguished guests.

Students, faculty members and parents are cordially invited to attend the review. Washburn will also be open to the public at that time.

President's day will mark the final review for the 1953-54 academic year.

Deal with the faults of others as gently as with your own.

Amendment Voted Down in ASCC

By BETTY TROUTMAN

Back to committee went "the" amendment which has been under much discussion the last two weeks. The majority report's amendment was defeated in ASCC on May 8th with the minority report following suit on May 10th, both by roll-call votes.

The committee will now try to come up with a possible answer to the arguments against the two previously proposed amendments. The two main problems are (1) who should be represented on ASCC—social groups, classes, or a combination, and (2) the method of election of the ASCC officers.

Have a good Nugget by having good leadership. Applications for editor and business manager are due today. Turn them in to Lee Sage—don't wait, act now.

An international relations seminar will be held by the United States National Student Association from July 12 through September 1. Any international relations students interested may receive further information from Dick Clothier.

Newman Club Will Hold Annual 'Day of Recollection' May 16

The Colorado College Newman Club will hold its annual spring "Day of Recollection" this Sunday, May 16, at Holy Rosary Chapel in Cascade. Students will meet in front of Lenox at 1:15 p.m. and transportation will be provided.

The retreat will start with a conference at 2:00 p.m., followed by devotions and additional conferences until 5:30 p.m., and closing with a dinner in Cascade, where plans will be made for a Marian Year Pilgrimage to Mexico City this summer. Retreat master for the day will be a Jesuit, Father Yeager, from Regis College.

MacGuire, Lund Voted Seniors Most Likely to Succeed

By TED LOTT

Elected at the Senior Prom last Saturday night as the two outstanding seniors this year, were Ed MacGuire and Gail Lund. They were elected through ballots cast by those who attended the dance.

Ed MacGuire is one of a family of six boys and comes from New Haven, Conn. He came to CC as a sophomore and has been active in many campus activities while here. Among other things, he has been social chairman of Phi Delta Theta, a writer on THE TIGER staff, and an active member of the Newman Club. This year Ed was honored by being crowned Goldiggers' King at the annual Goldiggers' Ball.

While attending CC, Ed has become well known on the campus through his friendly and engaging manner. During the school year he has worked as a busboy at Bemis which is probably one factor which accounts for his wide range of friends.

Sportswise, Ed is very fond of swimming, and has been a member of the swimming team. Swimming the backstroke he took 2nd place in the conference meet in 1953.

After completing his studies as a Political Science major, Ed plans to attend law school to prepare for a career as a trial lawyer.

Gail Lund, from Oak Park, Ill., has been a CC student for four years, and has held a scholarship during that time. A member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, Gail has distinguished herself and has become well known through her many activities on the campus. This year she is president of Q.A. and has been on the Honor Council for two years. During her junior year she was social chairman of the A.W.S. Board, a class commissioner and was president of Howbert House.

Gail Lund

Gail is a member of the Tiger Club, a Phi Beta Kappa, and is entered in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities?" At the end of her sophomore year she was presented with the Ann Rice Award.

Among Gail's many interests, skiing and sailing are perhaps outstanding. She was a member of the CC girls' ski team and has devoted as much time as possible to the sport while here. Spending the majority of her summer vacations at Lake Geneva, Wisc., she has had the opportunity to devote much time to sailing, one of her favorite pastimes.

As an English major, Gail has made the Dean's List every year she has been here. She is planning on utilizing this background to enter Radcliffe College next fall to take a year of their management training program which is affiliated with the Harvard Business School. The course consists of instruction mixed with practical experience. A four-week period in the fall will be devoted to experience in production work in a nearby industry, and in the spring six weeks will be devoted to experience in the management level. During this period Gail plans to share an apartment in Boston with Judy Johnson who graduated from CC last year.

Gail's eventual goal will probably be personnel management in either hotel work or merchandising.

Used Room Furnishings To Be Sold in Trade Inn

We'll take the leg from some old table . . . We'll take the arm from some old chair . . .

In fact we will take any room furnishings that you would like to sell to another college girl.

What is it all about?

It is TRADE INN, a new A.W.S. project to give Colorado College coeds a chance to sell bedspreads, tables, lamps, etc., at the end of this semester and have an opportunity to purchase used room furnishings next fall.

If you would like to sell some of these things contact Carol Northcutt, Carol Raymond, Bonnie Booth or your dormitory fire captain.

A shop will be set up on campus next fall where girls may come to browse and buy used room furnishings.

Thetas, Kappa Sigs Win Fifth Annual All-School Song Fest

Kappa Alpha Theta, under the leadership of Judy Avery, and Kappa Sigma, directed by Kip Herreid, were the winners of the Fifth Annual All-School Song Fest. Gamma Phi Beta placed second in the women's division with Phi Gamma Delta and Sigma Chi tying for second in the men's division. The Thetas won with "We Kiss in a Shadow" and "The Kerry Dance" while the Kappa Sigs' songs were "Deep River" and "Stout Hearted Men."

Judges of the contest were Edalyn Burger, Harold Redabaugh, and Carlton Gainer.

Recording and broadcasting of the Song Fest were done by Chief Tyree, Jo Ann Zerbe, Larry Richman, and Neel Tyree.

Pastel skirts and sleeveless white blouses were worn by the Thetas while the Kappa Sigs work dark slacks, white shirts, and black bow ties.

Ten CC Students to Be Presented Annual Pick and Pan Speech Award

"To be or not to be, that is the question," a very good question, too, for who is going to win this year's annual Pick and Pan speech award? Hollywood isn't the only place that presents Oscars for excellent performances. In fact, even CC gives Oscars.

This year's winners, who were recently announced by Professors Woodson Tyree and Ray Werner, are as follows: debate, Charles Hawley and Pat Butler; drama, Bill Fritz, Judy Clave and Robert Kicklighter; and in radio, Bill Prescott, Joanne Zerbe, Larry Richman, Bob Tewles and Pete Kosick.

These awards are given for more than one year of service and performance in one or more of these fields. Selection is based first on performance and second on interest and promotion of general speech activities. These activities are open to all students of the college at all times, whether they are in regular classes or not.

However, preference is given to those who are enrolled in drama, speech, or radio classes. The all-school activities connected with these courses include KRCC-FM, the college radio station.

The Colorado-Wyoming Debate Lodge includes all major colleges and universities in this area. Besides the CC player's shows, some of CC's activities have been school productions in drama, music recitals, the Variety Show, and the musical comedy. Although these shows and programs are not extra-curricular, they have personal and professional value, as well as providing actual experience in the various fields.

The cry of the wild goose is definitely a thing of the past, for now it has been replaced by the taste of the barbecued turkey. Chief Tyree's annual Pick and Pan picnic will be held on Sunday, May 17, at his home at 601 Mesa Road from 5:00 o'clock to 7:00 o'clock p.m. Heading the list in the food department will be the barbecued turkey prepared by Chief himself.

Invited to this event are members of the speech classes, the radio class, the play production class, and the cast of the musical comedy, "Good News".

Those invited to come must sign up at South Hall today, Friday, from 1:00 o'clock to 4:00 o'clock p.m. Chief must know the number coming. Check with Larry Richman, Bill Fritz, Dorothy Ramsey or Judy Clave at South Hall. Don't forget, you must be sure your name is in.

Blue Key to Replace Growlers, Red Lantern

The Growlers and Red Lantern were disbanded a month ago. In place of these two organizations the Blue Key will be initiated. This will take place within the next two weeks. At this time 25 members will be chosen. After these members are elected officers will be elected. No further information on this is available at this time.

What makes a Lucky taste better?

"IT'S TOASTED"
to taste better!

WHY do thousands of college smokers from coast to coast prefer Luckies to all other brands?

BECAUSE Luckies taste better.

WHY do Luckies taste better?

BECAUSE Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—brings fine tobacco to its peak of flavor... tones up this light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better—cleaner, fresher, smoother.

SO, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Enjoy the better-tasting cigarette—Lucky Strike.

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER cleaner, Fresher, Smoother!

Scotland to be Scene of Tourney; Silverburg to Play for Canada

Colorado College's Doug Silverburg left earlier this week for Scotland where he will compete with a six man Canadian team in the British amateur golf championship beginning May 24 at the historic Muirfield course outside Edinburgh.

Silverburg, a husky sophomore, who starred on CC's hockey team this winter, left Wednesday evening for his home in Red Deer, Alberta, from there he'll go to Edmonton, on to Montreal and then by plane to England for a few days' practice before the opening meet.

In pairings drawn earlier in the week, Silverburg drew a first round bye and was matched in the second round against W. S. Whitlaw of Prestwick, England.

A total of 305 names were drawn for the British Amateur, making it the second largest event in history. A large overseas contingent is entered, probably due to the 200th anniversary celebration of the royal and ancient club of St. Andrews, ruling body of British golf.

Miners Double Tigers Track Effort, 84-47

Colorado College's Ed Fieck hit his farthest broad jump of the season yesterday and came up with a pair of sprint victories, but his efforts weren't enough as Colorado Mines cashed in on depth to take an 84-47 dual meet win over the Tigers.

Fieck, who set a new Rocky Mountain Relays record in the broad jump a couple of weeks ago with 21' 10 3/4", reached his goal of 22 feet. He also filled in for CC's injured star, Bill Howell, by winning Howell's two pet events, the 100 and 220 dashes.

Fieck's 15 points made him high man for the day at Washburn Field. The Tigers won four other firsts, but that constituted most of their scoring. Mines picked up eight firsts and most of the seconds and thirds to pile up their wide margin.

Other CC winners were Wendell Osborne and Rule Olsen in the hurdles, Doug Little in the half-mile and Riley in the javelin.

Besides Fieck's triple, two Miners came up with a pair of wins each. They were Chapin who copped the mile and two-mile runs, Essary who won the shot put and discus throw.

Miners, Buffs Spoil CC Tennis Efforts

Colorado University and Colorado Mines teaming up to make last week a miserable one for CC's net squad as the Boulder crew triumphed 10-0 Friday while the Miners came through Saturday with a 7-2 win.

The Buff neters had little trouble in subduing the Tigers, winning the seven singles and three double matches without dropping a set.

In the singles competition Dan Luna eased by Monty Gatchell 6-1, 6-0; Jerry Starika had a little more trouble in downing CC's Del Hitch 6-4, 6-1; Bob Hunsberger defeated Dick Conroy 6-0, 6-1; Carl Hunter whipped Norm Spears 6-0, 6-1; while Dave Stewart conquered Jerry Schmidt 6-1, 6-4; and John Brown won out over Nick Ferris 6-2, 6-2.

CU continued their victorious sweep in the doubles matches as Starika and Hunsberger teamed up to defeat Gatchell and Hitch 6-1, -1; Luna and Hunter trounced Conroy and Spears -0, 6-0; and Bohike and Stewart prevailed over Lowry and Schmidt 6-4, 7-5.

Saturday, the Miners from Golden blasted the locals 7-2 with Jerry Schmidt challenging up CC's lone single win and Monty Gatchell and Norm Lange and John Owings for the Tigers' lone doubles win. In the other singles matches Bob Lange downed Monty Gatchell 6-3, 6-0; Sheldon Bark whip-

Tiger Nine Split With Orediggers

Colorado College bounced back from a 3-1 defeat at the hands of Colorado Mines to hammer out a 14-3 triumph over the Orediggers and gain an even split in the two schools' weekend doubleheader.

The Tigers slammed two Miner hurlers for 14 runs on 18 hits, five walks and two Miner errors to rack up the one sided win, their fifth of the year against a like number of defeats. Tiger flinger, Eldon Helm, held the hard hitting visitors to nine hits to pick up his third win of the campaign.

Bill McCrae, Bob Egly, Hal Cowan, and Tom Reichert each lashed three-base hits for the locals, while Ed Robson contributed a double to the extra-base attack. Robson, Cowan, and Wally Parus each had three hits as every man on the CC club hit safely at least once.

The contest was close until the fourth frame when the Tigers broke loose for four runs. CC scored four more markers in the ped Del Hitch 6-4, 6-3; Cecil Craft triumphed over Dick Conroy 6-3, 6-4; Doug Sears edged Norm Spears 6-4, 7-5; and John Owings defeated Tom Lowry 6-4, 6-2.

Bark and Craft teamed up for victory over Conroy and Hitch 6-1, 6-3; and Hoffman and Sears trounced Lowry and Schmidt 6-2, 6-1, to give Golden its doubles win.

CU Linksmen Score Second Over Tigers

Colorado University scored their second straight golf victory over Colorado College, this time by a 16½-10½ count at the Broadmoor Hotel golf course.

fifth with a five-run inning coming in the seventh.

In Friday's game lefty Bob Rosell hurled a three-hitter, but the Miners triumphed 3-1, on two costly CC errors. The home-owners put together a double and a single with a pair of Tiger miscues to push across their three runs in the first inning. The Tigers tallied their lone counter in the initial frame of a double by Jeff Simus but were able to collect only three base knocks after that off Miner Bill Yopp.

At 4:15 Tuesday afternoon, Coach William Blakely will bring his hot faculty nine to Stewart Field to oppose the senior softball team. In a line-up released today it was made known that "fastball" Krutke will handle mound chores and will be caught by Kenneth Curran, hotshot from the economics league.

The infield will consist of Harvey Carter at first, Knapp and Pearl at the keystone positions, and the prominent slugger from the physics department, P. E. Boucher, at third. The fast outfield with plenty of strength at the plate will consist of brothers Malone, Jordan, and Jones.

After rain halted last Monday's championship softball playoffs in the middle of the first inning a new playoff has been scheduled for this Monday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock at Stewart Field. Phi Deltas and Independents both ended the season in a draw. Each team won four and lost one.

If the Phi Deltas win the playoff they will capture second place in the Intramural standings for the year and a first place in a draw. If the Independents win the playoff, the two clubs will end in a tie for second place in Intramurals and first place in baseball. The Indies previously beat the Phis 4-3 in a tight contest.

GC Remedial Reading Groups Show Excellent Results for Semester

Results of the remedial reading groups at GC during the second semester are very encouraging, though final test results are not yet in. Informal tests have shown good improvement.

Improvement in speed of reading is consistently evident, accompanied by reading comprehension which is either improved or at least no lower than was shown with much slower rate of reading.

One male student who has met with the reading group twice a week for 40 minutes at a time, has increased his speed from a junior high school level to a superior college level, and there is also improvement in comprehension. This was done in two months' work. Another male student and a girl, meeting on the same schedule, improved from fifth and sixth grade levels to a good college level.

Two girls, meeting only once a week for 50 minutes each time, have increased from grade school level to superior college level, and another girl in this group raised her rate from average high school level to superior college level.

Every student who has met regularly with his group all semester has shown improvement.

Another fellow, of good basic ability but studying far too many hours with inadequate results, has improved his reading and study habits so that he has greatly reduced the amount of time he needs for study; also at the same time his grades on tests are improved in courses involving much reading.

Probably one of the greatest results coming from these groups, in the opinion of Miss Grant, who conducts them, though these results cannot be measured in the

Sorority Formals Set for May 14-15

Kappa Alpha Theta and Kappa Kappa Gamma will hold their bi-annual Kite and Key formal dance this Saturday night, May 15, in the Crystal Room of the Alamo Hotel. Music for the dancing will be provided by Stan Keller and his orchestra from 9:30 to 12:30. Each of the respective sororities will present their dates with favors at the beginning of the dance. Chaperoning the affair will be Dr. and Mrs. Henry Carter and Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Curran.

Also holding their annual formals together this weekend are the Delta Gammas and the Gamma Phi Betas. The dance will be held this Friday night, May 14, in the Crystal Room of the Alamo Hotel from 8:30 to 12:00 p.m. Bob Mc-way that speed and comprehension are, is the increased feeling of self-confidence which the group members show regarding their reading, and an improved attitude toward it. The work has been voluntary on the part of the students in this program, and each student who went into it and has stayed with it, has really wanted to improve his reading ability. For those students improvement has been great.

May we nominate the White House balcony as the Truman Administration's greatest contribution? It is a concrete achievement which will last indefinitely and is the only sound platform Truman ever stood on.

Grew and his orchestra will be on hand to furnish the music for dancing. These two groups will provide their dates with favors. Dr. and Mrs. Gray and Mr. and Mrs. Seay along with both housemothers will be chaperones for the evening.

Foreground: Boeing RB-47E, world's fastest day-or-night long range reconnaissance plane. Background: Standard B-47E six-jet bomber.

What do you want most in an engineering career?

Is it room to grow? Then join a company that's growing. Boeing, for example, has grown continuously throughout its 37-year history of design, production and research leadership. There's always room up ahead—and Boeing promotes from within. Regular merit reviews are held to give you steady recognition.

Do you want long-range career stability? Boeing today employs more engineers than even at the peak of World War II. Here you'd work on such projects as pilotless aircraft, research on supersonic flight and nuclear power for airplanes, on America's first jet transport, and the world's outstanding jet bombers.

Do you want variety of opportunity? Aviation is unique in this respect. It offers you unmatched variety and breadth of application, from applied research to production design, all going on at once. Boeing is constantly alert to new materials and new techniques, and approaches them without limitations. In addition, Boeing's huge subcontracting program—requiring engineering co-ordination—offers you contacts with a cross section of American industry.

Boeing engineering activity is concentrated at Seattle, Washington, and Wichita, Kansas—communities with a wide range of recreational opportunities as well as schools of higher learning. The company will arrange a reduced work week to permit time for graduate study and will also reimburse tuition upon successful completion of each quarter's work.

There are openings in all branches of engineering (mechanical, civil, electrical, aeronautical and related fields) for DESIGN, PRODUCTION and RESEARCH. Also for physicists and mathematicians with advanced degrees.

Veterans Administration Tells GI's How to Get Checks on Time

Korean GI Bill veteran-students who go home for the summer vacation will get their final GI allowance checks on time if they follow two steps issued by Veterans Administration. First, VA said, they should notify their VA Regional Office immediately if they're planning to change their address at the close of the school year; and,

Second, they should be sure to sign their final monthly certifications of training—a form required by law—before they leave school for the summer.

By letting the VA know of any change of address, veterans will eliminate one major cause of delay.

The reason is that the post office is not permitted to forward government checks from one address to another. If a check is mailed to an address at which a veteran no longer lives, it must go back to the Treasury Department, where it remains until VA finds out where to send it.

GI allowances for the month of May generally will not be delivered until some time in June, after most veteran-trainees who have been living on the campus have returned home for the summer. If they have notified VA of their change of address, they should have no difficulty getting prompt delivery of their checks.

The final monthly certification of training, signed both by the veteran and an official of his school, must be received by VA before a check may be issued.

Usually, the certification must be completed after the end of each month of training. Recently, however, VA put in effect a new speed-up policy, allowing vacation-bound veterans to fill out the forms on their last day of school attendance.

This policy applies to vacation periods and other breaks in school which extend past the end of the month, and which ordinarily would cause delays in receipt of GI checks.

If it were not for this new system, VA explained, a veteran who goes home after school would not be around to sign his certification. Hence, he'd have to wait until he returned to school to sign it and the result would be a late check.

By signing before he leaves, he is assured the certification will reach VA on time, eliminating the possibility of a late allowance check.

VA said the same principle will apply in the case of a veteran who finishes his final examinations, and who leaves school before the official end of the term. He, too, will be permitted to fill out the certification on his last day in school.

Hirst, Hendricks Edit Publications For 1954-55 Year

John Hirst and Sue Hendricks have been chosen as editors of the Nugget and the Kinnikinnik, respectively for the coming year, 1954-1955. It has also been announced that Ed Beatty has been selected as business manager and Marion Shaw as business manager of the Kinnikinnik for the same year.

The positions were filled on the basis of written applications submitted to the Publications Board. In addition to having worked on the publications for the past year the applicants were required to have a minimum grade average of 2.0.

The new editors and business managers will take office immediately and will be responsible for next year's issues of the Nugget and Kinnikinnik.

Mrs. J. Hartley Murray Named Alumni Trustee To College Board

Mrs. J. Hartley Murray of Colorado Springs has been named alumni trustee to the Colorado College Board of Trustees.

She will serve the remainder of the six-year term previously held by Robert Melvaine of Denver, alumni trustee who recently resigned. The term expires in 1957.

Mrs. Murray is the third woman in the 80-year history of the college to be named to the board.

She is the wife of J. Hartley Murray, class of 1933 at CC, a prominent Colorado Springs attorney. Murray, now a member of the School Board, is a past president of the CC National Alumni Association.

The new trustee received her bachelor's degree from CC in 1932 and a master of science degree from N.Y.U. in 1936. She is the daughter of W. W. Postlethwaite, treasurer emeritus and now curator of the college museum.

Mrs. Murray is currently president of the board of the Women's Educational Society, on the board of the National Association of University Women, and on the appeals review board of the local Chamber of Commerce.

She is Nutrition Camp chairman and on the board of the Junior League, and is chapter council advisor and chairman of the house board of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Mrs. Murray was selected by the executive council of the National Alumni Association and then officially named to the trustee post by the board. She will begin her term at the May 21st meeting of the board.

The Colorado College Book Store is now taking orders for autographed copies of Amanda Ellis' new book, "The Colorado Springs Story," which will be published some time early in June. The cost is $1 per volume.

KRCC-FM Was Turned Over To High School Students May 20

Thursday evening, May 20, the facilities of KRCC-FM, the college radio station was turned over to the students of Colorado Springs High School. Those students who have expressed the desire to learn something about radio had regularly scheduled programs. Broadcasting started at 6:00 p.m. The schedule and program announcers were:

6:00—CSHS News: Carol Bowles.
6:15—The Les Brown Show.
6:30—CSHS Sports: Ralph Rieves.
6:45—National Guard.
7:00—Discussion: Carol Beedy.
Carol Lewis, Fred Heckman
7:15—Broadway in Review.
7:30—Interview: Carol Bowles, Lynn Brown
7:45—Radio Netherlands.
8:00—Monologue: Lynn Brown.
8:15—Story: Jim Lavelley.
8:30—Music Guild: Robin Reid, Carol Beedy, Carol Bowles
10:00—Jazz at South Hall:

Fred Heckman was the chief engineer for the evening. Staff announcers were Kathy Borst, Jim Lavelley, Carol Bowles, Fred Heckman, and Henry Fox.

These activities of the Colorado Springs High School at KRCC-FM brought the station's broadcasting for the year to a close, until the beginning of the summer session.

The college-owned FM station has had a very successful year, according to radio professor, Woodson (Chief) Tyree. The broadcast time of the station has been increased to four hours nightly, the extra hour being allocated to five "late shows". In addition to this expansion, the station has continued its weekly broadcasting of the Colorado College chapel programs, and has also continued the broadcasting of the finest in classical music and opera, through courtesy of Walter Amant's "Melody Corner".

Other activities have been the weekly Colorado College hour on KVOL, on Saturday afternoon, on which college news, programs, discussions, sports programs and college talent have been featured; the broadcasting of all high school league hockey games; a phone check which covered over 500 people, a booth at the annual Show of Progress at which 1,000 more people were questioned, and finally, the recording of the annual Colorado College Song Fest.

For excellence in these and many other KRCC-FM activities, five students in Chief Tyree's advanced classes received Pie and Pan awards in radio. They are: Larry Richman, station manager; Bill Prescott, record librarian; Bob Teweles, assistant station manager; Joanne Zerbe, classical music director; and Peter Kosick, sports announcer.

House Cuts Education Program to $9,000,000

The House of Representatives has voted to accept in full the total Smith-Munro dollar grant program recommending reduction of the International Educational Educational Service programs of the Department of State to $9,000,000, a cut of 80 per cent.

The practical effect of this cut would be the elimination of the total Smith-Munro dollar grant program in 46 countries. Grants under this program vary from grants covering full expenses to smaller grants supplementing private fellowships and Fulbright Travel grants. Part of the Fulbright Travel grant would be continued by all leader programs in 61 countries would be eliminated.

Senior Class Aids KRCC in Gaining 250 Watt Station

The senior class at Colorado College and an interested resident of Colorado Springs have made possible an increase in the power of KRCC from 10 watts to 250 watts.

The $1400 unit is ready to be installed when and if the Federal Communications Commission gives its approval. KRCC will have a power increase in its FM station which will put Pueblo in its range and offer possibilities that Denver might also pick up KRCC.

The senior class contributed the money they collected each year to purchase something constructive for the school.

Bud Edmonds, a former CC student now working at KCSM in Manitou Springs, was instrumental in helping to secure this unit. He has also done a great deal to help KRCC on its slow but steady rise from a public address system to a full-grown radio station.

A change in FCC regulations now permits all persons holding a third class operator's license to operate some commercial stations.

John Esden Trophy To Be Awarded In Chapel May 25

The second annual presentation of the "John Esden Memorial Trophy" will be awarded in chapel on May 25. All the men's organizations on the campus, the five fraternities and Crown and Lance are eligible to compete for this award. The winning organization will have custody of the trophy for the year 1954-1955 and will have its name engraved in the space provided.

The award shall be based on all-around leadership, scholastic standing, athletics and representation in important college activities such as publications, offices, etc. General Gill will present the trophy to the winning organization.

The trophy was established last year as a result of a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Duque, of Los Angeles, in honor of John Esden, a former student of Colorado College who died shortly after his graduation of bulbar polio in Council Bluffs, Ia.

Buchtel Scholarship Proposed by Freshmen

A scholarship in memory of Bob Buchtel was recently proposed at the freshman class meeting. A plan was suggested to collect money from class members in their respective organizations. The idea is being passed on to the scholarship committee under the direction of Dean Adams. The project is too big to be carried on year after year by the class of 1957 so they are asking help from the scholarship committee in naming a scholarship in the memory of Bob Buchtel.

ROSES AND LEMONS

In this last issue, THE TIGER would like to take this opportunity to applaud a number of worthwhile and noteworthy events and accomplishments which occurred at CC this year.

First of all, outstanding credit and praise is due Mr. Juhas and the members of the band for one of the finest jobs of fostering school spirit in several years. Along with this the cheerleaders certainly did their just part. But all is not plaudits, for mention should be made of the very poor student spirit demonstrated in every sport except hockey either by lack of participation or by apathetic attitude by the participants.

To Dean Burkle and the Religious Council go great praise for initiating Religion in Life Week at CC. The amount and kind of attendance at the various meetings indicated that the students really want and need something of this sort.

Getting of a new unit which will boost KRCC's power to 250 watts, instead of the 10 watts now being used, is among the greatest accomplishments of the year. This unit is nearly set up and will be ready to go when and if FCC gives its okay.

We welcome the Blue Key, although few of us know anything about it. The amount of confusion and lack of information now centering around the Blue Key would seem to stem from the fact that it was formed from two defunct organizations to start with—the Red Lantern and the Growlers. Maybe the leaders of the now disbanded Red Lantern and Growlers can salvage enough to make a success of the Blue Key. Here's hoping, but it is a shame to disband such long-standing traditional organizations simply for a lack of interest in them.

Last, but not least, much credit goes to THE TIGER staff who have borne with me the rigors of each week's deadline. For without them, CC would have had no paper. Among those who have remained with me the entire year, without any previous recognition are Judy Avery, Ted Lott, Jane Addenbrooke, Neil Stillinger, Neil Lewis, and Jim Jacobs.

A LETTER FROM KIM HI KUN

Kim Hi Kun is a Korean War child whom CC is sponsoring through the Campus Chest Fund. Following is the letter which we received from him:

February, 1954

Dear Foster Parent of Colorado College:

How are you foster parent? Our school began again, and I go to school every day.

We had another big fire in Pusan; Foster Parents' Plan was burnt down too. The automobile of Foster Parents' Plan burnt, too. The very next morning I went there. Do you know what I found there? The burnt car with headlight still lighted.

My house placed on hill side, so I can see many ships stay in pier, from my house. Can you see ships from your house?

I did not go to school on New Year's Day, and played at home.

Well, I close this letter.

Goodbye!

Sincerely yours,

Kim Hi Kun (K-423)

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

The period beginning 8:00 a. m. Wednesday, May 26, and ending Tuesday, June 1, at 12:00 m. will be used for final examinations.

Note—No examinations are scheduled on Wednesday morning, May 26, and only a limited number of examinations are scheduled on Wednesday afternoon. The faculty may use these periods to give examinations to classes which do not fit into the examination schedule. Care must be taken to avoid conflicts. Only a limited number of examinations are scheduled for Friday afternoon, May 28, and no examinations are scheduled for Tuesday morning, June 1. These two half days may be used as the time for the faculty to give non-scheduled examinations.

Faculty are reminded that a college rule requires the closing of each course by a written examination unless the Committee on Instruction votes a waiver. Furthermore, each course—examination which has been scheduled must be given at the time and place indicated unless a change is allowed by this office.

DATE SENIOR GRADES DUE

Reports of senior grades must be made to the Registrar by noon, Wednesday, June 2. They should be turned in as much sooner than that as is possible.

DATE SEMESTER GRADES DUE

Semester grades, for students other than graduating seniors, must be reported to the Registrar on or before noon, Saturday, June 5.

DATE OF FINAL MEETING OF COMMITTEE ON INSTRUCTION

The meeting of the Committee on Instruction to consider the granting of honors will be held in the Registrar's office, 10:00 a. m., Thursday, June 3.

DATE OF FINAL FACULTY MEETING

The final faculty meeting to vote degrees and honors is scheduled for 2:00 p. m., Thursday, June 3, in South Hall.

Sprints Fights
Hailed as Okay

By COLLETTE HEISTER

Once again CC's spring fights took on all the thrills, horrors, and excitement of a real civil war. Spring fever and all its "charms" was too much for the Hagerman men even when they unofficially turned the hose on all. Shortly after, the Kappa Sig's became impatient, and being without a legal sister sorority, began spreading the fever.

Oh! it was glorious, with the gals really holding their own, that is until all the fraternities decided to act in defense of their fair sex. Talk about school spirit! . . . Had there been no "talk" on this campus . . . it's "action". What's a little mud between friends . . . or enemies?

Don't let anyone tell you that the 'ole swimmin' hole ain't still around—just ask any CC girl. It was a bit hard to take at first, but the gals caught on fast, so fast that a few had to be "hugged".

"Just like being at home," declared one freshee as she merrily scrubbed a fraternity's dinner dishes. Scrubbing floors, serving meals, washing the gals' cars were just a few of the duties in store for our pretty maidens.

What was all this fighting about? Did you ever think that an empty milk can, horse collar, or stuffed owl could make a whole lot get into the fighting spirit? Well, it does here, with the sororities, fraternities, and independent organizations each getting in their punch for who's going to end up with the traditional trophy.

From my humble point of view and without such an honorable experience, I think I speak for the entire student body when I say that it was a week which will long be remembered. In spite of the messy hair, four changes of clothes a day, bruised chins, angry remarks, and the feeling of being "Wanted" (in a mud hole), I think we all needed this change and in the end EVERYBODY WON.

A closer union between school organizations was built, along with more energy for our coming exams.

ASCC Notes
Appointment Time
Scheduled in ASCC

By BETTY TROUTMAN

Appointments and more appointments are scheduled for next Monday in ASCC.

To take the load of work off one person's shoulders, a Homecoming Chairman and Enthusiasm Chairman are to be separate posts next year, along with assistants with each position. So, whether your interest is homecoming with all the details or pep rallies for football games, get your application in to Dick Clothier by Monday at 4:00. Applications for prosecutor and assistant prosecutor for ASCC trials are also due by Monday at 4:00.

October 2 and 3 are the dates set for next year's Leadership Conference. A planning committee is being set up and anyone interested in working on this committee should see Dick Clothier, chairman. It is not necessary that applicants attended this year's two new organizations on campus—Alpha Phi, the new sorority, and Blue Key, the honorary men's conference.

Ron Timroth Rejects $100,000 For Molybdenum Discovery

A Colorado College student knows the meaning of Horace Greeley's sage advice to "Go West Young Men." Ron Timroth, a senior at CC, not only went west, but found out that extra-curricular activity can return a satisfying reward. A former Windy City boy who is a geology major, Timroth discovered a molybdenum deposit north of West Creek for which he has turned down an offer of $100,000.

A slender, 22-year-old, known around sport circles for his management of the CC basketball team, the rock-hound stumbled onto the stake two and a half miles above West Creek by accident.

"I was really looking for uranium," Timroth admitted last week. He thought he had it, too. Doing some prospecting on a weekend in November, 1952, he got a "reading" from some blackish rock close to the state highway which heads into Deekers. When he blasted the ore body, after a hurried trip to Circle Creek for powder, he found "several large black crystals—something like graphite."

It turned out to be a sulphide of molybdenum which he identified as molybdenite.

"I guess I really became unhooked. When the analysis report came back from the Colorado School of Mines," he reported.

A laboratory assistant to Dr. Richard Pearl, the ex-Chicagoan quickly figured that the "five or six grab samples assaying 8 per cent of the molybdenite" was worth $40 a ton.

"That's not bad," he claims today. "They handle $2 and $3 gold ore."

After the discovery two and a half years ago, Timroth ran into the hard work part of making a find. A location certificate good for 60 days was first filed at Castle Rock for time to sink a four-foot shaft on his claim. The shaft had to be sunk 10 feet deep thru hard rock as a step in filing claim to an area 600 by 1,500 feet. He is now doing the yearly improvement work which is part of the $100 annual labor required over a five-year period leading to a patented claim.

Today Timroth holds a group of three claims in the area covering the grade C ore. This rating of "C" places the find next to the best grade since its location near a highway makes it readily accessible.

The CC student's second chance to become unhooked turned up about four months after his find. That was the time a representative of a large mining firm made the offer of $100,000 for the "moly" claim.

Why does a guy reject a cash offer of $100,000? One reason was taxes. Timroth did a little mental calculating and came up with the answer that after taxes he'd have left only $12,000.

Another reason is the lure of making a find and owning it yourself.

"It's just like having a piggy bank and a guy comes along with a hammer to break it open, only you don't know how much you've got it," he said.

Since he has the bug, Timroth plans to head out for Circle, Alaska this summer to find that uranium mine to raise the money to work the moly," he explained.

Timroth who graduates this spring has been putting in his extra-curricular time devising a portable diamond drill for the Alaska trip—beside conducting one-man field trips looking for other ore bodies. The drill is hooked up to a four-wheel drive Jeep and can sink a 50-foot hole.

How did he first get his interest in mining?

It all started with an Easter

Capt. Devlin Chosen to Hold ROTC Inspections

Captain Thomas H. Devlin, instructor in the ROTC department of Colorado College, was chosen as one of the inspection officers at the annual federal inspection of the Ripon College ROTC department.

Captain Devlin, along with Col. Harry E. Burcher, PMS&T of the University of Colorado, were designated by the Fifth Army Headquarters in Chicago to conduct the inspection at Ripon College in Wisconsin which was held May 11.

egg hunt at his real home town of Des Plaines, Ill., a suburb of Chicago. The pastor of his church had brought some gold nuggets back from a visit to Knott's Berry farm, from a visit to Knott's Berry Farm, Calif. The nuggets were taped onto the eggs by the enterprising pastor and Timroth found one of the "golden eggs."

This was the beginning for the soft-voiced geologist—and the end will probably make another news story and be the finding of the uranium mine to finance the development of the moly mill.

Geology Student Discovers Petrified Remains of Mosasaur

Charles W. Warren of 817 N. Cascade, a freshman geology student at Colorado College, has uncovered the petrified remains of a Mosasaur in the Upper Cretaceous Pierre shale about two miles west of the campus.

Warren, who spends most of his spare time hunting for fossils, found the 60,000,000 year old animal late in March during the college's spring vacation. When alive the animal was probably about 20 feet long, with four large paddles for locomotion, and an elongate, streamlined body with a large head and slender tail, according to Dr. W. A. Fischer, geology professor at the college.

Erosion has destroyed the front half of the body; however, to date one complete paddle and a number of vertebrae have been removed. Excavation work is being supervised by Larry Kittleman, a CC geology graduate of last year.

Mosasaurus have been found in North and South America, Europe and New Zealand. They are restricted to marine deposits of Upper Cretaceous age. "To my knowledge this

Sorority Adopts Korean War Child

Lee Chong Jae is an eleven-year-old Korean child, one among many in the camps crowded with refugees from the Korean war, but a lucky one—for she has been adopted by the Delta Zeta Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma at CC.

Lee Chong Jae is an eleven-year-old student in her second year of school, and helpful in caring for younger children. She prides herself that she is a good and honest Christian never failing to attend church every Sunday.

Her mother, nearly sixty and now a widow, can no longer support the family. An elder sister, Lee Sook Jae, does needlework and helps with the housework; and a brother, Lee Sun Jae, is in the ROK army.

The adoption was arranged through the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children, Inc.

is the first report of a fairly complete vertebrate animal from this formation in the vicinity of Colorado Springs."

This animal was a swimming around Colorado Springs about 60 million years ago when this region was completely submerged by a shallow sea. With death the body settled to the sea floor and was preserved by the deposition of muds.

TODAY'S QUIZ WHAT MAKES A LUCKY TASTE BETTER?

"IT'S TOASTED"
to taste better!

A Lucky tastes better for two important reasons: 1. Lucky Strike means fine tobacco...light, mild, good-tasting tobacco.

2. That tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' fine tobacco...makes it taste even better—cleaner, fresher, smoother.

That's why a Lucky tastes better. And naturally, better taste is why thousands of college students prefer Luckies to all other brands.

So, enjoy better taste. Be Happy—Go Lucky!

RICHARD VAN SAUN AIDS FREE PRESS IN SEEKING EFFECTS OF COMIC BOOKS

With the nation giving its first look at comic books as a potential cause of the rise of juvenile delinquency and crime, the Free Press launched a local survey with the help of Mr. Richard van Saun, assistant professor of psychology at CC. Van Saun has launched an attack on the problem to open up for public discussion the question of how comic books affect the mental health of children. After studying a comprehensive report on the subject by Dr. Fredric Wertham of New York, he made a spot check of local magazine racks. His findings confirmed those presented by Dr. Wertham in his book, "Seduction of the Innocent."

Van Saun then assigned to his Applied Psychology class a more detailed survey of the comic book offerings of Colorado Springs. The class was assigned the task of reviewing comic books. The result was disgust written across nearly all of the papers presented by the students. Concern for children was only part of the story. Some of the students were concerned over the possible effect such trash would have on adults.

One girl, whose book was entitled, "Startling Terror Tales", reported 25 pages in which 10 people were "shot, strangled, or pushed off a cliff while 11 others were on the receiving end of a gun handle, kick in the jaw, fist in the stomach, grenade in the face, whip across the back and various other torments." She said here "first thoughts" were on the effects the comic book might have on children, but a second reading appalled her "by an even darker picture," the fact that some of the contents were definitely slanted for adult consumption and was apparent in advertisement and vocabulary.

She concluded that an adult with a low mentality would be liable to become a "real menace to society" by such reading.

'Colorado Springs Story' By Amando M. Ellis Published in June

Early in June, "The Colorado Springs Story," by Amanda M. Ellis, associate professor of English, is to be published. The book, which has had good preliminary reviews is an account of life in Colorado Springs from the days when General Pike discovered the famous peak until today.

Anne Parrish, author of "Perennial Bachelor" and other novels, says it shows "enormous research; I found it of absorbing interest." Miss Parrish's family came to Colorado Springs in the early seventies and the successful novelist lived here some years.

Miss Dorothy Smith, curator of the Pioneer Museum, finds it "accurate, highly entertaining, and informative"; while Dr. Frank Mott, Pulitzer Prize winner, says, "It is one of the most picturesque and vivid local histories I have ever read." In mid-June will appear "Bonanza Towns: Leadville and Cripple Creek". Both books are illustrated.

A reviewer of "Jungle Comics" stated that comic books have been attacked as advancing racial prejudice, because they contain two groups of people, supermen and "sub-humans" — foreign-born, Negro, Oriental, in a never-ending stream of prejudice images.

The student who reviewed "Mystic" reported that on the cover "tiny print" was found a seal, "Conforms to the comics code."

"I would like to know what the 'comics code' is!" the student asserted, pointing out that "adults often do not realize what is inside the covers of these books" because they see such seals and assume comics are safe reading for their children.

A reviewer of "Strange Mysteries" noted a similar seal labeling the comic "superior" on the cover. "If this, however, is the best comic book you can get, it is my opinion that comic books should be banned altogether."

"I can't help but wonder what type of an individual writes these books," one student said. "He has certainly reached rock bottom in the field of literature. This book is entitled 'Nightmare,' and that is exactly what it is designed to give young children. (He didn't recommend it for adults, either!)"

Titles Conferred on CC Bridge Champions

Richard Hayes, Victor Kao, Cynthia Mitchell, and Patsy Reeves are the 1954 Contract Bridge champions at Colorado College. The titles were conferred by Louis D. Day, Jr., director of Houston Hall and chairman of the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee. Teams representing Purdue University and Dartmouth College won the national championship.

More than five thousand students at 173 colleges and universities in 44 states and the District of Columbia took part in the tournament. At Colorado College, a total of 18 students participated in the contest. The tournament was directed by Vicki Hann.

Certificates were awarded each of the four campus winners at CC on May 18 at Lennox Student Union, where a plaque bearing the names of the winners will be placed.

An explanation of each of the 16 hands played by the contestants is on file at Lennox office for any interested bridge fan to scan.

President Gill Honored by ROTC Unit With Military Review and Ceremony

President William H. Gill was honored by Colorado College's ROTC unit on Thursday, May 20, at Washburn Field with a military review and ceremony. President Gill presented the President's Streamer to A Company as the best drilled company. Cadet Captain Neil J. Lewis, commanding A Company, and Cadet Corporal, guidon bearer, accepted the streamer on behalf of A Company.

President Gill then presented awards to members of the ROTC rifle team, a gold medal went to Sgt. Thomas Clark, selected as the outstanding rifleman of the 1953-54 team. Silver medals were awarded to Lt. Col. Leo E. Oyler, Captain John P. Wolff, Master Sergeant Robert M. Thompson, and George A. Miller. Bronze medals were won by Sergeant Eugene F. Anderson, Herbert Rhees, Rhine Kilian, Phillip W. Garey and Vance Sonnenberg.

Junior Chamber of Commerce President Reed Whetstone presented the Junior Chamber of Commerce General Excellence awards based on military proficiency, grade point average and campus leadership to William C. Kemp, gold award, and Charles W. Owens, silver award. Both awards are made to Military Science I students.

Commander Robert Copsey of American Legion Post No. 5 presented scholarship medals to Howard C. Shaw, advanced ROTC student, Paul C. Shields, Military Science II, and David W. Osborne, Military Science I student.

Best drilled cadet awards presented by committeemen of VFW Post No. 101 were won by Cadet Sergeant John Dunbar, first place, second year cadet, James Pierce, first place, first year cadet, Sergeant Kirby Anderson, second place, second year cadet, and Ronald V. Miller, second place, first year cadet.

Lt. Col. Herbert B. Heyer awarded Sergeant Kirby Anderson the Professor of Military Science and Tactics medal as the outstanding non-commissioned officer of the Corps of Cadets.

Lt. Col. Vernon C. Mite of the Colorado Reserve Officers Association, presented Cadet Lt. Col. Leo E. Oyler a citation and membership to the Reserve Officers Association.

Upon completion of the awards ceremony, President Gill reviewed the ROTC unit. Miss Jean Bonnetter, 1954 Honorary Cadet Colonel elect, took position on the reviewing stand with the president and other distinguished guests.

Publicity Department Edits Two Newsletters

The college publicity department, in conjunction with the department offices, has two new informal publications on the presses.

One, a "Parents' Newsletter", is probably in the mail by now to all parents of students. It's a one-page affair, dealing with the highlights of campus news the past six months.

The other, a "CC Family Newsletter", deals with the academic, business, and social news and vital statistics of all employees of the college. The letter will be out soon and will feature those items which are of interest to the campus but not of enough importance to merit publication in daily newspapers.

Many students, faculty members, parents and friends of the ROTC unit attended the President's Day review which marked the final ROTC formation for the 1953-54 academic year.

An Associated College press release disclosed that it was now possible for six-year olds to attend the University of Southern California. The young student would be able to take a course in rhythm, piano and orchestra.

Blue Key to Organize By End of Semester

The Blue Key Honorary Fraternity will come into existence on the Colorado College campus before the end of this semester. At the same time the Red Lantern and Growlers will cease to exist.

At present nine petitioning seniors will form the Blue Key but they will tap new pledges before the end of this semester. The organization will be composed of not more than 30 members and in addition to carrying on functions of their own will assume some of the duties formerly done by the Red Lantern and Growlers.

Each spring the Blue Key will tap new pledges to replace the graduating seniors. In order to be eligible to be a member of this Honorary Fraternity a person must be a campus leader and have engaged in several extracurricular activities. He must also have a grade average above that of all the men's average for the preceding semester or an overall grade average above the all men's average.

Is There a Right Age for College?

"Is there a right age for college?" "What can be done for the bright student who's unchallenged in high school?" "Can students who haven't finished high school keep up academically and socially with those who have?"

There are just a few of the questions considered in the June MADemoiselle article on the Ford Foundation scholars — unusually intelligent 14 to 17-year-olds who have leapfrogged the last year or two of high school and landed in college. They hold scholarships from the Ford Foundation's Fund for the Advancement of Education; all have been rigidly screened for emotional and social maturity as well as advanced intellectual ability.

MADemoiselle's report is the first comprehensive study by a national magazine on how this program has progressed since its inception in 1951, and how the "Fords" themselves have gotten along.

In 1953, 38,500 Americans were killed in traffic accidents.

Tigers Third in Track Triangular

Colorado College came out on the losing end of a three-way track meet with Mines and Colorado State last Saturday at Golden. State took first easily with 78 5/6 points, Mines finished second with 48 1/6 points and CC was third with 35.

The Tigers could win only two first as Bill Howell won the 100 yard dash and Bill Riley took first in the javelin. Fred Fieck was high point man for CC with 8 points accumulated with a second in the 100 yard dash, a second in the broad jump and a third in the 220 yard dash. It was the first time this year that Fieck has been beaten in the broad jump. Other second place winners for the Tigers were Doug Little in the 880 and Rule Olson in the high hurdles.

The CC cindermen left Wednesday for Pocahontas, Idaho for the RMC meet to be held today and tomorrow. Idaho State College is heavily favored to repeat their victory of last year but CC has a good chance to place high if all injuries are healed. Three of the Tigers' outstanding men suffered pulled muscles in last week's meet; they were Bill Howell, Fred Fieck, and John Vilmont.

Those competing today and tomorrow are: Bill Howell, Fred Fieck, Kip Herrell, Bill Clark, Doug Little, Bill Kemp, Rule Olson, Wendell Osborne, and Bill Riley. Mid Gamell, the team manager, also made the trip.

Results of last week's meet are:
2 mile run—Rond, CS; 2. Effenberger, M; 3. Fremboth, CS; 4. Goshorn, M; 10:34.8.
120 high hurdles—1. Knox, CS; 2. Osborne, CC; 3. Osborne, CC; 4. Tindall, M; 15:7.
220 low hurdles—1. Slivers, CS; 2. O'Shea, M; 3. Knox, CS; 4. Olson, CC; 12:5.3.

100 yard dash—1. Colorado State (Smith, Hayes, Adams, Sauerbreit); 2. Colorado College; 3. Colorado Mines; 3:33.3.
Pole vault—1. Childers, CS and Moore, CS (tie); 2. Gates, M., and Abbott, CS (tie); 12 feet.

High jump—1. Tindall, M. Roney, M., and Dishi, CS (three-way tie for first); 4 feet, 11 inches.
Broad jump—1. Moore, CS; 2. Fieck, CS; 3. Cheney, M.; 4. Coale, M. 21 feet, 2 1/2 inches.

Discus—1. McCandless, CS; 2. Prethe, CS; 3. Esary, M.; 4. Osborne, M. 130 feet.
Javelin—1. Riley, CC; 2. Fehr, M.; 3. Osborne, M.; 4. Olson, CC. 131 feet.

Intramural Standings

The Intramural trophy for the past year will once again return to the Phi Gamma Delta house for the eighth straight time. The Phi Gammas were quite always in front of total point standings but a very close race was staged by the Phi Deltas and the Independents for second place.

Last Monday afternoon the Phi and Delta met to decide the softball championship and second place in total point standings. The Phi Deltas took an early lead and led through most of the game. In the last innings of play the Independents poured on the heat and emerged with a 9-6 victory, the championship and second place in Intramurals for the year. The Phi Deltas settled for a third in the year's activities.

CC to Host National Hockey Tournament For 8th Straight Time

The Broadmoor Ice Palace will hold the National Collegiate Hockey Tournament next year for the eighth straight time. The executive committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association has approved Colorado Springs as the site and Colorado College as the host school. The dates have been set as March 17-19, a week later than usual.

The committee also has approved the National Boxing Tournament at Idaho State College March 31-April 2, gymnastics at U.C.L.A. Mar. 25-26. The dates and sites remain to be approved by the main body of the N.C.A.A. but that is usually a mere formality.

Last week the executive committee took disciplinary action on seven schools. North Carolina State was put on one year probation and banned from the National Collegiate Basketball Championships for next year. Kansas State College was put on one year probation but weren't otherwise restricted. Severely reprimanded were Seton Hall University and four members of the Border Conference: Hardin Simmons, Texas Tech, West Texas State, and the University of Arizona.

Most of the punishment was for the schools holding tryouts for prospective athletes.

State Wins Fifth Straight RMC Title

Colorado State romped to their fifth straight Rocky Mountain Conference baseball title as the Bears swept a double-header from Colorado College last weekend at Greeley.

Bob Gill hurled a five-hitter in the opener to pace his teammates to an 8-5 win. The Tigers were even more helpless in the nightcap in losing to the Bears 15-1. The Bears collected only eight hits off the combined offerings of four CC hurlers but were helped out more by 15 walks.

Colorado State sent ten men to the plate in the third inning of the first game for six runs and more than enough for the win. After that Tiger pitcher Bob Rosell settled down to hold the local crew scoreless but the damage was done. CC notched one run in the second, three in the fifth and one in the sixth.

The Bears wrapped up the crown the next day with a convincing 15-1 trouncing of the visiting Tigers. Wildness contributed (Continued on Page Eight)

Texans Win Second Tourney Title; CC Gains Fifth Without Silverberg

North Texas State walked off with the eighth annual Colorado College Invitational golf meet, held at the Broadmoor links last weekend. Colorado College's efforts placed them fifth in the meet of some of the top collegian teams in the area.

The Texans compiled a team total of 881 points aided by the superior play of Marion Hise who fired a 54 total of 218 for medalist honors. The Texans point total was 22 points over the next competitor, defending champion Oklahoma who totaled 903 points.

In point totals following Texas and Oklahoma were 925 for Denver, Colorado U. with 935, CC with 967, A&M with 997, 1008 for New Mexico, and Wyoming and Regis with 1029 and 1042, respectively.

Ken Simon helped the Texans with a 224, posted on rounds of 76, 73, and 75. CC's fifth place was the highest rank they have attained in the tournament's eight year history and had Doug Silverberg entered they may have gone higher. Silverberg missed the tourney to compete in the British amateur which is being played later this month in Scotland.

Highlights: North Texas State set a new record for 36 holes on the Broadmoor course with a 558 the first day out.

Hise's medalist score of 218 will also enter the books. His final 18 holes were played in even par. Since the tourney was the first to be played over 54 holes the 881 Texas team total will be added to the records.

The team title was the second won by the Texans who did not compete last year after having won the 1952 meet. Last year they won the NCAA tournament at the Broadmoor.

Colorado College's team scores were:

Simon: 76-73-75-224.
Dick Pennington: 84-78-75-237.
Dick Pearson: 78-76-87-241.
Phil Hilton: 89-86-90-265.
Bob Kneib: 94-88-87-269.
Jim Ward: 89-91-91-271.
Team total: 967.

The low four scores were compiled to make the team score.

M-State 1st in RMC; Tigers Place Third

Colorado College's Bob Gatchell and Norm Spears teamed up to sweep the Rocky Mountain Conference doubles honors but their efforts were not enough to prevent Montana State from becoming 1954 RMC tennis champs.

The Bobcats captured 18 points for first place followed by Colorado State with 12 and Colorado College with 10. Colorado Mines finished last with 8 markers to their credit.

In the singles competition, Tom Walters, Montana State, defeated Cecil Craft of Colorado Mines, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2, and teammate Bud White downed John Oetting of Colorado State, 6-4, 8-6. White defeated Walters 6-3, 2-6, 6-4 for the singles crown.

Gatchell and Spears advanced to the finals in the doubles with an 8-6, 6-1 win over John Owings and John Hoffman of Mines. The Tiger pair continued their victorious ways by downing Falgout and Oetting of Greeley, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4 for the title.

In an earlier tennis action Colorado State triumphed over Coach Boise's crew, 6-3, last Wednesday at Greeley.

Summary:
Monty Gatchell, CC, defeated Tom Falgout 6-4, 6-4; Del Hiteh, CC, defeated Ron Oetting 3-6, 5-6, 6-3; Joe Wilkinson, CS, defeated Dick Conroy 7-5, 6-3, 6-4; Ernest Delgado, CC, defeated Norm Spears 6-3, 6-0; Bob Kneib, CC, defeated Tom Lowry 6-3, 5-7, 6-2; George Shepherd, CS, defeated John Smith 5-7, 6-3, 6-4; Falgout and Oetting, CS, defeated Gatchell and Spears 6-3, 6-2; Wilkinson and Conroy 6-3, 4-6, 6-2; Lowry and Schmidt, CC, defeated Lee and Shepherd 6-3, 6-3.

Are American Schools Infiltrated With Communists?

Are the high schools and colleges infiltrated with communists? Is "this generation of American youth far more conservative than the generation of the twenties, thirties, and early forties?" Dorothy Thompson presents her views on the crucial question, "Is American Youth Radical?" in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

Among the "bright young intelligentsia of the first postwar period" it was fashionable not to believe in God or in any divine creative force whatsoever. They scoffed at patriotism and proclaimed the only American idol to be money; the oath to the flag was considered childish; the business mentality was the enemy of all creative expression.

Arguing the nonexistence of God or of any superhuman basis for morality was a favorite topic in the many studios and sparsely furnished apartments that covered Greenwich Village. Sinclair Lewis summed up his generation's philosophy in Moth Street, which had a gigantic circulation. Those who could find the means to do so migrated to the Left Bank of Paris to haunt its cafes and seek confirmation of the idea that American democracy was hopeless.

In contrast, the youth of today, sobered by the depression and the fear of Communist infiltration, is more realistic and "more timid." Young men and women assume many more responsibilities, marry earlier, are more concerned with a serious education, establishing a home, and raising a family; there is more conformism among them.

Today's forums argue the problems of democracy, juvenile delinquency, the United Nations, and McCarthyism. The test of government is its capacity to secure full or very high employment and to prevent slumps.

College Dance Group To Present Benefit

The combined efforts of artist, musician, dancer and choreographer were utilized at a presentation by the Colorado College Dance Group on Thursday, May 20, at Perkins Hall.

The performance, a benefit for the Colorado College Summer School Dance Division, to aid in building scholarships for talented young dancers, included three new works.

"Enchanted Space" featured Samuel Sabeau's sculpture and had as soloist Lt. Fred Willerford of the 4602 Air Intelligence Service Squadron. The second new work, "Conversations", had a musical score by Carlton Gerner, a newcomer to the Music and Dance Department.

Highlighting the evening was a dance entitled "Ghost Shaft", a dramatic theme taken from the life of the famous Baby Doe Tabor. This work had a score by John Berazi, Colorado College senior music major.

Choreography and direction of the show were by Molly Lynn, CC dance instructor.

relatively radical. If it becomes so, it will be because the resurgence of faith in democracy is frustrated."

Foreign Service Exams To Be Given in Sept.

The Department of State Board of Examiners for the Foreign Service have announced that examinations will be given for appointment as Foreign Service Officer. The examination will be given September 13-16, 1954 and will be written, oral and physical. Several cities have been chosen as examining centers, the closest to Colorado Springs being Denver.

To be eligible to take the written examination, an applicant must, as of 1 July, 1954:

1. Be at least 20 and under 31 years of age.
2. Be, and have been for at least 10 years, a citizen of the United States.
3. If married, be married to an American citizen.

Applicants who live at a distance from Washington, and particularly applicants abroad, should take note that the deadline for receipt of applications is the close of business, July 1, 1954. They should accordingly obtain application forms well in advance of that date and should mail them in time to insure receipt by the Board of Examiners before the deadline.

Application blanks may be obtained from the Board of Examiners for the Foreign Service, Department of State,

"Queen" Judges Nomed

Judges for Mutual's "Queen For A Day" "College Queen" contest have been named. They are fashion designer Rose Marie Reid; make-up and beauty specialist Perc Westmore, and Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, popular comedy team.

The co-ed selected to reign as "College Queen" will appear with Martin and Lewis on their coast-to-coast "Comedy Hour" program May 30. In addition, the "Queen" semi-finalists will be luncheon guests of Martin and Lewis at the Paramount film studios.

The name of Akron, Colo., comes from the Greek word meaning "summit." The town is the highest point on the Burlington railroad east of Denver.

Foreign Service officers are appointed by the president by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Under the direction of the Secretary of State, they are assigned principally to posts abroad as diplomatic or consular officers, with occasional tours of duty in the United States.

'54 "College Queen" To Be Crowned in Hollywood May 21

This year's "College Queen of America" already has two post-graduate problems solved by Mutual's cinderella "Queen For A Day." She'll have her own set of encyclopaedia plus an unusually complete trousseau.

These are just two of the multitudinous gifts the loveliest, fairest co-ed in the land is to receive when the current quest on 1,500 campuses is completed. The "College Queen's" hope-chest is truly 20th Century. There's the usual, of course—sheets, blankets, diaphanous, luggage, clothes, etc. But also she'll have her own clock radio, TV set, typewriter, motion picture camera, sterling silverware and encyclopaedia plus a set of golf clubs.

Even her "ladies-in-waiting", the four other co-eds who'll journey by American Airlines to Hollywood for the final judging Friday, May 21, are to receive hope-chests—plus wrist watches and portable typewriters.

Enties are coming in rapidly from schools large and small throughout the land.

Fullbright Prize Awarded to Smith For Study Abroad

Kathy Smith, Colorado College senior from South Bend, Ind., has been named winner of one of the prized Fulbright scholarships for study abroad.

A German and French major at CC, Miss Smith will do graduate study in German Literature at the University of Munich in Germany.

Kathy has been an outstanding student, both in academic and extra-curricular activities, during her four-year stay at Colorado College. A newly-elected member of Phi Beta Kappa, she received the award on recommendations by the campus Fulbright committee and selection by the Board of Foreign Scholarships, the members of which are appointed by the president of the United States.

The United States Educational Exchange program is designed to promote a better understanding of the United States in other countries, and to increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and the people of other countries.

Clean and Ship Clothes Home

Students who shudder at the task of packing up for the home-from-college trek are in luck this year. It's no longer necessary to fit soiled and wrinkled clothing into luggage which seems to have grown too small for the wardrobe since last fall.

Thanks to a new service offered by Sanitone dry cleaners throughout the United States, college men and women can now get a unique long-distance valet service.

Here's how it works: The Sanitone cleaner in the college town picks up the student's clothing, then ships it to the hometown Sanitone dry cleaner where it is cleaned, pressed, and delivered to the home in store for next fall.

Or, if the student prefers, the complete wardrobe need not be returned to his home. Clothing can be refurbished and stored right in the campus town's cleaning establishment ready for the student's return to school this autumn.

The long-distance valet service works both ways. In addition to the home-from-school arrangement, the na-

College Credits Plus A Holiday Offered Teachers by Air Lines

A steady increase in the number of school teachers who have been taking low-cost Happy Holidays package vacations to Miami and Miami Beach for the past several years has led Eastern Air Lines to arrange a "Teachers' Workshop" with the University of Miami in conjunction with the airline's regular summer vacation program. The program is effective July 7 to August 13.

Under the novel plan, any certified school teacher may take advantage of the 6 weeks' course and earn six college credits toward a higher degree while studying on what has become the most famed sub-tropical campus on the continent.

A flat rate of $220.00, plus round-trip air fare from New York City of $88, takes care of the tuition, an apartment on the tional network of dry cleaners also provides the same service on a back-to-school basis.

Only extra charge made is for the actual cost of packaging and shipping. The clothing parcels are fully insured against loss.

main campus, three meals a day, and all the university's recreational facilities. Upon completion of the course, teachers may extend their vacations by continuing to occupy the living quarters at special bargain rates.

All arrangements for the course can be made at your nearest Eastern Air Lines ticket office.

Recreational facilities at the university run the gamut of everything from tennis to "pop" concerts. The campus itself offers both fresh and salt water swimming with nearby beaches providing ocean bathing and ideal tropical settings for picnics and other group sports.

with seven runs pounding across the plate. CC's only marker came in the fifth when Bob Rosell, who picked up two of the Tigers' three hits, scored on an error.

George Sage and Bud O'Rourke combined to limit the locals to three safe blows. Sage got credit for the win, Helm was the loser.
